When this treatment is used in catarrhal troubles, there is no stomach dosing, for the medicine is taken in with the air you breathe, and goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, healing the inflamed and irritated mucous membrane, killing the disease germs and entering the blood with the oxygen, driving all catarrhal germs from the system.

Do not try to cure catarrh of the head by putting medicine into your stomach—this is neither a scientific nor common-sense treatment. Breathe the healing balsams of Hyomei and in a few days you will notice relief, and its continued use will result in a complete and lasting cure.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents. We do not want anyone's money unless Hyomei gives relief and cure, and we absolutely agree that money will be refunded unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physicians will give your case the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. THE ONLY PACKERS OF BEEF, PORK AND OTHER FOOD PRODUCTS OF THE RANCHES AND FARMS OF WESTERN CANADA.

This Company has already about 1,000 shareholders, all of whom have paid for their shares in cash on equal terms, and shares are allotted by priority of application.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 20th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary:—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over-applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $200,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 16c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 200,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two whole sections containing an area of one square mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for their factories and Canneries in each center and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold; the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid away into 10 fully paid $100-Shares for each Share held, and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions ($20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100-Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 30TH, 1905.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past years business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $[illegible],000,000, representing shipments of 85 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,875 cattle 16,513 sheep and 34,468 hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present: The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs J. A. Banfield, F. B. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION:

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 60 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. H. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

Gained Both In Strength and Weight

Another Case That Proves the Merit of

FERROZONE

"I was in poor health nearly all last winter," writes Mrs. Cross, of Wakefield, Que. "My appetite was variable, I was weak and unfit for work. I suffered a good deal from nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. My digestion was generally out of order. By springtime I had lost flesh, color, and had a bad cough. The doctor didn't help me very much, so I decided to try Ferrozone. It did me ever so much good in one week. I gained strength looked and felt a lot better. When I had used six boxes of Ferrozone I weighed myself and found a gain of fifteen pounds. Ferrozone rebuilt my constitution, and made me a new woman. I consider Ferrozone worth it weight in gold to every weak woman. It cures quickly and saves big doctors' bills. (MRS.) R. CROSS."

The municipal elections held in Apsley and Havelock resulted as follows;

Reeve—Mr. C. R. D. Booth.
Councillors — Matthews, McCauley, Harris.

Mark Street Church Notes

Mr. Burnham on the Shelter

Mr. J. H. Burnham yesterday delivered an address to the scholars in St. John's church Sunday school, taking as his subject the Real Children's Aid Society, and the benefits it confers on destitute and orphaned children. Presentation to Mrs. R. Devey

Mrs R. Devey, wife of St. John's church organist, was presented with a magnificent bouquet on completion of Saturday's matinee of the Mikado. Mr. and Mrs. Devey are to be congratulated upon the great musical treat afforded by the splendid presentation of this masterpiece of Gilbert & Sullivan's, which was not only presented by an entire local cast, but was most admirably rendered.

City Council Meets This Morning

The new city council will hold their first meeting this morning when the chairmen of the various committees will be decided. It is possible that two new committees may be formed, viz., the property and health, and legal and printing committees. The members of the various committees will also be nominated.

Mr. Gillespie is a Director

Mr. G. A. Gillespie, of Messrs. White and Gillespie, has been elected a director in the Eastern Dairyman's Association. This is a most wise and worthy choice. It will be remembered that not only is Mr. Gillespie thoroughly conversant with dairying matters, but was largely instrumental in making the dairymen's meet in the opera house in this city recently, so great a success.

A. J. Cassman Wins the Turkey

In Yeates Bros. shooting gallery, last week a competition for a fine large turkey was offered for the highest score during the past week. Up to Saturday afternoon there were four ties, viz., Messrs. Stanley Russell, Bert Lang, A. J. Cassman and J. H. Simmons each got 55. At the final wind up on Saturday night the ties were shot off, being won by Mr. Cassman, who on the shoot-off, scored 52, and consequently won the turkey. Some excellent marksmanship was made, the shooting being at target No. 3, which has a medium sized bulls eye.

New Market Facilities Proposed

It is now suggested, as the government is soon to start building the new armories, that the city should purchase the material at present in use in the old building, and use it for erecting a suitable market building on the lot generally proposed, just to the east of the present market square. It is generally conceded that the present market square and its included market facilities are altogether inadequate for the rapidly growing demands of the city. By using the new lot, and erecting a commodious market building, the present square could be sold, for building purposes, to complete the proposed improvements and, leave a good balance to the city.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. H. L. Huyck, of Tweed, was in the city Saturday.

—Mr. R. H. Campbell, of Keene, was in the city Saturday.

—Mr. L. F. Clarry, barrister, of Hastings, was in the city Saturday.

—Mrs. Florence Hall Templeman of Sudbury, sang at the evening service at St. Andrew's church yesterday.

—Rev. W. S. Barker, of Holloway, who occupied the pulpit of Park street Baptist church yesterday, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. H. P. Kennedy.

—Miss Gertrude Huycke, of Peterborough, and Miss Violet Huycke, of Brockville, were the guests of Miss May Dickey, of Percy, last week.—Hastings Star.

Mr. A. Dunn Now In Lumber Business

In reference to our report in Saturday's issue, regarding Mr. A. Dunn turning a hotel at Strathcona, opposite Edmonton, it might be noted that Mr. Dunn was seen on Saturday, and noted that whilst this report is correct, that he is not going out there in the immediate future.

Mr. Dunn is at present engaged in purchasing timber for the new mill and single mill he and his partner built last summer at Youngs Point. Mr. Dunn has already secured possession of sufficient timber to make a million shingles, and will devote his time for the next few months in cutting after his mill. Mr. John Miller, a well known saw mill man of this city, has been engaged by Messrs. Young and Dunn to operate their mill as soon as the season opens, which it is likley will be by the first of next month. Mr. Dunn leaves tomorrow for Kawartha Lake, having severed all connection with local hotel business.

Mr. Hall on Binder Twine

The Times has to thank Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P. for his courtesy in sending us various valuable and interesting parliamentary papers. We note by the debates reported that Mr. Hall is making a strong fight for the Canadian binder twine manufacturers, and that his arguments, based upon an evidently thorough knowledge of every detail of this important commodity will doubtless receive careful consideration by Parliament.

Dominion Bank Statement

The annual statement of the Dominion Bank, is another tribute to the continued successful management of this institution, and likewise a running commentary on the prosperity of things Canadian during the year 1906. For the year ending Dec. 31, the bank shows earnings on its capital of practically 18 per cent., against 16.35 per cent. earned during the previous twelve months. Out of the profits, four quarterly dividends of 3 per cent., or 12 per cent. for the year have been paid to shareholders. With the balance brought forward the previous year (249,437.97), together with the net profits, $539,460.26, after the payments of dividends, it has been possible to transfer $400,000 to rest account, which now stands at $3,900,000, with the capital stock $3,000,000, and to leave a balance to the credit of profit and loss account of $28,798.23. The deposits with the Dominion Bank are now $36,876,156.47, an increase of $2,800,000 during the year, placing this institution third in the list of Canadian banks in the matter of public deposits. The total assets of the bank are $49,894,379, an increase of $5,000,000 for the year. Of the assets $16,000,000 are quickly available. $9,000,000 being in cash or its equivalent. The statement is highly commendable from any view point, and will no doubt be so regarded by the shareholders.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing hope to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 31 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

City Fathers for 1907 Get Down to Work

Deputation to Visit London on the Question of Securing the Dairy Show for Peterborough ---Standing Committees.

Inaugural Session

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock the newly elected city council met in their chamber to select the standing committees for next year, and to hear the address of the new mayor, Mr. McWilliams.

After Mayor-elect McWilliams had given a most masterly address outlining his ideas as to what the council should do during the year, the council went into Committee of the Whole to deal with the question of the chairmanships of the different committees. As a result, the number of committees was increased to six, two more than last year. Ald. Elliott said that more committees were needed, as there was some very important matters to come up this year that would require attention. Ald. Johnston also strongly advocated the establishment of more committees and moved that the standing committees for the year should consist of six as follows:

Board of Works.

Fire, Water and Light.

Manufacturers,' including Railways and Franchises.

Finance, including Printing and Licensing.

Property, including Market Building and Health.

Reception and Legal, including Legislation and Joint with County.

This was seconded by Ald. Bill and was carried by a vote of 6 to 4, without much discussion.

It was moved by Ald. Leary, seconded by Ald. Bradburn, that each committee be composed of four aldermen together with the mayor.

On motion of Ald. Leary, seconded by Ald. Wilson, that the committee of the whole council should select the different chairmen and that they in turn should decide upon the personnel of the committee.

The city comptroller was the chairman of the Board of Works. When nominations were called for Ald. Stevenson moved that Ald. Duncan be chairman, while Ald. Leary nominated Ald. Elliott. Each candidate was found to have four votes, thus Mayor McWilliams had to cast the deciding vote. He voted in favor of Ald. Duncan and that gentleman will be the chairman of the Board of Works for 1907.

The other chairmen were elected by acclamation as follows;

Fire, Water and Light Committee —Ald Johnston.

Manufacturers' Committee — Ald. Morrow.

Finance Committee—Ald. Tovey.

Property Committee — Ald. McIntyre.

Reception Committee—Ald. Phelan.

Dr. Burnham and Dr. McNulty were re-appointed members of the Board of Health.

There was some discussion over the appointing of auditors.

On motion of Ald. Johnston, Messrs. T. Q. Quarterman ne and G. K. Martin were appointed to audit last year's books at a salary of $150. The question of appointing a permanent auditor, which has been before the council for some time, was taken up during the morning and on motion left over until last night when the first business meeting of the year was held.

Committee of the Whole

The Committee of the Whole Council met at 7.30, and took up the claim of Col. Rogers of the Peterborough Canoe Co, for damages arising from injury to his company's property on the river front on Water street by reason of stagnant water accumulating through the filling up by the town of the river bed between the C.P.R. spur line and main western shore.

R. R. Hall, M.P., was present and urged that ex-Mayors H. Beal and T. H. G. Denne accompany him at midnight to Ottawa, and appear with him in the city's interest before the Railway Commission who are to investigate Col. Rogers' grievance today.

The statements in the evening papers that the C.P.R. who are interested in this measure, had subpoened Messrs. Jos. Stevenson, Denne and Beal, to give evidence on this matter transpired to be incorrect.

Ald. Stevenson urged that the city solicitor's hands should be strengthened in this case. Should the Railway Committee rule that the current being impeded at Col. Rogers' property through the city filling in the water front seriously damaged the interest of Col. Rogers, they might demand that a culvert be constructed at the point in question, whereas the representations of a strong committee for the city would probably result in or less expensive measure having the same effect so far as Col. Rogers is concerned.

An effort will be made to get ex-Mayors Beal and Denne, to accompany R. R. Hall, M.P., to Ottawa in the city's interests.

PERMANENT AUDITOR

The question of appointing a permanent auditor was left over one month. The appointment will be made at the first meeting in February. His Worship expressed that he would call a meeting of the Committee of the Whole for next Monday night. In future, all meetings of this committee will be held on Monday evening.

Evening Session

The city fathers met in their first regular session following the committee meeting. There were present, Aldermen Johnston, Stevenson, Phelan, Morrow, McIntyre, Duncan, Leary, Elliott, Bill, Bradburn, Tovey and Wilson. His Worship Mayor Roland F. McWilliams presided.

The routine business was dismissed from in order to take up the question of holding a dairy show in Peterborough under the auspices of the Eastern and Western Dairy Associations. A committee from both these associations are in favor of holding a show, and the report of the Eastern people has been accepted by their association. The western committee will report to their association this week, and T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., urged the council to put their shoulder to the wheel, and appoint a committee to make an united effort with him and Mr. Gillespie to secure the prize. The city should, he said, be thoroughly prepared to state before the dairymen's joint committee exactly what accommodation they will offer should the show be held in Peterborough.

Mr. Gillespie remarked that the return of this show will be exhibits of [illegible] and very good dairy machinery, quite a large building will be required. The prize list, should be an attractive one, based on the same city as last year. Therefore it would be necessary that the associations fix upon a permanent home for the event.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Bill,—that Alderman Leary and Abbott be a committee to wait upon the Western Dairymen's Association, to be held at London next Thursday, and urge the desirability of the show being held in Peterborough—Carried

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Ald. Johnston submitted the following report.

Gentlemen,—Your Committee of the Whole Council beg leave to report and recommend as follows,—

1. That the invitation of the Peterborough Ministerial Association to the council to attend divine service at St. Andrew's church on the evening of Sunday, January 20th, is accepted.

2. That the following be the standing committees of the council;—

(1) Board of Works—Aldermen Duncan, chairman; Wilson, Johnston and McIntyre.

Fire, Water and Light—Aldermen Johnston, chairman; Duncan, Bill and Leary.

Manufacturers (Railways and Franchises)—Aldermen Morrow, chairman; Tovey, Bradburn and Elliott.

Finance (Printing and Licences) —Aldermen Tovey, chairman; Morrow, Bradburn and Phelan.

Property (Market, Building and Health)—Aldermen McIntyre, chairman; Elliott, Bill and Stevenson.

Legal (Reception, Legislation and Joint with County)—Aldermen Phelan, chairman; Stevenson, Wilson and Leary.

4. That the usual grant of $500 be made to the mayor, to be paid quarterly on the certificate of the chairman of the Finance Committee at the beginning of each quarter.

5. That the city treasurer be authorized to pay the first month's stipend of the Board of Education for this year, when it is received.

6. That George Burnham, M.D., and F. P. McNulty, M.D., be appointed members of the Board of Health.

7. That T. Q. Quarterman ne and G. Martin be appointed auditors at a salary of $50 each.

The report was adopted as read.

ACTING MAYOR.

The mayor instituted a new rule last night regarding who should preside when council is in committee of the whole, and on any occasion that his worship may be unavoidably absent. During this year each alderman will serve in this capacity a month about, commencing with Ald. Johnston, and going round the board according to seniority in the council.

BYLAWS.

A bylaw to amend the rules of order of the council by inserting the standing committees for 1907 was read and adopted.

A bylaw to appoint auditors of 1906's finances, passed its several readings. Messrs. Geo. K. Martin and Thos. Q. Quarterman ne are the auditors.

The Collegiate Institute bylaw had its third reading, as did that for repairing bridges.

The drainage bylaw, and the sewer bylaw passed their third readings.

A bylaw to appoint members of the Board of Health had its several readings, the members being Drs. Burnham and McNulty.

SALARY FOR WATER COMMISSIONER.

Ald Bill fathered a bylaw to provide for the payment of a salary to the water commissioners, the chairman to get $250 and each of his colleagues $125 per year. The bylaw passed its three readings.

Ald. Morrow moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan,—That Aldermen Stevenson and Bradburn be a committee to act with the mayor in going into details connected with purchase of the Peterborough Light and Power Company's business.—Carried.

MORE PAY FOR ELECTION CLERKS.

Ald Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Bill,—That the deputy returning officers and poll clerks be paid an extra dollar on account of the exceptionally heavy work entailed upon them at the late elections.—Carried.

STATION FOR CARTERS.

Ald. Johnston urged that a central station with place of protection against stormy and cold weather be arranged for by the council. This would not only be to the advantage of carters, but also in the interest of citizens, as everybody would then know where to find these men.

Ald. Tovey supported this measure, and suggested that an old car be secured, fitted with telephone connection and furnished with papers and magazines. These men all pay a license.

Ald. Wilson thought that when the new fire hall is finished there will be plenty of room for carters in the old building on Simcoe street, where there is already telephone connection.

Ald. Tovey pointed out that there were twice the number of individual carters two years ago than at present; they are being absorbed by the Fuel & Cartage Co., and Mr. Hicks; the larger the place grows the more this work becomes centralized. These companies pay a license for each cart, and it would not be fair to furnish accommodation for a few individuals to the exclusion of many.

This was referred to the Property Committee and council adjourned.

SPORTING TOPICS

CURLING.

Today is the date set for the Neil-Shepherd trophy games between Orillia and the locals. The former is now the holder of the trophy for two years but Peterborough intends to make a special effort to wrest it from them this year. The games will begin on the arrival of the morning train from Orillia.

As everyone in the city who follows the movements of the ponies knows, and as many, who don't know, the local Turf Club has concluded arrangements for a splendid meet here on Jan 22d. It might be of interest to note that the Buffalo Horse World, in noting the coming meet here, says;

"Cosling, Wallace & Co. the big privilege people, have been awarded the betting privileges for the ice meeting at Peterborough, Ont., January 22 and 23. Peterborough is in the Canadian Circuit.

President John Carew, of the Lindsay, Ont., ice races, and one of the lumber kings of Canada, writes that they will follow Port Perry again this season and give a banner meeting January 15 and 16. George Simpson is the well known secretary.

DO NOT BE A BURDEN

Some Good Advice to Readers of The Times.

A weak stomach and its resulting ills are not natural. With proper care and the use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets, the very worst cases of indigestion or stomach trouble can be completely cured.

It is a sin to deprive oneself of enjoyment in life and become a burden to others through indigestion.

The backaches, headaches, distress after eating, loss of appetite, gulping up of undigested food and gases are not natural. Mi-o-na stomach tablets used for a few days before meals will so strengthen the digestive organs that you can eat anything you want without fear of distress or resulting sickness.

The directions for taking Mi-o-na emphasize the difference between this remedy and the ordinary medicine that is given for indigestion. Mi-o-na is to be used before meals, strengthening the digestive system for the food which is to be eaten, while the ordinary remedy is taken after meals, and simply digests the food without strengthening the stomach.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50-cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents.

Write today for a free sample package, and also give us your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give your case his careful and personal attention without charge. Booth's Hyomei Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mayor McWilliams Outlines His Policy

Possibly the main feature of yesterday morning's inaugural meeting, was the address given by ex-Ald. McWilliams, in which his policy for future control of the city, was embodient. Reference was made to the many important matters that are to be taken up, chief among them the power question.

City Clerk Armstrong stated that the mayor and aldermen had taken the necessary declaration of office.

Mayor McWilliams then said that he wished to touch upon the matters that were of the most importance just now;

The first matter was the securing of new manufactories. The city appeared on the point of greater successes than ever before, and should not rest on content. The mayor referred to the development of Niagara Falls power which had changed matters. Peterborough should be able to offer cheap power if the city wanted manufactories. He spoke of the offer from the Ontario Power Company to supply at $15 per horse power. A similar offer had been received from the Peterborough Light and Power Company, but the offer had been limited to a three years' lease.

Referring to the special revenue received from the railway tax, Mayor McWilliams said he thought that it should be devoted to a special purpose, and should this year be used for advertising the town.

The Light and Power Company's offer was next touched upon. Mayor McWilliams referred to the early stages of the negotiations. Speaking of the separation of the gas works and Auburn dams, where power could be obtained. Speaking of the latter Mayor McWilliams referred to the difficulty experienced in getting the necessary legislation. He thought there would be no great trouble in coming to an agreement with Mr. Kendry in reference to the Auburn power. Reference was made to the power of the Hydro-Electric Commission to expropriate any power they see fit. He was in favor of leaving the matter to the commission.

The whole cost of the purchase of the light plant must be kept within reason.

The next difficulty was conflict with the Conmee Bill. The city owed the Otonabee Company a good deal as it was to them that credit for the cheap light should be given. He thought the fixing of the rate should be left to the Hydro-Electric Commission. It had been suggested that the city should only purchase the street plant. This would do away with the danger of competition.

The mayor advocated the appointment of a committee of three members, who would keep the council in touch with all that was going on.

Speaking of the street work, Mayor McWilliams said that there were certain reforms to be carried out. A large number of concrete crossings should be built. It was in the central portions that the crossings were most needed. A better system of keeping the business portion of the streets clean was needed.

Referring to the building of sewers by day labor the mayor advocated the principle of having the city build the sewer itself. There was a lot of sewers yet to be built, and the council should see that every sewer is built this year. The mayor advocated the system of making no improvements on streets where there is not a sewer or water service.

Sanitary inspection was next touched upon. A reference was made to the inspection of milk, and Ald. Elliott's suggestion of taking up the principal of municipal scavenging. A sanitary inspector should be appointed as soon as possible.

The dairy show said that it would be a splendid thing for the city. He spoke of the proposal to erect a new market building, which would serve for the dairy show and also as a market. Reference was made to the decrease in market tolls due to some extent to the lack of accommodation, and to the revenue that would be derived from the lease of the present buildings if new ones were erected.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday afternoon Magistrate Dumble heard the case of Mr. Andrionopolous one of the members of the Greek Colony in this city, who was charged with opening a letter belonging to George Ralles, who was in his employ. The charge was dismissed.

At yesterday's police court Mr. M. W. Butcher was charged with harboring a dog who had attacked one Percy Fowler on January 3rd. He explained that his dog was kind. It had followed some children who were sleigh-riding and playfully snapped at those riding. By chance the dog happened to bite the boy.

Mrs. Fowler asked for an adjournment, which was granted until this morning.

The next case called was that of James Kelly, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, charged with having sold liquor to the Indian, Cornelius, for beating up whom Kelly's bartender was fined $100 and given one month in jail last Monday. Mr. Kelly was defended by Mr. J. Haverson, assisted by Mr. G. W. Hatton, counsel for the Licensed Victuallers' Association.

The first witness called was Cornelius, who appeared with his head bound up. He said he was an Indian, and lived at Indian River. He came to the city of January 8th with Thos. Cleary and Dan. Leary. On arrival went to Nixon's hotel, but drank nothing there. He then went, with the two others, to the Royal hotel. He got drink there, first taking Scotch whiskey, Cleary treating. He then had two drinks of rye. On the last round they all drank out of the same bottle. Kelly supplied the liquor. It was not taken under doctor's orders. Kelly later on refused him a fourth drink.

To Mr. Haverson, witness had known Kelly for some sixteen years. Kelly spoke to him when he first went into the hotel. Kelly put up the bottle of Scotch and two bottles of rye on the bar. The glasses were all the same size. Kelly did not say he had no Scotch whiskey the first drink. After that drink Kelly said he had no more Scotch. He asked for cherry whiskey, but Kelly did not have it, saying he only had rye, which he and the two others took all out of the same bottle. He paid for the last drink. Does not know much about Cleary or Leary, who were working for him cutting wood. He was later on refused liquor in the house by Kelly. His parents came from the States. He is an Oneida Indian, from New London. He was born on the reserve. He gets no annuity or bounty money, as the tribe bought the land.

Here Mr. Haverson asked for the evidence in the Clunan case. By this Mr. Haverson found that, in the Clunan case, Cornelius swore he and his two friends had three rounds of rye whiskey, whilst yesterday he swore he had had Scotch. Witness said his first evidence might have been wrong, as the lawyers were bothering him. He rents a house near Indian River, not on a reserve.

Thos. Cleary, in the box, said he is living at Indian River. His evidence corroborated that of Cornelius up to witness taking a drink in the Royal; heard Cornelius ask for Scotch. Heard Kelly say he had no Scotch, at one time. Heard nothing about cherry whiskey. Did not know whether Cornelius got whiskey or not.

Mr. Haverson here cross-examined the witness, (asking His Worship, "Do you believe in the truth of "In vino veritas;" the allusion to the witness' condition being evident). Cornelius asked for Scotch at the first treat. There were two bottles on the bar.

Daniel Leary lives at Indian River. When he went to the Royal, with Cornelius and Cleary, witness had two drinks and a cigar. He heard Cornelius ask for Scotch whiskey, but Kelly said he had none. This was on the second round.

To Mr. Haverson, he thought the Indian asked for Scotch twice, but did not notice what he got. Could not remember whether he got the cigar on the second round or not.

Mr. Kelly, the defendant, then went into the box and said, he had been a month in the hotel business. Had been teaming before going into the Royal. Is a new hand in a bar. Was in the bar when Cleary, Leary and Cornelius walked to the bar about 9 a.m., January 8th. Cleary and Leary asked for whiskey and the Indian for Scotch. He told him he had none; the Indian then asked him for gin, and he told him he had none. The Indian then said "give me something to drink." He set him up a bottle of lemon sour. Exactly the same proceedings took place the second round. On the third round Cleary took whiskey and the other two took cigars each.

Edward Wilson, in the box, said he is a plumber. Was working for Kelly on the morning of January 8th. Saw Cleary, Leary and the Indian in the bar. The latter, on the first round of drinks, asked for Scotch, and Kelly said he had none; the same regarding the second round, only gin being asked for. The Indian got some soft stuff. The Indian grabbed up the bottle set up for the other two, and as Kelly went to get change, the Indian took a drink behind Kelly's back. This took place the second treat. Saw the Indian take a cigar the third treat.

William Christie, next witness, who boards at the Royal, was sitting in the bar behind the stove when Cleary, Leary and the Indian came in. Heard the Indian ask for hot Scotch. Kelly said he had none. As Kelly had his back turned the Indian quickly dumped some liquor into the glass and "threw it down quick and slick."

Cornelius was recalled and flatly contradicted the evidence given by the last three witnesses. Said he did not steal the liquor as alleged, "he could buy his drinks!"

Mr. Haverson, for the defence, said the first question that arises is: Is the man an Indian? Section 3 of the Indian Act says that to be an Indian the man must belong or be reputed to belong to some tribe or band; and that Cornelius certainly does not come under that heading. He then went on to quote other requirements necessary to establish Cornelius being an Indian.

The Magistrate reserved judgment for one week.

Russian Police Have Affray With Workmen

St. Petersburg, Jan. 14.—Desperate fighting between police and workmen occurred in the Okhta quarter of this city last night during a domiciliary search.

Three workmen, who were in the building, extinguished all the lights and opened fire on the police. The latter responded and the fusilade was continued for some time in total darkness.

The workmen finally retreated, after killing two district inspectors and two policemen and wounding three policemen.

Firearms were discovered in ten houses.

Very Hot Election at the Public Library

Old Board of Directors Reelected After Strenuous Fight to Introduce Some New Blood--- Many Ladies Voted.

Last night the so-called Public Library, or really the Mechanics' Institute Library held their annual meeting with Dr. Geo. Burnham in the chair.

The report of the officers showed that a large number of new subscribers were added during the year, and that the increased demand for books demanded more accommodations. The librarian, Mr. Geo. Peters, had been ill, but it was hoped that he would soon be able to attend to his duties.

The return of books brought, and issued during the year, was as follows;

	Brought In	Issued
History	324	912
Biography	218	250
Travel	729	246
Science	718	195
Gen. Literature	2597	5238
Poetry	233	119
Religious	385	33
Fiction	2844	5152
Miscellaneous	1495	1140
Reference	578
Magazines	304	36

It was moved by Mr. Hutcher that the old board of directors be reelected.

Mr. Hughes-Charles moved in amendment that an entirely new board should be nominated, saying that half the books in the library were so filthy that they should be put in the fire. He moved that the following, viz., Messrs. J. H. Burnham, Rev. J. C. Davidson, H. B. Burnett, Hayes, Might, Walker, Pringle, Mrs. Kendry and Miss Halliday.

In opposition last year's board, viz., Dr. Burnham, Corkery, English, Hamilton, Hay, Hill, Pringle, Walker and Knapman were nominated by Mr. Hutcher.

The scrutineers were Messrs. J. C. Elliott and M. L. Henry.

Auditors John Crane and Arthur Stevenson.

Whilst the auditors were busily counting the ballots, President Dr. Burnham, read that two lady aspirants, who wished to vote, were debarred from such privilege as the ballots were closed.

Taken as a whole last night's election at the Public Library was decidedly the hottest on record in the history of the institute. Over 80 ladies were present, most of whom exercised their franchise at that election. Mr. Hughes-Charles strenuously objected to what might be termed "Taxation with representation," viz., not adequate voting privileges in proportion to payment of subscriptions. Mr. Charles claimed that as his bank paid for so many tickets he was entitled representative should have votes in proportion to the number of tickets paid for by the bank. However the chairman ruled that "one man, one vote," was the principle of the library. Some discussion arose over this ruling, but the chairman was sustained.

The scrutineers after a long absence counting the ballots cast, brought in the following members elected as directorate for the ensuing year, viz., Messrs. Dr. Burnham, Walker, Pringle, Hay, Hill, English, Corkery, Hamilton and Knapman.

Young German Who Deserved Fortune

Woodstock, Jan. 15.—Fire, disease, a young German, who landed in Woodstock two years ago in a penniless condition, and was given lodging at the police station, left the city last night in response to a telegram telling him to go to Paris, France, to claim a large fortune that has been left him.

Sixteen, over two years ago, escaped from the conscript officers of the German army, and was shot in the leg while fleeing from the country. He came to Canada and beat his way to Woodstock on a freight car. He did not understand a word of English. The authorities took him in hand and sent him to the hospital, where the bullet was extracted. Work was found for him later. He developed into a first-class mechanic, mastered the English language, and left Woodstock last night after a big send-off by his many friends here.

A Volunteer Hangman to Despatch Marci

Winnipeg, Jan. 15.—Salvatore Marci, the Italian murderer, will be hanged by an unknown volunteer today, who undertakes the job for $200 on condition that his name will not be made known. There were thirteen offers to do the job, Radcliffe's physician having wired that his nerves would not permit him to officiate. Yesterday everything indicates a horrible scene, as Marci is a physical wreck, refusing to eat, and writhing in mental agony over his impending fate. Apparently he will have to be dragged to the scaffold. He is 30 years old, and has a wife and four children.

DRINKS ALL HE WANTS

And Drinks It Whenever He Wants It

[illegible] Wish what he wants, and want it.

A Mich. man, who perhaps never heard Prattie sing the song, wrote the editor May concerning coffee and Food Coffee, "I am well and sturdy. I drink all the Postum Cereal coffee I want and whenever I want it—the more I drink the better I feel. I was broken down in health with acid dyspepsia, as the doctors called it; had been sick for five years and failing all the time. I would drink coffee for breakfast and then bloat up, my stomach would be so full of acid I'd belch up gas and have the water brash.

"Then would come heart burn, and a rumbling and cramp in my stomach all night would keep me awake. Then I'd go two or three days without eating, with some improvement. But as soon as I would at something and drink coffee, I'd be as bad as ever.

"About three months ago I got so bad I thought I'd have to stop everything. I had read about coffee being hurtful, so I told my wife not to make any for me for a while. I thought I'd see for myself.

"In two days I was sent without coffee—was so sick I couldn't eat anything. (The reaction of the coffee drug.) I bought a package of Postum and my wife made it strictly according to directions. You should have seen the change. The whole family now use Postum, and I have no sour stomach or bloating, rest well at night, am well and happy. I drink all the Postum I want and whenever I want it. The more I drink the better I feel.

"Since I left off coffee and began to use Postum my nerves are steady, my head feels clear, I don't get sour, tired and lazy any more.

"I positively know that coffee was the cause of my trouble and I positively know that quitting it and using Postum Food Coffee has cured me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Dr Hamilton Proves That Piles Are Caused by Constipation and Strong Catharties.

Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment, Mr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles.

He found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of blood-vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure, a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as piles.

The only effective mode of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.

"I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Loaders, from Cornwall, Ont., "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble. I read in the Montreal Herald about Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend these pills very highly; there are none better. They at once relieve and prevent a constipated condition of the bowels, and from my experience can be depended upon as a perfect safeguard against piles. Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, I am sure, would be a benefit to every girl or woman."

Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and your system will be regenerated, revitalized, and made proof against disease.

Good for men, excellent for women, and most effective for children. All ages and both sexes find Dr. Hamilton's Pills a marvelous medicine. Although active, they do not gripe or cause inconvenience, but thereby maintaining a high state they cleanse and purify the standard of health. UNION LABELED

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 15, 1907

CARDINAL GIBBONS ON STRIKES

An article has appeared in the public press of the United States from Cardinal Gibbons, which laid a special emphasis on the need of good will between capital and labor. The writer pointed out that both of these agencies of production were essential to the public good, and that each of them depended upon the co-operation of the other. When employers and employes passed from disagreements to open warfare general suffering was sure to follow, and on the subject of strikes the cardinal said:

"Experience has shown that strikes are a drastic and at best a very questionable remedy for the redress of labor grievances. Strikes paralyze industry. They often foment the fiercest of passions, and in the past have led to the destruction of considerable property. All of which is bad, but by no means the worst. They inflict grievous injury on the laborer and his family."

There is the demoralization that comes from enforced idleness, and there are the deprivations due to the lack of the usual income. The wife and the children must go without sufficient food and clothing. There can be no provision against the future. Undoubtedly such a method of bettering oneself is exceedingly crude, and it is looked upon with growing disfavor by the American people, who have often appeared in the roll of the party of the third part with anything but pleasing consequences.

The cardinal believes that the day is not far off when we shall see the abandonment of the strike policy, since it is a manifest affront to the reason. "Strikes, as the name implies, are aggressive and destructive. Arbitration is conciliatory and constructive. There can be but one opinion as to which of the two methods is preferable if the subject is carefully studied with an open mind."

Piles get quick relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Remember it's made alone for Piles—and it works with certainty and satisfaction. Itching, painful, protruding, or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Try it and see. J. D. Tully.

CUTTLEFISH FARMS.

Where the Queer Creatures Are Cultivated to Be Milked.

Does any one know that cuttlefish are cultivated on farms to be milked? These cuttlefish farms are located on the coasts of Great Britain, and the cuttlefish are kept in tanks or ponds to be milked of their ink. The pond or tank is connected with the sea by a pipe, and a thousand or more cuttles are kept in a single one.

They form a most curious sight as they move about, trailing their long arms, and staring out of their bulging eyes. They are guarded by screens which prevent them from being scared, for if they are suddenly frightened they will squirt their milk into the water, and it would therefore be lost. This fluid or milk is very valuable, and a cuttle will yield about $3 worth a year. It is secreted in a bag which can be opened and closed at will, the cuttle ejecting the fluid to darken the water so that it may escape unseen when attacked.

The best cuttlefish are procured in China, where for some reason or other they produce the best quality of milk. When the farmer considers it opportune to milk the cuttles he proceeds by opening the sluices of the pond and gently agitating the water. The cuttles then swim around the pond, and as soon as one passes through the sluice is closed. The cuttle passes down a small channel into a basin or metal receptacle, and as soon as it is securely there the water is drained off. It is then frightened and at once squirts the fluid from the bag. When it is exhausted it is lifted out, the milk is collected and the basin prepared for another.

MODERN CIVILIZATION.

Its Complexity, Hurry and Worry Shortening Our Lives.

Not long ago while traveling I chanced to stop at a village on the river Rhine, where I found an astonishing number of old people. There were a dozen over a hundred years of age and many from eighty years old up to the century mark, yet straight and vigorous. One woman nearly a hundred years old was earning her living by picking hops. Her grandchildren were middle aged. It was quite wonderful. But there was no mystery about it. It was merely the effect of a simple life spent largely in the fields, with plain diet, consisting of a few vegetables and fruits, little meat, and native beer and wine for beverages.

Nothing can be more obvious than that the very complexity of our modern civilization is shortening our lives. But of all the evils that afflict us the worst and most destructive are hurry and worry. Hurry drives the body machine beyond its capacity, while worry racks it inwardly. Of the two worry is probably the worse. This might indeed be called the age of worry. Because of the intense nervous strain to which we are subjected we do vastly more worrying than did our forbears. The average man or lady is constantly surrounded and pursued by phantom troubles, which, though few of them ever materialize into realities, haunt him continually, ruining his peace of mind and injuring his health.

Getting Married.

I don't know myself what getting married feels like, but it cannot be much more exciting than watching other people getting married. Indeed, I always get something like palpitation of the heart just before the priest utters the final fateful words, "I declare you man and wife." Half a second before you were still free. Half a second after you were bound for the term of your natural life. Half a second before you had only to dash the book from the priest's hands and put your hands over his mouth, and, though thus giddily swinging on to the brink of the precipice, you are saved. Half a second after—

All the king's horses and all the king's men
Cannot make you a bachelor again.

It is the knife edge moment betwixt time and eternity.—From Le Gallienne's "His Quest of the Golden Girl."

The Name "Fife."

The origin of the name Fife is not known. One historian tries to show that it comes from the Celtic word veach, a Pict, and means that the district was inhabited by Picts, but that is obviously absurd, as Fife was not specially the home of any of the Pictish nations. The tradition that finds greatest favor is related by a monk, who states that the first known possessor of the district which has since grown into the kingdom of Fife was one Elfus Duffus, a famous chieftain whose date is lost in the mists of antiquity.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

During the half hour or so which had been occupied in this manner there had been a constant opening and closing of the chamber door, and a muttering of names from the captain of the guard to the attendant in charge, and from the attendant in charge to the first gentleman of the chamber, ending always in the admission of some new visitor. Here, close by the king, was the harsh but energetic Louvois, all powerful now since the death of his rival Colbert, discussing a question of military organization with two officers, the one a tall and stately soldier, the other a strange little figure, undersized and misshapen, but bearing the insignia of a marshal of France, and owning a name which was of evil omen over the Dutch frontier, for Luxembourg was looked upon already as the successor of Conde, even as his companion Vauban was of Turenne. Beside them a small white haired clerical with a kindly face, Pere la Chaise, confessor to the king, was whispering his views upon Jansenism to the portly Bossuet, the eloquent bishop of Meaux. Close to the door Racine, with his handsome face wreathed in smiles, was chatting with the poet Boileau and the architect Mansard, the three laughing and jesting with the freedom which was natural to the favorite servants of the king.

"He becomes harder and harder to amuse," said Racine. "I am to be at Mme. de Maintenon's room at 3 to see whether a page or two of the Phedre may not work a change. Madame is a wonderful woman. She has brains, she has heart, she has tact—she is admirable."

"And yet she has one gift too many—age."

"Pooh! What matter her years when she can carry them like thirty? What an eye, what an arm! And, besides, my friends, he is not himself a boy any longer."

"Very true, but a young man consults his eye and an older man his ear. Over forty, it is the clever tongue which wins; under it, the pretty face."

"Ah, you rascal! Then you have made up your mind that five and forty years with tact will hold the field against nine and thirty with beauty. Well, when your lady has won she will doubtless remember who were the first to pay court to her."

"But I think you are wrong, Racine."

"Well, what then?"

"Then it may be a little serious for us."

"And why?"

"The Marquise de Montespan has a memory."

"Her influence may soon be nothing more. Maintenon is the cleverest woman in France."

"Pshaw, Racine, you know our dear master well, or you should, for you seem to have been at his elbow since the days of the Fronde. Is he a man, think you, to be amused forever by sermons? No, no; it will be the Montespan or, if not she, some younger beauty."

"My dear Boileau, I say again that her sun is setting. Have you not heard the news? Her brother, M. de Vivonne, has been refused the entree."

"From whom had you it?"

"From De Catinat, the captain of the guard. He had his orders to bar the way to him."

"Ha, then the king does indeed mean mischief. That is why his brow is so cloudy this morning then. By my faith, if the marquise has the spirit with which folk credit her, he may find that it was easier to win her than to slight her."

"Aye, the Mortemarts are no easy race to handle."

"Well, heaven send him a safe way out of it! But who is this gentleman? His face is somewhat grimmer than those to which the court is accustomed. Ha, the king catches sight of him, and Louvois beckons to him to advance."

The stranger who had attracted Racine's attention was a tall, thin man, with a high aquiline nose, stern, fierce gray eyes, peeping out from under tufted brows, and a countenance so lined and marked by age, care and stress of weather that it stood out amid the prim courtier faces which surrounded it as an old hawk might in a cage of birds of gay plumage.

Louis possessed in a high degree the royal faculty of recognition. "It is years since I have seen him, but I remember his face well," said he, turning to his minister. "It is the Comte de Frontenac, is it not?"

"Yes, sire," answered Louvois. "It is indeed Louis de Buade, comte de Frontenac and formerly governor of Canada."

"We are glad to see you once more at our lever," said the monarch as the old nobleman stooped his head and kissed the white hand which was extended to him. "I hope that the cold of Canada has not chilled the warmth of your loyalty."

"Only death itself, sire, would be cold enough for that."

"Then I trust that it may remain to us for many long years. We would thank you for the care and pains which you have spent upon our province, and if we have recalled you it is chiefly that we would fain hear from your own lips how all things go there. And, first, as the affairs of God take precedence of those of France, how about the missions?"

"They prosper, sire. There are Iroquois at the Sault and the mountain, Hurons at Lorette and Algonquins along the whole river coles from Tadousac in the east to Sault le Marie, and even the great plains of the Dakotas, who have all taken the cross as their token. Marquette has passed down the river of the west to preach among the Illinois, and Jesuits have carried the gospel even to the warring has many brave men within his domains, but none braver than these. They have come back up the Richelieu river from the Iroquois villages with their nails gone, their fingers torn out, a cinder where their eye should be and the scars of the pine splinters as thick upon their bodies as the fleurs-de-lis on yonder curtain."

"And you have suffered this?" cried Louis hotly. "You allow these infamous assassins to live?"

"I have asked for troops, sire."

"And I have sent some."

"One regiment. More is needed, sire."

"There are the Canadians themselves. Have you not a militia? Could you not

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Simple Way to Overcome the Dangers of this Disagreeable Disease.

Catarrh is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and lungs, with many annoying symptoms. In this climate there are few who do not suffer from this disagreeable disease, often in a chronic and dangerous state.

Fortunately, within the last few years, a simple and reliable treatment for catarrhal troubles has been found—Hyomei, a combination of healing and germ-killing balsams, that, when breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, reaches the tiniest cells in the respiratory organs, carrying its healing and health-giving properties to every part where the catarrhal poison is present.

Used in this way, Hyomei kills all catarrhal germs, drives the poison from the system and heals all irritation that may be present in the mucous membrane.

If you have the ordinary catarrhal symptoms, such as offensive breath, burning pains in the throat, cough, raising of mucous, difficulty in breathing, sneezing, huskiness, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, coughing spasms, etc., begin the use of Hyomei at once.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents. We do not want anyone's money unless Hyomei gives relief and cure, and we absolutely agree that money will be refunded unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for the symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physician will give your case the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. Canadian Actor Weds a Divorced Woman

St. Thomas, Jan. 14.—The following refers to the well-known St. Thomas actor, son of Thomas Robertson, M. C.R. train-despatcher:

Miss Josephine Lovett, who appears as Shirley Rossmore in "The Lion and the Mouse" road company, and John Stuart Robertson who impersonates the Hon. Fatsrow Bagley in the same play, were married at the home of the Rev. R. R. Shippan, in Atlanta, Ga., just before midnight New Year's Eve. The couple had intended to wait until they returned to New York, but just before the curtain rose on Tuesday night, decided to get married immediately after the performance. The actress was divorced from her first husband in Manhattan, a week ago. She formerly appeared with Andrew Mack as his leading woman.

THE ONLY PACKERS OF BEEF, PORK AND OTHER FOOD PRODUCTS OF THE RANCHES AND FARMS OF WESTERN CANADA.

This Company has already about 1,000 shareholders, all of whom have paid for their shares in cash on equal terms, and shares are allotted by priority of application.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 30th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary:—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over-applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $200,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 10c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 200,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two whole sections containing an area of one statute mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for their factories and Canneries in each center and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold; the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid (say into 10 fully paid $100-Share for each Share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions (20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100-Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 30TH, 1906.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $[illegible], representing shipments of 850 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,575 cattle 16,933 sheep and 34,068 hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present; The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs. J. A. Banfield, F. R. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION:

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 80 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. H. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

Local Contractors to Unite

It now seems that some or all of the leading contractors are about to form a Builders' Exchange. Mr. James Bogue and Mr. Thos. Rutherford are the leading spirits in the idea which will result beneficially to all the interests concerned. They claim that the contractors have no central organization, and believe that to deal successfully with their interests they should have an exchange. The main object of the contractors is to protect local builders against the outside competition.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Last fall he left for the West, accompanied by his wife, and has since conducted a store near Saskatoon. It seems that Mr. Cole whilst going on a journey for coal was caught in a blizzard and nearly killed by frost. His team was frozen to death.

Varsity Graduates Are Bad Characters

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Three young college graduates, one said to come from a wealthy family in London, England, were arrested yesterday, charged with a score of burglaries in Chicago within the last two months.

The police say that they recovered stolen property valued at $6,000 in the men's apartments. The men, who, the police state, have admitted the accusations against them, are Richard E. Erickson, a graduate of Northwestern University; Percy C. Ighlin, a graduate of Oxford University, England, and Wheeler J. Brown, a graduate of an optical school in New York. The stolen property recovered consists chiefly of photographic supplies.

Indian Chief Brutely Butchered in Wyoming

Laramie, Wyo., Jan. 14.—George Terry, head of the Shoshone Indian Council, was murdered Thursday night as he came out of the council lodge on the Indian reservation.

He was first knocked down with a war club and his body was then cut to pieces with knives.

The murder is supposed to have resulted from a family feud. No arrests have been made, but suspicion points to several prominent Indians. Terry was a half-breed son of the famous Mormon, Bishop Terry of Utah. He was a squaw man and had lived on the Shoshone reservation for twenty-five years. Terry's barn and horses were recently burned mysteriously.

The proposed abandonment of Fort Washkie will, it is believed, result in grave disturbances among the Indians, who are in awe of the soldiers. The Shoshones and Arapahoes are sworn enemies, and there are factions in both tribes ready to fight at any time.

Alfonso Defies Court

Madrid, Jan. 14.—Against the opposition of the court, King Alfonso yesterday authorized the opening of a Protestant chapel in connection with the palace for the benefit of Princess Henry of Battenberg, mother of Queen Victoria, who is the king's guest, pending the confinement of the queen.

My Valet Gets New Premises

That well-known clothes pressing institution, at 384½ George street, has secured possession of, and will in a day or two occupy its premises recently occupied by Mr. Nicholas Renzetti, at 204 Charlotte street. The new occupants of the latter named premises will, as soon as located, put a horse and rig on the road.

But the Dog Recovered

Yesterday morning at the corner of George and Hunter streets, a small, but valuable fox terrier was taken with a non-diagnosible disease. It was suggested that underground shocks from the electric light wires had caused the trouble. Poison was also submitted as the cause of the canine's death. However, whatever may have caused the doggie's trouble, the said dog got up and serenely walked away with a flirt of its tail and a knowing look out of its left eye.

Constable Cochrane After Arsonists

County Constable Geo. Cochrane will go to Havelock today and thence to Cordova for the two Lindsay boys accused of burning a haystack belonging to Mr. Wm. Teat. The boys will be brought to Havelock this evening to stand trial before Magistrate Edmison on Wednesday. The case was to have been considered today, but owing to the indisposition of the Magistrate, proceedings will not be taken until the following day.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper, contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

The Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. E. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last. "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not in chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lake has been granted.

The claim is a 40 acre one and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 3 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 50 feet, and it shows 5 inch niccolite, 16 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1283-492-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 500 oz. all er, which at the present price of 70c. is equal to $639.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M.E.
New Liskeard, 17th November, 1906

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our Jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

Heating of King Edward School and Other Matters of Local Educational Interest Fully Discussed.

The Board of Education held a meeting last night with Chairman Robt. Fair presiding. Those present were Messrs. Dumble, Morrison, Hill, Ackerman, Crane, Hayes, Robinson, Dr. Burnham, and Pringle.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

Miss Minnie R. Walker tendered her resignation as a teacher. It was made known that Rev. W. H. Scott had presented a fine [illegible] of books, entitled the Library of Universal Literature to the library.

It was moved by Mr. Hill that Miss Walker's resignation be accepted. He noted that a Miss Stubbs had applied for a position. She will likely be heard from today. She will probably be able to take hold by April 1st.

Mr. Hayes, chairman of the Finance Committee, recommended the payment of various accounts which was concurred in. He also moved that the payment of certain accounts be confirmed. Carried. He then brought forward a detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures of the past year. The receipts on account of public schools were $55,480.95, with a credit in bank of $949.25. The salaries for teachers was $99.0.

In reference to the boiler proposed for the King Edward school, Mr. Robinson noted that he thought it a decided mistake to get too small a boiler for the purposes required than actually one says, and then having to drive it to its utmost capacity, thus paying it out before its natural life time.

Mr. Dumble strongly endorsed Mr. Robinson's remarks.

Dr. Morrison advocated twin boilers, so that during the fall and spring enough heat could be procured at an [illegible] price.

Mr. Pringle then read a letter from the Gurney Co., who supply [illegible] their boiler, viz., New Idea, at $355.00 f.o.b. in Toronto. The Gurney letter said that the boiler they quoted on would do for eight rooms, and might, under certain conditions heat the 12 rooms of the King Edward school. They suggested that their boiler could be [illegible] and fixed that an additional small boiler could be added and connected up if necessary.

It was moved by Mr. Robinson that the report presented by Mr. Pringle regarding the boiler be referred back to the committee.

Dr. Morrison, chairman of the Collegiate Institute Building Committee, consisting of Messrs. Dumble, Crane, Pringle, Belcher and the chairman of the committee go to Galt and Toronto, and see the new collegiates at those places, before our plans and specifications are completed.

That the sum of $30 be paid for Collegiate Institute bylaw expenses on certificate of the committee. Carried.

The matter of a truant officer was next brought up. After some discussion it was moved by Mr. Pringle, seconded by Mr. Hill that the police commissioners be requested to appoint a truant officer, suggesting the name of Mr. Cochrane. Mr. Dumble showed how that it was as cheap for the city to pay a truant officer as to send one child alone to Mimico. The motion carried.

Mr. Hill moved that the monthly report of the Collegiate Institute attendance be referred to the Sup [illegible] ion Committee.

A Rich Quebec Mining Property

That all the mineral wealth of Canada is not concentrated in the Cobalt district is well understood. In the Province of Quebec there is much undeveloped mineral lands and prominent among such is the property of the King of the North Gold Mines Company.

This company owns in fee, by deed of sale from the Quebec Government 200 acres, con. 12, south part of lot 3, range 5, Pontiac Co., viz., block A, which is on Opasatica Lake, in the Province of Quebec, some 50 miles north of Cobalt.

Prospects already made have disclosed 25 veins, one of which is over 5000 feet long with a width of from three to six feet. Some 500 feet of this have been shipped and the ore shows gold in quantities clearly visible to the naked eye. Other veins of good size have also been located.

Mr. M. L. Hersey, the provincial analyist, after a careful assay, announces that the ore from the first vein above noted, runs $18.546 in gold and $52.54 in silver to the ton. This expert's assay of another large vein shows it to run $830.00 in gold and $.112 in silver to the ton. With such an extraordinary result the future of the King of the North Mine is assured, especially as transportation is easy and ample timber for mining and fuel purposes is right on the property.

The company is now offering 7000 shares at par value, viz., $1 per share, but retain the right to raise the price to $1.50 without notice. For full particulars address Humphrey & Co., 160 St. James Street, Montreal.

Horrible Carnage on U.S. Railroads

Compared With Them Canadian Lines Show Good Record.

New York, January 15.—In 1906 the trail of massacre and carnage was along 216,573 miles of operated track, which means that dead bodies were strewn twenty-one miles apart on the railroads of the United States, and a cripple was left every two and a half miles. Figures are not stupid when they speak so tragically. It takes such comparisons to awaken us to our national shame—for when all is said, this ruthless and perennial slaughter is nothing short of a national degradation. Is it accident? Is it chance? Must this annual death roll, furnished to the Federal Government by the railroads themselves, be passed over as fortuitous—a thing that can't be helped?

The startling feature of the record is that the list of fatalities is steadily increasing in size. In 1897 it was 6,437 and it has increased year by year until it came close to the ten thousand mark last year.

The Canadian railroads do not reach such appalling figures and keep at about the same yearly average. The record of the Canadian railways for the past five years is as follows:

	Killed.	Injured.
1901	317	1,317
1902	330	1,328
1903	420	1,453
1904	386	1,408
1905	401	1,757

When one turns to the record of casualties on the various electric railways in Canada the steady increase in the number of the killed and injured would look as though familiarity with the electric car was beginning to breed contempt for the danger that lurks therein, just as people over the border have. The electric railway casualties in Canada for the past five years were as follows:

	Killed.	Injured.
1901	16	914
1902	32	563
1903	39	778
1904	51	811
1905	56	1,208

The principal causes of accident were falling from cars, jumping on and off cars in motion and being struck by engines at level crossings. When it is remembered that there still remain unprotected, ungated level crossings, it is surprising that there are not more accidents than there are.

Coming back to the conditions among the railways in the United States the reason for the alarming situation is that the earnings that should have been used to increase or improve equipment and provide means of safety have been drained from the railroads to pay the interest on watered stock, fictitious securities and needless bonds. Now that the time has come when the inadequate equipment and make-shift appliances and obsolete machinery can no longer meet the strain put upon them, the whole system goes under.

Of the 216,000 miles of railway in the United States, 200,000 are single-track lines. It is just as impossible for them to carry the present offered traffic on single-track lines as it is to fly to Mars.

Mohammedans Now Exceed Catholics

Rome, January 15.—Dr. Kenny Melbourne, a prominent Catholic and papal chamberlain of the highest rank, has returned to Rome, after extensive travels to Russia, India and the Orient, where he studied the non-Catholic religions. Recently he has been frequently received in audience by the pope to whom he has reported the results of his studies.

He affirms that Mohammedanism is [illegible] contrary to general belief. Its adherents now exceed the number of Catholics. The pope was deeply impressed, and admitted that the only remedy was the reorganization of the missionary system throughout Asia.

Such reorganization would imply, incidentally, the solution of the French protectorate over the Catholic missionaries in the Orient, which is likely to be divided in future among the powers of the world, including Italy.

A Successful Year in Life Insurance

In view of the recent startling developments in American insurance circles, it is of interest, particularly to policyholders, to note that the companies doing business in Canada, are far above the things alleged to have been done by their competitors in the United States.

Prominent among the companies doing business in Canada is the Confederation Life Association. This company has recently issued its 35th annual statement which clearly demonstrates that the company has had a most successful year. The Confederation Life has always been noted for its prompt way of doing business and the careful manner in which it protects the interests of its policyholders.

The annual statement, printed in other columns of this issue, shows that in spite of adverse conditions their financial balance sheet shows reduced expense ratios, large increase in business written and large payments of policyholders, thus displaying a careful and conscientious management.

Nearly $800,000 was paid during the year to policyholders, and the company still has $836,000 of a surplus over liabilities. The new business written during last year amounted to $6,067,879, an increase over the preceding year of some $65,857, and a total insurance in force of $45,119,354.

The local branch of this company is under the control of Mr. Harry Rush, one of Peterborough's most respected citizens and a gentleman whose knowledge of insurance matters is beyond compare. It might be noted that the Confederation Life Association is in need of a capable general agent for this district.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BROTHER OF THE LATE DUCHESS

Former Toronto Man Claims Relationship to the Duchess of Brunswick.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 16.—John Edwin Gates, a humble shoe-repairer, of Saginaw, Mich., has just revealed to his friends that he is a brother of the late Duchess of Brunswick, who was one of the handsomest women in England. Gates has for many years kept his secret, and it was not until Monday that he called his friends together and told them who he was. His sister, the Duchess of Brunswick, was a famous ballet dancer in the Strand, Olympic, Adelphi, and other London theaters when she met the Duke of Brunswick. They fell in love with each other, and were married. The Duke was allied to about all the Imperial and monarchical houses of Europe. The father of Gates and his sister, the late duchess, who before her marriage was Paris Eliza Gates, was John Gates, a noted comedian, and the oldest English actor on the stage when he died. Gates says his sister was very good to his family, and he recalls his many visits to the Brunswick House in London, which became the residence of the ducal pair after the Duke had left his Bryanston Square house. Gates said he had excellent prospects while his sister lived, but upon her death he had to depend upon his own exertions and then learned the trade of shoemaking. His native city is Manchester, England, but soon after his sister's death he left his home and settled in Leeds County, Ontario. After living there several years he went to reside in Toronto, and then moved to Watertown, N.Y. Five years ago he came to Saginaw, and still lives there. Gates, for some reason known only to himself, kept his connection with the Brunswick family a secret, but now he says he is willing for the world to know where he is and what he is doing.

The Duke of Brunswick is not an English title.

Cease to Purchase French Manufactures

Ancient Order of Hibernians Protest Against Treatment Accorded the Church.

Montreal, Jan. 15.—The directors of the Ancient Order of Hibernians for this county have unanimously passed a resolution setting forth their abhorrence at the treatment accorded the Catholic Church and institutions in France, their profound sympathy with the Pope in his struggle to maintain the rights of Catholics, and their fellow-feeling for the Catholics of France, which has existed between the two nationalities through years of struggle.

To give practical effect to their resolution it was further resolved not to purchase goods of French origin and manufacture until the objectionable law was repealed, and Catholics in France accorded the same freedom that they possess in the United States and Canada. The Hibernians have a membership of three hundred and fifty thousand in the United States and Canada, and this county lodge represents some fifty thousands Irish-Catholics in the city of Montreal.

Copies of the resolution were sent to Premier Clemenceau.

New System of Training for Navy

London, January 15.—In the new scheme of naval training inaugurated by Lord Selborne, in addition to the annual manoeuvres, the Channel, the Atlantic and Mediterranean fleets, with their attendant cruisers, will take part in fleet exercises of a confidential character at least once and possibly twice a year. Their exercises, like and grand manoeuvres of last year, will take place off the coasts of Spain and Portugal, the ships assembling at Lagos for the purpose. The next gathering will occur in February, when a larger number of battleships and cruisers will be brought together than has ever been the case before, remembering, of course, that no ships will be sent from England on purpose and that reserve squadrons will not be drawn from at all.

This will be the last great assembly under the command of Sir Arthur Wilson's flag, as after these exercises a new redistribution scheme is to come into force and ships will be divided up in the manner of which the provisional announcement was made on October 25. These fleets will include thirty battleships and sixteen armored cruisers.

Peat Fuel Co. Are Doing Well

The Condensed Peat Fuel Co., in which several local men are interested in, has held its annual meeting.

At this meeting, a letter was read showing that a gas plant in England is producing a thousand horse power engine at a consumption of only 2 1-2 pounds per horse power per hour. At this rate Niagara Falls power, even at the low cost of production is beaten out of sight.

The annual statement of the company was submitted, and showed a substantial increase of business. The election of directors resulted as follows.

President—D. H. Moore
Vice-President—G. M. Rogers.
Sec.-Treasurer—F. J. Jamieson.
Managing Director—E. V. Moore.
Director—A. L. Davis.

Tests of the peat have shown that a ton will produce 10,000 feet of first-class heating or lighting gas and over 600 lbs. of charcoal, besides the tar and other by-products.

The prospects for the fuel are very bright and it is fully expected that the cost of production for the coming season will enable the company to sell it somewhat cheaper next year.

Local Law Society Elects Officers

President—E. A. Peck.
Vice-President—L. M. Hayes.

Don't Favor Dropping of Tariff Reform

London, Jan. 16.—Hon. Mr. Lemieux sends birthday greetings to the Tribune, and says he hopes for an early realization of an intellectual preference which would facilitate the circulation in Canada of the great models of English-speaking journalism, with the accurate knowledge of political, intellectual, and social life of the Motherland which they are sure to bring.

The Daily Graphic publishes the opinions of Unionist M.P.'s and others as to the desirability of tariff reform being dropped. The Unionists and free trade Unionists only favor the idea apparently.

The Financial News, referring to British Columbia elections, says if McBride's Administration is overthrown those who have the interests of the Province most closely at heart fear a serious setback in its economic progress.

The Church Army publishes appeals for £100,000 to emigrate 20,000 people to Canada this year.

Perks, M.P., who is mentioned in connection with the scheme to establish a steel shipbuilding works at Esquimalt and Halifax, told the Standard he had "no knowledge of any shipbuilding works in Canada."

Struck Children While They Slept

Woodstock, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Elmira Bates, a washerwoman, living on Ingersoll avenue, was in the police court yesterday, charged with assaulting, with intent to kill, her two children, Hattie and William, both in their teens.

According to the story told by the children, the mother made an attempt upon their lives early Sunday morning. The mother arose, and securing a hatchet, struck her sleeping daughter on the head. The girl was not rendered unconscious, and when she raised her mother with striking her, the mother denied it, although she had the hatchet in her hand. The girl went into another room and found her brother unconscious, with a gash on the head. In the morning a doctor was called in and dressed the wounds of both.

At the police court the doctor swore that the blows were inflicted by some blunt instrument, probably a hatchet, and the blows came very near being sufficient to cause death. The children declared that there had been no domestic troubles, and they were unable to say what caused the mother to make the attempt upon their lives. Her sanity will be examined.

Vatican Steps a Libel Suit.

Rome, January 15.—Cardinal Merry del Val, papal secretary of state, has instructed Mgr. Lorenzelli, formerly nuncio at Paris, to abandon his libel suit against the Petite Republique of Paris, lest the case compromise the interests of the holy see.

Great Loss of Life at Kingston, Jamaica

City of 60,000 Inhabitants Reported Devastated By Earthquake---Was Founded In the Year 1693.

New York, Jan. 16.—The Western Union Telegraph Company is in receipt of advices reporting that Kingston, Jamaica, has been destroyed by an earthquake with much loss of life.

The announcement issued by the Western Union follows:

"The Western Union Telegraph Company has received advices that communication with Kingston, Jamaica, is interrupted, also to isthmus via Jamaica, caused apparently by earthquake, and that later advices say land line communication restored to within five miles of Kingston. Traffic may be accepted at senders' risks, subject to heavy delay. Reported that Kingston destroyed by earthquake with much loss of life."

Kingston is the capital of the Island of Jamaica, and has a population of 60,000. It is situated on the gentle slope of a branch of the Blue mountains, and stands on the north shore of a magnificent bay defended by two forts.

It is built in the form of an amphi-theater, with wide and regular streets; the houses, mostly of two stories, are solidly constructed of brick and wood, and painted fresh and white.

The houses in the center of the city form blocks or squares, and in the principal streets are furnished with verandahs below and covered galleries above, while those in the outskirts are detached and surrounded by beautiful gardens.

The bay or roadstead has a mean depth of six fathoms and affords good mooring ground for 1,000 vessels of any size.

The environs are covered with fine sugar plantations, interspersed with picturesque villas.

The region to the west is extremely marshy, and to the east Sea Long Mountain.

The climate is hot, and generally unhealthy for Canadians, Americans or Europeans. A daily land and sea breeze, however, tempers the morning and evening in a measure the almost suffocating atmosphere.

The chief exports of Jamaica are coffee, sugar, tobacco, dyewood, and its highly-esteemed rum. The imports mainly consist of manufactured goods, flour, wine, ale and salted meat.

Kingston was founded in 1693, after the destruction by earthquake of Port Royal, it was also a metropolis in 1656.

In February, 1872, the town was almost completely destroyed by fire; and another disastrous fire which commenced on March 29th, 1882, and in which a few persons perished, destroyed property to the value of $1,250,000.

MR. F. S. SPENCE RESIGNS OFFICE

In the Dominion Alliance---Poor Health the Cause.

Toronto, Jan. 16.—The Executive Committee of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance met yesterday afternoon, and accepted the resignation of Mr. Frank S. Spence, its secretary.

Mr. Spence's decision came as a surprise that was almost a shock, and it was reluctantly accepted by the committee.

Mr. Ben. H. Spence, brother of the late secretary, was appointed to take up his work temporarily, until the Alliance holds its regular meeting. Mr. Spence's letter of resignation was as follows;

G. E. Marter, Esq.,

Pres. Ontario Branch Dominion Alliance, Toronto, Ont.

Dear Mr. Marter; In view of need for change, which I must make for the sake of health and personal affairs, I am obliged to resign from the position of Secretary of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance.

This decision has not been made without much feeling of regret at relinquishing the privilege of taking so large a part in the working out of plans for the advancement of the temperance cause as must always be the duty of the secretary of the Alliance. As you are aware, the work that I have been doing has at times made very severe demands upon thought, and time, and energy, but it has always been a pleasure, because of the success attending it, and because of the kindness, consideration, and earnest co-operation of yourself and the other members of the Executive, and friends of the cause.

That association and co-operation have been most gratifying and enjoyable. I look forward to the pleasure of still continuing to work with you and the Alliance against the drink evil, although not able to take as intimate and continuous a part as before in its details. I have no doubt that the wise and progressive principles and methods that have been followed for many years will be maintained until the traffic in intoxicating beverages is no longer lawful in any party of our country.

Heartily wishing you and the Alliance the highest and fullest prosperity and success in all your efforts, I am,

Yours faithfully,
F. S. Spence.

Think Motherland the Worse for Wear

London, Jan. 16.—Ramsay MacDonald writes the Chronicle regarding the feeling in Canada and Australia towards the Motherland. He says the Motherland is regarded as the worse for wear. Her skirts are bedraggled. She is pinched and poverty-stricken, fallen on bad times, and drifting into worse. She needs the strong arms of her children to protect her. There is a feeling that the old mother will have to be sent for and borne thither like an emigrant on assisted passage, so that her remaining years may be spent in honored decency and comfort. He had been trying to brush her up for their inspection, but the tariff reform tables of manufacturers' associations needing more protection in some of the papers kept him busy piling in the hollow cheeks and patching the rags. The colonies were disappointed in the general election, because the Motherland seemed to cast a sneer at their cherished policy of protection.

American Cities Are In Danger of Flood

Pittsburg, Jan. 16.—Flood warnings were sent out late last night by the local weather bureau, stating that a stage of 22 feet will be reached by the rivers. Early yesterday morning rain was falling along the head waters of the Allegheny, and about the city, which will have a tendency to further increase the amount of water.

The crest of the flood yesterday was at Freeport and McKeesport. Both the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers are contributing to the rise. Police officials here and at Allegheny City were asked to warn residents in the lower sections of the city.

Advices received late last night that heavy rains had fallen at Confluence, on the Youghiogheny, and at Johnstown on the Conemaugh, with flood stages in both rivers, led to the flood warnings.

Wave-Swept Boat

Halifax, Jan. 16.—After a stormy passage of eleven days from Liverpool, the Allan Line steamer Pretorian arrived in port yesterday. On Friday last the steamer encountered a terrific hurricane, and only steamed 57 miles in 24 hours. The decks were continually swept by giant seas, but she sustained no damage. Among her passengers were six Mossley school teachers—Edward Crump, W. D. Ricketts, J. H. Walker, George Kitson, H. R. Birch, and Miss E. Cooper—who will study the school system of Canada.

STOMACH'S IMPORTANCE

How to Strengthen It so That It Will Act as It Should.

The stomach is the principal organ concerned in the digestion of food. If it is weak, inactive or out of order and unable to properly digest the food, the body will soon be in a state of semi-starvation.

Then, too, when the stomach is weak, the food is not properly digested and lies in it for hours, decomposing, fermenting, and forming poisonous gases and ptomaines that are absorbed into the blood, poisoning the system and impoverishing the blood.

To enjoy good health, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and digestive organs should be strong, and no other remedy equals Mi-o-na in strengthening and giving tone to the whole digestive system.

Relief from the use of Mi-o-na is permanent and lasting. Use Mi-o-na for a few days, and the digestion will be good, the appetite keen, and there will be no nausea or distress after eating, no sleeplessness, no nervousness, and the headaches, backaches and disturbed heart action that are the direct result of a weakened stomach will soon be overcome.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50-cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents.

Write today for a free sample package, and also give us your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give your case his careful and personal attention without charge. Booth's Hyomei Company Buffalo, N. Y.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP FAILURES

Those who believe that the municipal ownership idea is an impracticable one under present conditions of society have repeated illustrations furnished to them from the current news items which the telegraph brings from different parts of the United States. Once in a great while the story is told of an experiment of the kind which appears to be successful. But the reports of an opposite nature seem to be increasingly frequent.

The latest community to proclaim the message of failure is the state capital of Illinois. There a municipal lighting plant was established a dozen years ago, after a campaign of hasty generalizations. "More, better, and cheaper light" was the slogan of the victors. The experience of the years is now summed up in the statement that the plant cost the city an exorbitant price to start with, that it has proved a losing proposition financially, despite a number of favors never granted to private enterprises, and that it is now antiquated and worn out. No attention has been given to the important matter of repairs.

A franchise for a new lighting company of private owners is now being considered for the benefit of the city. It is the same story always. The expense of the undertaking usually exceeds the original estimate on which the arguments of the people rest. What is everybody's business soon becomes nobody's care. The men in charge lack skill and business sense. No provision is made for the needful repairs and improvements. The plant goes to pieces, with ill feeling on every hand.

Private individuals have given a large amount of thought to the best ways of getting income from outlay. They make many experiments at times before the right paths open before them. They learn to watch all possible leakages. They save in small matters. They give up machinery or methods that are unprofitable or out of date. Then, after long trial, they may find just the right plan for winning success in their enterprises from the mechanical point of view, and so lay the foundations for financial success also.

The cases where municipal ownership has proved successful after a trial of years seem to be few when compared with the constantly recurring instances where it has turned out a decided failure.

Too Low and Too High.

"Do employers hire men and then pay them what they think them worth or do they fix salaries and then get such men as they can to fit them?" asked a young man who had been going through the experience of changing his work. "I won't try to answer my question, but I will tell you a story. I called upon a manager to talk with him about a place of responsibility which I knew he had to offer. He seemed taken with me and I think had his mind made up to employ me. Finally he asked me how much salary I would expect.

"'I should say about $150 a month,' I answered.

"Immediately his face fell. 'I'm sorry,' he said, 'but I expect to pay $2,500 a year, and I want a $2,500 man. Good morning.'

"From there I went to inquire about another place. Again I seemed to suit, and we got to the question of wages. I knew the firm was not in the habit of spending much money. If I was to get the position I must bid low, and so I suggested $125 a month.

"'I'm sorry,' was the reply, 'but we can't pay more than $100. I know you're worth more and the work is worth more, but we haven't got the money to spend, that's all. Good morning.'"

The Study of Medicine.

The study of medicine is the study of man and of his relations to his environment. It is the broadest and most useful of all the professions. A skillful physician can find opportunity for the employment of his highest skill in a hovel as well as in a palace. He is alike welcomed by the king and by the peasant. The exactions of the physician's calling are more severe than those of any other profession. He must be content to hold all his personal plans for pleasure, profit or recreation subject to the exigencies of many other lives as well as of his own, so that his life must be less regular than that of other men. He belongs to the social fire department. He must often imperil his health, even his life, to save the health and lives of others. He must be content with a short life. But all these disadvantages are inducements to the man who desires to live up to the highest and noblest ideals. —From "Starting In Life," by N. C. Fowler, Jr.

The Finest English Odes.

Among the many fine odes in the English language Macaulay has characterized Dryden's "Alexander's Feast" as the noblest, and Dr. Richard Garnett agreed with him in thinking it the finest ode we have. The full title is "Alexander's Feast; or, The Power of Music—an Ode For St. Cecilia's Day." Spenser's "Epithalamium," Milton's "Ode on the Nativity," Keats' odes "To a Nightingale" and "On a Grecian Urn" and Shelley's "To a Skylark" are all notable instances of this class of poem, and to these must be added, though their form is irregular, Wordsworth's magnificent "Intimations of Immortality" and Tennyson's "Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington."

Pruning Tomatoes.

Men and women who grow a few fine tomatoes in their own gardens for their own use have long practiced more or less pruning of the vines. Pruning is also practiced systematically when tomatoes are grown in hothouses. As a rule, the field culture of tomatoes is not sufficiently remunerative to make pruning profitable. Professor Munson found that pruning the plants after a part of the fruit had set increased the yield more than one-third. This was under conditions of field culture. It is possible that where the market is good an increase of one-third in the crop would pay for the work of pruning.—Country Gentleman.

Their Mecca.

"But, dear," said the caller, "I don't see why you should care to change the name of your charming little country place. Idlewhile is so romantic. It seems to signify dreamy idleness."

"That's just the trouble," replied the housewife. "It was too suggestive."

"In what way?"

"Why, it attracted all the tramps in the county."

False Economy.

There is a vast difference between the economy which administers wisely and that niggardly economy which saves for the sake of saving and spends a dime's worth of time to save a penny. I have never known a man who overestimated the importance of saving pennies to do things which belong to large minds.—Success Magazine.

Working Hard.

The little boy's father had come home from his office early and was lying down for a nap before dinner. The little lad's mother sent him upstairs to see if his father was asleep. He returned with this answer: "Yes, mamma, papa is all asleep but his nose."

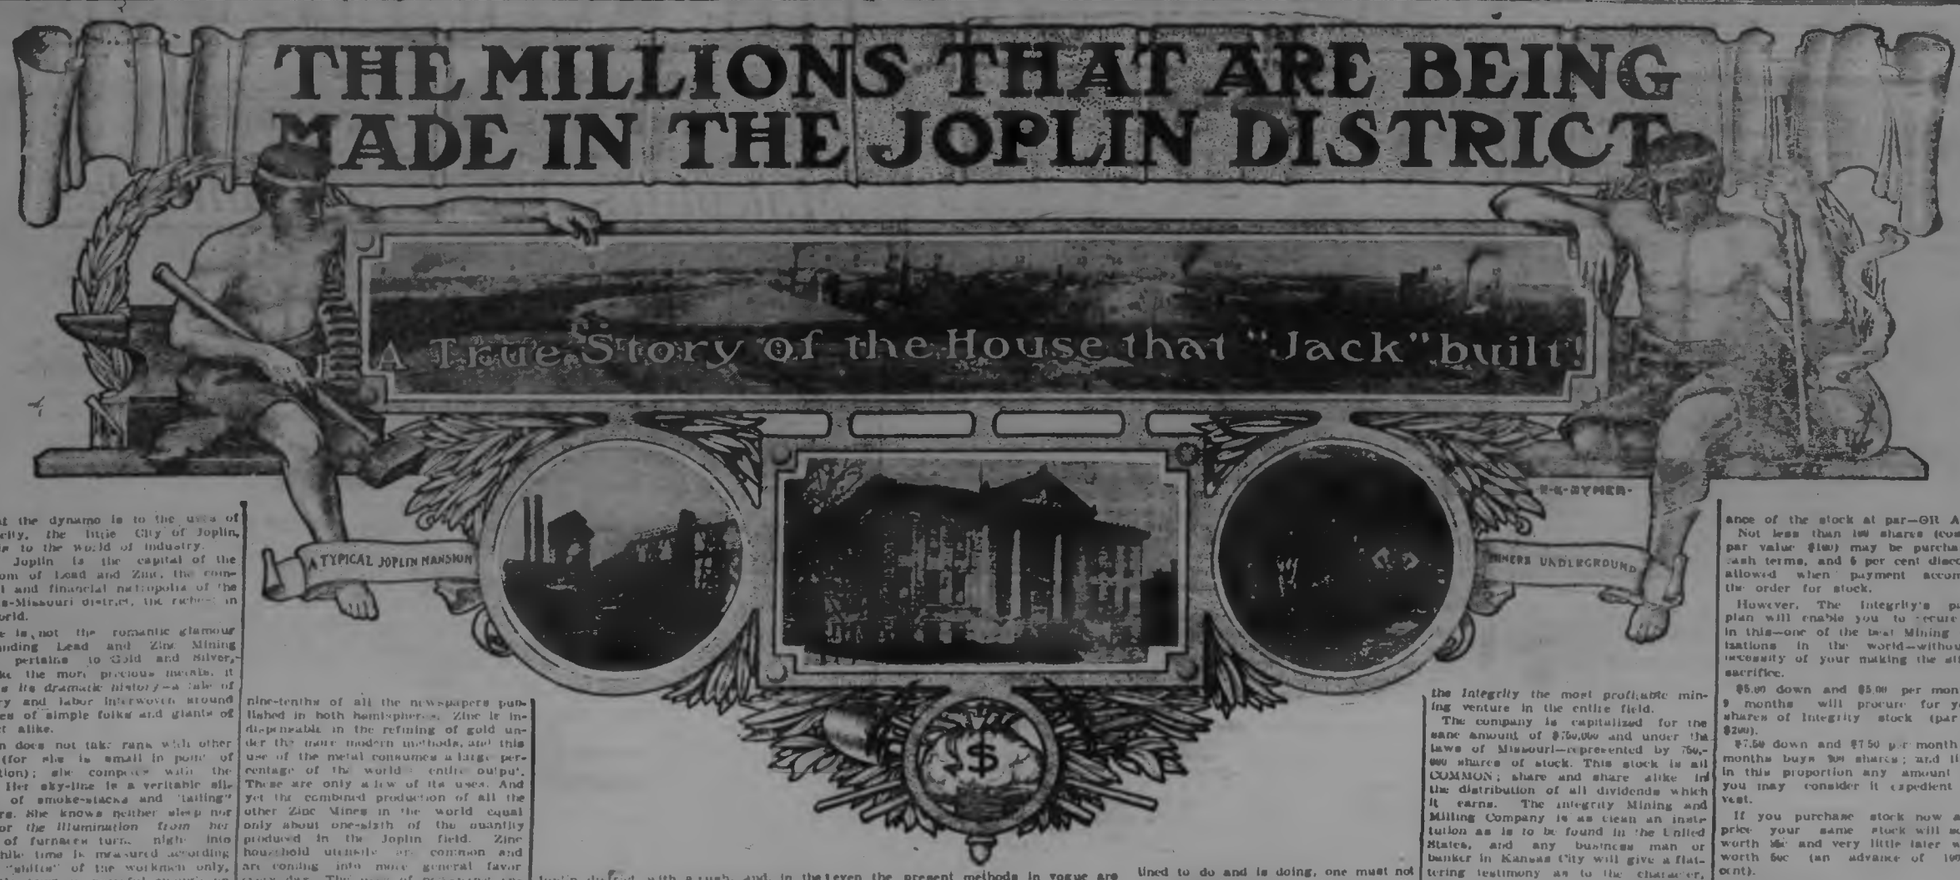
ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE MILLIONS THAT ARE BEING MADE IN THE JOPLIN DISTRICT

A True Story of the House that "Jack" built!



What the dynamo is to the uses of electricity, the little City of Joplin, Mo., is to the world of industry.

For Joplin is the capital of the Kingdom of Lead and Zinc, the commercial and financial metropolis of the Kansas-Missouri district, the richest in the world.

There is not the romantic glamour surrounding Lead and Zinc Mining which pertains to Gold and Silver, but like the more precious metals, it too has its dramatic history—a tale of industry and labor interwoven around the lives of simple folks and giants of intellect alike.

Joplin does not rate rank with other cities (for she is small in point of population); she competes with the world. Her sky-line is a veritable silhouette of smoke-stacks and "tailing" elevators. She knows neither sleep nor rest, for the illumination from her scores of furnaces turns night into day, while time is measured according to the "shifts" of the workmen only. The little town is peaceful enough on the surface; it is below its streets and alleys that the great pursuit of wealth goes on—that the wondrous, serious, all-absorbing work takes on the form of ceaseless activity. Here is the real City of Joplin; the houses and churches and avenues above are as a suburb merely when compared.

From out of the belly of the city fortune and fame are daily found—enough rich Lead and Zinc ore mined to fill thousands of trains of cars each year. And hundreds of acres of virgin land await the hand of man to bring an incalculable bounty of rich great riches from earth to the light of day. Over 13,000,000 of dollars' worth of ore were mined in this district last year, and experts place the present year's production at a figure in excess of $15,000,000.

The known area of lands in the Joplin-Webb City district carrying Lead and Zinc ores is constantly being extended and each year more new mines are brought into production than there are old ones exhausted. Aside from [illegible] mineral ground, it is said to keep every present miner in the district at work for fifty years, even if no more discoveries should be made. The real truth is that only the surface has been tilled.

Joplin is already supplying the world with a goodly percentage of all the Lead it uses, and with 33 per cent. of its entire consumption of Zinc.

The output of Lead from the Joplin-Webb City-Carterville mines in the year alone is sufficient to equip and insulate all the 100,000 miles of telephone and telegraph wires in the world.

The Zinc produced in the Joplin field is used in the stereotying rooms of nine-tenths of all the newspapers published in both hemispheres. Zinc is indispensable in the refining of gold under the more modern methods, and this use of the metal consumes a large percentage of the world's entire output. These are only a few of its uses. And yet the combined production of all the other Zinc Mines in the world equal only about one-sixth of the quantity produced in the Joplin field. Zinc household utensils are common and are coming into more general favor every day. The uses of new-paper engraving demand Zinc plates, and the wondrous "Jack" is being found to have new and practical utility almost every day. The increasing demands, large though they be, for high-class Jack are not of a speculative character, either, but are due alone to normal conditions. Zinc roofing has assumed the magnitude of one of the large independent industries of the world—its popularity being international. The many new electrical appliances which are daily invented create additional demands for the metal.

Lead was first discovered in the district of Joplin in the year 1830—simultaneous with the discovery of gold in California. The first ore was shipped by wagon to Hannville, Mo., and there to St. Louis. Mining, however, was practically discontinued until the close of the Civil War.

Several years after work had been resumed in the Lead mines, the miners began to be greatly bothered by an apparently worthless mineral which the Lead miner considered in his way. That bothersome mineral was none other than the mineral known as "Jack"—pure Zinc ore. The then unknown "Jack" was found in large quantities all over the district and was indiscriminately thrown away as so much trash by the busy miner.

Soon it became known that this curious by-product of the Lead mines was the very finest quality of "Jack" and buyers appeared offering from $2.50 to $3.50 a ton for it. The price advanced from $5.00 to $5.50, the miners being eager to part with the metal for a mess of pottage, figuratively speaking. Prices of Zinc ore, however, steadily advanced, and in the year 1905 reached the $60 a ton mark. The discovery of Zinc ore brought people into the Joplin district with a rush, and, in the words of a pioneer of the community, "They've been coming ever since."

While the average price of Lead per ton is somewhat higher than the price of Zinc, the Joplin district produces over ten times as much Zinc as Lead. It is, therefore, due to the marvelous Zinc output that Joplin has assumed her important position as the metropolis of the greatest mining district the world has ever known, and hence Joplin can fittingly be styled "The house that Jack built." It is indeed a creditable piece of architecture, outrivaling the proudest achievement of modern or mediæval masonry. Mere word-pictures cannot convey a true impression of the importance of the district to a person who has never visited it. All this, however, is merely a beginning; and Joplin is but in the tender years of its ascendency. The mining industry is in its crudest stage. It remains for brains to further build Joplin—rather than brawn.

"You people don't know how to mine," said a Western mine promoter recently when visiting the Joplin field.

Incidentally, this man, unconsciously perhaps, struck the keynote of the situation. The fact is that large and rich stores of fine ores are remaining undeveloped in this great domain of "Jack"—also that there has been no deep mining in the district. No single mine in the entire field has been mined to a depth of 300 feet, and few indeed have gone as far as 300 feet. Yet the largest and richest bodies of ore lie at depths of from 300 to 400 feet—a fact that has been positively demonstrated.

Mining was [illegible] carried on for years in a desultory sort of way, and even the present methods in vogue are for the greater part primitive. The surface production (i. e. the ore found at a depth of from 40 to 150 feet) has been so rich and inexhaustible that owners of mines have had little disposition to go down to a depth of 300 to 400 feet, where the real fortunes lay.

Not only this, but local conditions have greatly retarded the growth of the mining industry—phenomenal even though it now is. Capital has oftimes been lacking, while the "leasing" system, which is largely prevalent, has tended to develop mining along a smaller scale. By this leasing system the owners of the ground lets the property out to the prospector under royalty, the latter paying the former a small percentage of the profits which accrue from this development and labor. Now it develops that a majority of these prospectors are lacking in means with which to develop these properties which they lease, so that many unusually rich mines are lying dormant for want of funds with which to equip them.

Taking advantage of this fact, a company has lately been formed, composed of business men, who are developing this incomparable field in a business-like way, confining their operations to the leasing of property to financially responsible prospectors, on the one hand, and buying and leasing other property from land-poor mine owners, on the other. The company develops this latter named land, sinking shafts, mining the ore and building mills as required. This plan constitutes the exact force which has so long been needed in the field. But in order to understand the magnitude of the work which this company has outlined to do and is doing, one must not confuse their mission with the ordinary pursuit of a mining enterprise. For while this company is truly a Mining and Milling Company of more than considerable importance, and while it is offsetted by men who are Masters in the science of Lead and Zinc Mining, at the same time it must be considered that this organization is PRIMARILY ONE OF BRAINS.

This company—appropriately called the "Integrity"—aspires to the ultimate control of not one piece of mining property, but of such available claims lying within the district as may be deemed desirable. Then the company will fully develop under "royalty" system—a plan now under successful operation. This "royalty" system makes mining of this character an INVESTMENT of known value and fair dividends, rather than speculation of unknown character, but with promise of rich rewards.

The company is certain to earn a goodly percentage. One mine alone may produce enough ore to enable the company to pay a 10 to 20 per cent. yearly dividend on its entire capital stock. Half a dozen such mines, collectively—each paying handsome profits—will yield a dividend of from 25 to 75 per cent., depending entirely upon the ability and the foresight of the men who are directing the energies of the company.

The Integrity Mining and Milling Company was conceived by practical and successful business men—and not by mining speculators. But these business men have called to their aid master miners, and this organization of brain and brawn and shrewdness are heartily united in the effort to make the Integrity the most profitable mining venture in the entire field.

The company is capitalized for the same amount of $750,000 and under the laws of Missouri—represented by 750,000 shares of stock. This stock is all COMMON; share and share alike in the distribution of all dividends which it earns. The Integrity Mining and Milling Company is as clean an institution as is to be found in the United States, and any business man or banker in Kansas City will give a flattering testimony as to the character, reputation and financial standing of its officers. The Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Norton Thayer, and the Vice President, Mr. George T. Moore, are both widely known in Eastern banking and financial circles.

President J. E. Myers is a thorough and practical mining developer and operator.

Mr. George T. Moore, Vice President, is also Vice President of the Weber Gas Engine Company of Kansas City.

Mr. Norton Thayer, Secretary-Treasurer, is the senior member of the Thayer-Moore Brokerage Company, one of the largest real estate and loan concerns in Kansas City.

The company has placed its first installment of stock on the market—100,000 shares, which is now selling at 25c (par value $1.00 per share). The second installment will be another 100,000 shares at 35c, and the third installment another 100,000 shares at 50c. After the third installment has been exhausted (i. e after the first 300,000 shares have been realized on) the company expects to hold the balance of the stock at par—OR ABOVE.

Not less than 100 shares (cost $25, par value $100) may be purchased on cash terms, and 5 per cent discount is allowed when payment accompanies the order for stock.

However, The Integrity's payment plan will enable you to secure stock in this—one of the best Mining Organizations in the world—without the necessity of your making the slightest sacrifice.

$5.00 down and $5.00 per month for 9 months will procure for you 200 shares of Integrity stock (par value, $200).

$7.50 down and $7.50 per month for 9 months buys 300 shares; and likewise in this proportion any amount which you may consider it expedient to invest.

If you purchase stock now at this price your same stock will soon be worth 35c and very little later will be worth 50c (an advance of 100 per cent).

Every indication points to the probability of this stock being found at par within a twelvemonth. In the meantime, the investor should receive liberal dividends. However, the company does not urge its stock on the public, nor does it desire that anyone should buy until he or she has thoroughly investigated the matter from all standpoints. It has adopted this means of publicity in order to put itself in touch with a class of clean-cut investors and business men—people from out of all walks of life who are desirous of investing small or large sums in an institution whose aims this purpose are to make sound and substantial dividends out of a thoroughly legitimate undertaking.

You are invited to write and obtain a Free Copy of the book, In the Rich Fields of Missouri"—a mere postal card request addressed to The Integrity Mining and Milling Company, 212 Heist Building, Kansas City, Mo., is all that is necessary. (Please address this office also in writing or in remitting for stock; make remittances to the Treasurer).

And if you are in the market for a high-class investment, better enter your subscription today, before the whole of this small allotment of 35c stock is subscribed.

To invest in the capital stock of this company is to obtain a gilt-edged investment. And the personnel of the company—the unimpeachable characters and reputations of the men who are inviting you to invest your dollars with them—ought to be an absolute assurance of the sincerity of purpose underlying their efforts and a pledge of their ability to plant your money so that two dollars will spring forth where only one grew before.

raise force enough to punish these rascally murderers of God's priests? I had always understood that you were a soldier."

"It is just because I am a soldier and have seen something of war that I know how hard it is to penetrate into a country much larger than the Lowlands, all thick with forest and bog, with a savage lurking behind every tree. You are a soldier yourself, sire. I ask you if such a war is an easy task for a handful of soldiers, with a few censitaires straight from the plow, and a troop of coureurs-de-bois whose hearts all the time are with their traps and their beaver skins."

"No, no; I am sorry if I spoke too hastily," said Louis. "We shall look into the matter at our council. And yet you must not look for too much, for Canada has been a heavy cost to us, and we have many calls in Europe."

"Ah, sire, I would that you could see that great land. It is so vast, sire, so rich, so beautiful! Where are there such hills, such forests, such rivers? And it is all for us if we will but take it. Who is there to stand in our way—a few nations of scattered Indians and a thin strip of English farmers and fishermen. Turn your thoughts there, sire, and in a few years you would be able to stand upon your citadel at Quebec and to say there is one great empire here from the snows of the north to the warm southern gulf and from the waves of the ocean to the great plains beyond Marquette's river, and the name of this empire is France, and her king is Louis, and her flag is the fleurs-de-lis."

"On my word, count," said the king, "you have caught something of this gift of Indian eloquence of which we have heard. But about these English folk. They are Huguenots, are they not?"

"For the most part, especially in the north."

"Then it might be a service to the holy church to send them packing. Tell me now, Frontenac, what force would you need to clear these people out—one regiment, two regiments and perhaps a frigate or two?"

But the ex-governor shook his grizzled head. "You do not know them, sire," said he. "They are a stern folk, these. We in Canada, with all your gracious help, have found it hard to hold our own. To put New England into your majesty's hands I would ask 15,000 of your best troops and twenty ships of the line."

Louis sprang impatiently from his chair and caught up his cane. "The matter may stand until our council. Reverend father, it has struck the hour of chapel, and all else may wait until we have paid our duties to heaven."

CHAPTER III.

WHILE Louis had been affording his court that which he had openly stated to be the highest of human pleasures, the sight of the royal face, the young officer of the guard outside had been very busy passing on the titles of the numerous applicants for admission and exchanging usually a smile or a few words of greeting with them, for his frank, handsome face was a well known one at the court. Three years ago he had been an unknown subaltern bush fighting with Algonquins and Iroquois in the wilds of Canada. An exchange had brought him back to France and into the regiment of Picardy, but the lucky chance of having seized the bridle of the king's horse one winter's day in Fontainebleau when the creature was plunging within a few yards of a deep gravel pit had done for him what ten campaigns might have failed to accomplish.

A gentleman very richly dressed in black and silver advanced, as the door opened, with the assured air of a man whose rights are beyond dispute. Captain de Catinat, however, took a quick step forward, and barred him off from the door.

"I am very sorry, M. de Vivonne," said he, "but you are forbidden the presence."

"Forbidden the presence! I? You are mad!" He stepped back with gray face and staring eyes, one shaking hand half raised in protest.

"I assure you that it is his order."

"If I could have one word with the king."

"Unfortunately, monsieur, it is impossible."

The angry nobleman stamped his foot and stared at the door as though he had some thoughts of forcing a passage. Then, turning on his heel, he hastened away down the corridor with the air of a man who has come to a decision.

"There, now," grumbled De Catinat to himself, as he pulled his thick dark mustache, "he is off to make some fresh mischief. I'll have his sister here presently, as like as not, and a pleasant little choice between breaking my orders and making an enemy of her for life. By my faith, here is a lady, as I feared. Ah, heaven be praised, it is a friend and not a foe. Good morning, Mlle. Nanon."

"Good morning, Captain de Catinat."

The newcomer was a tall, graceful brunette, her fresh face and sparkling black eyes the brighter in contrast with her plain dress.

"A note from Mme. de Maintenon to the king. You will hand it to him, will you not?"

"Certainly, mademoiselle. And how is madame, your mistress?"

"Oh, her director has been with her all the morning, and his talk is very, very good, but it is also very, very sad. We are not very cheerful when M. Godet has been to see us. But I forget monsieur is a Huguenot and knows nothing of directors."

"Oh, but I do not trouble about such differences."

"Ah, if monsieur could talk to Mme de Maintenon a little! She would convert him."

"I would rather talk to Mlle. Nanon, but if"—

"Oh!" There was an exclamation, a whisk of dark skirts, and the soubrette disappeared down a side passage.

Along the broad lighted corridor was gliding a very stately and beautiful lady, tall, graceful and exceedingly haughty. The lady was past her first youth, it is true, but the magnificent curves of her queenly figure, the purity of her complexion, the brightness of her deep lashed blue eyes and the clear regularity of her features enabled her still to claim to be the most handsome as well as the most sharp tongued woman in the court of France.

"Ah, it is Captain de Catinat!" said Mme. de Montespan, with a smile.

"Your humble servant, marquise."

"I am fortunate in finding a friend here, for there has been some ridiculous mistake this morning."

"I am concerned to hear it."

"It was about my brother, M. de Vivonne. It is almost too laughable to mention, but he was actually refused admission to the lever."

"It was my misfortune to have to refuse him, madame."

"You, Captain de Catinat? And by what right?" She had drawn up her superb figure, and her large blue eyes were blazing with indignant astonishment.

"The king's order, madame."

"The king! Is it likely that the king would cast a public slight upon my family? From whom had you this preposterous order?"

"Direct from the king through Bontems."

"Absurd! Do you think that the king would venture to exclude a Mortemart through the mouth of a valet? Go, tell the king that I am here and would have a word with him."

"Impossible, madame. I have been forbidden to carry a message."

"To carry any message?"

"Any from you, madame."

"Come, captain, you improve. It only needed this insult to make the thing complete. You may carry a message to the king from any adventuress from any decayed governess"—she laughed shrilly at her description of her rival—"but none from Francoise de Mortemart, Marquise de Montespan."

He slipped in front of her.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 20th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary;—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over-applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $300,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 16c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and through its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 200,000 persons, and many others have from 5,000 to 50,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two whole sections containing an area of one square mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for their factories and Canneries in each center and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold; the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid (say into 10 fully paid $100-Share for each Share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions ($20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100-Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 9TH, 1906.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $700,000,000, representing shipments of 350 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,875 cattle 16,253 sheep and 34,261 hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present: The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs J. A. Banfield, F. B. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION:

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That, after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 60 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. H. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

HUMOR

IT MADE A DIFFERENCE.

How the Colonel Came to Make a Speech at Cut Rates.

"Well, gentlemen, what can I do for you today?" queried the colonel as he entered his office after a brief absence and found three farmer looking men in possession.

"We are a committee from the county fair," explained one, "and we want to see about the address. You make 'em, don't you?"

"Oh, certainly!"

"What's your figger?"

"I delivered two county fair addresses last fall and received $50 each."

"Um! Too high."

"There was no fault found with my prices last year. It takes time to prepare one, you know, and then I must journey down and deliver it. The figure I named is a very reasonable one."

"Look here, colonel," said the chairman of the committee after considering a bit, "have you got one of your old addresses on hand?"

"I believe so."

"And can't you put 'er in for twenty-five?"

"But some one might get on to it."

"We'll take all the chances of that. All the people who will listen to you will be old Mrs. Cosely, who is as deaf as a post, and old Jim Shaw, who will take it for a Fourth of July oration anyhow, and you won't run the slightest risk. Won't this make a difference in your figgers?"

The colonel blushed and stammered and said he thought it would, and when the committee left they had his receipt for $30, and he agreed to be on time.—Chicago News.

Her Offense.

The despondent damsel had been apprehended in the very act of drinking carbolic. The speedy work of skilled physicians saved her life. The physicians afterward admitted that they had saved it. An officious constable arrested her on the ground of attempted suicide. Then a wise man present interfered and said:

"I object to this high handed procedure. If this person is to be seized on any charge it should be as a violator of the pure food law."

"How so?" exclaimed everyone in unison.

"Because she was putting acid inside 'er."

Whereupon the crowd released the woman and with one accord hanged the author of the pun.—Judge.

No Inducement.

"Why don't you devote more time to study?" said the serious person.

"What for?" asked the nonchalant citizen.

"So that you will surpass all other people in wisdom."

"I don't see the good of it. It's hard enough to keep from being lonesome as it is."—Washington Star.

In the Choir.

"The soprano gave the choirmaster a canary for a birthday gift," remarked the contralto, "and he's named it after her."

"Quite appropriate, eh?" replied the tenor.

"Yes. I understand the bird can't sing a little bit."—Catholic Standard and Times.

On One Condition.

Meanley—No, sir, I don't believe in paying fancy prices to have clothes made to order. Now, here's a suit I bought ready made for $9.90. If I should tell you I paid $25 for it, wouldn't you believe it?

Knox—I might if you told me over the telephone.—Philadelphia Press.

Just Like Charlie.

"I bet I know something that you don't," said her little brother.

"What is it?" the young man asked.

"When sister kissed Fido last night she rubbed her nose and said, 'Oh, you tickle just like Charlie since he's begun to raise a mustache!'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Nothing but the Truth.

Her Husband—And I told you the truth, my dear. Haven't I just paid for a ton of coal?—Boston Transcript.

The Fat One—My husband doesn't support me like he used to.

The Thin One—Well, when you married him you only weighed about a hundred pounds.—Philadelphia Press.

An Editor's Appreciation.

The editor of The Haileyburian, in the midst of his duties as mayor, and his efforts to keep the political and theological course of the world straight, manages to find some time to devote to literature, and here is an appreciative note from his pen of a present fellow-townsman, mixed in with a few subjective reflections: "If there is anything on two legs that we like it is Dr. Drummond. We all know his literary fame, and such a connection should shed a reflected glory upon ourself, but 'Walt a little bit.'

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 30 acre ore and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 50 feet, and it shows 5 inch nickolite, 18 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1283-492-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of silver is equal to $650.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M.E.
New Liskeard, 17th November, 1906

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our Jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions will be filed in order received, and we reserve the right to reduce, or return same. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto. Send today or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

We absolutely refuse to hunt tufts, whether in season, or out of season. We, simply, glory in intellect, and when we see it writ large upon a man, we admire with reservations. The doctor is a dreamer, and they accuse us of being the same. In spite of the prosaicness of the world, the blessed legend of King Arthur, with all its inconsistencies, appeals to our very souls. Tennyson saw it. We, personally, have caught a glimmering reflection of that which wiser men have seen with clear vision. We would not attempt to scale the starry heights of Parnassus, but Doctor Drummond has done this thing, and in the interest of Canadian literature, let him dream on, for his effusions are like those of the song-bird, hard to imitate."

Try It.

If in your business you fail
And lose your shekels fair,
Don't get despondent or downcast—
Assume a million-air.

Fish Stories.

It is constantly said that fishermen greatly exaggerate the size of the fish that are lost. This accusation, though most frequently and flippantly made, is in point of fact based upon the most absurd arrogance and a love of slanderous assertion that passes understanding. These are harsh words, but they are abundantly justified.

In the first place, all the presumptions are with the fisherman's contention. It is perfectly plain that large fish are more apt to escape than small ones. Of course their weight and activity, combined with the increased trickiness and resourcefulness of age and experience, greatly increase their ability to tear out the hook and enhance the danger that their antics will expose a fatal weakness in hook, leather, line or rod. Another presumption which must be regretfully mentioned arises from the fact that in many cases the encounter with a large fish causes such excitement and such distraction or perversion of judgment on the part of the fisherman as leads him to do the wrong thing or fail to do the right thing.—"Fishing and Shooting Sketches," by Grover Cleveland.

Shoplifters in Bookstores.

"Ours is one business in which there are no women shoplifters," said a bookseller yesterday. "We are troubled with shoplifters, but they are all men. Women don't seem to have any time for book stealing. It's remarkable how many thefts we detect in the course of a week. Visitors who look prosperous enough to buy whole libraries are often caught abstracting a twenty-five cent book. I figure that this is due to the great temptation. You see, in bookstores callers are given the run of the place and are at liberty to examine the stock at their leisure. A man picks up some little volume he may want, and, seeing no one at hand, the temptation to get something for nothing is too much for him. He slips the coveted article into his pocket, but we have wary salesmen, and most such offenders are tripped up. Then they have to pay for the purloined volumes and are warned that more serious consequences will follow any repetition of the shoplifting."—Philadelphia Record.

Mr. Dennistoun for Winnipeg

It is with deep regret that the many friends of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, one of Peterborough's leading lawyers, and society leaders, learn that this gentleman is, with his family, about to leave the home of his ancestors. Our older citizens will remember the careful and impartial manner in which his grandfather, the late Judge Dennistoun administered justice in this district.

The Times regrets, in the interests of this city that Mr. Dennistoun will leave here, next April for Winnipeg, when he has purchased a splendid law business. Mr. Dennistoun whilst having such vast interests in Peterborough, considers that the growing Western country offers better facilities and inducements for his boys who will soon be growing up.

Bunch of Little Tots Explained

Yesterday afternoon about 5.30 a strange sight was to be seen at the corner of George and Simcoe streets. A lady and gentleman were conducting a troupe of little tots, ranging from 20 below zero up to, say, five years of age.

A casual observer could quickly recognize the fact that the lady and gentleman with them were not bringing their progeny out for a walk, as the little ones, some 15 of them were too much of an age, to fathom solution of the matter. Again the little ones were too well dressed to presume that an orphan asylum had broken loose. A Times representative taking the bit in his teeth, boldly tackled the lady in charge and asked why this thusness. He was informed that the tots were simply coming from the band hall, where they had been practising for the coming band concert next month.

Mr. A. D. Towle Visiting the City

Mr. A. D. Towle, formerly proprietor of a George street restaurant, but now of Montreal, is here on a short visit. Mr. Towle is one of two proprietors of a penny arcade on St. Catharine street. Mr. Towle is busy shaking hands with a host of Peterborough acquaintances, who are pleased to hear of his success.

Fire Brigade Out Last Night

Early yesterday evening the fire brigade was called out by an alarm and responded in their usual prompt manner. The cause of this alarm was a chimney afire at the corner of Brock and Sheridan streets. The fire was put out before the arrival of the brigade.

Lakefield Cement Co. Kept Busy

As originally noted in The Times, the Lakefield Cement Company are rapidly moving their clay digging apparatus from Lily Lake to Drummond's station, Otonabee. Formerly the various loads for or from this company, went by way of the Locks bridge and Down's corners, but the last part of the big "digger" now en route, was too heavy to cross the swing, so that it was taken by way of the Hunter street bridge.

Mrs. Rogers' Case Tried Yesterday

The hearing of Mrs. Eliza Rogers' claim for damages against the C.P.R., for filling in a trestle near her property on the river front, took place before the Railway Commission at Ottawa yesterday.

A great deal of interest is taken in the case here. Ald. Elliott and Johnston, and City Solicitor Hall, represented the city council.

Mr. Jas. Kelly Loses a Horse

It seems that when trouble comes, the old saw saying "it never rains but it pours," applies to Mr. Jas. Kelly, proprietor of the Royal Hotel. Not only is Mr. Kelly now in a possibility of trouble over an alleged charge of selling liquor to an Indian, and a valuable horse of his had misfortune to break its leg on Aylmer street yesterday. The accident occurred at the telegraph pole yard between Dublousie and Sherbrooke street. One of the poles in some manner fell upon its leg and broke it. The horse had to be shot during the day.

Orillia Won Here Peterboro' In Orillia

Yesterday afternoon the long heralded Orillia-Peterborough curling match was played off at the Charlotte street rink.

This match created considerable excitement in local curling circles as proven by the large crowd of spectators present. Every game was played for all that was in the participants, on good keen ice. After the last end was over, the visiting wielders of broom and besom were taken up stairs to the cosy rooms of the Peterborough curlers. Here a long table was furnished with all such things as men who have been working hard, for their respective town's honor, on the cool, cold, ice could wish for.

The result of yesterday afternoon's games as given by the respective skips was as follows:

Peterborough.	Orillia
G. B. Giroux, 19.	F. A. Main, 19
W. McIlroy, 7.	E. A. Wakefield, 17
W. G. Ferguson, 14.	Robt. Wade, 19
T. Rutherford, 9	H. F. Stemay, 20

Shortly before the completition of the game here, a telegram was received from Orillia, which said the Peterborough men who went to Orillia, were 35 points ahead of the players at that town.

Peterborough Boy Is Doing Very Well

The many friends in this city of Mr. Bert Dolan will be pleased to learn that he is getting along well in Chicago. About a year ago Mr. Dolan took a position with "The Hub," one of the largest State street drygoods houses. Since entering the Hub, Mr. Dolan has been promoted to the position of buyer for this millionaire establishment.

At Christmas the firm presented him with a valuable gold watch. A few days ago he was called into the private office and, as a token of appreciation, given a cheque for $100 and a large increase in salary, as well as being assured the firm fully acknowledged his high ability.

Mr. Matthews for 7th Time Elected

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the Peterborough Water commissioners was held for the purpose of electing a chairman.

It is not only of interest to the general public, but of advantage to the city at large, that Mr. Frank Matthews, board of the immense local packing house, was for the seventh consecutive time, re-elected chairman of this important branch of the city's possessions.

During the meeting, still another memo was addressed to the city council, asking that that body appoint an inspector to see that the source of our local drinking supply be maintained free from impurity, as far back, at least, as Lakefield.

Lindsay Man's Cobalt Property

One of the best mining properties in the Cobalt district is of interest to local citizens, not only on its financial possibilities, but because the president of the company controlling it is a former well known Lindsay man, Mr. Robert Kennedy.

The company referred to is the Kennedy Cobalt, Limited, incorporated under the laws of Ontario, with a capital of $1,000,000. The company composed of some of the leading men of Canada, has been formed to go extensively into the exploration and development, purchase and sale of mineral lands in Northern Ontario. They already own the valuable Currie property, in the Temagami Forest Reserve, which is registered in the Bureau of Mines, and which adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Logne locations, from which ore has been shipped for months. The property has been proven to contain rich Cobalt bloom, and copper and iron sulphides.

The company is now offering one hundred shares of their stock, par value $1 each at 50 cents per share, and there is good reason to believe it will sell above par within a few weeks. For full particulars address their head office, 281 King street west, Toronto.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can do in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

At yesterday's session of the police court two local wine-clerks, who to work off an overdose of exuberance of spirits (not alcoholic) had a little 7x9 scrap in the hotel where they worked, pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct.

Mr. M. T. Butcher was charged with having a vicious dog. A little boy named Fowler, testified to the dog having bitten him on the leg as the boy was sleigh-riding. A little girl said the dog had bitten her in the leg and that it had torn a man's trouser leg. It was two or three years since it had bitten her. Matthew McIlwain said the dog had bitten his boy without provocation.

Mr. Butcher produced a written statement made by himself to the effect that this dog, a cocker spaniel, was not vicious. That it was simply snapping at the sleigh going Fowler was riding on, and by accident bit the boy. He had sent the boy to the doctor and offered to pay the latter's fees. His statement also covered the other biting cases.

Watson Butcher explained that the dog had been taught to carry parcels, and evidently thought the boy's leg was a parcel. Another witness testified to the dog's good character.

The magistrate gave defendant one week in which to either get the dog out of town or destroy it.

Marci Pays the Penalty

Winnipeg, Jan. 16—Marci, the Italian, was hanged in the yard of the provincial jail here yesterday morning at nine o'clock, for the murder of a fellow countryman named Stamacelle, on Yonge street, this city, last spring, the final appeal for a reprieve having failed. So far as can be learned, Marci, until the last denied having caused the death of Romacelli. The sheriff had a score of applications to fill the hangman's job.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—causes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Property

This Company owns in fee, by deed of sale from the Government of Quebec, concession number 12, south part of lot 3, range 6, Pontiac County, Block "A," containing 360 acres.

The property is situated at the "Height of Land" on Opasatica Lake, Province of Quebec, just east of Larder Lake, Province of Ontario, about 50 miles north of Cobalt.

The geological formation is conglomerite and quartzite, syenite, diorite, together with large bodies of grey quartzite.

Considerable prospecting on the property shows up about 25 veins, one of which, known as number "ONE," for over 5,000 feet long, with a width of from three to six feet. About five hundred feet of this vein has been stripped, showing large bodies of quartz carrying gold, which is plainly visible to the naked eye.

Six hundred feet south of vein number "ONE" another vein between walls was discovered, the formation being identical with vein number "ONE." This vein is about eighteen inches wide and is known as number "TWO." Other veins cross these, and the entire ground appears to be heavily mineralized. Fifty thousand tons of ore are estimated now in sight, and ready for a mill.

Assays

Assays from vein number "ONE" and vein number "TWO" appear below:

MONTREAL, December 28, 1906.

KING OF THE NORTH GOLD MINES COMPANY,
Montreal, Que.

Gentlemen:—I desire to report that during the months of August and September, 1906, I examined your mining property near Opasatica Lake, Quebec, and found that same consists of 360 acres of ground, which was part of the original discovery made by Ollier in July, 1906. I found one vein between well defined walls, and traced it for a distance of about 5,000 feet; this vein runs from three to six feet wide, and forty pounds of ore from this vein yielded by washing an approximate of $5.00 worth of free gold.

There are quite a number of strongly defined veins on the property, all carrying quartz containing gold, a great deal of which is visible to the naked eye. Several very large blow-outs have occurred on these veins, and enormous amounts of gold bearing quartz have been thrown, up on the ground. I estimate the quantity of ore, now ready for the mill, at upwards of 850,000 tons, and believe from the tests that I have made, that this ore will easily average $20.00 of gold to the ton.

The ore is free milling and contains coarse gold, which can be very readily separated. The veins are well defined, and I am of the opinion that enormous quantities of ore will be obtained from the property, and that it will become a most valuable mine. The property has timber on it sufficient for all mining improvements and fuel, together with water for the separation of the ore.

Very truly yours,
(Sgd.) T. SIMARD,
P. L. C.

Ville Marie, County Pontiac.

The ore is free milling and can be treated at a nominal expense on the ground, the gold being extracted and shipped in the form of bullion.

Transportation and Construction Facilities

Every facility needed is on the property, in the shape of ample timber for mining, construction work, and fuel, while from Lake Opasatica can be obtained all the water necessary.

With the exception of a short distance, transportation is via water direct to the property from Lake Temiskamingue, and supplies can be brought in and out at a very low cost.

Mill

It is proposed at once to erect a mill for the treatment of the ore, and contracts are now underway, and it is anticipated that it will be in operation not later than April 1, 1907, and dividends should be forthcoming immediately thereafter.

Prossective Dividends

It is a well-known fact that free milling gold ore, in the quantity that the KING OF THE NORTH has, can be mined, milled, and all expenses paid, for less than $4.00 per ton. Estimating that the ore of the KING OF THE NORTH mine only averages $50.00 per ton, and that the expenses are $5.00 per ton, the profit should be as follows:—

100 tons per day at $50.00 ..... $5,000.00
Less cost of 100 tons at $5.00 ..... 500.00
$4,500.00

Or per annum, $1,650,000.00; equal to 135 per cent. on the Share Capital.

We believe that the above figures will be vastly exceeded, as the ore is phenomenally rich, and the probabilities are that the district of which the "KING OF THE NORTH" is the centre will be the greatest and richest ore field in the world.

We offer Fifty Thousand shares of the above stock at $1.00 per share, and reserve the right to advance the price to $1.50 per share without notice. Send in your orders immediately by draft on Montreal, Post Office Order or Certified Cheque to

Local Opera House Has Changed Hands

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons Now Own and Control and Will Make a Success of the Local Home of the Drama.

Yesterday it was currently reported that a deal was in progress whereby Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, the energetic and successful awning makers, were to secure possession of the local opera house.

A Times representative hearing of this deal being in progress, naturally investigated the subject. At about four o'clock the deal was still "in situ," however by six o'clock this journal learned that Messrs. Turners had succeeded in obtaining possession of Peterborough's leading place of amusement.

As is well known there have been some citizens who were not absolutely satisfied with the way in which the opera house has been managed. Of course in the matter of a building and business in which the public as contributors to its support, are directly concerned, there must be, naturally both adverse and complimentary critics. Whether the adverse critics were justified in their opinions or not, is none of our affair.

By six o'clock the deal was consummated, and now Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, are proprietors of The Grand Opera House, or at least of what is, so far known by that designation.

It is an open secret that a representative of Mr. Ambrose Small, the Toronto theatrical magnate has been in the city for a day or two, looking after theatrical matters in general, and it is understood that he is strongly in favor of this exchange of ownership to the Messrs. Turner, knowing them to be progressive and up-to-date business men. Mr. R. H. Bradburn, the recent owner of this business has done all in his power to make the opera house a success, and the Peterborough theater goers have reason to thank him for producing many first-class plays at prices consistent with the theater's interests.

Messrs. Turner & Sons have a large business connection all over the Dominion and will undoubtedly give the public of Peterborough good shows at reasonable prices.

Engineer Dead at the Throttle

New York, Jan. 16.—A Harlem local train from the Grand Central ran from Wakefield to Mount Vernon yesterday with a dead hand at the throttle of the engine. None of the passengers knew it. Wm. Anderson was the engineer. As he took the train out of Wakefield he leaned far out of the cab window to get sight of the driving wheel. His head struck a signal post, fracturing his skull and killing him. The train sped on, at about 35 miles an hour. In the cab seated on the fireman's side was A. Wheeton, traveling engineer on a trip of inspection. He noticed that the train did not come to a stop as it neared the Mount Vernon station, and stepped down to see what was the matter. He saw the limp form of the dead engineer lying in the seat, the hand on the throttle, and he realized what had happened. Wheeton threw on the air-brake and brought the train to a stop.

Senator Ross Will Not Lead Senate

Former Liberal Leader in Ontario Not Regarded as Cabinet Possibility.

Ottawa, January 16.—There would not seem to be any immediate prospects of Hon. G. W. Ross being made the Government leader in the Senate. In order to lead he would have to be a member of the Cabinet, and there is little likelihood of Mr. Ross taking over the control of a department for the present. There would seem to be little immediate possibility of either Hon. R. W. Scott or Sir Richard Cartwright resigning their portfolio. Should they do so, Mr. C. R. Devlin would, in all probability succeed Mr. Scott, as Secretary of State, and an effort would probably be made to induce Hon. Clifford Sifton to take hold of the Department of Trade and Commerce. The tendency will be to bring a younger man than Mr. Ross into the Cabinet to succeed Hon. Chas. Hyman, probably Speaker Sutherland, of the House of Commons, or Mr. W. S. Calvert, chief Liberal whip. It is felt that owing to Mr. Ross' association with the downfall of Liberalism in Ontario, he would not bring any additional strength to the Cabinet.

The second new senator from Nova Scotia will in all probability be Dr. Kendall, who sat for Cape Breton county in the House of Commons during the last parliamentary term.

Upon the translation of Hon. John Costigan to the Senate, his seat in the Commons, which is in the front row in the Government side, will be assigned to Mr. Charles H. Devlin, member-elect for Nicolet.

DANGERS FROM DYSPEPSIA

Imperfect Digestion Most Prolific Cause of Serious Disease.

Few people seem to realize the real dangers in disturbed, deficient or defective digestion.

While health reports do not give indigestion as a cause of death, yet it is in reality often fatal, as it so weakens the stomach that one becomes readily susceptible to an attack of typhoid fever, kidney disease, nervous prostration or other serious or fatal disease.

At the first symptoms of indigestion, Mi-o-na stomach tablets should be used. If there is a feeling of heaviness in the stomach, distress after eating, nervousness, dizziness, nausea, headaches, sleeplessness, pains in the side and limbs, specks before the eyes, or a peevish, irritable condition, with debility and weakness, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once.

It will build up the stomach and digestive organs so that you can eat anything at any time without fear of distress or indigestion.

A 50-cent box of Mi-o-na tablets will, in most cases, give prompt relief and cure, although in chronic and long-standing weakness of the stomach, two boxes or more are sometimes needed, but we guarantee Mi-o-na will cure, in all cases, no matter how chronic or serious, or money will be refunded. You run no risk whatever in buying Mi-o-na.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50-cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail, on receipt of price, 50 cents.

Write today for a free sample package, and also give us your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give your case his careful and personal attention without charge. Booth's Hyomei Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

Heavy Machinery Was Transported

Yesterday morning the load of heavy machinery, part of the digger of the Lakefield Cement Co., weighing seven tons, was teamed from Lily Lake to Drummond Station, and reached there safely. The only accident was the removal of several farmers' fence posts and gates, where the sleighs slewed. It took three teams to draw this load. On the way down two of the horses had a "mix-up" resulting in one of them getting a bad flesh wound, the result of a collision between a steel-clad hoof and the other horse's body. It seems that whenever a hill was reached, the six horses were no strong enough to pull their load up hill. Then a cable was attached to, from five to ten, fence posts, through pulleys in connection. Unfortunately, in too many cases the strain caused so many farmers to, next day, deplore the loss of so many fence posts gone into "innocuous desuetude." One farmer on the route of this road, ran out and asked "What the —— are you fellows doing with my fence posts?" The foreman of the men taking this out told him the circumstances of the case and satisfied the protesting man. Their explanations satisfied him, in fact, he pointed out a post in his fence that, according to his own statement would stand any haul that might be given it. The ropes were attached, and to save any chance of damage, hitched to four other fence posts. The word "git up," was given, the horses strained, the load moved about two feet up hill when five fence posts broke off at their base. However, as above noted, the load arrived at Drummond Station all right.

Mr. Herb. Snowden Is Now a Benedict

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Herbert Snowden, eldest son of Mr. William Snowden was joined in the holy rites of matrimony to Miss Annie Lucas of this city, at the residence of Mr. John Craig, 29 Queen street. Rev. J. C. Davidson performed the ceremony in the presence of the friends of both bride and groom. The bride was attired in cream silk over taffeta, with the conventional veil and orange blossoms, and carried a handsome boquet of roses and carnations.

Miss Irene Craig acted as bridesmaid and was dressed in crepe de chine over taffeta, and carried a similar bouquet. Mr. Robt. Hyderman supported the groom.

After the wedding ceremony was concluded, refreshments were served, and the happy couple left on the 5.10 C.P.R. train on their wedding tour.

The gift of the groom to the bridesmaid, was a handsome gold pin set with pearls, and to his bride a gold ring, set with pearls, and to his best man a gold tie pin.

The Local Team Defeat Marlboros

Before a large crowd in the Mutual street rink, Toronto, the Peterborough seniors put it over the Marlboros to the tune of 10—6. The ice was in first-class condition, and the game was a fast one all the way through. Whiteroft of the locals played his usual good game, in fact the whole team played good hockey. Chaucer Elliott refereed the game to the satisfaction of both teams, and kept the players well in hand. This makes the second win for the locals in the senior O.H.A. class, with no defeats. The teams lined up as follows:

Peterborough		Marlboros
Lang	Goal.	Tyner
Glover	Point.	T. Brown
Crowley	C. Point.	Roesler
Morgan	Center.	Winchester
Whiteroft	Rover.	Birmingham
Moore	L. Wing.	Kent

SPORTING TOPICS

HOCKEY.

The usual two games of the city hockey league will be played tonight at Brock street rink, and the indications are that two good matches will be witnessed.

In the first game, Lakefield and Charlotte street meet. The game tonight will no doubt be an interesting one. The High Life's and the Orphans play the second match and it will likely be a keenly contested one. Mr. Geo. Lynch will act as referee for the season of the city league games.

Preceding the two city league games tonight, the first game in the juvenile series will be played between the Invincibles and the North Stars. This game will start at 7.30.

HALIFAX'S TRADE WITH JAMAICA

Two Steamship Lines Run There and Business Was Growing.

CABLES ARE BROKEN

Communication by Way of Halifax and Key West, Florida, Is Interrupted.

Halifax, Jan. 16.—Halifax was startled this evening when the report was circulated that the Island of Jamaica in the British West Indies had suffered from an earthquake. The only communication with the island is by the Halifax and Bermuda Cable Company. Reports from Jamaica received here yesterday show that the weather was fine and clear, and that there were no elementary disturbances of any kind, but at 4.40 last evening communication was suddenly cut off. This is significant in itself, showing the likelihood of some tremendous upheaval, or certainly something greatly out of the ordinary. For nearly 24 hours a deathlike silence has prevailed. Bermuda, the first island reached by steamers from Halifax, but which is not of the West Indies group, can still be reached by cable from here, but they have exactly the same story to tell—namely that at twenty minutes to five Monday all communication was suddenly severed. It is about eight hundred miles from Halifax to Bermuda, and a like distance from there to Jamaica, 1,600 miles in all.

TWO LINES FROM HALIFAX.

Halifax does a large business with Jamaica, there being two steamship lines. Pickford & Black's Company run three steamers a month, and the Canada-Jamaica two monthly. Our exports, which are constantly growing, are largely fish and lumber, and our imports, sugar, molasses, rum, bananas, oranges, and grape-fruit. There has been a tremendous development of the fruit industry in recent years in Jamaica, but this trade has been largely monopolized by Boston and New York, although considerable comes this way for Montreal and Toronto. A great many people from Halifax and other parts of Nova Scotia spend a portion of the year in the West Indies, but they usually go in February.

CABLE CONNECTION.

The cables of the Halifax and Bermuda Cable Company run direct from this city to Kingston, which is the capital of Jamaica. The Western Union Telegraph Company has a submarine cable running from Key West Florida, to a station on the coast of Jamaica. From this station to Kingston is sixty miles and the Western Union have overland wires between the two points. These lines were destroyed, but have been restored to within six miles of the center of the disturbance, and it is likely the first detailed reports which reach the outer world will come through this channel. From fragmentary reports received here it would appear as though beautiful Kingston, the chief city of the island, has been destroyed, and no doubt large loss of life has resulted. One of the operators of the Halifax and Bermuda Cable Company is among the injured. A good deal of alarm prevails among Halifax merchants and shipping firms, having large interests with the Island, but they can obtain no information whatever.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

James McManus of Douro, will have to explain tomorrow to his Worship, County Magistrate George Edmison, why he was drunk, disorderly and created a disturbance at polling sub-division No. 4, Douro, on election day. County Constable Cochrane laid the information and the legal papers were served yesterday.

Yesterday morning at the police court two gentlemen, who had evidently, by their shaking grip of affairs, participated too frequently and too long in sending to their respective departments of the interior more foolish water than their constitution could safely assimilate, were charged in plain, everyday English, with having been drunk. His Worship suggested that Mr. Roy the Hunter street photographer was missing a chance by not being present to take a shot at these two men who were "shot" the preceding evening.

Jos. Elmhurst was the first to face the magisterial music. This absorber of alcoholic refreshment comes from Keene, and whilst "under the influence," tried to drive home and had an upset. Fortunately he was gathered in before going to sleep, and provided with a chamber, no bath or telephone attached, in the Hotel des Cops. As this was his virgin appearance before the beak, he was allowed to go.

James Fannell, of Toronto, not known heretofore in this city, was the other too frequent patron of the places where wet goods are dispensed. This victim of hilarity is he had taken an overdose of scotch, whilst looking for work in the shanties. James was also given the verdict of the country whose Heather Dew he had absorbed, viz., "Not guilty, but don't do it again!"

Said Farewell to the Missionary

Former Local Minister Given Send-off by Toronto Baptists

Toronto, Jan. 16.—There was a representative gathering of the Baptists of the city in the schoolroom of the Bloor street Baptist church last night, to say farewell to Rev. Freeman J. Scott, M.A., B.Th., and his wife, who are leaving this week to take up mission work in Bolivia. On the platform with Mr. Scott, who was until recently a successful pastor in Peterborough, were Rev. J. D. Freeman, who acted as chairman; Rev. Prof. J. H. Farmer, Rev. L. G. Matthews, Rev. J. G. Brown, and Rev. John Craig.

In his opening remarks, Rev. Mr. Freeman said that it was fitting that Mr. Scott should have this farewell and to him in the Bloor Street Church, inasmuch as Rev. Mr. Rerkie, the pioneer Baptist missionary to Bolivia, was a member of that church. The World was made flesh in the missionary, and went and dwelt among those who needed the Word.

Rev. J. G. Brown, foreign missionary secretary, spoke of the conditions of the work in Bolivia, and of the hopeful and encouraging features which the missionaries would have to contend with. He believed that now was a very opportune time to go to Bolivia, since a bill had recently been passed by the government of that country, granting complete religious liberty. Rev. John Craig, the veteran Indian missionary to India, added some words of counsel.

Rev. L. G. Matthews of the McMaster University theological faculty, spoke on behalf of that institution, and as a former class-mate and room mate of Mr. Scott. The new missionary was a man of the scholarship of deep spirituality, a champion debater, and had enjoyed the confidence of the student body to a marked degree, having been its president for two years, the only student who ever had that honor.

The missionary-elect, Rev. Mr. Scott, expressed his thanks for all the kind words that had been spoken, and said that he felt it a great privilege to go to this field of labor. The place was strategic, as it was in the capital of that country, La Paz, that he was to labor, and and the time was a critical one. He was glad he was going to join those who were fighting the battle almost single-handed in Bolivia.

After the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," Mr. and Mrs. Scott shook hands with and said good-bye to their many friends in the audience. Mrs. Scott was a Miss Leemon of Markham, a former student of Moulton College. The missionaries will leave Toronto on Friday morning.

Thousands Injured in Kingston Tragedy

Earthquake and Fire Completely Devastate City ---Direct News Tells Awful Story of the Disaster.

London, Jan. 17.—The following cable despatch has been received from a press representative who accompanies Sir Alfred Jones and his party to Jamaica:

"Fires broke out again tonight. The negroes are looting the rum shops. At least 500 persons have been killed. There are weird and terrible scenes. Forty-five invalid soldiers were burned to death in the military hospital. Severe shocks were felt today."

Santiago, Cuba, Jan. 17.—Kingston harbor, as the result of the earthquake, is closed to shipping, but Bowden is open. There is need of quantities of provisions. Famine and pest conditions prevail, and there is stench and misery everywhere. Both rich and poor at Kingston are homeless.

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 17. Kingston was overwhelmed by an earthquake at 3.30 on Monday afternoon. All the houses within a radius of ten miles were injured, and almost every house in the city was destroyed. Fire broke out after the earthquake and completed the work of destruction. The business section of Kingston is a heap of smouldering ashes. The killed number about four hundred, and thousands were injured. The churches and public offices and hotels are all gone, but there were no fatalities at the Constant Spring Hotel. Among the killed were Sir James Fergusson and prominent merchants and professional men.

Holland Bay (forty miles east of Kingston), Jamaica, Jan. 17.—A great fire swept the ruins of Kingston after the earthquake.

Scores of people were roasted alive, and the city is still a smouldering pyre.

Everywhere the wounded are dying in agony.

The estimates of the dead are from 100 to 1,000.

In the frenzy that followed the horror the survivors were crazed with fear.

The soldiery had to beat the delirious mobs with the butts of their guns to restore a semblance of order.

THIEVES RESISTED TROOPS.

Thieves organized into large bands, and, in looting the principal residences, resisted the police and troops.

Groups of marauders were shot down by volleys from the military.

Many acts of thrilling heroism marked the rescues. Scores of women and children were dragged from burning timbers under which they were pinned.

ONE TERRIFIC SHOCK.

St. Thomas, D.W.I., Jan. 17.—One terrific shock that sent buildings tumbling into piles of blazing ruins, crushing men, women and children to death, coming without an instant's warning, destroyed a great part of the city of Kingston, Jamaica, on Monday afternoon.

From 100 to 1,000 persons, according to varying reports, are dead in the ruins.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

Scores, trapped in the debris, were roasted to death in the flames that swept over the ruined city, and were not under control until last evening.

Four more shocks quickly followed the first, and then came a trembling through the shaking effects for the [illegible] Jamaica, resulted [illegible] earthquake crash.

Panic came on the heels of the first great destruction had been [illegible] by the first shock.

CRIES OF DYING UNHEEDED.

Of the awful fact that practically wrecked, the suburbs, unheeding the cries of anguish and appeals for help from those crushed and dying in the blazing ruins.

The military hospital was among the buildings that went down with a crash. More than thirty soldiers were buried in the ruins, and were roasted to death in the fire that was soon spreading through the city.

NO ATTEMPT TO CHECK FLAMES.

The greatest destruction occurred in the business and water-front sections of the city, the central part, where business houses and dwellings alike fell into piles of ruins.

For a time the terror was so great that the survivors thought only of saving themselves, and there was no attempt at rescuing the injured, nor any effort to check the flames.

FIRE DEPARTMENT USELESS.

As the greater part of the buildings of the city were wooden, the fire spread with incredible rapidity. The fire department was demoralized, and for a time useless.

In a short time bands of robbers were at work, and, with the flames roaring around them, began pillaging wrecked buildings and houses from which the occupants had fled.

NEGROES CRAZED WITH FEAR.

The negro population added to the wildness of the scene, as they seemed crazed with fear, and rushed to and fro screaming frantically and hindering those who first recovered their wits and sought to aid the injured.

Many had died in the crush of the tumbling walls, and many others were killed by being caught in the tangle of live electric wires.

SEVERE TREATMENT OF MOBS.

When the terror and demoralization were at their height, Sir Alfred Jones, who is at the head of a visiting expedition of notable Englishmen consulted with the governor, and urged instant measures of control.

All the troops available were rushed to the city's assistance, and succeeded after severe treatment of the mobs, in bringing about something like order.

ROBBING DEAD AND INJURED.

Then began battles between the troops and the robbers who were looting buildings.

The thieves, fired with the lust for plunder, refused to withdraw when the soldiers drew near and many were shot down.

In a number of instances thieves were found robbing the dead and injured. To these robbers the soldiers showed no mercy.

When the panic had been partly quelled, the work of bringing out the dead and freeing the wounded from the ruins was taken up, and many were saved who would otherwise have perished.

The Most Natural Way to Get Out of Trouble.

"I have been troubled with my stomach for years, having the habit of vomiting and spitting up my food and was all run down and September last I had a fearful hemorrhage which completely prostrated me. When I got up even a rare porterhouse steak distressed me.

"Then I happened to meet a lady who had trouble just like mine and who used Grape-Nuts food and it agreed with her, so I bought a box and found I could keep it down and it nourished and built me up and I have used it constantly since then, usually twice a day. I have gained in flesh and can eat almost anything I want and my stomach takes care of it without any hesitation but before I toned up and strengthened my stomach on Grape-Nuts I could not handle any food but it was liable to come up again.

These Medical Facts

You Can Study With Profit

How few realize that twenty-five per cent. of all disease has its origin in some interference with the function of elimination.

The whole body exists by reason of the transfusion of fluids through its component parts.

Up to a certain point the body has power to reject to destructive elements, but this power is limited.

When it happens that the body is loaded with wastes and poisons which it can't eliminate, fermentation, decay, and germ life run riot through the blood.

Serious illness is the result unless nature is assisted by a cleansing tonic like Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are purely vegetable, contain no mercury, no bismuth, no injurious metallic ingredient of any kind.

Such a medicine is the greatest possible assurance to every man and woman of health, spirits and contentment.

Grand results are achieved and famous cures made every day by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, as this letter proves.

From Newfoundland, Miss Lillian Anthony, of Upper Gullies, Conception Bay, writes: "In praise of Dr. Hamilton's Pills I must say that I have used them with grand success for three years. They never fail to cure me of indigestion or constipation. Formerly my face was full of pimples, but now my complexion is clear and ruddy. In many ways than I care to mention have Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped me; they would be good for every woman to use."

ENGLAND'S LATEST REFORM

With the coming of the new year in many lands certain changed conditions have taken place, marking the inception of a new era, an area which undoubtedly foreshadows even better days than the present. These new conditions have come in some cases as surprises, and nowhere perhaps is this more the case than in England, and especially in London, where with the dawning of the year 1907 the new Betting Act came into force.

Very little attention was given, it seems, this important bill during its progress through parliament, and therefore comparatively few people knew that the measure had become law. As a result, however, the street bookmakers, one of the greatest pests of London, have been deprived of their vocation, which they plied by gathering in front of factories and other places of employment and taking bets from both men and women.

This has in the past proved a profitable business to those engaged in it, and has at the same time had a most demoralizing effect upon the working classes, keeping many in abject poverty. The new law aims at improving the conditions of the working people by dealing a death blow to this, one of the greatest evils that has preyed upon the nation's life. The measure provides for the imposition of severe penalties upon those convicted of violating the law, the fine for the first offence being £50, and for the third and subsequent offence £200 or six months' imprisonment, while the severest penalty is imposed for betting with minors.

There are evils in the cities of our country that require similar treatment to that meted out to this great evil in the motherland, and it is hoped that our legislators, provincial and federal, will deal as summarily with them as the imperial parliament has done in this case.

INS AND OUTS

APSLEY

Having waited for some time to hear from our old friend Sam Slocum, and not seeing anything in your g. f. l., thought it time you should hear from this "land of desolation," as it is sometimes called by those who know very little about it. Some one sent me a clipping from a city paper, headed: "What will be done with our back townships when the lumbering is done?" or something to that effect. I wish Sam Slocum had answered the question as I am sure he could have done it justice, having been a resident of this country for many years. He has seen it as a wilderness, and now you can travel for miles past well cultivated and fenced farms, with good substantial houses and outbuildings; and every year neat frame dwellings are taking the place of the old log shanties, do into the the majority of the stables and you will find sleek and well-fed cattle and horses. There is very little lumbering done in this section now, and the result is that farmers are turning their attention more to cattle, sheep and pigs, which is proving far more profitable than lumbering ever did. In the three townships, Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos, etc., I believe, five cheese factories which brought into those townships something like $40,000. Then take into account the number of cattle, sheep and hogs sold, and you, or the writer of that letter, will admit the Government will not have to buy us out and ship us to the North-West, where, at the present time, by all accounts, the people of that country would be glad of just a few acres of our forest for fuel. It would also surprise the writer to know, and I have the information on good authority, that quite a number of farmers back here have a nice little bank book account put away for a rainy day. Certainly there is some tough and broken land in the middle west part of Anstruther, and perhaps more in Burleigh; Chandos, however, is nearly all good land and well settled. But in the first mentioned townships there is plenty of good land unbooked, due to the fact that it is held back by lumbermen until they strip off all the timber. It is to be hoped that Premier Whitney will look into this matter.

Now you, Mr. Editor, must take a rub also. You ask in your g. f. l. "Is race suicide affecting Burleigh?" Well, perhaps the boys are bashful, but they will get over that; I am not sure whether you would call that race suicide or not. As far as children are concerned, here is a statement of the children of seventeen families living in or near Apsley: 196—an average of eight to each family; no race suicide there, you can tell Teddy R. that.

CHANDOS

On the ninth of January, about seven o'clock at night, the residence of S. E. Booth was destroyed by fire. The building was insured for $1,000, but the contents were not insured. The fire originated in the kitchen chimney and had gained such headway before it was discovered that the whole building was soon in flames. Nothing was saved from the house except a few articles of furniture. The loss will be heavy.

Many people suffering from la-grippe in this locality.

The sleighing is fine, but there is a hard snow storm today which will fill the roads up.

The election is over and C. R. D. Booth is Reeve of Burleigh and Anstruther, and Wm. Hales is Reeve of Chandos.

He Cheapened Pens.

Sir Josiah Mason was, according to his biography, walking in Bull street, Birmingham, in the year 1828 when he saw some steel pens, price 3s. 6d. each. Josiah was a hard up maker of split rings. No sooner had he seen the pens than he went home, made some better than those in the shop, sent them up to London and got a large order by return. At thirty years of age Mason's capital was 30 shillings. At sixty he had given away £400,000.

Hard Luck.

"Why does Baron Hoffman look so dejected lately?"

"Haven't you heard? He married a rich widow not long ago, and now a banker has absconded with all her money."

In Egypt the cat was sacred to the moon, and when a cat died its master shaved off his eyebrows in sign of mourning.

Discouraging.

"You look discouraged."

"I am. Another college has just conferred the degree of LL. D. on my Uncle Benjamin. There isn't likely to be much left for me when he dies."

Property

This Company owns in fee, by deed of sale from the Government of Quebec concession number 12, south part of lot 1, range 5, Pontiac County, Block "A," containing 200 acres.

The property is situated at the "Height of Land" on Opasatica Lake, Province of Quebec, just east of Lardel Lake, Province of Ontario, about 50 miles north of Cobalt.

The geological formation is conglomerite and quartzite, syenite, diorite, together with large bodies of grey quartzite.

Considerable prospecting on the property shows up about 25 veins, one of which, known as number "ONE," is over 5,000 feet long, with a width of from three to six feet. About five hundred feet of this vein has been stripped, showing large bodies of quartz carrying gold, which is plainly visible to the naked eye.

His hundred feet south of vein number "ONE" another vein between walls was discovered, the formation being identical with vein number "ONE." This vein is about eighteen inches wide and is known as number "TWO." Other veins cross these, and the entire ground appears to be heavily mineralized. Fifty thousand tons of ore are estimated now in sight, and ready for a mill.

Assays from vein number "ONE" and vein number "TWO" appear below:

MONTREAL, December 28, 1906.

KING OF THE NORTH GOLD MINES COMPANY,
Montreal, Que.

Gentlemen:—I desire to report that during the months of August and September, 1906, I examined your mining property near Opasatica Lake, Quebec, and found that same consists of 200 acres of ground, which was [illegible] October 1st, 1906, I found one vein between well defined walls, and traced it for a distance of about 5,000 feet; this vein runs from three to six feet wide, and forty pounds of ore from this vein yielded by washing an approximate of $5.00 worth of free gold.

There are quite a number of strongly defined veins on the property, all carrying quartz containing gold, a great deal of which is visible to the naked eye. Several very large blow-outs have occurred on these veins, and enormous amounts of gold bearing quartz have been thrown up on the ground. I estimate the quantity of ore, now ready for the mill, at upwards of 350,000 tons, and believe from the tests that I have made, that this ore will easily average $30.00 of gold to the ton.

The ore is free milling and contains coarse gold, which can be very readily separated. The veins are well defined, and I am of the opinion that enormous quantities of ore will be obtained from the property, and that it will become a most valuable mine. The property has timber on it sufficient for all mining improvements and fuel, together with water for the separation of the ore.

Very truly yours,
(Sgd.) T. SIMARD,
I. C.

Ville Marie, County Pontiac.

The ore is free milling and can be treated at a nominal expense on the ground, the gold being extracted and shipped in the form of bullion.

Transportation and Construction Facilities

Every facility needed is on the property, in the shape of ample timber for mining, construction work, and fuel, while from Lake Opasatica can be obtained all the water necessary.

With the exception of a short distance, transportation is via water direct to the property from Lake Temiskamingue, and supplies can be brought in and out at a very low cost.

Mill

It is proposed at once to erect a mill for the treatment of the ore, and contracts are now underway, and it is anticipated that it will be in operation not later than April 1, 1907, and dividends should be forthcoming immediately thereafter.

Prospective Dividends

It is a well-known fact that free milling gold ore, in the quantity that the "KING OF THE NORTH" has, can be mined, milled, and all expenses paid, for less than $5.00 per ton. Estimating that the ore of the KING OF THE NORTH" mine only averages $50.00 per ton, and that the expenses are $5.00 per ton, the profit should be as follows:—
100 tons per day at $50.00 ..... $5,000.00
Less cost of 100 tons at $5.00 ..... 500.00
$4,500.00

Or per annum, $1,350,000.00; equal to 135 per cent. on the Share Capital.

We believe that the above figures will be vastly exceeded, as the ore is phenomenally rich, and the probabilities are that the district of which the "KING OF THE NORTH" is the centre will be the greatest and richest ore field in the world.

We offer Fifty Thousand shares of the above stock at $1.00 per share, and reserve the right to advance the price to $1.50 per share without notice.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. H. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. H. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. H. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. H. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 20 acre one and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 20 acres of J. H. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 80 feet, and it shows 6 inch nicolite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1281-492-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 500 oz. silver, which at the present price of 50c. is equal to $650.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Such are my orders, madame. It pains me deeply to be compelled to carry them out."

"You may spare your protestations, captain. You may yet find that you have every reason to be deeply pained. For the last time, do you refuse to carry my message?"

"I must, madame."

"Then I carry it myself."

She sprang forward at the door, but he slipped in front of her with outstretched arms.

"For God's sake, consider yourself, madame!" he entreated. "Other eyes are upon you."

"Pah! Canaille!" She glanced at the knot of Switzers, whose sergeant had drawn them off a few paces and who stood open eyed, staring at the scene. "I tell you that I will see the king."

"You will ruin me if you pass."

"And none the less I shall do so."

The matter looked serious. De Catinat was a man of resource, but for once he was at his wits' end. Mme. de Montespan's resolution, as it was called in her presence, or effrontery, as it was termed behind her back, was proverbial. If she attempted to force her way, would he venture to use violence upon one who only yesterday held the fortunes of the whole court in the hollow of her hand and who, with her beauty, her wit and her energy, might very well be in the same position tomorrow? If she passed him, then his future was ruined with the king, who never brooked the smallest deviation from his orders.

"If madame would deign to wait," said he soothingly, "the king will be on his way to the chapel in an instant."

"It is not yet time."

"I think the hour has just gone."

"And why should I wait like a lackey?"

"It is but a moment, madame."

"No, I shall not wait." She took a step forward toward the door.

But the guardsman's quick ear had caught the sound of moving feet from within, and he knew that he was master of the situation. "I will take madame's message," said he.

"Ah, you have recovered your senses! Go, tell the king that I wish to speak with him."

He must gain a little time yet. "Shall I say it through the lord in waiting?"

"No; yourself."

"Publicly?"

"No, no; for his private ear."

"Shall I give a reason for your request?"

"Oh, you maddon me! Say what I have told you, and at once."

But the young officer's dilemma was happily over. At that instant the double doors were swung open, and Louis appeared in the opening, strutting forward on his high heeled shoes, his stick tapping, his broad skirts flapping and his courtiers spreading out behind him. He stopped as he came out and turned to the captain of the guard.

"You have a note for me?"

"Yes, sire."

The monarch slipped it into the pocket of his scarlet undervest and was advancing once more when his eyes fell upon Mme. de Montespan standing very stiff and erect in the middle of the passage. A dark flush of anger shot to his brow and he walked swiftly past her without a word, but she turned and kept pace with him down the corridor.

"I had not expected this honor, madame," said he.

"I wished to hear my fate from your own lips," she whispered. "I can bear to be struck myself, sire, even by him who has my heart, but it is hard to hear that one's brother has been wounded through the mouths of valets and Huguenot soldiers for no fault of his save that his sister has loved too fondly."

"It is no time to speak of such things."

"When can I see you, then, sire?"

"In your chamber at 4."

"Then I shall trouble your majesty no further."

She swept him one of the graceful courtesies for which she was famous, and turned away down a side passage with triumph shining in her eyes.

CHAPTER IV.

LOUIS had walked on to his devotions in no very charitable frame of mind, as was easily to be seen from his clouded brow and compressed lips. He knew his fate favorite well, her impulsiveness, her audacity, her lack of all restraint when thwarted or opposed. She was capable of making a hideous scandal, of turning against him that bitter tongue which had so often made him laugh at the expense of others, perhaps even of making some public exposure which would leave him the butt and gossip of Europe. He shuddered at the thought. At all costs such a catastrophe must be averted. And yet how could he cut the tie which bound them? This woman would struggle hard, fight to the bitter end, before she would quit the position which was so dear to her. She spoke of her wrongs. What were her wrongs?

In his intense selfishness, nurtured by the eternal flattery which was the very air he breathed, he could not see that the fifteen years of her life which he had absorbed or the loss of the husband whom he had supplanted gave her any claim upon him. In his view he had raised her to the highest position which a subject could occupy. Now he was weary of her, and it was her duty to retire with resignation—nay, even with gratitude for past favors. She should have a pension, and the children should be cared for. What could a reasonable woman ask for more?

On the whole, his conscience acquitted him. But in this one matter he had been lax. From the first coming of his gentle and forgiving young wife from Spain he had never once permitted her to be without a rival. Now that she was dead the matter was no better. One favorite had succeeded another, and if De Montespan had held her own so long it was rather from her audacity than from his affection. But now Father la Chaise and Bossuet were ever reminding him that he had topped the summit of his life and was already upon that downward path which leads to the grave. The time had come for gravity and for calm, neither of which was to be expected in the company of Mme. de Montespan.

But he had found out where they were to be enjoyed. From the day when De Montespan had introduced the stately and silent widow as a governess for his children he had found a never failing and ever increasing pleasure in her society. For a time he had thought that her piety and her talk of principle might be a mere mask, for he was accustomed to hypocrisy all round him. It was surely unlikely that a woman who was still beautiful, with as bright an eye and as graceful a figure as any in his court, could after a life spent in the gayest circles preserve the spirit of a nun. But on this point he was soon undeceived, for when his own language had become warmer than that of friendship he had been met by an iciness of manner and a brevity of speech which had shown him that there was one woman at least in his dominions who had a higher respect for herself than for him. And perhaps it was better so. The placid pleasures of friendship were very soothing after the storms of passion. To sit in her room every afternoon, to listen to talk which was not tainted with flattery and to hear opinions which were not framed to please his ear, were the occupations now of his happiest hours. And then her influence over him was all so good!

This Company has already about 1,000 shareholders, all of whom have paid for their shares in cash on equal terms, and shares are allotted by priority of application.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 20th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary:—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $200,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 16c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 200,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two whole sections containing an area of one square mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for their factories and Canneries in such a manner as a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold; the profits from which would largely supplement the Company's profits.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid (say into 10 fully paid $100 Share for each Share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions (20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100 Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 30TH, 1905.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $[illegible],000,000, representing shipments of 350 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,875 cattle 16,553 sheep and 34,563 hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present; The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs. J. A. Banfield, F. B. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION:

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 80 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. H. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

Changes in the nervous system manifest themselves slowly.

They show first by muscular weakness—a feeling that threatens paralysis, or by a fullness in the head that indicates approaching apoplexy.

It seems like stiffness but you soon discover there's a lack of power—that the endurance of this or that muscle is not what it ought to be.

Your friends may notice a slight thickness of speech or that your memory is decidedly failing.

These symptoms may grow worse very quickly if they are not treated by Ferrozone. You must build up the nervous system. This can be accomplished in no other way as thoroughly and permanently as by the use of Ferrozone.

This remarkable remedy, which has cured tens of thousands of Canadian people, increases enormously the digestive power, stimulates the formation of blood, the rich, red kind that puts new life into the nerves.

The first result of these changes is increased strength.

Natural circulation quickly follows, and that fullness in the head, so disturbing and alarming, too, quickly passes away.

These changes are wrought in a natural way, for the reason that Ferrozone treats the causes that excite these troubles.

For the aged and weak who need strength—for those run-down and thin—for the sickly and nervous who lack staying power—nothing compares with Ferrozone.

No tonic gives such lasting good health; try it yourself. Sold by all dealers in 50c. boxes.

A Well Guided Run-away

Yesterday morning a lively runaway took place on George street, when a horse drawing a cutter containing a young man took the bit in its teeth and started from McDonel street, south to where it knew not. As the runaway outfit got to the Y.M.C.A. building the driver's cap flew off, but still the man hung on to the ribbons. The horse had everything its own way down George street until it got to McDonald's mill. Here the combination of mind and matter as represented by a stout pair of reins in a stout pair of hands, succeeded in getting the animal under control. No damage was done.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

—And now the splendid Neill-Sheppard curling trophy is safely in this city.

—The City Council will have to raise $35,000 this year for educational purposes.

—Information is wanted about James P. Fife or Sylvester Fife. If either of these two parties are known information might be sent to The Times office.

—Yesterday, Messrs. Demetrie Bros., the George street confectioners and restaurateurs, got an expert candy maker by name Peter Poulos, from Montreal. Mr. Demetrie proprietor of the establishment, will be in the city next week.

Fifth Anniversary of All Saints' Church

On Friday evening, Rev. Canon Cody, rector of St. Paul's church, Bloor street east, Toronto, will deliver a sermon in All Saints' church in honor of the 5th anniversary of that local place of worship. Rev. Canon Cody as is known by every churchman in the province, is one of the best known clergymen connected with the Church of England in Canada. He is an eloquent and earnest speaker, and undoubtedly will draw an exceptionally large audience. Rev. Canon Cody will arrive in the city tomorrow morning and will be the guest of Rev. Wm. Major, rector of All Saints.'

On Sunday next the anniversary service will be continued by Rev. Mr. Major. In the morning at the eleven o'clock service, there will be a celebration of Holy Communion. In the afternoon a special service will be held for the children in the Sunday school and in the evening another anniversary sermon will be delivered. It is desired that the congregation make a special effort to raise $400, and if this is subscribed the wardens will have a small surplus to work on.

Peterboro' Man on Cobalt's Prosperity

The Times is in receipt of a letter from Mr. P. H. Crowley, the well known local mining expert, written from Haileybury, Ont., in which the writer noted that things are booming in that district.

Mr. Crowley says that there will be a great boom there next spring and that people are arriving by train loads, mostly prospecting crews. Prospectors with small means are staking out claims in the snow, and find ready sales for their prospects at from $100 to $1,000 each, without putting in a shot. Our correspondent says that silver, cobalt, nickle and gold is being discovered everywhere. Kerr Lake mine has been bought for $187,000.

Miss Minnie Graham Now Mrs. Jewitt

A pretty wedding was celebrated Tuesday night at the home of Mr. Robert Graham of Gladstone avenue, when his daughter, Minnie, was united in marriage to Mr. Edward D. Jewitt. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. H. Brace of Park-street Baptist church, in the presence of a large number of guests. The bride was attired in a waist of point de'sprit over silk, and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mason Buller was clad in a cream silk blouse over a cream serge, and carried a shower bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Wm. M. Lacheur attended the groom.

The associates of the bride at Parker's Dye Works made her a very handsome presentation. The bride's going away gown was of purple ladies' cloth, with hat to match. The young couple will make their home in Otonabee.

Quick Repairs to Street Car Line

Yesterday at noon, a broken trolley wire on George street, just north of the Y.M.C.A. building, caused considerable delay in the street car service. The accident was caused by the trolley pole jumping off the wire at the switch. It caught among the wires, and one of them was broken and fell to the ground. Fortunately the linemen soon had repairs made.

Barnardo Home Boy Sent Back.

Yesterday Mr. F. W. Miller, agent of the Charity Board, stated that the number of applications for relief this month are more numerous than ever before. There is much poverty in the city and it seems to be on the increase. But it seems mainly due to new arrivals from the old country. The Charity Board has had under consideration a young lad named Craig, who has been a source of expense for some time, and who was sent back to the Barnardo Home last night. Craig is a former inmate of that institution.

Truant Officer Badly Wanted

It seems altogether probable that the city will, at request of the Board of Education appoint a truant officer, to look after children whom, whether by their own "cussedness" or by fault of their respective parents, "scheme school." This duty has heretofore supposed to have developed upon the local police force. It is, in all common sense, ridiculous to expect the present too strictly limited police force to do such work. Mr. Geo. Cochrane's name was suggested as a nominee for this office. Whether this gentleman or some other be appointed, it is in to the good of Peterborough's growing generation that some positive precautions be taken to compel children to get an education.

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nervine. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeons' knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Geologist Low's Report on Canada's Minerals

Millions of Dollars in Sight at Cobalt---Gold Production of the Yukon Decreased Last Year.

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—The summary of the report of the geological survey of the calendar year 1906 was tabled in the house yesterday.

The mining industry in Canada, reported on by the director, A. P. Low, has achieved greater progress than during any previous year. In 1905 the output reached almost $70,000,000, as compared with a little over $60,000,000 in 1904, and while figures are not yet available for 1906 the known activity will result in another large increase. Higher prices have helped to increase the value of the output and to stimulate development. As compared with 1905, silver has increased from 60.35 cents per ounce to 70 cents, copper from 15.59 cents per pound to over 22 cents, lead from 4.7 cents per pound to 5.75 cents, and nickel from 40 cents to 45 and 50 cents per pound. As showing the growth of copper mining in British Columbia, one company declared dividends aggregating $1,215,000 during the year. It is estimated that the gold output of the Yukon will again show a decrease, not amounting to more than $6,000,000. In this connection R. G. McConnell reports that the fabulously rich "placers" there have been mostly worked, and that mining is now in the stage of transition from primitive methods to dredging and hydraulicing on a large scale. Profitable mining on the Klondike creeks is still assured for many years.

Of the Cobalt district Mr. Low says: Advantage was taken of a kind invitation of Prof. W. G. Miller to visit Cobalt. Three days were spent in looking over a number of most promising mines and claims. On so short a visit, it would be presumptuous to offer an opinion upon the origin and probable extent of the ore bodies, but enough was seen to pronounce upon the phenomenal richness of the numerous veins, and to make a rough estimate that millions of dollars in silver show on the surface, and in the shallow workings of the veins. "The question of the depth to which the silver will be found is an important one, but is one upon which no opinion can or should be given with the data at present available. Granting only a very moderate depth there is ore in sight sufficient to produce millions, and only a portion of the veins has as yet been uncovered. There is no doubt that great values will be extracted from many of the properties about Cobalt; at the same time it might be wise for the investing public to consider the very large capitalization and abnormal prices of stock of many of these properties, and, in consequence, the large sum required from production to pay a fair profit on these small veins.

"Attention is also called to the limited area covered by the silver-bearing veins in this region, and to the natural impulse to consider properties situated in the vicinity of bonanza claims as being themselves of great value, when the reverse is often the case."

The reported discovery by Mr. Dowling of a large coal field extending northward from the Saskatchewan past the Brazeau, in proximity to the Grand Trunk Pacific, is officially confirmed.

Mr. Wilson, who examined a narrow strip of the transcontinental railway district, from Makamak Lake eastward to Bell River, Ont., reports discoveries of molybdenite and copper pyrites.

William McInnes and Owen Ogsilivan explored the region along the proposed route of the Canadian Northern Railway, between the Saskatchewan and Fort Churchill. From their reports, it appears that there are no serious engineering difficulties to be overcome, that Fort Churchill would form a suitable harbor, and that there is a considerable amount of excellent agricultural land along the proposed route.

Local Lady's Death Is Noted In U. S.

The Saginaw, Mich., Evening Post, of Jan. 12th, contains the following reference to the death of Mrs. Ann McNamara, mother of Mr. M. A. McNamara, and Miss Kate McNamara, of this city:

"Mrs. Ann McNamara, widow of the late John McNamara, passed away at the family residence, 800 Owen street, Saturday afternoon at 1.15, as the result of an explosion of gasoline, last Monday. Mrs. McNamara poured gasoline into a tub of hot water, which she intended to use for washing, and the gasoline exploded. She was not burned, but inhaled the deadly fumes and never recovered, the heart being affected.

"The deceased was born in Innis, Clare county, Ireland, March 16th, 1840. When sixteen years old, she came to Canada, making her home at the home of Admiral Videll at Sarnia, Ont. She was married at Sarnia, Mirel 3, 1859. She and her husband moved shortly after to a farm in Taymouth, being pioneers in that township. There she lived until seven years ago, when she came to this city to make her home.

"She leaves three sons and six daughter, viz., John, on the Panama canal; Martin, Peterborough, Ont.; and James, of the old homestead at Taymouth; Alice and Lizzie of Chi-Taymouth; Alice and Lizzie of Chicago, Dr. Margaret R. Otis, of Ironside; Kate, of Peterborough; and Nora and Sarah of this city.

Peterboro' Must Get the Dairymen's Meet

It now seems that a fight for the Dairymen's Association meet is on between Hugtown and Peterborough. The Western Ontario Dairymen's Association have unanimously voted for a National Dairy Show. The western men want Toronto for the event. The eastern men want Peterborough and it is up to the city council now to get serious and fight for Peterborough. The show will probably come here if properly looked after. It will be worth thousands to the city and county and is worth looking after.

A London despatch says:

"An important move was taken by the association in unanimously endorsing the recommendations of the committee appointed to consider the question of holding an annual provincial dairy exhibition. This committee reported, through Messrs. J. N. Paget and H. B. Cowan, in favor of amalgamating the annual conventions of the Eastern and Western Dairymen's Associations into one large and adequate annual dairy exhibition at Toronto. It was urged that such a provincial exhibition and convention of dairymen in all parts of Ontario would serve to better organize and consolidate the dairy interests of the Province. It is proposed to conduct the exhibition in connection with the Provincial Winter Fair at Guelph. The Eastern Association has endorsed the project.

Good Play at the Grand Opera House

Last night the Grand Opera House demonstrated by its large attendance, not only the appreciation of the city of a good play, but the faith it holds in Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, whose recent acquisition of the opera house was yesterday noted in The Times.

Last night the orchestra chairs were almost completely filled by an audience comprising the elite of Peterborough, who listened with rapt attention to the strong melodrama, entitled "The Village Parson."

This play although somewhat bordering upon the ultra melodramtic, was well put on and presented by an admirable cast. Some of the scenes were well presented with fine dramatic effect. There is one thing to be considered and that is that the local opera house, under Messrs. Turner & Sons, will, after this date, present nothing but first-class and up-to-date plays.

To assure local patrons of the drama that the opera house, under the new management, will be run on lines that will win popular applause, it only to refer to the great success this firm has made in its own business as known. Messrs. Turner have made a worldwide known success of their present business and, incidentally have secured a connection all over Canada that must redound to their future success in the theatrical business.

Every detail of last night's business at the opera house clearly showed that the new management have decided to look carefully after their clients' interests.

Correspondence on the Public Library

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I see in the local papers some correspondence regarding the Public Library. Now, as a subscriber to that most important aid to Peterborough's general knowledge, I went to the recent meeting when Mr. Charles tried to overturn the old Board of Directors. In my humble opinion, Mr. Charles was, in a way justified in his course, but I think he went about matters in too raw a manner.

There is no doubt but what the present, and former Board have, as a whole, body, had control of the library too long. On the other hand there are some of the old board who have given many years' services towards this important institution gratis. For this they deserve much credit. Still I think as a matter affecting public interests that it would have looked better had some of the old board gracefully retired and given a chance to the public to get some new blood into the directorate. It would be bad taste on my part to mention those whom I think should retire. Still the very fact of the strong opposition, to the apparently "close corporation," controlling the Public Library, must appear like the "Writing on the wall," and influence those in control to arrange, next year, for gradual withdrawing of the old directors.

Yours truly,
READER.

Local Deputation at the Capital

Messrs. Ald. Johnston and Alliott, and City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall, who went as a deputation to Ottawa on behalf of the city in the Rogers' claim against the C.P.R. and city, were heard by the Board of Railway Commission in Ottawa. After they finished their business with the commissioners, the local delegates called upon Hon. Mr. Emmerson, minister of railways and canals. To that gentleman the aldermen told their story so impressively that the minister was impressed.

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday morning still another vicious dog case was tried. This time the dog belonged to Mr. James Lang. It seems that the dog had bitten a little girl named Brooks, as she was hanging onto a cutter. His Worship ordered that the dog be destroyed in 10 days.

Next came the case of selling liquor to an Indian named Edward Johnston, preferred against a local hotel.

Mr. Haverson, for the hotelkeeper, suggested that the quickest way to settle matters was to prove whether this man was an Indian or not.

To Mr. Wood, for the prosecution, Johnston said he did not belong to any Indian tribe or band of Indians.

He does not get any annuity or assistance from the Government. He works at railroading or what ever he can get to do. He is descended from the Tuscarora band near Brantford. It is fifteen years since he broke away from the band, and has supported himself for the past eleven years. Is twenty-six years old now.

At this juncture the Magistrate, turning to Mr. Wood, said: "Well, I don't think we can make anything out of this case. The man Johnston is not an Indian in the eyes of the law." The case is therefore dismissed.

The Magistrate then addressed Mr. Haverson, who had been counsel for Mr. Jas. Kelly, proprietor of the Royal hotel, against whom a similar charge had been made a few days ago, and who was tried and judgment reserved, and said: "Mr. Haverson, I was not to give judgment in the Kelly case until next Monday; however, as you are present I may as well give my decision now." He then went on to show how it was the duty of the prosecution to prove that the alleged Indian was an Indian according to the act. This had not been established, so the case was dismissed.

Music at Opening of the House of Refuge

At the recent meeting of the newly elected Lakefield village council, Mr. W. M. Graham referring to the opening of the house of refuge, stated that the council should show their appreciation by hiring the Citizens' band to assist in welcoming the visitors.

Moved by Councillor Cornish, seconded by Councillor Duff, that the reeve, clerk, and Councillor Cornish be a committee to act with Mr. H. C. Garbutt, chairman of the House of Refuge committee to give what assistance was needed in the hiring of rigs for the conveyance of visitors and also in securing the services of the Citizens' band on the occasion of the opening of the house of refuge on Monday, Jan. 21st.—Carried.

Kenora Thistles Defeat Wanderers

The Thistles of Kenora, defeated the Wanderers of Montreal, by a score of 4—2. The game was the first one for the Stanley Cup, and was played on the Arena at Montreal, before a crowd that packed every portion of the rink. The game was of the most strenuous kind, and from the showing made last night the Kenora team should be able to take the cup from Montreal.

Every Day Adds to the Jamaica Tragedy

Latest Reports State That Harbor Is Sinking and That the Dead Are Likely to Exceed One Thousand Two Hundred.

New York, Jan. 17.—The shore of the harbor of Kingston is sinking, and there is terror lest the city slip into the sea, according to a private despatch received by a large mercantile house here yesterday from Port au Prince, Hayti. The harbor is said to be sinking, and the water in many places is now 100 feet deep. Every wharf not destroyed by fire is said to have sunk into the sea or to have been rendered worthless.

London, Jan. 18.—Kingston has been wiped out, the damaged area comprising about a square mile. All the warehouses in the lower part of the city were consumed, while not a single house anywhere remained undamaged, and the majority were unfit for habitation.

When the despatch giving this information was filed the bodies of many white persons who had been staying in the Myrtle Bank hotel were still beneath the wrecking, as it was impossible to secure workmen to search the debris.

DEATH LIST MAY INCREASE.

A conservative estimate of the casualties made by the police of Kingston, places the number of killed at 1,200, judging from the number of bodies already discovered in the few buildings which have been examined. This estimate, the correspondent adds, is likely to be largely increased when a thorough search is made of the buildings.

NOVA SCOTIA BANK IN RUINS.

The Treasury in Harbor street was standing, but the post office and court house were in ruins. The Government offices were unsafe for occupancy. Government House was badly damaged. The Colonial Bank was burned out, the Nova Scotia Bank was a heap of ruins, and the residence of General Marshall collapsed like a pack of cards. Mrs. Marshall was dug out alive, and but slightly injured. The Roman Catholic cathedral, the Parish church, and the Scotch, Wesleyan, and Baptist churches had disappeared, and the theater was destroyed.

CUTTING OFF LIMBS.

At Port Royal, at the entrance of Kingston harbor, one of the batteries sank, and a gunner was killed. The ships in the harbor were transferred into hospitals. The deck of the steamer Port Kingston, which brought Sir Alfred Jones and his party to Jamaica, resembled a slaughter house. The cabins were full of dead and dying. Dr. Evans, the ship's doctor, was busy performing amputations from 5 o'clock in the evening to 4 o'clock the next morning.

DISASTER GROWS WORSE.

London, Jan. 18.—The latest reports received here regarding the Kingston disaster all tend to confirm, and even accentuate, the gravity of the calamity which has befallen Jamaica. While the Colonial Office was unable up to 2.30 this afternoon to give the official figures of the death list and the extent of the destruction, yet many independent sources of information tend to confirm the appalling proportions of the catastrophe. So a United States despatch saying that every house at Kingston had been destroyed and that the city was a heap of smouldering ruins indicates the gravity of the position.

Wilfrid Pope, boy of the Royal Mail steamer Alps was killed, the Colonial Secretary announced this afternoon. He received a telegram from Royal Mail Company's wharves that Pope fought the fire all night, rushing on to the pier. In the meantime the steamer's decks had become covered with burned and injured persons who were without a doctor.

EXCITED NEGROES.

Amidst the negro population was panic-stricken, men and women screaming and calling on heaven to save them, and holding religious gatherings, at which excited orations exhorted their terrified hearers to repentance. Throughout the terrifying scenes Governor Swettenham acted in the most energetic manner, but the disaster is so great that the entire city will have to be rebuilt. One unofficial estimate places the loss at $25,000,000.

A number of fissures in the earth have appeared, the street car tracks are out of shape, the rails are twisted, the water, drainage, the gas and electric pipes and wires are completely disordered, while the destruction of the bonded warehouses fills the air with the overpowering odor of rum.

QUEEN'S STATUE REVERSED.

Among the strange freaks of the earthquake was that the statute of the late Queen Victoria, in the centre of the city, was reversed. It is rumored at Kingston that a tidal wave visited Annotto Bay, on the northern coast, directly north of Kingston, causing a change in the coast line.

One Hundred Lives Lost In Typhoon

Manila, Jan. 17.—The Islands of Leyte and Samar were swept by a typhoon January 10. One hundred lives were lost in Leyte.

The barracks and officers quarters on the east coast of Samar were destroyed.

No estimate of the damage to property has yet been made.

No damage to shipping reported. The storm is the worst for ten years. Communication with Leiye and Samar has been cut off for six days, and only meagre particulars of the storm have been received.

There Is no Disturbance In Servia

London, Jan. 17.—Owing to the widespread reports in European capitals that Servia is being shaken by anti-dynastic plots threatening King Petel with a tragic fate similar to that of his predecessor, the Associated Press telegraphed to the President of the Council of Minister, M. Pasics for a statement. The premier replied;

"Since the re-establishment of the Karageorgevitch dynasty no trouble has occurred in Servia. The King scrupulously maintains the attitude of a constitutional monarch, and has given repeated proof of the greatest respect for the decisions of Parliament. All the rumors of trouble and plots at Belgrade put into circulation by certain foreign elements hostile to Servia are false. The best tenet in the absolute calm now existing at Belgrade."

Lumbermen Are Short of Provisions

Winnipeg, Jan. 18.—C.N.R. officials have received notice that 2,000 lumberjacks are in danger of starvation along the remote northern points of their line. It is claimed that no supplies have reached the lumbering camps in the Carrot Valley for several weeks, and there is great danger of the men being unable to get out. The snow is deep, and trains have made but little progress on the branch north of Dauphin. The C.N.R. line to Prince Albert via Regina is in better condition.

The Wall Street Journal, New York City, says the C.P.R. is arranging extensive improvements at Port Arthur and Fort William to better handle the grain traffic. The Manitoba Legislature has adopted a resolution, calling for vigorous action in forcing the Railway Commission to require the operation of trains and complete equipment, to the end that there cannot be another grain blockade.

High Praise for a Successful Canuck

London, Jan. 18.—The St. James' Gazette says the selection of Sir Edouard Girouard as High Commissioner for Nigeria is exceptionally good. He seems just the sort of man that Nigeria wants, while Nigeria is just the sort of place to supply scope for his abilities.

The Birmingham Post thinks a better use could have been made of Girouard than in putting him to administrative work in a climate like Nigeria. Is the War Office so well supplied with other men of proved abilities as this special line of work that it can afford to lose him to the Colonial Office? On the other hand, it is gratifying to see a Canadian pass to a great administrative post without having gone through the mill of colonial service.

Our shares will be increasing in value from year to year, and in three years from now should sell on the open market for $10.00 a share from the dividend it will then pay.

OUT OF SORTS

People Not Really Sick Are Often Most In Need of Care.

The people who actually are most in need of kind words and medical treatment are not those who are really sick, but just "out of sorts."

The old-time energy, force, strength and happy spirits are lacking, the physical and mental powers are lagging, there is poor appetite, and they cannot get the good out of the food they eat. In nine cases out of ten, this results directly from a weakened stomach, and no other treatment equals Mi-o-na to restore strength and health.

When the nerves and muscles are weak, if there is sleeplessness, irritability, and specks before the eyes, when the head aches and there is a dull pain in the back, and there is any distress and heaviness in the stomach, dizziness, and sometimes nausea, the use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets for a few days will make a world of improvement, and continued use for a reasonable time will restore perfect health.

These tablets are not mere digestives; they absolutely strengthen all the organs of digestion, so that there is good appetite, perfect digestion and strong nerves, when they are used.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50-cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents.

Write today for a free sample package, and also give us your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give your case his careful and personal attention without charge. Booth's Hyomei Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

What Does It Mean?

Dr. Hamilton Gives a Full and Satisfactory Explanation.

Look at your tongue!

Sometimes it's heavily coated sometimes it's clear and red.

Study this out and you'll find some interference with the functional activity of the body.

This means the bowels are not regular, the liver is sluggish and the blood is contaminated.

Strong cathartic pills act so destructively on the intestines as to provoke deathly sickness; this often frightens people from taking medicine when they badly need it.

To the multitude of dangerous purgatives now on the market, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a notable exception, they neither gripe, cause sickly feeling or headache, yet they cleanse and purify the entire system in one night. No other laxative acts with such mildness and certainty. Giving proper stimulus to the liver and kidneys, strengthening the stomach and lending valuable aid to digestion, it's small wonder that such marvelous results accompany Dr Hamilton's Pills.

Mr. Geo. O'Hagarty, of Amherst, N. S., writes; "Last winter I worked in a lumber camp and neglected my health. I was dreadfully constipated and had a headache that fairly made me reel at times. I was sick and miserable, and hadn't the slightest ambition to work or stir around. I felt heavy and dull and had a bad taste in my mouth. I sent into the city for Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I knew were good for my condition. They fixed me up very quickly and have kept me in good condition ever since. There are other men in the camp that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills also. They say they wouldn't be without the pills for ten times their price."

Every dealer in the land sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills—25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

Stock Gambling and Embezzling

Montreal, Jan. 17.—William J. McGee, secretary of the People's Mutual Building Society, is a self-confessed forger and embezzler, and is now under arrest. The defalcations are likely to be many thousands of dollars. The missing funds went largely into stock gambling which he has been carrying on for a long period with the utmost secrecy. The building society will be such a heavy loser that it is doubtful if it can recover. McGee was honorary secretary of the Shamrock Amateur Athletic Association and a governor of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union.

Laugh at Threat To Kill Racing

New York, Jan. 17.—The action of District Attorney Jerome in asking the legislature to amend the Percy-Gray racing law and his presence in Albany yesterday, failed to strike terror to the hearts of the men interested in racing. Many stewards of the Jockey Club, the governing body of turfmen in this State, were "out of town" yesterday. Those that were in town laughed at the published reports of Jerome's threats to kill racing.

"All the meetings scheduled to take place this summer will be held, law or no law," said one racing official. "It is not illegal to race horses, and all the engagements in the big turf fixtures will be kept."

The poolroom men, with one or two exceptions, are in favor of leaving the present racing law alone. They realize that if horse racing is stopped in the State they will be forced out of their business.

Eastern Canada Hockey League will take Action

Montreal, Jan. 18.—Mr. Fred McRobie, president of the Eastern Canada Hockey League, announces that he will call a meeting for Friday night at the Windsor to discuss the unwarranted assaults made by Spittall and the Two Smiths upon Hatchford, Rod Stuart and Johnston of the Wanderers.

The two referees have sent in a report, in which they specify the acts of rowdyism on the part of Percy Spittall and Alf. Smith. They admit that they did not see the assault on Stuart, but claim there is sufficient evidence from disinterested spectators to ensure Smith's conviction.

A director of the Arena Company yesterday said that if the league did not take action it would be up to the Arena to keep the Smiths and Spittall off the Arena ice till they showed that they could play decent hockey.

How to Enjoy the Circus.

There ain't much pleasure in this life fer men as old as me—that is, a feller thinks they ain't when he is sixty-three. O' course, he likes to smoke his pipe an' set around an' gas an' argue with the boys to git his leisure time to pass. A man who's gettin' long in years—too weak to hoe or plow, fer pleasure of the good old kind—has small chance anyhow. But there's one thing I like to do—one thing I sure enjoy—it's goin' to a circus with some poor, big eyed small boy. I always like to have it be the first show he's been to. I like to watch those big eyes snap. Oh, snap they always do. I like to see him smile an' clap an' crane his neck around an' see him eatin' peanuts, throwin' shells down on the ground. It don't seem very long ago that I was eight or nine, nor long since the first show I saw seemed simply grand—divine. I 'member how I set up there jest in a fit of joy. You see, I know the feelin' that comes to the big eyed boy. I don't care much for circuses like once I used to care. But, friend, I get my pleasure takin' little fellers there. An' while I set enjoyin' it—I mean that kid's real joy—I almost cry to think that I can't be once more a boy.

Man and His Pockets.

A tailor who had received an order for a suit of clothes was asked by the customer's wife for an interview.

"I want to ask you as a special favor," she said, "not to put any pockets in my husband's clothes."

"Why not?" asked the astonished tailor.

"Because they are responsible for his looking so shabby so much of the time," she explained. "He wears his clothes for weeks without pressing because he says it is too much trouble to change the things in his pockets to another suit. He says that half the men who go around in seedy clothes do so for the same reason. If that is so, just leave out the pockets, and they will have no excuse for shabbiness."

"That is a new point of view," said the tailor. "I will see about it."

But when the suit came home it had the usual number of pockets.

How Frostbite Comes.

The first effect of cold on the skin is to contract the tiny vessels that connect arteries and veins. Arteries are vessels that take blood from the heart. Veins are those that bring blood back to the heart, and the connecting vessels are called capillaries. While these little vessels are contracting the skin itself becomes tenser. In a few moments or minutes the effects change. The tiny nerves whose stimulation caused contraction of the capillaries are more or less paralyzed, and the vessels dilate so the skin gets red. Soon the veins are dilated, and the skin becomes bluish. Then the nutrient fluid in the skin (the lymph) is coagulated, and the stretched skin ruptures or "chaps." If the cold is more severe its action is deeper, and the blood itself may be coagulated. This is frostbite.

Explosion Kills Five.

Norristown, Pa., Jan. 17.—The boiler of a Philadelphia and Reading railroad freight engine exploded at Bridgeport, near here yesterday, and five trainmen, all from Allentown, were killed. The engineer was stunned, but recovered.

The explosion is thought to have been due to low water in the boiler. The rear portion of the boiler was hurled about 150 yards. One man was torn to pieces, and the others were shocked and scalded to death.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We tell and cheerfully recommend

Property

This Company owns in fee, by deed of sale from the Government of Quebec concession number 12, south part of lot 3, range 5, Pontiac County, Block "A," containing 200 acres.

The property is situated at the "Height of Land" on Opasatica Lake, Province of Quebec, just east of Larder Lake Province of Ontario, about 50 miles north of Cobalt.

The geological formation is conglomerite and quartzite, syenite, diorite, together with large bodies of grey quartzite.

Considerable prospecting on the property shows up about 25 veins, one of which, known as number "ONE," is over 5,000 feet long, with a width of from three to six feet. About five hundred feet of this vein has been stripped, showing large bodies of quartz carrying gold, which is plainly visible to the naked eye.

Six hundred feet south of vein number "ONE" another vein between walls was discovered, the formation being identical with vein number "ONE." This vein is about eighteen inches wide and is known as number "TWO." Other veins cross these, and the entire ground appears to be heavily mineralized. Fifty thousand tons of ore are estimated now in sight, and ready for a mill.

Assays from vein number "ONE" and vein number "TWO" appear below:

MONTREAL, December 28, 1906.

KING OF THE NORTH GOLD MINES COMPANY,
Montreal, Que.

Gentlemen:—I desire to report that during the months of August and September, 1906, I examined your mining property near Opasatica Lake, Quebec, and found that same consists of 200 acres of ground, which was part of the original discovery made by Oliver in July, 1906. I found one vein between well defined walls, and traced it for a distance of about 5,000 feet; this vein runs from three to six feet wide, and forty pounds of ore from this vein yielded by washing an approximate of $5.00 worth of free gold.

There are quite a number of strongly defined veins on the property, all carrying quartz containing gold, a great deal of which is visible to the naked eye. Several very large blow-outs have occurred on these veins, and enormous amounts of gold bearing quartz have been thrown up on the ground. I estimate the quantity of ore, now ready for the mill, at upwards of 500,000 tons, and believe from the tests that I have made, that this ore will easily average $10.00 of gold to the ton.

The ore is free milling and contains coarse gold, which can be very readily separated. The veins are well defined, and I am of the opinion that enormous quantities of ore will be obtained from the property, and that it will become a most valuable mine. The property has timber on it sufficient for all mining improvements and fuel, together with water for the separation of the ore.

Very truly yours,
(Sgd.) T. SIMARD,
P. L. C.

Ville Marie, County Pontiac.

The ore is free milling and can be treated at a nominal expense on the ground, the gold being extracted and shipped in the form of bullion.

Transportation and Construction Facilities

Every facility needed is on the property, in the shape of ample timber for mining, construction work, and fuel, while from Lake Opasatica can be obtained all the water necessary.

With the exception of a short distance, transportation is via water direct to the property from Lake Temiskamingue, and supplies can be brought in and out at a very low cost.

Mill

It is proposed at once to erect a mill for the treatment of the ore, and contracts are now underway, and it is anticipated that it will be in operation not later than April 1, 1907, and dividends should be forthcoming immediately thereafter.

Prospective Dividends

It is a well-known fact that free milling gold ore, in the quantity that the "KING OF THE NORTH" has, can be mined, milled, and all expenses paid, for less than $4.00 per ton. Estimating that the ore of the "KING OF THE NORTH" mine only averages $50.00 per ton, and that the expenses are $5.00 per ton, the profit should be as follows:—

100 tons per day at $50.00..... ....$5,000.00
Less cost of 100 tons at $5.00..... .... 500.00

$4,500.00

Or per annum, $1,350,000.00; equal to 135 per cent. on the Share Capital.

We believe that the above figures will be vastly exceeded, as the ore is phenomenally rich, and the probabilities are that the district of which the "KING OF THE NORTH" is the centre will be the greatest and richest ore field in the world.

We offer Fifty Thousand shares of the above stock at $1.00 per share, and reserve the right to advance the price to $1.50 per share without notice.

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Lagrice locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 30 acre ore and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 60 feet, and it shows 5 inch nicolite, 18 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 872-1219-692-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 50c. is equal to $450.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M. E.
New Liskeard, 17th November, 1906.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Lagrice and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00), and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions will be filed in order received and we reserve the right to reduce any or all subscriptions. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto. Send today or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

And now be knew that the time had come when he must choose between her and De Montespan. Their influences were antagonistic. They could not continue together. He stood between virtue and vice, and he must choose.

Such were the thoughts which ran through the king's head as he bent over the rich crimson cushion which topped his priedieu of carved oak. He knelt in his own inclosure to the right of the altar, with his guards and his immediate household around him, while the court, ladies and cavaliers, filled the chapel. Piety was a fashion now, like dark overcoats and lace cravats and no courtier was so worldly minded as not to have had a touch of grace since the king had taken to religion.

It was the habit of Louis as he walked back from the chapel to receive petitions or to listen to any tales of wrong which his subjects might bring to him. On this particular morning there were but two or three—a Parisian who conceived himself injured by the provost of his guild, a peasant whose cow had been torn by a huntsman's dog and a farmer who had had hard usage from his feudal lord. A few questions and then a hurried order to his secretary disposed of each case. He was about to resume his way again when an elderly man, clad in the garb of a respectable citizen and with a strong, deep lined face which marked him as a man of character, darted forward and threw himself down upon one knee in front of the monarch.

"What is this?" asked Louis. "Who are you, and what is it that you want?"

"I am a citizen of Paris, and I have been cruelly wronged."

"You seem a very worthy person. If you have indeed been wronged you shall have redress. What have you to complain of?"

"Twenty of the Blue dragoons of Languedoc are quartered in my house, with Captain Dalbert at their head. They have devoured my food, stolen my property and beaten my servants, yet the magistrates will give me no redress."

"On my life, justice seems to be administered in a strange fashion in our city of Paris!" exclaimed the king.

"And yet there may be a very good reason for it," suggested Pere la Chaise. "I would suggest that your majesty should ask this man his name, his business and why it was that the dragoons were quartered upon him."

"You hear the reverend father's question."

"My name, sire, is Catinat, by trade I am a merchant in cloth, and I am treated in this fashion because I am of the Reformed church."

The king shook his head and his brow darkened. "You have only yourself to thank, then. The remedy is in your hands."

"And how, sire?"

"By embracing the only true faith."

"I am already a member of it, sire."

The king stamped his foot angrily. "I can see that you are a very insolent heretic," said he. "There is but one church in France, and that is my church. If you are outside that you cannot look to me for aid."

"My creed is that of my father, sire, and that of my grandfather."

"If they have sinned it is no reason why you should. My own grandfather erred also before his eyes were opened."

"But he nobly atoned for his error," murmured the Jesuit.

"Then you will not help me, sire?"

"You must first help yourself."

The old Huguenot stood up with a gesture of despair, while the king continued on his way, the two ecclesiastics on either side of him murmuring their approval into his ears.

But the king bore the face of a man who was not absolutely satisfied with his own action.

"You do not think, then, that these people have too hard a measure?" said he. "I hear that they are leaving my kingdom in great numbers."

"And surely it is better so, sire, for what blessing can come upon a country which has such stubborn infidels within its boundaries?"

"Those who are traitors to God can scarce be loyal to the king," remarked

"I can see that you are a very insolent heretic," said he.

Bossuet. "Your majesty's power would be greater if there were no temple, as they call their dens of heresy, within your dominions."

"My grandfather has promised them protection. They are shielded, as you well know, by the edict which he gave at Nantes."

"But it lies with your majesty to undo the mischief that has been done."

"And how?"

"By recalling the edict."

"And driving into the open arms of my enemies 2,000,000 of my best artisans and of my bravest servants. How say you, Louvois?"

"With all respect to the church, sire, I would say that the devil has given these men such cunning of hand and of brain that they are the best workers and traders in your majesty's kingdom. I know not how the state coffers are to be filled if such taxpayers go from among us."

"But," remarked Bossuet, "if it were once known that the king's will had been expressed your majesty may rest assured that even the worst of his subjects bear him such love that they would hasten to come within the pale of the holy church."

The king shook his head. "They have always been stubborn folk," said he.

"Perhaps," remarked Louvois, glancing maliciously at Bossuet, "were the bishops of France to make an offering to the state of the treasures of their sees we might then do without these Huguenot taxes."

"The kingdom is mine and all that is in it," remarked Louis as they entered the grand salon in which the court assembled after chapel, "yet I trust that it may be long before I have to claim wealth of the church. Where is Mansard? I must see his plans for the new wing at Marly."

"I think," said Pere la Chaise, drawing Bossuet aside, "that your grace has made some impression upon the king's mind."

"With your powerful assistance, father."

"But there is another who has more weight than I. Mme. de Maintenon."

"I hear that she is very devout."

THE ONLY PACKERS OF BEEF, PORK AND OTHER FOOD PRODUCTS OF THE RANCHES AND FARMS OF WESTERN CANADA.

This Company has already about 1,000 shareholders, all of whom have paid for their shares in cash on equal terms, and shares are allotted by priority of application.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 20th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary;—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over-applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $200,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 16c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 200,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two sections containing an area of one square mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for their factories and Canneries in each center, and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold, the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid (say into 10 fully paid $100 shares for each share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions (20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100 Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 30TH, 1906.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $700,000,000, representing shipments of 350 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,875 cattle 16,513 sheep and 34,063 hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present; The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs. J. A. Banfield, F. B. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION :

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 60 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. B. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

PUBLIC NOTICE

In consequence of the great inquiry at the Company's Offices for Prospectus and Forms of Application for Shares, the Company begs to notify that Prospectus and Application Forms can be obtained upon request at any branch of "THE TRADERS' BANK OF CANADA" throughout the Dominion. Also requests for same by letter or postcard will be at once despatched to applicants from the Company's Offices in Winnipeg.

NERVOUS?

Do You Brood?
Have Morbid Fears?
Toss in Your Sleep?

Your Physical Condition is Below Par and Must be Built up. Try Ferrozone.

All the vital activities of the body are quickened into new vigor by Ferrozone, which contains all the constituents necessary to make nerve strength. Its first action is upon digestion.

It stimulates the secretion of gastric juice, ensures perfect digestion and prepares the food so as to be easily assimilated.

Thus everything you eat is converted into nourishment that enriches the blood and lends new strength to the nerves.

By Ferrozone the mind is relieved of those brooding tendencies, of morbid unnatural fears, of unwillingness to concentrate attention on things that should be done.

Won't you try Ferrozone?

Won't you give it a chance to win you back to health; it will do it, just as it did for Mrs. Creighton Zinck, of Palm St., Lunenburg, N. S., who says: "I want to give my experience with Ferrozone because I believe it will be of assistance to thousands of women who need it badly. I was very thin, run down in flesh and lacked color. My nerves were in a dreadful state. If anything fell I would jump and start. At night I would suddenly wake up, heart palpitating and all keyed up. Ferrozone went right to work. It restored my poise and balance, gave me self-control, cured my nervousness. Ferrozone increased my appetite and my weight came up so fast that I simply didn't need to use it any longer. Eight boxes cured me."

—A reception will be tendered the new pastor, Rev. J. R. Webb and wife in the Murray street Baptist church this evening.

—City Treasurer Adams has started the work of preparing the estimates for 1907. The first item taken up was the demand from the Board of Education.

—The city auditors, Messrs. T. Q. Quartermaine and G. K. Martin have started to work on the city's books. It will be several weeks before they are through.

—The Children's Aid Society wish to extend thanks to the primary department of Grace church Sunday school for its kind donation of $2.25 to the funds of the society.

—The new Fire, Water and Light Committee will meet this evening at eight o'clock. It is expected that the first business to occupy the attention of the members this year will be the appointment of an electric wiring inspector.

—It is now proposed that the "Village Parson Co." which played at the Grand Opera House last night, will at an early date, give a free performance for the Kingston, Jamaica earthquake sufferers. Such a noble offer on the part of so splendid a company will surely be appreciated, and the house, owing especially to the good object at stakes be crowded to the doors.

An Interesting Emily Marriage

An Emily wedding was celebrated on Tuesday when, with Rev. Father McGuire officiating in St. Mary's church Downeyville, Miss Elizabeth Crowley, fourth daughter of Mr. T. Crowley of Emily, was married to Mr. Wm Travis, also of Emily. The bride was attired in a gown of steel grey silk, with hat to match, and the bridesmaid, Miss Perdue was becomingly attired in blue silk with blue hat. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Hennessey of Emily. After the ceremony, the bridal party partook of a most sumptuous repast at the residence of the bride's father.

The young couple will reside in Emily.

Miss Eliz. Lowry Now Mrs. Fairbairn

A quietly celebrated wedding was consummated in St. John's church on Tuesday evening, when Elizabeth Lowry, youngest daughter of the late Lowry of Warsaw, was united in the bonds of matrimony to John Andrew Fairbairn, son of Mr. Alex. Fairbairn of Smith. The marriage was celebrated by Rev. Canon Davidson.

The bride, attired in a white taffeta silk dress, worn with a bolero of allover lace, trimmed with bebe Irish lace and a veil, surmounted by white carnations and smilax, carried a bouquet of flowers combined with smilax and ferns, was given away by her cousin, Mr. L. Campbell.

After the ceremony a dainty supper was served at 768 Water street, where the bride will receive on the afternoons of Monday and Tuesday, the 28th and 29th inst.

Local Interest in Jamaica Trouble

The recent catastrophy in the capital city of Jamaica, has a special local interest, as Sir Fielding Clarke, chief justice of Jamaica, and Lady Clarke, are related here. Lady Clarke is a sister of Miss Pearce, superintendent of the Barnardo Home, Peterborough. Yesterday Miss Pearce said she had no word from either Sir Fielding or Lady Clarke, and was anxious about their safety. Sir Fielding and Lady Clarke visited Peterborough last summer and spent several weeks in the city.

My Valet Has Moved

My Valet owned and operated by Messrs. Wesley Bros., are now at work in their new premises on Charlotte street, as noted in an adv. in this issue. This enterprising firm have installed a new and up-to-date clothes, cleaning and pressing plant in the shop recently vacated by Mr. Nicholas Benzetti, as a fruit shop. Both ladies and gentlemen can get their clothes made over, like new, at short order, and have them called for and delivered by a special delivery wagon.

Rats on the Market Square

Yesterday after the celebrated (as far as a precedent for the law courts of Canada goes) case was dismissed whereby an Indian by looks was proven not an Indian by law, was concluded, two of those concerned, as witnesses, crossed the market square. As these two citizens crossed the square one of them catching the other by his coat sleeve, asked anxiously, "Say ———, have I got the D.T.'s, or are there a lot of rats lying about the square?" The other looking round replied, "Why of course there are lots of rats, dead rats at that." A Times' representative shortly afterwards, crossing the market square, counted 29 dead rats as he crossed the square. Some one must have been using "Rough on Rats," or some similar means of reducing the census of rodents.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry-bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on, chronic coughs, bronchial and throat troubles and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. But in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

All Saints' Church Notes

Rev. Canon Cody, rector of St. Paul's church, Toronto, will preach in All Saints' church tonight. This will be the first service connected with the celebration of the church's anniversary, and there is no doubt but that the edifice will be crowded. Rev. Canon Cody is well known to the people of this city, and everyone appreciates the good work done by the rector, Rev. Mr. Major, to secure this prominent divine. On Sunday the special services will be continued morning, afternoon and evening.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL XXXV, NO. 16 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, JANUARY 19 1907 PRICE TWO CENTS

Worst in 250 Years Brick Buildings Fell

While Wooden Ones Stood---School House at Kingston Fell Killing Ninety Children.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—A special despatch from Kingston says, "The recent earthquake was more serious than any which had occurred in Jamaica for two hundred and fifty years. The first shock was followed by fifteen minor shocks. The wooden structures stood well, but the brick houses collapsed within a radius of six miles. The immunity of two hundred and fifty years led the Jamaicans to forget that they were within the earthquake zone, and they had been building brick houses. But for this proverbial fact there would have been no loss of life. There has been no tidal wave. The defences at Port Royal were destroyed, and the palisades broken through. Black mud is coming to the surface. The conduct of all classes is admirable, but it is hoped that the British cruiser Indefatigable will soon arrive here with marines."

OFFICERS AND MEN KILLED.

London, Jan. 19.—A special despatch from Jamaica dated yesterday gives the number of killed of the West India regiment as two officers and twenty-six men.

Among the European non-commissioned officers and their families there were seven deaths and four were injured, while thirteen native non-commissioned officers and men are dead or missing.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 19—The Cape Henry wireless station received the following message after midnight, bearing on the Kingston disaster, the message having come from Guantanamo, Cuba:

"Have overheard by wireless from steamer Colon that the schoolhouse at Kingston fell at first shock, killing 90 children. The city of Kingston is in bad shape and it is still mouldering, with about 500 reported killed and injured.

HARBOR CHANNEL SHIFTED.

"The channel in the harbor of Kingston has shifted. This cannot be vouched for. Battleships Missouri and Indiana entered harbor safely. Four hundred dead, five hundred in hospitals. Indications many slightly injured."

ALMOST TOTALLY DESTROYED.

Cainanera, Cuba, Jan. 19. — Rear-Admiral Davis, who went to Kingston, Jamaica, with the American ships, sent a wireless report to Rear-Admiral Evans at Guantanamo, this morning. His despatch follows:

"Missouri and Indiana anchored at Kingston at 8.30 yesterday morning. Kingston almost totally destroyed. Four hundred killed, about 500 in hospitals. City now quiet. There were plenty of doctors but short dressings. Have supplied all could spare."

EVANS FEARED LOOTING.

Rear Admiral Evans first heard of the disaster on Tuesday night by means of an intercepted wireless despatch and prepared to send ships to the scene. Wednesday morning he received a cable despatch from Governor Magoon asking him to send medical supplies.

The Whipple started instantly at a speed of 25 knots, carrying all the surgical supplies that the fleet could spare.

The battleships Missouri and Indiana followed, and both are now in Kingston harbor, but unable to communicate by wireless with Admiral Evans, owing to an intervening mountain.

Communication, however, is maintained through the steamer Colon, which is lying off the port.

Rear Admiral Evans sent the battleships because he knew that no English troops were in Kingston, and he feared looting by the negroes there.

NO ENGLISH OFFICIALS KILLED.

London, Jan 19.—One brief telegram from Governor Swettenham announcing that Sir James Fergusson's body had been found in the ruins of a cigar store and was subsequently buried and adding that no English officials were killed or injured, was the only additional information regarding the Kingston catastrophe received at the Colonial Office yesterday.

The difficulties in the way of communicating with Kingston, the constantly growing lists of dead and injured, the knowledge that many of the latter will be buried unidentified, and the reported threatened conflagration of the ruins of the city combine to increase the anxiety of their relatives and friends in this country who are besieging all the possible sources of information in quest of news.

RESTORING COMMUNICATION.

Even the big guns in Jamaica operating in Kingston at once, to obtain replies to urgent requests for details. The cable companies, however, are hopeful that today will see an improvement at their service.

The Direct West India Cable Company's steamer is due at Kingston today. As the break in the cable is located close to the shore, no difficulty is anticipated in restoring communication promptly.

The officials here estimate that relief steamers must be arriving at Kingston by now, and a rapid straightening out of the chaos is expected.

LARGE RELIEF FUND.

The Mansion House Fund for the relief of the Kingston earthquake sufferers is being well supported, and, with the American and other contributions there will be no lack of supplies or funds for immediate necessities.

A GHASTLY PROCESSION.

An unofficial despatch from a member of Sir Alfred Jones' party now at Kingston, received yesterday, says:

"A ghastly procession of carts passing all day long to the cemetery, conveying there 350 victims who were buried in batches of 200. It is believed that there are about 400 more corpses among the wreckage. The body of Sir James Fergusson was buried January 16.

"There have been several further shocks since the great upheaval, but they were less violent. The negroes looted some shops, but on the whole fair order is being preserved. Fires are still burning."

Peterboro Will Have to Fight Vigorously

Hogtown Enters the Competition for Dairymen's Meet.

As noted in former issues of The Times Ald. R. H. Leary and Mr. G. A. Gillespie have been at London, where they advocated the claims of Peterborough for the proposed provincial dairy show.

Ald Leary yesterday noted that the western men were very strongly in favor of Toronto. The newly elected directors of the Dairymen's Association will meet in two weeks' time and appoint a committee to confer with a similar committee from the Eastern Dairymen's Association. They will then decide where the dairy show will be held. Although the western men decidedly favor Toronto the eastern representatives are bound that the show will be held in the east and will not consent to go to Toronto. All the eastern men and some of the western men believe that Toronto is too large a center. The attractions of Hogtown would tend to draw people away from the raison d'etre of the gathering and thus part of the proposed educative and instructive lessons would be lost. In a smaller place this would not happen. Although the question will not be definitely settled for a month yet, Ald. Leary thought the prospects of Peterborough securing the show are bright. He did not believe the eastern representatives will agree to go to Toronto.

Ald. Leary says that London was crowded with visitors. He applied at five hotels before he was able to secure accommodation, and then he had to sleep on a lounge.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday morning only one case came before the police magistrate. A man named McKerr, who had just completed a month in Castle Asylbit, asked to be recommitted until the spring. The magistrate, somewhat reluctantly, consented to comply with his request. He asked the voluntary exile, "How old are you?" was the answer. The magistrate in none too sweet tones continued, "You are only a boy at 66, why don't you get out and work? You are simply too lazy, that's what's the matter." McKerr went to jail done with his warrant of committment to the stone house on the hill.

Shortly after eight yesterday morning, a man about 60 years of age, by name Robt. Morgan, was driven to the police station and locked up. It seems that Robert had seen the bottom of too many glasses which before he had emptied them had been filled with various grands of tingle wit. Between his cargo of boozerine and the slippery pavements Morgan had fallen heavily and was knocked out. He will explain matters to the magistrate this morning.

Venezuela in Bad Shape Wants U S Intervention

Every Necessity of Life Has Been Monopolized---Much Discontent Among People

Caracas, Venezuela, Jan. 19.—Minister of War Arajo, returning from the Colombian frontier, whither he went to do battle with Gen. Mantilla, the revolutionary guerrilla, officially reports that upon his approach the "brigand" fled. Mantilla's previous record of four battles and four victories against government troops has started a rumor that Arajo's bloodless victory was obtained by collusion with the guerilla chieftain. In the anti-Castro camp Arajo is credited with being the supporter of Vice-President Gomez for the presidency.

The all-important subject here is the health of President Castro. His real malady requires long and careful treatment, sometimes results fatally and seldom fails to leave its victim weakened in some way. Castro is reported better by a source of information apparently unprejudiced.

The country suffers from lack of an active head. Public Building has ceased. Dr. Ravengo, secretary-general to the president, exercises every power of government, and even the sale of stamps has been farmed out. Every necessity of life has been monopolized. The cost of living in Caracas is little less than in New York. There is sufficient popular discontent for a dozen revolutions, but no leader strong enough to bring about concerted action.

It is reported here that President Roosevelt will send to congress a special message dealing with Venezuelan affairs. It is hoped by commercial interests that if such a message is delivered it will bring a change for the better in the economic situation in this country.

House of Providence Is Very Grateful

The Sisters and others in charge of the House of Providence, return heartfelt thanks for the cheques, provisions, clothing, fruit, confectionery and toys given this most commendable institution.

Also thanks are due to a number of citizens who at different times during the year kindly sent in gifts. One kind benefactor donates two bags of flour each month. Those in charge are most grateful also to the different parishes of the diocese for their generous subscriptions to this home during the past year.

The little ones are grateful to Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hayes for their gift of Christmas stockings of toys and to Mr. and Mrs. C. Rutherford for the sleigh ride, dinner, and Christmas tree given them during the holidays at their home.

Thousands of Chinese in Danger of Smallpox

Famine Striken People Easy Victims of Dread Disease.

Shanghai, Jan. 18.—To the horrors of famine have been added an outbreak of smallpox among the refugees at Singkiang, necessitating the demolition of the mat sheds used to shelter thousands who have arrived there in search of food.

Capt Kirton, who was sent out by the relief committee to investigate the situation, reports that 200,000 destitute persons have been driven back towards their homes, and and that terrible scenes are being enacted along the line of retreat.

He estimates that a quarter of a million persons are likely to be doomed at Singkiang alone, and 400,000 at Antung, where small relief works have been started. But official records are generally puerile and unreliable.

The distress is largely due to lack of means of communication and fear that Chinese officials might appropriate any works they undertake.

The dyk s being dilapidated, renewed rains are certain to cause fresh floods. Every house in the neighborhood of Antung visited by Capt. Kirton, contained dead bodies or dying persons.

The relief committee, which has 150,000 taels at its disposal, has instituted relief works under foreign supervision.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Nicholls Hospital Annual Meeting

Reports of 1906 Were Received and Found Satisfactory.

At the annual meeting of the Nicholls Hospital Trustee Board, there were present: Messrs. Richard Hall in the chair, J. J. Melhain, Wm. Madill, John McClelland, Rev. J. G. Potter, John Green, W. Aldridge, Rev. J. G. Lewis, W. H. Hill, J. Stevenson and John Crane.

After confirming the minutes of the last annual meeting, the chairman, Mr. Hall, made his report, viz.:

Gentlemen,—It is with pleasure I report a highly successful year at the hospital. A larger number of patients have been treated during the past year, than in any year in the history of the hospital, namely, 610 as against 403 in 1905.

202 operations were performed, some of which were extremely serious ones.

The furnishing account has been drawn upon somewhat heavily this year, but we believe it has been for the good of the hospital. Many improvements have been made including much painting. Cork matting has been laid on the corridor floors. The kitchen and linen equipment has been added to, and everything possible has been made to make the rooms comfortable.

Miss De La Mater, the superintendent, is to be congratulated upon the high standard attained during the year.

The receipts from pay patients are about $400 in excess of last year. Donations from the Nicholls estate enabled us to wipe off the existing bank overdraft and close the year with a credit balance besides purchasing and paying for the lot west of the hospital.

The following members of the board retire this year, but are all eligible for re-election, viz., Messrs. John McClelland, J. J. Melhain, Rev. J. G. Lewis, T. H. Adams, A. P. Poucette and W. Aldridge.

Mr. John Crane, presented the annual statement of receipts and expenditures as follows:

An Evening With Violins at the Y.M.C.A.

The pupils of Miss L. Drechsler Adamson gave a very enjoyable recital at the Y.M.C.A. last night, in the presence of a large audience. The various instrumental numbers given were specimens of a high class order of talent and reflected considerable credit upon both pupils and teacher. Last night's presentation, demonstrated conclusively that violin culture is under a master hand at the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, and both Mr. Rupert Gliddon, the principal, and his exceedingly capable violin instructress, Miss Adamson, are to be congratulated upon the efficiency shown by their pupils last evening.

Miss Eva Irwin and Miss Choate are students of exceeding great promise and would be at any and all times very acceptable entertainers with the violin. The class as a whole showed to splendid advantage last night, and those present highly appreciated the entertainment offered.

Root's Visit to Settle Long Pending Disputes

British Foreign Office Expects an Arrangement Between Canada and the United States.

London, Jan. 19.—It is learned that the exchange of certain definite proposals between the United States and Great Britain for the purpose of clearing up the outstanding differences between the United States and Canada has reached a rather advanced stage, so that well informed circles not only hope, but believe, that the approaching meeting between Secretary Root, Earl Grey and members of the Canadian Cabinet at Ottawa will result in arranging some, if not all, of the long-pending controversies. Although the visit is officially described as private, no secret is made in Governmental circles that a real political outcome is expected, as the visit follows exchanges which have been going on between Washington, London and Ottawa, in which Secretary Root first formulated a detailed plan of adjustment, which upon its receipt here was forwarded to Ottawa, the latter's reply having only recently been received.

A high colonial official said yesterday:

"We know now that both sides desire to clear up the slate, to use Mr. Root's own phrase in one of his communications, and we have reason to believe that this will at least be partially accomplished before the assembling of the colonial conference in April. Mr. Root's plan for settling the questions between the United States and Great Britain was brought to England by Sir Mortimer Durand last May, since when no time has been lost in working towards a final adjustment. After Mr. Root's plan had been referred by the Foreign Office to the Colonial Office, the whole question was submitted to Canada, as it was felt that the latter must indicate the lines of acceptance or dissent. The Imperial Government made certain suggestions, but did not seek to lay down the law to the Laurier Government, which was considered to be best able to judge.

SHARE IN SEAL CATCH.

"In due course Canada's reply was received, disclosing a real desire to reach an agreement as wished for by Secretary Root, but Canada wants not so much monetary compensation for waiving any interests as a national quid pro quo for anything she may have to give up.

"The questions to be settled include pelagic sealing, the Lakes fisheries, the Canadian sea fisheries, the diversion of water-power from the St. Lawrence and the diversion from the boundary rivers. These and other questions are also of first-class importance, but they may become so at any moment, and reasonable guidance requires their adjustment. The matters to be discussed also include a number of individual claims which the executive branch approves; but which Congress left unpaid. Regarding the most important question, the one relative to pelagic sealing, the proposal of the United States tends to an arrangement by which Canada shall have a share in the catch at the Pribyloff Islands, to which at present she has no share, providing pelagic sealing is discontinued."

COSTLY PRESSURE

Heart and Nerves Fail on Coffee

A resident of a great western State puts the case regarding stimulants with a comprehensive brevity, but in admirable fashion. He says:

"I am 56 years old and have had considerable experience with stimulants. They are all alike—a mortgage on reserved energy at ruinous interest. As the whip stimulates but does not strengthen the horse, so do stimulants act upon the human system. Feeling this way, I gave up coffee and all other stimulants and began the use of Postum Food coffee some months ago. The beneficial results have been apparent from the first. The rheumatism that I used to suffer from has left me. I sleep sounder, my nerves are steadier and my brain clearer. And I bear testimony also to the food value of Postum—something that is lacking in coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason. Read "The Road to Wellville," the quaint little book in pkgs.

Pale Faced Girls

Thousands Using Successful Cure For Paleness and Anaemia

The pallid girl always lacks appetite. What little she eats is badly digested.

At night she is restless, she dozes, but doesn't sleep soundly.

Vital force must be increased, new blood must be applied and a general rebuilding take place before she will feel like she ought.

Dr. Hamilton had invaluable experience in these cases and found nothing so prompt in building up the young women as his vegetable pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills begin by cleansing the system and purifying the blood; they also improve digestion and render food ready for absorption. Additional nourishment is quickly supplied and the patient is fast strengthened and invigorated.

Full of spirit, ruddy and strong is the girl that assists her system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

The following recent letter from Miss Etta McEwen, of Haliburton, speaks for itself;

"In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills I find my system is wonderfully built up. It is certainly the most effective remedy I ever used. I have now a good appetite, sleep more soundly and awaken in the morning feeling quite refreshed.

"Formerly I felt tired and depressed. I looked as if a severe illness was hanging over my head.

"Nothing could give quicker results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I strongly advise every young woman to use them."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

A New Local Bank Has Good Prospects

The Dominion of Canada has every reason to be proud of its banking system, which is second to none in the world. Prominent among the banks of Canada is the Royal Bank, which a few months ago opened a branch in this city.

The Royal Bank has held its Thirty-seventh annual meeting, at which the financial statement presented was of a most encouraging and satisfactory nature.

During the preceding year the progress of the bank had been simply phenomenal, and such as must place it in a prominent position among Canada's strongest financial institutions.

On December 30th, 1905, the Royal Bank had assets of $36,553,576.01, whilst on December 31st, 1906, the bank had assets amounting to $46,417,516.98. A brief glance over the nature of this bank's securities, and consequent solidity, as shown in the annual statement printed in this issue, will at once demonstrate the strength and reliability of the Royal Bank of Canada.

As is generally known, the present acting manager, Mr. Fulton, will, early in February be replaced permanently by Mr. Vincent Eastwood, who is well known not only to the business men of this city and surrounding villages, but is also favorably known to the agricultural community.

The Royal Bank, in engaging Mr. Eastwood as their local manager, has certainly made no mistake. Mr. Eastwood has, within a few years, risen from clerk to practical owner of the largest hardware concern in the Midland district, and, under his guidance, the Royal Bank is certain to develop a large business in Peterborough.

Is Far North-West Fit for Farming?

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—A special committee of the Senate will be appointed to take evidence this session in regard to the resources and agricultural possibilities of the unorganized portion of the Canadian North-West lying north of the Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Hon. T. O. Davis is bring the subject before the Senate this afternoon, and will, it is understood, receive the consent of that body to the proposed enquiry. His idea is to bring to Ottawa individuals who have had experience of the conditions in these northern wilds, and can speak therefore from knowledge of what the country contains.

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant, and safe syrup, called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure is for Croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for Croup, that's all. Sold by J. D. Tully.

Provincial Gratuities to Retired Civil Servants

Toronto, Jan. 19.—The Provincial Treasurer, Hon. Col. Matheson, has completed the list of Provincial gratuities which will be granted under the Act to retired civil servants for 1906. It is a material reduction on the previous year, when about $30,000 was granted. For the year closed, including $1,525 paid previously, the total will be $15,410.

There were over 70 applications. Many were thrown out as not complying with the Act and a few were left over for consideration next year. To the rule that the gratuity should not exceed one year's salary, an exception was made in the case of Col. Chas. Clarke, the retired clerk of the House, by reason of his long service of 15 years in that capacity. He will receive $2,500, an amount equal to fifteen months' salary.

In all cases retirement has been on account of death, ill-health or old age. The twenty-two gratuities allowed are apportioned as follows:

Miss Wood, attendant, Brockville Asylum, $150.

Robert Barron, gardener, Mercer, $500.

Miss Pope, matron, London Asylum, $250.

Miss Sharkey, head laundress, Hamilton Asylum, $125.

Uneasy Over the Smallpox Cases

The prevalence of smallpox in the Province is becoming distinctly alarming, as there are more cases reported to the Provincial Board of Health than for a number of years past. The type of the disease is a mild one, which leads to the belief that there are many other cases in existence which have been diagnosed as chickenpox, and it behoves local health officers in all parts of the Province to be on the look-out.

Yesterday three more centers of the disease were reported, being from two townships in Wellington County, and one in Kent. Over twenty centers are under surveillance at the present time, and many other cases of a suspicious character are being reported. Dr. Hodgetts, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, states that steps should be taken at once in all municipalities to enforce the Act regarding compulsory vaccination.

A Suggestion to the Council

Our friend, C. R. D. Booth, Reeve of Burleigh and Anstruther, is a lay reader of the Church of England, and would make a grand chaplain for the new County Council.

The Wardenship

A large number of the back country people, so The Times is advised, would like to see Mr. Wm. Hales, the Reeve elect for Chandos, obtain the Wardenship, a position for which he is qualified, as he has made a successful Reeve and has had experience in former County Councils. Mr. Shaw might be willing to forego the honor, especially as it is only a year or two ago since he occupied the chair.

Neglected Colds MAY CAUSE Consumption.

MRS. ADDIE HARDING. MRS. MARY MEYER. MRS. FRANCES WILSON.

PROBABLY every case of consumption begins with a cold.

Consumption is generally classed as a hereditary disease, but consumption is not hereditary.

A constitutional weakness is inherited which renders one liable to consumption.

Even people who have strong lungs may acquire consumption, from a cold.

Mrs. Addie Harding, 121 W. Brighton Ave., Syracuse, N. Y., writes:

"I have been a user of Peruna for the last twelve years and can truthfully say that there is no better medicine on earth.

"With me it is a sure preventative for colds and many other ills. In my home can always be found a bottle of Peruna. Two or three times a year I am troubled with my throat.

"I always had to have the services of my physician two or three times in each case.

"Although a user of Peruna, I never thought of taking it for my throat until about two years ago.

"I tried Peruna to check it, and to my great delight I was not troubled with the smothered and choked feeling and never have since.

"I can check it every time with Peruna.

"I certainly would not be without Peruna one minute."

"A SURE PREVENTATIVE"

Mrs. Mary Meyer, Thomson avenue, near Shell Road, Winfield, L. I., N. Y., writes:

"I have been annoyed with a cough for years.

"Often it was so bad that I could not sleep half the night. Many people thought I had consumption.

CONSUMPTION WAS FEARED.

"A woman recommended Peruna to me two years ago. I began to take Peruna and now I am perfectly free from a cough.

"I am glad to say that Peruna cured me entirely. I take Peruna occasionally when I do not feel well and I also give it to my children.

"Peruna is the best medicine for coughs and colds. I have told many people how much Peruna has helped me."

A neglected cold is a well-worn path to consumption.

Many a person catches cold and pays no attention to it.

He scarcely recovers from the first cold when he takes the second.

Still he gives it no heed, and possibly takes another cold, and so on.

He doses himself with bromides, quinine and various expectorants.

His case is catarrh, at this stage, and his case should be treated as catarrh.

A common cold is acute catarrh.

Finally, if the cold is allowed to continue, it becomes chronic catarrh.

Mrs. Frances Wilson, 32 Nelson street, Clinton, Mass., writes:

"Had you seen me at the time of my illness and now, you would not wonder that I take delight in sounding the praises of Peruna.

"My ailment was a severe cold which attacked the bronchial tubes and lungs.

"I followed your special directions and after using six bottles of Peruna I was on my feet again.

"I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."

All colds, coughs, bronchitis, laryngitis and tonsilitis should be treated as catarrh, as they are in reality catarrh.

The success of Peruna in relieving these cases entirely depends upon the fact that Peruna is a catarrh remedy.

It relieves catarrh wherever located in the system. Whether in the throat, bronchial tubes or lungs.

CONSUMPTION PREVENTED.

It has saved a multitude of people from consumption by eradicating catarrh before it reaches the lungs.

The tendency of catarrh of the throat or head is to spread downward to the lungs.

If taken in time, Peruna will prevent these cases.

We have in our files many testimonials from people who thought they were victims of consumption, but have been permanently relieved by the faithful use of Peruna, thus showing that catarrh was really the cause of their ailments.

Property

This Company owns in fee, by deed of sale from the Government of Quebec concession number 12, south part of lot 9, range 5, Pontiac County, Block "A," containing 246 acres.

The property is situated at the "Height of Land" on Opasatica Lake, Province of Quebec, just east of Larder Lake, Province of Ontario, about 60 miles north of Cobalt.

The geological formation is conglomerite and quartzite, syenite, diorite, together with large bodies of grey quartzite.

Considerable prospecting on the property shows up about 25 veins, one of which, known as number "ONE," is over 5,000 feet long, with a width of from three to six feet. About five hundred feet of this vein has been stripped, showing large bodies of quartz carrying gold, which is plainly visible to the naked eye.

Six hundred feet south of vein number "ONE" another vein between walls was discovered, the formation being identical with vein number "ONE." This vein is about eighteen inches wide and is known as number "TWO." Other veins cross these, and the entire ground appears to be heavily mineralized. Fifty thousand tons of ore are estimated now in sight, and ready for a mill.

Assays

Assays from vein number "ONE" and vein number "TWO" appear below:

MONTREAL, December 28, 1906.

KING OF THE NORTH GOLD MINES COMPANY,
Montreal, Que.

Gentlemen:—I desire to report that during the months of August and September, 1906, I examined your mining property near Opasatica Lake, Quebec, and found that same consists of 240 acres of ground, which was part of the original discovery made by Ollier in July, 1906. I found one vein between well defined walls, and traced it for a distance of about 5,000 feet, this vein runs from three to six feet wide, and forty pounds of ore from this vein yielded by washing an approximate of $5.00 worth of free gold.

There are quite a number of strongly defined veins on the property, all carrying quartz containing gold, a great deal of which is visible to the naked eye. Several very large blow-outs have occurred on these veins, and enormous amounts of gold bearing quartz have been thrown up on the ground. I estimate the quantity of ore, now ready for the mill, at upwards of $50,000 tons, and believe from the tests that I have made, that this ore will easily [illegible]

The ore is free milling and contains coarse gold, which can be very readily separated. The veins are well defined, and I am of the opinion that enormous quantities of ore will be obtained from the property, and that it will become a most valuable mine. The property has timber on it sufficient for all mining improvements and fuel, together with water for the separation of the ore.

Very truly yours,
(Sgd.) T. SIMARD,
I. C.

Ville Marie, County Pontiac.

The ore is free milling and can be treated at a nominal expense on the ground, the gold being extracted and shipped in the form of bullion.

Transportation and Construction Facilities

Every facility needed is on the property, in the shape of ample timber for mining, construction work, and fuel, while from Lake Opasatica can be obtained all the water necessary.

With the exception of a short distance, transportation is via water direct to the property from Lake Temiskamingue, and supplies can be brought in and out at a very low cost.

Mill

It is proposed at once to erect a mill for the treatment of the ore, and contracts are now underway, and it is anticipated that it will be in operation not later than April 1, 1907, and dividends should be forthcoming immediately thereafter.

Prospective Dividends

It is a well-known fact that free milling gold ore, in the quantity that the "KING OF THE NORTH" has, can be mined, milled, and all expenses paid, for less than $4.00 per ton. Estimating that the ore of the "KING OF THE NORTH" mine only averages $50.00 per ton, and that the expenses are $5.00 per ton, the profit should be as follows:—

100 tons per day at $50.00.....$5,000.00
Less cost of 100 tons at $5.00..... 500.00
$4,500.00

Or per annum, $1,350,000.00; equal to 135 per cent. on the Share Capital.

We believe that the above figures will be vastly exceeded, as the ore is phenomenally rich, and the probabilities are that the district of which the "KING OF THE NORTH" is the centre will be the greatest and richest ore field in the world.

We offer Fifty Thousand shares of the above stock at $1.00 per share, and reserve the right to advance the price to $1.50 per share without notice.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Very. But she has no love for my order. She is a Sulpician. Yet we may all work to one end. Now, if you were to speak to her, your grace. Show her how good a service it would be could she bring about the banishment of the Huguenots."

"I shall do so."

"And offer her in return that we will promote"— He bent forward and whispered into the prelate's ear.

"What! He would not do it."

"And why? The queen is dead."

"The widow of the poet Scarron!"

"She is of good birth. Her grandfather and his were dear friends. If she will serve the church, the church will serve her. But the king beckons, and I must go."

The thin dark figure hastened on through the throng of courtiers, and the great bishop of Meaux remained standing with his chin upon his breast, sunk in reflection.

CHAPTER V.

THE elderly Huguenot had stood silent after his repulse by the king, with his eyes cast moodily downward and a face in which doubt, sorrow and anger contended for the mastery. He was a very large, gaunt man, rawboned and haggard, with a wide forehead, a large, fleshy nose and a powerful chin. He was dressed as became his rank, plainly and yet well, in a sad colored brown kersey coat with silver plated buttons, knee breeches of the same and white woolen stockings, ending in broad toed black leather shoes cut across with a great steel buckle.

His doubts as to what his next step should be were soon resolved for him in a very summary fashion. These were days when, if the Huguenot was not absolutely forbidden in France, he was at least looked upon as a man who existed upon sufferance, and who was unshielded by the laws which protected his Catholic fellow subjects. For twenty years the stringency of the persecution had increased until there was no weapon which bigotry could employ, short of absolute expulsion, which had not been turned against him.

Two of the king's big blue coated guardsmen were on duty at that side of the palace and had been witnesses to his unsuccessful appeal. Now they tramped across together to where he was standing and broke brutally into the current of his thoughts.

"Now, Hymbrooks," said one gruffly, "get off again about your business."

The old Huguenot shot a glance of anger and contempt at them and was turning to go when one of them thrust at his ribs with the butt end of his halberd.

"Take that, you dog!" he cried. "Would you dare to look like that at the king's guard?"

"Children of Belial!" cried the old man, with his hand pressed to his side, "were I twenty years younger you would not have dared to use me so."

"Ha, you would still spit your venom, would you? That is enough, Andre! He has threatened the king's guard. Let us seize him and drag him to the guardroom."

The two soldiers dropped their halberds and rushed upon the old man, but, tall and strong as they were, they found it no easy matter to secure him. They had hardly won their pitiful victory, however, before a stern voice and a sword flashing before their eyes compelled them to release their prisoner once more.

It was Captain de Catinat, who, his morning duties over, had strolled out on the terrace and had come upon this sudden scene of outrage. At the sight of the old man's face he gave a violent start and, drawing his sword, had rushed forward with such fury that the two guardsmen not only dropped their victim, but, staggering back from the threatening sword point, one of them slipped and the other rolled over him, a revolving mass of blue coat and white kersey.

"Villains!" roared De Catinat. "What is the meaning of this?"

The two had stumbled to their feet again, very shamefaced and ruffled.

"If you please, captain," said one, saluting, "this is a Huguenot who abused the royal guard."

"His petition had been rejected by the king, captain, and yet he refused to go."

De Catinat was white with fury. "And so when a French citizen has come to have a word with the great master of his country he must be harassed by two Swiss dogs like you!" he cried. "By my faith, we shall soon see about that!"

He drew a little silver whistle from his pocket, and at the shrill summons an old sergeant and half a dozen soldiers came running from the guardroom.

"Sergeant, you will arrest these men."

"Certainly, captain," said the sergeant.

"See that they are tried today for assaulting an aged and respected citizen who had come on business to the king."

"He was a Huguenot on his own confession," cried the culprits together.

"Hum!" The sergeant pulled doubtfully at his long mustache. "Shall we put the charge in that form, captain? Just as the captain pleases."

"No," said De Catinat, with a sudden happy thought. "I charge them with laying their halberds down while on duty and with having their uniforms dirty and disarranged."

"That is better," answered the sergeant, with the freedom of a privileged veteran. "Thunder of God, but you have disgraced the guards! An hour on the wooden horse with a musket at either foot may teach you that halberds were made for a soldier's hand and not for the king's grassplot."

The Huguenot had stood in the background, grave and composed, without any sign of exultation, during this sudden reversal of fortune, but when the soldiers were gone he and the young officer turned warmly upon each other.

"Amory, I had not hoped to see you!"

"Nor I you, uncle. What in the name of wonder brings you to Versailles?"

"My wrongs, Amory. The hand of the wicked is heavy upon us, and whom can we turn to save only the king?"

The young officer shook his head. "The king is at heart a good man," said he. "But he can only see the world through the glasses which are held before him. You have nothing to hope from him."

"He spurned me from his presence."

"Did he ask you your name?"

"He did, and I gave it."

The young guardsman whistled. "Let us walk to the gate," said he. "By my faith, if my kinsmen are to come and handy arguments with the king it may not be long before my company finds itself without its captain. What is amiss?"

"Twenty men of Moab have been quartered upon me, with one Dalbert, their captain, who has long been a scourge to Israel."

"Captain Claude Dalbert of the Languedoc dragoons? I have already some small score to settle with him. What has he done?"

"His men are over my house like moths in a cloth bale. No place is free from them. He sits in the room which should be mine, his great boots on my Spanish leather chairs, his pipe in his mouth, his wine pot at his elbow and his talk a hissing and an abomination. He has beaten old Pierre of the warehouse and thrust me into the cellar."

"Ha!"

"Because I have dragged him back when in his drunken love he would have thrown his arms about your cousin Adele."

"Oh!" The young man's color had been rising and his brows knitting at each successive charge, but at this last his anger boiled over, and he hurried forward with fury in his face, dragging his elderly companion by the elbow.

"How did you come, uncle?"

"In a caleche."

"Where is it?"

"There is it, beyond the rubbish."

"Come, let us make for it."

"And you, Amory, are you coming?"

"My faith, it is time that I came, from what you tell me. There is room for a man with a sword at his side in this establishment of yours."

"But what would you do?"

"I would have a word with this Captain Dalbert. Ha, here comes our caleche! Whip up, driver, and 5 livres to you if you pass the gate of the Invalides within the hour."

It was no light matter to drive fast in an age of springless carriages and deeply rutted roads, but the driver lashed at his two rough, unclipped horses, and the caleche jolted and clattered upon its way.

"When was all this?" asked the guardsman.

"It was yesterday night."

"And where is Adele now?"

"She is at home."

"And this Dalbert?"

"Oh, he is there also!"

"What! You have left her in his power while you came away to Versailles?"

"She is locked in her room."

"Pah! What is a lock?" The young man raved with his hands in the air at the thought of his own impotence.

"And Pierre is there."

"He is useless."

"And Amos Green."

"Ah, that is better. He is a man by the look of him."

"His mother was one of our own folk from Staten Island, near Manhattan. She was one of those scattered lambs who fled early before the wolves when first it was seen that the king's hand waxed heavily upon Israel. He speaks French, and yet he is neither French to the eye nor are his ways like our ways."

"And you have left him in the house?"

"Yes; he was sat with this Dalbert, smoking with him and telling him strange tales."

"What guard could he be—he a stranger in a strange land? You did ill to leave Adele thus, uncle."

"She is in God's hands, Amory."

"I trust so. Oh, I am on fire to be there!"

Soon, as the road curved down to the river bank, the city wall grew nearer and nearer until they had passed the southern gate and were rattling over the stony causeway, leaving the broad Luxembourg upon their right and Colbert's last work, the Invalides, upon their left. The young officer had his head still thrust out of the window, but his view was obscured by a broad gilded carriage which lumbered heavily along in front of them. As the road broadened, however, it swerved to

This Company has already about 1,000 shareholders, all of whom have paid for their shares in cash on equal terms, and shares are allotted by priority of application.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 20th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary;—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over-applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $200,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 15c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 800,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two whole sections containing an area of one square mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for cheap factories and construction on each center and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold, the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid (say 8 to 10 fully paid $100 Shares for each Share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions ($20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100 Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 30TH, 1906.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present; The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs J. A. Banfield, F. B. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION :

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the Company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 60 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

THE MILLIONS THAT ARE BEING MADE IN THE JOPLIN DISTRICT

A True Story of the House that "Jack" built!

What the dynamo is to the uses of electricity, the little City of Joplin, Mo., is to the world of industry.

For Joplin is the capital of the Kingdom of Lead and Zinc, the commercial and financial metropolis of the Kansas-Missouri district, the richest in the world.

There is not the romantic glamour surrounding Lead and Zinc Mining which pertains to Gold and Silver, but like the more precious metals, it too has its dramatic history—a tale of industry and labor interwoven around the lives of simple folks and giants of intellect alike.

Joplin does not take rank with other cities (for she is small in point of population); she competes with the world. Her sky-line is a veritable silhouette of smoke-stacks and "tailing" elevators. She knows neither sleep nor rest, for the illumination from her scores of furnaces turns night into day, while time is measured according to the "shifts" of the workmen only. The little town is peaceful enough on the surface, it is below its streets and alleys that the great pursuit of wealth goes on—that the wondrous, serious, all-absorbing work takes on the form of ceaseless activity. Here is the real City of Joplin; the houses and churches and avenues above are as a suburb merely when compared.

From out of the belly of the city fortune and fame are daily found—enough rich Lead and Zinc ore mined to fill thousands of trains of cars each year. And hundreds of acres of virgin land await the hand of man to bring an incalculable bounty of their great riches from earth to the light of day. Over 13,000,000 of dollars' worth of ore were mined in this district last year, and experts place the present year's production at a figure in excess of $15,000,000.

The known area of lands in the Joplin-Webb City district carrying Lead and Zinc ores is constantly being extended and each year more new mines are brought into production than there are old ones exhausted. Aside from that there is mineral enough in sight to keep every present mine in the district at work for fifty years, even if no more discoveries should be made. The real truth is that only the surface has been tilled.

Joplin is already supplying the world with a goodly percentage of all the Lead it uses, and with 83 per cent. of its entire consumption of Zinc.

The output of Lead from the Joplin-Webb City-Carterville mines in the year alone is sufficient to equip and insulate all the 100,000 miles of telephone and telegraph wires in the world.

The Zinc produced in the Joplin field is used in the stereotying rooms of nine-tenths of all the newspapers published in both hemispheres. Zinc is indispensable in the refining of gold under the more modern methods, and this use of the metal consumes a large percentage of the world's entire output. These are only a few of its uses. And yet the combined production of all the other Zinc Mines in the world, equal only about one-sixth of the quantity produced in the Joplin field. Zinc household utensils are common and are coming into more general favor every day. The use of newspaper engraving demand Zinc alone, and the wondrous "Jack" is being found to have new and practical utility almost every day. The increasing demands, large though they be, for high-class "Jack" are not of a speculative character, either, but are due alone to natural conditions. Zinc roofing has assumed the magnitude of one of the large independent industries of the world—its popularity being international. The many new electrical appliances which are daily invented create additional demands for the metal.

Lead was first discovered in the district of Joplin in the year 1849—simultaneous with the discovery of gold in California. The first ore was shipped by wagon to Boonville, Mo., and thence to St. Louis. Mining, however, was practically discontinued until the close of the Civil War.

Several years after work had been resumed in the Lead mines, the miners began to be greatly bothered by an apparently worthless mineral which the Lead miner considered in his way. That bothersome mineral was none other than what is now commonly called "Jack"—pure Zinc ore. The then unknown "Jack" was found in large quantities all over the district and was [illegible] much trash by the busy miner.

Soon it became known that this curious by-product of the Lead mines was the very finest quality of "Jack" and buyers appeared offering from $2.00 to $3.00 a ton for it. The price advanced from $3.00 to $5.00, the miners being eager to part with the metal for a mess of pottage, figuratively speaking. Prices of Zinc ore, however, steadily advanced, and in the year 1906 reached the $60 a ton mark. The discovery of Zinc ore brought people into the Joplin district with a rush, and, in the words of a pioneer of the community, "They've been coming ever since."

While the average price of Lead per ton is somewhat higher than the price of Zinc, the Joplin district produces over ten times as much Zinc as Lead, it is, therefore, due to the marvelous Zinc output that Joplin has assumed her important position as the metropolis of the greatest mining district the world has ever known, and hence Joplin can fittingly be styled "The house that Jack built." It is indeed a creditable piece of architecture, outrivaling the proudest achievement of modern or mediaeval masonry. Mere word-pictures cannot convey a true impression of the importance of the district to a person who has never visited it. All this, however, is merely a beginning; and Joplin is but in the tender years of its ascendency. The mining industry is in its crudest stage. It remains for brains to further build Joplin—rather than brawn.

"You people don't know how to mine," said a Webb City mine promoter recently, when visiting the Joplin field. "You are only scratching the surface."

Incidentally, this man, unconsciously perhaps, struck the keynote of the situation. The fact is that large and rich stores of fine ores are remaining undeveloped in this great domain of "Jack"—also that there has been no deep mining in the district. No single mine in the entire field has been mined to a depth of 300 feet, and few indeed have gone as far as 250 feet. Yet the largest and richest bodies of ore lie at depths of from 300 to 400 feet—a fact that has been positively demonstrated.

Mining was long carried on for years in a desultory sort of way, and even the present methods in vogue are for the greater part primitive. The surface production (i. e. the ore found at a depth of from 40 to 150 feet) has been so rich and inexhaustible that owners of mines have had little disposition to go down to a depth of 300 to 400 feet, where the real fortunes lay.

Not only this, but local conditions have greatly retarded the growth of the mining industry—phenomenal even though it now is. Capital has often been lacking, while the "leasing" system, which is largely prevalent, has tended to develop mining along a smaller scale. By this leasing system the owner of the ground lets the property out to the prospector under royalty, the latter paying the former a small percentage of the profits which accrue from this development and labor. Now it develops that a majority of these prospectors are lacking in means, with which to develop these properties which they lease, so that many unusually rich mines are lying dormant for want of funds with which to equip them.

Taking advantage of this fact, a company has lately been formed, composed of business men, who are developing this incomparable field in a businesslike way, confining their operations to the leasing of property to financially responsible prospectors, on the one hand, and buying and leasing other property from land-poor mine owners, on the other. The company develops this latter named land, sinking shafts, mining the ore and building mills as required. This plan constitutes the exact force which has so long been needed in the field. But in order to understand the magnitude of the work which this company has outlined to do and is doing, one must not confuse their mission with the ordinary pursuit of a mining enterprise. For while this company is truly a Mining and Milling Company of more than considerable importance, and while it is officered by men who are Masters in the science of Lead and Zinc Mining, at the same time it must be considered that this organization is PRIMARILY ONE OF BRAINS.

This company—appropriately called the "Integrity"—aspires to the ultimate control of not one piece of mining property, but of such available claims lying within the district as may be deemed desirable. These the company will fully develop under "royalty" system—a plan now under successful operation. This "royalty" system makes mining of this character an INVESTMENT of known value and fair dividends rather than speculation of unknown character, but with promise of rich rewards.

The company is certain to earn a goodly percentage. One mine alone may produce enough ore to enable the company to pay [illegible] yearly dividend on its entire capital stock. Half a dozen such mines, collectively—each paying "handsome profits—will yield a dividend of from 25 to 75 per cent., depending entirely upon the ability and the foresight of the men who are directing the energies of the company.

The Integrity Mining and Milling Company was conceived by practical and successful business men—and not by mining speculators. But these business men have called to their aid master mineral and the organization of brain and brawn and shrewdness are heartily united in the effort to make the Integrity the most profitable mining venture in the entire field.

The company is capitalized for the same amount of $750,000 and under the laws of Missouri—represented by 750,000 shares of stock. This stock is all COMMON; share and share alike in the distribution of all dividends which it earns. The Integrity Mining and Milling Company is as clean an institution as is to be found in the United States, and any business man or banker in Kansas City will give a flattering testimony as to the character, reputation and financial standing of its officers. The Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Norton Thayer, and the Vice-President, Mr. George T. Moore, are both widely known in Eastern banking and financial circles.

President J. E. Myers is a thorough and practical mining developer and operator.

Mr. George T. Moore, Vice President, is also Vice President of the Weber Gas Engine Company of Kansas City.

Mr. Norton Thayer, Secretary-Treasurer, is the senior member of the Thayer-Moore Brokerage Company, one of the largest real estate and loan concerns in Kansas City.

The company has placed its first installment of stock on the market—150,000 shares, which is now selling at 25c (par value $1.00 per share). The second installment will be another 100,000 shares at 35c, and the third installment another 100,000 shares at 50c. After the third installment has been exhausted (i. e. after the first 350,000 shares have been realized on) the company expects to hold the balance of the stock at par—OR ABOVE.

Not less than 100 shares (cost $25, par value $100) may be purchased on cash terms, and 5 per cent discount is allowed when payment accompanies the order for stock.

However, The Integrity's payment plan will enable you to secure stock in this—one of the best Mining Organizations in the world—without the necessity of your making the slightest sacrifice.

$5.00 down and $5.00 per month for 9 months will procure for you 200 shares of Integrity stock (par value $200).

$7.50 down and $7.50 per month for 9 months buys 300 shares; and likewise in this proportion any amount which you may consider it expedient to invest.

If you purchase stock now at this price your same stock will soon be worth 35c and very little later will be worth 50c (an advance of 100 per cent).

Every indication points to the profitability of this stock being found at par within a twelvemonth. In the meantime, the investor should receive liberal dividends. However, the company does not urge its stock on the public, nor does it desire that anyone should buy until he or she has thoroughly investigated the matter from all standpoints. It has adopted this means of publicity in order to put itself in touch with a class of clean-cut investors and business men—people from out of all walks of life who are desirous of investing small or large sums in an institution whose aims and purposes are to make sound and substantial dividends out of a thoroughly legitimate undertaking.

You are invited to write and obtain a Free Copy of the book, "In the Rich Fields of Missouri"—a mere postcard request addressed to The Integrity Mining and Milling Company, 212 Heist Building, Kansas City, Mo., is all that is necessary. (Please address this office also in writing or in sending for stock; make remittances to the Treasurer).

And if you are in the market for high-class investment, better enter your subscription today, before the whole of this small allotment of 25c stock is subscribed.

To invest in the capital stock of this company is to obtain a gilt-edged investment. And the personnel of the company—the unimpeachable character and reputations of the men who are inviting you to invest your dollars with them—ought to be an absolute assurance of the sincerity of purpose underlying their efforts and a pledge of their ability to plant your money that two dollars will spring from where only one grew before.

Loaded For Hawks

By C. B. LEWIS

Copyright, 1906, by C. H. Sutcliffe

There was a great flattering and outcry among the fowls back of the farmhouse, with one long piercing shriek from a single hen, and Aunt Sally Warner dropped the breakfast dish she was wiping and ran out to see a hawk sailing away with a fat pullet in his talons. She waved her hands and cried "Shoo! Shoo!" but there was no salvation for the victim.

"What is it, aunty?" asked her niece, Miss Nettie Ward, from the city, who had come out to the old farm for a vacation.

"Why, another of them hawks has grabbed another of them chickens," was the reply. "I told pa only last night that he ought to git out and load the shotgun for me. I s'pose that hawks have got as much right to live as other folks, but I'll be snummed if"—

"But he did load the gun, and it's there behind the door," interrupted the niece.

"So it is! What an old goose I am getting to be! Nettie, did you ever fire a gun?"

"Never."

"Then I must show you how to do it. You take it in both hands this way. You draw it up to your shoulder this way. Then you shet your eyes and pull on the trigger with your finger, and the hawk drops dead. A hawk may come while I'm down cellar or upstairs and you are out here alone, and you want to be able to shoot him."

There were only uncle, aunt and Nettie at the farm, and the girl from the city soon wore off the newness and the novelty and became a bit lonesome. On account of this lonesomeness she almost bowed to a young man who passed the gate one evening at dusk and almost bowed to her, and when she went in she asked her aunt who it was.

"I hain't seen no strange young men around here myself," was the answer, "but I understand that the Stevenses, half a mile below us, have got a summer boarder. I guess he's the one you saw."

Things happen suddenly out in the country the same as in the city. Two days after seeing the young man Miss Nettie woke up with the toothache.

She had hardly come downstairs and told of it when the rural mail carrier left a letter for the aunt, which stated that a sister living ten miles away was ill and wanted her to drive over at once. She couldn't drive, and so Uncle Joe must go along. There was room for Nettie to go along, but the toothache kept getting worse. It didn't take her long to decide to stay home and doctor it. She could put on a bag of hot ashes, hold hot vinegar in her mouth and now and then press a wad of cotton batting wet with peppermint essence against the offending molar, and there was hope that she would be all right before night came.

During the long day, if the ache permitted, she could swing in her hammock, climb the cherry tree after the ripe fruit, hunt for hens' eggs in the barn and watch the ducks and geslings in the horse pond.

"There is only two things to look out for," said the aunt when she was ready to drive away. "Keep your eyes out for hawks and tramps. As we haven't seen a tramp for six weeks, I guess you won't be bothered, but them hawks are liable to drop down any time. If one comes, you be sure to shoot it. I've heard that shooting a gun has been known to cure the toothache."

Uncle and aunt had been gone an hour when the toothache ceased, and Miss Nettie piled into her hammock under the pear tree with a book. She was just opposite the kitchen door and only thirty feet away, and just inside the door stood the shotgun. The maid had great confidence that if hawk or tramp came along she would play the part of a heroine.

At 11 o'clock, when the young man who boarded down at Stevens' came past the house with his kodak, he was satisfied from the swinging of the hammock that Mrs. Nettie was reading.

Two hours later, when he had snapshotted an old lop horned cow, a crab apple tree and a brook that seemed to be flowing up hill, he returned to find the hammock so still that there was no doubt in his mind that the occupant was asleep. He had not past the house, walking as slowly as possible, when he caught sight of half the body of a man in an open window on the other side. Whoever it was had come sneaking down through the cornfield.

It was up to the young man to investigate. He started out with the impression that the intruder was a tramp, and he picked up a club, scaled the picket fence and gave a shout. The man in the window heard and drew back. He saw and dropped to the ground and ran around the corner of the house. He ran into the hammock and its sleeping occupant and fell over them and bounced said sleeping occupant out on the grass.

At about the same moment the young man from Stevens', who had started to pursue the unknown, caught his foot and took a roll, and he was so slow in picking the currant bushes out of his curly hair when he did get up that he turned the corner just as the bewildered Nettie had dashed into the kitchen, seized the gun and was ready for hawks.

She had been rudely awakened, more rudely dumped on the grass and stepped on, and in her half awake state she didn't know a hawk from a man until it was too late.

In a cool moment she never could have mastered the mechanism of that old shotgun. Under the momentary excitement she not only fired it, but sent a liberal quantity of bird shot into some one's legs.

She had only heard the report of the gun when she became panic stricken and fled into the kitchen and shut and bolted the door, and for the next three or four minutes she was in a half faint. Then she realized that she had shot a man. She remembered that he had cried out; she remembered that he had fallen on the grass. She wasn't overcome with horror at the thought. On the contrary, she had shot a tramp and was entitled to all praise.

Presently, as Miss Nettie listened with her ears against the door, she heard groans. That meant she had only wounded the tramp. Her heart was touched by those groans. She could not see the man after she had opened the door an inch or two, because he was just around the corner of the house, but she called out to him:

"Are you going away before I shoot again?"

"I—I can't say," was the reply. "I'm afraid I can't walk without help."

"Why not?"

"Because you have shot me in the legs."

"But my aunt told me to look out for hawks and tramps."

"But I am neither one nor the other."

Judging from his voice, he was a gentleman instead, and after drawing a long breath and breathing a prayer the girl stepped out and peered around the corner of the house. That young man from Stevens' was lying on his elbow on the grass. His face was very pale, and there were blood spots on the legs of his trousers. At sight of her he smiled faintly and said:

"My name is Arthur Welbourne. I am stopping with my relatives, the Stevenses. I live in the city and am an artist. If you will pardon me, I will say that I have heard you are Miss Ward. In passing the house while you slept in the hammock I saw a tramp climbing into a window. I gave the alarm, and he escaped. He it was who tumbled over your hammock and awoke you."

"And I thought you were a—a hawk or a tramp and shot you?" gasped the girl as she wrung her hands.

"But fortunately without serious results. All the shot struck my legs, but I may need assistance to get down home."

"But I shan't let you get down home. Here, take my hand and see if you can stand on your feet. Now hang on to my arm and let me get you into the house and on to the lounge. How could I have been such a silly girl? Now, then, you lie down here, and I'll run for Dr. James. I know he lives in the first house above here. I'll bring him right back with me."

She was gone before Mr. Welbourne could protest and was back in half an hour with the good natured country doctor. It took about an hour to pick out the score of bird shot that had been fired into the young man's legs, and during this time Miss Nettie walked up and down in the back yard with tears in her eyes and no care if the hawks came down and took every hen on the place.

The doctor assured her that Mr. Welbourne would live. Mr. Welbourne himself assured her that he was bound to live to make her further acquaintance, and he was taken down to the Stevens home in the doctor's buggy. He limped for three or four days, during which time Miss Nettie and her aunt called twice, and then he ceased limping and returned to the city.

Inside of a week he was something more than a caller. It beats all how fast a girl who shoots a man and the man who is shot by her can get acquainted—very well acquainted. Matrimony and hawks are sometimes shot at with a gun.

The Land of Ducks.

There are more ducks in China than in all the rest of the world. China, literally, is white with these birds, and day and night the country resounds with their metallic and scornful voices. Children herd ducks on every road, on every pond, on every farm, on every lake, on every river. There is no back yard without its duck house. There is no boat, little or great, without its duck quarters. Even in the cities of China ducks abound. They dodge between the coolies' legs. They flit, squawking, out of the way of the horses. Their indignant quack will not unseldom drown the roar of urban commerce. All over the land there are great duck hatching establishments, many of them of a capacity huge enough to produce 50,000 young ducks every year. The Chinese duck is extremely tender and delicate—the best tame duck for eating in the world. Duck among the Chinese is the staple delicacy. It is salted and smoked like ham or beef, and duck eggs are eaten as chicken eggs are in America.

The Oldest Bank Notes.

The oldest bank notes in the world are the "flying money," or convenient money, first issued in China in 2697 B. C. One writer tells that the ancient Chinese bank notes were in many respects similar to those of the present day, bearing the name of the bank, the date of issue, the number of the note, the signature of the official who issued it and its value in both figures and words. On the top of these curious notes was the following philosophic injunction: "Produce all you can, spend with economy." The note was printed in blue ink on paper made from the fiber of the mulberry tree. One of these notes bearing the date 1399 B. C. is still preserved in the Asiatic museum at St. Petersburg.

ROBERT KENNEDY, President W. H. JACKSON, Sec.-Treasurer

HEAD OFFICE

261 KING STREET WEST, - TORONTO, CANADA

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 20 acre one and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 20 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 60 feet, and it shows 6 inch nicolite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1285-492-1141 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of Ag. is equal to $650.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M.E.
New Liskeard, 17th November, 1906

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions will be filed in order received and we reserve the right to reduce or return same. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto. Read to-day as it may be too late to-morrow, as price will soon advance to par.

Heaviness, Lassitude, Drowsy and Dull

Do You Feel That Way?

How provoking these symptoms are! You sleep well, but when you awaken there is none of the exhilaration that sleep and rest should confer.

Instead of being alert, having quickness of apprehension, there is languor, dullness, a disinclination to do things.

Three causes for this feeling.

Lazy liver, lazy kidneys, and a mighty lazy stomach which does its work very poorly and compels the other organs to do things they are unequal to for any length of time.

Note the consequences—blood is filled with wastes—poisons weigh down the nervous system—rebuilding processes are absolutely stopped.

You'll note an instant change when you take Ferrozone.

Appetite improves, digestion becomes good as ever—skin grows ruddy and clear, all sense of langour, unsteadiness and depression fades away and finally disappears.

Ferrozone clarifies the brain, supplies tone and vigor, imparts clearness and strength. You feel like a new person, full of life, full of ambition, ready to do things—and able to do them also.

Think it over. Ferrozone is a tonic that uplifts, upbuilds, that nourishes and restores the sick by supplying the elements their weakened system need.

It can't help but do you good. For men, women and children, in fact anyone seeking strength and health, Ferrozone is invaluable; try it, sold by all druggists in 50c. boxes.

Miss Jessie Cressman was the charming little hostess last night at her father's residence on Brock St., when a number of her young friends spent a very pleasant evening. Local News of Jamaica Trouble

Mr. Ferguson, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, received a telegram confirming the news that the Kingston, Jamaica branch of that bank had been destroyed. The telegram read, "Our office building, Kingston Jamaica, destroyed by earthquake and fire. We are taking steps to resume business in new quarters with the least possible delay."

This demonstrates the pluck and up-to-date business principles actuating the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in just such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

3. One 40-acre claim in the Township of Coleman, Animas-Nipissing District, adjoining claim No. 1464 I-2.
4. Twenty acres in the Township of Coleman, Animas-Nipissing District, being the north half of the south-east quarter of the north half of lot 19, concession 7.
5. One 40-acre claim in the Animas-Nipissing District, being mining claim No. 1464 I-2, known as the "South Claim," situated about 1-4 of a mile west of Bay Lake and about one mile north of Animas-Nipissing. Total 160 acres.
6. 4,000 lots in the townsite of North Cobalt, beautifully situated on the west shore of Lake Temiskaming, containing 600 acres, close to the Green-Meehan and Red Rock properties, and only 100 miles from Toronto, on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, and is sure to be the coming summer resort, as there is good fishing, boating, and bathing. The finest scenery, most interesting surroundings, and a very bracing climate.

These lots alone in a year or two will be worth the full capitalization of the company. The mining properties of this company are far better value than a great number of properties now on the market at double the price, without the townsite, which practically acts as a security, which is sure to increase in value every year, and protect every shareholder in full for his investment, with the chance of making very large money out of the development of the mining property.

Parties wishing to secure an allotment can do so by wire or letter, as there is no doubt every share will be subscribed for before February 1st.

Governor of Jamaica Declines Aid From U.S.

So Says Wireless Message---Warships Arrive at Kingston With Food and Medical Supplies.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 20.—A wireless message from Admiral Evans was picked up at the Cape Henry station today, stating that the governor of Jamaica had practically declined every form of relief offered by Admiral Davis, although it was believed to be greatly needed.

MONTREALER RETURNS.

New York, Jan. 20.—The steamer Atrato which sailed from Kingston, Jamaica, Monday, nine hours before the earthquake, arrived here yesterday with 42 saloon passengers, most of them returning tourists. There were some Kingston residents on board, and several of them recognised the names of friends in the published list of the dead.

Dr. Albert E. Vipond of Montreal, whose father, T. S. Vipond, head of the Canadian Produce Company, is now in Kingston, was a passenger. His mother, brother Ernest Vipond, a barrister of Montreal, and a sister, are also there. Two of his brothers left Montreal for Kingston soon after the news of the disaster reached them and were expected to arrive there Monday.

A. S. Lascelles and Company of this city yesterday received this cablegram from C. E. Demercado, their resident partner at Kingston, dated Jan. 18:

"No tremors last 12 hours, families sheltered, plenty food, press exaggerates, conditions, except Kingston no damages, no fires."

REPORT FROM ADMIRAL EVANS.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The navy department yesterday received this despatch from Rear-Admiral Evans dated U.S.S. Maine, Guantanamo, Jan. 18.

"Whipple arrived from Kingston today with advices from Davis concerning practical destruction of the city. Business section destroyed. Fire followed earthquake. Government residences in suburbs destroyed. Steamship wharves intact. Shipping unharmed. Cuban consul killed. Other foreign residents seemed to have escaped. American consul absent, vice-consul representing. Blue Jackets guarding consulate possessions and guarding archives. Indiana landed 60. Reported mutiny at Penitentiary containing 600 prisoners. Governor considers whole situation well in hand. Four hundred and forty dead accounted for. Still many bodies in ruins. Many Americans asked for New York via steamer Prinz Friedrich Heinrich on the 19th. Am sending full extract of Davis' report over Cuban telegraph."

A despatch has reached the state department via Holland Bay, Jamaica, from the U.S. consul at Port Antonio, which says:

"No casualties Port Antonio; some property damaged here; people terrified; business suspended."

STEAMSHIPS WRECKED.

Kingston, Jan. 20.—The U.S. warships Indiana and Missouri arrived this morning from Guantanamo, bringing large quantities of medicines and food.

The torpedo destroyed Whipple arrived during the night with a boat load of medicines, which was sent ashore in charge of Surgeon McDonald. The cruiser Yankton is expected to arrive here soon.

Many of the Americans who were in Kingston at the time of the disaster have been taken aboard the warships. They intended to take passage for the United States on board the Hamburg-American Steamer Prinz Kitel Fredrich, but that vessel ran ashore near the wreck of the steamer Prinzessin Luise last night. The Plum Point lighthouse was smashed by the earthquake and vessels arriving at night have no lights to steer by. The steamer Prinz Waldemar is also hard shore. The wrecker Premier has gone to the aid of the stranded vessel.

Several slight shocks of earthquake were felt this night.

Four hundred and twenty dead were buried up to last night. The remaining bodies are being cremated. The death list it is now believed will be about 700.

The work of clearing the streets of debris is being pushed. Dynamite is being used to blow down downsome of the ruins.

The water supply has been improved, but food is very scarce, and the prices, therefore, are exorbitant.

Five hundred persons are still under treatment in the hospitals.

Invest in the Vast Wealth of Cobalt

Latest advices from the silver-laden district of Cobalt, shows that the boom there has practically only begun, and that vast fortunes await those with mind and judgment enough to invest in good properties.

The Cobalt Development Company, Limited, incorporated under the laws of Ontario, with a proposed capital of $5,000,000, divided into a similar number of shares at $1 each, have secured a splendid mine in Coleman township as well as others equally good in various rich silver-bearing properties.

The company is offering, for a limited time only, a block of stock at 20 cents on the dollar. These are shares that will doubtless double or treble in value within a few months. A glance at their adv. in this issue, will demonstrate that the directorate is composed of well-known and leading Toronto capitalists. For full particulars address Owen J. B. Yearsley, banker and broker, 61—62 Confideration Life Building, Toronto.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Normal School Tenders Let to Mr. F. Whitman

Peterborough's new Normal school has advanced another step towards completion. The tender of Fred Whitman of Brantford, for $53,800, has been accepted, and he will be asked to sign a contract for the erection not only of the school here, but as well as of the other three schools which the Government will build in the Province.

Local contractors tendered, but the bid of Mr. Whitman was the lowest submitted. A special to the Globe of Saturday, says:

The Government has awarded to Mr. Fred Whitman of Brantford, the contract to build the four new normal schools at a total cost of $212,100, divided as follows:—North Bay, $54,200; Peterborough, $53,800, Stratford, a $52,050; Hamilton, $52,050. Mr. Whitman built the new G.T.R. station at Brantford, and has lately completed several new buildings at the Ontario Agricultural College. The contract for the new schools was awarded on a call for tenders by public advertisement, and Mr. Whitman's tenders were the lowest.

The plans for the school were drawn by Mr. F. A. Heakes, the Provincial architect. The schools will be uniform in size, with 79 feet frontage, and a depth of 110 feet, and built of stone and brick. Including the basement there are four floors. The basement has class rooms for manual training, a gymnasium and space for ventilation. Ground floor, three class rooms, library, reading room, cloak rooms, principal's and secretary's room, main entrance from the front, two side entrances for the pupils, two stairways leading to the top of the building. First floor, two class rooms, a large lecture room, a chemical laboratory, preparation room, teachers' rooms, cloak rooms. Second floor, an assembly hall, capable of seating about 600 people, an art room and domestic science class room.

Many for Lakefield to Attend the Opening

It is now assured that many local citizens will take the 12:20 train for Lakefield today to attend the opening of the recently completed House of Refuge. Those attending will return from Lakefield by the 4.30 train.

Preparations for the formal opening are completed, and it will no doubt be a brilliant function. Practically all those to whom invitations have been sent have accepted, and there will no doubt be a very large attendance of the residents of the county.

A number of addresses will be given by the visiting gentlemen, and the local members of Parliament will speak.

Refreshments will be served to all the visitors, whether from outside the county or otherwise.

Mr. W. Collins Speaks of the Dairymen

Tomorrow night the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition directorate hold their annual meeting. I.e., an adjourned meeting. At this meeting it is up to the general public of Peterborough, to be present in good numbers, and display by their attendance that they will take a practical interest in Peterborough's great autumn show.

In conversation with Mr. Wm. Collins, a leading advocate of the exhibition, on Saturday evening, this gentleman told a Times' representative, that if the city puts up a suitable building, and gives the Dairymen's Association encouragement, it will mean that the Ontario Government will make a grant of possibly $5,000 annually. The Dairymen meeting here, our informant declared would mean a grand annual exhibition of dairying appliances, dairy cattle, dairy implements, etc. There are about 1300 cheese factories in Ontario, i.e., some 1000 in eastern, and about 300 in the western part of Ontario.

Wife for Dog Is an Even Trade

Canadian Describes Peculiar Ideas of Northern People—Arctic Winter Has Its Perils.

Edmonton, Jan. 20.—Ex-Constable West, who has been a member of the party carrying mail from Edmonton to Herschel Island, writes a letter in which he graphically describes the trip. "At Herschel Island," he says, "The Eskimos trap a great deal of fur, including the black and silver fox, marten, mink, otter, and beaver, trading the fur with the American whalers, who reap a bountiful harvest. I have seen a black fox, worth probably $1,000 traded for a sack of flour.

"The Eskimos have seven and eight wives apiece and trade them off with one another. There is no marriage ceremony performed, but whenever a Huskie trades a wife and receives another man's wife in exchange, they have a great feast and indulge in all kinds of dancing, which is very amusing to look at. Very often a woman is traded for a dog.

"The winter in the Arctic is extremely cold, and one cannot be too careful. Last winter two of the crew of the Bowhead were frozen to death only a hundred yards from their ship. They had been to the mainland for a load of wood, and were caught in a blizzard and frozen to death. A search party was sent out, but returned to the ship, as it could not endure the fierce blizzard and the force of the wind. The bodies of the two unfortunate men were found next morning.

"With reference to the minerals of the northern country, I know of a coal deposit on the Peel, the coal of which burns just like a paraffin oil. Nearly the whole of that country is well mineralized, and all it needs is for some one to go and prospect. Game is very plentiful. Moose, caribou, deer, and mountain sheep are there galore, and the rivers are full of fish, including white fish and king salmon."

Collide in Fog Ship Goes Down

Dundee Steamer Sunk by Vaderland and Three Sailors Are Drowned.

Dover, Eng., Jan. 20.—The Red Star Line steamer Vaderland, from New York, Jan. 9 for Antwerp, collided with and sank the Dundee steamer Naworth Castle, last night, four miles east of the South Goodwin Lightship. So far as known, all but three of the members of the crew of the Naworth Castle were rescued.

A dense fog prevailed at the time of the collision.

The Vaderland's bow was damaged below the water line and her forepeak was full of water, but the forward bulkhead remained tight, and she was enabled to proceed on her voyage.

The collision occurred between 2 and 3 a.m. The Naworth Castle sank immediately, carrying down Second Engineer Low, the steward, Parkinson, and a seaman named Nicholson. Seventeen other members of the crew boarded the Vaderland.

The Naworth Castle was bound from Newcastle to Pozzuoli, Italy.

Young Husband Is a Victim of Opium

Took Overdose of the Drug—Roy Taylor, Married at 15 to Girl Aged 16.

Toronto, Jan. 20.—Three hours of labor by three doctors failed to save the life of Roy Taylor, aged 17, who lived with his father-in-law, Mr. Charles Gooderham, butcher, 189 Crawford street.

Taylor arrived home about 1.30 yesterday morning and went to bed. His wife noticed that he was breathing heavily, and summoned Dr. Kerr of Dovercourt road, who in turn called Drs. Couch and Webster. Death is alleged to be due to opium. The deceased is said to have procured a bottle of the drug last Saturday night, and a bottle of it was found in the house.

Taylor was a son of George Taylor, a butcher in Dundas street, Toronto Junction. He was married when he was 15 to a daughter of Mr. Gooderham, his wife being a year older than himself.

During Friday afternoon and evening the deceased was at the shooting gallery kept by his brother-in-law, Jos. Gooderham, 87 Queen street west, and he left there at 10 o'clock at night. Where he was between the time he left there and arrived home is unknown.

Coroner J. E. Elliott is making an investigation, and, although he regards the death as suspicious, he has not yet ordered an inquest.

Train Wrecked and Many Bodies Burned

Thirteen Killed in Collision Near Lafayette, Indiana---Only Two Escape From One of the Coaches.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Passenger train No. 38, eastbound, on the Big Four Railroad, collided head-on with westbound freight train No. 95 at Fowler, Ind., a small town 28 miles west of Lafayette, Ind., at about 2.30 o'clock this morning, killing and injuring a number of persons.

The passenger train, which left Chicago, at 11.30 o'clock last night, was known as the "Queen City Special" and consisted of a combination baggage and day coach, three sleeping cars and the private car of C. E. Schaff, vice-president of the road.

The train was running at the rate of 50 miles an hour, and the force of the collision was so great that the tender of the passenger engine was driven the entire length of the combination car, in which were a number of passengers, estimated at from 15 to 25. All the dead and injured were taken from the wreckage of the car, none of the passengers in the sleepers having been hurt.

Soon after the collision the wreck caught fire from the engine coals, and all the coaches except the private car of Vice-President Schaff were destroyed.

Paul D. Harris, an attorney of Chicago, who was en route to Florida, was, with one other, who was badly hurt, the only other person to escape from the combination car. He reached Lafayette on another train and reported that the dead and injured, as fast as they were taken from the wreckage, were placed first in the Cincinnati sleeper. This car caught fire and the victims were hastily removed to the next car—the Indianapolis sleeper.

The fire also spread to this car and it became necessary to again transfer the dead and injured, this time to Vice-President Schaff's private car, in which they were taken to division headquarters at Kankakee, Ill.

One passenger was pinned under some wreckage and burned to death. The engineer of the passenger train was seriously injured, but will survive.

The fireman of one of the engines was crushed to death. His body was recovered.

According to Mr. Harris, both trains had orders to stop at Fowler, but the passenger train ran by the block signal, which the engineer failed to see on account of the fog.

Vice-President Schaff was not on board the train, but his wife occupied the private car. She was not injured.

FOG BLURRED LIGHT.

Big Four officials in a statement said:

"Train No. 38, known as the Queen City Special, left Chicago at 11.40 last night, collided with No. 95 fast merchandise freight train, 50 feet east of the east switch at Fowler, Ind. No. 38 ran by a stop signal at Fowler. This was a telegraphic block signal, and the red light was burning brightly, but the engineer failed to see it and stop, probably on account of the heavy fog.

"It is reported that there were 13 people in the combination car, and all of them were killed with the exception of two, one badly injured. The occupants of this car were either killed outright or so seriously injured as to be unable to escape, and their bodies were burned in the car.

"The dead; J. A. Shannon, Chicago, died on special train en route to Kankakee. Conductor Dreidinger of the passenger train, Baggagemaster McGee of passenger train, Fireman Alcott of passenger train, eleven occupants of the combination car, names unknown."

GOING 50 MILES AN HOUR.

The engineer of the freight train told the passengers that his train had a clear track according to orders and that the passenger train was going at fifty miles an hour when the accident occurred.

One man who was rescued when the flames were within six feet of him and another man who was thrown out of the window of the smoker into a ditch were the only passengers rescued from the smoker.

Couple Nearly Drown by the Ice Breaking

Kingston, Jan. 20.—Henry Eaves and wife, Simcoe Island, near here, had the narrowest kind of an escape from drowning yesterday afternoon. They were in the city in the morning, and about three o'clock started to drive across the St. Lawrence to their home. After proceeding about 500 feet from shore a large piece of ice weakened by the wet weather, gave way, precipitating the outfit into the water, which is forty feet deep at that spot.

The horse and cutter sank immediately. The woman was thrown out on solid ice, while her husband sank with the rig. He came to the surface again and managed to cling to some floating ice until rescued by several men attracted by the cries of the frightened couple.

The woman was almost blown into the water by a terrific wind storm blowing at the time.

Will Mayor Mowat Be Liberal Leader

Kingston, Jan. 20.—There is a persistent rumor that Mayor Mowat is the man likely to be chosen to succeed Senator George W. Ross in the leadership of the Ontario Liberal party.

There are several facts known here which add apparent truth to the report. Within the past few days it is known that Mayor Mowat has been in consultation with George P. Graham, M.L.A., at Brockville, and later he visited Ottawa on business.

It is further known that a delegation of leading Kingston Liberals has been both at Toronto and Ottawa on business which is stated to be in connection with the provincial leadership.

A prominent Liberal is authority for the statement that the son of Senator Ross in St. Thomas has offered to lend Mayor Mowat every assistance in being elected to the vacant provincial seat in West Middlesex.

Ex-Ald. F. J. Hoag, Mayor Mowat's closest opponent in the recent mayoralty contest, has been recommended by the local Conservatives for the position of city license commissioner, rendered vacant by the retirement of W. B. Dalton.

Car Builders Get Increase.

Montreal, Jan. 19.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company have granted an all-round increase in wages to the car-builders of the company.

A committee representing the men has been here for a week in conference with Vice-President McNicol, and they express themselves as fully satisfied with the settlement.

Sue Alderman Who Talked of Bribery

Montreal, Jan. 20.—The Montreal Light, Heat, and Power Company, who are fighting for extension of franchise, are out with an action for $25,000 against Alderman Clerihue, one of the leading English members of the Council, because he stated in open Council that he had been offered a bribe by interests acting on behalf of the Power Company. The company asked Ald. Clerihue to retract, but he refuses to do so, and insists that he can show how he was waited on by a wealthy property holder in his ward when the street lighting contract was under consideration and offered a bribe of several thousand dollars if he would vote for the Power Company. Since then Ald. Clerihue has further incurred the displeasure of the power interests by opposing the merger of the leading cotton companies, which was also put through by them.

WORTH FINDING

Discovery of a Young Lady Bookkeeper.

Food has much to do with how one accomplishes any kind of work; poorly digested or improper food is the most frequent cause of nervous break-down and the surest way back to health is by properly selected food.

A young lady in Calif., says, "Much of the time until I was 19 years old I had poor digestion caused by eating too much starchy and greasy food; many days I would suffer if I ate anything at all.

"Entering the office of a large firm as accountant, I soon broke down under the work and from being insufficiently nourished because I did not digest my food. I suffered almost constantly with nervous sick headache.

"About that time Grape-Nuts was recommended to me and on trying it I was really astonished at the result for it was the first food that had really agreed with me for years.

"Within a day or two my headaches stopped; my nerves began to get strong and my brain clear, so that when I took up my work again I was able, alone, to do the entire work before done by two.

"I ate nothing but Grape-Nuts with cream, for lunch each day sometimes beating up a raw egg with it. I have found it very beneficial eaten dry, chewed well, when tired or sorrowful.

"My gain under Grape-Nuts diet was rapid and still continues. I gained one or two pounds a week at first now I hold my normal healthy weight and I never suffer from indigestion—thanks to Grape-Nuts!

"My brother-in-law has been restored to perfect health upon a Grape-Nuts diet. We naturally think the world and all of the food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Thousands are in the same lot—all sickly, bilious and feeling far from well.

Trouble is, the system is clogged with impurities which need to be cleared away.

Before downright sickness arrives you should cleanse and purify the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

At once you feel their mighty influence building up weak spots, clearing out disease, and putting you again on your feet.

These purely vegetable pills change your tired, worn-out condition to one of health and vigor, because they supply the body with nourishing blood that builds up and enlivens the entire system.

Mr. John Whitley, of Stanwood, P. O., Ont., knows the merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and says: "I wouldn't be alive today had it not been for Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Last winter I was sick with grippe, and when spring came I was weak, bilious and rheumatic. I used enough medicine to cure twenty times, but I didn't get any help till I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They purified my blood, took the yellow color out of my face, put new tone in my stomach, and increased my appetite. The bilious attacks and rheumatic pains gradually departed, and Dr. Hamilton's Pills made a new man of me. I proved their merit, and proclaim them a medicine for all men."

If better health and prompt recovery are important, get Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut today. At all dealers, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

JAMAICA RELIEF WORK

The Canadian Government is right in getting ready to do its duty in the case of Jamaica. If anything, it is a trifle tardy in acting. Still, if it cooperates with the Colonial Office and goes effectively to the assistance of our sister colony—our complementary colony—we shall probably be well represented in the relief operations at Kingston.

A Canadian shipload of Canadian food and clothing and the like, despatched to the scene of the disaster, would be a dramatic way of showing sympathy. If it is as prompt and as good a way as another, it need not be rejected on account of its dramatic qualities. The speed required would, perhaps, be a bar to the successful carrying through of such a scheme, and, after all, the chief thing is to get our help to Jamaica in the shortest possible time.

May Get Increases

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—The immediate increase of maximum and minimum salaries by at least 50 per cent., followed by an annual increase of $50 until the maximum is reached, was the request made to the Minister of Customs and the Minister of Marine and Fisheries yesterday morning by a delegation of at least 100 from the outside customs service. The delegation was supported by a large number of members of Parliament, both Conservative and Liberal. The petition called attention to the enormous advance in customs receipts, calling for much additional work, and to the great increase in the cost of living. Hon. Mr. Paterson promised serious consideration of the request, and stated that a supplementary estimate might be taken to cover the needed increase.

NO ENGLISH OFFICIALS KILLED.

London, Jan. 19.—One brief telegram from Governor Swettenham announcing that Sir James Ferguson's body had been found in the ruins of a cigar store and was subsequently buried and adding that no English officials were killed, or injured, was the only additional information regarding the Kingston catastrophe received at the Colonial Office yesterday.

The difficulties in the way of communicating with Kingston, the constantly growing lists of dead and injured, the knowledge that many of the latter will be buried unidentified, and the reports of threatened engulfment of the ruins of the city combine to increase the anxiety of their relatives and friends in this country who are besieging all the possible sources of information in quest of news.

Secretary Taft's Decision re Niagara Power

Diverting 15,000 Feet and Importing 100,000 H.P. Would Not Affect Falls Much.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Secretary of War Taft has just rendered his decision upon the applications under the Burton Act for the issue of permits to divert waters for power from the Niagara Falls on the American side, and to transmit electrical current developed from water power on the Canadian side into the United States. The secretary concludes that with a diversion of 15,000 cubic feet on the American side and the transmission of 100,000 horse-power from the Canadian side, the scenic grandeur of the Falls will not be affected substantially or perceptibly to the eye.

On the American side the Niagara Falls Hydraulic and Manufacturing Company will receive a permit for the diversion of 5,500 cubic second feet.

IMPORTATION FROM CANADA.

The water for the Erie Canal is to be used under a special permit limiting the consumption to not more than 400 cubic feet with provision that it shall not confer any right upon the consumer of the water to take the water from the canal without authority and subject to the conditions imposed by the canal authorities.

Relative to the transmission of electric current from Canada, the secretary decides to issue permits for the importation of such current to the following amounts:

The International Railway Company, 1,500 horse-power; the Ontario Power Company, 60,000 horse-power; the Canadian Niagara Falls Power Company, 52,500 horse-power, and the Electrical Development Company, 46,000 horse-power.

Ant Baths.

Persons who are troubled with rheumatism in Russia take ant baths as a cure. It is done in this way by the peasants near Moscow. Finding an ants' nest, he puts into a linen bag the ants, their eggs and necessarily considerable dirt. Returning to the home, he plunges into the hot water of the bath his bag of ants, which he has previously fastened tightly at the mouth. After several minutes the water gives off a very strong penetrating odor of formic acid. The bath is now ready, and the invalid is put into it. Such a bath has a very active irritant action on the skin, being, in fact, a counter irritation that causes the rheumatic pains to disappear.—Strand Magazine.

Venezuelan Cowboys.

When the Venezuelan cowboy wishes to catch a bull or cow for branding or for any purpose, he rides alongside it and, with horse and bovine on the dead run, stoops from his saddle, grasps the creature's tail and with a sharp, peculiar twist sends the animal rolling on its back. From the force with which it falls the creature's horns almost invariably pin its head to the ground, giving the vaquero time to dismount and sit on its head, holding the animal helpless to rise, while a companion ties its legs.

Genius and Work.

Men give me credit for genius. All the genius I have lies just in this: When I have a subject in hand I study it profoundly. Day and night it is before me. I explore it in all its bearings. My mind becomes pervaded with it. Then the effort which I make the people are pleased to call the fruit of genius. It is the fruit of labor and thought.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Stippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenuous and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

Property

This Company owns in fee, by deed of sale from the Government of Quebec, concession number 12, south part of lot 3, range 5, Pontiac County, Block "A," containing 200 acres.

The property is situated at the "Height of Land" on Opasatica Lake, Province of Quebec, just east of Larder Lake Province of Ontario, about 50 miles north of Cobalt.

The geological formation is conglomerite and quartzite, syenite, diorite, together with large bodies of grey quartzite.

Considerable prospecting on the property shows up about 25 veins, one of which, known as number "ONE," is over 5,000 feet long, with a width of from three to six feet. About five hundred feet of this vein has been stripped, showing large bodies of quartz carrying gold, which is plainly visible to the naked eye.

Six hundred feet south of vein number "ONE" another vein between walls was discovered, the formation being identical with vein number "ONE." This vein is about eighteen inches wide and is known as number "TWO." Other veins cross these, and the entire ground appears to be heavily mineralized. Fifty thousand tons of ore are estimated now in sight, and ready for a mill.

Assays

Assays from vein number "ONE" and vein number "TWO" appear below:

MONTREAL, December 28, 1906.

KING OF THE NORTH GOLD MINES COMPANY,
Montreal, Que.

Gentlemen:—I desire to report that during the months of August and September, 1906, I examined your mining property near Opasatica Lake, Quebec, and found that same consists of 200 acres of ground, which was part of the original discovery made by Ollier in July, 1906. I found one vein between well defined walls, and traced it for a distance of about 5,000 feet; this vein runs from three to six feet wide, and forty pounds of ore from this vein yielded by washing an approximate of $5.00 worth of free gold.

There are quite a number of strongly defined veins on the property, all carrying quartz containing gold, a great deal of which is visible to the naked eye. Several very large blow-outs have occurred on these veins, and enormous amounts of gold bearing quartz have been thrown up on the ground. I estimate the quantity of ore, now ready for the mill, at upwards of 850,000 tons, and believe from the tests that I have made, that this ore will easily average $10.00 of gold to the ton.

The ore is free milling and contains coarse gold, which can be very readily separated. The veins are well defined, and I am of the opinion that enormous quantities of ore will be obtained from the property, and that it will become a most valuable mine. The property has timber on it sufficient for all mining improvements and fuel, together with water for the separation of the ore.

Very truly yours,
(Sgd.) T. SIMARD,
I. C.

Ville Marie, County Pontiac.

The ore is free milling and can be treated at a nominal expense on the ground, the gold being extracted and shipped in the form of bullion.

Transportation and Construction Facilities

Every facility needed is on the property, in the shape of ample timber for mining, construction work, and fuel, while from Lake Opasatica can be obtained all the water necessary.

With the exception of a short distance, transportation is via water direct to the property from Lake Temiskamingue, and supplies can be brought in and out at a very low coal.

Mill

It is proposed at once to erect a mill for the treatment of the ore, and contracts are now underway, and it is anticipated that it will be in operation not later than April 1, 1907, and dividends should be forthcoming immediately thereafter.

Prospective Dividends

It is a well-known fact that free milling gold ore, in the quantity that the "KING OF THE NORTH" has, can be mined, milled, and all expenses paid, for less than $100 per ton. Estimating that the ore of the KING OF THE NORTH" mine only averages $50.00 per ton, and that the expenses are $5.00 per ton, the profit should be as follows:—

100 tons per day at $50.00 ..... $5,000.00
Less cost of 100 tons at $5.00 ..... 500.00
$4,500.00

Or per annum, $1,350,000.00; equal to 135 per cent. on the Share Capital.

We believe that the above figures will be vastly exceeded, as the ore is phenomenally rich, and the probabilities are that the district of which the "KING OF THE NORTH" is the centre will be the greatest and richest ore field in the world.

We offer Fifty Thousand shares of the above stock at $1.00 per share, and reserve the right to advance the price to $1.50 per share without notice.

Send in your orders immediately by draft on Montreal, Post Office Order or Certified Cheque to

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1905, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 30 acre one and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronie quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This Last vein has been traced for 1 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 50 feet, and it shows 5 inch nicolite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 678-1285-402-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 50c. is equal to $630.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M.E.
New Liskeard, 17th November, 1906.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions will be filed in order received and we reserve the right to reduce or refuse same. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto. Send today or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

one side, and he was able to catch a glimpse of the Catinat house.

It was surrounded on every side by an immense crowd.

The house of the Huguenot merchant was a tall, narrow building, standing at the corner of the Rue St. Martin and the Rue de Biron. It was four stories in height, grim and grave like its owner, with high peaked roof, long diamond paned windows, a framework of black wood, with gray plaster filling the interstices, and five stone steps which led up to the narrow and somber door. The upper story was but a warehouse, in which the trader kept his stock, but the second and third were furnished with balconies edged with stout wooden balustrades. As the uncle and the nephew sprang out of the caleche they found themselves upon the outskirts of a dense crowd of people, who were swaying and tossing with excitement, their chins all thrown forward and their gaze directed upward. Following their eyes, the young officer saw a sight which left him standing bereft of every sensation save amazement.

From the upper balcony there was hanging head downward a man clad in the bright blue coat and white breeches of one of the king's dragoons. His hat and wig had dropped off, and his close cropped head swung slowly backward and forward a good fifty feet above the pavement. His voice resounded over the whole place until the air was filled with his screams for mercy.

"Pull me up, son of the devil, pull me up!" he screamed.

Above him at the corner of the balcony there stood a young man who leaned with a bent back over the balustrade and who held the dangling dragoon by either ankle. His face, however, was not directed toward his victim, but was half turned over his shoulder to confront a group of soldiers who were clustering at the long open window which opened out into the balcony.

Suddenly the crowd gave a groan of excitement. The young man had released his grip upon one of the ankles, and the dragoon hung now by one only, his other leg flapping helplessly in the air.

"Pull me up, son of the devil, pull me up!" he screamed. "Would you murder me, then? Help, good people, help!"

"Do you want to come up, captain?" said the strong, clear voice of the young man above him, speaking excellent French.

"Yes, sacred name of God, yes!"

"Order off your men, then."

"Away, you dolts, you imbeciles! Do you wish to see me dashed to pieces? Away, I say! Off with you!"

"That is better," said the youth when the soldiers had vanished from the window. He gave a tug at the dragoon's leg as he spoke, which jerked him up so far that he could twist round and catch hold of the lower edge of the balcony. "How do you find yourself now?" he asked.

"Let me up, sir; let me up!"

"All in good time. I fear that it is inconvenient to you to talk with your heels in the air. I am going to pull you up, but only on conditions."

"Oh, they are granted! I am slipping!"

"You will leave this house—you and your men. You will not trouble this old man or this young girl any further. Do you promise?"

"Oh, yes; we shall go! Only pull me up!"

"Not so fast. It may be easier to talk to you like this. I do not know how the laws are over here. Maybe this sort of thing is not permitted. You will promise me that I shall have no trouble over the matter."

"None, none. Only pull me up!"

"Very good. Come along."

He dragged at the dragoon's leg, while the other gripped his way up the balustrade until amid a burst of congratulation from the crowd he tumbled all in a heap over the rail on to the balcony, where he lay for a few moments as he had fallen. Then, staggering to his feet, without a glance at his opponent, he rushed with a bellow of rage through the open window.

While this little drama had been enacted overhead the young guardsman had shaken off his first stupor of amazement and had pushed his way through the crowd with such vigor that he and his companion had nearly reached the bottom of the steps. The uniform of the king's guard was in itself a passport anywhere, and the face of old Catinat was so well known in the district that every one drew back to clear a path for him toward his house. The door was flung open for them, and an old servant stood wringing his hands in the dark passage.

"Oh, master! Oh, master!" he cried. "Such doings! Such infamy!"

As he spoke a clatter and shouting which had burst out again upstairs ended suddenly in a tremendous crash, with volleys of oaths and a prolonged bumping and smashing, which shook the old house to its foundations. The soldier and the Huguenot rushed swiftly up the first flight of stairs and were about to ascend the second one, from the head of which the uproar seemed to proceed, when four men, so locked together that they formed but one rolling bundle, came thudding down amid a debris of splintered stair rails and writhed and struggled upon the landing, staggering up, falling down, and all breathing together like the wind in a chimney. So twisted and twined were they that it was hard to pick one from the other save that the innermost was clad in black Flemish cloth, while the three who clung to him were soldiers of the king. Yet so strong and vigorous was the man whom they tried to hold that as often as he could find his feet he dragged them after him from end to end of the passage, as a bear might pull the curs which had fastened on to his haunches. An officer, who had rushed down at the heels of the brawlers, thrust his hands in to catch the civilian by the throat, but he whipped them back again with an oath as the man's strong white teeth met in his left thumb. Clapping the wound to his mouth, he flashed out his sword and was about to drive it through the body of his unarmed opponent when De Catinat sprang forward and caught him by the wrist.

"You villain, Dalbert!" he cried.

The sudden appearance of one of the king's own bodyguard had a magic effect upon the brawlers. Dalbert sprang back, with his thumb still in his mouth and his sword drooping, scowling darkly at the newcomer. His troopers had released their victim and stood panting in a line, while the young man leaned against the wall, brushing the dust from his black coat.

"I had a little account to settle with you before, Dalbert," said De Catinat, unsheathing his rapier. Your sword, sir."

"I have no quarrel with you."

"No?" De Catinat stepped forward and struck him across the face with his open hand. "It seems to me that you have one now," said he.

"Hell and furies!" screamed the captain. "To your arms, men! Hola, there, from above! Cut down this fellow and seize your prisoner! Hola! In the king's name!"

At his call a dozen more troopers came hurrying down the stairs, while the three upon the landing advanced upon their former antagonist. He slipped by them, however, and caught out of the old merchant's hand the thick oak stick.

The Western Issue having been wholly taken up by the Ranching, Farming and Commercial men of Western Canada, and more than half of the present issue has been already subscribed.

THE ONLY PACKERS OF BEEF, PORK AND OTHER FOOD PRODUCTS OF THE RANCHES AND FARMS OF WESTERN CANADA.

This Company has already about 1,000 shareholders, all of whom have paid for their shares in cash on equal terms, and shares are allotted by priority of application.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 20th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary:—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over-applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $500,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 10c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 200,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), the company should purchase at first cost one of two whole sections containing an area of one square mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for their factories and Canneries in each center and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold, the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares may be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid (may increase to 10 fully paid $100-Share for each Share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions (20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100-Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 30TH, 1906.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $[illegible],000,000, representing shipments of 350 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,875 cattle [illegible] sheep and 34,[illegible] hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present; The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs. J. A. Banfield, F. B. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, (W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION:

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery, having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 60 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. H. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

Rosy Cheeks

The Ambition of Every Woman

Hollow cheeks with dark lines, sallow complexion —how a woman hates them.

But rosy cheeks, clear skin, bright eyes—give them to a woman and she is happy.

In the blood is found the first sign of trouble.

It grows thin and watery, its color fades, and increasing pallor and sallowness give the outward evidence of the change within.

Soon the nerves weaken, the heart easily tires and palpitates, strength declines.

The delicate mechanism of the womanly functions is interfered with, and pleasures, activities and even duties are loaded down with the burden of declining health.

Why is it that women neglect the first warnings?

Usually she waits till she is ready to drop—often then it's too late.

These conditions are easily checked, easily cured in the beginning,—but even when long established Ferrozone will remove the cause and cure the trouble.

Ferrozone's action aids the three principal functions of the body — digestion, assimilation, elimination.

By strengthening digestion it forms an abundance of rich, red blood—this gives good color.

By perfecting assimilation Ferrozone supplies nutrition — this gives strength, vim, stability.

Elimination is assured because Ferrozone quickens the actions of the liver, kidneys and bowels—this guarantees the maintenance of vigorous health.

Ferrozone puts you on the right road—the one that leads to health.

Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly, not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrozone.

As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrozone is unrivalled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up and strengthen. Try it yourself — sold everywhere in 50c. boxes.

T. V. Canal Will Bring Americans

In an address given in Toronto in the interests of the preservation of the game of the province of Ontario, Mr. Crouse, secretary of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association, stated that Ontario had never attracted the best class of American sportsmen, because of the lack of good hotel accommodation. The Trent Valley Canal when completed, would involve the erection of good hotels and the consequent stream of wealthy Americans.

To Bradburn May Go to Brantford

Following after the announcement, first contained in The Times, that Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, have bought the local opera house, comes a statement that Mr. Brantburn, former proprietor is, in conjunction with Mr. Small, the Toronto theater owner, to erect a similar place of amusement in Brantford. This rumor, whilst possibly correct, has not been confirmed. Should it prove true the Brantford theater-goers, will learn some new wrinkles in the conduct of an opera house.

New Boats for Trent Valley Canal

Things are beginning to look lively for next season's navigation on the Trent Valley Canal. In addition to the palatial steamer to be placed on those waters by the Otonabee Navigation Company, heretofore described in these columns, the Dominion Government is building four new craft for use on the canal. Theselatter include a steam tug being built at Point St. Charles by Mr. G. Hickey, a steel hull steamer, 100 feet long, the material of which is being made at Three Rivers, Que., and two larger scows, one with a boiler and derrick.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulæ, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

VOL XXXV. NO. 18 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, JANUARY 22 1907 PRICE TWO CENTS

Formal Opening of the House of Refuge

Some Nine Hundred People Were at the Opening of the County's New Home for Its Poor.

Yesterday afternoon some 800 to 900 people, from all parts of the county met at the new House of Refuge, about a mile and a half to the east of the village of Lakefield, to participate and assist in the formal opening of this recent acquisition to the county's charitable institutions.

On arrival at the Lakefield depot the first surprise sprung on the Peterborough, and other visitors who arrived by G.T.R., was a charge of 15 cents each for the drive to the seat of the current festivities notwithstanding the fact as advertised in the Peterborough papers that the county would supply free transportation. The same was in effect for the return trip.

As the train pulled into the Lakefield station the Citizens' Band of that village, welcomed the incomers by playing "God save the King." Those who arrived were first shown through the fine building. Starting with the basement, which has cement floors throughout, except in the dining rooms, one was surprised by the external and sanitary conditions prevailing.

The building is divided in its center by a hall which separates the male from the female quarters. In the basement at the north end are two cells with regular prison doors, made of iron bars, for refractory patients. On this floor is a modern laundry supplied with hot and cold water above stationery tubs. A new fashioned hot air mechanical pump supplies both hard and soft, hot and cold water throughout the entire building. The hard water is pumped to a tank, 22 feet above its source, in the attic, as is the soft water.

All the many stairs throughout the building are made of hardwood, as are all floors above the basement.

The main building is 75x45 feet in size, with an annex to the rear, containing hospital, two wards, boiler room and the caretaker's quarters, some 25x33 feet. In the annex are fine lavatories and a medicine room. The contract for the heavy masonry of Dunmer. On the ground floor is a room devoted to care of edibles for which a large refrigerator is on the way.

On the first floor are reception rooms and dormitories, the latter containing some 60 cots, already furnished in iron bedsteads and looking immaculate in white bed spreads and bed linen; this includes the accommodations for both sexes.

On the first floor to the south or male apartments is a large dining room with three tables, each seating eleven at once, and in the women's ward two tables for a similar number each. One kitchen in the basement suffices for the whole establishment.

The building is lighted throughout by electricity and heated by a modern steam plant. In each dining room are sinks, with hot and cold water, where the female inmates will after each meal wash the dishes, thus saving the extra trips, to and from the kitchen. From the top of the building to the basement are large chutes, through which soiled clothes will be conveyed to the laundry.

For fire protection purposes the walls dividing the male and female wards are made of 14-inch solid brick, with suitably fire-proof rendered doors.

Messrs. Baptie Bros., of Lakefield, had the contract of this handsome county building, and have certainly made a good result of their work. Their contract amounted to some $18,600. They sublet the painting contract to Mr. J. Power, Lakefield, and the brickwork to Mr. Jas. J. McPherson, Peterborough. Mr. J. Kelly, Lakefield, had the contract for electric lighting. Work on the building began last June and was completed some three weeks ago.

Messrs. Baptie Bros., the contractors of the building, have recently completed the Traders Bank Building, Tanner Bros., drug store, and other buildings in Lakefield.

During the ceremonies the Lakefield Citizens' Band once more played to begin with, God save the King, and other selections. After the speeches were over, refreshments were served in the dining rooms.

It might be well to remind our readers that the House of Refuge is situated on the property, formerly known as the Preston farm, which has good soil and covers about 100 acres with several good buildings. The price paid was $6,600.

THE SPEECHES.

Warden Johnston, the first speaker, said he was glad to welcome the county guests. He was glad to see the sun shine brightly on so commendable a service. He was pleased to see so many, including Dr. Bruce Smith present. Ratepayers, when also, should contribute to so good an object, and were well able to see where their money has been spent. He then called upon Mr. Shaw, who unfortunately was up Cairo at the time. After this Mr. Peck, county solicitor, was called on and complimented the county on their splendid deed in erecting the House of Refuge, a place for sheltering old and poor people of the county. Since he was a boy he has recognized the need of a place to shelter the poor. The grand juries for years have recommended the need of a House of Refuge. As far as he was concerned, he had no power to act in the matter. There have been somewhat similar places in the city, the county council thought that the wealthy city should have put up funds for such a purpose. Three or four years ago the Ontario Legislature gave counties power to erect such buildings. The council of the county of Peterborough took hold of the matter and have erected a building, after hard work that is a credit to the county. He gave special credit to Mr. Harry Garbutt for the good work he has done.

Mr Ed. Elliott, county treasurer, next took the chair, and expressed his pleasure at meeting the large crowd present, especially the large representation from Smith, in regards to taking the initiative in this matter. Mr. Peck had said there were obstacles in the way. The law said the building must be completed by January 1st, 1908. The councillors were afraid the building could not be completed in the specified time. However concentrated effort has resulted in completion of a splendid building.

Reeve Robt. Scott of Smith, next said he had not been expected to speak. The councillors have done well in building the present structure. It is no disgrace to go to the poor house as at present inaugurated.

Mr. Moher, reeve of Douro, then mounted the chair and said speech making was not his forte. Any one here today could easily see that the building they were in was a credit to the county. On calm consideration, this building was not a good home for those who would not but could work. We who are gifted more than the inmates should not grudge the assistance given.

Mr. Thompson, reeve of Havelock, said it afforded him much pleasure on his first visit to Lakefield to see the prosperous appearance of Lakefield, perhaps jokingly, the most prosperous village in Ontario after Havelock. He was glad to see so many good looking ladies present. He complimented both the architect and the council for the splendid building erected.

The good Book says we "should bear one another's burdens." He thought the title should be the House of Industry not the House of Refuge as all the inmates can quickly earn their keep. (Applause.)

Mr. McNulty, reeve of Asphodel, remarked that it was not worth while to take off his fur coat. He had a splendid speech prepared, but unfortunately forgot it.

He was not present when the day's program was arranged. He was much pleased and delighted with the grand structure the council has erected, as well as the good work of the architect.

Col. McNachtan thanked the warden and county of Peterborough for their invitation. He conveyed the congratulations of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham over the splendid work the Peterborough councillors have done to relieve the needs of the poor. He then went on to compare the difficulties of his counties over bridge matters with similar trouble in this county. The outgoing council of Peterborough will never regret the good work they have done. He then went on to say that Mr. Ed. Elliott, county clerk, has always done his work and done it well.

Rev. Father Phelan of Young's Point, was next called on. Father Phelan thanked the committee for their invitation. He thought this would be a day for the politicians, and that the clergy might be left out. He congratulated the out-going council on the magnificent building they had erected. The Catholics had a House of Providence in Peterborough, that was now overflowing. He again thanked the warden. He knew that all present would leave with kindly words for Lakefield and her people.

Rev. Mr. Bedford, pastor of the Lakefield Methodist church, said he was present just as the rest to express his appreciation on being present on this occasion. He thought the building a credit to all concerned. He will always be pleased to do all in his power for the inmates. Lakefield will do all in its power to assist the building and its inmates.

Rev. Mr. Burns then asked God's blessing upon the building, and made a fervent appeal for mercy and guidance. He thanked God for his blessing upon the noble work erected here in the interests of the poor.

The warden then declared the institution open and officially handed it over to his successors in the county council. He called upon Dr. Bruce Smith, of the Ontario Government.

Dr. Bruce Smith started off by saying that the Hon. Mr. Hanna had desired to come to this opening, but had been compelled by business, to go to Quebec.

He hoped that, with this building now erected, the doors of the jail at Peterborough would soon be barred against the worthy poor. There are now 13,000 worthy poor, whose only crime is old age and poverty, who are housed in houses of Refuge in the Province of Ontario. He then went on to say how once in Western Ontario, a former warden of that county was, to his knowledge, an inmate of the House of Refuge in the same county. He advised those in charge of the Lakefield House of Refuge not to follow a pleasure policy. "Be large spirited, don't watch how many a certain township sends to the House of Refuge. Make it a county matter or your efforts will fail." If this House of Refuge is to exist use a broad policy, for the rich help the poor. There are only three counties in Ontario which stick to the township demands for their respective poor. Let Peterborough uphold its well-known name and uphold a broad policy. To the citizens of Lakefield he said he hoped that the grounds about the house would soon be a model farm of the county. "Do not forget you people of Lakefield, that you owe a certain amount to the people within these walls. If this building had been near the city of Peterborough, they would get drives, entertainments, etc. You do this likewise for the people within these walls.

Mr. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., said he thought all that could be said had been said. He congratulated the out-going council on their good work. He concurred with Dr. Bruce Smith in his remarks. The council will not likely stop with the present splendid building, but will have a model farm.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., congratulated the council on the splendid work they have done. He was glad that the old stain on the county of Peterborough, whereby old people would be committed as vagrants, was now at an end. He heartily endorsed Dr. Bruce Smith's remarks regarding the county maintaining the House of Refuge, instead of asking the poor back townships to put up for their poor. Mr. Hall then went on to talk of the duty of the Government to support houses of industries.

The meeting then adjourned for refreshments.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Fast and Clean Hockey at Brock St. Rink Last Night—A Large and Enthusiastic Audience.

The Peterborough Hockey team defeated the Midland puck chasers last night on the Brock street rink, in the best exhibition of hockey played here this season. The score was 14—5 in favor of the locals who put upon exceedingly fast game in both halves.

The Brock street rink was crowded to its utmost capacity by an enthusiastic audience. The game characterized by the brilliant rushes of both teams, Gould for the visitors, and Whiteroft for the home brews, being the stars of their respective crews.

The ice being in splendid condition the game proved speedy and exciting from start to finish. Lang in goal made many fine stops for the locals, and though McDonald in the nets for Midland, put up a good game, he was no match for the local bunch.

The score at half-time stood 5—2 in favor of Peterborough.

The following was the line-up:

Escaped Ten Years.

St. John, N.B., Jan. 20.—A thorough system of searching out those who should pay taxes here has had had splendid results. To show that the new system is rounding up citizens never before contributing their share towards the civic expenses, the example of a man who appeared yesterday before the board well illustrates. This man said that he had moved to this city from another part of the province about ten years ago and during these years has lived in various parts of the city, and is now finally discovered in the week end. During the ten years this fortunate individual never received a tax bill, nor was once pursued by a constable. He was inclined indeed to be indignant that he should have to pay anything now. The arrears collected under the new system amount to $21,122, as against a figure slightly over $10,000 last year, an increase of over $10,000.

NOVEL CURE FOR COLDS

Healing Medication That is Breathed Giving Quick Relief.

It seems just as ridiculous to put medicine into the stomach to cure a cold in the head or lungs as does to go out in the rain it wewantto keep dry.

The fact that many people right in Peterborough, cough and hawk and snuffle for days and weeks after they treat a cold with the usual stomach dosing, shows how valueless are the ordinary cough and cold cures.

The right way to cure a cold in the head or a cough and irritation in the throat and lungs, is by breathing Hyomei's medicated air. Put a few drops of Hyomei in the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit and breathe this healing air for a few times and immediate relief will be noted. The medication goes right to the spot where the disease germs are located and renders them harmless in the future.

At the same time the soothing and healing effects of Hyomei on the irritated mucous membrane gives quick relief, and the cough or cold is broken up.

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a bottle of Hyomei, the inhaler and a medicine dropper, costs but $1, while extra bottles of Hyomei, if needed, can be obtained for only 50c.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei, or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physician will give your case the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. The City Fathers in Committee Last Night

City's Application for Special Legislation Revised ---Government to be Urged to Lease No 4 Dam to Otonabee Power Company.

The city fathers met in Committee of the Whole Council last night, when there were present, His Worship Mayor McWilliams presiding and Aldermen Bradburn, Phelan, Morrow, Tovey, Duncan, Wilson, Hall, McIntyre, Elliott, Johnston and Stevenson.

The council took up the question embodied in the application to the legislature for confirmation of certain bylaws and measures as advertised.

The clause asking for legislation making New Year's Day each year election day was withdrawn, and on motion of Ald. Tovey, seconded by Ald. Elliott, the local member, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., will be asked to introduce into parliament a bill extending the hours for voting from five to eight o'clock p.m. on the first Monday in January, the present municipal election day. The idea of this proposed measure is to give men employed in factories an opportunity of voting at the municipal elections without seeking to secure legislation authorizing these elections taking place on New Year's Day.

Although the Rapid Tool Company's bylaw did not carry by the necessary two-third vote, the city whose debenture for $1200 to this company for a site is satisfactorily guaranteed, will ask legislative confirmation of the city's proposition, which also included a fixed assessment at $1,200 for ten years.

Ald. McIntyre did not approve of the ratepayers' vote or the text of the law being over-ridden.

Ald. Ball acquiesced in this and offered that as this measure did not receive the majority of a two-third vote on two occasions, the Rapid Tool Company should abide by the results.

Ald. Wilson contended that it would be practically impossible to carry any measure by a two-third vote of the total electorate.

Ald. McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Bath,—That we do not proceed any further with the Rapid Tool Company's bylaw.—Lost on a vote of ten to two.

The council on a majority felt that to abandon this measure would have a deterrent effect on other industries seeking location here.

The Coates bylaw will go before the legislature as advertised. There is practically no disagreement whatever between the city and the Coates people. The city propose to carry the waterworks to this company's factories, they to pay for the water consumed. Some discussion arose as to whether this company propose to establish company stores, contingent to their works, as rumored. No confirmation of this matter was forthcoming, but on the contrary it was understood that whatever stores were established in their neighborhood would be under private control. However the Manufacturers' Committee will approach Mr. Dunwoodie, when he arrives in Peterborough on this subject. Mr. Dunwoodie, who is a member of the Coates Company, sails from England today.

In discussing the question of new industries, Ald. Ball thought that in most cases outside men were employed in preference to Peterborough citizens.

Ald. Tovey replied that the standing instructions of Mr. C. G. Patterson, of the Canadian General, were to give Peterborough people first chance when help is required at the works.

It was considered that, generally speaking, no complaint is forthcoming on this score. In fact the majority of the council thought that last year's experience showed that in all lines help of any nature was exceedingly scarce.

The clause seeking legislation to empower the city to purchase a light and power plant was left as originally drafted and advertised.

The remainder of the clauses were left intact.

VOTE OF THANKS.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Rev. J. G. Potter, for his highly appreciated sermon to the city fathers last Sunday evening.

STONE WANTED.

Ald. Wilson raised the question of securing stone for street purposes, the city's pit not furnishing sufficient at present. As the Board intends putting Water street north in good shape this spring, they were empowered to act.

THE ROGERS' CASE.

The city solicitor reported that as a result of the deputation to Ottawa re the Rogers' claim for damages for curtailing the flow of water opposite the Canoe Works, the Board of Railway Commissioners have left the matter in abeyance, in the hope that when the city's property is filled up to the south end of King street, a small four-foot culvert would provide for a sufficient flow of water to answer all purposes. Mr. Rogers' solicitor suggested that a 20-ft. opening be constructed, which would mean an excessive expenditure. A 16-ft. opening even would cost from $15,000 to $20,000.

Ald. Elliott, one of the deputation, reported that in the event of a 4-ft. culvert at the south end of King street, being found sufficient to answer the complainant's purposes, he had offered that the city might be willing to pay one-third its cost, $5,000, the C.P.R. and Peterborough Cereal Co. each to pay a share.

The council not being sure such an arrangement could be entered into, this matter was dropped, pending further developments. The council do not consider that they are liable whatever in this connection.

LEASE OF NO. 4 DAM.

The council decided that in the event of the Otonabee Power Company getting the lease of No. 4 dam, the government be requested to insert a clause in their lease guaranteeing the city 600 horse power for manufacturing purposes at $15 per horse power for a term of 21 years; and also all other unused power at the same rate.

Ald. Leary moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That Ald. Stevenson, the mayor and city solicitor be a committee to draft a resolution embodying the above, and also urging upon the Government the desirability of leasing No. 4 dam to the Otonabee Power Co.—Carried.

THE DAIRY SHOW.

Ald. Leary, one of the deputation to London regarding the proposed dairy show, reported that the chances of Peterborough getting the show are good, providing the city fathers do not let the grass grow under their feet. He heard of no resolution being passed endorsing the fair being held at Toronto. A joint committee of the eastern and western association will meet in a week or two, and the city council should ask the corporation of the county and keep alive to the situation.

This was acquiesced in.

TERMS FOR INDIGENTS.

Ald. Elliott offered that there are some ten of the city's poor in the jail, and the council's joint committee should confer with the county council as to what terms they will be admitted to the House of Refuge opened yesterday.

This suggestion will be carried out.

OPENING OF EDINBURGH ST.

The opening of Edinburgh street from George to Water streets was referred to the Board of Works for action.

THE VAUDEVILLE LICENSE.

Geo. Scott applied for as reasonable a license fee as possible for his vaudeville show on George street.

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the license be $30 for a term of four months.—Carried.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE SITE.

The question of what lots the School Board should erect the Collegiate Institute upon, was raised by the mayor, who argued that while the Board are entitled to lots three and four, they wish to have the privilege of lots five and six also. Whilst it was arranged with the military authorities that both the armories and the institute should be erected on the rear of the lots facing on a line one with the other, and thus leaving a good parade and park ground in front of both buildings eastward. He now understood the Board wished to build on the center of lots three, four, five and six, thus spoiling all previous arrangements for park and parade facilities. The city, he urged, should restrict the Board from such action before conveying to them their deed.

Ald. Morrow replied that the final report by Mayor McWilliams last year on this subject was that the Board should have lots three and four, lots five and six being left in the hands of one of the other parties—the city and the military authorities. He offered that the Board should be deed lots three, four, five and six, with restriction to build on two lots only. The Board he said was composed of ten representative citizens, who were quite capable of arriving at a satisfactory conclusion with the military authorities without the city interfering. It was a question for the two parties interested to settle themselves.

Considerable discussion took place on this question, resulting in Ald. Stevenson being authorized to ascertain just where the government intends erecting the armories. The council holding that the institute should be built on a line with the eastern limit of the armories.

The committee then adjourned to meet next Monday evening.

Dr. Bruce Smith Talks to the Times

In conversation with a Times representative at the formal opening of the House of Refuge at Lakefield yesterday, Dr. Bruce Smith, of the Provincial Board of Health, Toronto, noted that whilst that building will do its purpose it is not of the best. In his opinion it should be near the leading city or town of the county. He asserted that such proximity gives a house of refuge the advantages of electric light or gas power, etc., as well as the advantages of social intercourse, amusements and concerts for the inmates; such as proximity to a town home could give. He said however, that the Ontario Government would give the grant of $4,600 to the Lakefield House of Refuge. He was strongly against a township tax of $9 counts per head on inmates from the respective townships.

IS THERE LONG LIFE IN PEA SOUP?

One more way to live long has been promulgated. The promulgator is Henry Tabor, of Sprucewood, Ontario. Mr. Tabor is only ninety-two, but he expects to live to be 100 or more. Mr. Tabor was born in Montreal in 1814, and since the spring of 1870 he has lived almost entirely upon pea soup. When he took to this diet he was suffering from what doctors said was cancer of the stomach. They told him that he had only a short time to live, and his general appearance bore out this statement. He was pale, wan and weak, for he could retain little nourishment and had little hope of ever recovering his health. One day a vender of herbs told him that he could prolong his life by eating pea soup, and Mr. Tabor promptly tried it. The food "set" well, and at the end of the week he had gained a pound as well as some strength. He felt encouraged and kept on with the soup, little by little discarding all other articles of diet. Ultimately he regained his full health and became as hardy as a knot.

Good. Probably many people could get more health than they have by eating pea soup for twelve (or more) but probably not many will persist in it as Mr. Tabor has. So we may not have a chance to tell just what it will do.

May Get Increases

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—The immediate increase of maximum and minimum salaries by at least 60 per cent., followed by an annual increase of $50 until the maximum is reached, was the request made to the Minister of Customs and the Minister of Marine and Fisheries yesterday morning by a delegation of at least 100 from the outside customs service. The delegation was supported by a large number of members of Parliament, both Conservative and Liberal. The petition called attention to the enormous advance in customs receipts, calling for much additional work, and to the great increase in the cost of living. Hon. Mr. Paterson promised serious consideration of the request, and stated that a supplementary estimate might be taken to cover the needed increase.

THE JEW IN CANADA.

The Present Position of the Hebrew Race in the Dominion—Will Color the Life of the People.

Whether future generations of Jewish Canadians will produce or be able to boast of a Benjamin Disraeli is within the realms of possibility; but certain it is, that the constantly growing number of Hebrews who are settling in Canada and their increasing influence, will make them a factor to be reckoned with in more than one city, says The Montreal Standard. That they will to some extent color our social, political and industrial life is also certain. Already we find them engaged in various branches of commerce, and with that well-known commercial shrewdness for which they are famous, they are not the least successful in the particular business in which they are engaged.

But not every son of Israel that comes to Canada for the purpose of making it his home is anxious to embark in business. The great majority of Jews in Montreal are industrial. They are employed in various capacities in the factories of Gentiles, as well as of Hebrews. For centuries, it has been the custom of the detractors of the Jew to charge him with being a "Shylock," and a member of a race that preferred money-lending and other wily schemes to honest toil. But the fact remains that since the Jew has settled on this continent, he has striven to become thoroughly imbued with the ideals of his fellow-citizens of other creeds.

It should be remarked by way of qualification that segregation, such as exists in Russia and other countries did not tend to develop all that is good in the Jewish nature.

Herded together with no opportunity for his using that native genius that came to him as an inheritance, it is no wonder that he became morose, suspicious and inclined to follow rightly or wrongly any "will-o'-the-wisp" reformer that promised him an opportunity of intellectual expansion, and an outlet for his energy. In Canada and the United States, however, the Jew has every opportunity to enter any and all employments that he may desire, without let or hindrance. That he appreciates such advantages is seen by the proportion of Jewish youth who are enrolled in the schools and universities for many of whom a bright future is predicted.

That our Canadian Jewish fellow-citizens are fully alive to the possibilities the future holds in store for them is seen in the haste they have shown as soon as statutory requirements have been complied with, to become British subjects. This action on their part is a decisive answer to those who say that the Jew does not value British citizenship. The more enterprising and ambitious of these have formed themselves into political clubs where they declaim in Yiddish of the principles and qualities of their parties and leaders.

Many of Montreal's leading Jews are wealthy and highly intellectual. In the professions they are well represented. In law, they have Maxwell Goldstein, K.C., S. W. Jacobs, Peter Bercovitch, Henry Weinfield and A. B. Vineberg, with almost as many again attending the universities. In medicine they have Drs. Lautenman, Shipviner, Schacher, Moise, Rubin, Stern, Hart and Lightstone. In applied science Messrs. Blumenthal and Cohen. Montreal Jews can also boast of having a Jewish prima donna in the person of Pauline Donalda, the sister of Dr. H. Lightstone, who was recently presented with a civic medal by Mayor Lavoie as a token of regard on the part of her fellow-citizens, who, irrespective of race and religion, united to do her honor. Miss Lichtenstein, who is an instructress at the Royal Victoria College, is another Montreal Jewess with talent of a very high order.

In the several fields of commerce they have Messrs. Lyon, Cohen, Mark Workman, D. Friedman, H. Vineberg, V. Vineberg, M. Davis, H. Kellert, J. H. Blumenthal, M. Shapiro, Clarence I. De Sola, Belgian Consul-General; D. A. Ansell, Mexican Consul-General; Herman H. Wolff, Austrian Consul-General, and a host of others.

What is pleasing from a Canadian national standpoint is that numbers of Jews belonging to the less favored classes, are going in for farming. Many of the farms around New Glasgow and Labelle, Quebec, are held and being bought by Jews. They also have a prosperous colony in the Northwest. On the whole it must be admitted, considering their circumstances, and numbers, that the Jews of the Dominion will assist materially in developing our magnificent country, and help their fellow-citizens of other nationalities to make Canada a nation in fact, as well as in name.

Land For the Indians.

After a long conference between Indian Agent Loring of Hazelton and Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works Green of British Columbia, a final settlement was reached, which, it is hoped, will obviate any more trouble with the Babine Indians over the use of barricades in the streams of that country for taking salmon. Mr. Loring acted for the Dominion Government in the matter, and arranged for a large block of land from the province in partial compensation to the Indians for giving up the use of the barricades, and thus destroying the salmon and preventing them spawning. The land given includes both grazing and farming lands, and gives the Indians access to streams. Mr. Loring has gone to Kitimaat, where the Indians will meet him and go in over the trail to Hazelton. The journey will take about three weeks.

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1905, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. E. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1906.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 30 acre one and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 60 feet, and it shows 5 inch niccolite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1281-492-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 70c. is equal to $630.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M.E.
New Liskeard, 17th November, 1905.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo veins. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions will be filled in order received and we reserve the right to reduce or return same. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto. Send today or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"I am with you, sir," said he, taking his place beside the guardsman.

"Call off your canaille and fight me like a gentleman," cried De Catinat.

"A gentleman! Hark to the bourgeois Huguenot, whose family peddles cloth!"

"You coward. I will write liar on you with my sword point!"

He sprang forward and sent in a thrust which might have found its way to Dalbert's heart had the heavy saber of a dragoon not descended from the side and shorn his more delicate weapon off close to the hilt. With a shout of triumph his enemy sprang furiously upon him with his rapier shortened, but was met by a sharp blow from the cudgel of the young stranger which sent his weapon tinkling on to the ground. A trooper, however, on the stair had pulled out a pistol and, clapping it within a foot of the guardsman's head, was about to settle the combat once and forever when a little old gentleman who had quietly ascended from the street and who had been looking on with an amused and interested smile at this fiery sequence of events took a sudden quick step forward and ordered all parties to drop their weapons with a voice so decided, so stern and so full of authority that the saber points all clinked down together upon the parquet flooring as though it were a part of their daily drill.

"Upon my word, gentlemen; upon my word!" he said, looking sternly from one to the other. In his gait and bearing he had a dainty strut and backward cock of the head, which, taken with his sharp black eyes, his high, thin features and his assured manner, would impress a stranger with the feeling that this was a man of power. And, indeed, in France or out of it there were few to whom this man's name was not familiar, for in all France the only figure which loomed up as large as that of the king was this very little gentleman who stood now, with gold snuffbox in one hand and deep laced handkerchief in the other, upon the landing of the Huguenot's house, for who was there who did not know the last of the great French nobles, the bravest of French captains, the beloved Conde, victor of Rocroy and hero of the Fronde?

De Catinat raised the stump of his sword in a salute.

"Heh, heh!" cried the old soldier, peering at him. "You were with me on the Rhine—heh? I know your face, captain, but the household was with Turenne."

"I was in the regiment of Picardy, your highness. De Catinat is my name."

"Yes, yes. But you, sir, who the devil are you?"

"Captain Dalbert, your highness, of the Languedoc Blue dragoons."

"Hey! I was passing in my carriage and I saw you standing on your head in the air. The young man let you up on conditions, as I understood."

"He swore he would go from the house," cried the young stranger. "Yet when I had let him up he set his men upon me, and we all came downstairs together."

"My faith, you seem to have left little behind you," said Conde, smiling, as he glanced at the litter which was strewn all over the floor. "And so you broke your parole, Captain Dalbert?"

"I could not hold treaty with a Huguenot and an enemy of the king," said the dragoon sulkily.

"You could hold treaty, it appears, but not keep it. And why did you let him go, sir?"

"I believed his promise. I have been used to deal with Indians."

"Heh! And you think an Indian's word is better than that of an officer in the king's dragoons?"

"I did not think so an hour ago."

"You are very strong, monsieur," said Conde, glancing keenly at the broad shoulders and arching chest of the young stranger. "You are from Canada, I presume?"

"I have been there, sir. But I am from New York."

"And how came you to speak French?"

"My mother was of French blood."

"And how long have you been in Paris?"

"A day."

"Heh! And you already begin to throw your mother's country folk out of windows?"

"He was annoying a young maid, sir, and I asked him to stop, whereon he whipped out his sword and would have slain me had I not closed with him, upon which he called upon his fellows to aid him. To keep them off I swore that I would drop him over if they moved a step. Yet when I let him go they set upon me again."

"Hem! You did very well. You are young, but you have resource."

"I was reared in the woods, sir."

"If there are many of your kidney you may give my friend De Frontenac some work ere he found this empire of which he talks. But how is this, Captain Dalbert? What have you to say?"

"The king's orders, your highness, are to use every means which may drive these people into the true church."

"On my word, you look a very fine apostle and a pretty champion for a holy cause," said Conde, glancing sardonically out of his twinkling black eyes at the brutal face of the dragoon. "Take your men out of this, sir, and never venture to set foot again across this threshold."

"But the king's command, your highness."

"I will tell the king when I see him that I left soldiers and that I find brigands. Not a word, sir! Away! You take your shame with you, and you leave your honor behind." He had turned in an instant from the sneering, strutting old beau to the fierce soldier with set face and eye of fire. Dalbert shrank back from his baleful gaze, and, muttering an order to his men, they filed off down the stair with clattering feet and clank of sabers.

"Your highness," said the old Huguenot, coming forward and throwing open one of the doors which led from the landing, "you have indeed been a savior of Israel and a stumbling block to the froward this day. Will you not deign to rest under my roof and even to take a cup of wine ere you go onward?"

Conde raised his thick eyebrows at the Scriptural fashion of the merchant's speech, but he bowed courteously to the invitation.

"My carriage waits below," said he, "and I must not delay longer. It is not often that I leave my castle of Chantilly to come to Paris, and it was a fortunate chance which made me pass in time to be of service to honest men." He inclined again his bewigged head and strutted off in his dainty, dandified fashion. From the window De Catinat could see him step into the same gilded chariot which had stood in his way as he drove from Versailles.

"By my faith," said he, turning to the young American, "we all owe thanks to the prince, but it seems to me, sir, that we are your debtors even more. You have risked your life for my cousin, and but for your cudgel Dalbert would have had his blade through me when he had me at a vantage. Your hand, sir! These are things which a man cannot forget."

"Aye, you may well thank him, Amory," broke in the old Huguenot, who had returned after escorting his illustrious guest to the carriage. "He has been raised up as a champion for the afflicted and as a helper for those who are in need."

But their young visitor appeared to be more embarrassed by their thanks than by any of his preceding adventures. The blood flushed to his weather tanned, clear cut face, as smooth as that of a boy and yet marked by firmness of lip and shrewdness in the keen blue eyes.

"I have a mother and two sisters over the water," said he diffidently.

"And you honor women for their sake?"

"We always honor women over there. Perhaps it is that we have so few. Over in these old countries you have not learned what it is to be without them. I have felt what a good woman is and how, like the sunshine, she draws out of one's soul all that is purest and best."

"Indeed, the Indies should be very much obliged to monsieur, who is as eloquent as he is brave," said Adele Catinat, who, standing in the open door, had listened to the latter part of his remarks.

"Much of my life has been spent in the woods," said he, "and one speaks so little there that one comes to forget how to do it. It was for this that my father wished me to stay some time in France, for he would not have me grow up a mere trapper and trader."

"And how long do you stop in Paris?" asked the guardsman.

The Western issue having been wholly taken up by the Ranching, Farming and Commercial men of Western Canada, and more than half of the present issue has been already subscribed.

THE ONLY PACKERS OF BEEF, PORK AND OTHER FOOD PRODUCTS OF THE RANCHES AND FARMS OF WESTERN CANADA.

This Company has already about 1,800 shareholders, all of whom have paid for their shares in cash on equal terms, and shares are allotted by priority of application.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 20th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary;—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over-applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $200,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 16c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 200,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two whole sections containing an area of one square mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for their factories and Canneries in each center and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold, the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid (say into 10 fully paid $100-share for each Share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision alone nearly twenty millions ($20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100-Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 30TH, 1905.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $700,000,000, representing shipments of 350 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,375 cattle 16,533 sheep and 34,000 hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present; The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs. J. A. Banfield, F. B. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION:

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 60 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. H. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

Sure Cure for Sciatica.

Sciatica is really inflammation of the sciatic nerve, the largest nerve in the body.

This nervous inflammation is the product of a run-down condition, and in every case you may be sure the nerves are worn down fine.

The pain is the cry of the nerves for more food—for richer, redder blood.

Rubbing on a greasy liniment can't help very much—you must treat the blood and rebuild the nervous system.

This can be promptly done with Ferrozone.

No builder of nerve force is more powerful.

No tonic so quickly fortifies the muscular system, imparts such strength, such endurance and vigor.

Any traces of Uric Acid and rheumatic poison are quickly driven out by Ferrozone. The lowered condition of the system is changed into a reserve of vigor that defies further attacks of Sciatic.

Marvellous in its preconstructive and rebuilding power, quick to give relief, absolutely sure to cure,—where can you find a better treatment than Ferrozone? Sold by all druggists in 50c boxes; try Ferrozone.

Meeting re Industrial Exhibition

By a misunderstanding in yesterday's report of an interview with Mr. William Collins regarding the coming meeting of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society, to discuss the Industrial Exhibition, we said this meeting was called for Tuesday evening. This should have read that the meeting alluded to is for Thursday night at eight o'clock. Tomorrow evening the Board of Trade will meet and discuss this matter. It is generally thought that should the Industrial Exhibition get receive strong support, it will have a strong bearing on whether Peterborough gets the Provincial Dairymen's annual meeting.

Local Water Experts Home From Montreal

Mr T. F. Matthews, chairman of the water commissioners, and Mr. Henderson, superintendent of the waterworks, have arrived home from Montreal, where they were looking at new pumps for the waterworks plant, and the mechanical filtration plant at Longueuil, Que.

These gentlemen are taking up both systems—the slow sand system, upon which Mr. Hazen Ritchie reported last year, and the mechanical system. In order to get full information about the latter system, an expert from New York will be in the city within the next ten days or two weeks.

In Montreal the deputation inspected several kinds of waterworks pumps, and gained a lot of valuable information. As yet, however, they are not prepared to give any views as to the relative merits of the filtering systems or the water pumps.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, gnawing distress in stomach, periodical pains, disagreeable, catarrhal, pelvic drain, dragging-down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or other derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and local treatments of the family physician can be avoided and a thorough course of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription;" it will not perform miracles; it will not dissolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weaknesses and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given a fair chance by perseverance in its use for a reasonable length of time.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this remedy of known composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Doukhobors in Danger of Losing Their Land

Government Notifies Them That They Must Live on Land and Become British Subjects or Idle Sections Will Be Confiscated.

Winnipeg, Jan. 23.—The Dominion Government is bringing gentle but determined pressure upon the Doukhobors to induce them to become British subjects, and to occupy and cultivate their lands individually like other citizens. Circulars printed in both Russian and English have been sent out to the elders and people of every village, and Rev. John McDougall has visited extensively among them, accompanied by an interpreter, and has taken great pains to make the situation clear to convince them that the Canadian Government, which represents the majority of the people of Canada, desires their welfare and assures them of protection in their religious beliefs, and in the enjoyment of the same rights as are extended to all other residents in the Dominion.

TEXT OF CIRCULAR.

The circular is as follows:

"The Government is glad to see that some of the Doukhobors are cultivating their own land, and have become, or are becoming, citizens of Canada and British subjects. It is very sorry to see that after having been in Canada for seven years, the large majority of the Doukhobors still cultivate their land in common, and refuse to become citizens of the country. They have still large areas of land, which the Government has permitted them to hold in their names, without cultivation and improvement. The law is that a man must cultivate his own land or he cannot hold it. The people who are not Doukhobors now demand that Doukhobors be no longer allowed to hold land without cultivating it, and becoming citizens of the country.

"The Government of Canada is the majority of the people of Canada, and when the majority of the people say that the Doukhobors must not be allowed to hold land without cultivation any longer, the Government must cancel the entries on lands that are not properly held, so that they may be properly held by other people. The only Doukhobors entries that are properly held are those held by men who live either on their land or in a village within three miles of it, and who cultivate their own land for their use, and who have either already become, or intend to become, Canadian citizens and British subjects.

MAY CANCEL ENTRY.

"If any man who lives in a village cultivates his land more than three miles from the village in which he lives his entry will be protected for six months to enable him to build and live on the land. If he does not live on the land within that time the entry will be cancelled.

"While the Government wishes every man to cultivate his own land for his own use, and to become a citizen, it will not attempt to compel the Doukhobors to do either. It will protect them as it has hitherto done in their religious beliefs, but it cannot longer give them privileges in regard to land which it does not give to other people. If the land upon which the village stands, or partly stands, is under entry, the entry must be cancelled in whole or in part, so that the Government can protect the Doukhobors in their homes.

"The community entries in the vicinity of each village to the amount of fifteen acres to each person in the village, and so distributed as to comprise as much of the community cultivation as possible, will be cancelled and the land held by the Government for the protection of the community of Doukhobors during the pleasure of the Government. All other entries in the name of the community Doukhobors will be cancelled. The Doukhobors whose entries have been cancelled will be permitted to make re-entry on cancelled land, which is open for entry at any time within three months from receiving this notice, and their re-entries will be made on application, without payment of an additional fee.

MUST STATE INTENTIONS.

"Doukhobors who make entry within three months, either with the commission who will visit your village, or at the land office, must state, when making re-entry, whether they intend to live on the land or in the village, and must state their intention of becoming British subjects. If the land is within three miles of the village in which they reside they will be able to hold the land by cultivating it for their own use, while living in the village. But if it is more than three miles from the village they must live on the land, and must begin to live on it within six months of the date of their re-entry. All re-entries will be subject to a cancellation for non compliance with these conditions of the law. If there is any community cultivation on lands re-entered for it will be granted from the land of the homesteader for the use of the community during the year 1907. Afterwards it will be for the sole use of the homesteader."

Good Races Held at Driving Park

At yesterday's races, run at the Driving Park by the Peterborough Turf Club, despite the cold weather prevailing, there was a large crowd present, including many ladies. The grand stand was comfortably filled.

Messrs. W. J. Leahy, J. A. Lawless and Carew, acted very acceptably as judges.

Mr. Leahy was starter. The timekeepers were Messrs. Alex. Elliott, Schaffer and the results were as follows:

2.35 class, $150—

Smutt	4	1	1 5
King Bryson	1	2	2 1
City Queen	5	5	5 3
Hazel	6	6	6 2
Emma L.	3	4	4 4
Walter S.	2	3	3 6

This race, which is now between King Bryson and Smutt, was a most exciting contest, and will be finished today.

2.17 class, $150—

This race created great excitement, and resulted as follows:

Frank McKenney	1	1	1
Orillia Belle	3	2	2
Harry Direct	2	3	3
Happy Mack	4	4	4

Today the 2.22 class and a named race as well as the exciting finish of the 2.35 class will be run off, and the attendance will undoubtedly be greater than ever known at a Peterborough race meet.

LATER.

At a late hour last night it was said that in the 2.35 class race of yesterday, by mutual agreement, owing to places taken by the horses that King Bryson takes first money, and Smutt second. Today's races, however, by reports received late last night, will not only interest but surprise local lovers of the ponies.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

ADA CAME BACK

The young girl, whom our readers will remember was, about a month ago arrested in a local livery barn, and whose relation name here from London, Ont., to claim her, was yesterday evening again arrested in the east ward. Ada will have to explain matters to his Worship this morning.

Hookey Charges Are Fully Explained

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—May we, through this medium, express to the management of the Peterborough Hockey Club, Ltd., (the owners of the Brock street rink) our sincere thanks for, and appreciation of, their treatment of the members of the Senior Hockey team. Appreciating the fact that to carry out the season, and make three expensive trips out of the city at least, before this district games are played, as well as to provide for other necessary expenses in connection with the carrying out of the season's games, it would be necessary to secure more funds, and, instead of calling on the friends of the club for a subscription, a course which was followed last season, the management of the rink allowed the prices for the game Monday night between Midland and Peterborough to be slightly increased, and gave the difference between the prices which had formerly prevailed this season, and those of Monday night to the hockey Club, in addition to the club's share of the gate.

This action, on the part of the management of the rink, will, we hope, enable the team to go through the season without appealing to their friends by means of a subscription.

We feel that none of the supporters of the team, when they understand the situation, will object to paying the small additional charge for the game Monday night, and the support and encouragement which has been given, not only by those who attended on Monday night, but by the rink management, as represented by their action in making the donation referred to.

Yours respectfully,
C. G. GRAHAM, 6
Secretary-Treasurer.

Stonemasons' and Bricklayers Banquet

Last night some forty members of the local Stonemasons and Bricklayers Union, with their guests from sister unions and others held a grand banquet at McCallum's George street restaurant.

Mr. J. J. Hurtley, the veteran local contractor occupied the chair.

Mr. McCallum had exercised the full limits of the restaurant craft and produced a well-served dinner of five courses. Mayor McWilliams for some time, graced the proceedings with his presence. A very pleasant evening enlivened with many heartily applauded speeches, was spent.

The Bricklayers and Masons have every reason to remember last night's banquet as one of the most successful in the history of the local union.

1. The east half of the north-east quarter of the south half of lot 6 in the 9th concession of Coleman Township.
2. The south-west quarter of the south half of lot 7, in the first concession of Bucke.
3. One 40-acre claim in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, adjoining claim No. 1404 1-2.
4. Twenty acres in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, being the north half of the south-east quarter of the north half of lot 13, concession 3.
5. One 40-acre claim in the Anima-Nipissing District, being mining claim No. 1404 1-2, known as the "South Claim," situated about 3-4 of a mile west of Bay Lake and about one mile north of Anima-Nipissing. Total 180 acres.
6. 4,000 lots in the townsite of North Cobalt, beautifully situated on the west shore of Lake Temiskaming, containing 600 acres, close to the Green-Meehan and Red Rock properties, and only 300 miles from Toronto, on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, and is sure to be the coming summer resort, as there is good fishing, boating, and bathing. The finest scenery, most interesting surroundings, and a very bracing climate.

These lots alone in a year or two will be worth the full capitalization of the company. The mining properties of this company are rarely better value than a great number of properties now on the market at double the price, without the townsite, which practically acts as a security, which is sure to increase in value every year, and protect every shareholder in full for his investment, with the chance of making very large money out of the development of the mining property.

Our shares will be increasing in value from year to year, and in three years from now should sell on the open market for $10.00 a share from the dividend it will then pay.

Parties wishing to secure an allotment can do so by wire or letter, as there is no doubt every share will be subscribed for before February 1st.

THEY DECLARE IT IS NOT A COMBINE

Aims of Eastern Canadian Passenger Association Fully and Clearly Explained.

Recently a certain Toronto newspaper has been publishing a series of articles regarding the railways and the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada. In several of these articles the Eastern Canadian Passenger Association is referred to as a "combination in restraint of trade." The following statement regarding the purposes and work of this Association, furnished by a member of its Executive Committee, will at the present time be of interest.

The purposes of the Association are set forth in Article 3 of its Constitution as follows:—

"To promptly secure to each of the parties authentic information in relation to tariffs, rate sheets and ticket regulations of the respective parties and changes therein, and the due filing and publication thereof; to aid in securing compliance with the laws relating to and regulating commerce; and to enable the parties hereto to mutually confer, advise and act in relation to the subjects above stated, and the proper methods to secure the purposes aforesaid."

Article 6 of its Constitution provides:—

"Each line party hereto shall fix and determine its own reduced fares. . . . Nothing in these articles of organization shall be construed as giving authority to the said Secretary, the Association, or any person or officer of the Association to fix or determine any rate for any party hereto; but each party alone shall fix and determine its own rates; and nothing herein shall be construed as preventing any party hereto after it has fixed such rates from changing the same from time to time as it may elect."

It will be observed that it is distinctly provided that each line member of the Association reserves always to itself the right to take independent action. Therefore, the accusation that it is a "combination in restraint of trade" is absurd on the face of it, especially when it is considered that the MAXIMUM FARES of the railways in Canada are under the absolute control of the Canadian Railway Commission. As clearly set forth above, the transportation lines in the Association are organized for the purpose of dealing with applications for reduced fares for excursions, conventions, exhibitions, etc., with the greatest possible despatch and uniformity. What would happen if every one of such applications had to be made to each separate transportation line? It is manifest each line would hesitate to name reduced fares without knowing what its competitors intended to do not only as to reduced fares, but also as to dates of sale of tickets, their limits and all other privileges. The line acting independently and most promptly would incur the risk of its competitor subsequently naming better terms, and thus placing it at a serious disadvantage, probably costing it the loss of the entire traffic.

Take, for illustration, Toronto's annual exhibition—the many lines trying by telegrams and letters to reach their competitors to arrive at some knowledge of their ideas before acting independently and the immense delay and confusion sure to result, and compare it with the simple machinery of the Eastern Canadian Passenger Association, as indicated above, by which through personal conferences as frequently as required, all such applications are jointly and carefully considered and the conclusions reached promptly communicated to all interested, through its secretary, each line fixing and determining its own reduced fares and reserving always to itself the right to take independent action. THE FACT IS, THAT SUCH joint consideration of application for reduced fares is the greatest safeguard the public have against hasty, ill-advised reductions likely to produce discriminations and unreasonable rates, the very things the Railway Commission is designed to prevent. Remember the Eastern Canadian Passenger Association has nothing to do with the Maximum Rates—Parliament has given to the Railway Commission absolute control over such rates—therefore the Association's operations are confined to voluntary reduced fares granted by its members to the public and even then always subject to the approval of the Railway Commission to the reasonableness of the rates. It is a pity such unfair efforts are being made to create ill-will between the public and the transportation lines. The interests of both are identical. Consultations between the transportation lines, which the Association encourage and provide for, mean more intelligent understanding of the public requirements, greater uniformity of methods and better service generally. Instead of being "combinations in restraint of trade" they are designed to and do facilitate trade and are beneficial to the public in every respect.

The Interstate Commerce Commission in the United States, which is especially charged with the duty of preventing "combinations in restraint of trade," freely recognizes and confers with the territorial, passenger, freight and other railway associations in the United States, no doubt thoroughly appreciating the fact that without the aid of such associations in bringing about uniformity of methods, etc., their work would be greatly hindered if not made impossible.

The public need more light and accurate instead of misleading information on a great many railway questions, and I believe when properly informed they are always reasonable enough to appreciate what is clearly for their own benefit, such as the railway associations referred to.—Montreal Herald, December 31st, 1906.

The Board of Trade Holds a Meeting

The Question of Combined Eastern and Western Dairymen's Show for Peterborough Was Unanimously Advocated.

Last night a special meeting of the local Board of Trade was held in the city council chamber with Mr. Denham in the chair.

Among those present were, Mayor McWilliams, Mr. Denham of the Quaker Oats Co., Messrs. White & Gillespie of the firm of that designature; School Inspector D. Coyle Brown, Mr. A. H. Stratton, Mr. Thos. Hay, city engineer; Ald. Leary, E. T. Bradburn, M.P.P., Ald. Johnston, Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, W. Langford, Dawson Kennedy, Mr. Kerr, of Dennistoun, Peck, Kerr & Co., VanBlaricom, Collins, and others.

Mr. T. A. S. Hay moved that Mr. Denham take the chair.

The chairman noted that Mr. Charles was confined to his residence by illness, and was unable for the first time in the past three or four years to be present. The minutes of last meeting were then read and confirmed.

A communication from the Hamilton Board of Trade was read, concerning the preferential tariff at certain Canadian ports. This letter noted that Ontario importers should not be penalized to assist others.

A letter from the Board of Trade of Toronto, was read, in which the summerners protested against the undesirable class of immigrants being brought into Canada. It contained a memorial sent to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Canada's premier, calling attention to this undesirable addition to Canada's population. This letter contained a long list of immigrants actually sent to various hospitals in Canada, most of them suffering with tuberculosis.

These matters were referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Edgar, Stratton and Langford.

Mr. Stratton suggested that the matter should be taken up at once as the boards of trade noted would be awaiting answers. He thought that goods should not be given undue preference by being brought in at low or two particular ports.

Mr. Kerr moved that as the matter was of such importance and required serious consideration, the matter of the Hamilton Board of Trade's communication be received and considered later.—Carried.

Regarding the Toronto Board of Trade's letter regarding undesirable classes of immigration. Mr. Kerr moved that this be included in the former motion.

Chairman Denham then noted that the meeting had really been called to consider the dairying matters. He called upon Mr. Gillespie.

Mr. Gillespie said that the dairy show is something new. It is proposed to hold a dairy show next year. This will include dairy cattle, machinery, swine and possibly poultry. Since the last meeting both east and west Ontario dairymen have concluded to hold a general meeting. Toronto, Guelph and Peterborough have been mentioned as suitable places for such convention. As to the merits to Peterborough, it would be a great advertisement and would bring many people here. The City Council, County Council and Board of Trade should take up the matter pontoonally, and try and secure the meeting for Peterborough.

Mr. Bradburn, M.P.P., thought the eastern association was for Peterborough, and he had had a letter from the president of the eastern association advocating Peterborough.

As to our chances of getting the show, Toronto has not accommodations suitable for the purpose. The dairymen would prefer a smaller place than Toronto. He would like to see the county and city councils and Board of Trade take up the matter. A dairymen's show would bring a very large number of people and much money to the city. It would be a great mistake for Peterborough not to make an effort to get this show.

Ald. Leary was strongly in favor, and found that with the exception of Hon. Mr. Monteith, every one he spoke with, whilst away recently were strongly in favor of a dairymen's meet. His arguments as to incidentals were along the lines, and advocating the argument of the previous speaker. If the county and city councils would pull together Peterborough could get the dairymen's convention. It is simply a matter between Guelph and Peterborough. If we want to get this show we must send a deputation, a strong deputation and demonstrate the advantages of Peterborough. The average daily receipts at Guelph are 6,000 daily, showing what Peterborough would get if the show came here.

Mr. Bradburn here rose to say that the Ontario Government was materially assisting fat stock and other agricultural shows.

Mr. W. Collins then gave a most comprehensive address regarding the Guelph and Ottawa fat Stock shows. He thought it absurd to take representatives of the 1000 factories of eastern Ontario to Guelph, instead of bringing the 300 of Western Ontario to Peterborough. If a national dairy show were established, the Ontario Government would have to give a substantial grant. If the city and county would put up the building required, which would not be for one year, but for all time, and would bring good results.

Mr. Schwitzer said that the city would get the advantage of a large crowd present, but the county would be the greater gainer. The Peterborough Cheese Board has an enviable reputation. The farmers would be benefitted by seeing the up-to-date implements, methods, etc. The county council now in session should have this matter brought before them.

Mr. Downham, owner of the Peterborough Creamery, said he used to live in western Ontario before coming here and has had much experience in dairy matters.

Our exports of butter and cheese during last year was some $16,000,000. He then went on to give detailed statistics of the milk given or should be given by each cow in the county. With the knowledge gained by the show proposed, the result would be a gain of millions to the farmers of eastern Ontario. The cows of eastern Ontario give much more milk per cow than do those of the western cow. To get the dairy show Peterborough would have to put up a hard fight, as the dairymen like Toronto. However by combined work of the city and county, we might get it.

Mr. J. C. Brown thought Peterborough's market was a disgrace to the city, and steps might be taken to amend this.

Mayor McWilliams thought that the whole council wants the show. There is no doubt but what the farmers as well as the city would be gainers, and every effort should be made to get the dairy show. He then gave several reasons why the show should come east of Toronto, and, if so, Peterborough should have it. We must do something with our market as it is inadequate to present requirements. The city council will very soon have to take this matter into consideration and "have a market that will be a credit, instead of a disgrace to the city. He thought the Board of Trade should pass a resolution backing up the council towards securing the dairy show.

Mr. Gillespie moved that the Board of Trade, recognizing the benefits to be gained by the dairy show appoint a committee to confer with the City Council in this matter.

Defects Found in the New Fire Hall

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met yesterday morning at the new fire hall to inspect the heating arrangements. The fires were started Monday, and kept on all night, but yesterday morning the thermometer in the hall did not register as high as it should, and thus the heating and plumbing were not up to the requirements in the specifications. The work was therefore not accepted, but no action was taken. However another chance will be given, as possibly the test was not satisfactory.

The committee also had one of the fire horses tested in its work. The result was that the aldermen consider that the doors leading from the stables to the fire hall are too low and too narrow. Apart from the faults described the fire hall is all right.

HAVE IT RIGHT

Have Your Beverages Made Good Enough to Win You.

The rule about not boiling coffee leads many persons to prepare Postum in the same way.

This is a mistake and, of course, is unfair to Postum. Have it just right and it has much the same flavor as the mild and high-priced Java coffee, but never causes the troubles that coffee does.

An Ill. man found out how to make Postum so it tasted as good to him as his old-time coffee. He writes:

"For years I could not breakfast without my cup of coffee.

"During this time I was troubled with palpitation of the heart with smothering and nervous spells. The doctor told me to quit coffee but I did not.

"Finally, one time while visiting, I was given Postum for breakfast. I can't say I enjoyed it at first—they only guessed how to cook it. But when we followed the directions on the package, we all agreed that 'Postum was fine.'

"Then I began to enjoy my meals. Could take plenty of substantial food besides the Postum and felt good afterwards. My headaches were gone, and gradually I forgot I ever had heart trouble.

"I have told persons we used Postum at our house and they remarked they did not know how we could use the stuff.' They did not get it its goodness because it was not made right.

"A lady tried to give Postum to a lot of hired men, but they would not take it. I tasted it as she made it and didn't wonder—it didn't taste like ours. Asked about it she said she never had paid much attention to directions on package.

"The next time I saw her she had learned how to make Postum right and said the men folks asked for their second cup. Follow directions and you'll have good Postum." Have it right. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the directions on the package. "There's a reason."

IMPROVE YOUR COMPLEXION

Give Up Cosmetics And Seek The Cause of Your Bad Color.

When it's so easy to bring back the bloom of youth, to remove the blemishes and fill the hollows, isn't it foolish to plaster on cosmetics?

Sallowed skin and fallen in cheeks are produced by disorders of the alimentary canal.

Remove the cause—correct the condition that keeps you from looking as you ought. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and very soon you'll have a complexion to be proud of.

Just imagine how much happier you will feel when those pimples and murky look have gone.

Dainty looks came to Miss Vrooman, a well known resident of Belfast, from using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I used to look so yellow I thought it might be jaundice. There was simply no color in my cheeks at all. Today my skin is clear and never gets that murky, dull appearance, it had before. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have also given me a good appetite and improved my general health also."

Not only the complexion, but every organ of the body is strengthened, cleansed and made healthy by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Buoyancy, vim and a feeling of vigor invariably follow their use. Sold in yellow boxes by all dealers; 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

LAW UNENDING

The other day it was announced that a lawsuit between two French villages over a parcel of ground had been finally brought to an end after more than 400 years of proceedings, after costs amounting to dozens of times the value of the land, and after the accumulation of an abandoned church full of legal documents.

This may come close to being the record for protracted lawsuits, but it cannot begin to compare for legal marvels with a suit settled not long ago by the British House of Lords, involving the earldom of Norfolk. Depending on precedents not older than the days of the Stuarts, the House of Lords has declared illegal an act of King Edward II. in the year 1312, and the title to the earldom turns on its decision. If the second Edward could suddenly climb upon the throne in place of the seventh there would probably be more exciting times for the lords than they are having even with the education bill, but they feel perfectly safe in that respect.

The story is to the effect that Roger Bigod, of fame in history, surrendered his earldom to King Edward I. to spite his own brother, who would have succeeded to the title. Edward II. granted the earldom to Thomas of Brotherton, among whose descendants are various English noblemen, including the present Duke of Norfolk. The duchy overshadowed the earldom, and the latter was forgotten. It was remembered a few centuries later, however, together with the fact that the lines of descent for the two titles were not the same, and at that time the Duke of Norfolk was created a new Earl of Norfolk (in 1644), with descent among his own heirs.

Lately a certain Lord Mowbray has been trying to get the original earldom for his own, and while he has proved that he is in the right line of descent, in place of the Duke of Norfolk, yet, nevertheless, the House of Lords has refused him the title on the ground that the original Bigod earl couldn't resign, couldn't surrender his title, couldn't get rid of it anyway, king or no king, and that, therefore, the earldom belongs not to the claimant, but to the descendants of Bigod's brother, who never had it, and never imagined he possibly could lay claim to it. There may be dozens of descendants in England, among whom the genuine earl is to be found, but none of them knows it, and so they can live happily without it.

Russian Radicals Winning Elections

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—The first election returns received here from Trans-Caspian territory show an overwhelming victory for the Radicals, who have secured over 80 per cent. of the electoral college, which will choose one deputy. Half the electors of Askabad, the capital of Trans-Caspian territory, are railroad men, belonging to the extreme revolutionist and Socialist parties.

Canadian Jail Addressed U. S. Prison

Stratford, Jan. 20.—Sheriff Hossie has received a peculiarly addressed letter from W. W. Hawings, attorney for the Cherokee Nation of Muskogee, Indian Territory, which clears up the mystery of a criminal's identity. The letter is addressed to Warden U.S. Prison, Stratford, Canada, and reads as follows:

"Dear Sir,—There has been some controversy about the date of the death of Howard Bushyhead, a freedman, who is alleged to have died in the U.S. prison at your place in the fall of 1902. I wish you would write me what your prison records show to be the exact date of his death. Howard Bushyhead used to live in Kansas, and also in Indian Territory, and was at the time of his death perhaps 25 years of age."

This letter is said to determine the identity of "Howard Walker," a man who shot Edward Daily, alias Albert Dando, at Parkhill, in 1901, when both were traveling with the Pan-American Circus. He was given fourteen years in the penitentiary, but succumbed to consumption while incarcerated there.

MODERN CIVILIZATION.

Its Complexity, Hurry and Worry Shortening Our Lives.

Not long ago while traveling I chanced to stop at a village on the river Rhine, where I found an astonishing number of old people. There were a dozen over a hundred years of age and many from eighty years old up to the century mark, yet straight and vigorous. One woman nearly a hundred years old was earning her living by picking hops. Her grandchildren were middle aged. It was quite wonderful. But there was no mystery about it. It was merely the effect of a simple life spent largely in the fields, with plain diet, consisting of a few vegetables and fruits, little meat, and native beer and wine for beverages.

Nothing can be more obvious than that the very complexity of our modern civilization is shortening our lives. But of all the evils that afflict us the worst and most destructive are hurry and worry. Hurry drives the body machine beyond its capacity, while worry racks it inwardly. Of the two worry is probably the worse. This might indeed be called the age of worry. Because of the intense nervous strain to which we are subjected we do vastly more worrying than did our forbears. The average man of today is continually surrounded and pursued by phantom troubles, which, though few of them ever materialize into realities, haunt him continually, ruining his peace of mind and injuring his health.

Getting Married.

I don't know myself what getting married feels like, but it cannot be much more exciting than watching other people getting married. Indeed, I always get something like palpitation of the heart just before the priest utters the final fateful words, "I declare you man and wife." Half a second before you were still free. Half a second after you were bound for the term of your natural life. Half a second before you had only to dash the book from the priest's hands and put your hands over his mouth, and, though thus giddily swinging on to the brink of the precipice, you are saved. Half a second after—

All the king's horses and all the king's men
Cannot make you a bachelor again.

It is the knife edge moment betwixt time and eternity.—From Le Gallienne's "His Quest of the Golden Girl."

The Name "Fife."

The origin of the name Fife is not known. One historian tries to show that it comes from the Celtic word veach, a Pict, and means that the district was inhabited by Picts, but that is obviously absurd, as Fife was not specially the home of any of the Pictish nations. The tradition that finds greatest favor is related by a monk, who states that the first known possessor of the district which has since grown into the kingdom of Fife was one Fifus Duffus, a famous chieftain whose date is lost in the mists of antiquity.

Mother Had to Bury Baby.

Kingston, Jan. 20.—Mrs. Hiram Wood, daughter of Andrew Mills of Barrie street, while her husband was out in a terrible blizzard in the North-West, had the heart-breaking duty to bury her infant alone. Mr. Wood and the hired man went to round cattle when the storm broke. For four days they wandered about, the wife distracted over their absence. Then her infant, aged eight months, grew ill and died, and the mother had to dig the grave and put the little body in the earth alone.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak Kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines at ound Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last. "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake, and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 30 acre one and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 5 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $160,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 60 feet, and it shows 8 inch nicolite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 673-1285-492-1151 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 70c. is equal to $630.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 60 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt?
The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1895, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Until Ephraim Savage, the master of the Golden Rod, my father's ship, comes for me. She has been to Bristol, is now at Rouen and then must go to Bristol again. When she comes back once more Ephraim comes to Paris for me, and it will be time for me to go."

"And how like you Paris? Have you seen the city yet?"

"Only as I journeyed through it yester evening on my way to this house. It is a wondrous place, but I marvel how you can find your way among these thousands of houses."

"Perchance it would be as well that you should have a guide at first," said De Catinat, "so if you have two horses ready in your stables, uncle, our friend and I might shortly ride back to Versailles together, for I have a spell of guard again before many hours are over. Then for some days he might bide with me there, if he will share a soldier's quarters, and so see more than the Rue St. Martin can offer."

"I should be right glad to come out with you, if we may leave all here in safety," said Amos.

"Oh, fear not for that," said the Huguenot. "The order of the Prince of Conde will be as a shield and a buckler to us for many a day. I will order Pierre to saddle the horses."

After riding some time De Catinat said, "Now, if you will look there in the gap of the trees, you will see the king's new palace of Versailles."

The two young men pulled up their horses and looked down at the wide spreading building in all the beauty of its dazzling whiteness and at the lovely grounds, dotted with fountain and with statue and barred with hedge and with walk stretching away to the dense woods which clustered round them.

They passed through the gateway of the palace, and the broad sweeping drive lay in front of them, dotted with carriages and horsemen. On the gravel walks were many gayly dressed ladies, who strolled among the flower beds or watched the fountains with the sunlight glinting upon their high water sprays. One of these, who had kept her eyes turned upon the gate, came hastening forward the instant that De Catinat appeared. It was Mlle. Nanon, the confidante of Mme. de Maintenon.

"I am so pleased to see you, captain," she cried, "and I have waited so patiently. Madame would speak with you. The king comes to her at 3, and we have but twenty minutes. I heard that you had gone to Paris, and so I stationed myself here. Madame has something which she would ask you."

"I am so pleased to see you, captain."

"Then I will come at once. Ah, De Brissac, it is well met!"

A tall, burly officer was passing in the same uniform which De Catinat wore. He turned at once and came smiling toward his comrade.

"Ah, Amory, you have covered a league or two from the dust on your coat!"

"We are fresh from Paris. But I am called on business. This is my friend, M. Amos Green. I leave him in your hands, for he is a stranger from America and would fain see all that you can show. He stays with me at my quarters. And my horse, too, De Brissac. You can give it to the groom."

Throwing the bridle to his brother officer and pressing the hand of Amos Green, De Catinat sprang from his horse and followed at the top of his speed in the direction which the young lady had already taken.

CHAPTER VI.

THE rooms which were inhabited by the lady who had already taken so marked a position at the court of France were as humble as were her fortunes at the time when they were allotted to her, but with that rare tact and self restraint which were the leading features in her remarkable character she had made no change in her living with the increase of her prosperity and forbore from provoking envy and jealousy by any display of wealth or of power. In a side wing of the palace, far from the central salons and only to be reached by long corridors and stairs, were the two or three small chambers upon which the eyes, first of the court, then of France and finally of the world, were destined to be turned. In such rooms had the destitute widow of the poet Scarron been housed when she had first been brought to court by Mme. de Montespan as the governess of the royal children, and in such rooms she still dwelt now that she had added to her noble Francoise d'Aubigny the title of Marquise de Maintenon, with the pension and estate which the king's favor had awarded her.

The young guardsman had scarce ever exchanged a word with this powerful lady, for it was her taste to isolate herself and to appear with the court only at the hours of devotion. It was therefore with some feelings both of nervousness and of curiosity that he followed his guide down the gorgeous corridors, where art and wealth had been strewn with so lavish a hand. The lady paused in front of the chamber door and turned to her companion.

"Madame wishes to speak to you of what occurred this morning," said she. "I should advise you to say nothing to madame about your creed, for it is the only thing upon which her heart can be hard." She raised her finger to emphasize the warning, and, tapping at the door, she pushed it open. "I have brought Captain de Catinat, madame," said she.

"Then let the captain step in." The voice was firm and yet sweetly musical.

Obeying the command, De Catinat found himself in a room which was no larger and but little better furnished than that which was allotted to his own use. Yet, though simple, everything in the chamber was scrupulously neat and clean, betraying the dainty taste of a refined woman. The stamped leather furniture, the La Savonniere carpet, the pictures of sacred subjects, exquisite from an artist's point of view, the plain but tasteful curtains, all left an impression half religious and half feminine, but wholly soothing. Indeed, the soft light, the high white statue of the Virgin in a canopied niche, with a perfumed red lamp burning before it, and the wooden prie-dieu with the red edged prayer book upon the top of it made the apartment look more like a private chapel than a fair lady's boudoir.

On each side of the empty fireplace was a little green covered armchair, the one for madame and the other reserved for the use of the king. A small three legged stool between them was heaped with her workbasket and her tapestry. On the chair which was farthest from the door, with her back turned to the light, madame was sitting as the young officer entered. De Catinat, without having time to notice details, was simply conscious that he was in the presence of a very handsome woman and that her large, pensive eyes were fixed critically upon him and seemed to be reading his thoughts as they had never been read before.

"I think that I have already seen you, sir. Have I not?"

The Western issue having been wholly taken up by the Ranching, Farming and Commercial men of Western Canada, and more than half of the present issue has been already subscribed.

THE ONLY PACKERS OF BEEF, PORK AND OTHER FOOD PRODUCTS OF THE RANCHES AND FARMS OF WESTERN CANADA.

This Company has already about 1,000 shareholders, all of whom have paid for their shares in cash on equal terms, and shares are allotted by priority of application.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 20th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary:—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over-applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $200,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 15c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 200,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two whole sections containing an area of one square mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for their factories and reserves to each factory and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold, the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid may into 10 fully paid $100-Share for each Share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States I am informed, have subdivided their stock eight times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions ($20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100-Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 30TH, 1906.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $[illegible], representing shipments of 150 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,375 cattle 10,538 sheep and 34,468 hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present: The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs. J. A. Banfield, F. R. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION:

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first Cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 60 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. H. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

Mr. John Montgomery Was Laid to Rest

Yesterday the funeral of the late Mr. John Montgomery, whose death was noted in The Times of yesterday, was held.

During the day many friends of the deceased, including a representative of The Times called at the family residence, to express their sympathy to those in trouble.

The remains were in the front parlor on Louis street, in a handsome black cloth-covered coffin, exposed to view of his many former friends. The whole large room was simply filled with floral tributes to the memory of the deceased, among these were a handsome floral wreath inscribed "The Fire Brigade," and two elaborate floral designs inscribed with the word "Father." Besides these there were many bunches and designs in high grade floral designs. On the breast of Mr. Montgomery was a black mourning badge of Diamond L.O.L. The funeral yesterday afternoon was largely attended.

Miss E. Davidson in an Operation

Miss Esther Davidson, daughter of Mr. Adam Davidson, who as noted in a former issue of The Times has been in the Nicholls Hospital for a week or more will, this morning, undergo an operation for appendicitis.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. Good, while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL XXXV. NO. 20 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, JANUARY 24 1907 PRICE TWO CENTS

Petitions for Sidewalks And Sewers Must Be in By May the 1st

City Will Give Official Notice to This Effect---Board of Works in Busy Session Last Night.---Boulevards Must not Be Left Higher Than Sidewalks, Fee of $2 For Overhanging Illuminated Signs.

The City Board of Works met in committee session last night, when there were present His Worship Mayor R. F. McWilliams, Chairman Ald. Geo. Duncan, and Aldermen McIntyre, Johnston and Wilson.

Ald. Duncan makes a very acceptable chairman of this important board, and promises to the city excellent service.

The Mayor moved, seconded by Ald Wilson,—That the inspection of electric wiring be handed over to the Fire, Water and Light Committee—Carried.

EXTENSION OF EDINBURGH ST.

The question of filling in of Edinburgh street between George and Water streets, was next gone into. An interested citizen had previously reported that this work could be done to better advantage in winter than during any other season, by using sleighs.

Ald. Johnston thought that this filling in had better be done in the spring, street scrapings being utilized.

The residents on the Water street side of this gully between Dublin and Antrim, will do the filling under the present board sidewalk in front of their respective properties, up to line of proposed new granolithic walk.

Ald. Johnston urged that it would be an injustice to interested citizens not to open up Edinburgh street as soon as practicable.

The engineer reported that to open this road would cost $24.50.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre,—That the engineer open at this point by spring a passable roadway, safe for traffic—Carried.

DOWNIE STREET CREEK.

His Worship and his colleagues agreed that if the people on Water street at this point fill in under right of way for straightening this creek, the Board will recommend that the work be done.—Carried.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

In this connection Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That Mr. Dixon be notified that when the property owners between Smith and Dublin streets, give a present sidewalk the city will construct a granolithic walk this year.

The Mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That an advertisement be inserted in all the local papers notifying citizens that all petitions for sidewalks and sewers must be in on or before May first, in order to assure the work being carried out this year, and that any petitions for such improvements received after that date will not be acted upon until the work previously laid out has been completed.—Carried.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston.—That the street commissioner be instructed when building sidewalks not to leave outside boulevards higher than the sidewalk, and that when the boulevard is higher, he cut it down and have the soil removed.—Carried.

SHEEHY'S CONTRACT.

The Mayor moved that the solicitor be asked to advise the board as to the Sheehy contract, and the city's power to enforce penalties for uncompleted sewer work on Cedar St., within specified date and the city's legal authority to take up and finish the uncompleted work.—Carried.

BABB'S LANE.

A communication was received from property owners, asking that Babb's lane be widened 65 feet, and that a cement walk be built on one side of the lane, as well as grading and watertabling the street. If this is done the Dickson Company, Mrs. Davidson and Mr. Andrew McFarlane would dedicate three feet on each side of the street to the city.

On motion of Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Wilson, this question was referred to the engineer to report on.

OVERHANGING SIGNS.

Ald. Wilson offered that overhanging signs should not be allowed at any cost; they are a danger to pedestrians, and the city's bylaw prohibits them, unless permitted by the council.

Ald. Duncan thought a license fee of say a dollar a year for such signs might be charged, and the signs inspected regularly as to their safety.

Ald. Johnston thought some of the illuminated signs were decidedly an ornament to the city. There are overhead appendages more dangerous than overhanging signs, cross arms on poles, for instance.

His Worship agreed in Ald. Duncan's opinion.

The Mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That this board recommend that bylaw No. 395 be amended to permit the erection of overhanging illuminated signs, subject to the approval of the city engineer, and that an annual license fee of $2 be charged for such signs to pay for a regular inspection as to their security; also that the proprietors of such signs be liable for any damage sustained by the public through such overhanging signs—Carried.

EXTENSION OF ALBERT ST.

Ald. McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That if the property owners applying for an extension of Albert street west to the Monaghan road, give a right of way to secure a street of not less than 45 feet, the city will grade and gravel the street.—Carried.

GRAVEL AND STONE.

The Mayor moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre,—That the street commissioner be authorized to remove the trees from the Hilliard farm, that stand in the way of securing sufficient gravel from the pit required this year, and to draw stone from the piles of stone in the farm to the pit for crushing.—Carried.

STREET RAILWAY TICKETS.

Negotiations will be entered into with Mr. Lyrmouth of the Street Railway Company, with a view to getting free tickets for city officials as in 1906. Last year this concession was made by Mr. Larmouth in favor of the three street officials, Mr. Henderson of the water works and Fire Chief Rutherford. The Mayor thought the Board of Works chairman should be included in this.

Mr. Larmouth will be asked to meet the board on this question next Wednesday.

CEMENT FOR CITY.

The chairman suggested that it might be advisable to advertise at once for tenders for the supply of the city's cement required this year.

On motion of Ald. Johnston, tenders will be asked for the city's supply of cement, tenders to be on hand on or before February 19th—Carried.

KING STREET SIDEWALK.

The work will be advertised with the other sections, if position of walk and grade of same is found to be defined, and the petition found to be sufficiently signed.

DRAINING OF PARK STREET.

The question of providing sufficient drainage for Park street, south of railway tracks was taken up, and the engineer authorized, on suggestion of Ald. Johnston, to look into the matter and report to the Board.

The Board then adjourned.

This Lecture Should Be Liberally Patronized

Rev. R. E. Knowles Will Lecture Tomorrow Evening in Aid of Y.M.C.A. Camping Ground.

Rev R E Knowles' interesting lecture on "The Secret of Scotch Success" in George Street Methodist church, Friday evening, should attract a big audience. Mr. Knowles is an exceedingly popular and eloquent lecturer, his efforts in this direction always having proven to be thoroughly acceptable and irresistably attractive. The reverend gentleman has an exceptional talent for holding his audience and carrying them with him through his subjects which are always both interesting and instructive.

The proceeds of this event will go to a most worthy cause, that of securing permanent camping grounds for the Boys' Department Y.M.C.A. This fact alone should secure for the lecture most liberal patronage.

Mistake in the Cost of Building a Culvert

At the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council held Monday evening in reporting Ald. Elliott's suggestion that the city pay a third of the cost of constructing a culvert at the south end of King street, to carry off the stagnant water opposite the Peterborough Canoe Works, an additional figure was inadvertently slipping in where not intended made the cost of such culvert to appear as $3000 instead of $900.

As before explained the action of the C.P.R. in filling in their trestle work, and the city filling in the water front has so impeded the current along the western water front from Hunter street south as to create a nuisance to Mrs Rogers, arising from stagnant water. Hence complainant has appealed to the Board of Railway Commission at Ottawa, the water front improvement having been undertaken under auspices of the Government. When the case was argued before the commission, several expensive plans were suggested to remedy the said grievance, all of which were so successfully combatted by the representatives of the city, C.P.R., and Peterborough Cereal Company, as to have the question left in abeyance pending further investigation. It was pointed out that in all probability a culvert at the King street end of the property in question would answer the purposes of the Rogers' people. This culvert Ald. Elliott, one of the city's deputation, claims could be constructed at an expenditure of $600 or $700, most likely the minimum amount, in which event he had suggested unofficially at Ottawa, that the city might agree to pay a third of said cost. Ald. Elliott is confident such culvert would meet all requirements, and at an expenditure of but $200 or $267 at most to each party concerned, which would be a cheap way out of the difficulty. However, the city do not admit any liability in the matter, which rests in the hands of the railway commission.

SPORTING TOPICS

The Montreal Star says; Peterborough defeated Campbellton by 28 — 23. There was no umpire, and the few local curlers who were present were not familiar with the intricacies of granite play.

On the one sheet the play was rather one-sided, but on the other Rutherford ran Matheson very close, and managed to climb up well.

One of the Peterborough curlers said that the match was not quite a test of ability because the ice was much keener than at home. "We have a rink with six sheets of ice," he said, "and it is pebble ice, which holds the stones much better than this. It is marked out in little squares. On the other hand, I am sure it would not be so good for irons."

The matches resulted as follows;

Hermit Tortured and Murdered

Euclair, Mich. Jan. 24.—The body of Daniel Heaston, a wealthy hermit, was found late yesterday, frozen in his own blood, in a small hut near the house where he had been living alone. He had been tortured to make him tell where his money was hid. Amputated fingers and toes lay scattered about, and the appearance of a heavy rope and of a beam over which it hung, coupled with marks on the victim's neck, indicated that he had been strung up to the rafters for a time.

Caufield, Ont., Jan. 24. — It is now stated that Crown Attorney Murphy has ordered the disinterment of the body of John Perkins, father of the late Henry Perkins, an aged gentleman, very highly respected. The cause of his death was diagnosed as cancer of the stomach. It is now surmised that this trouble was possibly the same as his son's, who was poisoned by strychnine on Christmas day last.

Inspector Lees' Annual Report

One chief factor of the present meeting of the County Council, is the report presented by Mr. Richard Lees, county inspector of Public schools. Mr. Lees reports reads as follows;

To the Warden and Council of the County of Peterborough;

I beg to submit for your consideration, my report on the schools of the eastern division of the county for the last half of 1906.

During the term I visited 53 rural schools, and 11 departments in the villages of Havelock and Norwood, including the Model School in the latter. I found the schools all open, and in charge of teachers; some of whom, however, possessed no legal qualification.

Of the 53 teachers in the rural schools, 10 held second class, 10 third class, 8 extended third class, 10 district, and 10 temporary certificates, or none at all. Of these 15, there were in Belmont, 6; in Burleigh 2; in Anstruther, 1; in Chandos, 4; in Dummer, 1; and in Methuen, 2. The work being done in a number of the schools is very encouraging. Perhaps the greatest obstacle to progress is the frequent changing of teachers, and the fact that a large number of the schools are, in consequence, always in the hands of young, immature and inexperienced teachers.

In the villages of Havelock and Norwood, progress is being made. During last year the Board of Education at Norwood, spent a considerable sum on repairs and improvements that were badly needed, and it is their intention to continue the work this year. The members of the staff there are all teachers of experience, have been for some time in the service of the board, and the school is in a very efficient condition. The people of Havelock are face to face with serious educational problems. Their school has far outgrown the accommodation. The present building is too good to discard and, in the opinion of many, not worth adding to. The village is growing and provision must be made for the future, so that the whole question there requires wise and statesmanlike handling. In the meantime temporary quarters have been secured, and the teaching staff increased to six. The staff there is practically new, never at the time of my visit I found good work being done under very unfavorable conditions.

One feature of the work that I have special pleasure in bringing to your notice, is the increased interest that is being taken in the Fifth Class, or Continuation Work, in the schools of the county. There are now four regularly organized Continuation Classes, Enniskmore, with 23 pupils; Havelock, with 9; Keene, 16; and Lakefield, 11; besides several small classes in other schools. The trustees of School Section No. 8, Dummer, (Warsaw Village) have employed an assistant teacher, and expect to start a class in this work after the next Entrance Examination. In these schools the young people of the various communities get all the advantages of one or two years' High School training, without the expense, inconvenience, and disadvantage of going away from home. During the fall term these schools were visited by Mr. R. H. Cowley, M.A., Government Inspector of Continuation Schools, who expressed himself as much pleased with the work that was being done.

Perhaps the matter of greatest interest educationally at the present time, is the working of the new Public Schools Act, which came into operation, so far as the minimum salary clauses are concerned, with the present month. During the term just closed I met most of the trustees of the eastern division, of the county, and a number of ratepayers besides. I am pleased to report that I found a very gratifying readiness to comply with the new conditions, and to do their part in making the schools more efficient and useful. It is probably too soon yet to form any estimate of what the effects of the introduction of this law will be, but it has already done much in arousing trustees and ratepayers to the necessity of improving their grounds, buildings, and equipment, some of which were in very bad condition. That it will bring about greater permanency in the teaching profession, and more efficient work in the schools, is without doubt. The act is the outcome of an honest and earnest effort to improve the condition of the rural schools of the province, and should, at least be given a fair trial by those in whose interest it was devised. From what I have seen and heard during the last month, I am convinced that it will, at least, so far as the ratepayers of this county are concerned.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,
RICHARD LEES,
Public School Inspector.

Dr. Rice Accused

Sydney, Jan. 24.—H. E. Rice, formerly of Toronto, and a well-known physician of this city, was arrested yesterday on the charge of performing a criminal operation upon a girl named Cora McKinnon, a domestic. A preliminary hearing was held, resulting in his committment to the Supreme Court, bail being fixed at $2,000. The McKinnon girl reaches here tonight from Montreal, when further developments are expected.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Harry K. Thaw on Trial for His Life

Only About Fifty Reporters Admitted to the Court-room---Prisoner's Wife and Mother Were Present.

New York, Jan. 24.—Scenes approaching absolute disorder attended the opening of the trial of Harry K. Thaw in this city yesterday on the charge of murdering Stanford White. Most of the clashes were between reporters and correspondents and the police. Of the newspaper men there were perhaps two hundred, and there was a policeman for each and a great squad of bluecoats was commanded by a police inspector. Only about fifty newspaper writers finally were admitted, the remainder of the space in the court room being reserved for the two hundred talesmen summoned on the special jury panel.

The trial began before Justice Fitzgerald in part one of the trial term of the Supreme Court, and was scheduled for 10.30 o'clock. Before that time the police lines had been effended from the corridor adjacent to the court-room to include the entire first floor of the Criminal Court Buildings. When the newspaper men had been disposed of there seemed to be more policemen than any others in the neighborhood of the big building. The public had been warned in advance not to attempt to get into the court room and few appeared.

COUNTESS IN COURT.

The quarrels with the police, which had filled the hour preceding the trial were quickly forgotten at ten o'clock, when Mrs. William Thaw of Pittsburg, the mother of the young defendant, appeared in the court room. She was dressed in her customary black, and was veiled. Following her came the Countess of Yarmouth and Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, her daughters. Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife of Harry, came next, and was closely followed by May McKenzie, the actress, to whose home Evelyn Thaw fled the night of the tragedy, on the Madison Square Roof Garden, June 25 last. The party of relatives were completed by Edward Thaw, Harry's brother, and George Carnegie, his brother-in-law.

The Countess of Yarmouth wore a modest brown cloth gown, a brown fur hat, and brown veil. Mrs. Evelyn Thaw was dressed all in grey, with a hat and veil of the same color. The veils were worn throughout the morning. District Attorney Jerome appeared in court at 10.20 o'clock. After this time most of the talesmen had arrived, and the room was crowded.

Justice Fitzgerald took his seat at 10.26 o'clock, and the trial was on.

There was a decided stir when two prominent alienists, Drs. Carlos McDonald and Austin Flint, were escorted into court and given seats inside the clerk's rail. They were soon in conversation with Mr. Jerome, and it was said they had been engaged by him to watch the case from the start, so as to be prepared to give testimony whenever it might be required. These doctors represented the district attorney when the Josephine Terranova trial was stopped in order that a test might be made of her sanity.

Great preparations have been made to report the trial. A telegraph company has strung wires into the court house, and a telegraph office has been erected temporarily on the main floor.

Many out-of-town newspapers have reporters present, and even London and Paris have sent correspondents, so widespread is the interest in the remarkable tragedy.

Thaw had not been brought into court when the call of the jury panel was begun by the clerk. There were several absentees and the court imposed a fine of $100 on each. Dr. Mabin, a third expert, joined Drs. Flint and McDonald.

When the roll call had been completed Mr. Jerome moved that the trial proceed. Justice Fitzgerald admonished the throng in the court room, that absolute order be maintained throughout the hearing.

"Harry K. Thaw to the bar!" shouted the clerk, and there was a hush of expectancy.

THAW'S GRACIOUS BOW.

The prisoner appeared almost instantly from the jury room. He walked somewhat nervously at first but when he caught sight of his mother and wife and the other members of his family his somewhat solemn face lighted into a smile. He bowed graciously as he passed to his seat beside his counsel.

Thaw wore a dark blue sack suit and carried a plaid ulster overcoat on his arm. It was rather chilly in the court room, and Thaw threw the coat about his shoulders.

Without further ado, the task of selecting a jury was begun.

Deming C. Smith, [illegible] years old, a retired umbrella manufacturer, appeared in court at 10.20 o'clock. After, was accepted and sworn as the first juror in the Thaw case. He was the second talesman examined.

ALL UPHILL

Until She Found the Proper Food

Life has a very pleasant aspect when viewed through the spectacles of health. We are equal to almost any task, mountains are as molehills and difficulties made but to be overcome when vigorous health is ours.

Just as certain as fate, if we overload the stomach with poorly cooked, pasty, starchy or greasy foods we will suffer and lose health, for the machinery of the body is dependent for its strength and perfect action upon the food we eat.

A woman, living in Maidstone, England, says;

"For months I suffered severely with pains in my chest and arms as well as round the back of my waist, and always felt tired and lackadaisical, so that the slightest exertion was an effort. My appetite kept growing smaller and smaller. I consulted two doctors, but no improvement was noticeable while under their respective treatments. I became despondent and began to think my case was hopeless, when a friend recommended Grape-Nuts, having derived great benefit from this truly wonderful food himself. As a last chance I invested in a package, and after only a couple of weeks trial it had marvellous effects upon my health. The pains disappeared entirely, and in their place strength and an excellent appetite returned. I felt strong and fit for anything, that nasty sensation of lifelessness having quite departed. I have put on flesh rapidly.

"I have now used Grape-Nuts for many weeks, and mean to continue to do so in the future, for the reason that I and the remainder of the household like it so much. We eat it with milk and a little jam, generally apricot, which is a valuable addition." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Are You Often Bilious?

Read This and Learn How to Prevent Attacks.

Biliousness is merely a term applied to a condition that exists when the body is over-loaded with bile.

The complexion turns yellow, eyes look dull, pimples, itching and eczema break out, headaches are ever present.

Biliousness has two great causes, constipation and defective liver action.

When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are taken they not only correct the bowels, but act directly on the liver, regulating the bile secretion.

Unlike ordinary medicines which purge and give temporary relief. Dr. Hamilton's Pills remove the condition which causes biliousness; thus permanent cures are effected.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills do cure biliousness and liver ills under all circumstances.

We prove this by the statement of Mr. Fenwick Luddington, of New Harbor, N.S., who writes: "Three months ago I had no expectation of ever getting free from periodical bilious attacks. They were preceded by dizziness and dreadful headaches. If I stooped over my head would swim and a nauseous feeling crept into my stomach.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills fixed up my liver, drove all the bile out of my blood and made me a well man in a few months. Today I enjoy a good appetite, excellent digestion, and the best of health. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 22, 1907

THE GREAT LITTLE JAPANESE

The Japanese continue to hold their own and get more, and no wonder. A correspondent of the Paris Temps, writing from Seoul, gives an enthusiastic description of the mass of Japanese emigrants now thronging into Korea as colonists. As a noteworthy characteristic of this rush to a new country, he comments upon the absence of the selfishness and brutality which western peoples are wont to exhibit on such occasions. In spite of the inevitable crush and crowding, every one, he says, remains polite and helpful, particularly to the women. Although unknown to each other, a tacit bond of union seems to be established between them. The individuality of each is subordinated to the common purpose existing between them. They seem to feel that they are not a body of single Japanese leaving their native land, but a small part of "Great Japan," and that it is of importance that the new settlements should be strong and prosper. The characteristic and admirable union and discipline which had a large share in the Japanese success in the last war is again manifested, and will, in the opinion of the correspondent, insure the success of the little colonies that are being established along the new railroad in Korea and Manchuria. Three hundred such passengers are daily conveyed across the straits by two modern steamships, which thus connect the Japanese railroad system with the new Korean line. Thanks to this new railroad from Fusan to Seoul, the journey between the Japanese and Korean capitals only occupies three days.

The Liquor Law Is Well Enforced

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—For several weeks there has been more or less controversy regarding the way the license Laws are administered since Mr. Joseph Stewart was appointed license inspector. Some correspondents have even gone the length of comparing the present administration of that law in this city and county with the conditions existing when the late inspector was in power.

Now, in this letter I am not going to attack Mr. Cochrane personally or even say that conditions so well known as existing under his inspectorship, were altogether blameable to him.

It is an open secret that, for some years, Mr. Cochrane did not have the power to administer the liquor laws as he might have liked. In those days it is easily presumable that politics in some cases interfered with full exercise of the Law. Let all this be as it may, no one possessed of a full knowledge of present conditions in the sale of liquor here can honestly say that but what a great and easily seen change for the better exists and that the illegal sale of liquor is practically out of existence.

Nearly every man in Peterborough knows,—at least all acquainted with local hotels know—that a few years ago, gallons upon gallons of liquor, both in wood and glass, were sold in a majority of Peterborough hotels on Saturday nights and Sundays. Bars were then almost openly in cellars, garrets and bedrooms. Can any conscientious man, acquainted with present conditions, deny that all such things are absolutely ended and a thing of the past.

Instead of people, whether through political or personal jealousy or enmity, trying to belittle the splendid record of this honest public servant, all interested in either temperance or in the sale of liquor, should give Mr. Stewart all the credit that he has faithfully earned. Mr. Stewart's faithful and unpurchaseable services have not only been the means of saving thousands of dollars for poor wives and children, but have made the business of selling liquor raise a thousand fold in the estimation of all decent citizens. His acts have done more to suppress the cry or need for local option than a hundred lecturers' best efforts. Let all good citizens, including the non-law breaking hotel men, back up and give credit to Mr. Stewart.

Yours faithfully,
TEMPERANCE.

A NEW WHITE PAGE.

Various Life Marks Seen By An Observant Man On the Frst Snow.

When nature turns the first white page of winter for the record of her infinite activities her children are alert and ready to inscribe the varied stories of their personal exploits and meanderings. Where the new snow slopes down in a cold, clean sheet to the curve of a hurrying stream a muskrat began the inscription without waiting for the guiding illumination of day. His babylike feet have left a firm and regular double track of distinct impressions in the snow, and between these runs the groove of his snakelike tail. The new snow preserves the record of his early excursion, even to the crystal drops that fell from his close fur as he left the water. He walked along the bank away from the stream for a short distance, sat up to look about over the newly whitened landscape, made a few distinct impressions in the snow with his fore feet as if curious about the new covering the world had put on, and then returned by a longer route, taking the water close to where he had emerged. There is dignity and deliberation in the trail of the muskrat, writes Mr. S. T. Woods, in The Globe.

Beyond the high bank is a record so small and faint as to indicate helpless weakness, almost lost in the broad white expanse. A field mouse with short, hasty steps made his laborious way for a few feet over the snow and disappeared under a small drift that concealed his further course. How big and impassable the world must have seemed to him when he floundered more than his depth in the little groove, while his tiny feet sank interminable distances in the shallow snow! In winter he may commit serious depredations by girdling fruit and other trees under the snow, but his little track seems so helpless on the new page that he is almost forgiven in advance. A vagrant cat has been abroad, and her round paws have melted their regular impressions deeply and distinctly into the snow. This track moves along in a sheltering furrow and soon shows the record of a stealthy crouch before a spring. A few feet away some slaty grey feathers complete the story. Juncoes have been hopping all about the place, and the long springing strides of the swift rush lead to where one has been captured by the stalking enemy. The feathers are fragments from a tragedy.

Beside the naked woods the trail of a leaping red squirrel has a much more cheerful aspect. He bounded along not in haste, but in joy, his broadly separated hind feet overreaching the close twin marks of his fore feet at every spring. From one large tree to another he makes his way, seeming to inspect each and hurry along. At the foot of a black oak the trail ends, showing that the happy squirrel chose a more athletic path among the branches.

In the closer woods the tracks of a dog are scattered about with an irregularity suggesting human influences. Turning, doubling, crossing, and recrossing, his tracks lead about in bewildering uncertainty. The cause of all the excitement is disclosed by the clear, quadruple track of a cottontail beside a small viburnum bush. The long leaps that threw the dog off the scent make this trail difficult to follow. Cottontail was evidently in a hurry, judging by his long irregular bounds, but his separated hind feet point his direction. Where the shrubbery is more open the dog finds his trail again, and both lead away toward the dark green cedars. Near a broken field a crow has stalked thoughtfully, etching his bold records along the white expanse. The scales of a pine cone scattered by a squirrel are littered about on the fresh snow. The new page is marked everywhere, but from the low, uncertain clouds the north wind scatters a feathery spray of snow as if to efface the records of nature's handiwork and preserve the open expanse in its virgin whiteness.

A contract has been made with the Jenckes Machine Company, of Sherbrooke, Que., for the immediate Erection of a Stamp Mill on the "KING OF THE NORTH" Mines, and they have agreed to deliver same by

This mill should be in operation by March 15th, and dividends should be forthcoming immediately thereafter.

The great gold mines of Nevada were blow outs on the vein, and paid the owners from the time they started work thereon.

The great body of ore on the "KING OF THE NORTH" is from several blow outs, and a mine has already been mined by nature.

If you wish to make an investment in mining securities, you cannot do better than to buy the "KING OF THE NORTH" shares, as we believe that they will be worth several dollars each in a very few months.

We offer only FIFTY THOUSAND shares of "King of The North" Mines Company at ONE DOLLAR per share, and reserve the right to advance the price without notice. Remit by Registered Letter, Draft on Montreal, or Certified Cheque to

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 15th of September, 1905, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legros locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last. "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 20 acre ore and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 20 acres of J. B 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 80 feet, and it shows 8 inch nicolite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1203-492-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 56c. is equal to $530.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 60 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M.E.
New Liskeard, 17th November, 1906.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legros and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few days. Subscriptions will be taken subject to allotment or return same. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto. Send today or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1898, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Yes, madame, I have once or twice had the honor of attending upon you, though it may not have been my good fortune to address you."

"My life is so quiet and retired that I fear that much of what is best and worthiest at the court is unknown to me. You have served, monsieur?"

"Yes, madame. In the Lowlands, on the Rhine and in Canada."

"In Canada! Ah! What nobler ambition could woman have than to be a member of that sweet sisterhood which was founded by the holy Marie de l'Incarnation and the sainted Jeanne le Ber at Montreal? And doubtless you have had the privilege also of seeing the holy Bishop Laval?"

"Yes, madame, I have seen Bishop Laval."

"And I trust that the Bulpicians still hold their own against the Jesuits?"

"I have heard, madame, that the Jesuits are the stronger at Quebec and the others at Montreal."

"And who is your own director, monsieur?"

De Catinat felt that the worst had come upon him. "I have none, madame."

"Ah, it is too common to dispense with a director, and yet I know not how I could guide my steps in the difficult path which I tread if it were not for mine. Who is your confessor, then?"

"I have none. I am of the Reformed church."

The lady gave a gesture of horror, and a sudden hardening showed itself in mouth and eye. "What, in the court itself," she cried, "and in the neighborhood of the king's own person!"

"You will find, madame," said De Catinat sternly, "that members of my faith have not only stood around the throne of France, but have even seated themselves upon it."

"God has for his own all wise purposes permitted it, and none should know it better than I, whose grandsire, Theodore d'Aubigny, did so much to place a crown upon the head of the great Henry. But Henry's eyes were opened ere his end came, and I pray—oh, from my heart I pray—that yours may be also."

She rose and, throwing herself down upon the prie-dieu, sunk her face in her hands for some few minutes. A tap at the door brought the lady back to this world again, and her devoted attendant answered her summons to enter.

"The king is in the Hall of Victories, madame," said she. "He will be here in five minutes."

"Very well. Stand outside and let me know when he comes. Now, sir," she continued when they were alone once more, "you gave a note of mine to the king this morning?"

"I did, madame."

"And, as I understand, Mme. de Montespan was refused admittance to the grand lever?"

"She was, madame."

"But she waited for the king in the passage and wrung from him a promise that he would see her today?"

"Yes, madame."

"I would not have you tell me that which it may seem to you a breach of your duty to tell. But I am fighting now against a terrible foe and for a great stake. Tell me, then, at what hour was the king to meet the marquise in her room?"

"At 4, madame."

"I thank you. You have done me a service, and I shall not forget it. Now you must go, captain. Pass through the other room and so into the outer passage. And take this. It is Bossuet's statement of the Catholic faith. It has softened the hearts of others and may yours. Now, adieu!"

De Catinat passed out through another door, and as he did so he glanced back. The lady had her back to him, and her hand was raised to the mantelpiece. At the instant that he looked she moved her neck, and he could see what she was doing. She was pushing back the long hand of the clock.

Captain de Catinat had hardly vanished through the one door before the other was thrown open by Mlle. Nanon, and the king entered the room. Mme. de Maintenon rose with a pleasant smile and courtesied deeply, but there was no answering light upon her visitor's face, and he threw himself down upon the vacant armchair with a pouting lip and a frown upon his forehead.

"Nay, now this is a very bad compliment," she cried, with the gayety which she could assume whenever it was necessary to draw the king from his blacker humors. "My poor little dark room has already cast a shadow over you."

"Nay; it is Father la Chaise and the bishop of Meaux, who have been after me all day like two hounds on a stag, with talk of my duty and my position and my sins, with judgment and hell fire ever at the end of their exhortations."

"And what would they have your majesty do?"

"Break the promise which I made when I came upon the throne, and which my grandfather made before me. They wish me to recall the edict of Nantes, and drive the Huguenots from the kingdom. You would not have me do it, madame?"

"Not if it is to be a grief to your majesty. Bethink you, sire, that the Almighty can himself incline their hearts to better things if he is so minded, even as mine was inclined. May you not leave it in his hands?"

"On my word," said Louis, brightening, "it is well put. I shall see if Father la Chaise can find an answer to that. It is hard to be threatened with eternal flames because one will not ruin one's kingdom."

"Why should you think of such things, sire?" said the lady in her rich, soothing voice. "What have you to fear, you who have been the first son of the church?"

"You think that I am safe, then? But I have erred and erred deeply. You have yourself said as much."

"But that is all over, sire. Who is there who is without stain? You have turned away from temptation. Surely, then, you have earned your forgiveness."

"I would that the queen were living once more. She would find me a better man."

"I would that she were, sire."

"And she should know that it was to you that she owed the change. Oh, Francoise, you are surely my guardian angel, who has taken bodily form! How can I thank you for what you have done for me?" He leaned forward and took her hand, but at the touch a sudden fire sprang into his eyes, and he would have passed his other arm round her had she not risen hurriedly to avoid the embrace.

"Sire!" said she, with a rigid face and one finger upraised.

"You are right; you are right, Francoise. Sit down, and I will control myself. But how is it, Francoise, that you have such a heart of ice?"

"I would it were so, sire."

"No. But surely no man's love has ever stirred you! And yet you have been a wife. You did not love this Scarron?" he persisted. "He was old, I have heard, and as lame as some of his verses."

"Do not speak lightly of him, sire. I was grateful to him; I honored him; I liked him."

"You did not love him, Francoise?"

"At least I did my duty toward him."

"Has that nun's heart never yet been touched by love, then?"

(To be continued)

As a Last Extreme.

Once a number of legal lights in Washington were gathered in the smoking room of a lawyers' club when the talk turned to a discussion of the veracity of lawyers. "The average man," remarked one disciple of Blackstone, "seems only too ready to assume we are all liars, a very unjust position, it seems to me." "Do we not sometimes tell the truth?" he asked of his neighbor, a well known criminal lawyer.

"Certainly," promptly responded the latter. "We will do anything sometimes to win a case."

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 16c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 200,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two plots [illegible] each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilized for their factories and Canneries in each center and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold; the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid (say into 10 fully paid $100 shares for each Share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions ($20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100 Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalization, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 9TH, 1906.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $[illegible],000,000, representing shipments of 850 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,375 cattle 18,[illegible] sheep and 34,[illegible] hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present; The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs. J. A. Banfield, F. B. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION:

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 60 feet wide, two stories of 25 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. H. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

Womanly Troubles

Should Not be Allowed to Undermine Health.

It is impossible to go into details on this subject but the experience of many a poor woman who is crippled for life, just because she didn't use a good remedy in time, should be a warning to others.

When the first stages of womanhood appear in a young girl a great deal depends in getting her over this critical stage, so that in years to come she will not develop green sickness or consumption.

When she complains of flushed face, headache bearing down feelings, give her a course of Ferrozone which will carry her past the crisis.

In the adult woman if any irregularities occurr, Ferrozone will be found a remedy of remarkable potency and power.

Ferrozone is the ideal regulator and causes all organs of the body to perform their work properly.

It purifies the blood, tones up the nerves and vital energies. The stomach is strengthened, and digestive and assimilative processes are improved by the good work of Ferrozone. It regulates the bowels, cures constipation and piles, and replaces disease and decay by health and strength.

There is nothing better for the complexion than Ferrozone. It removes the dark circles from under the eyes, removes and cures all manner of skin eruptions, gives bright ness and brilliancy to the eyes, a rosy tint to the cheeks, whitens the teeth and develops a well-rounded, plump and handsome form.

Ferrozone is the Ladies' favorite, and should find a place in every household. It is prepared in the form of a chocolate coated tablet, convenient and pleasant to take. Price per box, 50c, or three boxes for $1.25. Sold by all druggists.

Fire Hall Heating is O.K.

It now seems that the fire hall heating is all right. What seemed to be yesterday a hard heating proposition, was simply a matter of trying to heat a new building in short time, or, in other words, to accomplish the impossible. It is absolutely impossible to heat a raw, new building, with possibly wet walls as quickly or as well as a seasoned structure.

A Civic Wedding Celebrated Yesterday

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock a unique ceremony was celebrated in the city clerk's office, when a wedding was consummated.

It seems that, some time ago, a young lady, by name Miss Edith Pritchard, whose relatives live in Hamilton, became acquainted with Mr. Ernest Armstrong, a young man of this city. The girl was sent a few days ago to Hamilton by the local police, her relatives objecting to the wedding. Mr. Armstrong went to the city after her and brought her back to Peterborough. The police were informed of the occurrence and instructed to arrest the girl. P.C. Moharry Tuesday afternoon went to a house in the east ward to arrest the girl. She asked for a moments delay under the pretence of putting on her outside raiment, and then jumping from an upstairs window, got away. The drop was fourteen feet, but she escaped injury.

About eight o'clock Tuesday evening the police again visited the house just as the wedding was about to take place, and the clergyman, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, who was totally unaware that the girl's relatives were opposed to the marriage, was about to celebrate the marriage ceremony. The girl spent the night at the police station.

Yesterday morning Rev. Mr. Langfeldt communicated with the young lady's relatives in Hamilton, at her request and obtained their permission by wire to perform the ceremony. The nuptials accordingly took place in the city clerk's office. Rev. Mr. Langfeldt officiating. Chief of Police Rosar was present during the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will reside in this city.

Turf Club Races Well Finished

Yesterday afternoon, with the climate way down below zero, and some 14 degrees below at that, the Peterborough Turf Club wound up their winter circuit.

Never for many years has the Peterborough Turf Club held so successful a winter meet. There were fully 30 horses and their respective drivers and owners from all parts of the Province present. The gate receipts yesterday, notwithstanding the extremely cold weather, more than allowed those controlling matters to more than break even. The races were well put on, well run, and all decisions met with unanimous approval. Seldom has such an aggregation of well-known horsemen met at a winter's meet in Canada. The recently reorganized Peterborough Turf Club including Messrs. Martin Conmee, Jas. O'Shea, J. Cottingham, Vhite and others, has good reason to be proud of their results of Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

As noted in yesterday's issue there was a tie in the 3.35 class of Tuesday's race. This by unanimous decision was given to King Bryson over Smutt.

The result of yesterday's races were as follows;

2.22 Class—

Named Race—
Minnie Bell	3	1	1	2
Joe Allen	1	2	2	3
Lady Gothard	5	4	3	1
Hazel Bell	2	3	5	5
Little Girl	4	5	4	4

Named Race—

Brian Boru	7	5	5
Whynot	8	7	9
Little Wilkes	3	4	8
Hazel Wilkes	4	3	4
Peggy	6	8	6
Nettie Star	2	3	8
May Bell	9	9	7
Brown Gyp	5	9	2
El Paso	1	1	1

Time—2.35, 2.35, 2.37 1-2

The first of the 2.22 class race was especially exciting. In the fourth heat of this race Lady Gothard and Minnie Bell raced nose and nose. Lady Gothard won out by just the width of an eye lash. This was one of the most exciting contests ever held over a Peterborough track. Taken as a whole the races of yesterday and the day before show clearly that the Peterborough Turf Club under its present organization will reinstate and uphold sporting matters in this country and city.

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE

Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1906) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, groveling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $300,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business; furthermore, that no alcohol, or other injurious, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatever; and that Mr. Bok's malicious statements were wholly and absolutely false.

In the retraction printed by said Journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription," from eminent chemists, all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs."

These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble groveling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was, however brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York State which promptly rendered a verdict in the Doctor's favor. Thus his traducers came to grief and their base slanders were refuted.

VOL XXXV, NO. 21 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 25 1907 PRICE TWO CENTS

They Failed to Choose Another Man for Jury

Slow Progress Being Made at the Thaw Trial in New York---Two Relatives of Prisoner Did Not Turn Up in the Court---Thaw's Smile Was Missing.

New York, Jan. 25.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White was resumed at 10.30 yesterday. Two jurors were selected yesterday.

The work in the court room Wednesday developed one or two features out of the ordinary. The first of these was the jury shall be kept in seclusion until its members have reached a verdict. At the recess Justice Fitzgerald swore in two officers to take charge of the jurors, and admonished most seriously those already in the box upon the importance of their duties and the care they should take not to have any communication with outsiders. The jurymen will be lodged at the Broadway Central Hotel, and will be constantly under the surveillance of officers.

The second development was the appearance in court, on behalf of the prosecution of three noted alienists. Their duty, apparently, is to watch the trial to prepare to oppose a possible introduction by the defence of the emotional insanity plea. The plans of the defence are still hidden, although close attention was paid to the questions asked of the talesman by counsel to see if they would give any indication in this direction.

TO MEET THE DEFENCE.

The District Attorney carefully guarded against the two obvious points which could be made against him. Each talesman was asked if he would abide by the law as the judge declared it. With great care counsel elaborated this point. Once or twice he mentioned by name the "unwritten law;" a more often he spoke of an ethical, a supposed sense of equity or a higher law.

He took up the question of insanity. He read from a law book the legal definition of that state, and informed the talesman that the law had declared that a man might only plead it as an excuse "if at the time of an alleged criminal act he was laboring under such a defect of reason as either not to know the nature of quality of the act, or not to know that the act was wrong."

The defence put in objections to the questions on both these points, but they were over-ruled.

District Attorney Jerome and his assistant, Mr. Garvan, had preceded the judge by a few moments and taken their places at a table inside the court rail. The defendant's lawyers have a table just outside the rail.

Edward Thaw entered the court alone, and this gave rise to a report that Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the accused, and the Countess of Yarmouth, his sister, might not attend the morning session yesterday.

SMILE WAS MISSING.

Thaw was called to the bar at 10.45 o'clock, and was again attired in the dark blue suit he wore Friday previously. As he walked briskly by his relatives the smiles and bows which had marked his appearance on Wednesday, were missing. His wife leaned forward to nod to the prisoner.

Thaw greeted each of his counsel in turn, and then sat facing the first talesman called. His eyelids seemed to move heavily, as though he had not rested any too well Wednesday night.

The absence of Thaw's mother from the court-room yesterday was explained by one of the attorneys for the defence, who said that the strain of yesterday proved too much for her, and that she was on the verge of collapse when she returned to her hotel. The Countess of Yarmouth is said to be suffering from a slight cold.

NO CONFUSION.

None of the confusion which was so apparent on yesterday marked the opening of the second day of the trial of Harry K. Thaw, on the charge of murdering Stanford White. Today the police had the situation well in hand, and those who had no immediate business in the court room learned yesterday the futility of trying to enter.

When the morning session began today there were two jurors in the box, Deming B. Smith, No. 1, and Charles B. Peck, No. 2. Frank L. Hill, was selected early Wednesday as juror No. 2 was excused later in the day, upon explaining the extent to which his business would be injured if he were compelled to serve.

Nearly half an hour before the session was opened, Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw came into the court room through the main doorway.

The morning session of the Thaw trial ended at 1 p.m. without the selection of an additional juror.

The American Magazine for February

The new number of the American Magazine—the February number—is easily the best one issued so far by the new editors. It is full of snap. Miss Tarbell's Lincoln article is undoubtedly one of the great stories of the year. Josephine Dasham Bacon begins her new series, "We And Our Servants." The first article contains enough vital opinion and lively satire to keep the average family discussing the servant problem for a month. Frederic C. Howe reveals some astonishing facts about "Graft in England." Dr. Leonard Keene Hirshberg tells the truth about "Cancer, the Unconquered Plague." W. G. Fitz-Gerald reports the discovery, in South Africa, of a diamond three times bigger than any ever before found—a diamond bigger than a baseball. "The Interpreter" this month talks about Lincoln—a talk which the critic shrewdly suspects is from the pen of F.P. Dunne, the creator of "Mr. Dooley," although it is unsigned.

Fiction in the American Magazine is growing better. This month the story-tellers are O Henry, Cryus Townsend Brady, Porter Emerson Browne, Francis Wilson, Jessie Anderson Chase, Frederick L. Cowles and Mrs. L. H. Harris.

F. Marion Crawford and David Grayson proceed with their serials.

The poets are: Harry H. Kemp, Walter Pritchard Eaton, Leola Snow and William Herbert Carruth.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The Academy of Music, Ninth and D Streets, north west, was gutted by fire yesterday. No lives were lost. The loss is about $50,000.

Industrial Exhibition Met Last Night

The adjourned meeting of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition was held last night in the council chamber. In the absence through sickness of the president, Mr. D. Messrs. J. J. Turner, Sr., Wm. Collins, Samuel Dagell, Ald. Elliott, R. J. Munro, Ald. Tovey, J. Redmond, Conway, A. Dawson, Ald. Phelan, Ald. Ball, R. Scott, reeve of Smith; John Brown reeve of North Monaghan; W. J. Porter, deputy reeve of Otonabee; Dawson Kennedy, and others, spoke strongly in favor of continuing the Exhibition. It was therefore decided to proceed with organizing for the coming year;

After discussing the best way of increasing the membership the meeting adjourned.

Romaine Street Sewer Criticised

Yesterday a local contractor asked a Times representative what was the price of the Romaine street sewer. It seems that the city engineer some time ago put in a tender at 82 cents a foot. It seems now up to the city engineer to show that the city made money on this contract everything being equal.

Wants Canadian Husband

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Mayor Scott is in receipt of a unique application. A Newcastle-on-Tyne woman writes from England, asking him to find her a husband—a decent fellow. Owing to overcrowding and lack of work she says she cannot earn a living wage respectably at home, and therefore is asking him to put her letter in the hands of a prospective husband. She is 25, well-educated, has good manners, and of Scotch extraction.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Duties of the Sanitary Inspector

Defined by the City Council's Property Committee Last Evening—A Bylaw to Be Prepared.

The Property Committee of the City Council met last evening at five o'clock, when there were present, Chairman Ald. McIntyre, his Worship Mayor McWilliams, and Aldermen Elliott, Ball and Stevenson.

The first matter taken up was that of appointing a sanitary inspector and defining his duties.

Ald. Elliott has fathered this proposed measure of thorough sanitary regulations and inspection for Peterborough, with a view to raising our standard of health. The proposition before the board is that of providing for the regular and systematic removal from residences and stores, etc., of all garbage and refuse whatsoever by public scavengers under the supervision of a sanitary inspector, who in connection with these duties shall also assume responsibility for the proper purity of milk, protect the Otonabee waters from pollution, and also inspect bakeries, slaughter houses, meats, food, offered for sale, etc. The inspector will also be required to report on the necessity for sewer connection. The medical health officer will be the sanitary inspector's superior, and he will be under supervision of the Board of Health, and the City's Property and Health Committee. The mayor also suggested that the sanitary inspector might also take up the duties of truant officer, and also be vested with police authority and act as reserve constable when necessary.

The city solicitor will be instructed to prepare a bylaw, defining the sanitary inspector's duties as outlined above, and submit the same to the Committee of the Whole on Monday night. It was suggested that the inspector's salary be $700 a year and his uniform found.

Each householder, it is proposed will be taxed a small annual fee, in support of the proposed public scavenging and inspector, whose duties will commence March first.

CARTERS' SHELTER.

The chairman was authorized to negotiate with the Toronto Savings & Loan Co., as to the terms on which the property in rear of Kilgan's hardware store, could be obtained for carters' shelter and stand purposes, and the cost of erecting a suitable shelter.

The committee then adjourned.

City League Troubles Are Explained

By request The Times publishes the following letter handed in yesterday;

Contrary to rumors afloat that the undersigned teams would not play their scheduled city league games tonight, at a meeting of the teams held last night it was decided to play tonight's game, but unless a more agreeable understanding in reference to concessions to players is arrived at by Thursday next the clubs referred to have decided to sever their connection with the City Hockey League.

It is well known to the league executive that dissatisfaction reigned among the clubs. If had been expected a meeting would have been held previous to playing tonight's games, but we trust that the difficulty will be satisfactorily arranged, or as above stated the teams will withdraw.

Peterboro Curlers Win at Montreal

The Montreal Star has the following concerning the Peterborough curlers at the big bonspiel in Montreal;

"Though the competition is keen over the winning of the various trophies, there is very noticeable the feeling that this congregation is nothing less than a meeting of brothers, and the winning of a game is not of half so much importance as that the game be a good one. Every curler seems to know the other, and if by any chance a visitor from the States is unfamiliar with one from St. John's, he is on the moment relieved of his suspense and hand-shakes follow.

"It has been hard on Boston. Both in the doubles and singles they have been beaten and now they are out of the running altogether. And yet it is not through lack of good play, in fact they put up a sturdy fight each time, and last evening witnessed one. Mr. John McGraw's rink met that of the Peterborough curlers, and on the first few shots it looked like as if Boston were the superior. Ahs for Boston. As one spectator was led to remark, "It's the last shot counts wi' them blocks."

"It would be well to remark that this gentleman is an Iron enthusiast.

"So the scoring went on, and with hard nuts as a whole, Boston saw marked on the board, Peterborough 9, Boston 6 on the club house members were afraid that the 'man o' curns' be pulled by a skip being whitewashed, and John McGraw said it would not be. The next end Boston scored 1, then two, and still another two, and just hopes of Boston soared. It was their case, however, for the remainder of the thirteen ends fell to Peterborough, who, throughout the game, showed excellent form. Peterborough had equally good luck on the Thistle ice, beating Campbellton by 6 shots up.

In the first round of the single rink competitions, the Peterborough rinks both won, the rinks and the scores being;

Bridant Rebuked But Acquitted

Toronto, Jan. 25.—Edmund Bridant, the young French barber charged with murder, as the result of his wife's sudden death from septic poisoning, was found "not guilty" at the Assizes yesterday. He was discharged by Chief Justice Marbeith with a scathing rebuke for using the letters which indicated his deceased wife's infidelity, in order to save himself from the gallows.

"Some men," commented his Lordship, "would have done almost anything before pursuing the course that you did."

Neither Bridant nor his counsel, Mr. R. S. Neville, made reply to this powerful comment, and the prisoner made his way out of court to the street as quickly as possible after his release. There he met some friends. He had been in jail since last July, when his wife died.

In his charge to the jury, the chief Justice said that there was no evidence that the pills had caused the death of Mrs. Bridant, and the evidence in regard to these pills was only of value in establishing the prisoner's intention or desire to prevent his wife from giving birth to the child.

Mr. Lynch-Staunton, K.C., the Crown Prosecutor, addressed the jury for forty minutes, and Mr. R. S. Neville, for the prisoner, spoke for two hours.

WHITE BREAD

Makes Trouble For People With Weak Intestinal Digestion.

A lady in a Wis town, employed a physician who instructed her not to eat white bread for two years. She tells the details of her sickness and she certainly was a sick woman.

"In the year 1897 I gave out from over work, and until 1901 I remained an invalid in bed a great part of the time. Had different doctors but nothing seemed to help. I suffered from nervous spinal congestion, female trouble and serious stomach and bowel trouble. My husband called a new doctor and after having gone without any food for 10 days the doctor ordered Grape-Nuts for me. I could eat the new food from the very first mouthful. The doctor kept me on Grape-Nuts and the only medicine was a little glycerine to heal the alimentary canal.

"When I was up again Doctor told me to eat Grape-Nuts twice a day and no white bread for two years. I got well in good time and have gained in strength as I can do my own work again.

"My brain has been helped so much, and I know that the Grape-Nuts food did this for me. I found I had been made ill because I was not fed right, that is I did not properly digest white bread and some other food I tried to live on.

"I have never been without Grape-Nuts food since and eat it every day. You may publish this letter if you like as it will help someone else." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in Pkgs.

The Ontario Legislature is Now in Session

Speech from the Throne Touches Important Subjects and Foreshadows Needed Legislation---Another Judicial District to Be Established in New Ontario.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—The third session of the eleventh Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario was opened by his Honor Lieutenant-Governor Clark, with the usual time honored ceremonial.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE.

The text of the speech from the throne was as follows;

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly,—It affords me great pleasure to again meet you as representatives of the people to Parliament assembled.

$800,000 FOR THE TREASURY.

The sittings of the Interprovincial Conference at Ottawa in October last, were attended by the Prime Minister and two of his colleagues. The deliberations of the conference will, I have reason to believe, result in an amendment to the British North America Act by which the amount of the annual payment by the Dominion Government to the Province will be increased by about $800,000. A report of the proceedings of the conference will be laid before you.

FARM LABORERS

Better accommodation has been provided in this city for the increasing number of immigrants, and my Ministers intend to make additional efforts to induce farmers and farm laborers to settle among us.

You will be pleased to know that the loan of three millions of dollars, authorized by the Act of last session for the completion of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, was successfully floated in Canada at par, and without any expense other than that of advertising.

ANOTHER JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Owing to the steady increase of population in Northern Ontario, it has become necessary, in the interests of the proper administration of justice, to create an additional judicial district.

In accordance with the legislation of last session, the Railway and Municipal Board has been constituted. Although it has been in existence only a few months, the board has already considered and disposed of many questions coming within its jurisdiction. It has also proven an efficient agency for enforcing the electric railway rates specified by this Legislature and for adjusting disputes between labor and capital in respect of street railway operation. A report of the work of the board since information will be laid before you.

THE POWER QUESTION.

I am glad to be able to inform you that, under the provisions of the Act of last session, very satisfactory progress has been made in the direction of procuring cheap electric power for consumers.

Tenders have been called for the extension of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway to a point of junction with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and the receipts for passenger and freight traffic show a large increase over the preceding year.

TAX ON MINING PROPERTY.

The great value of the mineral deposits in the Cobalt district is becoming more and more evident, and the future is full of promise, both to the investor in mining properties and the people of the Province. The rights of the Province in these deposits have been kept steadily in view by my Ministers, and accordingly a measure providing for the taxation of mining properties will be submitted to you for consideration. I think it well to draw to your attention the fact that a tendency to hasty and reckless investment and speculation is abroad, and it is to be hoped, will be kept in check by the good sense of our people.

The amendments of last session to the Public School Act have given general satisfaction. The experience of the past year with reference to the working of the Act has shown certain amendments to be desirable; a measure embodying them will be laid before you. The Education Department is now dealing with the question of the price of text books, and expects during the present session, to make a satisfactory arrangement with reference to this very important matter.

PRISON LABOR.

My Ministers have for some time past, been considering the question of prison labor, with a view to avoiding all possibility of its being put into competition with free labor. It is a subject of the utmost importance, and cannot be dealt with lastly. Some facts with relation to it will be laid before you.

Bills will be laid before you relating to colonization roads, providing for the taxation of mining properties, consolidating and amending the Companies Act, amending the Act creating the Railway and Municipal Board, the Mines Act, the Public School Act, the Northern Ontario Railway, and the Volunteer Land Grant Acts.

It affords me great pleasure to inform you that the revenues of the Province are largely in excess of the estimates, and more than sufficient to meet the Provincial expenditure during the year.

The public accounts will be laid before you for your consideration at the earliest moment, and the estimates for the coming year will be also submitted for your approval at an early date.

NOTES FROM THE BUILDINGS.

A special train from Parry Sound arrived in the city Wednesday night, carrying 200 of Mr. Gahn's constituents, many of whom were at the opening of the Legislature yesterday. They intend to wait upon Hon. Frank Cochrane today in a body to request Government aid towards railways and other communication aids to the Parry Sound district.

Hon. Nelson Monteith, and Mr. James S. Duff, M.P.P., West Simcoe, introduced Mr. A.E. Ferguson, M.P.P., while the same friendly service was rendered Mr. Alan Studholme by Hon. Adam Beck and Mr. E. J. B. Pense, M.P.P., Kingston.

A magnificent bouquet of red roses adorned the Speaker's desk, with the card, "Compliments of J. H. Jewell."

Easy Way for Canada to Acquire a Navy

London, Jan. 25.—The Times says the very fact of Secretary Root's visit and his discussion with leading Canadian statesmen, coupled with the belief that this visit is only the prelude to some comprehensive attempt to settle all outstanding diplomatic differences, is in itself a recognition of Canada's status which "American statesmen have not hitherto conceded her. Such recognition is most satisfactory, but it is far more important that recognition should come even more clearly from our side. It is good business for Secretary Root to get into touch with Canadian sentiment. To do so, too, is Lord Ripon's and Sir Edward Grey's imperative duty.

At the same time it is well foreacquire with perfect frankness that there is yet another source of weakness apart from any possible want of appreciation of Canadian interests by our diplomatists. That weakness lies in the actual disparity of national strength on the two sides of the 4,000 miles of frontier separating Canada and the United States. Canada for her development will need an army, and a navy—no easy matter, if she is to acquire them herself, but easy if she steps into her place as a full partner in the British Empire. Canada's interests lie in the wide sphere of reciprocal Arrangements provided by the British Empire.

NATURE'S CATARRH CURE

Sensible and Scientific Way to Cure this Disagreeable Disease.

Nearly everyone suffers at one time or another with catarrh.

The natural way to cure this disagreeable disease is by applying healing medications direct to the diseased spot.

In no other way can this be done as naturally as by the use of Hyomei breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit.

Put several drops of Hyomei in the inhaler and then for a few minutes, four or five times a day, let the air you breathe come through it. In that way all the air that enters the nasal passages, the throat or the lungs, is filled with Hyomei's healing medication, reaching the most remote air cells of the respiratory organs, destroying all catarrhal germs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

A few days' use of Hyomei will show how quickly it relieves all catarrhal conditions, and you will not have to use it long before you find it has effected a complete and lasting cure.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei, or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physician will give your case the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. Booth's Hyomei Company, Buffalo, N.Y.

A BLIGHTING INFLUENCE

The municipal ownership craze in Great Britain is on the decline, but the harm done by it has not yet begun to be told even in the long list of failures, the abuses which have marked its progress, the huge municipal debts piled up, the depreciation in the values of securities caused by the enormous unprofitable investments, and the burdens added to the load carried by the taxpayers. The other day a leading United States electric supply company of London, which has been wonderfully successful in America, was compelled to mark $5,000,000 off the capital of its plant at Manchester, England. How can these facts be reconciled? Why should not that big concern get its share of the vast business implied in the proposal of so many million dollars of expenditure in its line by a single city? London alone was, a few weeks ago, about to ask Parliament to sanction a $47,000,000 municipal electric supply scheme. There must be a reason for that procedure, and the New York Times offers this explanation:

"The reason is that municipal ownership blights whatever it touches. The promise of a $47,000,000 enterprise is not what it seems. If it were to be authorized—the recent election in London negatives it—it would have to be executed by floating municipal stock, already selling at 87, and destined to fall to a Russian level if the supply were to be increased. This makes such expenditures so expensive that there is a natural check. And jealousy of private profits imposes an unnatural check in England. In the United Kingdom electric lighting is supplied in 457 places, although the number should be 1,354 to equal the proportion in operation in the United States. If the United Kingdom were as well supplied with electric railways as the United States it would have 1,400 miles instead of 3,046. If the United Kingdom used the telephone as much as the United States there would be 50,000 employed in the industry instead of 13,000. It therefore appears why municipal ownership, in a country where it is more successful than elsewhere, both causes and explains depression in the industries concerned."

Dr. Rice Accused

Sydney, Jan. 24.—H. E. Rice, formerly of Toronto, and a well-known physician of this city, was arrested yesterday on the charge of performing a criminal operation upon a girl named Cora McKinnon, a domestic. A preliminary hearing was held, resulting in his committment to the Supreme Court, bail being fixed at $2,000. The McKinnon girl reaches here tonight from Montreal, when further developments are expected.

STOPPED THE OVATION.

Richard Wagner's Peculiar Experience in Vienna.

When Wagner was at the height of his popularity he visited Vienna. Baron von Beust, then chancellor of the empire, was informed that the Prussian party intended to give him an immense serenade—a serenade which would have the air of German protest against the tendency of the ministry to make the union of Hungary and Austria more intimate. The demonstration promised to arouse strong feeling.

"Your excellency is warned," said the chancellor's advisers. "It is impossible to stop this manifestation unless Wagner goes away, and he loves ovations too well. Nothing will induce him to depart."

"You think so," said Beust, with a smile.

An hour later Wagner was invited to dine with the chancellor. He was flattered by the invitation and accepted it. After dinner, at which Beust was delightfully affable and entertaining, the chancellor remarked: "Herr Wagner, are you interested in autographs? I have some very curious ones to show you." And he opened a portfolio where were letters of Palmerston, Bismarck, Napoleon III., Heine and others.

Suddenly turning to a paper, dated 1848, he said: "Ah, look at this. It is very curious. What would your friend his highness the king of Bavaria say if this paper, which would be significant in connection with the political serenade which the Germans are going to give you, should be published tomorrow in the Vienna papers?"

The composer examined the paper and recognized, with surprise, an old proclamation of one Richard Wagner, who, an ardent revolutionist in 1848, had proposed to the youth of that time to set fire to the palace of the king of Saxony. He saw his autograph and that it might be the means of getting him into serious trouble.

"Very curious, is it not, Herr Wagner?" said the minister.

"Very curious, your excellency," replied his guest.

The next morning Richard Wagner left Vienna, recalled to Baireuth by urgent business.—Strand Magazine.

MAKING WAMPUM.

A Process That Requires Both Patience and Skill.

With certain tribes wampum is still highly prized and necklaces are worn by men, women and children when they are the fortunate possessors of them. To make wampum various kinds of shells are used, white and those having a lavender hue being most liked.

The thin shells are broken into little pieces and by aid of nippers are made as nearly round as possible. When each piece is drilled in the center, the old time fire kindling style of drill being used, the shells are then strung and rolled with the hand on a flat stone, which grinds them until they are smooth and even.

Comparatively few Indians among those who prize wampum beads most highly have the skill or patience to make them, even though they had the materials. The fact is there are but few wampum-bead makers in the country, and it often happens that long pilgrimages must be made to secure the requisite for really fine beads, and, as with the white man's trinkets, that which is "far fetched and dear bought" is most sought after for ornamentation.

Around some of the ancient ruins in the southwest the little disks of wampum are often found in the sand, and it is probable that they were deposited in the graves in very early times and washed out or exposed by the wind's action. These ruins are in the best state of preservation of any in the country. Absolutely nothing is known of their builders, and the origin of these ruins was as much a mystery when Coronado first saw them in 1540, when he made his famous invasion, as it is to the people of the present day.—Indian's Friend.

Oxygen and Mushrooms.

A singular way of removing oxygen from the air by the aid of a plant is as follows: Inside a glass bell jar, suspended over water, is placed a mushroom, and sunlight is allowed to fall upon the plant. The mushroom absorbs the oxygen from the air in the jar, and the carbonic acid formed during the process is absorbed by the water, which gradually rises in the jar to one-fifth of its height. The mushroom now dries up, but its animation is only suspended, as may be proved by introducing beside it a green plant, when it will recommence to vegetate, being nourished by the oxygen exhaled from the fresh plant.

Hope.

"Mr. Merchant," said the new clerk, preparing to ask for more money, "I think I understand the business pretty well now, and"—

"Yes?" interrupted his employer. "Well, keep at it four or five years. Perhaps you'll understand it then as well as you think you do now."

Taking Papa Down.

THE PROPERTY

1. The east half of the north-east quarter of the south half of lot 6 in the 6th concession of Coleman Township.
2. The south-west quarter of the south half of lot 7, in the first concession of Burke.
3. One 40-acre claim in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, adjoining claim No. 1404 1-2.
4. Twenty acres in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, being the north half of the south-east quarter of the north half of lot 18, concession 9.
5. One 40-acre claim in the Anima-Nipissing District, being mining claim No. 1404 1-2, known as the "South Claim," situated about 1-4 of a mile west of Bay Lake and about one mile north of Anima-Nipissing. Total 160 acres.
6. 4,000 lots in the townsite of North Cobalt, beatifully situated on the west shore of Lake Temiskaming, containing 640 acres, close to the Green-Meehan and Red Rock properties, and only 100 miles from Toronto, on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, and is sure to be the coming summer resort, as there is good fishing, boating, and bathing. The finest scenery, most interesting surroundings, and a very bracing climate.

These lots alone in a year or two will be worth the full capitalization of the company. The mining properties of this company are rail better value than a great number of properties now on the market at double the price, without the townsite, which practically acts as a security, which is sure to increase in value every year, and protect every shareholder in full for his investment, with the chance of making very large money out of the development of the mining property.

Our shares will be increasing in value from year to year, and in three years from now should sell on the open market for $10.00 a share from the dividend it will then pay.

Parties wishing to secure an allotment can do so by wire or letter, as there is no doubt every share will be subscribed for before February 1st.

Call or write for prospectus, reports, maps, etc., that will give fullest information.

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Cuagie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 22 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 22 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last. Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 22 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 22. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 30 acre ore and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 22 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 80 feet, and it shows 6 inch nicolite, 12 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 673-1283-972-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 70c. is equal to $630.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M.E.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware the company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1898, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Spare me, sire, I beg of you!"

"But I must ask, for my own peace hangs upon your answer."

"Your words pain me to the soul."

"Have you never, Francoise, felt in your heart some little flicker of the love which glows in mine?" He rose with his hands outstretched, a pleading monarch, but she, with half turned head, still shrank away from him.

"Be assured of one thing, sire," said she, "that even if I loved you as no woman ever loved a man, yet I should rather spring from that window on to the stone terraces beneath than ever by word or sign confess as much to you."

"And why, Francoise?"

"You have wasted too much of your life and of your thoughts upon woman's love. And now, sire, the years steal on, and the day is coming when even you will be called upon to give an account of your actions and of the innermost thoughts of your heart. I would see you spend the time that is left to you, sire, in building up the church, in showing a noble example to your subjects."

The king sank back into his chair with a groan. "Forever the same," said he. "Why, you are worse than Father la Chaise and Bossuet."

"Nay, nay," said she gayly, with the quick tact in which she never failed. "I have wearied you when you have stooped to honor my little room with your presence. That is indeed ingratitude, and it were a just punishment if you were to leave me in solitude to-morrow and so cut off all the light of my day. And why have you not sided today, sire?"

"Pah! It brings me no pleasure. There was a time when my blood was stirred by the blare of the horn and the rush of the hoofs, but now it is all wearisome to me."

"And hawking too?"

"Yes; I shall hawk no more."

"But, sire, you must have amusement."

"What is so dull as an amusement which has ceased to amuse? I know not how it is. When I was but a lad, and my mother and I were driven from place to place, with the Fronde at war with us and Paris in revolt, with our throne and even our lives in danger, all life seemed to be so bright, so new and so full of interest. Now that there is no shadow and that my voice is the first in France, as France's is in Europe, all is dull and lacking in flavor.

He bowed profoundly three times.

What use is it to have all pleasure before me when it turns to wormwood when it is tasted?"

"True pleasure, sire, lies rather in the inward life, the serene mind, the easy conscience. And, then, as we grow older is it not natural that our minds should take a graver beat? We might well reproach ourselves if it were not so, for it would show that we had not learned the lesson of life."

"It may be so, and yet it is sad and weary when nothing amuses. Who is that knocking?" asked the king.

"It is my companion," said madame. "What is it, mademoiselle?"

"M. Corneille, to read to the king," said the young lady, opening the door.

"Ah, yes, sire; I know how foolish is a woman's tongue, and so I have brought a wiser one than mine here to charm you. M. Racine was to have come, but I hear that he has had a fall from his horse, and he sends his friend in his place. Shall I admit him?"

"Oh, as you like, madame, as you like," said the king listlessly. At a sign from Mlle. Nanon a little peaky man with a shrewd, petulant face and long gray hair falling back over his shoulders entered the room. He bowed profoundly three times and then seated himself nervously on the very edge of the stool, from which the lady had removed her workbasket.

"Shall it be a comedy, or a tragedy, or a burlesque pastoral?" Corneille asked timidly. "There is my 'Pretended Astrologer.'"

"Yes, that will do."

Corneille commenced to read his comedy, while Mme. de Maintenon's white and delicate fingers picked among the many colored silks which she was weaving into her tapestry. From time to time she glanced across, first at the clock and then at the king, who was leaning back, with his lace handkerchief thrown over his face. It was twenty minutes to 4 now, but she knew that she had put it back half an hour and that the true time was ten minutes past.

"Tut, tut!" cried the king suddenly. "There is something amiss there. The second last line has a limp in it somewhere. It was one of his foibles to pose as a critic, and the wise poet would fall in with his corrections, however unreasonable they might be.

"Your majesty is perfectly right," said Corneille unblushingly. "I shall mark the passage and see that it is corrected." He picked up his book again and was about to resume his reading when the king said:

"M. Corneille, I am obliged to you for what you have read, and I regret that I must now interrupt your comedy. Some other day perhaps I may have the pleasure of hearing the rest of it." He smiled in the gracious fashion which made all who came within his personal influence forget his faults and remember him only as the impersonation of dignity and of courtesy.

The poet, with his book under his arm, slipped out, while his majesty said to madame:

"I see by your clock that it is 4 o'clock. I must go."

"My clock, sire, is half an hour slow."

"Half an hour!" The king looked dismayed for an instant and then began to laugh. "Nay, in that case," said he, "I had best remain where I am, for it is too late to go, and I can say with a clear conscience that it was the clock's fault rather than mine."

"I trust that it was nothing of very great importance, sire," said the lady, with a look of demure triumph in her eyes.

"By no means."

"No state affair?"

"No, no; it was only that it was the hour at which I had intended to rebuke the conduct of a presumptuous person. But perhaps it is better as it is. My absence will in itself convey my message and in such a sort that I trust I may never see that person's face more at my court. But, ah, what is this?"

The door had been flung open, and Mme. de Montespan, beautiful and furious, was standing before them.

Hermit Tortured and Murdered

Euclair, Mich. Jan. 24.—The body of Daniel Bastian, a wealthy hermit, was found late yesterday, frozen in his own blood, in a small hut near the house where he had been living alone. He had been tortured to make him tell where his money was hid. Amputated fingers and toes lay scattered about, and the appearance of a heavy rope and of a beam over which it hung, coupled with marks on the victim's neck, indicated that he had been strung up to the rafters for a time.

This Company has already about 1,000 shareholders, all of whom have paid for their shares in cash on equal terms, and shares are allotted by priority of application.

DIRECTORS' MEETING REPORT

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 3rd November, inst., duly confirmed by a resolution of the Board at a meeting held on the 20th November, inst., the following report was made by the Acting Secretary:—

The whole of our first issue has been subscribed in Western Canada; in fact, it was considerably over-applied for, and allotments have been made and Share Certificates issued for over $200,000 in the Capital Stock of the Company in Western Canada alone.

The Eastern issue, just made, is also going very rapidly, over $60,000 having already been subscribed, and applications for Shares are averaging over $3,000 daily.

I do not know that I can give you much further information than you already have, except to remark that the price of cattle, live weight, ranges in Western Canada from 2c to 2 1-2c per lb., with unlimited supplies available, against much higher prices in the United States.

When in the can it is worth from 15c to 20c per lb. and costs only the fraction of the value to put it there, cans and cases included.

The present price of canned beef is $12.50 per case of 4 dozen 2-lb. cans, 96 lbs. of beef being in each case, and as each of our Canneries will have a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, a slight calculation will demonstrate that substantial dividends may reasonably be expected.

The Company intends operating Canneries and Packing Houses in at least six of the principal cattle centers in Western Canada, two of which will be erected and equipped forthwith, and it will be observed that the Shareholders embrace a large percentage of the principal people in Western Canada, and though its membership the Company indirectly commands a large proportion of the cattle resources of Western Canada.

As considerable towns always arise in the vicinity of a large Packing and Canning industry (Packing Town, Chicago, has a population exceeding 800,000 persons, and many others have from 2,000 to 5,000 inhabitants), this company should purchase at first cost one or two whole sections containing an area of one square mile each on the line of railroad with river frontage. This should be utilised for their factories and Canneries in each center and a considerable portion cut up into town lots and either leased or sold, the profits from which should largely supplement the Company's capital.

Judging from the results achieved by Packing Houses elsewhere it is probable that these shares can be subdivided within a year or so in order to avoid the appearance of excessive dividends being paid say in 10 fully paid $100-shares for each Share held), and I may mention that one firm, amongst several others in the United States, I am informed, have subdivided their stock many times, until the original capital of $100,000 is now by subdivision nominally twenty millions (20,000,000), or, in other words, 200 Shares fully paid $100-Shares of bonus have been issued the holder of each original Share held, and for many years have paid, and are paying, substantial dividends upon that increased capitalisation, and the prospects with this Company are quite equal, both in quantity of cattle available and markets, to those of the Packing Houses on the other side of the line.

As an indication of the magnitude of operations involved in the meat-packing industry, it may be mentioned that one firm alone of the many operating in Chicago, and that by no means the largest, issued the following in their last annual report:—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT, JUNE 30TH, 1906.

"An interesting brochure published by Swift & Co., the Chicago packers, give statistics of the past year's business. The total sales for the year aggregated over $700,000,000, representing shipments of 250 carloads daily. In a single day were slaughtered in the company's seven packing plants 11,375 cattle 16,252 sheep and 34,582 hogs.

AUDITOR'S AND FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. D. A. Pedder, Chartered Accountant, now read his financial report and Statement confirming the Secretary's Report, and the Share Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure Subscriptions, Receipts and Expenditure to date.

The following resolution was unanimously carried at a full meeting of our Board of Directors, the following gentlemen being present; The Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, Messrs. J. A. Banfield, F. R. Warren, Dr. R. M. Simpson, W. M. Gibson, W. W. Richardson, T. H. Gilmour and F. H. Malcolm, Mr. D. A. Pender, Chartered Accountant (the Company's Auditor), being also present.

RESOLUTION:

Moved by the Hon. Hugh J. Macdonald, seconded by Mr. J. A. Banfield.

"That after hearing the report of the Company's Secretary, and of the Company's Auditor, the Directors are satisfied that ample capital has been already subscribed to justify the commencement of active operations in the direction of immediately purchasing land (from the Government or C.P.R.), and erecting and equipping the first Cannery of the Company." Carried.

DIRECTORS' MEETING

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, held at the Company's Offices on Friday last, the 23rd inst., Dr. J. Halpenny and Mr. J. McLaughlin, duly qualified foundation Shareholders, were elected Directors of the Company.

A Committee of three Directors was also appointed, with power to act, to inspect and investigate suitable localities for the immediate erection and equipment of the Company's Canneries and Packing Houses in Western Canada.

Plans of Cannery Buildings, with estimates of material and cost of erection, were also laid on the table.

Also details and estimates of the Plant, Machinery and Equipment for one Cannery having a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, considered by the meeting the Managing Director stating that with what funds the company has in hand, the next call upon the Shareholders would furnish all the capital needed for building and thoroughly equipping the first cannery of the Company with the modern and up-to-date machinery and equipment provided for in the estimates now before the meeting.

The estimates for the Company's first building unit provide for an erection 175 feet long, 60 feet wide, two stories of 15 feet each high.

The machinery equipment will be new and modern, thoroughly up-to-date, and will cost the Company about $16,000, and is to be ordered immediately the company's first site is chosen.

It will be thus evident that the Company is very much in earnest, and will commence active packing operations at the earliest possible moment.

NOTE—Preference Shares in the Company may still be obtained, but they are going very rapidly, subscriptions averaging about $3,000 daily. The Shares are $100 each, payable in $10 calls at intervals of two months.

F. H. MALCOLM, Acting Secretary.

The Peacock Found.

Some few days ago Mr. T. H. Crowley, the well-known mining prospector, had the misfortune to lose a valuable peacock, which had flown away from his barn. Like a good sensible fellow, Mr. Crowley caused an advertisement to be inserted in this g.f.j. with the result that the bird was discovered in the barn yard of a farmer in North Monaghan. Printers' ink when used in The columns of the g.f.j. works miracles for those directing its use.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

At yesterday morning's session of the police court Alexander Duncan, of Brantford, who was arrested the preceding evening, in a local hotel on a charge of d. & d., was fined $2 with $3.75 costs, the same to be paid forthwith, or 15 days in the county jail. As Alex. under did not have the simoleons he went to Castle Resbitt.

A boy 15 years of age, named C. Drummond, was charged with not attending school and being generally incorrigible. His mother testified to the boy having schomed school. The magistrate stated that the boy, who had been before him previously, had made promises which he had not kept. He committed the lad to the Mimico Industrial School for a term not to exceed four years, saying that the boy, would be there under discipline that would improve his ways.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in fact, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this peculiar prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

The Toronto papers of yesterday contained the following Osgoode Hall notes of local interest;

McCaw vs. Nichols. — E. G. Porter, Belleville, for plaintiff, appealed from judgment of MacMahon, J., dated 13th November, 1906. The plaintiff is a horse and cattle dealer, residing at Bancroft, in the County of Hastings. The defendant is a horse dealer carrying on business at Lakefield, in June, 1905, plaintiff purchased from defendant, the stallion "City Keswick," for $365. By a written agreement defendant was to have the use of the stallion until the 15th July following, and to deliver the same at Lakefield, where plaintiff was to call for it. After 15th July plaintiff was to be responsible for all expenses of keep. The plaintiff alleges that the horse was not delivered on the date agreed upon. The defendant alleges that it was. On the 16th July the horse died. Plaintiff sued for $500 damages. The action was tried at Peterborough and dismissed with costs. O. A. Langley, Lakefield, and H. S. White, for defendant, opposed appeal. Appeal dismissed with costs.

Ross vs. Wilkinson—L. M. Hayes, Peterborough, for defendant, appealed from order of County Court of Lincoln, dated 27th November, 1906, refusing to discharge a judgment, debtor confined under a writ of ca. sa. A. C. McMaster for plaintiff, opposed appeal. Appeal dismissed with costs upon the ground that no appeal lies.

Electrical Power Inspection Noted

The January number of the Canadian Electrical News says:—

An examination of the annual report of the Inland Revenue Department shows that the Dominion Government is now deriving considerable revenue from the inspection of gas and electric light, the actual amount for the last fiscal year being $37,621.52, made up of $12,375.99 from gas inspection, and $25,245.53 from electric light. In view of the large surplus, the publishers of the Canadian Electrical News addressed the following letter to a number of the electric lighting companies irrespective of replies received from Toronto and other outside places, the following were sent from Peterborough;

We are in receipt of your favor of the 28th inst., regarding the inspection of electrical meters. As we do not use any, it is immaterial to us what their charge may be, although on the face of it, it looks if the electrical people had a big kick coming, as the intention of all inspections for Government purposes is simply to protect the people, but to make money for the Government.

W. H. MELDRUM,
Manager Otonabee Power Co.,
Peterborough, Ont.

As far as we are concerned, we find the present method of testing, and inspecting meters quite satisfactory but we would be very glad to have the cost of same reduced. From the figures you have supplied us with it appears to us this can be done, and we certainly would give our support to any movement which would bring this about.

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, and experience Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. An Eloquent Lecture in George St. Church

Rev R. E. Knowles' Brilliant Definition of "The Secret of Scotch Success"---A Silver Tongued and Exceedingly Eloquent Entertainer---An Intellectual Treat.

Rev. R. E. Knowles, of Galt, the popular author and lecturer, delivered an exceedingly brilliant and intellectual lecture on "The Secret of Scotch Success," at the Methodist church last night, in aid of the Y. M.C.A Boys' camping ground fund. There was but a fair audience present, and consequently a large portion of Peterborough citizens missed the opportunity of hearing one of the most eloquent, witty, and at the same time soul-stirring orators not only in Canada but on the continent: and whose name will go down to posterity as one of Canada's brightest gems in Canadian literature and oratory.

It is impossible to hear Mr. Knowles without being carried away by his irresistible style of delivery and losing one's individuality in the subject he handles with such consummate skill. Unlike many lecturers, his efforts are replete with refined and contagious humor, which, however, but pleasing clothe uplifting and ennobling truths that leave his hearers with plenty of food for serious reflection. One might truly venture to say that it would be impossible for him to deliver a lecture without impressing one with a sense of unalloyed pleasure and engendering a recognition of and longing for that which is noblest and purest in humanity. Mr. Knowles not only lectures to amuse, but aims to leave his audience elevated, enriched and morally benefitted by the genius it is his privilege to possess. And his effort in this direction last night must have met with satisfaction.

We regret that it is impossible in the time at our disposal and in our limited space to give a lengthy report of Mr. Knowles' lecture. "The Secret of Scotch Success," which in brief the silver-tongued speaker attributed to hard work, sentimentality, a keen perception of that which is real and true, with a consequent hatred of shamming. Amongst other truths the gifted lecturer contended that the attainment of richest, does not necessarily demonstrate success, success may be found in the poorest life, such a success in one's work, in one's home life, in the ennobling and virtuous principles one practices and leaves to posterity; in the cultivation of christian fortitude and the purer traits of human character, and in conquering the world's great lie. He deplored existing conditions in society, which are defeating the ends for which it should stand, society having degenerated into a system of bookkeeping as to engagements for teas, receptions, balls, etc. Notwithstanding the education and enlightment of the present age, still society in their carriages roll along Rotten Row, London, Fifth Avenue, New York, and elsewhere, regardless of the democracy of the tomb. They need, he said, another Socrates similar to he who wrote "a man's a man for a' that."

In conclusion of a remarkably eloquent and interesting discourse, the reverend lecturer affirmed that behind the Scotch success monument-ed by palatial residences in New York, Chicago and other big centers, lay the old thatched cottage in which was heard ascending prayers and psalms and the reading of the Word of God.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt in proposing a hearty vote of thanks to the lecturer remarked that if the audience was small it composed the cream of Peterborough.

Rev. Dr. Crothers acted as chairman in the absence of Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, who is confined to his house through illness.

Rev. R. E. Knowles wished it distinctly understood that the lecture is the gift of Mr. D. Hughes-Charles to the Y.M.C.A., as it was mainly owing to his friendship with him that he had consented to visit Peterborough on this occasion, measure of work having necessitated his cutting out considerable lecturing.

SHOT A CRAZY RANCHER DEAD

Two Men Who Were Attacked by a Madman Put a Bullet in Him.

WILL HAVE TO STAND TRIAL

Mounted Police Turn Up Safe and Will Bring Back Body and Cattle.

Edmonton, Alberta, Jan. 25. — Crowded into a small shack that served as a store near the Grand Eddy, on the MacLeod River, by an insane rancher named Hornback, who riddled the walls with bullets, the men whom he had chased to their shelter were compelled in self-defence to kill or at least incapacitate, the madman, and two bullets laid him dead, as he stood in the distance with a rifle to his shoulder and a bead on the imprisoned men, who would have rescued him. Such is the substance of the story just brought to the city from Lac Ste. Anne by Constable Tyler of the North-West Mounted Police.

The tragedy occurred on the 17th of December, Hornback, who had become mad from exposure to the cold and loss of his stock, pursued his partner and an employe from his ranch over the snow for two miles, while the bullets from his rifle buzzed around their heads. Cover was reached at the small store in the distance, and there Hornback held his man imprisoned for a time. From a distance of a hundred yards he told them how straight she could shoot, and nearer and nearer the bullets came to the building. Death from the hands of a madman started the imprisoned men in the face, and after consultation it was decided to disable him if possible. The aim proved fatal, however.

BANK STARTS PENSION FUND

The Bank of Hamilton Another to Fall into Line.

Hamilton, Jan. 25.—The Bank of Hamilton, at its annual meeting, decided to establish a pension fund of $100,000 for its employees. Five per cent. of the salaries of the employees will be added to this yearly, the bank paying half. This will add about $18,000 a year to the fund. The bank will pay 5 per cent. interest on the whole amount including the $100,000. Details of the system have not been worked out, but it is intended to make the grants, which will amount to about half the salary, when employes reach the age of 62.

Agreement With Bell Co. For Fire Alarm System

Taken Up by City Solicitor and Fire, Water and Light Committee Last Night.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council met at five o'clock yesterday evening, when there were present, Mayor McWilliams, Chairman Ald. Johnston presiding, and Aldermen Leary, Stevenson and Duncan.

The business before the committee was that of approving of a draft agreement between the city and the Bell Telephone Co, for a new electrical fire alarm system, the city having accepted the latter's tender for same.

This draft agreement was read and amended in several clauses after careful consideration by the committee.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Leary,—That the clerk write to Woodstock, Chatham and St. Thomas, and ask for copies of their agreement with the Bell Company for the fire alarm systems in sure in those places.—Carried.

The Bell Company will be asked what changes they will make in price of their tender by substituting gravity batteries instead of storage batteries as provided for in tender—the committee have decided to use gravity batteries.

This matter remains in abeyance pending replies to the above enquiries.

Rapid Work for The Cement Co.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. George Allen, foreman of the Lakefield Cement Company's gang, who have been removing the ponderous machinery called a "digger" from Lily Lake to Drummond's Station, as before recorded in The Times, was in the city yesterday after successfully accomplishing this great task. Mr. Allen had some ten men in his employment and succeeded in moving the digger to Drummond's Station without any mishap.

Not only was the digger removed, but the gang of men tore up and removed both the rails line and sleepers of the side track and relaid them at Drummond's Station, so that at Drummond's Station, so that the Cement Company can at once resume operations.

Lindsay Seems to Want the Dairymen

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder is evidently jealous of this city's intention to get the dairy show. In an editorial article this week it says;

Peterborough is generally after everything in sight, and frequently succeeds in grabbing a large share. It is not for the proposed dairy show, but unfortunately their industrial and agricultural exhibition seems to be on its last legs, and at themeeting called for last Wednesday it had to be adjourned to a later date, because there were not enough present to do business. The press urges that the show should not be dropped as the people of the western part of the province will very naturally argue that if Peterborough cannot run an agricultural exhibition it would be a poor place to hold a dairy show. Peterborough often looks down on Lindsay with a look of contempt, but there is one thing we can do—run a successful agricultural exhibition, also a poultry exhibition. Why not have a dairy show in Lindsay?

An Ottawa Death is Regretted Here

The Ottawa Citizen, referring to the death of a brother of Mr. Hazen Ritchie of this city says;

The death of Rev. Frank William Ritchie at St. Luke's Hospital last evening comes as both a surprise and a shock to his many relatives and friends.

The deceased was taken ill with typhoid fever, in Cobden, Ont., to which place he was the popular rector of the Anglican Church. He was afterwards taken to St. Lukes' Hospital, where he passed peacefully away. From an early age he showed a very religious turn of mind, and after receiving a good Public and High School education he entered as a student in Bishop's College in Lennoxville, from which place he graduated, and was ordained deacon in the year 1885, and to a preacher in 1886. His life was a varied one, and for several years he was a missionary in British Guiana, where he contracted a severe illness, but finally recovered, and later went as a missionary to Africa. He was later appointed a curate in one of the Anglican churches in England. Coming back to Canada, he began his labors in the ministry again as rector at Plantagenet. From that place he came to Chrysler in 1902, and from there he went to Cobden about a year ago, where he contracted typhoid fever which resulted in his death. He was the second son of the late Sir William Ritchie, Chief Justice, and Lady Grace Ritchie.

He is survived by his mother, Lady Ritchie, five brothers, Sheriff Ritchie, of St. John's, N.B.; Messrs. John A. Ritchie, County Crown Attorney Owen Ritchie, barrister; D. V. Ritchie, of Ottawa; and H. Ritchie, Peterborough; and sisters, Mrs. (Co.) W. E. Hodgins, and the Misses Ritchie, Ottawa.

Liberal Policies for Present Year

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company Distributed Big Dividend.

A $2,000,000 dividend to all policyholders has been declared by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for the year 1907. This company, which has always been noted for the liberal policy on which it is managed, has already distributed in dividends to its policy-holders about $10,000,000 in the last eight years, and the new dividend of $2,000,000 will bring its voluntary disbursements to policy holders up to the immense sum of $12,000,000.

On all industrial Whole Life Policies dated prior to January 1, 1903, a dividend equivalent to four weeks' premiums, or about 8 per cent. of the premiums for the year, has been declared. This dividend will amount to $1,000,000, and in the distribution of profits will be included all holders of life policies in those companies which have been consolidated with the Metropolitan.

A further mortuary dividend of another million has been declared in the industrial department. This applies to all death claims incurred during the year ending December 31, 1907, where the policy has been in force over five years. In the case of death claims, the dividend has been apportioned according to the age of the policy. If the policy has been in force five years, the beneficiary will be entitled to a dividend of 5 per cent., where it has been in force 10 years the dividend is 10 per cent., and so on up to 25 years, when the dividend will equal 25 per cent. of the claim.

Other benefits which the officers of the company have brought about for the policy-holders are the increase in value of all industrial policies six months from their date, and the liberty which is given to all policy-holders over 60 years of age who have paid premiums for 15 years or more to receive the face value of the policy in cash, or a full paid-up policy. In financial circles this action of the Metropolitan is looked upon as marking a new era in life insurance history, and the voluntary conversion by the company of whole life policies into endowments or fully paid-up insurance is said to be the most liberal concession ever made by any industrial insurance company. 66

County Council Appoints Officers

Yesterday afternoon the Peterborough County councillors earned not only what money is coming to them but the thanks of their constituents for a hard day's work well done. Shortly after dinner time the committee on appointments went into executive session. Among other business transacted was the matter of reappointing the various bridge caretakers. These civil servants were reappointed with the exception of Mr. Michael Rose, who was given the job at Pigeon Creek bridge, in place of Mr. Flood, his predecessor.

It was moved by Mr. Flood, reeve of Asphodel, seconded by Mr. Coben, that Messrs. Shaw and Scott, with the warden, be a committee to manage the recently completed House of Refuge.

A DOCTER'S SLEEP

Found He Had to Leave Off Coffee.

And stomach will cause insomnia.

Coffee drinking, being such an ancient and respectable form of stimulation, few realize that the drug—caffeine—contained in coffee and tea, is one of the principal causes of dyspepsia and nervous troubles.

Without their usual portion of coffee or tea, the caffeine users are nervous, irritable and fretful. That's the way with a whiskey drinker. He has got to have his dram "to settle his nerves"—he bibs.

To leave off coffee is an easy matter if you want to try it, because Postum—well boiled according to directions—gives a gentle but natural support to the nerves and does not contain any drug—nothing but food.

Physicians know this to be true, as one from Ga. writes;

"I have cured myself of a long-standing case of Nervous Dyspepsia by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee," says the doctor. "I also enjoy refreshing sleep, to which I've been an utter stranger for 20 years.

"In treating Dyspepsia in its various types, I find little trouble when I can induce patients to quit coffee and adopt Postum." The Dr. is right and "there's a reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

A Successful Year by Bank of Hamilton

The Hon. W. Gibson, president, and Mr. J. Turnbull, general manager of the Bank of Hamilton, have cause to feel highly elated over the splendid record of this strong Canadian institution during the past year. The report presented by the directorate at the 36th annual meeting held on January 21st, was of a most encouraging nature, both to shareholders and depositors. The meeting this year was marked by being held in the bank's new and handsome premises.

The Bank of Hamilton for many years regarded as one of Canada's most reliable financial institutions, has last year exceeded all Past records. During the past year 22 new branches have been opened, eight in Ontario, six in Manitoba, five in Saskatchewan, two in Alberta, and one in British Columbia.

One feature of this bank is that although most progressive in its business, the directorate will not countenance any investment of the bank's funds in speculation of any kind, thus protecting both shareholders and depositors. After making due allowances for all bad & doubtful debts the bank made during last year a net profit of $371,252.52 or over 15 per cent. on the bank's whole capitalization. A dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. was declared, and a new pension fund was inaugurated, which is referred to in another column. A brief glance at the financial statement of the bank, given elsewhere in this issue, will clearly demonstrate that the Bank of Hamilton is one of the strongest and most ably administered in the Dominion.

Cash Prize by County Schools

The report of the Public schools inspectors to the county council was dealt with by the Committee on Schools, and some of the recommendations made in them will be carried out, if the report of the committee is adopted. One of the recommendations made by Mr. Brown was that the council offer a prize to the scholar making the highest number of marks in the entrance examination. The committee decided to offer a cash prize of $10.

A Fire Loss in Emily

On Thursday afternoon the house of Mr. Wm. Perdue, on the boundary between Emily and Ennismore was destroyed by fire, and a loss of $600 resulted. The fire originated at the chimney and before it could be checked, the whole frame structure was destroyed. The furniture in the lower story of the house was saved. There was some insurance, but not enough to cover the loss.

Only One Juror Selected in Thaw Case Yesterday

Five Jurymen Selected So Far---All Relatives Present Except the Countess of Yarmouth---Distrlct Attorney Jerome Hammering on the "Unwritten Law."

New York, Jan. 25.—There were five men in the jury box yesterday, when the trial of Harry K. Thaw, for the killing of Stanford White, was resumed before Justice Fitzgerald. Mrs. Wm. Thaw, mother of the defendant, was present at the opening of the morning session, having fully recovered from the fatigue and indisposition which kept her indoors Friday. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. George L. Carnegie, the two having been preceded some minutes by Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw and her constant companion, May McKenzie. The prisoner's wife still wore the plain dark blue suit, trimmed only with velvet cuffs and collar of the same material, that she has appeared in on every day of the trial. Yesterday she had discarded her white veil for one of blue chiffon. The effect was to bring out more distinctly the features of her face. The elder Mrs. Thaw was in conventional black. The Countess of Yarmouth did not attend the trial yesterday owing to a slight cold.

Edward and Josiah Thaw were early in their seats, the only family absentee other than the countess being George L. Carnegie, the prisoner's brother-in-law.

FIVE JURORS SELECTED.

The five jurors selected during the first two days of the trial appear to be men well above the average in intellect. All seem to be in prosperous circumstances. Two of the five are apparently just above 50 years of age. George Pfeiff, hardware dealer, is the youngest, probably not more than 34 years of age, Charles H. Fecks, shipping agent, is possibly 60, and Arthur S. Campbell, superintendent of telephone company, is not more than two years older. The other two jurors are Deming B. Smith, retired manufacturer, the foreman, and Harry O. Henry, manager of a piano concern.

The entire special jury panel is made up of prosperous and substantial looking citizens.

CLASPED HIS MOTHER'S HANDS.

When Harry Thaw entered the court room he passed his mother's chair and reached over with his right hand and grasped both of hers which were clasped about a small, gilt-leaved book in her lap. She looked up and answered her son's smile.

Mrs. Harry Thaw gave her prisoner husband an earnest look of greeting, and during the examination of the first talesman of the day she assumed her customary attitude, leaning well forward in her seat eager to catch every answer made to questions put either by District Attorney Jerome or by Clifford W. Hartridge, the leading counsel for the defendant.

SIXTH JUROR.

New York, Jan. 26.—Harold R. Fair, a printer, 35 years old, the 63rd talesman examined, was chosen as the sixth juror in the Thaw case. He was the thirteenth talesman examined yesterday.

New York, Jan. 26.—District Attorney Jerome and counsel for the defence in the trial of Harry K. Thaw all express themselves as gratified at the progress made yesterday in selecting a jury.

THAW INTERFERED.

Some of those connected with the case predict that a jury will be picked by tonight, and that the trial will begin on Tuesday. Thaw himself took more interest in the proceedings yesterday, and two additional jurors would have been secured had it not been for his interference.

A talesman had proved acceptable to the district attorney and to Clifford W. Hartridge, leading counsel for Thaw, when there was a sudden gathering of heads over the Bible at the head of which sat Harry Thaw. The juror was about to be sworn when this occurred, and Mr. Hartridge stopped proceedings to hear what Thaw had to say.

PLEASED WITH DAY'S WORK.

When the conference ended the prospective juror was challenged for cause. This proceeding happened a second time during the day, Thaw again objecting to a talesman who was acceptable to counsel.

Thaw seemed pleased with the day's work. As he entered the Tombs he said to the keeper;

"We got three at the last half hour (meaning jurors), and they are good men, too, I think."

APPEALS TO EMOTIONS.

The District Attorney kept up his hammering on the "unwritten law" and a possible deviation from the written law governing the criminally insane. Yesterday afternoon he added another feature to his plan of examination, asking the talesmen if they were capable of withstanding appeals to their own emotions and feelings, and if they thought they could pass on the prisoner's case coldly and calmly, according to the instructions in the law they would receive from the judge.

This was taken as a sign of the District Attorney's anticipation of the promised dramatic appeal from Delphine M. Delmas, of counsel for the defence.

SPORTING TOPICS

THE TURF.

Seven horses that took part in the recent successful races run under auspices of the reorganized Peterborough Turf Club, were shipped to Napanee to participate in the splendid races to be held there next Tuesday and Wednesday. Several of those owning horses from outside the city were unanimous in praising the successful management of the local turfites during the recent meet. Both Messrs Martin Connors and Jas. Orchee have assured The Times that, notwithstanding the decided handicaps of excessively cold weather, that the club will more than break even on the winter races.

Rome Well Pleased With Spanish Crisis

Madrid, Jan. 26.—The Cabinet has resigned as a result of dissensions between Liberals and the Radicals over the law of associations. King Alfonso in consulting with the political leaders with regard to the formation of a new ministry.

The present Cabinet of Spain was formed on December 4th last. For some time there have been indications that it would not last long. The principal point at issue is the proposed anti-clerical association law, similar to the French law.

Fly Valet's Shaft Was Broken

Yesterday morning the fine new delivery rig of "My Valet," the Charlotte street clothes pressers, came into collision with a telegraph pole. The horse was frightened by a passing Street Railway Co. "sweeper," and left for parts possibly unknown to itself. By good luck the flying steed ran foul of a telegraph pole, which resulted in one of the brand new shafts being turned into matchwood.

Rev. A. H. Brace is Visiting

The Rev. A. H. Brace visited the Nicholls Hospital and Old Folks' Home this week as pre-arranged by the Ministerial Association for January. Every assistance was given by doctors, matron and nurses for attending the spiritual needs of the patients. After visiting each bed a short address was given, showing the way of salvation and prayer was offered in each ward.

The Farmer's Wife

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant consequences.

The [illegible] known as medical authorities [illegible] will be fully proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

The Bank's reserve having already attained 100 per cent. of the Capital, the Directors thought that rather than add further to it from the balance of Profit and Loss, it was right that some initial provision of fair magnitude should be made toward the establishment of a pension fund for the staff which has so long and faithfully served the institution. It is proposed to submit the matter to the shareholders at the ensuing annual meeting.

President.

Bank of Hamilton,
Hamilton, Nov. 30th, 1906.

J. TURNBULL,
General Manager.

Senator Gibson, who was in the chair, called attention to the gratifying increase which had taken place during the year in the Bank's business, referring particularly to the growth of about $3,000,000 in the deposits, and a total increase during the year in the Bank's assets of $3,000,000. He mentioned that during the year 23 new branches had been opened, 8 in Ontario, 6 in Manitoba, 5 in Saskatchewan, 2 in Alberta, and 1 in British Columbia. His view was that this extension was in keeping with the general prosperity of the country, remarking that every branch was opened only after full consideration, and added that when the Bank felt that a continuation of a branch in any place was not in its interest, there was no hesitation in withdrawing from the field. He called attention to the number of Shareholders, which was now 751, being 167 more than in 1904. He referred to the fact that a good deal had very properly been said and a good deal of criticism directed to the banking business in the Dominion of Canada. As to the Bank of Hamilton he stated that no Bank in Canada paid more attention to that matter, or went to a greater cost to see that it was properly done, one proof of which was that the cost of inspection last year in salaries alone was about $36,000. As to the Head Office he reported that this had always been done annually with unvarying regularity; that some three months was spent in the work and every security carefully checked over by the inspectors. The Board had had both the inspectors before them and received their assurance that every facility had been given them by the Local Manager and Chief Accountant, and they had thoroughly satisfied themselves as to all securities, either by personal examination of those held locally, or by properly certified certificates from the Bank's Agents elsewhere. He stated that the government returns were prepared solely by the Chief Accountant and his Assistants, and that though carefully examined by the General Manager, that Officer had nothing to do with the preparation of any government return. He stated that every precaution had been taken in the past and would be taken in the future so that the Shareholders might rest assured of the correctness of every statement, whether given to the government or to the Shareholders. He called attention to the fact that the Bank's business was entirely and strictly commercial, that it took no risk in mining or other speculative stocks and gave no encouragement to speculation. The Board avoided everything of a risky nature, and took the fullest precaution to get the fullest information on each and every loan before it was made. He called attention to the Bank buildings, and said that he was satisfied they were all worth today substantially more than the amount at which they were entered. He emphasized the necessity of having suitable buildings, in which to transact the Bank's business, and stated that ten years ago the Bank premises bore the proportion of 5.51 to its total assets, while in 1906 that proportion has been reduced to 3 per cent. The new Head Office building, he said, would be finished about the 1st of March, and he believed that the building, of which the people of Hamilton were justly proud, was a credit to the city and was a tribute to the growing importance of the city as well as the Bank.

As to the Pension Fund, he stated that a sum of money would be set aside for the purpose, and the best means that could be obtained for a fair and equitable scheme worked out in order to do justice to the whole staff.

He concluded by saying that the Board had never been given to prophesying and would not do so now, but that they had every confidence in the future and would continue the same careful policy that had guided them in the administration of the Bank's affairs, and hoped that the same success would follow.

He then moved the adoption of the Report, which, seconded by Mr. John Proctor, was unanimously carried. Mr. Sami Barker, M.P., seconded by Mr. W. A. Robinson, moved the customary vote of thanks from the Shareholders to the Directors, which was carried, and responded to by Mr. Gibson. Mr. John A. Bruce followed, seconded by Mr. David Kidd, in proposing thanks to the Officers of the Bank. This was carried, and responded to by Mr. Turnbull.

The Scrutineers, Mr. R. S. Morris and Mr. F. H. Lamb, reported the following as the new board: Hon. Wm. Gibson, J. Turnbull, John Proctor, Geo. Rutherford, Hon. J. S. Hendrie, Cyrus A. Birge and C. C. Dalton.

At a subsequent meeting of the board, the Hon. Wm. Gibson was elected President, and Mr. J. Turnbull Vice-President.

TO LIVE FOR 100 YEARS

WHO ATTAIN CENTURY MARK HAVE VARIED EXPERIENCES.

Do Not All Agree Upon the Reasons Which Conduce to Great Longevity —The Ancient Search For Long Life—Consideration of the Question Through Mrs. Osler's Recent Attainment.

One of the most disappointing features of extreme age is that those who attain it are unable to agree on the reasons that conduce to it. There can be little doubt, for example, that the kind of life led by Mrs. Featherstone Osler is quite different from the lives led by many other centenarians, says the Toronto Mail and Empire. The wife of a pioneer missionary in Ontario, Mrs. Osler no doubt had her share of hardship in the earlier years. One might therefore conclude that a certain amount of roughing it was favorable to extreme age, but modern science gives no authority for this belief. Some supposed experts go so far as to say that the more care one takes to avoid exertion and hardship the better is one's chance of reaching the century mark. It is well known, for example, that Mr. Chamberlain, who is a young man at 80, never takes a step that he can avoid. He shuns exercise, and yet his health and mental vigor are remarkable.

Beneficial Hardships.

In favor of the theory that hardships have a most beneficial effect on the human constitution may be cited the notorious longevity of soldiers, especially of those who have been fortunate enough to draw pensions. It is quite recently that the United States Government has ceased paying pensions to some soldiers who fought in the War of 1812. Hiram Cronk, of Oneida County, N.Y., at the age of 103 applied for an increase in his pension allowance. He did not actually fight in the war, but he enrolled, and so became entitled to a pension. An even more striking illustration of the healthfulness of exposure is furnished by Izai Rodofoski, a Russian, who was recently reported alive in Warsaw at the age of 136. Up to his 126th year Izai was in full possession of all his faculties, but age came upon him in a single stroke, and when last heard of he belonged to the dead rather than the living, for he could neither see nor hear and had no sense of feeling.

Some Venerable Citizens.

Next, in point of antiquity, comes an American, Noah Raby, who, at the time the facts were gathered, lived in a poorhouse at Piscatamay Township, New Jersey, and was 129 years of age. Like the long-lived Russian, Raby had spent most of his life out of doors, working as a farm hand, and afterwards as the overseer of a plantation. He never slept more than six hours a day. Another of the world's centenarians is a Servian, Osman Turrenal, who claims to have seen 126 winters. His principal food has always been grapes and nuts. Altogether 218 cases of persons ranging in age from 95 to 136 have been reported upon. These reports go to show that to be abstemious of diet, a hard worker, an early riser, and to live in the open is the way to acquire length of years. In many cases of remarkable longevity it has been found on enquiry that the parents enjoyed a very long span of life.

The Ancient Search For Longevity.

It is on record, or, at all events, legendary lore so relates, that the Egyptians tried to extend their term on earth by liberal indulgence in sudorifics and emetics. Frequent perspirations and emetics twice a month were supposed to remove from the system the elements making for dissolution. The Pharoahs were certainly wiser than their successors, for the Turkish bath is a good thing, while the stomach, unless carefully attended to, is known to be the seat of many complaints. It would have been well for the men of the Middle Ages if they had had the common sense of the Egyptians. These people, however, resorted to astrology, and all sorts of absurd nostrums, in the hope that they might escape the common lot of all. The astrologers did a roaring trade among the well-to-do, telling them what stars were adverse to them and how to dodge these celestial enemies.

Resort to the Talisman.

The amulet and the talisman were consequences of the belief in astrology. It was supposed that certain metals could counteract the influence of a man's evil star upon him. Thus, persons traveled with necklaces of iron or bracelets of copper to keep the star at arm's length. The carrying of a potato or of a horse chestnut to ward off rheumatism must be the modern adaptation of this fashion. While the astrologers labored with the stars, other equally potent operators made search for the "Elixir of Life," doses of which, taken "three times a day in a little water," were expected to restore youth and to postpone death. One man—a count—professed to have produced the decoction, but when the liquid was closely examined it was found to be a mixture of sandalwood, fennel, and senna. Another count, Cagliostri by name, made a great fortune in France by the production and sale of an "Elixir of Life," which was nothing more nor less than a stimulant, producing unnatural activity on the part of patients, and requiring to be used constantly and in increasing quantities. It must have been the forerunner of whiskey!

The Fountain of Youth.

In all probability it was the success of this charlatan that induced Ponce de Leon, one of the pioneer visitors to the Continent of America, to make his journey hither. This man had heard that somewhere on the Western sea there was an island upon which the fountain of perpetual youth was forever pouring forth its valuable waters. Persons partaking of the stream could not possibly get old, try as they might, and death was out of the question. A table water having this virtue would bring a splendid price per bottle. Ponce de Leon sailed for America bent upon the discovery of the fountain. He reached Cuba, and, failing to find it there, proceeded further west, with the result that he landed in Florida and was killed by the Indians. Florida water, it is well to remark, is not the beverage in the search of which Ponce met his end. After the astrological and medicinal experiments had failed animal magnetism was tried for the purpose of prolonging life. Mesmer, a Frenchman, was the discoverer of this treatment, and from him we get the mesmerism of to-day.

The Span of Life Increasing.

People are hardly so credulous nowadays, and as a rule they ask much less of life than in living to an abnormal age. But medical science is steadily increasing the span of life. One by one the diseases that decimated our forefathers are run down and practically abolished. Sanitation and science are, in fact, prolonging life.

OLDEST MAN IN CANADA.

Interesting Career of Timothy Collins, Born In 1785, Resident In Montreal.

Probably the oldest man in the world is a resident of Montreal. Timothy Collins was born in 1785, and was, consequently, 20 years of age when Napoleon and Wellington met at Waterloo. Collins arrived in Montreal in 1815, and after spending a short time there, went to New York, where he remained about three years, when he returned to Montreal and engaged in commercial business. Up to very recently, he talked interestingly of the days when the business section of Montreal was entirely on St. Paul and St. Francis Xavier streets, and when St. Antoine street, now Craig, was a river of considerable proportions, spanned at Bleury street by a bridge. Much of his life was spent in St. Coloba, about 40 miles from Montreal, where he followed agricultural pursuits. While he was in New York he was married to a Miss Brown, from Ireland.

He refers with a gleam of humor to the issue of the first newspaper in Canada, The Spectateur Canadiene. Then he digs back into his memory to the day when the late Queen Victoria was born, and tells with the greatest pleasure imaginable of how the British Empire was stirred when she was made the Queen of England. Two years ago, when President Roosevelt was re-elected, Collins read the news, and remarked: "But I was on earth when Washington was President."

Collins has never taken over-much care of himself. He has never known to use an umbrella, and in the coldest of winter days his overcoat, which was far from being that worn by the average Canadian. He has been a constant smoker, and one of his greatest pleasures right up to the present has been to enjoy a pipe before breakfast. In the household he was the heartiest eater.

A few months ago he was as much grief-stricken as were the parents over the death of the 11-year-old daughter of Thomas Collins, who owns at least one hundred houses in the east end of the city.

PNEUMONIA FOLLOWS LA GRIPPE PE-RU-NA RECOMMENDED.

A WELL-KNOWN BUSINESS MAN AND AN OLD RESIDENT OF AYLMER GIVES HIS EXPERIENCE WITH THE USE OF PE-RU-NA AS A CURATIVE AND PREVENTIVE OF LA GRIPPE AND COLDS.

Mr. T. Barnecott, West Aylmer, Ontario, Can., writes:

"Last winter I was ill with pneumonia after having la grippe. I took Peruna for two months, when I became quite well, and I can say that any one can be cured by it in a reasonable time and at little expense. Every time I take a cold, I take some Peruna, which makes me well again.

"I also advised it for my daughter who was so ill with prostration that she could not follow her trade of dressmaking. A bottle of Peruna made such a change in her that she has been able to follow her business ever since.

"I also induced a young lady, who was all rundown and confined to the house, to take Peruna, and after taking Peruna for three months she is able to follow her trade of tailoring.

"I can recommend Peruna for all such who are ill and require a tonic."

Every year, during the inclement weather of winter, there is an epidemic of catarrh. The disease is really catarrhal in nature, but from the form it assumes, has been commonly termed the 'grip.'

It is very tenacious when it once gets a firm hold upon the system and, in addition to a thorough, systemic catarrh remedy, a great deal of patience and persistence in the treatment are required to eradicate the disease.

Peruna, an internal catarrh remedy, is one of the best medicines ever devised to meet the exigencies of these cases. The large number of commendatory letters received by Dr. Hartman, the inventor of Peruna, in behalf of his remedy is proof sufficient of its value as a reliable medicine for the 'grip.'

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1898, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

CHAPTER VII.

MME. DE MAINTENON was a woman who was always full of self restraint and of cool resource. With a frank smile of greeting she advanced with outstretched hand.

"This is indeed a pleasure," said she.

But Mme. de Montespan was very angry, so angry that she was evidently making strong efforts to keep herself within control and to avoid breaking into a furious outburst. She disregarded her rival's outstretched hand and turned toward the king, who had been looking at her with a darkening face.

"I fear that I intrude, sire."

"Your entrance, madame, is certainly somewhat abrupt."

"I must crave pardon if it is so. Since this lady has been the governess of my children I have been in the habit of coming into her room unannounced."

"As far as I am concerned, you are most welcome to do so," said her rival, with perfect composure.

"I confess that I had not even thought it necessary to ask your permission, madame," the other answered coldly.

"Then you shall certainly do so in the future, madame," said the king sternly. "It is my express order to you that every possible respect is to be shown in every way to this lady."

"Oh, to this lady!" with a wave of her hand in her direction. "Your majesty's commands are of course our laws. But I must remember that it is this lady, for sometimes one may get confused as to which name it is that your majesty has picked out for honor."

She was superb in her pride and her fearlessness as she stood, with her sparkling blue eyes and her heaving bosom, looking down upon her royal lover. Angry as he was, his gaze lost something of its sternness as it rested upon her round full throat and the delicate lines of her shapely shoulders.

"There is nothing to be gained, madame, by being insolent," said he.

"Truth is always mistaken for insolence, sire, at the court of France."

"You forget yourself, madame. I beg that you will leave the room."

"I must first remind your majesty that I was so far honored as to have an appointment this afternoon. At 4 o'clock I had your royal promise that you would come to me. I cannot doubt that your majesty will keep that promise in spite of the fascinations which you may find here."

"I should have come, madame, but the clock, as you may observe, is half an hour slow, and the time had passed before I was aware of it."

"I beg, sire, that you will not let that distress you. I am returning to my chamber, and 5 o'clock will suit me as well as 4."

"I thank you, madame, but I have not found this interview so pleasant that I should seek another."

"Then your majesty will break your word!"

"Silence, madame! This is intolerable!"

"It is indeed intolerable!" cried the angry lady, throwing all discretion to the winds. "Oh, I am not afraid of you, sire. I have loved you, but I have never feared you. I leave you here. I leave you with your conscience and your—your lady confessor. But one word of truth you shall hear before I go. You have been false to your wife, and you have been false to your mistress, but it is only now that I find that you can be false also to your word." She swept him an indignant courtesy and glided with head erect out of the room.

The king sprang from his chair as if he had been stung. Accustomed as he was to his gentle little wife and the even gentler La Valliere, such language as this had never before intruded itself upon the royal ears. And then his whole soul rose up in anger at her, at the woman who had dared to raise her voice against him. He gave an inarticulate cry of rage and rushed to the door.

"Sire!" Mme. de Maintenon, who had watched keenly the swift play of his emotions over his expressive face, took two quick steps forward and laid her hand upon his arm.

"I will go after her."

"And why, sire?"

"To forbid her the court."

"But, sire"—

"You heard her! It is infamous! I shall go."

"But, sire, could you not write?"

"No, no; I shall see her." He pulled open the door.

"Oh, sire, be firm, then!" It was with an anxious face that she watched him start off, walking rapidly, with angry gestures, down the corridor. Then she turned back and, dropping upon her knees on the prie-dieu, bowed her head in prayer for the king, for herself and for France.

De Catinat, the guardsman, had employed himself in showing his young friend from over the water all the wonders of the great palace.

De Catinat had arranged that the American should remain with his friend Major de Brissac, as the time had come round for his own second turn of guard. He had hardly stationed himself in the corridor when he was astonished to see the king, without escort or attendants, walking swiftly down the passage. His delicate face was disfigured with anger, and his mouth was set grimly, like that of a man who had taken a momentous resolution.

"Officer of the guard," said he shortly.

"Yes, sire."

"I wish your assistance."

"I am at your command, sire."

"Is there a subaltern here?"

"Lieutenant de la Tremouille is at the side guard."

"Very well. You will place him in command. You will yourself go to the apartment of M. de Vivonne. If he is not there you must go and seek him. Wherever he is, you must find him within the hour."

"Yes, sire."

"You will give him an order from me. At 6 o'clock he is to be in his carriage at the east gate of the palace. His sister, Mme. de Montespan, will await him there, and he is charged by me to drive her to the chateau of Petit Bourg. You will tell him that he is answerable to me for her arrival there."

"Yes, sire." De Catinat raised his sword in salute and started upon his mission.

The king passed on down the corridor and opened a door which led him into a magnificent anteroom, all one blaze of mirrors and gold, furnished to a marvel with the most delicate ebony and silver suit, on a deep red carpet of Aleppo, as soft and yielding as the moss of a forest.

Without knocking, he opened the door farther and passed on into the lady's boudoir.

It was a large and lofty room, very different from that from which he had just come. Three long windows from ceiling to floor took up one side, and through the delicate pink tinted blinds the evening sun cast a subdued and dainty light. At the farther side, prone upon an ottoman, her face buried in the cushion, her beautiful white arms thrown over it, the rich coils of her brown hair hanging in disorder across the long curve of her ivory neck, lay, like a drooping flower, the woman whom he had come to discard.

"All is over forever between us," he cried harshly.

THE PROPERTY

1. The east half of the north-east quarter of the south half of lot 6 in the 6th concession of Coleman Township.
2. The south-west quarter of the south half of lot 7, in the first concession of Bucke.
3. One 40-acre claim in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, adjoining claim No. 1404 1-2.
4. Twenty acres in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, being the north half of the south-east quarter of the north half of lot 19, concession 3.
5. One 40-acre claim in the Anima-Nipissing District, being mining claim No. 1404 1-3, known as the "South Claim," situated about 1-4 of a mile west of Bay Lake and about one mile north of Anima-Nipissing. Total 180 acres.
6. 4,000 lots in the townsite of North Cobalt, beautifully situated on the west shore of Lake Temiskaming, containing 600 acres, close to the Green-Meehan and Red Rock properties, and only 100 miles from Toronto, on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, and is sure to be the coming summer resort, as there is good fishing, boating, and bathing. The finest scenery, most interesting surroundings, and a very bracing climate.

These lots alone in a year or two will be worth the full capitalization of the company. The mining properties of this company are far better value than a great number of properties now on the market at double the price, without the townsite, which practically acts as a security, which is sure to increase in value every year, and protect every shareholder in full for his investment, with the chance of making very large money out of the development of the mining property.

Our shares will be increasing in value from year to year, and in three years from now should sell on the open market for $10.00 a share from the dividend it will then pay.

Parties wishing to secure an allotment can do so by wire or letter, as there is no doubt every share will be subscribed for before February 1st.

Call or write for prospectus, reports, maps, etc., that will give fullest information.

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 12 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1905, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 12 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Lagree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whiteon, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 12 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 12. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 30 acre one and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 12 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 80 feet, and it shows 8 inch nicolite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1284-498-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 56c. is equal to $630.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 60 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine is right above on higher land, also the Lagree and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions will be filed in order received and we reserve the right to reduce or return same. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto, Send today or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

THE HEADLESS BANDIT

Queer Story From the Archives of the Vienna Courts.

Dr. Loye, a French physician, who greatly interested himself in the question, "What passes in the head of a decapitated human being?" related the following remarkable story, which he stated was taken from the archives of the Vienna courts: It was in the year —— that Schoenenburg, a well known bandit, and four of his associates were caught and condemned to death. They were already on their knees ready to pay the penalty of their bloody deeds by submitting to the awful fate of decapitation when Schoenenburg addressed the judge, asking that his four companions might be pardoned on certain conditions. "If," asked the bandit, "after I am beheaded I get up and walk to the first of my comrades, will you pardon him?" The judge thought that he was pretty safe in complying with the request. "Then," continued Schoenenburg, "if I walk to the second, the third and the fourth, will you pardon them also?" The judge replied that if such a miraculous feat could be performed he would obtain pardons for the other three also. The bandit was now satisfied, and, bending his head, he received the fatal blow. Instantly the head rolled down in the sand, but to the surprise and horror of all present the headless trunk arose and walked alone. Aimlessly, it appeared, the body walked around until it passed the first, the second, the third and the fourth condemned bandit, when it fell down and became motionless. Query, "How could a headless body think?"

GRUB STREET IN NEW YORK.

A Gastronomic Assignment and the Fate of an Epic.

A story is told of a poet who came to the metropolis with a completed epic. This found no acceptance, so after cursing the stupidity of the public and the publishers he took to writing "Sunday stuff." Soon the matter of fact attitude of the workers around him, with the practical view of the market he acquired, led him to doubt the literary value of the work he had done in the sentimental atmosphere of his native place.

Frequently a commission to write a column of humor a week came to him, and he cut his epic into short lengths, tacked a squib on each fragment and eventually succeeded in printing it all as humor at a price many times larger than the historic one brought by "Paradise Lost."

Another newcomer brought unsalable plays and high notions of the austerity of the artistic vocation. Three months after his arrival he was delighted to get a commission to write the handbook a utilitarian publisher proposed to sell to visitors seeing the metropolis. This commission brought not only a fair payment for the manuscript on delivery, but involved a vital secondary consideration. The title of the work was "Where to Eat In New York," and its preparation made it necessary for the author to dine each evening for a month in a different cafe at the proprietor's expense.—James H. Collins in Atlantic.

Be a Man.

According to the order of nature, men being equal, their common vocation is the profession of humanity, and whoever is well educated to discharge the duty of a man cannot be badly prepared to fill any of those offices that have relation to him. It matters little to me whether my pupil be designed for the army, the pulpit or the bar. Nature has destined us to the offices of human life, antecedent to our destination concerning society. To live in the profession I would teach him. When I have done with him it is true he will be neither a soldier, a lawyer nor a divine. Let him first be a man. Fortune may remove him from one rank to another as she pleases. He will always be found in his place.—Rousseau.

Hats in Parliament.

A member of parliament must never stand up with his hat on even if he has only risen to speak to the man behind him. Coming in, going out or speechifying he is always hatless, and he is sometimes hatless when sitting down. Thus if the speaker mentions a bill the member is responsible for he lifts his hat. If his name is mentioned in a speech he lifts his hat. Even if he happens at those times to be bareheaded he must seize a hat, put it on, then lift it.

Tobacco Smoke and Flowers.

A remarkable effect of tobacco smoke on the color of flowers may be seen in the case of the field scabi, named botanically Knautia arvensis so frequently on the hills and commons from August till October. If its purplish blue blossoms, which form nearly globose heads, are held in the smoke of tobacco, their color will soon turn to a bright green, about the same color as the leaves.—Exchange.

The Dangerous Part.

"See here," feebly complained the victim after the accident, "I thought you said it was perfectly safe to go up in that old elevator?"

"Well," replied the elevator man, "so it was safe to go up. You see, the dangerous part of it was comin' down."

A Good Patient.

It is well for one to know more than he says.—Plautus.

EXPERT'S REPORT.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 28, '06.

ROSAMOND CHIEF GOLD MINING CO.,

Gentlemen: I have made a special examination of the property of your company, and I find this property a valuable one, consisting of four claims, namely, the Mary Anna, Maggie, Alice, and Little Gem. All four have valuable ledges with average assay value of $20.25 per ton. This average is taken from the surface to a depth of 10 feet. I am satisfied it will do a great deal better with depth and as developing continues.

Yours truly,

S. M. SARMAN.

FORGAVE MRS. SIDDONS.

She Did Not, According to Her Father, Marry an Actor.

Mrs. Siddons, the actress, was born in 1755 at the Shoulder of Mutton inn, Brecon, south Wales, of parents connected with the theater, her father Roger Kemble, being a strolling manager. The child Sarah was reared in a theatrical atmosphere, and at ten she was playing Ariel.

As she grew up she became very beautiful and had many admirers, among whom was Henry Siddons, a young actor in her father's company, who had little difficulty in winning the girl's heart. Mr. and Mrs. Kemble had made up their minds that Sarah should not marry in the profession, in consequence of which they strenuously opposed the marriage, and young Siddons in a fit of retaliatory humor composed a song detailing their opposition and his trials, which brought about his speedy dismissal from the company. Sarah left the company, too, and hired out as lady's maid in Warwickshire for two years.

During this time the lovers carried on a lively correspondence and finally, gaining the reluctant consent of the Kembles, were married at Trinity church, Coventry, in 1773, when Sarah was eighteen.

It is said that Mr. Kemble told her if she ever married an actor it would make him discard her forever. After her marriage he said, "I may forgive you without breaking my word, for you have certainly not married 'an actor,' whatever the gentleman himself may think is his vocation." This is on authority of Lady Eleanor Butler, who knew the persons.

JAPANESE SAINTS.

The One Most Beloved by the People Is Binzuru.

Among the many Buddhist-Shinto saints, whose quaint effigies set up in every conceivable nook and corner of Japan make it a "country of graven images," one of the most impressive and interesting is the pathetic person called Binzuru. He was once upon a time a member of that strange company of Buddhist disciples known as the "Sixteen Rakkan." But one day he fell from grace by remarking upon the attractions of a woman, and he was expelled from the society of chaste brethren. The great Buddha gave him, in return for all that his worldliness had cost him, power to heal human ills and to grant the prayers of childless women who longed for motherhood. But he was put outside the temples. He must henceforth sit without, in the midst of the passing throng, and submit himself to personal contact with all that was unclean and healthless. The simple hearted people love him, I think, above all saints. His wooden images in the temple porches are the strangest objects in all Japan. They give him soft cushions to sit upon, and he is always clothed in quaint little cotton stuff collars and mufflers in all sorts of soiled-looking colors, and on his head his devotees usually keep a curious little cotton cap.—Eleanor Franklin in Leslie's Weekly.

The Young Member.

Grantley Berkeley tells in his "Life and Recollections" how a member for Ludlow in the last parliament of William IV. "tried to make a maiden speech, and, rising in his place, with a very bald head, known, too, as he was to everybody as one of the oldest stagers in all the ways of the world, he began, with great affectation of inexperience and with an exceedingly mild voice, 'Mr. Speaker, I am but a young member.' On hearing this assertion from so well known and crafty a man, possessing so venerable a pate, the entire house roared with laughter. Twice he stopped, and three times he commenced with these words, but it was useless. The house would not listen, and he never to my knowledge essayed to speak again, or if he did the sight of his bald head set his audience in a roar."

A grand ball was given in the town Hall at Warsaw Wednesday night, under the auspices of the Rifle Club of that village. It was one of the best social events of its kind ever held in Warsaw and proved a great success in every respect. Over 100 couples were in attendance.

THE PETERBOROUGH MORNING TIMES

Developments in the last few days are reported by the press and verified by the company's officers, again attract public attention to the famous Sunburst Mines—having added 200 acres of rich lead and zinc land in the heart of the world's richest producing district to original holdings, the Sunburst Company has ordered the permanent equipment of shaft No. 3.

WORK BEGINS ON THE SUNBURST MINES

Machinery being installed and work on No. 3 shaft immediately resumed. Drifting being pushed to connect the No. 2 and No. 3 shafts, which, according to the drilling, will open up immense bodies of ore for the full distance, which is about [illegible] feet. The Eastman Developments Co.'s White Eagle Mill, which was started within the last 10 days, is now producing some eight to ten tons of zinc ore per shift—being the record breaker of the district so far. This property is immediately to the northwest of the Sunburst property. The Clarissa, to the southwest, has made a phenomenal strike in the last week. The opportunity to share in this wonderful fortune making is now presented by the development of the Sunburst property. Millions will be taken out of the district, and shrewd investors are now seizing their opportunity to reap a golden harvest from the vast mineral wealth the Baxter Springs Camp. Many properties are now returning from 24 to 120 per cent. dividends on the investment.

IMMENSE ORE BODIES PROVEN UP

The Sunburst Mining Company now owns a vast property in Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory, generally known as the Baxter Springs District. The history of the company is well known to the public. The great richness has long been admitted. Now development work [illegible] most sanguine expectations. The Baxter Springs News of December 6, 1906, says:

"The Sunburst is showing up some mighty big ore the past week. J. C. Brewer, who is doing the development work, brought in samples of his latest ore taken out of shaft No. 3, and it certainly shows up fine. This shaft now has 55 feet of drifting to the south, almost all ore all the way, and the deposit encountered this past week is the same as the Hobo mine is cutting in its north drifts, which are only eighty feet to the south, and which are being driven north to connect with this south drift of the Sunburst. The Indiana, due to the west, is showing up remarkably rich lead and jack in its east drift. Gatlin is encountering the same to the east and north, thus demonstrating that immense ore deposit covers the Ayers-Sloan, White Eagle, Western Mining Co.'s Omaha, Winner, Good Luck, Hobo, Gatlin, Indiana and Sunburst leases, all of which are within a radius of a few hundred feet of each other. This is the richest deposit yet opened up, and while this is a fact it is owing to the intense development in this particular section of the camp, which is proving up the drillings which have been made since the camp started."

The Sunburst mine is four miles from Baxter Springs, Kansas, and is just across the state line in the Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory. All around and immediately adjoining this property are good producing mines with free mills which are making their owners rich. Just southwest is the mill owned by the Whitneys of New York. On every side we are surrounded by producing mines, operating in ore bodies that run true to and through our section, and from the reports of experts and engineers are actually richer and nearer the surface here than in any other place in the district. The formation consists of a blanket deposit of mineral of the richest quality, from [illegible] feet in thickness, lying at a depth of from 50 feet to 71 feet, thus making it very easy and inexpensive to mine.

Thousands of dollars were expended in drilling holes and sinking shafts to prove not only the existence in paying quantities of lead and zinc, but also the unusual richness of the ore. The drilling and shaft sinking have demonstrated a uniform bed of ore over the entire acreage of 15 to 20 feet in thickness, and found only 57 feet under the surface. The water is only sufficient to wash the ore while mining. This is an important point, as in many lead and zinc mines the superabundance of water is a very dangerous factor. The ore is found between well-defined flat beds of limestone, which allows of the ore being taken out without the use of any timbers whatever, pillars of ore being allowed to support the roof, which is thus permanently safe.

The Same Ore Body That Makes Others Rich

No other district can produce so many rich mines in so small an area as that portion of the Baxter Springs Camp. Look at the map and you will see how the Sunburst holdings are the very heart of this section. To the north are the Dark Horse, Isley, Tipton, Magnolia, all well-known properties. To the west are the Sunnyside (the oldest mill in camp), White Eagle, Indiana, Ayers and Sloan. To the south, the famous Hobo (the richest mine ever opened in the district, which has drifted to the south line of the Sunburst in extremely high-grade ore). The ore milled last week by the Hobo ran 18 per cent. In three months 600,000 pounds of rich ore was taken out by the Hobo. This mine is 135 feet from our property and is in the same ore bed. Shaft No. 1 is only 70 feet from the Hobo north drift, with the same bed of ore. The drilling shows this bed to run across the entire Sunburst property. Shaft No. 2 is 100 feet from the northeast drift of the Hobo and is into the same ore bed.

To the south are also the Omaha Mines and Mill and the Good Luck Mine, where the lead has proven to be so heavy. On these properties mills are erected and extremely rich ore extracted, making great returns for the owners.

SHAFT NO. THREE.

ADVANCE IN PRICE

On account of the additional holdings, which are of great intrinsic value, as well as the remarkable proof of richness afforded by the development work already begun, the price of Sunburst stock will not remain long at the present figure.

Every step forward in the workings of the company is attracting wide attention, and is justifying the most liberal expectations.

As this work goes on Sunburst stock is bound to increase in value, as it is bound to be a mighty source of profit. The public demand because of the public confidence in this great property has already absorbed thousands of shares and has steadily advanced the price, but this advance will be small in comparison to what is coming.

The shrewd investor will realize the opportunity now, and will buy before the next big advance.

Buy now and share pro rata in the demonstrated profits of this enterprise. Make your reservation for as many shares as you may desire at the present price, remit 10 per cent. of the full price for the block and send us the balance in nine monthly payments. Upon the completion of your payments your certificate will be sent you for the desired number of shares, fully paid and non-assessable, no matter how much the price of stock may have advanced during that time.

You will thus become a stockholder in this company on equal terms with all the other stockholders, and by payments so small as to be hardly noticed.

The tremendous advantage to the small investor through this plan of payment must be apparent at a glance. By subscribing, for instance, $80.00 now and remitting only $8.00, you will obtain the whole block subscribed for at the present low price, and receive the full advantages of every advance on the whole $80.00 worth, although your first payment is but $8.00.

You really invest $8.00 and get all the benefit of an investment of $80.00. Could anything be fairer?

In order to secure the benefit of this offer it will be necessary for you to make your reservation at once, with the understanding that you will be entirely free to withdraw it if further investigation fails to convince you of the merits of the stock.

The officers of this company, who have the handling of your money, the conduct of the mine, and paying of dividends, are stockholders like any other.

What is more, they are well-known and successful business men. Look them up. Investigate their standing, their business, their integrity.

This is a business proposition. Here are business men conducting it. They invite your investigation.

MAP OF DISTRICT SHOWING SUNBURST MINE.

Why Stock is Now Offered at 8c a Share

This issue of fully paid and non-assessable stock is for the purpose of procuring immediate funds to build a concentrating mill, equip the plant with hoisting machinery, and continue development work and put day and night shifts to work—in a word, to apply to this immensely rich property the same development that is resulting everywhere around us in paying great dividends and enormously enhancing the value of the property. Have you ever heard of a failure in a true lead and zinc mine? Have you not heard on the contrary of the fortunes taken out right in this district, not by one, but practically by all mining plants in the last few years? Have you ever had the opportunity to get in on the ground floor of such an investment? At this price the immense profits simply depend on this: Are the facts such as we have stated? Now, this we prove in detail—we will even arrange to take you to the mine—we refer you to any of the reports on this property—to banks—to engineers—to the evidence of surrounding properties; we lay the proposition before your business judgment, with the full appreciation that you owe it to yourself to investigate this simply as an investment in a commercial enterprise.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

In compliance with the request of the officers and stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., a detailed examination of the property was made October 1, 1906, by M. S Parker, the well-known mining engineer and member American Society C. E. Excerpts from Mr. Parker's report follow:

The Sunburst Mine is located in the southeast corner of Section 29, Township 29, Range 24, east of the Indian Meridian, in Quapaw Reserve, Indian Territory. It is bounded on the south by half its width by the famous Hobo Mine, which produces the richest lead and zinc ore of any mine in the district thus far developed, and prospect drill holes and shafts north of the Hobo, on the Sunburst, show the same grade of ore, and at the same depth and of the same thickness.

The Omaha Mine, which is now successfully operating a new 150-ton mill, also adjoins the Sunburst on the south, and have drilled along their north boundary, striking the same body of ore as developed by prospecting over the line on the Sunburst.

The Hobo and Omaha Mines on the south have been prospected along the line of the Sunburst by drill holes and the present working shafts and drifts, which verifies the results of the prospecting done on the Sunburst Mine, north of the south boundary of the Sunburst.

FORMATION.

This mine comes under the blanket formation class. Out of the last eleven holes drilled, only two holes were barren of lead or zinc ore, most of them showing lead and zinc ore in paying quantities, while some of the holes drilled showed very rich deposits of lead and zinc.

One of the drill holes on the Hobo Mine showed very rich cuttings; within a foot of this hole was a blank spot 50 feet in diameter. The shaft of the Hobo Mine was sunk within 8 feet of a drill hole showing a very rich zinc ore, and went down through such a spot—no zinc ore being encountered—within a foot of the shaft walls very rich zinc and lead ore was found.

The thickness of the ore body, as shown by the drill holes, is from 15 to 20 feet. Ore is struck in shaft No. 3 at 55 feet depth, and the shaft is still in the ore at 75 feet. The drill cuttings at this shaft showed ore down to 91 feet depth. From all the drill holes this depth, viz., 91 feet appears to be the floor or bottom of the ore body, and is very uniform. The roof, however, varies in depth from the surface, 57 feet being the nearest it comes to the surface, while at places it is shown to drop down to 80 feet in depth, but the average depth to roof is very close to 65 feet. This would indicate an average thickness of the ore body of about 25 feet.

Three shafts have been sunk. No. 1 shaft, 6 1-2 by 8 feet, is down 88 feet, well timbered, and has good shaft-house and derrick. From this shaft prospect drifts have been driven, in all about 200 linear feet, mostly in lead-bearing ground. A small office building is near this shaft.

Shaft No. 2, 6 1-2 by 8 1-2 by 10 feet, well timbered, with shafthouse, derrick and boilerhouse in good repair. From this shaft a drift is driven north 20 feet, then west 60 feet. Head of west drift is in good ore. The face of this drift is in zinc ore, while the bottom is in rich lead ore. This shaft should go down to 90 feet depth. This will give a 70-foot face of ore.

Shaft No. 3, 5 1-2 by 7 1-2 by [illegible] feet, well timbered—a first-class shaft. No buildings on it. A short drift is running south in good zinc ore. The bottom of this shaft is in good lead ore. These three shafts, with 15 drill holes, constitute the present development of the mine.

The Sunburst is located within four miles of the Frisco Railway, Baxter and Quapaw stations being about equally distant from the mine. A road is projected from Baxter to Miami that will run within a quarter of a mile of the mine. This road is to be a freight and passenger electric road for the accommodation of the mines.

Baxter Springs business men have subscribed $75,000 toward the building of this line, and every assurance is given that the road will soon be constructed. This will make transportation of fuel and mine products materially cheaper than at present, although the cost under present conditions is not heavy.

It is needless to say that work in the Sunburst can be carried on the year round, the climate in this section being so mild in winter that very little trouble is experienced in mining operations in the Quapaw Reserve.

Summing up the points in this report, I will say that you have a first-class lead and zinc property. Rarely will one find a tract of ground so universally mineralized as the Sunburst Mine. If you follow the recommendations I have made regarding development, I feel assured you will reap your reward in good dividends. Trusting that this report will meet with the approval of the President and Stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., I subscribe myself,

Very respectfully yours,
M. S PARKER.

As an investment proposition we believe that the Sunburst Mine will certainly pay no less than 25 per cent. We quote from other reliable sources the following figures showing the enormous annual dividends earned by lead and zinc mines in the Southwest field:

Osceola Mining Co.	24 per cent.	Katydid Mining Co.	50 per cent.
Cottonwood Mining Co.	75 per cent.	Mocking Bird Mining Co.	64 per cent.
Waddell Zinc Co.	27 per cent.	John Jackson Mining Co.	60 per cent.
Conqueror Lead and Zinc Co.	[illegible] per cent.	Omega Mining Co.	117 per cent.
Hudson Mining Co.	[illegible] per cent.	Longer Mining Co.	120 per cent.
H. & H. Mining Co.	40 per cent.	Chapman Mining Co.	120 per cent.
		Underwriters' Land Co.	60 per cent.

Buy Stock on Easy Payment Plan

A rise in the price of these shares to par means over 1200 per cent. for every $1 invested—besides the dividends.

Subscriptions will be accepted for 80 shares and upward, either by cash in full, with reservation, or by 10 per cent. down and 10 per cent. monthly for 9 months.

The cost is the same either way, but by the installment plan you can reserve a much larger block of stock, and when the price advances, as it will immediately on disposal of this block of stock, you can reap the immediate profit.

Your whole reservation will receive the benefit of every advance in price, even while you are paying for it.

Property of Fabulous Wealth

HEMMED IN BY PRODUCING MINES

Thousands of dollars expended on shafts and development work show ore runs from 8 to 12 per cent—while a yield of 4 per cent. in Center Creek Mine has produced nearly $7,000,000

The increasing demand for lead and zinc is too obvious to need detailed statement. Both metals are in steady demand and at steadily advancing prices. The prices have gone up since 1899 from $21.42 per ton for lead and $16.61 for zinc to $42.00 for lead and $45.00 for zinc. The lead and zinc industry is now right at the front in the great commercial enterprises of the country. This southwestern district produces 80 per cent. of the zinc produced in the United States.

The earning capacity of the Sunburst's property, handling ore that averages from 8 to 15 per cent, can be estimated from the production of other companies. The Center Creek Mining Company, of Webb City, Mo., from an 80-acre tract, has taken out nearly $7,000,000 and is still producing.

The report for the year 1901 shows the following production during that year from the several properties mentioned:

	Acres.	Value.
American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co.	[illegible]	$ 267,168.[illegible]
A. W. Taylor	160	160,[illegible].00
J. W. Aylor	40	578,571.00
The Burgner Mining Co.	80	190,[illegible].00
Center Creek Mining Co. (production to date)	200	$[illegible],194.00
Mrs. E. J. Chinn	120	231,[illegible].00
Majestic Consolidated Zinc & Lead Co.	53	216,480.00
Continental Zinc Co. (production to date)	200	1,573,583.00
Consolidated Troup Mining Co.	40	19[illegible],615.00
Daughtery-Davy-McMillian Estate	60	456,[illegible].00
The Empire Zinc Co.	171	170,315.00
Fox Heirs	20	120,324.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1905		1,[illegible],541.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1906		1,[illegible],850.00
John G. Quinn	640	[illegible],[illegible].00
Pittsburg-Joplin Lead & Zinc Co.	160	[illegible],000.00
Pittsburg-Missouri Zinc & Lead Co.	170	414,[illegible].00
United Zinc Co.	186	[illegible],[illegible].00

From these figures it can be seen readily how such large dividends are paid. The Dinger Co. pays 120 per cent., the Chapman 120 per cent., the Omega 117 per cent., and many others yield enormous returns.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF PROPERTY.

These profits are possible because of the concentrated richness of the ore, the fact that it is near the surface, that it requires no expensive machinery, that the buyers come to the mine and take the product right from the bins, that the climate is favorable, that the market is advancing, and the owners of the mine get steadily improving values for their ore produced. This is why lead and zinc mining is the safest and most profitable investment in the world today. Do you want 10% per cent. or more on your money?

Press Reports Rich Strike by Sunburst Mining Compny

From the Baxter Springs News, of November 8, 1906.

One of the richest strikes made in the Baxter Springs mining camp, south of this city, for some time past, was that made by the Sunburst Mining Co., operating on one of their properties just east of the Sunnyside and north of the Hobo. The Sunburst Co. have three shafts in ore, with a large amount of drifting done, and this strike was made in No. 3 shaft, and apparently in the Hobo run of ore, which has always been considered one of the very best in the Quapaw reservation. The farther this run of ore is developed the richer it is showing.

The Sunburst Mining Co. also has made a very important deal the past week by purchasing from the Great Northern Mining Company 700 acres of leases one mile east of the Johanna, is as than one mile southeast of the new rich strike made by the Irish Maid, and about two miles west of Monkey Hill, where the most famous lead strike was made ever encountered anywhere in the southwest. The Monkey Hill strike showed as much as 28 inches of solid lead of the very highest grade. The Great Northern, which is one of the largest holders of the best leases in this camp, made this sale the past week.

The purchase of this large tract of land by the Sunburst crowd means important developments in that section in addition to those already made, and, following on the heels of the rich lead strike made on the Charley Blackjacket land to the north of the tract and its purchase by a syndicate of Minnesota iron men, will cause an unusual amount of activity in that part of the camp.

The Sunburst, Mining Co. will also start drifting their No. 1 shaft on the tract east of the Sunnyside to encounter the rich strike made to the north of it in the Isley mine. The Isley has encountered ore which will undoubtedly yield all the way from 25 per cent. to 90 per cent. The strike was made near the north line of the Sunburst tract.

Mr. Foster's Leg Broken

Yesterday afternoon, about 3.30 at the telephone pole yard in connection with the G.T.R. station between Sherbrooke and Dalhousie streets, where a few days ago, Mr. Kelly, proprietor of the Hotel Royal was unfortunate enough to have a horse destroyed, a man named Foster had his leg broken by a swerving 60-foot telephone pole. The Dan Spence ambulance was quickly summoned and as quickly responded by removing the injured man.

Why Do Women Worry?

First Sign of Failing Health.

Worry is a disease—and it's more—it produces other diseases, because it breaks down the nerves and saps the vitality of the body.

What a pity women don't realize that if they were well—if the blood was nutritious—if the nerves were strong—if all the organs were active—then the little things that irritate and prey on the mind wouldn't receive a moment's thought.

The woman who worries has a poor appetite—she sleeps poorly. If it only lasted for a day or two it might be of small consequence—but she grows limp, miserable, unhappy—worse day by day.

She needs Ferrozone which cures worry by curing the conditions that render worry possible. For nervous, weak women, no tonic is so good; thousands it has cured just like Mrs. M. E. Etherington, of Troy, who writes, "I am quite willing to give a public testimonial for Ferrozone believing it to be a tonic of superior excellence and one that will rapidly build up strength and supply new energy to anyone not feeling well. Last spring I was in a very poor condition of health. I was nervous, felt tired, and completely worn out. No doubt it's quite a common complaint with ladies of my age, but I placed great reliance in Ferrozone, and took it for several weeks. It made me quite strong, and in fact I have been in better health ever since. I can heartily recommend Ferrozone."

Ferrozone cures by making good good blood strong nerves and a healthy body.

This is why it gives color, clearness to the skin, buoyance to the step brightness to the eyes—because with good digestion and activity of the body in all its parts there's health. Price 50c. per box at all dealers.

A Cash Dividend of $1,000,000 for Whole Life Policies Over Five Years Old. A Mortuary Dividend of $1,000,000 on all 1907 Claims Under Policies Over Five Years Old. Benefits During Second Six Months Increased 100 per cent. Whole Life Policies Over Fifteen Years in force when the Insured is 80 Years of Age Paid as Endowments.

CASH DIVIDEND

Repeating its generous action of the last eight years, and doubling the amount of the annual bonus, there has been declared by the Company this year a cash dividend estimated at one million dollars. This dividend has been declared on all Industrial Whole Life Policies issued prior to January 1, 1903. As has been the Company's practice heretofore, there will be included in these Benefits the Whole Life Industrial Policies of all those Companies whose business has been assumed by the Metropolitan.

A MORTUARY DIVIDEND

has been declared in the Industrial Department, applicable to all death claims incurred during the current year, where policies on the day of death had been in force over five years The scale of dividends is as follows: Where death occured after policy has been in force

Over 5 years, a Dividend of 5 per cent. Over 15 years, a Dividend of 15 per cent.
Over 10 years, a Dividend of 10 per cent. Over 20 years, a Dividend of 20 per cent.
Over 25 years, a Dividend of 25 per cent.

For examples: A policy for $200, issued on January 11, 1897, matures by death during 1907 on or after January 12th. The policy was in force over ten years, and the Company will pay a Mortuary Dividend of 10 per cent. or $20, the heirs receiving $240, instead of $220, as named in the policy. Or a policy for $500, issued February 7th, 1880; death occurs in 1907 on or after February 8th; the policy was in force over twenty-five years, the Company will pay the beneficiary a Mortuary Dividend of 25 per cent. of $300, or $75, making a total of $375.

LIFE POLICIES PAID AS ENDOWMENTS

During the year 1907 any person insured in the Industrial Department of the Metropolitan, who is eighty years of age or over, and who has paid premiums for fifteen years or more on any policy, may receive the face value of his or her policy in cash; or if a full paid-up policy is preferred, in order that the amount of insurance may be available as a burial fund at time of death, the Company will issue a paid-up policy for the face of the policy.

This voluntary conversion of Whole Life policies into Endowments or into fully paid-up insurance is one of the most liberal concessions ever made by any Industrial Insurance Company.

THIS MAKES $12,000,000 DISTRIBUTED VOLUNTARILY AMONG HOLDERS OF INDUSTRIAL POLICIES DURING THE PAST TWELVE YEARS, IN EXCESS OF AMOUNTS CALLED FOR BY THE POLICY CONTRACTS

INCREASE IN BENEFITS

New Tables with large increases of benefits in Industrial policies have been adopted. The payment of Premiums on all new Industrial policies will cease at age 75. Reductions have been made in the premiums charged for Ordinary policies.

Two Ladies' Purses Found

Two purses picked up yesterday containing a small sum each in silver and coppers now await owners at the police station. One of these coin receptacles contains over and above certain coin of the realm, a lady's list of goods, presumably to be bought, running from "one pair of dr—rs" to a side comb and a packet of hair pins. The other purse simply contains a few silver pieces and some street car tickets. Anyone identifying the purses can obtain possession. In addition to these goods a young man yesterday brought in a fur tail, evidently off a muff or boa.

Is Local Option in Force There

On Wednesday forenoon Mr. Thos. Roberts saw and heard a robin on his lot on Colborne street, and we have been told of two or three others having been seen in this vicility within the past few weeks. But neither of them was a "first" robin, and winter will probably last for some time yet.—Fenelon Falls Gazette.

Nation's Gift to Kaiser As a Birthday Present

Stay-at-Home Voters of Last Election Were Urged to Come to the Support of Government Policy, and They Did.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—The results of yesterday's Reichstag election have been officially declared to fill districts out of a total of 397.

The Socialists lost 17 seats and gained 1. The Center party lost 2 and gained 1. The two Conservatives parties lost 3 and gained 4. The Moderate Radicals lost 1 and gained 3. The National Liberals lost 1 and gained 10. The agrarians lost 2 and gained 3. But of the 361 results only 269 members were elected, second ballots being necessary in 252 districts.

A semi-official expression of regret at the dispersal by the police of peaceable crowds which last night gathered before the crown prince's palace singing national hymns in honor of the results was published today. The emperor joins in the popular indignation.

Emperor William called on Chancellor Von Buelow yesterday, and congratulated him on the soundness of his judgment in dissolving the Reichstag.

QUITE FRIENDLY.

Later his majesty took his usual morning walk in the Thier Garten and then returned to the chancellorship in order to discuss the latest returns. The emperor came out of the palace smiling and seemingly in the best of humor, almost gaily acknowledging the salutations of the crowd waiting to see him. Emperor William will be 48 years old tomorrow and someone remarked that the country had given him a fine birthday present "in checking the growth of red Republican Socialism."

Von Buelow's personal position with the emperor and the country is regarded as having been greatly fortified. The chancellor probably will be able to go before parliament with a degree of power which he had not previously possessed. Although the Clerical-Center party has, according to the results so far, gained as many seats as it lost, it will return to the Reichstag "tamed," as one of the chancellor's friends said, and willing to cooperate with the government. What the Socialists have lost has been largely gained by the National Liberals, and the Radical Liberals, thus giving the manufacturing and commercial interests increased representation in parliament.

VON BUELOW MAY RETIRE.

Chancellor Von Buelow may reject this period of his career to voluntarily retire. His health appears to be excellent, but he works with such ardor that it is understood that Princess Von Buelow, his wife, wishes him to give up his office without invite another illness.

One of the most interesting figures in the house, President Von Kiderlen, has declined to be a candidate for re-election.

Both the newspaper analysts and the party managers agree that the result of the elections was brought about by the arousing of the stay-at-house voters. Three million electors did not vote in 1903, and it was to this class that the government made a special appeal. National feeling was stirred up by the knowledge that the foreign press and peoples would welcome a Socialist because it would weaken the government with the people and embarrass the emperor in carrying out his national plans.

Great Future for the Sunburst Mine

Attention is called to the large advertisement in this issue of the Sunburst Mines, which, from the statements made in their prospectus and the favorable notice given by many of the United States newspapers, must be of extraordinary wealth.

The Sunburst Mines are no mere prospect, as much work has already been accomplished and expensive machinery installed. The Sunburst Mines have in sight enormous and limitless bodies of rich lead and zinc ores. The company owns and operates some 280 acres of the richest property, situated in the heart of a very extensive and wealthy mining country.

As is known to all leading manufacturers the demand for lead and zinc is constantly and rapidly on the increase. The ore in the Sunburst property averages from 8 to 15 per cent., which sufficiently demonstrates the wealth and assured future of their stock.

In order to raise money to more efficiently handle their ore to greatest advantage the company is, for a limited time, offering a block of fully-paid, non-assessable stock at 5 cents per share, worth $1 at par. Other lead and zinc mines in the district are paying from 21 to 120 per cent. profits on par value so that those getting in on the ground floor in the Sunburst Mines will have a handsome competency assured. New York, Jan. 28.—The congregation of the Methodist church at Netherwood, N.Y., are having the wife of their minister, Rev. Elmer Lakin, act as his substitute during his illness.

Former Peterboro' Man's Success

Mr. Alex. Elliott has received a letter from a former member of the local C.P.R. staff, who has many friends here, but who now holds a responsible position in Omaha, Neb. We refer to Mr. J. A. Ellimow general agent of the Chicago Great Western Railroad, with headquarters in Omaha.

Mr. Ellis has recently been appointed, in addition to his railroad duties, manager of the Independent Elevator at Omaha, which has a capacity of 1,000,000 bushels. Mr. Ellis' friends will be pleased to learn of his success.

County Council Ends Its Session

And now the county councillors have completed their municipal labors of last session. The main part of Saturday's session was routine and committee work. During the morning session Mr. John Breckenridge, clerk of Asphodel, congratulated the warden, Mr. P. McNulty upon his election to the chair. Mr. Breckenridge submitted a request for financial assistance for this township in repairing public highways.

Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P., for East Peterborough, gave an excellent address on subject of good roads and what the Provincial Government was offering by the $1,000,000 grant. He strongly urged that Peterborough county take up this question and get a share of that million dollars.

A number of committee reports were then read and adopted and by-laws were passed confirming the reports from the committees on finance, roads and bridges, appointments and equalization and assessments.

The Committee on Appointments reported as follows:

That Mr. John Breckenridge be reappointed trustee of Norwood High School.

That Mr. E. A. Peck be reappointed a member of the Board of Audit of Accounts in connection with the Administration of Justice.

That John E. Belcher, C.E., be appointed county engineer.

That Dr. Wm. Coldwell be reappointed jail surgeon at a yearly salary of $150.

That Mr. Henderson Nesbitt be reappointed caretaker of the court house at a yearly salary of $175.

That a number of persons, whose names were specified, be appointed as bridge caretakers.

That the following compose the County Board of Examiners of candidates for Teachers' Third Class certificate, namely: John Davidson, Norwood; Duncan Walker, Peterborough; J. C. Brown, Peterborough; and Richard Lees, Peterborough.

That the warden and Messrs. Scott and Moher be representatives of the county on the Board of management of the Peterborough Historical Society.

That Messrs. R. N. Scott and Robert Shaw be, with the Warden, the Board of Management of the House of Refuge.

That Messrs. Fife and Brown be members of the committee for distribution of the Foley Estate funds.

That Dr. Brown, Lakefield, be appointed physician of the House of Refuge, at a salary of $100 per annum.

ROBERT SHAW, Chairman.

The committee on roads and bridges made their report which included grants to the various municipalities for highway improvements. This also included a resolution that the members of the council, with the county engineer, solicitor and treasurer be a deputation to wait on the Dominion Government, and ask for a new bridge at Buckhorn dam. The printing, schools, county property and equalization and assessment committees, also made their reports.

A Judical Roast for John Burns

London, Jan. 27. —Justices Darling and Phillimore, in the King's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice, refused to commit John Burns, president of the local government board, for contempt of court in publicly commenting on statements made by a London newspaper for which it was being sued for libel by members of the London county council.

The justices, however, said the speech was "very unusual and regrettable," and they could not "recall a previous instance where a minister of the crown had thought it consistent with his public duties to take sides in a litigation before the courts."

Peterboro Defeated at Montreal Bonspiel

Montreal, Jan. 27.—Toronto will be in the final for the Single rink Granite championship, being played in connection with the Montreal Centenary curling bonspiel. G. H. Munro's rink defeated W. G. Ferguson of Peterborough in the semi-finals yesterday, and Toronto will accordingly play the Montreal rink, skipped by Pitblado, in the finals. The game in the semi-finals was as follows:

Warrant Against the Mayor of Brantford

Brantford, Jan. 27.—A big municipal sensation was sprung here yesterday afternoon, when A. G. Montgomery, one of the defeated candidates in the recent mayoralty contest, took out a warrant before Police Magistrate Woodyatt, charging Mayor Bowlby with publishing defamatory libel on Dec. 28 last.

The circular questioned was sent through the mails and widely distributed on nomination day. It reflects on the personal character of Montgomery. It purported to be signed by "the Fathers of the Ruined Ones." The case will be tried in police court Monday morning.

Mr. Montgomery engaged detectives who claim to have sufficient information to lay the charge.

Mayor Bowlby has, however, denied all knowledge of the circular, and says he did not know of its existence until nomination day. When he was told of it on the street.

Mr. Montgomery intimates that other developments are likely. On nomination day he offered a reward of $1000 for proof as to the party who issued the circular.

Alfonso Dissolves His Parliament

Madrid, Jan. 27.—King Alfonso today issued a decree suspending the sessions of parliament, as it had become evident that Senor Maura, the Conservative leader, with himself as premier, could not command a majority in the chambers.

An early submission of the issue between church and state to the people, through a dissolution of parliament and new elections, is the only means of clearing up the situation. The Clericals and Reactionists are jubilant, as the mere fact of the Conservatives being in power will give them a great advantage at the polls.

Prevented Wife's Rescue

Gulf Port, Miss., Jan. 27.—At Gerla City William Smith, colored, was last night arrested charged with having burned to death "Pinkey" Tigg, with whom he formerly lived. Neighbors were prevented from rescuing her by Smith, who stood guard. The dead woman is thought to have been tied.

She continued to scream for help until the flames reached her.

Victorious Japan for Disarmament

Tokio, January 28.—In accordance with the indications shown in the budget for the next fiscal year of the government's desire for economic and peaceful development it is now declared that Japan favors the submission of the question of disarmament to The Hague peace conference.

SITE AND HISTORY OF THE ISLAND

Jamaica Has Seen Troublous Times Since Discovered by Columbus.

WAS DISCOVERED IN 1494

Was in the Possession of Spain Until 1655 When it Fell Into the Hands of the English.

Montreal, January 28.—Jamaica is an island lying between the Caribbean Sea and the Gulf of Mexico, about eighty miles to the southward of the eastern extremity of the Island of Cuba. It is the largest island of the British West Indies, being 135 miles in length and from 21 to 44 miles in breadth. Its area is about 4,000 square miles. Within its government are comprised the three small islands called Caymanas, British Honduras and Turks and Caicos Islands. The surface of the country is usually hilly or mountainous, and there is a great variety of climate according to situation and elevation. The largest extent of level land is to the westward, where the lowlands are near the sea. The form of the coast presents the outline of a turtle, the mountain ridges representing the back.

The highest elevations are situated to the east, the inclined slope rising from the west. Vestiges of intermittent volcanic action occur. From the sea level on all sides a series of ridges gradually ascend towards the central range dividing the large rivers and rising occasionally into peaks for 6,000 feet. The Blue Mountains, running centrally from east to west, rise at some points to about 7,000 feet. The vapors ascending from the rivers and surrounding ocean produce in the upper regions clouds saturated with moisture which induce vegetation belonging to a colder climate. During the rainy season there is such an accumulation of vapor as to cause a general coldness over the island, and, of course, occasioning very sudden and heavy showers, and sometimes destructive floods. Upwards of 110 rivers or streams find their way from the interior to the sea, besides the numerous tributaries which issue from every ravine in the mountains. These streams, for the most part, are not navigable. In times of flood they become devastating torrents. The surface of the valleys and level lands consists of alluvial deposits, composed of sediment derived from the disintegration of the higher land. The vegetable productions are very numerous. There are forest trees fit for every purpose. The island is generally healthy, though sometimes subject to yellow fever, like most tropical countries. Hurricanes, when they occur, come between July and October. The periodical rains, which generally last for six weeks, constitute the May and October season. The population is about 800,000, of which 15,000 are white.

THE CITY OF KINGSTON.

Kingston, the capital of Jamaica, which has been ravaged by the earthquake, is on the south coast. It was founded in 1692. Its population is estimated at about 60,000. Kingston is the capital of the island and the principal civil and judicial business is transacted there. In spite of its being the capital city, there are no buildings of great architectural merit. Among the public institutions are a fine court house, a public hospital, a large public library and museum, historic parish church, and many other large buildings devoted to commerce.

Jamaica was discovered by Columbus in 1492. In 1509 the son of Columbus took possession of the island, and it remained a standing possession until 1655, when it fell into the hands of the English. In later years Jamaica became the resort of the buccaneers, and for a long time it was the headquarters for the pirates of the Atlantic, until these were suppressed in 1670. In 1782, Jamaica was attacked by the combined French and Spanish fleets, and saved by the victory of Rodney and Hood off Dominica.

In the previous history of Jamaica, several great earthquakes have occurred. One of these was in 1692, when part of the town of Port Royal, built on a shelving bank of sand, slipped into the sea. In 1712 and in 1722 there were dreadful hurricanes, and since then other terrific storms have occurred, one in 1880, devastating the eastern part of the island.

Rockefeller's Wig Held Up by Customs

New York, Jan. 27.—A despatch from Cleveland says: John D. Rockefeller's new wig is held up in the Customs office for appraisement. Experts says the invoice price is far below its value. It is a fine specimen of the wigmaker's art, with hair, long, soft, and of a glossy grey.

It was ordered last summer when Mr. Rockefeller was in France, and reached America recently. It was made in Paris by a dealer who placed upon the invoice the modest value of five francs. Evidently it was paid for in advance.

Appraiser Norton made some inquiry of local hair dealers describing the wig in detail, and they were unanimous that it would be cheap at $75. All were indignant at Rockefeller's lack of appreciation of home industry.

No appraisement has been made as yet. Norton will inspect the offerings of the local hair dressers and compare their work with the wig of Rockefeller before he passes judgment.

Kingston Boy Made Some Money

Kingston, Jan. 27.—An incident is quoted which goes to show the business ability of a 20-year-old Kingstonian who recently left this city to take a position in one not far away.

Though only a boy, he had managed to save $100. One day he read in the papers that the Cobalt Lake Syndicate stock would be placed in the brokers' hands for sale on a certain date. So he went in the morning of the specified day and learned from the broker that the stock would be given on terms of 10 per cent. down and the balance in thirty days. With his hundred dollars he secured a thousand dollars' worth of stock before the rush commenced. The stock sold out quickly and many were lamenting the fact that they had not a chance to buy any of it. So the young man went to a few friends who at once formed a little company, buying from the Kingstonian his stock and giving him his hundred dollars back and 333 shares out of the thousand "to boot." A few days later five million dollars of the Syndicate stock was opened for five million dollars of public subscriptions. That gave the ex-Kingston boy $1,500 of marketable stock and he still had his hundred dollars in the bank.

Better Than Real Thing.

Ottawa, January 28.—Mr. Sontum, Canadian agent in Norway, in a report to the Department of Trade and Commerce, says that a Norwegian druggist has succeeded in making artificial rubber, which has seven times the strength of ordinary rubber and can be produced at one-third the cost. It is now being made in Norway.

MANY SKELETONS IN THE IRON BOUND NORTH

Whole Tribe of Natives Perished While Vainly Seeking a Supply of Food---Wasted Time in the Summer.

Dawson City, Jan. 27.—Word has reached here of the find of the skeletons of a tribe of natives who perished from hunger and famine nearly twenty years ago. The find was made by a party of prospectors on St. Lawrence Island, where they were investigating some quartz veins.

The one hundred and fifty skeletons bore grim testimony to the suffering which the natives must have endured at that time. The natives at that time had no firearms, and many bows and arrows and other primitive weapons were found by the prospectors.

A native guide whom they met at the village told them that the tradition of the natives of that place knew of the other settlement of natives farther south, but that the two tribes were not on terms of friendliness, and that there had been a feud between them for nearly one hundred years before the terrible winter in which they all perished.

DID NOT PREPARE.

The natives stated that a whaling vessel had come to the southern portion of the island during the previous summer, and that instead of spending the open season in hunting and fishing the dead natives had idled away their time. The catch of seal and walrus was very poor that year, and the tribe found themselves at the approach of the cold weather practically unprovided for.

The winter was severe. One heavy blizzard followed another all through the season, and the natives were unable to hunt or fish. Gradually they died off, and before the warm weather came around again they were all dead. The party of prospectors state that the tale of the guide now seems to be borne out by the discoveries they made. The skeletons are scattered over a very wide area, with, in almost every instance, the remnants of bows and arrows and other crude implements for hunting and fishing.

HUNTED IN VAIN.

There was every evidence that many of the unfortunate natives had fallen in their tracks while they were in pursuit of some animal with which to sustain life.

The prospectors also made another interesting discovery in the form of an uninhabited island, some distance to the south from St. Lawrence Island. The island has the appearance of being mineralized.

One of the returned prospectors states that the natives on St. Lawrence Island had not previously seen any dynamite, and when a charge was put in the holes which they were prospecting and exploded, the natives took to their boats, and from that time hence gave the place a very wide berth.

The Thaw Jurymen Are Almost Prisoners

Kept Under Close Guard, and Their Newspapers and Magazines Carefully Censored by the Police.

New York, Jan. 27.—Three days of the trial of Harry K. Thaw have resulted in the selection of seven jurymen.

One hundred and one talesmen, half of the panel drawn, have been examined. The talesmen are becoming more wary apparently as the trial proceeds, and the excuses put forward for not serving are varied and ingenious. The chief reason for the general desire not to serve is probably found in the order of Justice Fitzgerald, practically locking up the jurymen from the time they are drawn until the trial is over. This is an unusual proceeding, and, as most of the talesmen are active business men, it involves possible financial loss beside the hardship. About the only physical exercise the jurymen selected enjoy is the little walk twice daily, accompanied by court officers, to and from the Broadway Central Hotel and the courthouse. The men are practically prisoners.

Every letter that is sent to the jurors is opened and read by Police Captain William J. Lynch. This is not done with the mail of prisoners in the Tombs. No newspapers that have in them any reference to the trial or tragedy are permitted to be read by them. Captain Lynch cuts out those parts of the newspapers that refer to the case, and the jurors have to be content with his censorship. Even their books and magazines are subjected to the same sort of scrutiny.

The Thaw jurors were kept under close surveillance at their hotel today. The wives of two of them called last night, but their guards only permit conversations in the presence of another juror and one of the guards.

A SPLIT IN THE FAMILY!

Rumors of difference between Mrs. Harry K. Thaw on one side and Mrs. William Thaw and the Countess of Yarmouth, mother and sister of Harry K. Thaw, on the other, continued to be circulated today, despite a denial that any such differences existed, issued by Thaw's counsel. The reported differences are alleged to have arisen over the continued presence in the court room of Miss May McKenzie, a former chorus girl, who invariably accompanies Mrs. Evelyn Thaw and sits by her during the session of the court. Miss McKenzie is said to have been the younger Mrs. Thaw's constant companion since Thaw shot Stanford White.

Thaw is said to have discussed this matter with A. Russell Peabody of his counsel. Afterward Mr. Peabody said that "Miss McKenzie had proved to be one of the best friends Evelyn ever had, and that she took care of Mrs. Thaw last summer when the young wife was suffering agony greater than that borne by any woman in New York, and has been devoted ever since.

"Is it to be expected that now Mrs. Harry Thaw would cast her friend aside just for the look's sake?"

ABSOLUTE DENIALS.

Mr. Peabody said that Mrs. William Thaw and her daughters have never had the slightest objection to the intimacy, and that this applied to the Countess of Yarmouth, who, he said, had not been in court for the past three days because she was so overwrought by the first day's proceedings that she had to stay at the hotel to recuperate. He said that she would be in court Monday if she recovered.

Mr. Peabody said that the report that Mr. Delmas had delivered an ultimatum that he would withdraw from the case unless May McKenzie was kept from the court room is absolutely without foundation, and he denied that Mr. Delmas had declared at the Yale Club that either he or Miss McKenzie would have to keep out of the court room, as had been stated.

Mr. Peabody also declared that the report that Harry Thaw and his wife were contemplating a divorce if Thaw is acquitted is absolutely false, and that somebody had evidently compared the case to that of Edward H. Morgan, the man Thaw and his wife "are more inseparably bound together today than before the tragedy."

A POSSIBLE MOTIVE.

One of the reports in circulation today, dealing with Thaw's motive for shooting Stanford White was to the effect that on the night before the shooting Thaw called on White and exacted from him a promise that he would never try to communicate with Evelyn Thaw again. It was also reported that while at dinner in the Cafe Martin, four hours before the tragedy, Thaw intercepted a note from White, asking Mrs. Thaw to meet him.

Means are reported to have been engaged in the city for eight Pittsburg witnesses for Thaw, to be brought here under the care of Hugh Bain, a Pittsburg detective.

Mr. Peabody also said yesterday: "My client has received hundreds of letters during the time he has been awaiting trial in the Tombs, and I have seen nearly all of them. None of the messages sent by others than friends and relatives could be classed as threatening. About one in a hundred of the letters contained what may be looked on as unfavorable."

British Private Posed as Officer

London, Jan. 28.—Private Morgan of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers is to be court-martialed for a remarkably daring exploit.

Morgan, whose parents reside at Stafford, while on furlough conceived the idea of masquerading in his master's uniform. He is alleged to have helped himself freely to articles belonging to the officer's wardrobe, and appeared sometimes in full uniform, and at others in mufti. He reprimanded several private soldiers on furlough for appearing in slovenly uniform, and threatened to report them to the commanding officer. Even bluejackets did not escape his attention. One able-seaman was, it is said, actually escorted to the railway station by Morgan, and sent back with his kit to join the Channel Fleet.

Morgan's crowning joke was at the expense of the local recruiting sergeant and drill instructor, whom he visited in the Volunteer armory. Smartly dressed in civilian clothes, he adopted an imperious air, and accused both officers of laxity in not notifying men improperly dressed on furlough. Both officials were naturally perturbed, and when their visitor, with solemn dignity, announced himself as "Lieut. Vaughan-Jones," they at once concluded that it was a surprise visit by an inspecting officer, and saluted accordingly.

At length Morgan's identity was discovered and he was arrested.

British Press on Root's Speech

London, Jan. 28.—The Spectator, referring to Root's Ottawa speech, says if Canada is threatened then the might, not only of the British empire, but of the United States, will awake for her defence.

The Statist says Root's speech was broad-minded and statesmanlike in the highest degree.

The Saturday Review says Root was on a shameful expedition, and it would be absurd to suppose he attached the smallest importance to the proposition he was pressing forth.

Probably no one was more amused than Root himself when he read over his own "bunkum" next day. He would enjoy a hearty laugh over it with any intimate he could trust not to give him away.

U. S. Steel Trust Will Build a City

Chicago, Jan. 27.—The United States Corporation, it was announced yesterday, has purchased 2,200 acres of land in the new Town of Gary, Indiana, comprising the remainder of what is known as the Packers' tract there, for a consideration of $3,000,000.

The purchase gives the company 8000 acres of land upon which to build its industrial city, which, when completed, it is said, will represent an investment of $75,000,000.

River Moves Five Miles

Evansville, Ind., January 28.—The Ohio River has cut a channel across the Big Horseshoe bend between here and Henderson, and is flowing through there now at a tremendous rate, leaving the water in harbour here as quiet as a lake. The city confronts the serious danger of being left five miles from the Ohio River. If the higher water comes in such volumes as to increase the flow in the new channel, Evansville may be left high and dry.

100 Students Arrested

Lemberg, Austria, Jan. 28. — One hundred students have been arrested as the result of rioting at the university here. In demonstrating against the refusal of the authorities to accept the statutory declaration in the Ruthenian language, the students broke furniture, chandeliers and ornaments in the conference hall with hatchets, and wrecked offices and classrooms.

Alton, Ill., Jan. 28.—A letter addressed to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt is being held at the Upper Alton postoffice because the writer neglected to place a postage stamp on the envelope.

Postmaster Seitz has sent a formal notice to Mrs. Roosevelt that the letter will be forwarded when the necessary two cents are remitted.

Sin Against Health

Why the Usefulness of All Organs is Destroyed by Costiveness.

Most important to health and comfort is the proper action of the bowels.

By nature these organs are intended for the removal of the waste particles of matter which accumulate in the system.

Retain these wastes and you poison the blood, ruin digestion, bring on nervousness and anaemia.

Habitual costiveness is best overcome by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which establish regularity that is exactly consistent with nature.

Not a drastic purgative—not even a pain or sensation of grip, because Dr. Hamilton's Pills are vegetable and free from irritating widely advertised remedies.

In every case Dr. Hamilton's Pills do cure, and bring cure relief from headache, biliousness and other manifestations of constipation.

Jas. McConnell, of Walkerton, writes; "Since I was comparatively a young man I have not enjoyed real good health.

"My appetite was good and strength kept up, yet I knew something was wrong.

"Frequently I took bilious attacks and violent headaches. My stomach was disordered, skin was murky, under my eyes were heavy dark rings.

"Last winter I read through the Prism's almanac and decided my trouble was constipation. I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and can hardly tell the help they have been. I am now as fresh, strong and well as a boy."

Just try the wonderful magic of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold by all dealers 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn. U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 28, 1907

A FARMERS' UNION

Farmers who send their products to the Chicago market are organizing a union to get reasonable prices for them. Their union is called the American Society of Equity. The scheme is to send their products to the city to be sold at a ten per cent. advance on the prices they receive.

How are they to compete with the speculators? By an application of labor union methods and by confederation with the labor unions in the city. Their goods will bear the Equity Society label, and a statement of the price paid to the farmer for them. They will be sold at places designated, and under the auspices of the labor unions. That is to say, the series of middlemen and jobbers who now make their own profits, through screwing down the producers on the one hand and extorting from consumers on the other hand, will be eliminated.

It is an experiment the working out of which will be watched with much interest; but the Chicago Tribune reports that the union organizations in the city are formally approving of it.

WORLD'S HEAVIEST TAXPAYERS

The men and women in the city of New York will pay taxes on an aggregate of $31,365,890. Mrs. Russell Sage is the heaviest taxpayer, her assessment being $65,000,000 on personal property, and $320,000 on her residence. Andrew Carnegie, who thinks it a disgrace to die rich, will pay on an assessment on personal property valued at $6,000,000, and on his residence valued at $3,500,000. John D. Rockefeller, set down as the richest man in the world, has only $3,500,000 of personal property, and he lives in a house worth only the paltry sum of $500,000. Pierpont Morgan is almost a pauper, having only personal property worth $400,000, yet he lives in a house assessed at $1,500,000. The publication of the tax list in New York exposes the 84 millionaires. If the tax list were published in Peterborough it might furnish some surprises as to how little some people pay on the real value of their property.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 26.—The Russian Government has decided to withdraw its troops from Manchuria immediately instead of awaiting the date, April 18, fixed by the Russo-Japan agreement.

ANCIENT LITERATURE.

How Some of It Was Luckily Saved From Destruction.

Considering that the whole of ancient literature was confined to manuscript, it is wonderful that so much of it has come down to us. The preservation of some old writings has been almost miraculous. To a single copy preserved in a monastery of Westphalia, for instance, do we owe all that we have of Tacitus. This is the more remarkable since the emperor of that name had copies of the works of his distinguished ancestor placed in all the imperial libraries and caused ten copies of them to be transcribed yearly. Still, only the one copy has been found in modern times.

A page of the second decade of Livy, we are told, was discovered by a man of letters on a bandeodor while he was amusing himself in the country. He rushed up to town, but he was too late, for the battledoor maker "had used up all his parchment the week before." Two manuscripts of Cicero on "Glory" were presented to Petrarch, who lent them to an old preceptor. This latter gentleman, being pressed by want, pawned them and died without revealing the name of the pawnbroker. Two centuries afterward they were mentioned in a catalogue of books bequeathed to a convent, but could not be found. It is supposed that Petrus Aleyonius, the physician to the institution, appropriated them and, having transposed some of the thoughts to his own writings, destroyed the originals.

The original Magna Charta of England has certain mutilations, presumably from a pair of shears. It is said that Sir Richard Cotton, calling one day at his tailor's, discovered that that man was holding in his hand ready to cut up for a pattern a copy of the great Magna Charta, with all its appendages and seals.

Prevent La Grippe

La grippe is especially liable to occur during the winter season. The penetrating winds, the snow and slush, the changeable temperature, one day frozen and cold, the next day thawing and wet, all tend to produce this wretched disease.

The only way to guard against these dangers is to keep the body in a healthy condition. With sound mucous membrances, and a normal activity of the bodily functions, the system is fortified against any weather.

There is no better remedy for this purpose than Peruna. Peruna tones up the mucous surfaces, invigorates the whole system. It is not only a restorative, but a preventive. A few doses of it taken in time may save you many months of sickness. That Peruna has been of inestimable value to many is proven by the thousands of grateful testimonials which we have in our files.

Parisians' Bread.

There is no city in the world where so much bread is consumed as in Paris. It is estimated that every inhabitant eats one pound a day on the average. Even in past centuries the French—especially Parisians—had a horror of stale bread. And, as in those days people manufactured their own bread, they had a curious way of making it palatable. Strange as it may seem, the bread they prepared—huge round or square slabs—was used as a dish on which the meat was carved and bore the name of "tranchoirs," or "tailloirs." The juice of the meat having penetrated into the bread imparted a pleasant taste and prevented it from becoming dry.

High Priced Copy.

During the siege of Kimberley the editor of the only daily paper there was often hard put to find enough news. One day in a clubroom he found Cecil Rhodes reading a fairly new paper from Cape Town. He borrowed it and rushed to his own office, where it soon reappeared as a special edition, selling like hot cakes. That same evening he met Rhodes, who inquired, "Where's my Cape Town paper?" "Oh, I cut it up for the printers," was the reply. "Please don't do that again," said Rhodes mildly. "That paper came through my native runners and cost me $1,000."

The Long Lived Orchid Flower.

Even when orchid flowers are fully developed they may remain uncut upon the plants for two or three weeks without apparent deterioration. This gives them a manifest advantage over most flowers that have to be cut immediately upon or even in advance of reaching full maturity.—Country Life in America.

Weak Women

Be weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical nervine membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, once nervous contentment, gives restored vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

CANADIAN SHIPS.

Some Famous Sailing Craft Which Gleaned Fortunes From the Sea —A Blue-Nose Designer.

Time was when Canadian sailing ships swarmed the great highways of all the seas and floated proudly in ports in far corners of the earth. Time was when the Maritime Provinces owned more ships in proportion to their population than any other country in the world; when their shipwrights had a reputation second to none for the speed and beauty of the ships they built, and their shipmasters were as redoubtable a class of seamen as ever sailed the seas—men celebrated for courage and competency, and, it must be confessed, for cruelty.

Times Have Changed.

But times change. Shipyards whence in former years were launched clippers of fame, are now overgrown with grass and the shipwrights who once filled them with the bustle of their activities—over many of them, too, the grass grows green. And hundreds of the white-winged clippers that once lived in the boisterous life of the winds, skimming big fortunes from the foam of the sea, now lie at rest in the port of missing ships—broken, rotting hulks festooned with long sea grass.

Here and there, however, shipyards still resound to the blows of the axe, the ring of the saw, the urgent clamor, of caulking irons, the thrill and joyousness of creative efforts; here and there shipwrights are still busily fashioning the fabrics of ships whose defiant and tragic beauty of line and form seem to symbolize the struggle of their art to reconcile the pride of their traditions with the practical demands of the times. And here and there an old clipper survives to keep green the memories of other days.

A Blue-Nose Designer.

Of all the sailing ships celebrated in song and story, probably none compare either in beauty or speed with the clippers built at East Boston by Donald McKay, a blue-nose, who, before he went to the States, built ships in Nova Scotia. The Sovereign of the Seas, the swiftest sailing ship that ever ploughed the deep was built by Donald McKay, and sailed by his brother, Laughlin McKay, to victory in many a famous ocean race. On one occasion this ship, an extreme clipper of 2,400 tons, made 436 knots in 24 hours, an average of over 18 knots, or $1 statute miles an hour; a record that has never been equalled by any sailing ship, and is only surpassed by a few steamers. On another voyage she averaged 364 knots for 11 consecutive days. In one of his books, Frank Bullock, the English writer of sea tales, referring to this ship, remarks that "a man who had once sailed in such a flyer as the Sovereign of the Seas was wont to brag of it ever after, while the fact that he had survived the hardships of such a passage gave him brevet rank among the men of the sea."

Another Famous Greyhound.

Another famous greyhound of the seas built by Donald McKay was the Great Republic, a model of which, exhibited at the Paris Exposition, was pronounced to be the finest piece of marine architecture then extant. She was a four-masted ship, the largest merchantman afloat for many years, and the first vessel to be provided with double topsail yards, an invention which rendered possible a great reduction in the number of the crew, and has greatly lessened the labors of the sailor many. The Donald McKay, the length of whose mainyard is still a standard of measurement; the Flying Cloud, which logged 427 knots in 24 hours, and made the voyage from New York to 'Frisco in 89 days; the Golden Fleece, Star of Empire, Westward Ho, Bald Eagle—these and many another famous China clipper Western Ocean packet, whose performances are still celebrated in the songs and chanties of blue water sailors, were built by this Blue-nose.

Another Famous Builder.

Another famous shipbuilder was Capt. George Mackenzie, of Pictou, whose enterprise gave a strong impetus to the upbuilding of the shipping industry of the province. It is worthy of remark that one of his ships, the Hamilton-Campbell Kidston, was, as late as 1880, hailed with enthusiasm at Glasgow as the largest which had hitherto sailed up the Clyde.

Of late years the only vessels built in Canada have been small barquentines, tern schooners, and fishing craft. Although the fore and aft schooner is primarily a Yankee product, Nova Scotia builds vessels of this type equal in point of seaworthiness and speed, to those built in Yankee yards. The schooners used in the fisheries now have as fine lines as a racing yacht, and many of them would, in heavy weather, outfoot some of the modern racing machines. Some of the clipper schooners built at Shelburne, N. S., for the Canadian Fishery Protection Service were remarkably smart vessels, as their ability to capture the Yankee poachers, built especially for speed, fully shows. The Osprey, the last sailing vessel built for the service, was in her time admittedly the fastest craft on the Atlantic coast, and could easily log 14 or 15 knots—tall traveling for a craft of one hundred tons.

Name Your Farm.

The Belleville Intelligencer makes a capital suggestion, or perhaps reiterates an old one, that farmers should name their farms. Some people name their houses in a city, and this, though it has its advantages to the owner, is of little use in locating the property. But out in the townships everybody would profit by the movement. It would help to break up the monotony which is one of the foes of country life, and it would tend to make the country a pleasanter place to live in. As The Intelligencer says: "Mountain View Farm sounds much better than Old Sam Jones' place, and it's better business, too."

Fast and Fancy.

"To hear that man talk you would suppose he could beat an army by himself."

"Yes, and if he ever got into action he would think himself lucky if he could beat a retreat."

If you wish to remove avarice, you must remove its mother, luxury.—Ovid.

A NEW WHITE PAGE.

Various Life Marks Seen By An Observant Man On the Frst Snow.

When nature turns the first white page of winter for the record of her infinite activities her children are alert and ready to inscribe the varied stories of their personal exploits and meanderings. Where the new snow slopes down in a cold, clean sheet to the curve of a hurrying stream a muskrat began the inscription without waiting for the guiding illumination of day. His babylike feet have left a firm and regular double track of distinct impressions in the snow, and between these runs the groove of his snakelike tail. The new snow preserves the record of his early excursion, even to the crystal drops that fell from his close fur as he left the water. He walked along the bank away from the stream for a short distance, sat up to look about over the newly whitened landscape, made a few distinct impressions in the snow with his fore feet as if curious about the new covering the world had put on, and then returned by a longer route, taking the water close to where he had emerged. There is dignity and deliberation in the trail of the muskrat, writes Mr. S. T. Woods, in The Globe.

Beyond the high bank is a record so small and faint as to indicate helpless weakness, almost lost in the broad white expanse. A field mouse with short, hasty steps made his laborious way for a few feet over the snow and disappeared under a small drift that concealed his further course. How big and impassable the world must have seemed to him when he floundered more than his depth in the little groove, while his tiny feet sank interminable distances in the shallow snow! In winter he may commit serious depredations by girdling fruit and other trees under the snow, but his little track seems so helpless on the new page that he is almost forgiven in advance. A vagrant cat has been abroad, and her round paws have melted their regular impressions deeply and distinctly into the snow. This track moves along in a sheltering furrow and soon shows the record of a stealthy cronch before a spring. A few feet away some slaty grey feathers complete the story. Juncoes have been hopping all about the place, and the long springing strides of the swift rush lead to where one has been captured by the stalking enemy. The feathers are fragments from a tragedy.

Beside the naked woods the trail of a leaping red squirrel has a much more cheerful aspect. He bounded along not in haste, but in joy, his broadly separated hind feet overreaching the close twin marks of his fore feet at every spring. From one large tree to another he makes his way, seeming to inspect each and harry along. At the foot of a black oak the trail ends, showing that the happy squirrel took a more athletic path among the branches.

In the closer woods the tracks of a dog are scattered about with an irregularity suggesting human influences. Turning, doubling, crossing, and recrossing, his tracks lead about in bewildering uncertainty. The cause of all the excitement is disclosed by the clear, quadruple track of a cottontail beside a small viburnum bush. The long leaps that threw the dog off the scent make this trail difficult to follow. Cottontail was evidently in a hurry, judging by his long irregular bounds, but his separated hind feet point his direction. Where the shrubbery is more open the dog finds his trail again, and both lead away toward the dark green cedars. Near a broken field a crow has stalked thoughtfully, etching his bold records along the white expanse. The scales of a pine cone scattered by a squirrel are littered about on the fresh snow. The new page is marked everywhere, but from the low, uncertain clouds the north wind scatters a feathery spray of snow as if to efface the records of nature's handiwork and preserve the open expanse in its virgin whiteness.

THE REFUGEES

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

At the sound of the closing door she had glanced up, and then, at sight of the king, she sprang to her feet and ran toward him, her hands out, her blue eyes bedimmed with tears.

"Ah, sire," she cried, with a pretty little sunburst of joy through her tears, "then I have wronged you! I have wronged you cruelly! But you have come after me to tell me that you have forgiven me!" She put her arms forward with the trusting air of a pretty child who claims an embrace as her due, but the king stepped swiftly back from her.

"All is over forever between us," he cried harshly. "Your brother will await you at the east gate at 6 o'clock, and it is my command that you wait there until you receive my further orders."

She staggered back as if he had struck her. "Leave you?" she cried.

"You must leave the court."

"The court! Aye, willingly; this instant! But you! Ah, sire, you ask what is impossible."

"I do not ask, madame; I order. Since you have learned to abuse your position, your presence has become intolerable. The united kings of Europe have never dared to speak to me as you have spoken today. Such things are not done twice, madame. You see your mistake now. At 6 o'clock you leave Versailles forever." His eyes flashed and his small upright figure seemed to swell in the violence of his indignation, while she leaned away from him, one hand across her eyes.

"Oh, I have been wicked!" she cried. "I know it; I know it! How could I speak to you so! How could I! Oh, that some blight may come upon this unhappy tongue! I, who have had nothing but good from you! I to insult you, who are the author of all my happiness! Oh, sire, forgive me, forgive me; for pity's sake forgive me!"

Louis was by nature a kind hearted man. His feelings were touched, and his pride also was flattered by the abasement of this beautiful and haughty woman. His face softened somewhat in its expression as he glanced at her, but he shook his head, and his voice was as firm as ever as he answered.

"It is useless, madame," said he. "I have thought this matter over for a long time, and your madness today has only hurried what must in any case have taken place. You must leave the palace."

"I will leave the palace. Say only that you forgive me. Oh, sire, I cannot bear your anger. It crushes me down. I am not strong enough. It is not banishment, it is death to which you sentence me. Think of our long years of love, sire, and say that you forgive me. Oh, will you not give your anger up for mine? My God, he weeps! Oh, I am saved; I am saved!"

"No, no, madame," cried the king, dashing his hand across his eyes. "You see the weakness of the man, but you shall also see the firmness of the king. As to your insults today, I forgive them freely, if that will make you more happy in your retirement. But a time has come when it is necessary to review our past life and to prepare for that which is to come."

"Ah, sire, you pain me. You are not yet in the prime of your years, and you speak as if old age were upon you. In a score of years from now it may be time for folks to say that age has made a change in your life."

The king winced. "Who say so?" he cried angrily.

"Oh, sire, it slipped from me unawares. Think no more of it. Nobody says so. Nobody."

"You are hiding something from me. Who is it who says this?"

"Oh, sire, it was but foolish court gossip, all unworthy of your attention. To me, sire, you are as pleasing and as gracious as when you first won the heart of Mlle. Tonnay-Charente."

The king smiled as he looked at the beautiful woman before him.

"In very truth," said he, "I can say that there has been no such great changes in Mlle. Tonnay-Charente either. But still it is best that we should part, Francoise."

"You have but to name the place, sire—Petit Bourg, Chargny or my own convent of St. Joseph in the Faubourg St. Germain. What matter where the flower withers when once the sun has forever turned from it? At least the past is my own, and I shall live in the remembrance of the days when none had come between us and when your sweet love was all my own. Be happy, sire, be happy, and think no more of what I said about the foolish gossip of the court. Your life lies in the future. Mine is in the past. Adieu, dear sire, adieu!" She threw forward her arms, her eyes dimmed over, and she would have fallen had Louis not sprung forward and caught her in his arms. Her beautiful head drooped upon his shoulder, her breath was warm upon his cheek, and the subtle scent of her hair was in his nostrils. Her broad white throat was thrown back, her eyes almost closed, her lips just parted enough to show the line of pearly teeth, her beautiful face not three inches from his own. And then suddenly the eyelids quivered, and the great blue eyes looked up at him lovingly, appealingly, half deprecating, half challenging, her whole soul in a glance. Did he move? Or was it she? Who could tell? But their lips had met in a long kiss and then in another, and plans and resolutions were streaming away from Louis like autumn leaves in the west wind.

"Then I am not to go! You would not have the heart to send me away, would you?"

"No, no; but you must not annoy me, Francoise."

"I had rather die than cause you an instant of grief. Oh, sire, I have seen so little of you lately! And I love you so! It has maddened me. And then that dreadful woman!"—

"Who, then?"

"Oh, I must not speak against her. I will be civil for your sake even to her, the widow of old Scarron."

"Yes, yes, you must be civil. I cannot have any unpleasantness."

"But you will stay with me, sire?" Her supple arms coiled themselves round his neck. Then she held him for an instant at arm's length to feast her eyes upon his face, and then drew him once more toward her. "You will not leave me, dear sire. It is so long since you have been here."

"I will stay," said he.

"And that carriage, dear sire, at the east door?"

"I have been very harsh with you, Francoise. You will forgive me. Have you paper and pencil, that I may countermand the order?"

"They are here, sire, upon the side table. I have also a note which, if I may leave you for an instant, I will write in the anteroom."

She swept out with triumph in her eyes. It had been a terrible fight, but all the greater the credit of her victory. She took a little pink slip of paper from an inlaid desk and dashed off a few words upon it. They were, "Should Mme. de Maintenon have any message for his majesty he will be for the next few hours in the room of Mme. de Montespan." This she addressed to her rival, and it was sent on the spot, together with the king's order, by the hands of a page.

CHAPTER VIII.

FOR nearly a week the king was constant to his new humor. The routine of his life remained unchanged, save that it was the room of the frail beauty rather than of Mme. de Maintenon which attracted him in the afternoon. And in sympathy with this sudden relapse into his old life his coats lost something of their somber hue. His walk was brisker, and he gave a youthful flourish to his cane as a defiance to those who had seen in his reformation the first symptoms of age.

FORCE OF WATER.

The Great Power That Is Exerted by a Six Inch Stream.

The effect of the hydraulic motor, which is now used for the purpose of removing masses of earth, well nigh passes belief. A stream of water issuing from a pipe six inches in diameter, with a fall behind it of 375 feet, will carry away a solid rock weighing a ton or more to a distance of fifty or a hundred feet. The velocity of the stream is terrific, and the column of water projected is so solid that if a crowbar or other heavy object be thrust against it the impinging object will be hurled a considerable distance. By this stream of water a man would be instantly killed if he came in contact with it even at a distance of a couple of hundred feet. At 200 feet from the nozzle a six inch stream, with a 375 foot fall, projected momentarily against the trunk of a tree will in a second denude it of the heaviest bark as cleanly as if it had been cut with an ax. Whenever such a stream is turned against a bank it cuts and burrows it in every direction, hollowing out great caves and causing tons of earth to melt and fall and be washed away in the sluices.

The Eye of a Child.

Who can explain or fathom the wondrous instinct of the child? Lying in the arms of its nurse, in its carriage or elsewhere, its large, round, wondering eyes roam over a sea of faces till suddenly its features break into a sweet smile, a baby laugh dances in its eyes, perhaps the tiny hands are extended, and the little body gives a bound as though it would throw itself through space. What has happened? It has recognized a friend, nothing more and no less. It makes no mistake. Wiser, perchance, in that moment of inexperienced helplessness than it will be years afterward, when the world and its inmates have been studied in the light of instruction and experience, its love offering is seldom if ever mistakenly presented. By what power is this child love directed? By what subtle influence does it see and know what in after years it may strive in vain to discern?

Carlyle and the Ax.

Carlyle as a schoolmaster was a terror to evildoers. Even the biggest and boldest boys wilted when he growled out "dunce" or "blockhead." He did not thrash often, as his scowl was enough to hush a whole school, but when he did thrash he meant business. One day a joiner passing along the road heard the most piteous howls and cries for mercy and help coming from the schoolhouse. Rushing in and handing his ax to Carlyle, he exclaimed:

"Just doo't ootricht, mon, and ax mince maisters."

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and will buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B 22 on a plan filed by W. J Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B 22 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B 22 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 22. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 20 acre ore and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 20 acres of J. B. 22 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $160,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 80 feet, and it shows 5 inch nicolite, 18 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1284-402-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 500 oz. silver, which at the present price of 70c. is equal to $350.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M.E.
New Liskeard, 17th November, 1906.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions will be filed in order received and we reserve the right to reduce or return same. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto. Send today or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

Developments in the last few days are reported by the press and verified by the company's officers, again attract public attention to the famous Sunburst Mines—having added 200 acres of rich lead and zinc land in the heart of the world's richest producing district to original holdings, the Sunburst Company has ordered the permanent equipment of shaft No. 3.

WORK BEGINS ON THE SUNBURST MINES

Machinery being installed and work on No. 3 shaft immediately resumed. Drifting being pushed to connect the No. 2 and No. 3 shafts, which, according to the drilling, will open up immense bodies of ore for the full distance, which is about 500 feet. The Eastman Development Co.'s White Eagle Mill, which was started within the last 60 days, is now producing some eight to ten tons of zinc ore per shift—being the record breaker of the district so far. This property is immediately to the northwest of the Sunburst property. The Clarissa, to the southwest, has made a phenomenal strike in the last week. The opportunity to share in this wonderful fortune making is now presented by the development of the Sunburst property. Millions will be taken out of this district in 1907, and shrewd investors are now seizing their opportunity to reap a golden harvest from the vast mineral wealth the Baxter Springs Camp. Many properties are now returning from 24 to 120 per cent. dividends on the investment.

IMMENSE ORE BODIES PROVEN UP

The Sunburst Mining Company now owns a vast property in Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory, generally known as the Baxter Springs District. The history of the company is well known to the public. The great richness has long been admitted. Now development work proves the most sanguine expectations. The Baxter Springs News of December 6, 1906, says:

"The Sunburst is showing up some mighty big ore the past week. J. C. Bryner, who is doing the development work, brought in samples of his latest ore taken out of shaft No. 3, and it certainly shows up fine. This shaft now has 30 feet of drifting to the south, showing rich ore all the way, and the deposit encountered the past week is the same as the Hobo mine is cutting in its north drifts, which are only eighty feet to the south, and which are being driven north to connect with this south drift of the Sunburst. The Indiana, just to the west, is showing up remarkably rich lead and jack in its east drift. Gatlin is encountering the same to the east and north, thus demonstrating that immense ore deposit covers the Ayers-Sloan, White Eagle, Western Mining Co.'s Omaha, Winner, Good Luck, Hobo, Gatlin, Indiana and Sunburst leases, all of which are within a radius of a few hundred feet of each other. This is the richest deposit yet opened up, and while this is a fact it is owing to the intense development in this particular section of the camp, which is proving up the drillings which have been made since the camp started."

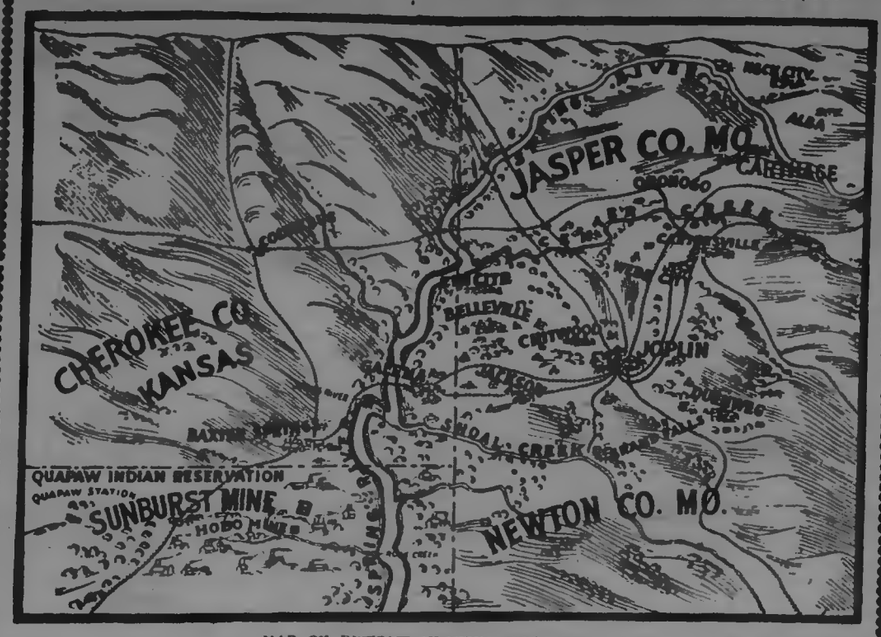
This immense rich property lies four miles from Baxter Springs, Kansas, and is just across the state line in the Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory. All around and immediately adjoining this property are good producing mines with fine mills, which are making their owners rich. Just southwest is the mill owned by the Whitneys of New York. On every side we are surrounded by producing mines, operating in ore bodies that run into and through our section, and from the reports of experts and engineers are actually richer and nearer the surface here than in any other place in the district. The formation consists of a blanket deposit of mineral of the richest quality, from 15 to 30 feet in thickness, lying at a depth of from 51 feet to 74 feet, thus making it very easy and inexpensive to mine.

Thousands of dollars were expended in drilling holes and sinking shafts to prove not only the existence in paying quantities of lead and zinc, but also the unusual richness of the ore. The drilling and shaft sinking have demonstrated a uniform bed of ore over the entire acreage of 15 to 30 feet in thickness, and found only 51 feet under the surface. The water is only sufficient to wash the ore while milling. This is an important point, as in many lead and zinc mines the superabundance of water is a very dangerous factor. The ore is found between well-defined flat beds of limestone, which allows of the ore being taken out without the use of any timbers whatever, pillars of ore being allowed to support the roof, which is thus permanently safe.

The Same Ore Body That Makes Others Rich

No other district can produce so many rich mines in so small an area as this portion of the Baxter Springs Camp. Look at the map and you will see how the Sunburst holdings are the very heart of this section. To the north are the Dark Horse, Isley, Tipton, Magnolia, all well-known properties. To the west are the Sunnyside (the oldest mill in camp), White Eagle, Indiana, Ayers and Sloan. To the south, the famous Hobo (the richest mine ever opened in the district, which was drifted to the south line of the Sunburst in extremely high-grade ore). The ore milled last week by the Hobo ran 10 per cent. In three months 500,000 pounds of rich ore was taken out by the Hobo. This mine is 125 feet from our property and is on the same ore bed. Shaft No. 3 is only 70 feet from the Hobo north drift, with the same bed of ore. This drifting shows this bed to run across the entire Sunburst property. Shaft No. 2 is 400 feet from the northeast drift of the Hobo and is into the same ore bed.

To the south are also the Omaha Mines and Mill and the Good Luck Mine, where the lead has proven to be so heavy. On these properties mills are erected and extremely rich ore extracted, making great returns for the owners.



MAP OF DISTRICT SHOWING SUNBURST MINE.

Property of Fabulous Wealth

HEMMED IN BY PRODUCING MINES

Thousands of dollars expended on shafts and development work show ore runs from 8 to 12 per cent—while a yield of 4 per cent. in Center Creek Mine has produced nearly $7,000,000

The increasing demand for lead and zinc is too obvious to need detailed statement. Both metals are in steady demand and at steadily advancing prices. The prices have gone up since 1899 from $21.12 per ton for lead and $26.61 for zinc to $42.00 for lead and $46.00 for zinc. The lead and zinc industry is now right at the front in the great commercial enterprises of the country. This southwestern district produces 80 per cent. of the zinc produced in the United States.

The earning capacity of the Sunburst's property, handling ore that averages from 8 to 15 per cent. can be estimated from the production of other companies. The Center Creek Mining Company, of Webb City, Mo., from an 80-acre tract, has taken out nearly $7,000,000 and is still producing.

The report for the year 1906 shows the following production during that year from the several properties mentioned:

	Acres.	Value.
American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co.	4000	$ 967,169.00
A. W. Taylor	120	160,758.00
J. W. Aylor	40	570,571.00
The Hurgner Mining Co.	80	126,579.00
Center Creek Mining Co. (production to date)	200	6,052,191.00
Mrs. E. J. Chinn	120	228,759.00
Majestic Consolidated Zinc & Lead Co.	52	134,490.00
Continental Zinc Co. (production to date)	200	1,579,503.00
Consolidated Troup Mining Co.	40	193,617.00
Daughtery-Davy-McMillan Estate	80	466,096.00
The Empire Zinc Co.	411	120,312.00
Fox Heirs	20	120,124.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1905		1,761,631.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1904		1,075,650.00
John G. Guinn	640	87,207.00
Pittsburg-Joplin Lead & Zinc Co.	10	30,000.00
Pittsburg-Missouri Zinc & Lead Co.	170	413,701.00
United Zinc Co.	185	399,276.00

From these figures it can be seen readily how such large dividends are paid. The Dinger Co. pays 120 per cent., the Chapman 130 per cent., the Omega 117 per cent., and many others yield enormous returns.

SHAFT NO. THREE.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF PROPERTY.

These profits are possible because of the concentrated richness of the ore, the fact that it is near the surface, that it requires no expensive machinery, that the buyers come to the mine and take the product right from the bins, that the climate is favorable, that the market is advancing, and the owners of the mine get steadily improving values for their ore produced. This is why lead and zinc mining is the safest and most profitable investment in the world today. Do you want 100 per cent. or more on your money?

ADVANCE IN PRICE

On account of the additional holdings, which are of great intrinsic value, as well as the remarkable proof of richness afforded by the development work already begun, the price of Sunburst stock will not remain long at the present figure.

Every step forward in the workings of the company is attracting wide attention, and is justifying the most liberal expectations.

As this work goes on Sunburst stock is bound to increase in value, as it is bound to be a mighty source of profit. The public demand because of the public confidence in this great property has already absorbed thousands of shares and has steadily advanced the price, but this advance will be small in comparison to what is coming.

The shrewd investor will realize this opportunity now, and will buy before the next big advance.

Buy now and share pro rata in the demonstrated profits of this enterprise. Make your reservation for as many shares as you may desire at the present price, remit 10 per cent. of the full price for the block and send us the balance in nine monthly payments. Upon the completion of your payments your certificate will be sent you for the desired number of shares, fully paid and non-assessable, no matter how much the price of stock may have advanced during that time.

You will thus become a stockholder in this company on equal terms with all the other stockholders, and by payments so small as to be hardly noticed.

The tremendous advantage to the small investor through this plan of payment must be apparent at a glance. By subscribing, for instance, $50.00 now and remitting only $5.00, you will obtain the whole block subscribed for at the present low price, and receive the full advantage of every advance on the whole $50.00 worth, although your first payment is but $5.00.

You really invest $5.00 and get all the benefit of an investment of $50.00. Could anything be fairer?

In order to secure the benefit of this offer it will be necessary for you to make your reservation at once, with the understanding that you will be entirely free to withdraw it if further investigation fails to convince you of the merits of the stock.

The officers of this company, who have the handling of your money, the conduct of the mine, and paying of dividends, are stockholders like any other.

What is more, they are well-known and successful business men. Look them up. Investigate their standing, their acumen, their integrity.

This is a business proposition. Here are business men conducting it. They invite your investigation.

Why Stock is Now Offered at 8c a Share

This issue of fully paid and non-assessable stock is for the purpose of procuring immediate funds to build a concentrating mill, equip the plant with hoisting machinery, and continue development work and put day and night shifts to work—in a word, to apply to this immensely rich property the same development that is resulting everywhere around us in paying great dividends and enormously enhancing the value of the property. Have you ever heard of a failure in a true lead and zinc mine? Have you not heard on the contrary of the fortunes taken out right in this district, not by one, but practically by all mining plants in the last few years? Have you ever had the opportunity to get in on the ground floor of such an investment? At this price the immense profits simply depend on this: Are the facts such as we have stated? Now, this we prove in detail—we will even arrange to take you to the mine—we refer you to any of the reports on this property—to bankers—to engineers—to the evidence of surrounding properties; we lay the proposition before your common judgment, with the full appreciation that you owe it to yourself to investigate this simply as an investment in a commercial enterprise.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

In compliance with the request of the officers and stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., a detailed examination of the property was made October 1, 1906, by M. S. Parker, the well-known mining engineer and member American Society C. E. Extracts from Mr. Parker's report follow:

The Sunburst Mine is located in the southeast corner of Section 29, Township 29, Range 24, east of the Indian Meridian, in the Quapaw Reserve, Indian Territory. It is joined on the south by half its width by the famous Hobo Mine, which produces the richest lead and zinc ore of any mine in the district thus far developed, and prospect drill holes and shafts north of the Hobo, on the Sunburst, show the same grade of ore, and at the same depth and of the same thickness.

The Omaha Mine, which is now successfully operating a new 150-ton mill, also adjoins the Sunburst on the south, and have drilled along their north boundary, striking the same body of ore as developed by prospecting over the line on the Sunburst.

The Hobo and Omaha Mines on the south have been prospected along the line of the Sunburst by drill holes and the present working shafts and drifts, which verifies the results of the prospecting done on the Sunburst Mine, north of the south boundary of the Sunburst.

FORMATION.

This mine comes under the blanket formation class. Out of the last eleven holes drilled, only two holes were barren of lead or zinc ore, most of them showing lead and zinc ore in paying quantities, while some of the holes drilled showed very rich deposits of lead and zinc.

One of the drill holes on the Hobo Mine showed very rich cuttings; within a foot of this hole was a blank spot 50 feet in diameter. The shaft of the Hobo Mine was sunk within 8 feet of a drill hole showing a very rich zinc ore, and went down through such a spot—no zinc ore being encountered—within a foot of the shaft walls very rich zinc and lead ore was found.

The thickness of the ore body, as shown by the drill holes, is from 15 to 30 feet. Ore is struck in shaft No. 2 at 57 feet depth, and the shaft is still in the ore at 76 feet. The drill cuttings at this shaft showed ore down to 91 feet depth. From all the drill holes this depth, viz., 91 feet appears to be the floor or bottom of the ore body, and is very uniform. The roof, however, varies in depth from the surface, 57 feet being the nearest it comes to the surface, while at places it is shown to drop down to 80 feet in depth, but the average depth to roof is very close to 66 feet. This would indicate an average thickness of the ore body of about 25 feet.

Three shafts have been sunk. No 1 shaft, 5 1-2 by 8 feet, is down 82 feet, well timbered, and has good shafthouse and derrick. From this shaft prospect drifts have been driven, in all about 300 linear feet, mostly in lead-bearing ground. A small office building is near this shaft.

Shaft No. 2, 5 1-2 by 5 1-2 by 80 feet, well timbered, with shafthouse, derrick and boilerhouse in good repair. From this shaft a drift is driven north 70 feet, then west 50 feet. Head of west drift is in good ore. The face of this drift is in zinc ore, while the bottom is in rich lead ore. This shaft should go down to 90 feet depth. This will give a 70-foot face of ore.

Shaft No. 3, 5 1-2 by 5 1-2 by 75 feet, well timbered—a first-class shaft. No buildings on it. A short drift is running south in good zinc ore. The bottom of this shaft is in good lead ore. These three shafts, with 18 drill holes, constitute the present development of the mine.

The Sunburst is located within four miles of the Frisco Railway, Baxter and Quapaw stations being about equally distant from the mine. A road is projected from Baxter to Miami that will run within a quarter of a mile of the mine. This road is to be a freight and passenger electric road for the accommodation of the mines. Baxter Springs business men have subscribed $25,000 toward the building of this line, and every assurance is given that the road will soon be constructed. This will make transportation of fuel and mine products materially cheaper than at present, although the cost under present conditions is not heavy.

It is needless to say that work at the Sunburst can be carried on the year round, the climate in this section being so mild in winter that very little trouble is experienced in mining operations in the Quapaw Reserve.

Summing up the points in this report, I will say that you have a first-class lead and zinc property. Rarely will one find a tract of ground so universally mineralized as the Sunburst Mine. If you follow the recommendations I have made regarding development, I feel assured you will reap your reward in good dividends. Trusting that this report will meet with the approval of the President and Stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., I subscribe myself,

Very respectfully yours,
M. S. PARKER.

Press Reports Rich Strike by Sunburst Mining Comp

From the Baxter Springs News, of November 8, 1906.

One of the richest strikes made in the Baxter Springs mining camp, south of this city, for some time past, was that made by the Sunburst Mining Co., operating on one of their properties just east of the Sunnyside and north of the Hobo. The Sunburst Co. have three shafts in ore, with a large amount of drifting done, and this strike was made in No. 3 shaft, and apparently in the Hobo run of ore, which has always been considered one of the very best in the Quapaw reservation. The farther this run of ore is developed the richer it is showing.

The Sunburst Mining Co. also has made a very important deal the past week by purchasing from the Great Northern Mining Company 320 acres of leased ore mile east of the Johanna, is se than one mile southeast of the new rich strike made by the Irish Maid, and about two miles west of Monkey Hill, where the most famous lead strike was made ever encountered anywhere in the southwest. The Monkey Hill strike showed as much as 7½ inches of solid lead of the very highest grade. The Great Northern, which is one of the largest holders of the best leases in this camp, made this sale the past week.

The purchase of this large tract of land by the Sunburst crowd means important developments in that section in addition to those already made, and, following on the heels of the rich lead strike made on the Charley Bluejacket land to the north of the tract and its purchase by a syndicate of Minnesota iron men, will cause an unusual amount of activity in that part of the camp.

The Sunburst Mining Co. will also start drifting their No. 1 shaft on the tract east of the Sunnyside to encounter the rich strike made to the north of it in the Isley mine. The Isley has encountered ore which will undoubtedly yield all the way from 25 per cent. to 90 per cent. The strike was made near the north line of the Sunburst tract.

THE WILD BALSAM APPLE.

Its Seed Holders Are Suggestive of Lace Purses.

In the brooks of autumn in certain places many little lacelike bags may be seen drifting along with the current or stranded by the shore. They are the inner coats or bodies of the wild balsam apples (Echinocystis lobata) which have dropped from the vines overhanging the stream and now float lightly away with their large seeds.

The green prickly bag of the balsam apple itself began to form in late summer, and by autumn it has withered and faded to a pale straw color. We may see the trailing vines with their shrunken pods decorating the brookside bushes far into the winter. The outer coat of the pod gradually rots away, and the inner bag or seed carrier is now released and exposed as a delicate, webby network of tough fibers. A thin skin or membrane fills up the space between these meshes, but that also falls away through the action of water and the winter storms until only the ball-like tissue of the "purse" is left. These little purses, being extremely light and buoyant, float far and wide over the submerged swamp lands in late autumn, carrying the seeds with them and so planting the vine in new situations. If, however, we take these seeds home with us and plant them there, Mother Earth will suitably reward us in the following year with vines of our own. They will spring up and spread rapidly until all the stone walls and garden fences are decorated with the tracery of their stems and star shaped leaves.

GOLD AND THE SEA.

Why the Metal Is Shipped In Bars Rather Than In Coin.

"When the banks ship gold across the Atlantic," said a banker, "they prefer to ship it in bars rather than in coin. It loses less that way."

"It loses less?"

"Yes, sir. If $1,000,000 in gold coins is shipped across the sea it is only $999,000 on its arrival. It loses from twelve to fifteen ounces, about $200, through abrasion, through knocking about with the motion of the waves. The sea makes gold lose weight, you see, the same as it does human beings. Gold bars lose less. In fine weather they will only lose about $100 to each million. In the ugliest weather they don't lose over $150, whereas in like conditions gold coins have been known to lose $300. As gold shipments of $10,000,000 often occur, to make these shipments in gold bars instead of gold coin is a saving of $1,000 or more. It is odd to think when you cross in one of those gold laden ships that every wave that hits the boat clips off 10 to 15 cents from its golden cargo."

Cruel, but Necessary.

The Eskimos dread the winter and take early precautions to provide against famine. As the season approaches the great herds of reindeer migrate southward, and the walrus or the seal are all that remain for food. Where an arctic is blowing the walrus is easily found on the outer edge of the ice packs. When it is blowing off the shore, however, the ice packs sail out to sea with the walruses on them. The natives then class their numbers in a list from the strongest to the weakest. The food that is in store is divided up, the weakest having the smallest quantity, the strongest the largest. Thus the mightiest hunters have strength to provide for the others. It is a cruel system, but nevertheless a necessary one. If all were weak, all would die; if some are strong, they will save many of the weak.

The Largest Pipe.

What is described as the largest pipe in the world is valued at $8,000 and is counted as one of the most remarkable pieces of carving in existence. The pipe is made of one solid piece of meerschaum and represents the landing of Columbus. There are twenty-four figures in the scene, each one four inches high. The carver who executed this masterpiece is dead, and, as the demand for this sort of work has nearly died out, it is practically impossible to find a man to duplicate it.—London Telegraph.

Mouth Ulcers.

Little ulcers that appear in the mouth from time to time are exceedingly annoying and painful. An old fashioned household remedy is alum, the powder or crystals being applied to the yellow center. But this is a bitter, nasty dose. A physician has prescribed the use of a saturated solution of potassium chlorate, applied every two hours. "Saturated solution" means as much potassium chlorate as can be dissolved in a certain amount of water.

Lepers and the Law.

The Norman-English laws enacted that a leper had neither power to sue in any court nor to inherit property. During his lifetime he was permitted to enjoy the usufruct of any property in his possession at the time he was "found guilty," so to speak, of leprosy, but all rights of disposition over it be lost.

A Stupid Lady Beautiful.

I once showed an old lady much given to good works of the Lady Bountiful order how some proteges of hers who were constantly on the verge of starvation might be placed in possession of a small but regular and sufficient income. I like them to come to me when they are in difficulties and ask for what they want." — "Rich and Poor," by Mrs. Besanquet.

ROSAMOND CHIEF GOLD MINING CO.,

Gentlemen: I have made a special examination of the property of your company, and I find this property a valuable one, consisting of four claims, namely, the Mary Anna, Maggie, Alice, and Little Gem. All four have valuable ledges with average assay value of $20.25 per ton. This average is taken from the surface to a depth of 10 feet. I am satisfied it will do a great deal better with depth and as developing continues.

BIG ENGINEERING FEAT.

Water to Be Transported 225 Miles to the Western Gold Region At a Cost of Fourteen Million Dollars.

It is expected that the next few years will witness the development of the most remarkable system of water carrying in Western Australia that has ever been seen. The plan is to repeat, again and again, the successful engineering work that is now supplying the great gold mining region of Coolgardie, far out in the desert of the interior, with plenty of water brought from the coast mountains, 325 miles away.

The Western Australia desert contains perhaps the largest waterless regions in the world. When David W. Carnegie made his second journey across it, several years ago, he traveled 800 miles without finding anything that suggested a permanent source of water. For many days he saw nothing but prickly spinifex covering the sand ridges, which were 40 to 50 feet in height, and extended east and west, parallel with one another. He wrote that he crossed more than 80 of these sand ridges in eight hours' travel.

Great Thirst Region.

But under repellant sands lie the great gold resources of Western Australia that are now supplying more of the metal every year than all the rest of the Commonwealth. When the rush of miners to this great thirst region began, the eager search and the frantic strife for water were sometimes tragical.

The Government sought for underground sources of supply, but most of this water was found to be so impregnated with salts that it was unfit for use. Engineers finally devised a plan of water delivery from the western coast mountains, about twenty miles to the south of Perth, which involved the largest pumping scheme that has yet been carried into operation in any part of the world.

The works were completed only two years ago, and they are attracting all the more attention because the population that is paying $14,000,000 for them is still small.

The amount of rainfall in the basin of the Helena river, which flows through the Canning Hills south of Perth, is about thirty inches a year. It was found that by impounding the river a supply of 5,000,000 gallons a day would be available for transportation into the interior.

Pipe On Surface.

The problem was to transport this water a distance of 350 miles, for it was proposed to extend the aqueduct to the Kalgoorlie diggings, east of Coolgardie, and this has been done. Mundaring, the place where the Helena River was dammed, is only about thirty feet above the sea, but the surface of the desert to which the water was to be carried is about 1,600 feet above sea level, so the water was not only to be transported as far as from New York city to Lake Erie, but to be lifted during the process about 1,300 feet.

The water which collects back of the dam in the Helena River forms a fine lake seven miles in length. The big delivery pipe that carries the water is not buried in the soil, but lies on the surface or in open trenches, for there is no danger of freezing.

There are eight pumping stations, a little more than forty miles apart, and the water is kept moving up the long but very gentle incline. It finally reaches a reservoir many miles west of Coolgardie, and from this point a distribution takes it to the 40,000 inhabitants of the Coolgardie mining camps and to the Kalgoorlie region beyond.

Mr. Keir Hardie, M.P.

Mr. Keir Hardie, M. P., who has just publicly celebrated his jubilee, has had a harder life than most of the parliamentary confreres. His wage-earning career commenced just after his seventh birthday, says M. A. P., when for the weekly salary of three shillings he became errand boy to the Glasgow branch of the Anchor Line Shipping Co. At eight years of age he assisted a lithographer at a weekly remuneration of four shillings, and at nine he became a "trapper" in a coal mine, working his way gradually until he became a full-fledged miner at fifteen shillings a week. His working in the mines, scarcely seeing daylight, save on Sunday, until his twenty-fourth year, when he was elected Secretary to the Miners' Union. With this appointment began his political birth, and his progress is now modern history. His unconventional views have earned for him the nicknames of "Queer Hardie" and "Don't Keir Hardie." His unparliamentary garb occasionally gets him into amusing situations. It is only a few weeks since a constable in the House took him for a plumber, and in Belgium not many years ago, despite his particularly Scottish face, he was arrested as a confederate of Rubini, the Anarchist, and "all the King's horses and all the King's men" had to be moved before his release was secured. Quite recently he surprised the House by invading its sacred precincts in sandals. Such a thing had never been known, and many of the constables on duty were uncertain whether they ought to have barred his entrance.

Club For Sweethearts.

"Eligible" clubs are booming, for despite the criticism that the original club at Hampstead has aroused, the "eligibles" of Brixton are to have a club in which they will be well looked after in the Brixton Parish Institute.

"One of my principal objects in starting the club," said its founder, the Rev. A. J. Waldron, the Vicar of Brixton, "is to give the younger men a comfortable place where they can bring their girl friends.

"Now there is over an acre of beautiful laid-out garden attached to the club where they can walk and sit in the summer, and where we shall organise garden-parties, and every Sunday evening the recreation rooms of the club will be at the disposal of the members and their sweethearts."

The entrance fee is half a crown, and the annual subscription, payable quarterly or yearly, fifteen shillings.

The Real Boss.

"Do you mind the noise of the shop much?"

"No, I don't, but I haven't heard from the inner man yet."

Judge Clement of B. C.

Mr. W. H. P. Clement, who has recently been made Justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, has won for himself a reputation as a jurist and as a historian. Born at Vienna, Ont., in 1858, and educated at Upper Canada College and Toronto University, he obtained his LL.B. degree in 1881, and practiced for seven years as a member of the firm of McCarthy, Osler, Hoskin and Creelman. Then for a number of years he was head of the firm of Clement & Spence, and was recognised as one of the most successful members of the junior Bar in Toronto. In 1894 Mr. Clement went west, and drifted to the Yukon, where he engaged in mining. A short time at that occupation sufficed, and a few years later the young lawyer was down south again working up a fine practice in Nelson. This he retained until elevated to the Bench.

While in Toronto Mr. Clement contributed numerous articles on constitutional subjects to The Week, and also published his "Law of the Canadian Constitution," a work which has been recognised as standard. In 1897 his "History of Canada" won the prize offered by the educational authorities of the various provinces for a school history of the Dominion. It has since been authorised for use in the higher grades by most of the Provincial Education Boards.

Women Doctor With Title.

A daughter of the late Lord Abinger has just left London, Eng., for the Far West of Canada, where she purposes to establish herself as a doctor and surgeon. The Hon. Ella Scarlett married, while attending the wounded in the South African war, a Mr. Synge.

Mrs. Synge has the most extraordinary pluck. She has gone to Canada with very little money, leaving her husband, to whom she is devoted, to live with his mother. She is armed with letters of introduction, and is determined to obtain a large practice, so that her husband can follow her out there later.

Mrs. Synge is a fully qualified M.D., besides being a first-class surgeon. She was at one time physician to the Empress of Corea. The London hospital authorities think very highly of her, but the woman doctor in London has a very small chance nowadays.

Dividing a Journey.

An Englishman was sent out on a journey to take a parcel to a place about twelve miles from Maldon, Essex, a little town near the coast. As he started rather late in the day his master was surprised to see him back soon after dark. "You surely haven't been there and back," his employer said to him. "No, no, master," the man replied; "I got halfway there, and it began to git dark, so I com'd back ag'in. I'll goo t'other half termorrer."

A complete Atlantic cable costs about £600,000.

Didn't Need to Tell.

"Bobbie, I hope you didn't tell your mother that you saw me kissing sister last night."

"Nope. I didn't have to. Sis winked us all up at midnight when you went home and told it herself."

Every day comes the good news of wonderful cures with Ferrozone.

In Peterborough it worked marvels for Louis Meehan—put him right on his feet—made him entirely well.

"About three years ago" says Mr. Meehan, "I had the Grippe which left me in a very run-down condition that finally developed into Dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things and had a craving for cold. I gave up trusting with the doctors because they did not help me and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozone. It not only cured me of Dyspepsia and Biliousness, but has built up my strength to what it was before I had the Grippe. I can recommend Ferrozone as an ideal restorative."

Ferrozone gives you force, energy, vim.

It strengthens the stomach cures indigestion, prevents headaches—guarantees good health.

Thousands use Ferrozone—they all improve—get better health—look better—feel better; try it yourself—sold in 50c boxes by all druggists.

The dinner given in the National Hotel, Friday night in honor of that day being the 80th anniversary of Mr. John Brinton's birth was most successful. Mr. G. P. Peers, manager of the Peterborough branch of the great Brinton Carpet Works, proposed the health of the venerable and world-wide known head of the firm. A congratulatory cablegram was despatched to Mr. Brinton. Mr. Cecil Brinton, on behalf of his father, returned thanks to the staff.

A North County Farmers' Institute

As is generally known there are farmers' institutes in both the east and west ridings of this county, but the farmers of the northern portion of this large county are making arrangements to inaugurate a similar institution in their section. Reeve Hales, of Chandos, has been advocating this matter for some time and along with the municipal representatives of the other northern townships have presented their case to Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., who will lay the matter before the proper authorities. A deputation consisting of the reeves of the northern townships, will shortly go to Toronto to interview Mr. C. N. Putman, superintendent of farmers' institutes for Ontario. It is proposed that the new institute would take in the townships of Methuen, Cavendish, Anstruther, Galway, Burleigh, Belmont, Chandos, Harvey, and probably a part of Haliburton county.

Aid Asked re Smallpox Expenses

A deputation composed of Reeve Hales, of Chandos, Reeve Thompson, of Havelock, Reeve Booth of Burleigh and Anstruther, and Reeve Johnston, of Belmont and Methuen, waited upon Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., on Saturday, and asked him to present to the Ontario Government a request for assistance in helping the townships of Chandos, Belmont and Methuen, Burleigh and Anstruther to pay a portion of the expenses in connection with the outbreak of smallpox in these municipalities last year.

They pointed out that the cost to stamp out the disease was very heavy on the townships, Chandos expending about $1000, Burleigh and Anstruther $1600, and Belmont and Methuen $400.

Mr. Bradburn promised to present their petition to the Government and see if some relief could not be afforded them as asked.

Mr. Guerin Was Not Paid

Mr. Tenisse Guerin noted to a Times' representative on Saturday afternoon that he has not yet received his pay from the Ontario Government Fisheries for his work of last spring. It seems that some error or omission was involved in his appointment, his name not being entered in the Government books. It will be remembered that Mr. Guerin was a good public servant, and made several important seizures of nets, fish, etc. We understand, however that steps are being taken that will lead shortly to Mr. Guerin obtaining the two months' wages he earned by night and day work.

Local Option at Midland

The Midland Free Press commenting on the fact that local option has been carried there, intimates that the hotelkeepers in retaliation are threatening to make things uncomfortable for the farmers, whose votes helped the act to carry by a majority of two to one. If the sale of liquor at Midland had been controlled and regulated as is now being done in Peterborough, Midland would neither have wanted or voted for local option. If the hotelmen forced the issue by non-observance of the law, they had themselves to blame.

Whole County Pays House of Refuge

As noted in our report of the House of Refuge, opening last week, there was then some doubt as to whether the various municipalities should be charged so much per head for all inmates sent from such townships or whether the cost of maintenance should be met by a general county tax. During the Saturday session of the county council, the more broad-minded modus operandi was adopted.

The bylaw making the change was as follows;

A bylaw to amend the bylaw providing rules and regulations for the House of Refuge;

Passed, January 25, 1907.

Whereas it is desirable to amend Bylaw No. 904, passed 1st December, 1906, being a "bylaw to establish and provide rules and regulations for the government of the House of Refuge for the County of Peterborough.

Therefore, the Corporation of the County of Peterborough, by the Council thereof, hereby enacts as follows;

That Paragraph No. 6 of Bylaw No. 904 of the County of Peterborough, providing for payment by each municipality towards the maintenance of persons sent to the House of Refuge from such municipality be, and is hereby, rescinded.

County Clerk.

Local Hockey Team Again Victorious

The Peterborough hockey team journeyed to Toronto on Saturday to play a senior O.H.A. game with the Argos in the Mutual street rink, on Saturday night. It was a hard-fought game, and while not of thriller variety, was one of the most stubbornly fought games played in the Queen City this season. The game was clean, only two men being penalized by the arbitrator, and these for minor offences and Referee Elliott had a comparatively easy time. The first half closed in favor of Peterborough 2—0.

The second half opened up with the Argos on a rapid combination getting the puck past Laing for their first score, and after a couple of minutes more play succeeded in tallying again, this goal being credited to Whitcroft carrying the puck around the net, and making the score a tie, 2—2. The prettiest play of the evening was then put up by the homesters and they scored a goal in 14 secs., breaking the tie, and in a few minutes more banged the rubber into the tartans for another score, and thus winning the game by 4—2.

Morrow and Cochrane were the bright shining stars for the scullers, while Wallie Glover of the locals put up one of the best games of lacrosse, Laing, in the nets, played a good game, and stopped some hot ones. The locals lined up as follows:

Goal—Laing.
Point—Glover.
Cover-point—Crowley.
Centre—Morgan.
Rover—Whitcroft.
Left Wing—Moore.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

[redacted] that this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Presentation to Reeve of Emily

A pleasant function was that enacted recently, when at his residence, Mr. W. Lowes, the popular reeve of Emily township was waited upon by a number of his friends, who presented him with a handsome Morris chair and the following address;

To Mr. Wm. Lowes, Reeve;

Dear Mr. Lowes,—We, some of your supporters, take this opportunity to express in a few words to you our sincere pleasure over your being raised to the high dignity of the Reeveship in the township of Emily. We assure you it was a great source of delight to us all when the report of the election stated that you were easily the successful candidate. We feel confident that no other man could fulfill the duties which you are about to perform in a more careful and prudent manner than will be exercised by you.

As a token of our esteem and gratitude toward you we ask you to accept this chair and trust that you will be preserved to not alone serve this Year, as our Councillor, but you may enjoy many such years bearing the same title. Signed on behalf of our supporters of Frank Hill.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Council in Session and Com. of Whole

Deputation From Industrial Exhibition Association re Grant---Petition to Legislature Signed and Sealed---Bylaw Defining Duties of Sanitary Inspector Passed.

The City Council met last night in special session, when there were present, his Worship Mayor R. F. McWilliams, presiding, and Aldermen Johnston, Tovey, Elliott, Bradburn, Ball, Duncan, Leary, Wilson, Morrow, Phelan and McIntyre.

A number of communications were read and referred to their respective committees.

SIDEWALK WANTED.

Mr. Porter asked the council for a granolithic walk at his property on Bethune and King streets. This matter will be taken up by the Board of Works at the first opportunity.

INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION.

A deputation from the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition waited upon the council, seeking the city's co-operation in placing Peterborough's exhibition on a permanent and substantial basis.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy urged that Peterborough's reputation was suffering from widespread reports that this city could not offer a good up-to-date show, and asked for a substantial grant from the council to aid in booming the show next year. A peculiar feature in this connection is that the association last year paid out in prizes as much as Norwood, Millbrook and Lindsay combined.

Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., another member of the deputation, endorsed Mr. Kennedy and added that Peterborough citizens themselves should speak well of and boom the show, which they have not done in previous years. A good exhibition must of necessity be a good help to the city. Mr. Turner spoke exceedingly well of the new officers appointed, in whom every member of the association had utmost confidence.

Mr. Samuel Redman also hoped that the council would make a substantial grant this year.

His Worship expressed his sympathy with the [illegible] and assured the deputation that their petition would have the council's most earnest consideration in committee of the whole.

SPECIAL LEGISLATION.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey,—That the Mayor and clerk sign and seal petitions to the Legislature of Ontario and to the Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, now submitted to the council, asking for legislation by laws,—Nos. 1215, 1221, 1223, 1269, 1270, 1271, 1272, 1228 and 1234; and to authorise the council to pass a by-law to aid the Rapid Tool Co., and that they be forwarded by the city solicitor; and also that the treasurer issue a cheque for one hundred dollars to the city solicitor to be forwarded to the clerk of the Legislative Assembly, as required by the rules of the Assembly.—Carried.

CHEAP POWER.

Messrs. Meldrum and R. R. Hall, M.P., waited upon the council with a draft agreement as to terms upon which the Otonabee Power Co. shall supply 500 electrical horse power to the city for manufacturing purposes in event of said company securing the lease of No. 4 dam from the Dominion Government. This is with a view to the council recommending the Government to lease No. 4 dam to the Otonabee Power Co., on such terms as shall assure a supply of cheaper power. This matter was referred to a special committee.

TIME FOR DEPUTATIONS.

Ald. Morrow moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan,—That in future nine o'clock be the hour for council to hear deputations.—Carried.

Committee of the Whole

The city fathers met in Committee of the Whole last night, when there were present, the mayor and aldermen Leary, Phelan, Bradburn, Morrow, Tovey, Duncan, McIntyre, Ball, Elliott and Johnston.

SANITARY.

A bylaw defining the duties of the sanitary inspector was read and approved of. The duties and salary are as published in a recent issue of The Times, with the exception of his acting as truant officer, which duty was cut out. His salary will be $700 a year and uniform.

It was thought that the sanitary inspector may not be able to look after the pollution of the Otonabee and lake waters above the water works, in which event an assistant will be provided to take up these duties. It was also hoped that the inspector would not be called upon very frequently to act as police constable.

APPLICATIONS FOR APPOINTMENTS.

The following applications are on hand;

For Sanitary Inspector—From Wm. Grey, Ald. Ball, A. E. Hutchenson, Stanley Rightmyre, Chas. Stenton, Jas. Crowe, R. H. Adams.

For Permanent Auditor—From J. A. Hall, F. E. Bell, T. Q. Quartermaine, Geo. K. Martin.

For Assessors—From Thos. B. McGrath, H. Thompson, Dawson Kennedy.

Ald. Johnston once more raised the question of appointing a permanent assessor, which he urged to be a crying need. We have always had the trouble of inequality in the assessment, which would be obviated in appointing a permanent man, who would have all year to revise the lists and thoroughly go into valuations. There is as much need for a permanent assessor as for a permanent clerk and treasurer.

Aldermen Elliott and Phelan argued that it was a live question whether two men's valuation was not more satisfactory than one. They both were satisfied with the results of last year's assessment, there being but very few appeals before the Court of Revision.

Ald. Ball offered that an assessor would never under any circumstances be popular. He did not think it a sign of incompetency for citizens to kick against their assessment. On the contrary, such objections invariably point to the fact that the assessor is doing his duty.

Apparently the council do not favor the appointment of a permanent of a permanent assessor.

These appointments will be made next Monday evening.

The committee here again took up the vexed question of deeding the School Board the long delayed site for a new Collegiate Institute, going over pretty much the same ground as last Monday.

Ald. Morrow produced copies of reports and agreements between the school and council on this question, the last document being an agreement by which the School Board should be deed lots three and four on the north-eastern section of what was the old Separate school ground. The School Board want to have the four northern lots deeded them, leaving them a free hand as to on which lots they shall build. The whole council are willing to deed them all these lots, providing they build on a line with the eastern boundary of the new armories, which will set sufficiently far back on the military authorities' southern section of these grounds eastward providing the Collegiate Institute is built with a view to the same ends. But his Worship and others of the council, seem [illegible] were a unit that the institute should be built on an eastern line with the armories. The School Board then declared that they would build only on lots three and four, and all hope of agreement was abandoned.

Ald. Morrow argued that the council entered last year into an agreement to deed the board lots three and four; then if council will not now consent to deed them five and six with a provision to build on two lots only, leaving it to their honor not to build so as to destroy the grounds, why let the council stick to the letter of their agreement as to three and four.

Ald. Leary urged that the Mayor was only acting in the city's interests by the stand he is taking; the trouble is the Board will not be dictated to.

Ald. Bradburn offered that he believed it would be better to put both buildings forward on lots three and four, leaving the paries ground at the back.

Ald. Leary said we don't want to see the park's beauty marred by sticking the building up in the middle of the northern available lots.

Considerable discussion here arose on the advisability of referring the question to a committee to confer with the School Board.

Ald. Dunoon moved, seconded by Ald. Leary, in amendment.—That a bylaw be prepared conveying lots three, four, five and six in Central Park to the School Board on condition that the building be erected on a line with eastern boundary of the new armories, and that property east of said line be left vacant.

Ald. Ball moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, in amendment to the amendment,—That the Mayor and Aldermen Leary, Elliott and Morrow be a committee to confer with the School Board.—Carried.

The committee then adjourned.

Dr. Bingham, M. H. O. Makes Annual Report

The first meeting for 1907 of the local Board of Health was held yesterday morning with the chairman in the chair. Among some of the unfinished business of last year discussed, were the isolation hospital and the appointment of a sanitary inspector.

The members present were confident that the city council will shortly take up the isolation hospital at an early date. It was unanimously decided that the inspector should be appointed.

Medical Health Officer Dr. Bingham presented his annual report as follows;

In presenting a brief annual report of the city during the year 1906, it is highly gratifying to be able to [illegible] during the year exceptionally free from any epidemic scourge of infectious diseases, only four cases of diphtheria and ten mild cases of scarlet fever were reported during the year. The number of deaths in the city during the last year was 248, but many of these were brought to the hospitals from outside municipalities and should not be reckoned in with the mortality; if, these are deducted it will leave Peterborough, with a fair average bill of mortality.

The following are the causes of the deaths which occurred in the city during the year:

To confirm an agreement with the Coutes Manufacturing Company, to authorize the council to purchase land for a firm of English carpet manufacturers; to acquire the plant of the Peterborough Light and Power Co., to transmit, use and dispose of electric power and energy; to issue debentures to pay for granolithic crossings; to constitute the Peterborough Water Commissioners a corporation, to enable the water commissioners to levy and collect a water rate upon all properties fronting on streets along which water mains are laid; to confirm the [illegible] the year which has passed;—Accident, old age, heart disease, croup, appendicities, pneumonia, cystites, tuberculosis, congestion of the lungs, Bright's disease, bronchitis, marasmus, diabetes, hemorrahage of the lungs, mania, anemia, convulsions, laragitis, apoplexy, epilepsy, meningitis, measles, inflammation of the bowels, cirrosis of the liver, cancer, paralysis, asthma, nephrites, cholera infantum, hemiplegia, diphtheria.

The hearty co-operation of the citizens of Peterborough with the board has done much to increase the sanitary condition of the city, nearly every one is now accepting the fact that the best protection against sickness is to be found in absolute cleanliness in the house, the cellar should be kept dry and clean and should at all times be kept strictly free from decaying animal or vegetable matter. Every room in the house should be filled daily with fresh air and if possible with plenty of sunlight, no rubbish heaps or decaying matter should be suffered to remain in back yards or any place near the dwelling house. All these rules are faithfully observed, together with others which will suggest themselves to all intelligent citizens, Peterborough with a thrifty and contented population will continue to rank high among the healthiest cities of the Dominion.

DR. BINGHAM,
Medical Health Officer.

Senator Ferguson Returns to Ottawa

As noted in Saturday's issue of The Times, Senator Ferguson, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., spent Sunday with his son, Mr. J. H. Ferguson, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia. This popular member of Canada's upper chamber, was greatly pleased with Peterborough, and remarked upon the many evidences of its prosperity.

Speaking of the Dominion affairs Senator Ferguson noted that there was a slight agitation in Prince Edward Island, in favor of seceding from confederation, but that it was not of a serious nature. He left yesterday for Ottawa.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weaknesses and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amounts of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

BRITAIN FEARFUL OF STATE TROUBLE

English Paper Prints a Long Leader on Coming Struggle in United States.

STATES ARE NOT UNITED

Constitution Must be Amended or Trouble Will Come Thinks the London Spectator.

London, January 28.—The question of States' rights in the United States is occupying the attention of European publicists, especially in connection with the San Francisco school incident. It is natural, perhaps, that European observers should regard the present form of the American Constitution as an anachronism in this respect. The Spectator, in a long leader today, gives much advice. Under the heading, "The coming struggle in the United States," it says:

BEGINNING OF STRUGGLE.

"The incident is the beginning of the struggle of a nation entering into self-conscious life to free itself from the fetters of particularism, which a constitution more than a century old has riveted upon it. Splendid instrument of government as is the United States Constitution from many points of view, it has certain demerits. It was framed to provide safeguards against dangers which long since disappeared and to encourage certain forces which today are more in need of control.

"The States are given wide autonomy; the nation is checked on every hand by ultra vires provisions. This was well enough so long as the States were little countries by themselves, cut off by economic and social gulfs from each other, but now that there are common problems and common perils throughout the whole Union, to arm localities with obstructive powers is to play into the hands of reaction and dishonesty and to make any serious national policy impossible. "The people in America have, scarcely as yet grasped the whole meaning of nationality. The spirit wakes in them with magnificent fire and energy at a crisis, but they go back to their daily work and forget about it."

PREDICTS GENERAL AMENDMENT.

The Spectator recognizes the difficulty and [illegible] of carrying through three-fourths of the Legislatures all the amendments which the needs of modern times have made imperative, but argues that it should be feasible to pass a general amendment making amendments more easy.

Toronto Saving and Loan Coy's Success

The Toronto Savings & Loan Company, one of Canada's leading financial institutions, held their annual shareholder's meeting at the Head Offices of the Company, 47 George street, Peterborough, on Friday last, with the President, Hon. Senator Geo. A. Cox, in the chair, and Mr W. G. Morrow, Managing Director, acting as temporary secretary.

The most important function of this meeting was, of course, the submitting and consideration of the Directors' 22nd Annual Report for last year. This report was most encouraging to the shareholders, directorate and depositors, showing that not only are the assets of the company of the highest and most conservative character, but that, after deducting payment of interest on deposits and debentures, expenses in connection with money borrowed and loaned, as well as all expenses of management, there remained a net profit of $44,287.82. To this very satisfactory net profits there is to be added $27,531.78 carried forward from the previous year; this makes the handsome sum of $116,739.79 for distribution among the shareholders. This amount was utilized by paying four quarterly dividends of 1 1-2 per cent., or an annual dividend of 6 per cent., amounting to $60,000. Under the proverbial caution of the company, $30,000 was added to the reserve fund, and $26,739.79 carried to profit and loss account. The reserve fund of the company now amounts to 58 per cent. of the present paid-up capital. A glance at the annual statement of the Toronto Savings & Loan Company, given in detail in this issue, demonstrates clearly that this company is one of the best managed and safest in the Dominion.

It is of special local interest to note that the President, Hon. G. A. Cox, and the Managing Director, Mr. W. G. Morrow are both gentlemen with large interests in Peterborough, and take great interest in the upbuilding and progress of our city. The directors re-elected, with the exception of Mr. LeFevre, of Lakefield, are all residents of this city and men who have taken a great part in making Peterborough the progressive center it now is.

Toronto Judgement of Local Interest

A judgment recently delivered in Toronto, of local interest, was as follows;

McGaw vs. Nichols.—E. G. Carter, Belleville, for plaintiff, appealed from judgment of MacMahon, J., dated 13th November, 1906. The plaintiff is a horse and cattle dealer residing at Harcroft, in the county of Hastings. The defendant is a horse-dealer carrying on business at Lakefield. In June 1906, plaintiff purchased from defendant the stallion "City Kenwick" for $265. By a written agreement defendant was to have the use of the stallion until the 15th July following, and to deliver the same at Lakefield where plaintiff was to call for it. After 16th July plaintiff was to be responsible for all expenses of keep. The plaintiff alleges that the horse was not delivered on the date agreed upon. The defendant alleges that it was. On the 16th July the horse died. Plaintiff sued for $500 damages. The action was tried at Peterborough and dismissed with costs. O. A. Langley, Lakefield, and H. S. White, for defendant, opposed appeal. Appeal dismissed with costs.

Mr. Dan Foley Has Passed Away

The many friends of Mr. Daniel Foley, for some time on the Oxford Hotel staff, learned yesterday of his death during the morning with deep regret.

It seems that whilst Mr. Foley has not been in robust health for some time his death was not anticipated at so premature an age.

Mr Foley on Saturday had the misfortune to slip and fall hitting his head violently as he fell. This, however, was not the immediate cause of his decease yesterday morning, it being attributed to heart failure. The late Mr. Foley who was 41 years old leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, and fuller particulars of his death will be given tomorrow.

Mr. David McGregor's Funeral Today

Mr. David McGregor, who passed away at his home, 139 Douro street, last ward, on Saturday evening, will be laid to rest this afternoon, the funeral being at 3.00 to the Little Lake cemetery.

The late Mr. McGregor, who was well known in the city, was born in Scotland, seventy years ago, and came to this country when quite young. For a great many years he conducted a cooper shop at Ashburnham, but for many years he has lived a retired life.

In religion deceased was a Methodist and in politics a Liberal.

A wife, four daughters and two sons are left to mourn his loss. The sons are Messrs. David and Wm. of this city.

They Ate Big Fat Tom Cats

Toledo, O., January 28.—Pig, fat tom cats, served as sausenpfeffer, constituted the unusual dish served up by Harry Sleuter of Ottawville as sweet revenge on a bunch of practical jokers. The night before Christmas Sleuter purchased three fine rabbits and hung them in his barn. Some practical jokers stole the rabbits, made them into hassenpfeffer and invited Sleuter to partake of the midnight feast. Sleuter did so, and after the feast he was informed what he had eaten. He went without Christmas dinner, but laid plans for revenge. The practical jokers were invited to a feast by Sleuter, who said he was simply making good the joke played upon him. After his fourteen guests had stowed away the last vestige of the feast, Sleuter walked to the door of the saloon and told his guests that they had eaten three nice tom cats whose tails had been so shaven down as to resemble the caudal appendage of a fat hare.

Mrs. Chas. Peters Has Passed Away

Mrs. Charles Peters passed away at an early hour yesterday morning at the age of 39 years. The deceased is the wife of Mr. Charles Peters, sergeant-Major of the 57th Regiment band. Her untimely death is particularly sad, as she leaves her bereaved husband in charge of a family of young boys. As yet no funeral arrangements have been completed.

A New Electric Lamp

New York, January 28.—A new electric light, for which it is said that it contains features that will revolutionize electric lighting, has been invented by Professor H. C. Parker, of Columbia University, working in connection with W. G. Clark. The new light is said to have an efficiency forty-five higher than that of the ordinary lamp with a carbon filament. This is obtained by the use of a newly discovered filament, which the inventors call helium on account of the similarity of its spectrum with that of helium.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

To Get Thaw Free on Rigid Application of Law

Defence Say There Will be no Intervention of Higher Law---Eight Jurors Selected in Four Days.

New York, Jan. 29.—Charles D. Newton, a retired businessman, about 65 years old, was selected as Juror No. 8 in the Thaw trial yesterday. At 12.05 p.m., the court ordered recess till 2 p.m., on account of a break in the heating apparatus which made the court room too cold for comfort. A new panel of 100 jurors has been summoned to appear this morning.

New York, Jan. 29.—When the trial of Harry K. Thaw was resumed before Justice Fitzgerald yesterday there remained five jurors to be chosen from among the less than one hundred talesmen who remain to be examined. It is now generally conceded that the taking of evidence will not be possible before Wednesday.

Mrs. Evely Nesbit Thaw was in the court room early, arriving nearly half an hour before the morning session was scheduled to begin. She was accompanied by Miss May McKenzie, who remained her constant companion.

Miss McKenzie yesterday declared that there was absolutely no truth in the report that there had been differences in the Thaw family, and said it was especially untrue that any dissension had arisen over her presence in the court room.

The prisoner's wife carried a large black hand satchel in which were stored sandwiches and other viands for the midday luncheon which she and Miss McKenzie usually share in one of the court clerk's rooms.

Scarcely had Mrs. Evelyn Thaw, and her companion, entered when the other members of the prisoner's family arrived. His mother came first, and was followed by the Countess of Yarmouth, who has recovered from the severe cold she contracted last week, and Mrs. George L. Carnegie. It was decidedly chilly in the court room yesterday, and none of the ladies in the Thaw party removed their heavy wraps for some time. When they did so it was seen that they were [illegible] less wore a plain cloth suit of dark green. Mrs. Carnegie was again in dark brown.

The party was seated in two rows of chairs, just back of where Harry Thaw sits. Mrs. Thaw and her daughters greeted the prisoner's wife with the usual bows and nods of the heads. The family presented a united front.

When the defendant was called to court he appeared on the instant and evidently had been waiting close to the door leading from the prisoners' pen.

As he passed the family group he was greeted with smiles by every member of it. He smiled broadly and then gave a quick glance at the reporters working at two long tables. It seemed as though he wanted them to see that all was harmony in the family.

It is said the prisoner was resentful Sunday when he read so much in the Sunday papers about a reported break in the relations between his wife and his mother and sisters.

The first talesman called for examination was Charles Shongood, the one hundred and second man in the special panel. Shongood declared he had formed such a strong opinion in the case that he would not be a fair and impartial juror.

The next talesman was excused for the same reason and then came two in succession who had conscientious scruples against capital punishment.

New York, Jan. 29.—It will probably be at least two days before all the jurors for the trial of Harry K. Thaw will be obtained. By Wednesday or Thursday at the latest the district attorney should be able to make his opening address to the jury, and begin his direct examination of witnesses.

The line of defence for Thaw was finally decided upon Sunday in an important conference held at the apartments of Delphin Delmas, senior counsel for Thaw.

Thaw's counsel issued the following authoritative statement last night;

"Harry K. Thaw will be freed on the strict application of the laws on the statute books of the State of New York. There will be no intervention of any 'unwritten or higher law,' as has been surmised. We do not need to go beyond the statute books to convince the jury that he should be acquitted.

"It will be shown to the jury that at the time that Stanford White was shot and killed in Madison Square roof garden Thaw was laboring under a spell of temporary insanity; did not appreciate the difference between right and wrong, and is, therefore, irresponsible for his act. A preponderance of evidence to establish that fact will be adduced.

"The defence is convinced that should the district attorney call Evelyn Nesbit Thaw to the witness stand to prove the mere fact of the slaying of Stanford White, when that could be easily proven by other eye witnesses to the shooting, he would not only commit an act that would be prejudicial to his own case, but would appear before the jury as a cruel man.

"Stanford White's character will not be assailed in this case by the defence. The defence proposes to conduct its case along clean, respectable and absolutely legal lines. It remains for the district attorney to inject in this trial anything that would cause introduction of testimony that would tend to blacken the character of individuals and degrade the community."

SPORTING TOPICS

HOCKEY.

On Wednesday night the local Hockey team will cross sticks with the 14th Regiment team at the Dimestone City in a senior O.H.A. match. The game will likely be a hard one, as a defeat for Kingston practically means that they are out of the running. Full returns will be given by gleam at the Brock street Rink Wednesday night. Ice band will be present and skating allowed until the termination of the Kingston game.

Cities Buried by the Drifting Sand

Calcutta, January 28.—Herr Albert von Le Coq, M.D., scientific emissary of the Prussian Government, has arrived at Serinagar from the depths of Central Asia. During more than two years past he has been making discoveries of sand-buried cities near Turfan and elsewhere in the north-eastern part of Chinese Turkestan—the sort of work associated with the name of Dr. Stein—but the Prussian mission appears to have struck a soil far richer in antiquities. Whereas all the material results of Dr. Stein's epoch making first trip were contained in a dozen chests sent to the British museum, the Germans have sent home well over 50 chests, nearly all of which have gone by way of Russia, while Herr von Le Coq has with him twenty-five chests. The contents consist for the most part of highly artistic paintings upon stucco or hardened mud often with a background (as in Italy) of gold leaf. The civilization thus indicated is Buddhistic deriving from India and the dates are roughly a dozen or more centuries ago. There are about fifteen chests chests full of nothing but precious manuscripts in not less than ten different languages, one of them being a wholly unknown tongue. These show wonderful meetings and mingings of peoples from Syria and Tibet, of Manicheans from Persia and Chinese.

Boy Killed at His Play

Rodney, Jan. 28.—About 12.30 p.m. yesterday, George, youngest son of George H. Kattenmeir of Rodney, was killed while crawling underneath an M.C.R. train which was standing at the station. Being unnoticed by the crew, the train was backed down over him, almost cutting off both his legs.

He died almost instantly.

NOVEL CURE FOR COLDS

Healing Medication That is Breathed Giving Quick Relief.

It seems just as ridiculous to put medicine into the stomach to cure a cold in the head or lungs as does to go out in the rain if we want to keep dry.

The fact that many people right in Peterborough, cough and hawk and snuffle for days and weeks after they treat a cold with the usual stomach dosing, shows how valueless are the ordinary cough and cold cures.

The right way to cure a cold is to the head or a cough and irritation in the throat and lungs, is by breathing Hyomei's medicated air. Put a few drops of Hyomei in the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit and breathe this healing air for a few times and immediate relief will be noted. The medication goes right to the spot where the disease germs are located and renders them harmless in the future.

At the same time the soothing and healing effects of Hyomei on the irritated mucous membrane gives quick relief, and the cough or cold is broken up.

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a bottle of Hyomei, the inhaler and a medicine dropper, costs but $1, while extra bottles of Hyomei, if needed, can be obtained for only 50c.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei, or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. NEEDLESSLY SHOCKED

Some of the big-wigs in London will be horrified to read some of the Canadian newspapers that presume to justify the action of Sir Alexander Swettenham in requesting the American rear-admiral to withdraw his men and leave the control of affairs in Jamaica in the hands of the British authorities.

The Toronto Star thinks that what the London Times and other newspapers in the Mother Country cannot understand is that the people of the United States are not accustomed to sit up nights worrying about the possible meaning of diplomatic actions, but take it for granted that they can detect friendship or hostility in another nation without using a microscope. The good-will that Great Britain entertains for the United States does not need to be set forth in affidavits, nor in frantic apologies for the action of a Jamaican governor who, in a crisis, so played his part as to teach a negro population that the earthquake that had laid a city low had not impaired British sovereignty in the slightest particular. Nor are the people of the neighboring Republic likely to take umbrage at the free speech of the Canadian press, for their own newspapers discuss all kinds of questions with the utmost freedom. Indeed, it may surprise our ponderous editorial friends in England to observe a tendency on the part of some New York papers to guy Rear-Admiral Davis and Governor Swettenham alike and impartially. On this continent there is what may be called a public levity that Englishmen cannot take into account in a case of this kind, and, in view of this fact, a very decent argument could be made in favor of the claim that the Empire should leave all her apologising in North America to be done by the local branch of the family, which is in touch with local conditions.

AN OCEAN IN THE AIR.

The Queer Superstition That Once Prevailed in England.

The curious superstition that there is an ocean above the clouds is illustrated by the following strange story by an old English writer: "One Sunday the people of a certain village were coming out of church on a thick, cloudy day when they saw the anchor of a ship hooked to one of the tombstones, the cable, which was tightly stretched, hanging down from the air. The people were astonished, and while they were consulting about it suddenly they saw the rope move as though some one labored to pull up the anchor. The anchor, however, still held fast by the stone, and a great noise was heard in the air like the shouting of sailors. Presently a sailor was seen sliding down the cable for the purpose of unfixing the anchor. When he had just loosened it the villagers seized hold of him, and while in their hands he quickly died, just as though he had been drowned.

"About an hour later the sailors above, hearing no more of their comrade, cut the cable and sailed away. In memory of this extraordinary event the people of the village made the hinges of the church doors out of the iron of the anchor." It is further stated that these hinges "are still to be seen there," a bit of evidence much like Munchausen's rope wherewith he once climbed to the moon. If you doubted the story you were confronted with the rope.

There is another queer tale about this aerial ocean. "A merchant of Bristol," it is said, "set sail with his cargo for Ireland. Some time after, while his family were at supper, a knife suddenly fell in through a window on the table. When the merchant returned and saw the knife he declared it to be his own and said that on such a day, at such an hour, while sailing in an unknown part of the sea, he dropped the knife overboard, and the day and the hour were found to be exactly the time when it fell through the window." All of which was once implicitly believed by many and regarded as incontrovertible proof of the existence of a sea above the sky. One is at a loss to conjecture how that "unknown part of the sea" connected with the rest of it. A physical geography showing this would be no small curiosity.

The Engineering Magazine

The Engineering Magazine for February opens with an interesting and significant review of the American iron trade, by E. C. Eckel, specialist of the U. S. Geological Survey. He traces the output briefly and graphically, but devotes the major portion of his study to some most important facts concerning the present reserves, new processes of iron making, and the proportionate control exercised by the Steel Trust. His most striking point in the demonstration that the yet undeveloped ores of the Southern States are assuredly three thousand million tons—five times the amount credited to the Lake region. Monopoly by the Steel Trust is still far off. Fullerton L. Waldo gives an illustrated report on the conditions in the Panama Canal Zone which is full of life and health, and presages well for the furtherance of the work. Barrett Smith contributes a picturesque paper on the Chinese export trade. R. E. Mathot and A. E. Dixon have illustrated articles on the planning, building and operation of the power plant. C. U. Carpenter publishes the second part of his exposition of "Profit-Making Management for Shop and Factory," and A. D. Peasant and King.

Henry IV., the idol of the French people, was also a king of phrase makers. During one of his tours through France he arrived at a small village and ordered that the most intelligent villager be sent to converse with him while he dined. When the rustic appeared the king ordered him to take a seat opposite to him at the table. "What is your name?" asked the monarch. "Sire, I am called Gaillard," replied the peasant. "What is the difference," said the king, "between gaillard" (i. e., a jolly fellow) "and paillard" (i. e., a rake)? "Sire," was the reply, "there is but a table between the two."

Life Marks Are Indelible.

We are not writing in the sand. The tide does not wash it out. We are not painting our pictures on the canvas and with a brush so that we can erase the error of yesterday or overlap it with another color today. We are writing our lives with a chisel on the marble, and every time we strike a blow we leave a mark that is indelible.—Lyman Abbott, D. D.

You May Need It

A WINNER.

My brother Johnny needs some clothes.
He wants some right away.
But father says the boy is wrong.
"Your suit's all right," he'll say.
But Johnny won't need clothing long;
He'll have a new suit soon,
For mother is to play some bridge
Tomorrow afternoon.

And little Mary wants a slate;
She's started in at school.
But pa says, "Make the old one do."
He's stubborn as a mule.
But 'twon't be long till Mary has
Her slate—you wait and see—
For mother is to play some bridge
Tomorrow about three.

There's lots of things we need at home,
But father laughs at us.
He says we're too extravagant;
It does no good to fuss.
But we most always get such things—
You bet your life we do—
For mother plays bridge now and then;
She understands it too.

Fakirs.

Fakirs is the name given to a celebrated class of fanatics found in many parts of the east, but more particularly in India. ARTHUR H. SYDERE,
Clerk of the Legislative Assembly.
Toronto, January 2nd, 1907.

Developments in the last few days are reported by the press and verified by the Company's officers, again attract public attention to the famous Sunburst Mines—having added 200 acres of rich lead and zinc land in the heart of the world's richest producing district to original holdings, the Sunburst Company has ordered the permanent equipment of Shaft No. 3.

WORK BEGINS ON THE SUNBURST MINES

Machinery being installed and work on No. 3 shaft immediately to commence. Drifting pushed to connect the No. 2 and No. 1 shafts, which, according to the drilling, will open up immense bodies of ore for the full distance, which is about 600 feet. The Eastman Development Co. of White Eagle Mill, which has started shaft 60 feet to depth, are now producing some eight to ten tons of zinc ore per shift—being the record breaker of the district so far. This property is immediately to the northwest of the Sunburst property. The Charles to the northward, has made a phenomenal strike in the Blue Jacket. The opportunity to share in this wonderful fortune making is now presented by the development of the Sunburst property. Millions will be taken out of this district in the and shrewd investors are now seizing their opportunity to reap a golden harvest from the most marvelous wealth The Baxter Springs Camp. Many properties are now returning from 21 to 120 per cent. dividends on the investment

IMMENSE ORE BODIES PROVEN UP

The Sunburst Mining Company now owns a vast property in Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory, generally known as the Baxter Springs District. The history of the company is well known to the public. The great richness has long been admitted. Now development work proves the most sanguine expectations. The Baxter Springs News of December 6, 1906, says:

"The Sunburst is showing up some mighty big ore the past week. J. C. Parker, who is doing the development work, brought in samples of his latest ore taken out of shaft No. 2, and it certainly shows up fine. This shaft now has 30 feet of drifting to the south, showing ore all the way, and the deposit encountered the past week is the same as the Hobo mine is cutting in its north drifts, which are only eighty feet to the south, and which are being driven north to connect with this south drift of the Sunburst. The indications are to the effect, showing up considerably rich lead and jack in the east drift, Gatlin is encountering the same to the east and north, thus demonstrating that immense ore deposit covers the Ayers-Sloan, White Eagle, Western Mining Co.'s Omaha, Winner, Good Luck, Hobo, Gatlin, Indiana and Sunburst leases, all of which is within a radius of a few hundred feet of each other. This is the richest deposit yet opened up, and while this is a fact it is owing to the intense development in this particular section of the camp, which is proving up the drillings which have been made since the camp started."

This immense ore property lies four miles from Baxter Springs, Kansas, and is just across the state line in the Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory. All around and immediately adjoining this property are good producing mines with fine mills, which are making their owners rich. Just southwest is the mill owned by the Whitneys of New York. On every side we are surrounded by producing mines, operating in ore bodies that run level to and through our section, and from the reports of experts and engineers are actually richer and nearer the surface here than in any other place in the district. The formation consists of a blanket deposit of mineral of the best of quality, from 5 to 10 feet in thickness, lying at a depth of from 50 feet to 70 feet, and is easily and inexpensive to mine.

Thousands of dollars were expended in drilling holes and sinking shafts to prove not only the existence of paying quantities of lead and zinc, but also the unusual richness of the ore. The drilling and shaft sinking have demonstrated a uniform bed of ore over the entire acreage of 15 to 20 feet in thickness, and found only 50 feet under the surface. The water is only sufficient to wash the ore while milling. This is an important point, as in many lead and zinc mines the superabundance of water is a very dangerous factor. The ore is found between well-defined flat beds of limestone, which allows of the ore being taken out without the use of any timbers whatever, pillars of ore being allowed to support the roof, which is thus permanently safe.

The Same Ore Body That Makes Others Rich

No other district can produce so many rich mines in so small an area as this portion of the Baxter Springs Camp. Look at the map and you will see how the Sunburst holdings are the very heart of this section. To the north are the Dark Horse, Isley, Tipton, Magnolia, all well-known properties. To the west are the Sunnyside (the oldest mill in camp), White Eagle, Indiana, Ayers, and Sloan. To the south, the famous Hobo (the richest mine ever opened in the district, which runs directly to the south line of the Sunburst in extremely high-grade ore). The ore milled last week by the Hobo ran 10 per cent. In three months 800,000 pounds of rich ore were taken out by the Hobo. This mine is 1½ feet from our property and is in the same ore bed. Shaft No. 2 is only 70 feet from the Hobo north drift, with the same bed of ore. The drilling shows this bed to run across the entire Sunburst property. Shaft No. 2 is 90 feet from the northeast drift of the Hobo and is into the same ore bed.

To the south are also the Omaha Mines and Mill and the Good Luck Mine, where the lead has proven to be so heavy. On these properties mills are erected and extremely rich ore extracted, making great returns for the owners.

SHAFT NO. THREE.

ADVANCE IN PRICE

On account of the additional holdings, which are of great intrinsic value, as well as the remarkable proof of richness afforded by the development work already begun, the price of Sunburst stock will not remain long at the present figure.

Every step forward in the workings of the company is attracting wide attention and is justifying the most liberal expectations.

As this work goes on Sunburst stock is bound to increase in value, as it is bound to be a mighty source of profit. The public demand because of the public confidence in this great property has already absorbed thousands of shares and has steadily advanced the price, but this advance will be small in comparison to what is coming.

The shrewd investor will realize the opportunity now, and will buy before the next big advance.

Buy now and share pro rata in the demonstrated profits of this enterprise. Make your reservation for as many shares as you may desire at the present price, remit 10 per cent. of the full price for the block and send us the balance in nine monthly payments. Upon the completion of your payments your certificate will be sent you for the desired number of shares, fully paid and non-assessable, no matter how much the price of stock may have advanced during that time.

You will thus become a stockholder in this company on equal terms with all the other stockholders, and by payments so small as to be hardly noticed.

The tremendous advantage to the small investor through this plan of payment must be apparent at a glance. By subscribing, for instance, $50.00 now and remitting only $5.00, you will obtain the whole block subscribed for at the present low price, and receive the full advantage of every advance on the whole $50.00 worth, although your first payment is but $5.00.

You really invest $5.00 and get all the benefit of an investment of $50.00. Could anything be fairer?

In order to secure the benefit of this offer it will be necessary for you to make your reservation at once, with the understanding that you will be entirely free to withdraw it if further investigation fails to convince you of the merits of the stock.

The officers of this company, who have the handling of your money, the conduct of the mine, and paying of dividends, are stockholders like any other.

What is more, they are well-known and successful business men. Look them up. Investigate their standing, their acumen, their integrity.

This is a business proposition. Here are business men conducting it. They invite your investigation.

MAP OF DISTRICT SHOWING SUNBURST MINE.

Why Stock is Now Offered at 8c a Share

This issue of fully paid and non-assessable stock is for the purpose of procuring immediate funds to build a concentrating mill, equip the plant with hoisting machinery, and continue development work and put day and night shifts to work—that's all. We apply to this immensely rich property the same development that is resulting everywhere around us in paying great dividends and enormously enhancing the value of the property. Have you ever heard of a failure in a true lead and zinc mine? Have you not heard on the contrary of the fortunes taken out right in this district, not by one, but practically by all mining plants in the last few years? Have you ever had the opportunity to get in on the ground floor of such an investment? At this price the immense profits simply defy conservative estimate. The facts we have stated? Now, this we prove in detail—we will even arrange to take you to the mine—we refer you to any of the reports on this property—to banks—to engineers—to the evidence of surrounding properties, we lay the proposition before your business judgment, with the full appreciation that you owe it to yourself to investigate this simply as an investment in a commercial enterprise.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

In compliance with the request of the officers and stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., a detailed examination of the property was made October 1, 1906, by M. S Parker, the well-known mining engineer and member American Society C. E. Excerpts from Mr. Parker's report follow:

The Sunburst Mine is located in the southeast corner of Section 29, Township 29, Range 24, east of the Indian Meridian, in the Quapaw Reserve, Indian Territory. It is joined on the south by half its width by the famous Hobo Mine, which produces the richest lead and zinc ore of any mine in the district thus far developed, and prospect drill holes and shafts north of the Hobo, on the Sunburst, show the same grade of ore, and at the same depth and of the same thickness.

The Omaha Mines, which is now successfully operating a new 150-ton mill, also adjoins the Sunburst on the south, and have drilled along their north boundary striking the same body of ore as developed by prospecting over the line on the Sunburst.

The Hobo and Omaha Mines on the south have been prospected along the line of the Sunburst by drill holes and the present working shafts and drifts, which verifies the results of the prospecting done on the Sunburst Mine, north of the south boundary of the Sunburst.

FORMATION.

This mine comes under the blanket formation class. Out of the last eleven holes drilled, only two holes were barren of lead or zinc ore, most of them showing lead and zinc ore in paying quantities, while some of the holes drilled showed very rich deposits of lead and zinc.

One of the drill holes on the Hobo Mine showed very rich cuttings; within a foot of this hole was a blank spot 50 feet in diameter. The shaft of the Hobo Mine was sunk within 5 feet of a drill hole showing a very rich zinc ore, and went down through such a spot—no zinc ore being encountered—within a foot of the shaft walls very rich zinc and lead ore was found.

The thickness of the ore body, as shown by the drill holes, is from 15 to 30 feet. Ore is struck in shaft No. 1 at 55 feet depth, and the shaft is still in the ore at 75 feet. The drill cuttings at this shaft showed ore down to 91 feet depth. From all the drill holes this depth, viz., 91 feet appears to be the floor or bottom of the ore body, and is very uniform. The roof, however, varies in depth from the surface, 57 feet being the nearest it comes to the surface, while at places it is shown to drop down to 80 feet in depth, but the average depth to roof is very close to 65 feet. This would indicate an average thickness of the ore body of about 25 feet.

Three shafts have been sunk. No 1 shaft, 6 1-2 by 8 feet, is down 88 feet, well timbered, and has good shafthouse and derrick. From this shaft prospect drifts have been driven, in all about 200 linear feet, mostly in leadbearing ground. A small office building is near this shaft.

Shaft No. 2, 6 1-2 by 8 1-2 feet, is 90 feet, well timbered, with shafthouse, derrick and boilerhouse in good repair. From this shaft a drift is driven north 20 feet, then west 50 feet. Head of west drift is in good ore. The face of this drift is in zinc ore, while the bottom is in rich lead ore. This shaft should go down to 90 feet depth. This will give a perfect face of ore.

Shaft No. 3, 6 1-2 by 8 1-2 by 7 feet, well timbered—a first-class shaft. No buildings on it. A short drift is running south in good zinc ore. The bottom of this shaft is in good lead ore. These three shafts, with 18 drill holes, constitute the present development of the mine.

The Sunburst is located within four miles of the Frisco Railway, Baxter and Quapaw stations being about equally distant from the mine. A road is projected from Baxter to Miami that will run within a quarter of a mile of the mine. This road is to be a freight and passenger electric road for the accommodation of the mines. Baxter Springs business men have subscribed $75,000 toward the building of this line, and every assurance is given that the road will soon be constructed. This will make transportation of fuel and mine products materially cheaper than at present, although the cost under present conditions is not heavy.

It is needless to say that work at the Sunburst can be carried on the year round, the climate in this section being so mild in winter that very little trouble is experienced in mining operations in the Quapaw Reserve.

Summing up the points in this report, I will say that you have a first-class lead and zinc property. Rarely will you find a tract of ground so universally mineralized as the Sunburst Mine. If you follow the recommendations I have made regarding development, I feel assured you will reap your reward in good dividends. Trusting that my report will meet with the approval of the President and Stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., I subscribe myself,

Very respectfully yours,
M. S PARKER.

Property of Fabulous Wealth

HEMMED IN BY PRODUCING MINES

Thousands of dollars expended on shafts and development work show ore runs from 8 to 12 per cent—while a yield of 4 per cent. in Center Creek Mine has produced nearly $7,000,000

The increasing demand for lead and zinc is too obvious to need detailed statement. Both metals are in steady demand and at steadily advancing prices. The prices have gone up since 1899 from $51.12 per ton for lead and $23.61 for zinc to $42.00 for lead and $45.00 for zinc. The lead and zinc industry is now right at the front in the great commercial enterprises of the country. This southwestern district produces 50 per cent. of the zinc produced in the United States.

The earning capacity of the Sunburst's property, handling ore that averages from 8 to 15 per cent. can be estimated from the production of other companies. The Center Creek Mining Company, of Webb City, Mo., from an 80-acre tract, has taken out nearly $7,000,000 and is still producing.

The report for the year 1906 shows the following production during that year from the several properties mentioned:

	Acres.	Value.
American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co.	4000	$ 987,120.00
A. W. Taylor	180	180,750.00
J. W. Aylor	40	570,571.00
The Burgess Mining Co.	80	190,570.00
Center Creek Mining Co. (production to date)	200	6,987,194.00
Mrs. E. J. Chimm	120	271,700.00
Majestic Consolidated Zinc & Lead Co.	52	134,450.00
Continental Zinc Co. (production to date)	240	1,577,583.00
Consolidated Troup Mining Co.	40	191,619.00
Daughtery-Davy-McMillan Estate	60	654,105.00
The Empire Zinc Co.	471	150,313.00
Fox Heirs	20	120,324.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1905		1,981,571.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1904		1,076,656.00
John G. Guinn	640	87,457.00
Pittsburg-Joplin Lead & Zinc Co.	10	98,000.00
Pittsburg-Missouri Zinc & Lead Co.	120	411,711.00
United Zinc Co.	136	390,276.00

From these figures it can be seen readily how such large dividends are paid. The Dinger Co. pays 120 per cent., the Chapman 120 per cent., the Omega 117 per cent., and many others yield enormous returns.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF PROPERTY.

These profits are possible because of the concentrated richness of the ore, the fact that it is near the surface, that it requires no expensive machinery, that the buyers come to the mine and take the product right from the bins, that the climate is favorable, that the market is advancing, and the owners of the mine get steadily improving values for their ore produced. This is why lead and zinc mining is the safest and most profitable investment in the world today. Do you want 100 per cent. or more on your money?

Press Reports Rich Strike by Sunburst Mining Comp

From the Baxter Springs News, of November 8, 1906.

One of the richest strikes made in the Baxter Springs mining camp, south of this city, for some time past, was that made by the Sunburst Mining Co., operating on one of their properties just east of the Sunnyside and north of the Hobo. The Sunburst Co. have three shafts in ore, with a large amount of drifting done, and this strike was made in No. 3 shaft, and apparently in the Hobo run of ore, which has always been considered one of the very best in the Quapaw reservation. The farther this run of ore is developed the richer it is showing.

The Sunburst Mining Co. also has made a very important deal the past week by purchasing from the Great Northern Mining Company 20 acres of leases one mile east of the Johanna, less than one mile southeast of the new rich strike made by the Irish Maid, and about two miles west of Monkey Hill, where the most famous lead strike was made ever encountered anywhere in the southwest. The Monkey Hill strike showed as much as 28 inches of solid lead of the very highest grade. The Great Northern, which is one of the largest holders of the best leases in this camp, made this sale the past week.

The purchase of this large tract of land by the Sunburst crowd means important developments in that section. In addition to those already made, and, following on the heels of the rich lead strike made on the Charles Bluejacket land to the north of the tract and its purchase by a syndicate of Minnesota iron men, will cause an unusual amount of activity in that part of the camp.

The Sunburst Mining Co. will also start drifting their No. 1 shaft on the tract east of the Sunnyside to encounter the rich strike made to the south of it in the Isley mine. The Isley has encountered ore which will undoubtedly yield all the way from 25 per cent. to 70 per cent. The strike was made near the north line of the Sunburst tract.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

And as the king brightened, so all the great court brightened too. The salons began to resume their former splendor, and gay coats and glittering embroidery which had lain in drawers for years were seen once more in the halls of the palace. The Montespan anteroom was crowded every morning with men and women who had some suit to be urged, while her rival's chambers were as deserted as they had been before the king first turned a gracious look upon her. Faces which had been long banished from the court began to reappear in the corridors and gardens unchecked and unrebuked, while the black cassock of the Jesuit and the purple soutane of the bishop were less frequent colors in the royal circle.

But the church party was never seriously alarmed at this relapse. The grave eyes of priest or of prelate followed Louis in his escapade as wary huntsmen might watch a young deer which gambols about in the meadow under the impression that it is masterless when every gap and path is netted and it is in truth as much in their hands as though it were lying bolted before them. They waited, therefore, and they silently planned how the prodigal might best be dealt with on his return.

To this end it was that his confessor, Pere la Chaise, and Bossuet, the great bishop of Meaux, waited one morning upon Mme. de Maintenon in her chamber. With a globe beside her, she was endeavoring to teach geography to the fame Duc du Maine and the mischievous little Comte de Toulouse, who had enough of their father's disposition to make them averse to learning and of their mother's to cause them to hate any discipline or restraint.

Mme. de Maintenon dismissed her two pupils and received the ecclesiastics with the mixture of affection and respect which was due to those who were not only personal friends, but great lights of the Gallican church. The last few days had cast a pallor over her face which spiritualized and refined the features, but she wore unimpaired her expression of sweet serenity.

"I see, my dear daughter, that you have sentinels," said Bossuet, glancing at her with a kindly and yet searching eye.

"I have indeed, your grace. All last night I spent in prayer that this trial may pass away from us."

"And yet you have no need for fear, madame—none, I assure you. Others may think that your influence has ceased, but we, who know the king's heart, think otherwise. A few days may pass, a few weeks at the most, and once more it will be upon your rising fortunes that every eye in France will turn."

The lady's brow clouded, and she glanced at the prelate as though his speech were not altogether to her taste. "I trust that pride does not lead me astray," she said. "But if I can read my own soul aright there is no thought of myself in the grief which now tears my heart. It is for the king I grieve, for the noble heart, the kindly soul, which might rise so high and which is dragged so low."

"For all that, my daughter, you are ambitious. Would you not love to turn the king toward good?"

"I would give my life for it."

"And there is your ambition. Ah, can I not read your noble soul? Would you not love to see the church reign pure and serene over all this realm, to see the poor housed, the needy helped, the wicked turned from their ways and the king ever the leader in all that is noble and good?"

Her cheeks had flushed, and her eyes shone as she looked at the gray face of the Jesuit and saw the picture which his words had conjured up before her.

"My daughter," said Bossuet solemnly, "it is time for plain speaking. It is in the interests of the church that we do it. None hear and none shall ever hear what passes between us now. Regard us, if you will, as two confessors, with whom your secret is inviolable. I call it a secret, and yet it is none to us, for it is our mission to read the human heart. You love the king."

"Your grace—father!" She turned in confusion from one to the other.

"There is no shame in loving, my daughter. The shame lies only in yielding to love. I say again that you love the king."

"At least I have never told him so," she faltered.

"And will you never?"

"May heaven wither my tongue first!"

"But consider, my daughter. Such love in a soul like yours is heaven's gift and sent for some wise purpose. We speak for the interests of the holy church, and those interests demand that you should marry the king."

"Marry the king!" The little room swam round her. "Marry the king!"

"There lies the best hope for the future. We see in you a second Jeanne d'Arc who will save both France and France's king."

Madame sat silent for a few moments. Her face had regained its composure, and her eyes were bent vacantly upon her tapestry frame as she turned over in her mind all that was involved in the suggestion.

"But surely—surely this could never be," she said at last. "What king of France has married a subject? See how every princess of Europe stretches out her hand to him. The queen of France must be of queenly blood, even as the last was."

"All this may be overcome."

"And then there are the reasons of state. If the king marry, it should be to form a powerful alliance, to cement a friendship with a neighbor nation or to gain some province which may be the bride's dowry. What is my dowry? A widow's pension and a workbox."

"Your dowry, my daughter, would be those gifts of body and of mind with which heaven has endowed you. The king has money enough and the king has provinces enough. As to the state, how can the state be better served than by the assurance that the king will be saved in future from such sights as are to be seen in this palace today?"

"Oh, if it could be so! But think, father; think of those about him—the dauphin, monsieur his brother, his ministers. You know how little this would please them and how easy it is for them to sway his mind."

The faces of the two ecclesiastics who had dismissed her other objections with a smile and a wave clouded over at this.

"My daughter," said the Jesuit gravely, "that is a matter which you may leave to the church. It may be that we, too, have some power over the king's mind and that we may lead him in the right path, even though those of his own blood would fain have it otherwise. The future only can show with whom the power lies. But you? Love and duty both draw you one way now, and the church may count upon you and you upon the church. It will serve you if you in turn will but serve it."

"What higher wish could I have?"

"You will be our daughter, our queen, our champion, and you will heal the wounds of the suffering church. The huguenots must go. They must be driven forth. The goats must be divided from the sheep. The king is already in two minds. Louvois is our friend now. If you are with us, then all will be well."

"But, father, think how many there are! And think, too, of their sufferings should they be driven forth!"

"Their cure lies in their own hands."

"That is true. And yet my heart offers for them."

Pere la Chaise and the bishop shook their heads.

"You would befriend God's enemies then?"

"No, no; not if they are indeed so."

Voting in Paris.

"In Paris only one-fifth of the voters go to the polls and cast their ballots," said an American who has lived in Paris as a business man for several years past. "This is not because they cannot vote, but because they do not care to. Everybody in the city is interested in politics, but when the time to vote comes few care to go to the polls. The man who wins is most often the man who promises everything. For instance, in my district last time a man was elected who promised to put a new shed on the market. I know of another deputy who was kept in office fifteen years because he promised to add an extra sardine to the daily rations of the soldiers. There are so many soldiers that that made a big difference. They did not get the sardine, but he continued to promise and kept office."

Man and Art.

In ancient times there stood in the citadel of Athens three statues of Minerva. The first was of olive wood and, according to popular tradition, had fallen from heaven. The second was of bronze, commemorating the victory of Marathon, and the third of gold and ivory—a great miracle of art in the days of Pericles. And thus in the citadel of time stands man himself. In childhood, shaped of soft and delicate wood, just fallen from heaven; in manhood a statue of bronze, commemorating struggle and victory, and, lastly, in the maturity of age, perfectly shaped in gold and ivory—a miracle of art!

Temper.

Temper itself is not a bad quality. It is not to be destroyed, as we sometimes say. Without temper a bar of steel becomes like lead. A man without temper is weak and worthless. We are to learn self control. A strong person is one who has a strong temper under perfect mastery. There is a deep truth here—that our mistakes and our sins, if we repent of them, will help in the growth and upbuilding of our character.

Fair Proposition.

"Don't you throw off anything because of the big holes in these doughnuts?" asked the new wife of the baker.

"I'll tell you," he replied, scratching his chin. "Eat the doughnuts, and we'll make a liberal allowance when you return the holes."

A Sleep Inducer.

Hicks—Did you hear about Macklin? They called the Rev. Mr. Dulley to his sickside last evening. Wicks—Do you mean to say he is in a dying condition? Hicks—Oh, no; only a bad case of insomnia.

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve. Known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations; from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Erection" reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 20 acre one and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 20 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 60 feet, and it shows 8 inch nicolite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1273-492-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 70c. is equal to $630.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we are aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

CURIOUS INSECT.

A Butterfly That Enjoys Only Five Hours of Life.

It is in August that the naturalists observe the marvelous insect which is born, reproduces and dies in the period of a single night on the banks of the Marne, of the Seine and of the Rhine. It is the ephemere of which Sirammerdam has written and which is spoken of in Aristotle.

The life of this insect does not last beyond four or five hours. It rises toward 11 o'clock in the evening after taking the form of a butterfly about six hours after midday. It is true, however, that before taking this form it has lived three years in that of a worm, which keeps always near the border of water in the holes which it makes in the mud.

The change of this worm in the water to an ephemere which flies is so sudden that one has not the time to see it. If one takes the worm in the water the hand cannot be taken away before the change is made unless by pressing the worm slightly in the region of the chest. By this means it can be taken from the water before the change takes place.

The ephemere, after leaving the water, seeks a place where it can divest itself of a fine membrane or veil, which entirely covers it. This second change takes place in the air.

The ephemere assists itself with the point of its little nails as firmly as it can. It makes a movement similar to that of a shiver; then the skin on the middle of the back breaks apart, the wings slip out of their sheath, as we sometimes take off our gloves by turning them inside out. After this stripping the ephemere begins to fly. Sometimes it holds itself straight up on the surface of the water on the end of its tail, flapping its wings one against the other. It takes no nourishment in the five or six hours which are the limit of its life. It seems to have been formed but to multiply, for it does not leave its state of a worm until it is ready to deposit its eggs, and it dies as soon as they are deposited.

In three days' time one sees appear and die all species of ephemere. They last sometimes until the fifth day, for the reason that some malady has affected some of them and prevents them from changing at the same time as the others.

A STUDY IN EYES.

Michael Angelo had hazel eyes.

Mohammed had coal black eyes.

Milton had gray blue eyes, clear and round.

Beethoven had small brown eyes, very mobile.

Dante had, according to Boccaccio, large black eyes.

Isaac Newton had blue eyes, small, bright and piercing.

Cowper, physically timid, had weak blue eyes devoid of animation.

Harvey, the discoverer of the circulation of the blood, had small eyes, full of spirit.

Carlyle's eyes were described as "the very handsomest ever seen in a man's head - dark blue."

Bismarck had eyes of steely gray, deep sunken, almost hidden under bushy eyebrows.

Dr. Johnson's poor health so affected his eyes that they were dull and lifeless, of a watery blue.

Richelieu as an Editor.

The first reporter of France was Louis XIII. The National library possesses the manuscripts of thirty-six articles written by that king. Almost all are accounts of his military operations. These articles were published in the Gazette de France. The "copy," however, did not go directly to the printer. Louis XIII. wrote abominable French, and he had vague notions of orthography. His articles were corrected and often entirely rearranged by a secretary named Lucas, who copied them, sending to Richelieu the new manuscript. Richelieu examined it in his turn and often introduced additional corrections. At the siege of Corbie the king wrote a few lines eulogistic of the cardinal, but afterward crossed them out of his article. Richelieu wrote them in again, and so they appeared in the Gazette de France Revue de Paris.

The "Man" Who Minds the Cows.

In the Basque country the children begin to work at an early age. They learn to tend and guide the oxen, which are used entirely for agricultural and draft work, and as if by instinct obtain complete control over the animals while barely able to reach their heads. The sturdy urchin of four years is up at daybreak, and barelegged and bareheaded he goes with the cows to the pastures. If one should stray on to a neighboring patch he is after it with his long stick and Basque adjurations and brings it scampering back, generally holding on to its tail meanwhile.—Strand Magazine.

The Huns.

The first mention of the Huns in history is in China B. C. 210. They conquered that country and were afterward driven out by the Celestials and marched clear across Asia, penetrating the country now known as Hungary in 376 A. D. For a time they threatened to overrun the whole of the continent, but were defeated in the heart of France and driven back to the banks of the Danube.

EXPERT'S REPORT.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 23, '06.

ROSAMOND CHIEF GOLD MINING CO.,

Gentlemen: I have made a special examination of the property of your company, and I find this property a valuable one, consisting of four claims, namely, the Mary Anna, Maggie, Alice, and Little Gem. All four have valuable ledges with average assay value of $30.25 per ton. This average is taken from the surface to a depth of 10 feet. I am satisfied it will do a great deal better with depth and as developing continues.

Yours truly,

S. M. SARMAN.

A SISTER'S COURAGE.

Presence of Mind of an Eighteenth Century Irish Woman.

In looking over some family papers and bundles of old letters I discovered one by Mrs. Jeffereys of Blarney castle, County Cork, which contains an account of a circumstance interesting in itself as an instance of heroism on the part of the narrator toward her brother, the Earl of Clare, and so valuable as bringing to light a remarkable event connected with the history of those troubled times that I feel I am only discharging a duty in submitting it to the notice of the editor.

The letter is dated 9 Molesworth street, July, 1807, and, among other matters, Mrs. Jeffereys writes as follows:

"On the day Lord Fitzwilliam was recalled, when my brother (as chancellor) was returning from the castle after having assisted at the swearing in of the newly-arrived lord lieutenant, a ferocious mob of no less than 5,000 men and several hundred women assembled together in College green and all along the avenue leading to my brother's house. The main part of the insurgents were armed with pistols, cutlasses, sledges, saws, crowbars and every other weapon necessary to break open my brother's house, and the women were all of them armed with their aprons full of paving stones. This ferocious and furious mob began to throw showers of stones into my brother's coach, at his coachman's head and his horses. They wounded my brother in the temple in College green, and if he had not sheltered himself by holding his great square official purse before him he would have been stoned to death before he arrived (through the back yard) at his own house, where with several smithy sledges they were working hard to break into his hall door, while others of them had ropes ready to fix up to his lamp iron to hang him the moment they could find him, when I arrived, disguised in my kitchen maid's dress, my blue apron full of stones. I mingled with this numerous mob and addressed a pale, sickly man, saying: 'My dear jey'l, what'll become of hus! I am after running from the castle to tell yeas all that a regiment of hos is galloping down here to thrample hus, etc. Oh, yes, yes, where will we go?' Then they cried: 'Hurry, hurry, the hos is coming to charge and thrample hus! Hurry for the custom house.' And in less than a moment the crowd dispersed.

"I then procured a surgeon for my brother and a guard to prevent another attack, and thus I saved Lord Clare's life at the risk of being torn limb from limb if I had been recognised by any of the mob."—London Notes and Queries.

Delay in Divorces.

"The underlying reason why so much time usually elapses between the filing of petition and the hearing or trial in divorce proceedings is not generally understood," remarked a lawyer who makes a specialty of this character of practice. "Perhaps it is within the circle of truth to say that in a majority of cases, if either husband or wife, whichever side be plaintiff, should 'stop, look and listen,' as it were, the trouble would be adjusted out of court entirely. As a rule, judges are inclined to afford ample time for domestic partners to ponder well before pursuing further toward legal redress for matrimonial difficulties. 'Divorce in haste and repent at leisure' is a logical paraphrase. Of course, if after mature reflection a different opinion does not ensue, the average jurist would favor progressing the suit."

Chills and Hot Baths.

Hot water bathing is beneficial in counteracting the effect of a chill. First, it undoes another mischief worked by the chill. The latter has sent too much blood internally, so risking congestion. Heat brings the blood to the surface. Heat is not life, but it is one of the factors of life. Indeed, dissolution always occurs when the internal bodily temperature is greatly lowered. Heat will not keep a body alive and great heat will kill it. In many morbid states of the system, as rheumatism, hot baths are of great service. Warm baths are useless. The heat should be as great as can be borne without pain.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

FISHERMEN.

There Are Two Classes, the Genuine and the Pretenders.

It has sometimes been said that fishermen cannot be manufactured. This is true to the extent that nothing can supply the lack of certain inherent, constitutional and inborn qualities or traits which are absolutely necessary to a fisherman's makeup. Of course there are many who call themselves fishermen and who insist upon their membership in the fraternity who have not in their veins a drop of legitimate fisherman blood. Their self asserted relationship is nevertheless sometimes seized upon by malicious or ignorant critics as permitting the assumption that the weaknesses and sins of these pretenders are the weaknesses and sins of genuine fishermen. But in truth these pretenders are only interlopers who have learned a little fish language, who love to fish only "when they bite," who whine at bad luck, who betray incredulity when they hear a rousing fish story and who do or leave undone many other things fatal to good and regular standing. They are like certain whites called squaw men who hang about Indian reservations and gain certain advantages in the tribes by marrying full blooded Indian women. Surely no just person would for a moment suppose that genuine Indians could be treated fairly by measuring them according to a squaw man standard. Neither can genuine fishermen be fairly treated by judging them according to the standards presented by squaw fishermen.—From "Fishing and Shooting Sketches," by Grover Cleveland.

Officially Dead—Yet Writing.

The Scotsman publishes the following amusing letter, signed "W. A. C.": "On the monument of the Scottish Horse my full name and regimental number appear as having died of disease in South Africa. When I observed my name among the fallen in the papers at the time I wrote to the regiment's headquarters for particulars anent my demise as if a friend of mine. By return I received my birthplace, age, date of enlistment, etc., and that I had died of disease at Carlonia, South Africa, on the 13th of January, 1901. I immediately replied, making some caustic remark, but I suppose it is against military rules to write to men officially dead, as I have never received any reply. Like Brady, I have become my own monument both in Edinburgh and Johannesburg, but unable to get either [illegible] pension, though I served the time at the end of the war, and was engaged as 'unfit for further service' after nearly two years in the field. The most amusing part of the whole thing is that I am both officially killed and dead. Previous to joining the Scottish Horse, I served thirteen years in the Scottish Cameronians (Scotch Rifles), rather than lose an old name (this rule being that you must be born in Scotland) the lie was put to the fourth to their other friends I [illegible] since gave away all [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] a place I never [illegible] as a Scottish Horse trooper."

Most Senior Wrangler.

The Senior Wrangler will soon be an institution of the [illegible]. There is to be a senior wrangler [illegible] good as [illegible] for one more year, and then they will be known no more at Cambridge, except as a tradition.

Such was the outcome of the vote which took place in the Senate House of Cambridge the other afternoon upon the twelve resolutions embodying the salient changes proposed by the special board for mathematics to be made in the mathematical tripos. There was a big muster of members of the Senate. In the gallery ladies and undergraduates were both well represented, and looked down on a scene which was decidedly exciting. The cards having been counted, amid a sudden hush the figures were declared as follows:—Placet, 801; non-placet, 337. There was much more voting to be done, but the placets had won, and their numbers increased, while those of their opponents diminished.

The order of merit was abolished by 309 to 160, great cheering attending the announcement.

Exception.

Myer—Most people consider young Pyker rather fast, do they not?

Gayer—Well, his tailor thinks he's the slowest ever.

Not Noiseless.

"Is his noiseless powder a success?"

"Not from the reports I've heard."

Port Hope Man Frozen to Death

A Port Hope despatch says that the body of Robert Ferguson, a lifelong resident of Port Hope, about 40 years of age, was discovered frozen to death in his hut. It seems that the unfortunate man had evidently retired in an intoxicated condition. The shack was shared by a companion named Hill, who did not discover the body until early in the evening.

New Witness Appears in the Thaw Trial

Mrs. J. J. Caine, a Boston Milliner, Knew the Thaws Intimately---Ten Jurors Have Been Selected.

New York, Jan. 30.—Mrs. J.J.Caine, formerly a buyer for a Boston wholesale millinery house, may be one of the principal witnesses in the Thaw trial. It is said that she is prepared to give her testimony for the defence, as she knew Thaw's wife when as a child she lived with her mother and brother in one room in a West End street lodging house here. She took a deep interest in the child then and subsequently followed her movements closely. When the young woman and Thaw were temporarily separated after their return from Europe in 1904, it was to Mrs. Caine that Evelyn turned for comfort and protection. Mrs. Caine is said to know the circumstances surrounding the meeting of Evelyn Nesbit and Stanford White while she and her mother were living in the lodging house, and their subsequent friendship. After the marriage of Harry Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit, Mrs. Caine continued on friendly terms with them, and it is said that she is in position to tell the jury all about what happened to inspire Thaw to kill White.

New York, Jan. 30.—John S. Glenne, travelling freight agent, 38 years old, was chosen as the tenth juror in the Thaw trial.

New York, Jan. 30.—One hundred new jury talesmen were present yesterday morning when the Thaw trial was resumed before Justice Fitzgerald. They were summoned Monday when it seemed that the old panel of 200 might be exhausted before the jury box could be filled.

ALL THAW FAMILY PRESENT.

All the members of the Thaw family were again present, arriving in two parties. Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and Mrs Mackenzie entered the court room with Mr. and Mrs. George Carnegie.

Miss Mackenzie took her accustomed seat at the farthest of the row of the two rows of chairs assigned to the prisoner's relatives. This is the most inconspicuous place in the family group. Mrs. Evelyn Thaw sat beside her.

Mrs. Carnegie sat with the prisoner's wife until her mother, Mrs. Wm. Thaw, arrived with the Countess of Yarmouth and the two Thaw brothers, Edward and Josiah.

DELMAS AND M'PIKE ABSENT.

Both Attorney Delmas, who is suffering from a cold, and his law partner, Mr. McPike, were absent from the defendant's counsel table when the morning session opened.

This left a gap of two vacant chairs on the prisoner's right and gave him a clear view of the jurors thus far sworn.

THAW STUDIES JURORS.

Thaw profited by the opportunity and studied their faces for some time. Then he exchanged confidences with Attorney Peabody, who sat on his left.

Mr. Jerome questioned the talesmen as to the extent they have been reading the newspapers since the trial began. He desired to know if they had been influenced by the publications, but none of the first batch of talesmen would admit that they had attached importance to anything outside of actual court proceedings.

THAW CHALLENGES JURORS.

Despite the great care and deliberation that are being shown by District Attorney Jerome and Clifford W. Hartridge in the selection of the jurors, the progress made has been gratifying, in the opinion of both sides.

But for the personal direction of the prisoner in challenging talesmen, the jury would have been completed Monday. On three occasions Thaw has challenged peremptorily men accepted by his counsel. Two of these challenges he ordered last week, and one yesterday.

JACK BARRYMORE MAY TESTIFY

An interested spectator yesterday afternoon was Jack Barrymore, the actor. He came to the court room with Detective Flynn, of the District Attorney's office, and in a certain contingency he will be a witness for the prosecution.

Barrymore was acquainted with Evelyn Nesbit when Stanford White made her acquaintance, and is familiar with the circumstances under which the architect came to know her.

Should any attempt be made on the part of the defence to introduce testimony regarding White's acquaintance with Evelyn Nesbit that would tend to blacken the late architect's memory, it is believed that the actor will be put on the stand in rebuttal.

Rain Squall Sunk 50 Chinese Boats

Hong Kong, Jan. 29.—A terrific rain squall broke over Hong Kong yesterday morning, and in the space of 10 minutes sunk over 50 Chinese craft in the harbor, more than 100 natives being drowned. There were no casualties among the white population. Launches from the shore rescued many occupants of the swamped boats.

The harbor was littered with the wreckage from the sunken junks. During the squall the river steamer Paul Beau broke adrift, but she was brought to anchor without sustaining any damage.

Money Order Books and Checks Stolen

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 30. — Four money order books, each containing fifty blanks, which could be made out for $50 each, were stolen from the general office of the Canadian Northern Express Company on Saturday night. In addition to them, a number of pay checks which were being sent out to different stations in the West were also stolen. How the package containing the stolen articles was taken out of the office is somewhat a mystery. Clerks were working around the office late Saturday night and they allowed an employe in the building. After remaining in the office some time this man asked to be allowed to go outside, and was let out through one of the doors without any search being made of his person. At midnight the package, which had been in the office, was noticed to be missing, and the alarm given. The police and the Canadian Northern Railway detectives have been working at the case for two days, and as yet have made no arrest.

Will Found New Zion

Chicago, January 29.—Zion City is to be deserted by Wilbur Voliva, and all those over whom he holds sway. A new Zion City is to be founded probably on the Pacific Coast, and Dr. Dowie and his creditors will be left to fight out the question of supremacy here. The existence of factions in Zion is one of the great contributing cause of the change, together with hopelessness of making the religious leader supreme in both temporal and ecclesiastical affairs so long as the heavy debt hangs over the place.

Kingston, Jan. 30. — Bugler Popay, caught stealing letters from cadets of the Royal Military College, confessed with tears and asked for a chance. He was given a year in the Central Prison. He is aged 24, and was married two weeks ago to a Kingston lady, who is heart-broken. Popay came here from Halifax.

JAPAN'S DEBT HEAVY BURDEN

Yearly Interest is a Hundred Million Yen.

EXTRAORDINARY TAXATION

Debt Seems to Be Increasing Although Nation is at Peace.

London, January 30.—The Jiyu-Tsuchin, of Tokio, publishes an interview with M. Makoshi, an auditor of the South Manchuria Railway, regarding the general prosperity of Japan. M. Makoshi says:

"Actuated under the conviction that the creation of various enterprises, if not successful in themselves, will contribute a great deal to the cause of our economic expansion, I am trying to assist all the endeavors made toward the promotion of various kinds of industrial enterprises. I am always urging men of influence in the industrial circle to adopt the same view with regard to the industrial future of Japan. This is the only way calculated to promote general economic interests of the country. It is quite natural that some apprehensions should be entertained as to the future of enterprises, such as banking and insurance, but we need not hesitate to welcome all the manufacturing enterprises, such as the formation of companies for milling flour, making fertilizer, refining sugar and for various other industrial purposes. Having just emerged out of the late gigantic struggle, Japan has contracted debts to the extent of 2,000,000,000 yen, of which the interest alone will amount to something like 100,000,000 yen a year. Various claims are being made, which tend to the expansion of the expenses of the government. In the financial programme for the first year after the war, even under the item of the ordinary expenditure, we find an increase of nearly 100,000,000 yen. The system of the extraordinary taxation which came into existence as a result of the war will still be continued as a burden upon the shoulders of the people. Moreover, with the practical realization of the post-bellum administrative policy, the expenditure of the government in various respects will be greatly increased. How could we bear all these heavy burdens with the limited financial capacity we have at our command at present? The only effective way to safeguard against this unfavorable expansion of expenses is the creation of home industries, with a view to the development of foreign trade. It is of imperative necessity to promote the general economic interest even if we have to encounter certain evils and drawbacks otherwise. There may be some who act purely for selfish motives, and who would try to snatch away some profits in the midst of the prevailing confused state of affairs, but even the evils arising from these sources will be insignificant compared with the promotion of general economic interests of the country. In the course of a few years, the companies formed simply on a speculative basis, utilizing the raging industrial fever, will meet their doom and will perish out of sight. I am acting on the conviction that within five years hence, the law of the survival of the fittest will be strongly at work among the existing companies. Owing to this plain and simple reason, I have refrained myself from working in favor of the proposals made for the combination of the various other companies with those of ours. Before concluding my remarks, I would like to point out one significant fact that has proved sometimes to be the very source of suspicion, namely, the fact that the same persons are connected with all kinds of enterprises in this country. This phenomenon is attributable to the fact that personnels on our industrial stage move very slowly. The so-called industrial organisers in Japan are not very many in number; hence, in promoting any enterprise, we have to secure the sympathy of a certain coterie of men. This state of affairs is, however, changing at present. With the brilliant success we had in the late war, our influence in Manchuria and Korea has been greatly augmented, giving grand opening for the rising generation. The old men are anxious to retire from the active scene, and are keenly watching the arrival of the time. It does not necessarily follow that because promoters are men advanced in age, therefore, enterprises advocated by them stand on a shaky basis. On the whole, I think it is a great mistake to harbor any pessimistic views with regard to the future business enterprises in Japan."

Will France Agree To the Compromise?

Government Will Have to Recognize the Hierarchy.

Paris, Jan. 30.—The proposition which the French bishops, with the approval of the Pope, have now submitted to the government seems to offer the first real prospect of an adjustment of the conflict between Church and State, under the separation regime. While it involves a material modification of the position taken in the last Papal encyclical, the proposition put forward has all the appearance of an ultimatum. Whether the government, in spite of the concessions made, and making, in the interest of religious peace, will accept a settlement based upon the absolute recognition of the Roman hierarchy, remains to be seen.

The model contract which the bishops have submitted, provides for the virtual lease of the churches in perpetuity to the parish priests by the mayors, the leases being for 18 years, and renewable by their successors. The leases, which carry a stipulation engaging the communal, municipal and state authorities not to interfere with the administration of the church, and parish, are invalid without the express ratification of the bishop, and become null the moment the parish priest ceases the bishop's authorization. The bishops must act together to insure the acceptance of the contracts everywhere or nowhere.

It developed yesterday that the report that Cardinal Richard, The Archbishop of Paris, had summoned another meeting of the episcopate, was not correct.

Boarding House Fire Makes Excitement

Quebec, Jan. 30.—A fire was discovered at six o'clock yesterday morning in a boarding house kept by Narcisse Patry in the upper part of a building belonging to the Hurget estate, and situated at the corner of St. Peter and La Place streets. All the boarders were yet in bed, and some of them had very narrow escape. Mrs. Beaudoin of St. Evariste, Beauce, was frightfully burned in the face and right hand and arm, but will recover. A man named Louis Lemieux, of St. Lambert, County of Levis, fell down a ladder and broke a leg and two ribs. Dr. Thibodeau of Sous Le Fort street was immediately called to the aid of other boarders who were nearly asphyxiated. The upper storeys of the building were reduced to ashes. The lower tenants were, M. Deroime, fruit merchant; Fredette, hotel-keeper; Laframboise, confectioner. They did not save anything. The losses are practically covered by insurance.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp in the garret of the building.

Richmond, Que., January 30.—Mr. T. Millette, an employe of the Eastern Land and Timber Company at Corris, had his right arm so badly mangled that it was necessary to have it amputated. He was at work oiling the shafting when his clothes were caught in the machinery.

Better Not Tinker With the B.N.A. Act

To Increase Representation of Provinces---Maritime Members Want It---The Debate Was Adjourned.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—A debate on the question of amending the B.N.A. in the interests of the Maritime Provinces was the feature of the Commons yesterday.

A resolution was submitted by Mr. Hughes (Prince Edward Island), praying for an amendment to the British North America Act, providing that the Maritime Provinces, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island, shall not at any time have fewer representatives in the House of Commons than the number first was assigned to each when it entered confederation. An interesting debate followed, which was, after the House divided upon the question, adjourned until some future date. The situation that has developed in the working out of the terms of confederation is one that is giving the people of the Provinces on the Atlantic coast some concern. The Maritime Provinces have in recent years fallen somewhat behind the phenomenal development and growth of population of the other Provinces in confederation. The rapid increase of population in Quebec, which has a fixed representation in the Commons, has raised the unit of population, and as the Maritime Provinces have not kept pace in regard to population with the pivotal Province of confederation and the other Provinces, the number of representatives which they send has been diminishing instead of increasing.

A JUDICIAL INTERPRETATION.

Mr. Aylesworth, while sympathizing with the aspirations of Prince Edward Island, gave a strictly judicial interpretation to the agreement under which the three Provinces named in the resolution entered confederation, and held that they had been given the full representation to which under the Act entered into they were entitled. The loss of one or two members was not, he contended, sufficient ground upon which to appeal for an amendment to the B.N.A. Act.

THE PREMIER'S VIEWS.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in a speech which was cordially received by both sides of the House, contended that the principle upon which confederation was formed, was undoubtedly that of representation by populations, and after forty years of experience everyone would agree that the principle must be maintained. At the same time no one would wish to carry the principle to the extreme of committing an injustice to any member of confederation. Although the Maritime Provinces had fallen behind a little in the race, he had confidence they would regain the lost ground in the near future. At all events, he was satisfied the other Provinces could be relied upon to deal fairly with them, and no ground had been shown for the serious steps of seeking at this stage an amendment to the terms of confederation.

A MATTER OF WAGES.

The Minister of Justice introduced a bill to amend the National Transcontinental Railway Act, the object of which, he explained, was simply to make the statute respecting payment of wages upon public works applicable to the contracts of the Transcontinental Railway Commissioners. Under the statute of 1896, workmen entitled to payment of their wages from contractors employed on public works had a summary remedy by which the department could pay the wages out of moneys owing and the present bill was simply to make that principle applicable to the contracts of the Transcontinental Railway Commissioners. The bill was read a first time.

IMPROVED MEMORY

And Increased Weight From Eating Proper Food.

The memory and other important functions of the brain are greatly influenced by the condition of the digestive organs.

This may seem strange to persons who do not stop to realize that every new cell in the brain is made up from the food that is taken into the stomach, because every thought wastes cells which have to be replaced by others.

When the proper food is used and fully digested, so there's no fermentation and poisonous waste manufactured in the body, and the new cells are built in as fast as used up, the brain becomes clear and the memory is sure to be improved.

A Mich. woman writes:

"Three years ago I was in a very bad condition, nerves so worn the least excitement would cause collapse and I was almost to emaciation.

"I tried many changes of diet but nothing seemed to agree with me; what I ate just remained in my stomach and fermented. Seeing Grape-Nuts food advertised I thought I would try it.

"I began with two teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with milk and realized that at last I had found something I could eat without discomfort.

"It was my main food for some time and after a while I could eat other food without the former ill effects; the Grape-Nuts seemed to help digestion every way.

"Strength began to return and from 108 lbs. which was my weight when I began Grape-Nuts, I now weigh 138, and consider myself well. With returning strength, my memory improved greatly. I do not suffer the severe fatigue I used to or any of the evils that used to be every day occurrences. I eat well, sleep well, and am well—thanks to Grape-Nuts for it all." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

SWETTENHAM IS SORRY NOW

Govenor of Jamaica Formally Withdraws His Letter to Admiral.

London, Jan. 30.—The Associated Press learns that the international phase of the Kingston incident has been finally closed by Governor Swettenham formally withdrawing his letter to Rear-Admiral Davis and expressing his regret for having written it.

Swettenham's withdrawal of his letter, and his apology, followed voluminous telegraphic communications to him from the Colonial Office. The despatch, which has now closed the incident, was sent by the governor to the Colonial Office, whence it reached the United States State Department, through the Foreign Office and Charge d'Affaires Howard, in the usual course.

Had Wanted to Come to Canada

London, Jan. 28.—It is stated that Horace George Rayner, the murderer of the "Universal Provider," Whiteley, a short time ago contemplated going to Canada if he could obtain the funds.

Lady DeWinton, a daughter of the late Christopher Rawson of Lennoxville, died at Hampton Court Palace.

The Duke of Connaught has declined the Australian invitation.

The Admiralty denied the statements regarding the Battleship Dominion's alleged instability.

To Extend Hamilton Street Car Line

Hamilton, January 28.—There is likely to be trouble between the majority and minority stockholders of the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville Electric Railway at the annual meeting.

The directors are seeking permission to extend the line from Beamsville to Niagara Falls, but the minority stockholders who represent more than one-third of the stock, with a view to forcing the Cataract Power Company to buy them out at the same figure they paid for the majority stock, have pollled their interests and will fight the proposed extension. No dividends have been paid since the road changed hands two years ago.

The company is making money, but it is all being spent on the roadbed and rolling stock.

GOVERNOR MATA REPORTED KILLED

Surprised Secret Political Meeting in Yard at Caracas.

Willemstadt, Island of Curacoa, Jan. 30.—According to advices received here from Caracas yesterday, Governor Mata, at the head of a body of armed troops, surprised a secret political meeting in the yard of the Vice-President Gomez at Caracas, Venezuela, during the night of January 27, and in the fighting which followed, Governor Mata and several others were killed, and a number, including the commander of the troops, were wounded.

Dr. Luis Mata, ex-Minister of Public Works of Venezuela, was appointed governor of the Federal district of Caracas on the recent return of General Castro to the presidency.

Balloons Went Up Over 18 Miles

Paris, Jan. 30.—The French Academy of Science has received from the Prince of Monaco a report on the chief features of his scientific campaign in the Arctic last year. Nine balloonists were represented among the scientists aboard the two vessels, the Princess Alice and Qvadfjord. The most difficult work was the geodetic survey of the hitherto unexplored mountain region of Spitzbergen. Under the guidance of Captain Isachen, who was with Sverdrup on the Fram expedition, a party of seven Norwegians and one Frenchman, covered 1,600 miles over the interior glaciers, camping between the crevasses without other resources than those carried by their dog train. The party obtained a complete chart of the region, which is covered with glaciers, only the summits of the mountains showing above the ice. The meteorological experiments were especially interesting. Pilot balloons despatched from the Princess Alice explored the atmosphere up to the hitherto unattained height of 20,000 feet. The air was pure, so pure that the tiny balloons, which only measured three feet in diameter, could be followed with the eye for a distance of 128 miles.

Report Too Serious to Be Published

Winnipeg, Jan. 30.—A local paper sent a special correspondent to investigate the possibility of coal supplies at the head of the lake, and the result was so alarming that the report could not be published. It was submitted to the railway and civic authorities. The truth revealed is that there is scarcely one-third the supplies necessary at Port William and Port Arthur, and the city must turn to Duluth. For the time the fuel scarcity has been relieved by a train load. In Saskatchewan it continues very bad.

Many Chinese Famine Stricken

Washington, Jan. 30.—The stories of suffering in China's famine districts are confirmed by mail reports from American consular officers. Consul Haynes, at Nanking, says that the famine is ten times worse than anything in that part of the Empire in the past 40 years, and that the Chinese officials admit their inability to cope with the situation. Consul-General Rodgers, at Shanghai, says that by March 1, the famine is likely to be as severe as that in 1878, when 10,000,000 lives are said to have been lost. He states that there is news of rioting and a state of almost actual rebellion. Mr. Rodgers expects coming conditions grave to effect foreign political and commercial interests. It is estimated that 10,000,000 people are affected by the famine of whom 4,000,000 are starving. Parents are said to be offering their children for sale.

Making a Mark

A well-known local gentleman, who prides himself in the artistic art, went round until midnight last night looking for "marks." Precisely at midnight he made a mark, a black one on a policeman's eye, the result being he spent the remainder of the night a very unwilling guest at Hotel de Cops. He will not know the terms of the above hotel accommodation until ten a.m. this morning, when his Worship will rate his bill according to circumstances. Two other guests registered at this famous old hostelry.

St. Thomas, Jan. 30.—An attempt has been made to burn David Butler's Hotel, at Orwell, which was brought into much prominence during the recent bye-election in West Elgin. A quantity of burnt rags, which had been saturated with coal oil, was found under the verandah, which was damaged to some extent. The fire must have been extinguished in some unknown way, and it is said a woman was connected to the affair. Coroner McCrimmon, of this city, is investigating. Arrests may be the outcome.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

300 MINERS ENTOMBED IN PRUSSIAN COLLIERY

Fire Checked Work of Rescuers and All Still Below Are Likely to Perish.

Berlin, Jan. 30.—An explosion of firedamp occurred yesterday in the Reden pit, a coal mine at St. Johann, Rhenish Prussia, entombing between 250 and 300 miners. The bodies of at least a 100 men have been recovered, ten of whom were fearfully mutilated. A number of the injured have been rescued. The rescuers worked furiously, but they were stopped by a fire that broke out in the pit. The mine is the property of the State. It has long been regarded as unsafe.

The reports concerning the explosion are very conflicting as regards the number of miners involved. The management telegraphed a newspaper last night that 62 had been killed and 67 injured, and that 72 were still below. These latter, it was added, were certainly dead. The accounts from Saarbruecken, St. Johann and Reden are all different. One says that 125 bodies have been recovered and that 250 miners are still below, their fate being doubtful. Another report states that 180 bodies have been taken out, and that 450 men are still in the mine. There are also other variants. The progress of the fire last night compelled the withdrawal of all the rescuers.

Subsequently there was another big explosion. It is not expected that anyone in the mine survives. The catastrophe occurred in one of the remotest workings, 11-4 miles from the main shaft, at a depth of 1,-200 feet.

Emperor William has ordered that a full report of the disaster be sent him.

Experts calculate that the rescue work will take one week.

EXPLOSION IN FRENCH MINE.

Paris, Jan. 30.—An explosion of fire damp in the mines of Lievin, Pas de Calais, yesterday, worked up the populace to a remarkable degree, particularly because of the living memory of the terrible Courrieres disaster last spring. Eight hundred and twelve workmen were underground at the time of the explosion. Six hours after the explosion 748 miners had turned in their lamps, leaving at most 64 possibly entombed, and reports based on the best information late yesterday said it was believed that nearly all the other workmen had succeeded in gaining the surface and that the only casualties had been sustained by Chief Engineer Vansiere, Assistant Engineer Belvey and Chief Lenarend. Vansiere and Belvey's heads were broken. A search was made for Lenarend's body,

Proper Medicine For The Blood

Drives Away That Tired Feeling; Makes You Feel Brisk.

To every one is sure to come that tired, exhausted feeling.

When the blood is weak, thin and debilitated, circulation is slow, and in consequence the system is congested with poisons and wastes that should be driven off.

The sensible person acts on the teachings of experience and cleanses his system with a course of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

No medicine can be more certain to quickly cure. Convenient to take, just one pill at bedtime; safe, because entirely vegetable; unfailing, because proved by thousands that Dr. Hamilton's Pills set you up in a few days.

From Chelsea Que., N. S., comes the following from Mrs. W. A. Reynolds; "A year ago my health began to fail, I lost appetite, became nervous and sleepless. My weight ran down, I became thin, hollow-cheeked, and had black rings under my eyes. I really felt as if the charm of life had left me and when springtime arrived I was in the "Blues." I read of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and got five boxes at once.

"Within a month my appetite and color were good. I gained strength and felt like a new woman. New life and vigor returned, and my friends scarcely knew me. A medicine that will do this should be in every home."

Good health means much to you. Success and happiness depend upon it. The maintenance and source of health is found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE LAW AGAINST COMBINES

There is a controversy as to whether the law against combines should be enforced by criminal prosecution or by lowering the tariff on the goods which compete with the products of the combine. Both plans are good, says The Star, and there is no reason why both should not be used in the same case. The use of the tariff as a preventive of combines is a more modern expedient than the other, and may require more explanation.

The basis of the new law is that the protective tariff is a privilege, conferred upon the protected manufacturer for the benefit of the whole people. If it has not that basis, it has none; for not one could make even a decent pretence of defending a law that was intended to enrich a few at the expense of the whole community. The Parliament which makes the tariff recognizes that the privileges may be abused, and says that when it is abused it shall be withdrawn. What could be more just or more logical?

It may be said that it is unjust to punish all the manufacturers of a certain article because some have entered into a combine. But no real grievance can arise in this way. If there is no way of punishing the makers of combines, they have the outsiders at their mercy, and can force them into the combine or out of business. The Fielding law, if rightly enforced, not only relieves the independent manufacturer from his tyranny, but enables him to hold the whip hand over the combinester. He can lay at the door of the combine the blame for the loss of the protection. He can, by holding up the law as a warning, prevent the formation of the combine.

The criminal law and the tariff law against combines should be enforced by the Dominion authorities as rigorously as they now enforce the law against smuggling. One part of the tariff law is as sacred as the other. The procedure against combines should be as prompt and effective as the seizure of imported goods for undervaluation.

Denounced as Non-Catholic

Rome, January 26.—The Vatican authorities denounce as non-Catholic the new "French Apostolic Catholic Church" organized under the leadership of Henri Ano Houx, whose constitution as a cultural association has been accepted by the French Government, as announced from Paris last week.

Vollvia to Erect A New Zion City

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Zion City is to be deserted by Wilbur Glenn Voliva and all those over whom he holds sway. A new Zion City is to befounded, probably on the Pacific Coast, and Dr. Dowie and his creditors will be left to fight out the question of supremacy here. Last summer Overseer John G. Speicher was sent to Los Angeles to assume charge of the various colonies on the Pacific Coast. It was said Speicher was to select the site for the new colony. This was confirmed yesterday by Voliva.

The existence of factions in Zion is one of the great contributing causes of the change, together with the hopelessness of making the religious leader supreme in both temporal and ecclesiastical affairs, so long as the heavy debt hangs over the place.

"Not political, but Christian necessities," has been the text of many of Voliva's sermons. He believes such a colony, founded in some warm climate where fruit-raising, truck gardening, and agriculture can be engaged in, would prove a success.

THE PARLOR.

It Is Rapidly Becoming an Apartment of the Past.

The American parlor is a thing of the past, according to architects, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. No more will there be a room reserved for state occasions, such as the receiving of formal calls, the visit of the minister and for weddings and for funerals.

"We never take the parlor into consideration any more," said a Cleveland architect recently. "The parlor is merged into the living room. The good old fashioned parlor, which was held in so much reverence in the old days, has no place in modern architecture.

"The demand is for a large living room in a small house, together with a dining room and kitchen. In a larger house there is usually a large living room, library, 'den,' dining room and kitchen.

"I had a client yesterday who desired to have a reception room or parlor not connected with the living room. He decided later to have a sort of reception room in connection with the hallway.

"When the parlor idea began to lose ground we did not make a radical change, but reduced the parlor to a small reception room, isolated from the others, where formal calls could be received. Now we make no provision for the parlor.

"In these days the reception rooms do not have to be closed only to be opened on the occasion of the visit of the family minister or the physician."

There may be many who will regret the passing of the old fashioned country parlor, with all its memories of visitors, courtship and occasions which left impressions which have not been eradicated by the strenuous age of today.

TRIAL BY ORDEAL.

The Queer System That Exists in the Sinai Peninsula.

In the Sinai peninsula trial by ordeal is still practiced. In all criminal cases where no witnesses are forthcoming the judge, "el mabashaa," tests the suspected person by fire, by water or by dream. In the first the judge places an iron pan in the fire until it is redhot and gives it to the accused to touch three times with his tongue. If marks of burning are shown on the tongue the accused is pronounced guilty. The theory apparently is that if he is not guilty the moisture on the tongue prevents it from being burnt; if guilty his tongue would dry up from fear of being discovered.

The test by water is described as follows: "The 'mabashaa' sits with the accused and the spectators in a circle with a copper jug full of water placed in the center. This jug is then made to appear to move round the circle by means of witchcraft or hypnotism. If the jug returns back to the judge the accused is pronounced not guilty, but if the jug stops opposite the accused he is pronounced guilty."

This description is rather wanting in detail, and it is difficult to know how a jug which only appears to move can be a trustworthy index. In the test by dream the "mabashaa" sleeps and sees in a dream if the accused is guilty or not.

Famous Baths.

Marie Antoinette's bath, which was prescribed by her doctor, was a compound of aromatic herbs mixed with a handful of salt. She took it cold in summer and tepid in winter.

Later on Mme. Talbien had brought every morning to her house twenty pounds of strawberries and two pounds of raspberries, which were mashed in her bath of warm milk and water. Another preparation used by the eastern women is composed of barley, rice, herrage, thyme and marjoram boiled together and then thrown into the water.

Ninon de l'Enclos took a bath every night in which there were salt, soda and three pounds of honey mixed with milk, all well beaten in tepid rain water.

Human Freaks to Establish a Union

New York, Jan. 29. — Preliminary steps have been taken by some of the best-known human prodigies now exhibiting in New York to form what will be, in effect, a "freak's union."

Letters have been sent to prominent freaks all over the country soliciting their co-operation. Many favorable replies have, it is said, been received.

An elastic skin man, who is on exhibition at a Fourteenth street museum, is one of the men interested in the new organization.

"The main purpose of the union," he said, yesterday, "is to provide sick benefits and a fund for the burial of unfortunate and indigent members."

THE STICKLEBACK.

After Winning a Fight His Colors Take on Brighter Hues.

Most courtly and gallant of fish is the three spined stickleback, the beloved "tiddler" of British youth. These little fish derive their name from the sharp spines with which they are armed and which they can raise or depress at will.

The female stickleback is the model wife of a model husband. She does not leave her eggs to chance, but establishes a nest or nursery for their reception, over which her irritated little husband keeps a jealous guard.

Woe betide the rival "tiddler" who rashly approaches too closely the domicile of his neighbor during the breeding season. With all his spines fixed for action the warlike parent steams out to offer him battle.

The contest that ensues is desperate, the combatants darting at each other with lightning rapidity, biting and striking at each other with their spines, a well directed cut from which weapon of offense will often rip up the body of the adversary, sending him to the bottom.

But most remarkable of all is the decoration which nature bestows upon the victor. The brilliant green of his mail becomes tinged with gold, while his red throat blushes to a deeper hue than ever.

On the other hand, his vanquished assailant, should he be fortunate enough to escape with his life from the battle, loses his brilliant and martial uniform of red, green and gold and retires to some obscure corner of his native pond, attired in a humble civilian uniform of sober and sorrowful gray.—Dundee Advertiser.

The Fern.

The fern has a most peculiar and original arrangement of its seeds, these being disposed in regular order on the backs of the leaves.

Dutch Fortifications.

The principal defense of the Dutch in the war with Alva was found in the character of their country. Small bastions, long curtain walls and very wide ditches filled with water were the characteristics of a Dutch fortification.

London's Big Clock.

The hour and the quarter weights of Big Ben have to be wound twice a week, the operation taking about five hours in each case. The weight for the quarters is just about a ton and a half, and the hour weight is over a ton. The pendulum, 13½ feet long, vibrates once in two seconds and weighs nearly 700 pounds.

The Red Carnation.

The red carnation is regarded in Spain as an emblem of despair. There is a tradition in Andalusia that the flower sprang from the blood of the Virgin Mary.

Southern Italy.

The poverty of southern Italy does not reveal itself in rags or leanness, but in the multitude of little things the people do—gathering twigs, scraping fertilizers from the roads, cutting handfuls of grass—in short, the intense economy of utilization, which seems odd and painful to the traveler from wasteful America.

Tennyson Embarrassed.

Great crises affect people differently With some the hair turns white; with others emotion expresses itself in in consequent speech. THE PETERBOROUGH MORNING TIMES

Developments in the last few days are reported by the press and verified by the company's officers. Again attract public attention to the famous Sunburst Mines—having added 160 acres of rich lead and zinc land in the heart of the world's richest producing district to original holdings, the Sunburst Company has ordered the permanent equipment of shaft No. 1.

WORK BEGINS ON THE SUNBURST MINES

Machinery being installed and work on No. 1 shaft immediately resumed. Drifting being pushed to connect the No. 2 and No. 1 shafts, which, according to the drilling, will open up immense bodies of ore for the full distance, which is about 600 feet. The Eastman Development Co.'s White Eagle Mill, which was started within the last 60 days, is now producing some eight to ten tons of zinc ore per shift—being the record breaker of the district so far. This property is immediately to the northwest of the Sunburst property. The Charissa, to the southwest, has made a phenomenal strike in the last week. The opportunity to share in this wonderful fortune making is now presented by the development of the Sunburst property. Millions will be taken out of this district in 1907, and shrewd investors are now seizing their opportunity to reap a golden harvest from the vast mineral wealth the Baxter Springs Camp. Many properties are now returning from 25 to 120 per cent. dividends on the investment.

IMMENSE ORE BODIES PROVEN UP

The Sunburst Mining Company now owns a vast property in Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory, generally known as the Baxter Springs District. The history of the company is well known to the public. The great richness has long been admitted. Now development work proves the most sanguine expectations. The Baxter Springs News of December 6, 1906, says:

"The Sunburst is showing up some mighty big ore the past week. J. C. Bryner, who is doing the development work, brought in samples of his latest ore taken out of shaft No. 3, and it certainly shows up fine. This shaft now has 30 feet of drifting to the south, showing fine ore all the way, and the deposit encountered the past week is the same as the Hobo mine is cutting in its north drifts, which are only eighty feet to the south, and which are being driven north to connect with this south drift of the Sunburst. The Indiana, just to the west, is showing up remarkably rich lead and jack in its east drift. Gatlin is encountering the same to the east and north, thus demonstrating that immense ore deposit covers the Ayers-Sloan, White Eagle, Western Mining Co.'s Omaha, Winner, Good Luck, Hobo, Gatlin, Indiana and Sunburst leases, all of which are within a radius of a few hundred feet of each other. This is the richest deposit yet opened up, and while this is a fact it is owing to the intense development in this particular section of the camp, which is proving up the drillings which have been made since the camp started."

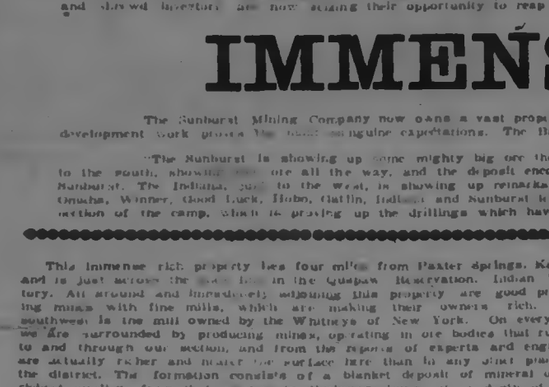
This immense rich property lies four miles from Baxter Springs, Kansas, and is just across the State line in the Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory. All around and immediately adjoining this property are good producing mines with fine mills, which are making their owners rich. Just southwest in the mill owned by the Whitneys of New York. On every side we are surrounded by producing mines, operating in ore bodies that run into and through our section, and from the reports of experts and engineers are actually richer and nearer the surface here than in any other place in the district. The formation consists of a blanket deposit of mineral of the richest quality, from 15 to 30 feet in thickness, lying at a depth of from 50 feet to the first, thus making it very easy and inexpensive to mine.

Thousands of dollars were expended in drilling holes and sinking shafts to prove not only the existence in paying quantities of lead and zinc, but also the unusual richness of the ore. The drilling and shaft sinking have demonstrated a uniform bed of ore over the entire acreage of 15 to 30 feet in thickness, and found only 50 feet under the surface. The water is only sufficient to wash the ore while milling. This is an important point, as in many lead and zinc mines the superabundance of water is a very dangerous factor. The ore is found between well-defined flat beds of limestone, which allows of the ore being taken out without the use of any timbers whatever, pillars of ore being allowed to support the roof, which is thus permanently safe.

The Same Ore Body That Makes Others Rich

No other district can produce so many rich mines in so small an area as this portion of the Baxter Springs Camp. Look at the map and you will see how the Sunburst holdings are the very heart of this section. To the north are the Dark Horse, Isley, Tiplon, Magazka, all well-known properties. To the west are the Sunnyside (the oldest mill in camp), White Eagle, Indiana, Ayers and Sloan. To the south, the famous Hobo (the richest mine ever opened in the district, which has drifted to the south line of the Sunburst in extremely high-grade ore). The ore milled last week by the Hobo ran 10 per cent. In three months 500,000 pounds of rich ore was taken out by the Hobo. This mine is 135 feet from our property and is in the same ore bed. Shaft No. 2 is only 70 feet from the Hobo north drift, with the same kind of ore. The drilling shows this bed to run across the entire Sunburst property. Shaft No. 2 is 400 feet from the northeast drift of the Hobo and is into the same ore bed.

To the south are also the Omaha Mines and Mill and the Good Luck Mine, where the lead has proven to be so heavy. On these properties mills are erected and extremely rich ore extracted, making great returns for the owners.



SHAFT NO. THREE.

ADVANCE IN PRICE

On account of the additional holdings, which are of great intrinsic value, as well as the remarkable proof of richness afforded by the development work already begun, the price of Sunburst stock will not remain long at the present figure.

Every step forward in the workings of the company is attracting wide attention, and is justifying the most liberal expectations.

As this work goes on Sunburst stock is bound to increase in value, as it is bound to be a mighty source of profit. The public demand because of the public confidence in this great property has already absorbed thousands of shares and has steadily advanced the price, but this advance will be small in comparison to what is coming.

The shrewd investor will realize this opportunity now, and will buy before the next big advance.

Buy now and share pro rata in the demonstrated profits of this enterprise. Make your reservation for as many shares as you may desire at the present price, remit 10 per cent. of the full price for the block and send us the balance in nine monthly payments. Upon the completion of your payments your certificate will be sent you for the desired number of shares, fully paid and non-assessable, no matter how much the price of stock may have advanced during that time.

You will thus become a stockholder in this company on equal terms with all the other stockholders, and by payments so small as to be hardly noticed.

The tremendous advantage to the small investor through this plan of payment must be apparent at a glance. By subscribing, for instance, $50.00 now and remitting only $5.00, you will obtain the whole block subscribed for at the present low price, and receive the full advantage of every advance on the whole $625.00 worth, although your first payment is but $5.00.

You really invest $5.00 and get all the benefit of an investment of $625.00. Could anything be fairer?

In order to secure the benefit of this offer it will be necessary for you to make your reservation at once, with the understanding that you will be entirely free to withdraw if if further investigation fails to convince you of the merits of the stock.

The officers of this company, who have the handling of your money, the conduct of the mine, and paying of dividends, are stockholders like any other.

What is more, they are well-known and successful business men. Look them up. Investigate their standing, their acumen, their integrity.

This is a business proposition. Here are business men conducting it. They invite your investigation.

MAP OF DISTRICT SHOWING SUNBURST MINE.

Why Stock is Now Offered at 8c a Share

This issue of fully paid and non-assessable stock is for the purpose of procuring immediate funds to build a concentrating mill, equip the plant with hoisting machinery, and continue development work and put day and night shifts to work—in a word, to apply to this immensely rich property the same development that is resulting everywhere around us in paying great dividends and enormously enhancing the value of the property. Have you ever heard of a failure in a true lead and zinc mine? Have you not heard on the contrary of the fortunes taken out right in this district, not by one, but practically by all mining plants in the last few years? Have you ever had the opportunity to get in on the ground floor of such an investment? At this price the immense profits simply depend on this: Are the facts such as we have stated? Now, this we prove, in detail—we will even arrange to take you to the mine—we refer you to any of the reports on this property—to bankers, engineers, to the owners of surrounding properties; we lay its proposition before your business judgment, with the full appreciation that you owe it to yourself to investigate this simply as an investment in a commercial enterprise.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

In compliance with the request of the officers and stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., a detailed examination of the property was made October 1, 1906, by M. S. Parker, the well-known mining engineer and member American Society C. E. Excerpts from Mr. Parker's report follow:

The Sunburst Mine is located in the southeast corner of Section 29, Township 29, Range 24, east of the Indian Meridian, in the Quapaw Reserve, Indian Territory. It is joined on the south by half its width by the famous Hobo Mine, which produces the richest lead and zinc ore of any mine in the district thus far developed, and prospect drill holes and shafts north of the Hobo, on the Sunburst, show the same grade of ore, and at the same depth and of the same thickness.

The Omaha Mine, which is now successfully operating a new 150-ton mill, also adjoins the Sunburst on the south, and have drifted along their north boundary, striking the same body of ore as developed by prospecting over the line on the Sunburst.

The Hobo and Omaha Mines on the south have been prospected along the line of the Sunburst by drill holes and the present working shafts and drifts, which verifies the results of the prospecting done on the Sunburst Mine, north of the south boundary of the Sunburst.

FORMATION.

This mine comes under the blanket formation class. Out of the last eleven holes drilled, only two holes were barren of lead or zinc ore, most of them showing lead and zinc ore in paying quantities, while some of the holes drilled showed very rich deposits of lead and zinc.

One of the drill holes on the Hobo Mine showed very rich cuttings; within a foot of this hole was a blank spot 50 feet in diameter. The shaft of the Hobo Mine was sunk within 5 feet of a drill hole showing a very rich zinc ore, and went down through such a spot—no zinc ore being encountered—within a foot of the shaft walls very rich zinc and lead ore was found.

The thickness of the ore body, as shown by the drill holes, is from 15 to 30 feet. Ore is struck in shaft No. 2 at 57 feet depth, and the shaft is still in the ore at 76 feet. The drill cuttings at this shaft showed ore down to 91 feet depth. From all the drill holes this depth, viz., 91 feet appears to be the floor or bottom of the ore body, and is very uniform. The roof, however, varies in depth from the surface, 57 feet being the nearest it comes to the surface, while at places it is shown to drop down to 80 feet in depth, but the average depth to roof is very close to 66 feet. This would indicate an average thickness of the ore body of about 25 feet.

Three shafts have been sunk. No 1 shaft, 5 1-2 by 8 feet, is down 92 feet, well timbered, and has good shafthouse and derrick. From this shaft prospect drifts have been driven, in all about 200 linear feet, mostly in leadbearing ground. A small office building is near this shaft.

Shaft No. 2, 5 1-2 by 5 1-2 by 76 feet, well timbered, with shafthouse, derrick and hoisthouse in good repair. From this shaft a drift is driven north 20 feet, then west 50 feet. Head of west drift is in good ore. The face of this drift is in zinc ore, while the bottom is in rich lead ore. This shaft should go down to 90 feet depth. This will give a 70-foot face of ore.

Shaft No. 3, 5 1-2 by 8 1-2 by 70 feet, well timbered—a first-class shaft. No buildings on it. A short drift is running south in good zinc ore. The bottom of this shaft is in good lead ore. These three shafts, with 13 drill holes, constitute the present development of the mine.

The Sunburst is located within four miles of the Frisco Railway, Baxter and Quapaw stations being about equally distant from the mine. A road is projected from Baxter to Miami that will run within a quarter of a mile of the mine. This road is to be a freight and passenger electric road for the accommodation of the mines.

Baxter Springs business men have subscribed $25,000 toward the building of this line, and every assurance is given that the road will soon be constructed. This will make transportation of fuel and mine products materially cheaper than at present, although the cost under present conditions is not heavy.

It is needless to say that work at the Sunburst can be carried on the year round, the climate in this section being so mild in winter that very little trouble is experienced in mining operations in the Quapaw Reserve.

Summing up the points in this report, I will say that you have a first-class lead and zinc property. Rarely will one find a tract of ground so universally mineralized as the Sunburst Mine. If you follow the recommendations I have made regarding development, I feel assured you will reap your reward in good dividends. Trusting that this report will meet with the approval of the President and Stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., I subscribe myself,

Very respectfully yours,
M. S. PARKER.

As an investment proposition we believe that the Sunburst Mine will certainly pay no less than 25 per cent. We quote from other reliable sources the following figures showing the enormous annual dividends earned by lead and zinc mines in the Southwest field:

Oronogo Mining Co.	74 per cent.	Katydid Mining Co.	50 per cent.
Collinwood Mining Co.	75 per cent.	Mocking Bird Mining Co.	54 per cent.
Waddell Zinc Co.	27 per cent.	John Jackson Mining Co.	60 per cent.
Centaur Lead and Zinc Co.	30 per cent.	Omega Mining Co.	117 per cent.
Hudson Mining Co.	35 per cent.	Dinger Mining Co.	120 per cent.
B. & H. Mining Co.	40 per cent.	Chapman Mining Co.	120 per cent.
		Underwriters' Land Co.	60 per cent.

Property of Fabulous Wealth

HEMMED IN BY PRODUCING MINES

Thousands of dollars expended on shafts and development work show ore runs from 8 to 12 per cent—while a yield of 4 per cent. in Center Creek Mine has produced nearly $7,000,000

The increasing demand for lead and zinc is too obvious to need detailed statement. Both metals are in steady demand and at steadily advancing prices. The prices have gone up since 1899 from $21.12 per ton for lead and $36.51 for zinc to $42.00 for lead and $65.00 for zinc. The lead and zinc industry is now right at the front in the great commercial enterprises of the country. This southwestern district produces 35 per cent. of the zinc produced in the United States.

The earning capacity of the Sunburst's property, handling ore that averages from 8 to 15 per cent. can be estimated from the production of other companies. The Center Creek Mining Company, of Webb City, Mo., from an 80-acre tract, has taken out nearly $7,000,000 and is still producing.

The report for the year 1906 shows the following production during that year from the several properties mentioned:

	Acres.	Value.
American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co.	4000	$ 987,160.00
A. W. Taylor	120	150,750.00
J. W. Aylor	40	676,671.00
The Burgner Mining Co.	80	194,579.00
Center Creek Mining Co. (production to date)	200	6,052,194.00
Mrs. E. J. Chinn	120	225,700.00
Majestic Consolidated Zinc & Lead Co.	52	254,000.00
Continental Zinc Co. (production to date)	300	1,575,593.00
Consolidated Troup Mining Co.	40	193,617.00
Daughtery-Davy-McMillan Estate	60	455,006.00
The Empire Zinc Co.	141	170,313.00
Fox Heirs	20	120,134.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1905		1,261,551.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1904		1,976,630.00
John G. Guinn	640	87,847.00
Pittsburg-Joplin Lead & Zinc Co.	10	50,000.00
Pittsburg-Missouri Zinc & Lead Co.	170	413,764.00
United Zinc Co.	136	200,276.00

From these figures it can be seen readily how such large dividends are paid. The Dinger Co. pays 120 per cent., the Chapman 120 per cent., the Omega 117 per cent., and many others yield enormous returns.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF PROPERTY.

These profits are possible because of the concentrated richness of the ore, the fact that it is near the surface, that it requires no expensive machinery, that the buyers come to the mine and take the product right from the mine, that the climate is favorable, that the market is advancing, and the owners of the mine get steadily improving values for their ore produced. This is why lead and zinc mining is the safest and most profitable investment in the world today. Do you want 100 per cent. or more on your money?

Press Reports Rich Strike by Sunburst Mining Comp

From the Baxter Springs News, of November 8, 1906.

One of the richest strikes made in the Baxter Springs mining camp, south of this city, for some time past, was that made by the Sunburst Mining Co., operating on one of their properties just east of the Sunnyside and north of the Hobo. The Sunburst Co. have three shafts in ore, with a large amount of drifting done, and this strike was made in No. 1 shaft, and apparently in the Hobo run of ore, which has always been considered one of the very best in the Quapaw reservation. The farther this run of ore is developed the richer it is showing.

The Sunburst Mining Co. also has made a very important deal the past week by purchasing from the Great Northern Mining Company 240 acres of leases one mile east of the Johanna, less than one mile southeast of the new rich strike made by the Irish Maid, and about two miles west of Monkey Hill, where the most famous lead strike was made ever encountered anywhere in the southwest. The Monkey Hill strike showed as much as 28 inches of solid lead of the very highest grade. The Great Northern, which is one of the largest holders of the best leases in this camp, made this sale the past week.

The purchase of this large tract of land by the Sunburst crowd means important developments in that section in addition to those already made, and, following on the heels of the rich lead strike made on the Charley Bluejacket land to the north of the tract and its purchase by a syndicate of Minnesota iron men, will cause an unusual amount of activity in that part of the camp.

The Sunburst Mining Co. will also start drifting their No. 1 shaft on the tract east of the Sunnyside to encounter the rich strike made to the north of it in the Isley mine. The Isley has encountered ore which will undoubtedly yield all the way from 25 per cent. to 90 per cent. The strike was made near the north line of the Sunburst tract.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Can you doubt it? Is it possible that your heart still turns toward the heresy of your youth?"

"No, father; but it is not in nature to forget that my father and my grandfather"—

"Nay; they have answered for their own sins. Is it possible that the church has been mistaken in you? Do you, then, refuse the first favor which she asks of you? You would accept her aid, and yet you would give none in return."

Mme. de Maintenon rose with the air of one who has made her resolution. "You are wiser than I," said she, "and to you have been committed the interests of the church. I will do what you advise."

"You promise it?"

"I do."

Her two visitors threw up their hands together. "It is a blessed day," they cried, "and generations yet unborn will learn to deem it so."

She sat half stunned by the prospect which was opening out in front of her. Ambitious she had, as the Jesuit had surmised, always been ambitious for the power which would enable her to leave the world better than she found it. But close at the heels of her joy there came a sudden revulsion to doubt and despondency. Was not all this fine prospect a mere day dream? And how could these men be so sure that they held the king in the hollow of their hand? The Jesuit read the fears which dulled the sparkle of her eyes, and answered her thoughts.

"The church redeems its pledges swiftly," said he. "And you, my daughter, you must be as prompt when your own turn comes."

"I have promised, father."

"Then it is for us to perform. You will remain in your room all evening."

"Yes, father."

"The king already hesitates. I spoke with him this morning, and his mind was full of blackness and despair. His better self turns in disgust from his sins. I have to see and speak with him once more, and I go from your room to his. And when I have spoken he will come from his room to yours, or I have studied his heart for twenty years in vain." They bowed low to her, both together, and left her to her thoughts.

An hour passed, and then a second one, as she sat in her fauteuil, her tapestry before her, but her hands listless upon her lap, waiting for her fate. Her life's future was now being settled for her, and she was powerless to turn in one way or the other. Daylight turned to the pearly light of evening, and that again to dusk, but she still sat waiting in the shadow. At last, however, there came a quick, sharp tread, crisp and authoritative, which brought her to her feet with flushed cheeks and her heart beating wildly. The door opened, and she saw outlined against the gray light of the outer passage the erect and graceful figure of the king.

"Marry the king!"

"Sire, one instant and mademoiselle will light the lamp."

"Do not call her." He entered and closed the door behind him. "Francoise, the dusk is welcome to me because it screens me from the reproaches which must lie in your glance even if your tongue be too kindly to utter them."

"Reproaches, sire! God forbid that I should utter them!"

"When I last left you, Francoise, it was with a good resolution in my mind. I tried to carry it out, and I failed—I failed. I remember that you warned me. Fool that I was not to follow your advice!"

"We are all weak and mortal, sire. Who has not fallen? Nay, sire, it goes to my heart to see you thus."

He was standing by the fireplace, his face buried in his hands, and she could tell by the catch of his breath that he was weeping.

"I cannot do without you, Francoise!" he cried. "I am the loneliest man in all this world, like one who lives on a great mountain peak, with none to bear him company. Who have I for a friend? Whom can I rely upon? Some are for the church; some are for their families; most are for themselves. But who of them all is single minded? You are my better self, Francoise. You are my guardian angel. What the good father says is true, and the nearer I am to you the farther am I from all that is evil. Tell me, Francoise, do you love me?"

"I have loved you for years, sire."

Her voice was low, but clear, the voice of a woman to whom coquetry was abhorrent.

"I had hoped it, Francoise, and yet it thrills me to hear you say it. Will you be my wife, Francoise?"

And so the moment had in very truth come. She paused for an instant, only an instant, before taking this last great step, but even that was too long for the patience of the king.

"Will you not, Francoise?" he cried.

"May God make me worthy of such an honor, sire!" said she. "And here I swear that if heaven double my life every hour shall be spent in the one endeavor to make you a happier man!"

She had knelt down, and the king, still holding her hand, knelt down beside her.

"And I swear, too," he cried, "that if my days also are doubled you will now and forever be the one and only woman for me."

And so their double oath was taken, an oath which was to be tested in the future, for each did live almost double their years, and yet neither broke the promise made hand in hand on that evening in the shadow girt chamber.

CHAPTER IX.

It may have been that Mlle. Nanon, the faithful confidante of Mme. de Maintenon, had learned something of this interview, or it may be that Pere la Chaise, with the shrewdness for which his order is famous, had come to the conclusion that publicity was the best means of holding the king to his present intention, but, whatever the source, it was known all over the court next day that the old favorite was again in disgrace and that there was talk of a marriage between the king and the governess of his children. By midday there was none in the court who had not heard the tidings save only Mme. de Montespan, who, alarmed at her lover's absence, had remained in haughty seclusion in her room and knew nothing of what had passed.

Louis in his innate selfishness had been so accustomed to regard every event entirely from the side of how it would affect himself that it had never

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

Be Hopeful, Avoid Worry and See the Amusing Side of Life.

Women more than men are possessed with a dread of growing old, not realizing that maturity has its charms and compensations. We wish young people oftener had it impressed upon them that they may provide for a happy old age by laying up a reserve of sound health and a store of happy memories as well as by cultivating tastes and resources which will outlast youth. As for those who are already approaching middle age, there is no surer way to grow old prematurely than to dread the future. It is essential, if we wish to keep young, to cultivate that hopeful habit of mind so characteristic of youth—the hope which makes one able to say with Browning, "The best is yet to come," and with Lucy Larcum, "Every year life is larger and deeper and more beautiful in its possibilities." Allied with this attitude of expectancy must be the ability to see the amusing side of life. Worry and vexation over what would better be laughed at result in disfiguring wrinkles. Above all, if the years bring us, as they should, a better understanding of ourselves, a broadening of active human sympathies, a firmer faith in Providence, we shall find life abundantly worth the living, no matter what may be the number of our birthdays.

The Heart of a Child.

That which disparages us and quickens revolt is no less a factor in a child's emotional life. But there is this difference—we have the better opportunity to defend ourselves and to obtain reparation. So there is a certain pathetic pleasure in standing with humanity where its joys, its longings, its embarrassments and its disappointments are simplest and newest, and, perforce, where impotency is absolute. Give me this most uncommercial, this divinest of enterprises for my own! Give me a child to be at home with, to be in absolute confidence with! If I cannot refashion my warped, wrinkled and discolored old soul into the unbiased graces and the ethereal purity of the spirit of the child, let me now and again open that little door and shut myself in that little heart, just for the sheer delight of it.—Patterson Du Bois in Success Magazine.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last. "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 30 acre ore and about 60ft feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 30 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $100,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 60 feet, and it shows 8 inch nicollite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1284-982-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 700 oz. silver, which at the present price of 50c. is equal to $350.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right adjoin on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 60 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto. Send today or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

STEAMBOAT DRAMA.

Floating Palaces That Furnish Entertainment For River Towns.

Anybody who lives in a town on the banks of the Mississippi river and hears a calliope play at 5 o'clock in the morning knows that it is not a circus that is coming to town. It is the floating palace, which is the name given to a unique form of theatrical transportation entertainment that is used only on the river and its tributaries, the Ohio and the Missouri.

There are at the present time more than a dozen floating palaces. Each of them carries a well equipped stage, a company of from sixteen to thirty-five actors and actresses, and has seating capacity for from 200 to 700 persons. Each of the boats has a steam piano with which the people from the countryside are called to the landings, where the shows are given on the boats, and most of the boats carry pretty fair bands.

Nowhere else in this country or abroad is the drama carried up and down rivers on steamboats. Barring the railroad, the favorite means of transportation in England and in continental Europe is the wagon. There are many wagon shows in this country, but they would find it difficult to reach all the towns that are easily reached by the floating palaces. Many of the towns that get all their dramatic sustenance from these floating playhouses have no railroad connections whatever. If it were not for the shows that float down or up to them by boat they would have to go without theatrical fare.

Mark Twain, who knows the big river about as well as anybody, used to be well acquainted with the old time managers of a few of the floating palaces. He introduces one of them into "Huckleberry Finn." But times change, and men change with them, and the floating palace of today is much more elaborate and much finer than were the floating palaces of the older time.

They play to thousands of persons each season, and they give pretty good shows. Their managers, who live in Cincinnati and St. Louis, make good profits on the investment. — Chicago Tribune.

The Pace of Admiralty.

It is reported that Japan will see the Dreadnought and go Great Britain 3,000 tons better, laying down a battleship of 23,000 tons service displacement. Of course the mistress of the seas will not ignore the challenge, and we must prepare to hear of a British battleship of 26,000 tons. The Japanese, being a proud and progressive people, will not sit still and may be counted on to push the building mark on their side to 29,000 tons. By that time our own big ship enthusiasts will wake up, and the taxpayers will be invited to contribute the cash for a floating fortress of 32,000 tons. So does the race for naval supremacy go, the mind of the competing world being at present fixed upon displacement as if there was no other factor to be taken into account.—Boston Transcript.

From a communication read to the Association of Belgian Chemists it seems that continental bakers are in the habit of mixing soap with their dough to make their bread and pastry nice and light. The quantity of soap used varies greatly. In fancy articles like waffles and fritters it is much larger than in bread. The soap is dissolved in a little water. To this is added some oil, and the mixture, after being well whipped, is added to the flour. The crumb of the bread manufactured by this process is said to be lighter and more spongy than that made in the ordinary way.

An Overworked Title.

A New York book publisher declares that the house business in recent literature has been overdone. "No house book will come from our presses from now on," he says. He cites "The House of Mirth," "The House of Fulfillment," "The House on the Hudson," "The House With the Green Shutters," "The House of a Thousand Candles" and a half dozen other literary structures of like character erected recently as an evidence that architecture is being overdone by the makers of books of fiction, to say nothing of "The House That Jack Built."

Mexican Holidays.

El Mundo, a Mexican evening paper, in referring to the labor situation in Mexico, complains of the excessive number of holidays which the peon thinks he is entitled to and which he takes regardless of considerations. Out of 365 days of the year, according to that newspaper, 131 are devoted to obligatory and traditional idleness. The appalling calculation is made up as follows: Sundays, 52; saint Mondays, 52; solemn feast days, 15; holy days, 3; national feasts, 3; family feasts, 6; total, 131.

Indians in Connecticut.

Connecticut still has a few Indians in its midst. The secretary of the Home Missionary society of the state, Rev. Joel S. Ives, recently preached to a native audience at Mohegan, a Congregational church under the care of the society. There are about twenty-five members, and a young woman has recently taken charge there. The place is between Norwich and New London. —Indian's Friend.

Voting on a Play.

M. Boggiano's voting apparatus at theaters has received but scant notice. When the spectator leaves his seat he is presented with a disk, which he throws into a certain aperture if he considers the piece good and into another if he thinks it bad.—Paris Journal des Debats.

Canadian Clubs.

The Calgary Albertan is agitating in the effort to form a Canadian Club The idea of forming Canadian Clubs all over the country is a splendid one and the man who first thought of such a simple organization whereby busy men can keep in touch with what vitally concerns their country, has an inspiration. Much smaller place than Calgary have Canadian Clubs and once established Calgary would wonder how it remained without one for so long a time.

ROSAMOND CHIEF GOLD MINING CO.,

Gentlemen, I have made a special examination of the property of your company, and I find this property a valuable one, consisting of four claims, namely, the Mary Anna, Maggie, Alice, and Little Gem. All four have valuable ledges with average assay value of $20.25 per ton. This average is taken from the surface to a depth of 15 feet. I am satisfied it will do a great deal better with depth and as developing continues.

KING SEES A GHOST.

But Still Continues to Occupy the Same Chamber Once a Year and to Enjoy It.

King Edward, it is claimed, vouches for the existence of at least one of the four ghosts which haunt Rufford Abbey, where he has been staying throughout the last week, during the Doncaster races, as the guest of Lord and Lady Savile, writes the Marquise de Fontenoy. Lady Savile formerly lived in this country, her first husband, Horace Helyar of Cocker Court, Somersetshire, having been for a time attached to the English embassy at Washington. Moreover, the name Savile is one familiar to students of American history. For it was Sir George Savile, one of the former owners of Rufford Abbey, who took so prominent a part in the House of Commons in championing the rights of the American colonies prior to the outbreak of the war of independence, which, if he had had his way, he would have averted by means of wise concessions. He also championed the cause of Catholic emancipation, for which his own house was wrecked by the Gordon rioters.

The particular ghost at Rufford Abbey which is said to have presented itself to King Edward takes, according to one account, the form of a white-haired, old looking old monk. The three other ghosts likewise are garbed as Cistercian monks, and in the churchyard of Edwinston, near by, may be seen the grave of a man who, according to the inscription on his tombstone and to the entry in the parish register, "died of fright after seeing the Rufford ghost."

King Edward, however, is apparently insensible to any fear of spooks, for he visits Rufford Abbey nearly every autumn for the Doncaster races, thoroughly enjoys his stay there, and invariably occupies precisely those state apartments which are supposed to be the haunted parts of the abbey—apartments which, reserved for the use of royalty, have been inhabited in turn by King James I., Charles I., and Charles II.

That these ghosts should take the form of Cistercian monks is not surprising when it is borne in mind that Rufford was a Cistercian abbey in pre-reformation times. The park around it once formed part of that Sherwood forest where Robin Hood and his merry men plundered the rich for the benefit of the poor. The more modern portion of the abbey dates from the reign of Queen Elizabeth, but the greater part of it is hundreds of years older, especially the magnificent crypt, now used as a servants' hall, and unaltered since the times of the monks, with its six foot thick walls.

At the time of the reformation, Rufford Abbey was bestowed by King Henry VIII. upon his favorite, George, Earl of Shrewsbury, who at his death bequeathed it to his son-in-law, Sir George Savile. Rufford Abbey remained in the possession of the Savile family until the death of Sir George Savile without issue at the close of the eighteenth century, when it passed to his sister, married to the Earl of Scarborough.

It was her grandson, the eighth Earl of Scarborough, who, having a family of natural children for whom he wished to provide, left to them the succession to the Rufford Abbey estates, the Earldom of Scarborough, the other Scarborough estates, including Lumley Castle, going to his cousin. He stipulated that each of his illegitimate descendants on succeeding to Rufford Abbey should take the name of Savile, and the arms.

The present Lord Savile is his grandson, who succeeded an uncle, his father's elder brother, a famous diplomatist, who was created a peer on retiring from the service. The present Lord Savile is childless, and at his death, as there are no other descendants of the eighth Earl of Scarborough, his grandfather, the Rufford Abbey estates will revert to the Earldom of Scarborough.

Drooping Mustaches.

Drooping mustaches preserve the health of millers, bakers, coal heavers and ashmen, keeping the dust out of their lungs.

The Turkish Tongue.

The Turkish language is said by scholars to be the softest and most musical language of modern times, being better adapted to the purpose of musical notation and recitative than even the Italian.

Bridal Wreaths.

The bridal wreath is usually formed in Germany of myrtle branches; in France and England, of orange blossoms; in Italy and French Switzerland, of white roses; in Spain, of red roses and pinks; in the islands of Greece, of vine leaves; in Bohemia, of rosemary; in German Switzerland, of a crown of artificial flowers.

THE FUNNY FROG.

How Would You Like to Be In His Bed All Winter Long?

Among the many creatures that sleep in the winter are the frogs, with their very long hindlegs, short forelegs and with big black eyes on each side of their very big mouths.

When the cold days come and the water begins to freeze in the pond the frogs know that it is time to go to bed for the winter. Down they go and their families with them to the bottom. Then they begin to dig with their long hind feet into the soft mud. They work themselves down into their beds backward until at last they are covered under the mud, all except the tips of their noses.

There they go to sleep. After awhile they have an ice spread over them, and they can sleep safely all winter. They do not get hungry all this time.

When spring comes and the sun grows bright and warm and Jack Frost carries away their covering, old father frog begins to push his nose up out of the mud until his ears are uncovered. Then he nudges mother frog. "Wake up!" he says. "Don't you hear everybody busy up there?" And, oh, how sleepy she is, poor thing! But he had tried the water and found it warm, and they must not rest any longer.

Conundrums.

What is it that has neither flesh nor blood, yet has four fingers and a thumb? A glove.

What is it that no one wishes to have and yet when he has it does not wish to lose it? A bald head.

Why is a historical event like a parcel untied and tied again? Because it is recorded.

A Spoiled Story.

Young Tommy was a reckless chap
As ever you did spy.
He crept into the pantry once
And ate a pot of lye—
No, no; I mean a lot of pie!

The pie did not agree with Tom,
So very large a piece.
He felt so ill he hastened off
To find a pot of grease—
Dear me, I mean a grot of peace!

He wept with pain and doubled up
As tight as any clam.
"Oh, dear, I feel as bad as when
I ate that jot of lamb—
No, no; I mean that lot of jam!"

This story gets so mixed at times
Under my very eyes,
I'll stop. So far what I have said
Seems like a lack of pies—
Dear me, I mean a pack of lies!

Great Men Who Drank.

Cato was a hard drinker, while, in the language of one writer, old Ben Jonson was constantly "pickled." The poet Savage used to go on the hardest kinds of "tears," and Rogers observed, after seeing his own statue, "It is the first time I have seen him stand straight for many years." Byron says of Porson, the great classical scholar, "I can never recollect him except as drunk or brutal, and generally both." Keats was on a spree once that lasted six months. Horace, Plato, Aristophanes, Euripides, Alcaeus, Socrates and Tasso of the old timers and Goethe, Schiller, Addison, Pitt, Fox, Blackstone, Fielding, Sterne and Steele were all hard drinkers at intervals.—London Times.

He Was Realistic.

A newly enrolled volunteer was rather alarmed during his first experience of a sham fight, especially as he heard the colonel in command declare that everything was to be done "the same as in actual warfare." No sooner was the first blank cartridge fired than the frightened soldier dropped his gun and took to his heels.

"Hey, why are you running away?" shouted his captain as the man dashed by him.

"It's all right, sir. I'm doing the same as I would do in actual warfare." —London Answers.

Jealousy.

The beautiful girl's sweet smiles changed to dark frowns.

"You deceiver!" she hissed. "I hate you!"

The young man dropped his cane in astonishment.

"Hate me!" he gasped. "Why, it was only yesterday you said you loved every hair on my head."

"Yes, but not every hair on your shoulder," she retorted as she took aloft a golden bit of evidence.

A contract has been made with the Jenckes Machine Company, of Sherbrooke, Que., for the Immediate Erection of a Stamp Mill on the "KING OF THE NORTH" Mines, and they have agreed to deliver same by

February 1st

This mill should be in operation by March 15th, and dividends should be forthcoming immediately thereafter.

The great body of ore on the "KING OF THE NORTH" is from several blow outs, and the ore has already been mined by nature.

If you wish to make an investment in mining securities, you cannot do better than to buy the "KING OF THE NORTH" shares, as we believe that they will be worth several dollars each in a very few months.

We offer only FIFTY THOUSAND shares of "King of The North" Mines Company at ONE DOLLAR per share, and reserve the right to advance the price without notice. Remit by Registered Letter, Draft on Montreal, or Certified Cheque to

Impure Blood

Clogs the Kidneys
Slows the Heart
Flags the Brain.

Weakens Every Part of the Body.
Causes Organic Diseases.

Just as strength is the natural outcome of pure blood, so is debility and sickness the result of impure blood.

To know how quickly, how surely Ferrozone cures, to see how it rebuilds and restores, you have only to read the following letters—read them carefully—see if the symptoms resemble yours.

Miss Evelyn M. Gaels, of Kingston, writes: "I have had an attack of blood disorder which broke out in horrid looking pimples. They were ugly, red, disfiguring blotches that ruined the appearance of my face. I tried all sorts of medicine, but the pimples didn't leave. I was recommended Ferrozone and gave it a trial. I noticed an improvement after the second box, and kept up the treatment which finally cleared my skin. As the result of Ferrozone I have a clear healthy complexion and can recommend it to all other young women similarly affected."

Another young lady well known in society circles of Springfield, who derived exceptional benefit from Ferrozone, says: "I felt it my duty to make known the value of Ferrozone. My trouble was poor, weak blood, and as a consequence my lips were pallid, and my cheeks had no color. I wasn't at all strong, and required a bracing tonic. Ferrozone soon brought color to my cheeks, improved my appetite and made me stronger than I have been in years. I favor Ferrozone because it is so simple to take and works so quickly."

No blood remedy exists that has the power to cure, to heal, to restore like Ferrozone; try it. 50c per box at any drugstore.

Mr. Culverwell Offers Cheap Power

Mr. J. A. Culverwell, manager of the Central Ontario Power Co., now promises to give Peterborough cheap power. If not given inducements and entry into Peterborough, he has intimated that the Burleigh Falls' power, which his company controls, will go to Oshawa. He noted yesterday, anticipating last night's meeting of the Board of Trade, to consider cheap power for Peterborough, that his company could supply thousands of horse powers. He considers that his company can supply 50 per cent more horse power than the Cereal Company. He will be in the city next week to submit a proposition to the city.

Farmer Steals Bottle of Water

Yesterday a local wine clerk, got even with a Monaghan farmer, whom he thought had done him a wrong. It seems that the barkeep in question, for several years, has suspected that this farmer had surreptitiously "swiped" a bottle of whiskey, if left unguarded on the bar. Yesterday this farmer came into the bar, spent some money, and proceeded to hang round. The white-jacketed dispenser of wet goods, took an empty bottle of Seagram or G. & W., filled it with water, replaced a capsule from a full bottle on that full of water, placed the bottle of water on the bar and awaited developments. The farmer evidently spied the apparently full bottle of his favorite medicine and hung round for an hour, watching his opportunity. Every time he approached the bait the barkeep stepping up asked "What did you want, sir?" After the farmer had spent some $2.50 and some four hours' time, the barkeep gave him a chance and the "doctored" bottle disappeared. It is to be hoped that the ultimate result was a cure for both intemperance and lack of honesty.

SOME PEOPLE KNOW

The Facts About Coffee.

Perhaps you know coffee contains the same kind of a drug as cocaine, morphine, strychnine—an alkaloid?

Perhaps you know tea contains the same thing and that neither coffee nor tea are foods?

Foods are necessary to do two things: Repair tissue waste from day to day, and furnish the individual vital heat and energy. Tea and coffee do not do the first and only make believe they do the last.

A N. Y lady found out the cause of her and her husband's trouble. She writes:

"Using tea and coffee from childhood up, it was a hard thing to give them up, but my doctor told me they were killing me. Of late years I had trouble with my head, my memory was poor and my nervous system entirely upset. At last I was forced to keep my bed.

"My husband, also, had to give up coffee—he was a nervous wreck from drinking it.

"Postum was then brought into our household, and while on my sick bed I drank it, supposing it was merely a substitute for coffee. I drank it for breakfast and supper, and slowly but surely began to regain my health.

"I soon found out it was Postum that was doing the good. Now I am well and my nerves are stronger than I ever dared hope. My husband found Postum was a great benefit to him. He is now a strong man.

"If people knew that the dreadful diseases some of them suffer from, could easily be prevented by banishing that poisonous thing named coffee, and use in its stead a pure, healthful drink like Postum, I am sure there would be fewer sick and miserable creatures." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Mr Thomas Herd Has Passed Away

Respected Citizen of Ennismore Died Very Suddenly Whilst at Work.

This afternoon the funeral of the late Mr. Thos. Herd, one of Ennismore's most respected residents, who passed away on Monday, will be held from the residence of his son Mr. R. C. Herd, Bridgenorth, to the cemetery of that village.

It seems that the deceased, on Monday, whilst engaged at work on Mr. W. Linster's farm, suddenly dropped dead from heart failure.

The late Mr. Herd, who was 68 years of age, was born in the township of Hope and came to Peterborough County some twenty-five years ago, living in Smith a while after which he removed to Ennismore. His wife predeceased him a few years ago. His father, the late John Herd, died six years ago, at the age of 92 years.

Two sons and one daughter, as well as a brother and several sisters are left to mourn his loss. The sons are R. C. Herd of Bridgenorth and W. A. Herd, of Ennismore, and the daughter is Mrs. Killinbeck of this city.

Good Progress at Rapid Tool Co.

This Company Now Turning Out From One Thousand to Twelve Hundred Bits Per Diem.

Yesterday a Times representative dropped into the Rapid Tool Company's works, and was very courteously shown through by Mr. Creedon the manager.

This recent addition to Peterborough's family of industries is now not only a most busy but most interesting spot to visit. Since the last description of the Rapid Tool Company's factory, as given in The Times, many changes have been made. These include a new office for the superintendent furnished with desks and all modern office equipments. The polishing room with its long rows of fixtures is now complete and kept busy.

In the rear shop where the heavy steam hammers, forges, etc., may be seen the latest demonstrations of modern mechanics. There were yesterday working hammers, which at every fall, delivered blows of 50, 100 and 600 pounds each respectively.

The company is now turning out from 1000 to 1200 of their modern and unique bits per day. They expect within the next week or so to begin shipping their bits to all part of the Dominion.

Walter S. Getting Alright

Walter S., the horse that had one of the front legs broken at the recent local races, now under care of Dr. Johnston, V.S., at the Grand House stables, in charge of Mr. W. Dryden, is progressing favorably, and will be ready for the track next summer. Walter S. belongs to Messrs. Weston and Flemming, Toronto. This is a cure that reflects a great credit upon a local veterinary, as the bones have knitted well, and the leg kept in shape.

If You Read This

It will be to learn that the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung disease (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Brick, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such positive and professional endorsement—world's more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous, harmful or habit-forming drugs and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful agent in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent, medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Local Students at Trinity College

The Trinity College, Toronto, "Year Book," for 1906, has reached The Times. This book of Canada's leading colonial university, which holds a royal charter of many years ago is of special local interest, as amongst the many local citizens, past and present, who have studied or graduated under its venerable roof, are the following names, viz:

Dr. Jessie Harnie, Dr. W. E. Brown, Dr. D. C. Cumming, C. H. Clendenan, Dr. C. B. Coughlin, Rev. Canon Davidson, Curtez Fenwenden, Dr. E. A. Hammond, Dr. J. W. King, Dr. M. McClelland, Dr. W. M. One interesting feature of the list of those who were students at Trinity, as conveyed by the Year Book, is the world-spread diversity of location of this university's graduates. Their present addresses range [illegible] China, from New Orleans to Hudson Bay, from New York to San Francisco from Boston to Calcutta, India, from Prince Albert to Rio de Janeiro, and from any old place to any other part of the world.

CATARRH

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small size Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. On this account I am so certain that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help and relief, to so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing ointness that you put in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 25c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a greasy, cream like Petrolatum. Imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative, Stomach Catarrh, a lack of general strength, dizziness, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc., surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

City Board of Works Meeting Last Night

The Backing Up of Water at Victoria Avenue Will be Remedied---Contractor Sheehy Appears Before the Board re the Cedar Street Sewer.

The city Board of Works met in busy session last night, when there were present, Mayor R. F. McWilliams, and Chairman Ald. Geo. Duncan, Johnston, McIntyre and Wilson.

The Board's attention was called to the dangerous condition of the sidewalk on Burnside avenue. On motion of Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Wilson, this matter was referred to the engineer, to put the walk in good condition at once if possible, if not practicable to report back to Board.

The solicitor reported that J. L. Hughes' claim for damage by reason of the construction of a street railway siding on Park street, in vicinity of Charlotte, is not a matter for the city to act upon. It is a question between the Street Railway Co. and Mr. Hughes. It appears that the construction of said siding has so obstructed the road as to prevent egress and ingress to complainant's property. Hence Mr. Hughes is threatening the city with legal proceedings to recover damages. The city solicitor claims that the city is not liable the city will notify the Street Railway Company regarding Mr. Hughes' protest to their siding on Park street, and pointing out that the removal of some few poles might in a measure remedy the grievance; also pointing out that in event of action being taken against the city the council will hold the railway company responsible.

The backing up of water from Downie street creek at Victoria Ave. is causing a dangerous nuisance according to a complaint received last night from Mr. Swarts, saying that he had lost a child at this spot through drowning last spring, and urging that something be done to remove such dangerous conditions. The clerk was instructed to write complainant that the Board of Works is going to take up this matter next spring, and prevent the backing up of water at this point.

Mr. Coughlin addressed the Board, complaining that he had been put to the expense of $8 through the blocking up of the sewer on Gilmour street last fall. The sewage backed piped into his cellar. The city engineer reported that the sewer had become congested and as soon as the head of the trouble he had the sewer flushed, thus removing all blockage. Had he been notified in time Mr. Coughlin would have experienced no serious trouble. The majority of the Board Thought the plumbing in Mr. Coughlin's house had not been left in safe condition, and the plumbing inspector will be asked to report.

CEDAR STREET SEWER.

Contractor Sheehy's application for extension of time in which to complete the Cedar street sewer, sent in last fall was gone into, the city solicitor being present. Mr. Sheehy pointed out that last year he constructed 17,000 or 18,000 feet of sewer work. 420 feet more sewer work was added to his contracts than originally tendered for, and 600 feet of his whole contract, on Cedar street, is all the work agreed upon between he and the city left undone; thus he had actually failed to complete but about 80 feet of the amount of work originally contracted for. Mr. Sheehy urged that his only reason for not proceeding with the Cedar street sewer was to avoid bad work, and with a view to the residents' interests; he struck a bad piece of road replete with quick sand, and cold weather at hand. He did not understand that any residents wished to use the sewer before this spring, and under such circumstances he thought it better to stop work than risk blocking up the road all winter. In all the amount of sewer work he did last year, Mr. Long was the only man he had failed to satisfy. He was willing to finish this sewer next spring at contract price, or should the city do it by daylabor, they could have the pipe to hand at cost price.

The Board regretted, that Mr. Sheehy had not notified the engineer officially that he would not finish the work, in which event the city might have completed the sewer by day labor, particularly as the cold snap anticipated did not materialize for three weeks.

It appears that Mr. Sheehy, in deciding to stop this work, filled in the trench, in order to assure a right of way on Cedar street.

The city, by power of contract, could impose on Mr. Sheehy a penalty of $5 a day, or they could finish the work by day labor and charge the cost up to Mr. Sheehy.

The terms of the contract, it seems were not thoroughly understood by either the engineer or last year's Board of Works; the contract empowered the city to take over the work and finish it, charging the cost of same to Mr. Sheehy, immediately he quit work, whereas the Board and engineer thought they could do this until the expiration of the given time in which he had to fill his obligations.

The Mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That in view of Mr. Sheehy having stopped work on the Cedar street sewer without the city's permission, and not having completed this work within the given time by contract, the city completes the work and charge cost of same to Mr. Sheehy.—Carried.

The question of whether the year during which 15 per cent. of Mr. Sheehy's contract is to remain in the city's hands shall date from November 17th, when Mr. Sheehy stopped work on the Cedar street sewer, or from the date of its completion by the city, was left in the hands of his Worship, Chairman Ald. Duncan and the city solicitor.

SEWER OBSTRUCTION.

A complaint was received from Mr. Adam Hall, as to the condition of Perry street, which backs up into the Canadian Cordage Works, such trouble having put the company already to the expense of $160. The complaints asked that this matter be attended to at once.

In this connection the city engineer reported that there was undoubtedly a break in the sewer under the railway track, which should be remedied at once, at a probable cost of $21.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That the engineer proceed with the necessary repairs at once.—Carried.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

A local young man was charged yesterday morning in the police court with being drunk and disorderly. Chief Ross let off to the magistrate that the defendant had given P. C. Newhall a black eye whilst P. C. Mohatry was helping him to make the arrest. The magistrate imposed a fine of $2 with $3.75 costs or $5.75 altogether. The fine was paid. It seems that Mohatry was off duty in plain clothes and smoking a magnificent goodsmanned pipe. The expensive amber of this was broken during the mix up.

Fred Caudray was assessed $2 for being d. & d. and given 10 days to pay the same.

GUARANTEED STOMACH REMEDY

Will Refund Money If Mi-o-na Fails to Cure

You may ask why it is that Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold under a guarantee to refund the money unless they cure, when no other treatment for stomach troubles is sold in this manner.

The answer is simple and conclusive. Other medicines for stomach troubles merely digest the food, while Mi-o-na strengthens the whole digestive system so that it soon becomes able to care for all the food that is eaten.

If you do not use your arm or leg for a month, the muscles become flabby and weak and you have to resort to artificial help. It is the same way with the stomach muscles. If they are not used, they become so weak that it is necessary to continue using a digestive with the food you eat.

On the other hand, when you use Mi-o-na, your stomach soon grows so strong that you can give up the use of medicine.

Mi-o-na costs 50c. a box and does more real good than a dozen boxes of ordinary digestive tablets.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50c box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c.

Write today for a free sample package, and also give us your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give your case his careful and personal attention without charge. Booth's Mi-o-na Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

Business Lessened But More Security

North American Life Assurance Demonstrates Its Conservative Policy.

As is well known to every reader of the newspapers and especially those of the leading magazines regarding insurance matters, this continent has recently been given to think that its insurance companies are crooked. Whilst this may be right in isolated cases, the annual meeting of the North American Life Assurance Company, held on January 29th in their head office, Toronto, clearly demonstrated that this company, not only recognizing the present current under-opinion, but pursuing its proverbial system of protecting the policyholders, last year saved expense to the amount of some $40,000 to assure those investing in policies. This resulted, naturally, in the year's "new business" being a trifle under that of the preceding year. This is, however, a sufficient guarantee to those holding policies in the North American Life Assurance Company that their money is not only well but safely invested.

Notwithstanding this reduction in expense for its policyholders, the cash income from premiums for the year exceeded by some $56,181 that of the year before. During last year the assets of the company were increased by the enormous sum of $870,661, and now amount to $7,790,064. After paying a substantial dividend there was a large surplus to carry, which now makes the net surplus of the company $650,709, this being really the best year in the company's history. In the fewest words, the history of the North American Life reflects great credit upon President J. L. Blaikie and Managing Director L. Goldman.

A Springville Bride's Pretty Wedding

Miss Annie Baptie is Joined in Matrimony to Mr. Milburn.

A pretty wedding was celebrated on Tuesday, January 29th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Baptie, Springville, when their daughter, Miss Annie, was united to Mr. Smith D. Milburn of Smith township. During the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Ida Sanderson, the bride, leaning on her father's arm, entered the drawing room, becomingly gowned in white chiffon taffeta with long tulle veil, caught with sprays of lilies of the valley, and carrying a bouquet of bridal rose, ferns and lilies. The bride and groom took their place under an arch of flowers surrounded by palms and cut flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Marsh.

The presents were numerous and valuable. The happy couple left for their new home in Smith township amid showers of rice and confetti.

Maccabees Were in Convention Yesterday

Some 25 of an Honored Body Meet in Forester's Hall.

As several delegates to the present Maccabee convention, held in Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, did not arrive promptly, owing to late trains, the convention was practically postponed until 1.30 p.m., when some 25 delegates were in attendance.

Among those present are Mr. Joseph Jenkin, assistant Supreme commander, Port Huron, Mich.; Mr. S. W. Trustler, provincial commander, Cumberland; C. A. Yule, district deputy commander, Cobourg; Mr. Walter Trustler, Cumberland; Dr. Ayles, Colborne; Mr. A. E. Cameron, Beavertown, and Mr. H. F. Rowe, Lindsay. A SUCCESSOR TO SWETTENHAM Won't Announce Governor's Retirement Until They Secure Another.

MEETING CENSURES HIM

Kingstonians Say the Governor is Out of Touch With the People Generally.

London, Jan. 31.—There is reason to believe that the resignation of Sir Alexander Swettenham as Governor of Jamaica has been accepted, though the officials of the Foreign Office are mysteriously silent, and refuse all information on the subject. This official reticence is attributed to a desire to complete the arrangements for a successor to the post before announcing Swettenham's retirement. It is expected that the latter will leave the island as soon as details can be completed for handing over the affairs of his office.

The Government officials here, particularly those of the Foreign Office, have expressed the opinion throughout that this was the only possible outcome of the peremptory dismissal of the Governor.

DENOUNCE THE GOVERNOR.

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 31. — A large meeting of representative citizens was held in Victoria Market yesterday to discuss plans for rebuilding the city. The following resolutions were adopted by acclamation,

"This meeting deplores the grievous loss caused the entire community, and more particularly the mercantile community, by the wholesale pillaging of shops and stores, such pillaging being entirely due to lack of organization on the part of the Government, the Government not calling citizens to its aid, and its refusal to consider support offered by the navy of the U.S., which would have prevented much of the loss that has occurred.

"This meeting with deep regret expresses the view, upon the reputation conviction that the chief executive officers of the Government have been, and are still, out of touch with the community generally, that this attitude on the part of the said officers would appear to render them incapable of coping with the situation in the only way practical, namely, that of concerted action on the part of all the persons concerned."

Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Young

Some fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Young, Park street, gathered at the residence of this venerable couple to assist in celebrating their golden wedding.

A spacedid supper was served, and a happy evening spent.

During the evening Mr. Young was presented with a gold-headed cane and Mrs. Young with a purse of gold. There were also other valuable presents from the various guests.

Among those present were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Young's seven daughters, Mrs. John Rogers, Peterborough, Mrs. Davidson, Otonabee, Mrs. Scott Middleton, South, Mrs. Bradley, Otonabee, and Miss Lizzie and Miss Annie, who reside at home. Mr. and Mrs. Young's only surviving son, Mr. George Young, of this city, was also present. The assemblage included several grandchildren.

An interesting feature of the event was the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dawson, of Collingwood, who celebrated their golden wedding two years ago. Mr. Dawson is a brother of Mrs. Young.

Mr. Young was born in Scotland, in 1830, and came to Canada in 1849. Fifty years ago he was married to Miss Mary Davidson, of Monaghan.

For over thirty years Mr. and Mrs. Young resided in North Monaghan. Two years ago they came to Peterborough to reside. All their daughters were present last evening except one, Mrs. Wm. Robson, of Yellow Grass, Sask.

Cobourg, Jan. 31.—The Port Hope Juniors defeated the local juniors by a score of 6—3 last night. This completes the district schedule, and Jervis Lindsay, the undisputed champions.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Shook May Have Killed Hon. A. G. Blair

On Friday He Found Treasurer of His Company Had Misappropriated Funds.

Fredericton, N.B., Jan. 30. Fredericton received a shock yesterday when it was learned that W. E. Smith, treasurer of the New Brunswick Telephone Company, had been suspended on account of alleged irregularities in his accounts. The late Mr. Blair, chairman of the company, and Mr. Barry, its solicitor, had an examination of the books on Friday morning last, with the result that the treasurer was found to be considerably in arrears. The amount of the defalcation is said to be $25,000 at the lowest estimate. On Saturday last the company took a transfer of all Mr. Smith's property, both real and personal. This consists of his residence and household effects. Mr. Barry refuses to say anything in connection with this matter. The result of the examination of the accounts was a great surprise to the late Mr. Blair.

Mr. Smith is also treasurer of the Diocesan Synod, and yesterday W. E. Vroom, Auditor of the Synod, was examining into its affairs. Those well up in church matters express the opinion that these accounts are all right, but nothing definite will be known until the auditor concludes his investigation.

Wolf Hunters Will Start on Saturday

Will Leave Desbarats With a Number of Russian Wolf Hounds.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 31.—C. H. Chapman, game and fish warden of the State of Michigan, and a party of officers from the United States army post at Fort Brady, Michigan, have notified Mr. L. O. Armstrong, colonization and tourist agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that they will join his party at Desbarats to start next Saturday on the wolf hunt in Northern Ontario. The officers will bring with them a number of Russian wolf hounds, which have already acquired a reputation in bringing down mountain lions and now will have an opportunity to chase the Canadian wolves. Mr. Armstrong also expects a party from Louisville, Kentucky, with a number of hounds, to join the hunting party, which leaves Montreal on Friday next and Desbarats on the next day, for the wilds.

The latest news from the region is to the effect that the course over which the chase will take place is in great condition. A fall of snow came just about the time of the recent thaw, so that the snow has not fallen in, and though the snow shoeing will be heavy, it will be pleasant.

Whitby intermediates, who are five goals behind Cobourg, with one game still to play in Cobourg in their group, have dropped out, and Cobourgs are champions.

Marriages in Heaven

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—In the course of his remarks Sunday, preparatory to the sermon at the high mass in St. Patrick's, Father Whelan referred to the scarcity of marriages in the parish. "Some people imagine that all marriages are made in Heaven, but it is time some were being made on earth, and in this parish," remarked Father Whelan.

Right Arm Terribly Mangled

North Bay, Jan. 30. —J. McKee, about 25 years of age, was arrested as a lunatic yesterday afternoon. While being searched at police headquarters by P. C. Lefebvre, a revolver was found concealed in his boot top. One of Lefebure's fingers was shattered by a bullet while wrestling with the prisoner. The latter's hand was also damaged. McKee was taken to Brockville Asylum by Constable Lefebvre last night.

Needle in Her Arm

Alton, Ill., January 30.—Eight months ago Mrs. Phil H. Paul ran a needle into the palm of her hand, where it broke off. At intervals since, the hand pained her a great deal, as the needle worked from one point to another, and many attempts were made by surgeons to cut it out. Last night Mrs. Paul felt the steel in her elbow, and by rubbing the skin succeeded in working the point through. A neighbor was called and she got hold of the point and pulled the needle, which is almost two inches in length, from the arm.

100 More Talesmen For the Thaw Trial

Old Panel Not Suffcient to Pick a Jury From--- Order Given That Artists Must Not Make Any More Sketches

New York, Jan. 31.—The three vacant chairs in the Thaw jury box yesterday morning proved an formidable barrier to a beginning of the taking of testimony in the famous case before today or Friday morning.

The average of jury selection has heretofore been two a day, one at the morning session and one near the close of the afternoon sitting of the court.

Justice Fitzgerald threw something of a bomb shell into the camp of the newspaper artists in the court yesterday morning of announcing through the court officers that no more sketches should be made during the trial. This came as a complete surprise.

Artists from most of the principal cities of the country have been in court from day to day and have not been restricted hitherto in any way.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and May Mackenzie again were early arrivals in the court room yesterday, and both were attired precisely as on Tuesday.

When Clifford W. Hartridge, Thaw's leading counsel, came into court, young Mrs. Thaw extended her hand and greeted him cordially.

After a brief chat Mr. Hartridge escorted Mrs. Thaw and her companion into the prisoners' pen, where there was a touching meeting between the accused man and his wife. The two sat together for ten minutes or more exchanging confidences, and the woman had not returned to the court room when Justice Fitzgerald took the bench.

Thaw was disappointed on entering the court room to find that his wife was the only member of his family present. The others, it was stated, had been detained up town by the snowstorm which began Tuesday night and continued yesterday.

There was a wild story going the rounds of the newspaper men yesterday to the effect that $100,000 might be given to any talesman who could qualify as a juror. Where the rumor came from no one could say, but it was given no credence whatever in any quarter.

It was also noted that the talesmen who are yet to be examined are under the surveillance of county detectives, but this could not be verified.

The statement of Harold R. Stires, one of the jurors excused Tuesday, that he could offer no explanation as to why he was rejected in the jury box was repeated on many sides, and it was rumored that he might demand in court an explanation of the action taken in his case.

Assistant District Attorney Garvin who conducted the examination of the first talesmen yesterday, asked each of them specifically if he had been approached by anyone in connection with the case since being summoned as a possible juror.

Yesterday was the first time the question has been put in such a direct form, although many of the talesmen have heretofore been asked whether they had discussed the case with anyone before coming to court. Some of the talesmen said they had been approached.

Two jurors who had been sworn were yesterday excused. Two additional jurors, however, were drawn yesterday, leaving nine men in the box when court adjourned.

What caused the withdrawal of Jurors Campbell and Paire has not developed, counsel on both sides maintaining strict silence on this point, but the action itself leads to a belief that there may be a further weeding out of jurors, and that the taking of testimony may consequently be postponed until late in the week, or possibly next week.

District Attorney Jerome introduced a new figure into the case when he asked talesmen if they knew Cincinnati and a Mr. Baker, of that city. Nobody confessed to knowing Mr. Baker, and the defense seemed utterly surprised at the introduction of the name.

Thaw's counsel professed entire ignorance of what the District Attorney had in mind Mr. Jerome was equally uncommunicative.

As the trial progresses Thaw appears to better advantage each day.

His spirits seem to rise as the day of the trial goes nearer, and yesterday he was apparently one of the happiest men in the court room. It was only when he stood while a juror was being sworn that he was solemn and appeared to appreciate the gravity of his situation. Thaw showed his love for his mother again yesterday as he was leaving the court for the day. In passing, he stopped, kissed her and whispered words of cheer which made her smile. Thaw continues to watch the selection of jurors closely. Four times yesterday he caused his counsel to issue peremptory challenges.

CONGREGATIONAL GATHERING

Held at St. Paul's Church--- Annual Reports Show Great Progress.

The annual congregational meeting of St. Paul's church took place in the school room last evening, with Mr. R. A. Wood in the chair. The meeting was opened by Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. Mr. Bright with prayer. Then followed the reading of the several church reports.

REPORT OF SESSIONS.

In April, Mr. McKay who had been assistant minister for a year, resigned his position and Mr. Bright of Montreal, was appointed in his place. Mr. Bright has preached regularly in St. Paul's church, and on the Sabbath taught the young men's Bible class. He has devoted himself this week to pastoral work in connection with Knox church.

An application for the ordination of Mr. Bright was presented to the [illegible] meeting in October last from the joint session of St. Paul's and Knox churches. The Presbytery did not grant the application, but expressed the judgment that in order to more effectual work in the southern part of the city, there should be a complete separation between St. Paul's and Knox churches. At a meeting of the congregation held shortly afterwards, Knox church decided on separation, provided that a sufficient sum of money could be secured. The result of the canvas of the members and adherents of Knox church was deemed satisfactory, and at the meeting of the Presbytery in December, Knox church was recognized as an independent congregation.

There are sixty-five families which have a more or less close connection with Knox church, and of these thirty were formerly connected with St. Paul's church.

The additions to the membership during the year were 40, 20 on profession of faith, and 21 by certificate. There were nine removals by death, and 30 by certificate. Nine names of persons who have left town have been taken off the roll so that the membership remains about the same as it was at the end of the previous year, 400 families, 780 members.

MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION.

The report on the missionary association was read by the secretary-treasurer, Mr R.A. Harrison. The financial statement showed a small balance carried forward. The envelope contributions had greatly increased over that of the previous year. Total contributions to the different works of the church, $1,150.49.

LADIES' AID.

The statement of the Ladies' Aid Society showed, total receipts $447.37, an expenditure $4.98, leaving a balance on hand of $312.49.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society, heard a report showing the receipts to total $611.97, and expenditures $39.60, leaving a substantial balance in the hands of $472.57.

The members of the Board of Management will remain the same as last year.

THE PERILS OF MARRIAGE

How a Married Man Became His Own Grandfather.

A writer in the Birmingham Post says: "I married a widow who had a grown-up daughter. My father visited our house very often, fell in love with my step-daughter, and married her; so my father became my son-in-law and my step-daughter my mother. Some time after my wife had a son. He was my father's brother-in-law and my uncle, for he was the brother of my step-mother. He was also my father's grand-son. My father's wife, i.e., my step-daughter, had also a son. He was, of course, my brother, and also my grandchild, for he was the son of my daughter. My wife was my grandmother, because she was my father's wife's (that is, my mother's) mother. So I am at the same time the husband and grandchild of my wife, and as the husband of a person's grandmother is his grandfather, it seems I have become my own grandfather."

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 31, 1907

UNITED STATES AND CANADA

Three nations hold the whole of the North American continent. The relations of the United States and Mexico have been growing more and more friendly for many years. But as Secretary Root pointed out at Ottawa the other night it is nearly a hundred years since the peace between the two nations which hold the bulk of the continent has been broken. In view of the fact that there has never been direct diplomatic representation of one of these countries in the other it is a marvel that there has been so little misunderstanding. The announced intention of the British Government to attach a Canadian Secretary to the Embassy at Washington will tend to remove what cause for discontent Canada may have had in being only a part of a great empire.

The common memories of the United States and Canada, the many bonds of interest between the two countries, the similarity of the future that lies before them, all warrant the prediction of a continuance of the friendly feeling between them. The interchange of citizens and the dispersion of families through the two countries have produced the personal ties which are even stronger than the financial and commercial bonds. For instance, Chicago contained in 1900 41,357 inhabitants of Canadian birth or parentage, and almost all cities of the north show a similar proportion of Canadians, while many Americans, using the word in its limited sense, have found homes in Canada. American cities are looked to by Canadians in the same way that they are by the people of the United States, as the natural centers of exchange and trade, rather than European cities. At the University of Chicago a year or two ago 20 per cent. of the fellowships awarded to graduate students of high rank went to Canadians, who had gone there rather than return to the universities of old England.

Each country has its own problems which it must work out in its own way, and each is apt to criticise the other for faults which are apparent rather than real. It is the criticism of members of one family who are more intolerant of petty mistakes precisely because they are of one family, while either would resent interference of an outsider.

Whatever Mr. Root's principal motive in visiting Canada his address cannot fail to have a good effect in calling attention on both sides of the boundary to the real strength of the friendliness between the two English speaking nations of North America.

APSLEY

(By Michaels' Wireless Telegraph.)

Thursday, January 24th, was a red letter day in Apsley; to, some, though, it was a black one, that is, to those who lost their suits in the court. Division Court was held that day in the town refrigerator, presided over by F. D. Kerr, barrister, of Peterborough. There were only three or four cases, of very little importance, although the parties interested thought perhaps they were. It speaks well for the country generally that this was the first court held since June, 1901. The decisions given in all the cases were considered by those present as very fair and impartial. It was a long, cold trip for Mr. Kerr, the thermometer Thursday morning registering about 25 below, and we trust no ill effects resulted.

Saturday, the 19th, we had the unusual experience of a thunderstorm and very heavy rain, and on Sunday it must have blown at the rate of 2,000 miles an hour. We heard the little secretary had to fill his pockets with buck shot to keep from blowing away. Oh! yes, we have had any and every kind of weather here. All we have missed so far is an earthquake, but we can do without that.

Wednesday night, the 23rd, the regular meeting of the Annanias Club was held in their commodious lodge room. The principal business was election of officers for the ensuing year. President Korntassel called the meeting to order, and Anvil Jim cut off another chew and prepared for business. The treasurer's report was read: receipts for the past year were 23 cents, expenses 21 cents, balance due treasurer 2 cents. Scotty moved the report be received and later on some means be devised to raise the money to pay the treasurer, as he was a poor man with 15 small children.—Carried. Election of officers was next in order, and resulted as follows: President, Bro. Korntassel (re-elected); secretary, Bro. Scotty Bill; treasurer, Bro. Bill & Grove (re-elected); doorkeeper, Bro Anvil Jim; janitor, Bro. Benny. The matter of raising funds to pay the balance due treasurer and buy three more nail kegs for seats was then taken up. Moved by Bro. Sy-mon, seconded by Bro. Benny that the club hold a gum-drop social in the basement of the town hall, the admission fee for members to be 5c., others 25c., and gum drops be bought at once before supply is exhausted; date of social April 1, 1907.—Carried. All were in favor except Bro Wiggy, who waxed so hot over it that the janitor was ordered to remove him to Korntassel's refrigerator to cool off. Anvil Jim gave a very instructive speech on the usefulness of canthooks, the making of them, and how you could tell one from another—it is simple when you know how. The hour was late and as some of the members had to go home, get in the kindling wood and take their medicine, Bro. Clint was asked to sing the closing ode, after which the meeting closed to reassemble at the call of the president.

Ancient Warfare.

At the storm of Magdeburg by Tilly in 1631 this noted authority on the art of war laid down the general maxim that after a successful assault the soldiers ought to have three hours of pillage.

The Franks.

The Franks took their name from the franciasques, or battleaxes, which they threw with deadly effect.

Coal.

Coal is comparatively a modern product. History shows that it was first used in England during the ninth century. In 1316 the king prohibited its use on the ground that it was injurious to health, but the high price of wood finally compelled the Londoners to use it again.

Cynical La Bruyere.

When asked for his married experience La Bruyere replied, "Few wives are so perfect that they do not give their husbands cause at least once a day to repent of matrimony."

The Smokers.

The greatest smokers are unquestionably the Dutch, each inhabitant consuming about 3,110 grams of tobacco a year. Their neighbors, the Belgians, come next, with 2,488 grams; then follows Turkey, with 2,177 grams. The United States, Germany, France, Italy and Spain consume on the average about 1,866 grams, while the English content themselves with about 715 grams each a year.

"Oh, yes; enough to keep body and soul and automobile together."—New York Life.

"Yes. If the poor boy had only been gifted with second sight."—Pick Me Up.

Plants Near the Sea.

Plants growing near the sea have thicker leaves than those growing inland. Apparently the sea salt is the cause of this phenomenon, as plants cultivated in artificially salted soil yield thicker leaves.

Quaint Yorkshire Custom.

A quaint custom is still in vogue in winter at Bainbridge, a Yorkshire village. Every night at 9 o'clock a huge horn is blown on the village green, so that any one lost or rambling on the surrounding fells may be guided to safety. Very welcome has the sound often been to many a wayfarer lost in snow or fog on the cheerless moors.

Tallest Britishers.

The tallest people in the British Isles are to be found in the district of Galloway, in south Scotland, where records of the stature give an average height of five feet ten and a half inches. The shortest stature is found in Wales and southwest England.

Pulled Bread.

For those to whom coarse breads or even light fine wheat flour breads are indigestible and unappetising a form of the latter known as "pulled bread" may be welcomed. Simply pull out the crumb part with forks in long strips after the loaf has been cut in quarters. Toast these in the oven and keep in a dry place. So prepared they cost less than the swieback which is on sale.

The Wolverene.

The wolverene, now almost extinct, is one of the greatest gluttons and thieves among animals. It robs the hunter's trap of his game and his hut of blankets, gun, ax, knife and dishes. When any one approaches it sits up on its hind legs and shades its eyes with its paws.

Chocolate.

Chocolate was first introduced into England from Mexico in 1520. It was made from the flower of the cocoanut, soon became very popular and was generally used in the London coffee houses.

Hawthorn Buds.

Hawthorn buds are known among English children as "bread and cheese" and are sometimes eaten by them. They have, however, poisonous qualities, due to the presence of calcium oxalate, and a girl at Penrith died after eating some.

Chinese Mourning Custom.

During thirty days after a death in China the nearest relatives of the deceased do not shave nor change their clothes.

Rebelling Eggs.

When on removing part of the shell of a boiled egg you find that it is not cooked at all or also too soft to suit your taste if you will put a tablespoonful of vinegar in the water in which it is to be reboiled or if you will shake a little salt and pepper in the open egg you can then drop it in the water until it is cooked without spilling even a taste.

Copper Coins.

In 1620 the first large copper coins were minted in England, putting an end to private leaden tokens.

Pickled Herrings.

The mode of pickling herrings was invented by a Dutchman named Benkels about the year 1370. The Emperor Charles V., who was fond of pickled herrings, one day visited Benkels' grave and ordered a handsome stone tomb to be erected to his memory, a memorial which makes the deceased pickler famous even to this day.

The Sausage in Vienna.

In the homes of the great middle class of Vienna, says a paper of that city, the sausage is a necessity. It appears at the table at least once every day, and the variety is so great that there may be a certain kind for every day.

Largest Size Paper.

The largest size of paper is known as "antiquarian." The sheets are 53 by 31 inches.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

struck him that his long suffering family, who had always yielded to him the absolute obedience which he claimed as his right, would venture to offer any opposition to his new resolution. He was surprised, therefore, when his brother demanded a private interview that afternoon and entered his presence without the complaisant smile and humble air with which he was wont to appear before him.

"Why, monsieur, you seem less gay than usual today," said the king, with a smile. "Your dress indeed is bright, but your brow is clouded. I trust that all is well with madame and with the Duc de L'hartres."

"Yes, sire, they are well, but they are sad, like myself, and from the same cause."

"Indeed! And why?"

"Have I ever failed in my duty as your younger brother, sire?"

"Never, Philippe, never!" said the king, laying his hand affectionately upon the other's shoulder. "You have set an excellent example to my subjects."

"Then why set a slight upon me?"

"Philippe!"

"Yes, sire, I say it is a slight. We are of royal blood, and our wives are of royal blood also. You married the Princess of Spain; I married the Princess of Bavaria. It was a condescension, but still I did it. My first wife was the Princess of England. How can we admit into a house which has formed such alliances as these a woman who is the widow of a hunchback singer, a mere lampooner, a man whose name is a byword through Europe?"

The king had stared in amazement at his brother, but his anger now overcame his astonishment.

"Upon my word!" he cried; "upon my word! I have said just now that you have been an excellent brother, but I fear that I spoke a little prematurely. And so you take upon yourself to object to the lady whom I select as my wife!"

"I do, sire."

"And by what right?"

"By the right of the family honor, sire, which is as much mine as yours. I look upon it as a slight upon me and a slight upon my wife."

"Your wife! I have every respect how is she superior to one whose grandfather was the dear friend and comrade in arms of Henry the Great? Enough! I will not condescend to argue such a matter with you! Begone, and do not return to my presence until you have learned not to interfere in my affairs."

"For all that, my wife shall not know her," snarled monsieur.

The king was to have no quiet that day. If Mme. de Maintenon's friends had rallied to her yesterday her enemies were active today. Monsieur had hardly disappeared before there rushed into the room a youth who bore upon his rich attire every sign of having just arrived from a dusty journey. He was pale faced and auburn haired with features which would have been strikingly like the king's if it were not that his nose had been disfigured in his youth. The king's face had lighted up at the sight of him, but it darkened again as he hurried forward and threw himself down at his feet.

"Oh, sire," he cried, "spare us this grief—spare us this humiliation! I implore you to pause before you do what will bring dishonor upon yourself and upon us!"

The king started back from him.

"This is intolerable!" he cried. "It was bad from my brother, but worse from my son. You are in a conspiracy with him, Louis. Monsieur has told you to act this part."

The dauphin rose to his feet and looked steadfastly at his angry father.

"I have not seen my uncle," he said. "I was at Meudon when I heard this news—this dreadful news—and I sprang upon my horse, sire, and galloped over to implore you to think again before you drag our royal house so low."

"You talk like a fool!" cried his father. "I propose to marry a virtuous and charming lady of one of the oldest noble families of France, and you talk as if I were doing something degrading and unheard of."

"She is the daughter of a man whose vices were well known, her brother is of the worst repute, she has led the life of an adventuress, is the widow of a deformed scribbler, and she occupies a menial position in the palace."

The king had stamped with his foot upon the carpet more than once during this frank address, but his anger blazed into a fury at its conclusion.

"Do you dare," he cried, with flashing eyes, "to call the charge of my children a menial position? I say that there is no higher in the kingdom. Go back to Meudon, sir, this instant and never dare to open your mouth again on the subject."

The young man bowed low and walked with dignity from the chamber.

The king's first hot anger had died away by now and had left behind it a cold, bitter spirit which was even more formidable to his antagonists.

But he had little breathing space. His assailants knew that with persistence they had bent his will before, and they trusted that they might do so again. It was Louvois, the minister, now who entered the room, with his majestic port, his lofty bearing, his huge wig and his aristocratic face, which, however, showed some signs of trepidation as it met the baleful eye of the king.

"Well, Louvois, what now?" he asked impatiently. "Has some new state matter arisen?"

"There is but one new state matter which has arisen, sire, but it is of such importance as to banish all others from our mind—your marriage, sire."

"You disapprove of it?"

"Oh, sire, can I help it?"

"Out of my room, sir! Am I to be tormented to death by your importunities? What! You dare to linger when I order you to go!" The king advanced angrily upon the minister, but Louvois suddenly flashed out his rapier. Louis sprang back, with alarm and amazement upon his face, but it was the hilt and not the point which was presented to him.

"Pass it through my heart, sire!" the minister cried, falling upon his knees, his whole great frame in a quiver with emotion. "I will not live to see your glory fade!"

[To be continued]

"Pass it through my heart, sire!"

Ant Baths.

Persons who are troubled with rheumatism in Russia take ant baths as a cure. It is done in this way by the peasants near Moscow. Finding an ants' nest, he puts into a linen bag the ants, their eggs and necessarily considerable dirt. Returning to the home, he plunges into the hot water of the bath his bag of ants, which he has previously fastened tightly at the mouth. After several minutes the water gives off a very strong penetrating odor of formic acid. The bath is now ready, and the invalid is put into it. Such a bath has a very active irritant action on the skin, being, in fact, a counter irritation that causes the rheumatic pains to disappear.—Strand Magazine.

Venezuelan Cowboys.

When the Venezuelan cowboy wishes to catch a bull or cow for branding or for any purpose, he rides alongside it and, with horse and bovine on the dead run, stoops from his saddle, grasps the creature's tail and with a sharp, peculiar twist sends the animal rolling on its back. From the force with which it falls the creature's horns almost invariably pin its head to the ground, giving the vaquero time to dismount and sit on its head, holding the animal helpless to rise, while a companion ties its legs.

Genius and Work.

Men give me credit for genius. All the genius I have lies just in this: When I have a subject in hand I study it profoundly. Day and night it is before me. I explore it in all its bearings. My mind becomes pervaded with it. Then the effort which I make the people are pleased to call the fruit of genius. It is the fruit of labor and thought.

A Rank Offense.

"May we have the pleasure of your company this evening, colonel?" she asked.

The colonel drew himself up haughtily and replied, with every evidence of offended dignity:

"Madam, I command a regiment."

The Ruling Passion.

Beggar—Can you help a poor man to— Pedestrian—I think you have touched me before. Beggar—Possibly, sir, possibly. You see I'm a stranded photographer, and the old habit of retouching clings, sir.

Insincerity.

Be honest with yourself, whatever the temptations. Say nothing to others that you do not think and play no tricks with your own mind. Of all the evil spirits abroad at this hour of the world insincerity is the most dangerous.—J. A. Froude.

One Kind of Tanning.

"Pop!"

"Yes, my son."

"What kind of wood do they use most in tanning?"

"Well, when I went to school, my boy, they used birch."

Do not borrow trouble. The interest is too high.—Dallas News.

THE PROPERTY

1. The east half of the north-east quarter of the south half of lot 6 in the 6th concession of Coleman Township.
2. The south-west quarter of the south half of lot 7, in the first concession of Bucke.
3. One 40-acre claim in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, adjoining claim No. 1404 1-2.
4. Twenty acres in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, being the north half of the south-east quarter of the north half of lot 19, concession 3.
5. One 40-acre claim in the Anima-Nipissing District, being mining claim No. 1404 1-2, known as the "South Claim," situated about 1-4 of a mile west of Bay Lake and about one mile north of Anima-Nipissing. Total 180 acres.
6. 4,000 lots in the townsite of North Cobalt, beatifully situated on the west shore of Lake Temiskaming, containing 800 acres, close to the Green-Meehan and Red Rock properties, and only 200 miles from Toronto, on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, and is sure to be the coming summer resort, as there is good fishing, boating, and bathing. The finest scenery, most interesting surroundings, and a very bracing climate.

These lots alone in a year or so will be worth the full capitalization of the company. The mining properties of this company are far better value than a great number of properties now on the market at double the price, without the townsite, which practically acts as a security, which is sure to increase in value every year, and protect every shareholder in full for his investment, with the chance of making very large money out of the development of the mining property.

Our shares will be increasing in value from year to year, and in three years from now should sell on the open market for $10.00 a share from the dividend it will then pay.

Parties wishing to secure an allotment can do so by wire or letter, as there is no doubt every share will be subscribed for before February 1st.

Call or write for prospectus, reports, maps, etc., that will give fullest information.

The Capital of the Company is One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) in One Million Shares of One Dollar ($1.00) each, stock non-assessable.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 32 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 19th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 32 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Lagree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last. "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 32 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 32. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 30 acre one and about 800 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Hyronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claim, is stripped all the way across the 30 acres of J. B. 32 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 5 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is uncovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $150,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 60 feet, and it shows rich nicollite, 14 inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1283-972-1161 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 70c. is equal to $630.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 60 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt?
The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better pro spects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Lagree and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions will be tyled in order received and we reserve the right to reduce or return same. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto, Send to-day or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

Developments in the last few days are reported by the press and verified by the company's officers, again attract public attention to the famous Sunburst Mines—having added 280 acres of rich lead and zinc land in the heart of the world's richest producing district to original holdings, the Sunburst Company has ordered the permanent equipment of shaft No. 3.

WORK BEGINS ON THE SUNBURST MINES

Machinery being installed and work on No. 3 shaft immediately resumed. Drifting being pushed to connect the No. 2 and No. 3 shafts, which, according to the drilling, will open up immense bodies of ore for the full distance, which is about 800 feet. The Eastman Development Co.'s White Eagle Mill, which was started within the last 60 days, is now producing some eight to ten tons of zinc ore per shift—being the record breaker of the district so far. This property is immediately to the northwest of the Sunburst property. The Clarissa, to the southwest, has made a phenomenal strike in the last week. The opportunity to share in this wonderful fortune making is now presented by the development of the Sunburst property. Millions will be taken out of this district in 1908, and shrewd investors are now seizing their opportunity to reap a golden harvest from the vast mineral wealth the Baxter Springs Camp. Many properties are now returning from 25 to 150 per cent. dividends on the investment.

IMMENSE ORE BODIES PROVEN UP

The Sunburst Mining Company now owns a vast property in Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory, generally known as the Baxter Springs District. The history of the company is well known to the public. The great richness has long been admitted. Now development work proves the most sanguine expectations. The Baxter Springs News of December 6, 1906, says:

"The Sunburst is showing up some mighty big ore the past week. J. C. Bryner, who is doing the development work, brought in samples of his latest ore taken out of shaft No. 3, and it certainly shows up fine. This shaft now has 90 feet of drifting to the south, showing rich ore all the way, and the deposit encountered the past week is the same as the Hobo mine is cutting in its north drifts, which are only eighty feet to the south, and which are being driven north to connect with this south drift of the Sunburst. The Indiana, just to the west, is showing up remarkably rich lead and jack in its east drift. Gatlin is encountering the same to the east and north, thus demonstrating that immense ore deposit covers the Ayers-Sloan, White Eagle, Western Mining, Co.) Omaha, Winner, Good Luck, Hobo, Gatlin, Indiana and Sunburst leases, all of which are within a radius of a few hundred feet of each other. This is the richest deposit yet opened up, and while this is a fact it is owing to the intense development in this particular section of the camp, which is proving up the drillings which have been made since the camp started."

This immense rich property lies four miles from Baxter Springs, Kansas, and is just across the state line in the Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory. All around and immediately adjoining this property are good producing mines with fine mills, which are making their owners rich. Just southwest is the mill owned by the Whitneys of New York. On every side we are surrounded by producing mines, operating in ore bodies that run into and through our section, and from the reports of experts and engineers are actually richer and nearer the surface here than in any other place in the district. The formation consists of a blanket deposit of mineral of the richest quality, from 15 to 70 feet in thickness, lying at a depth of from 57 feet to 74 feet, thus making it very easy and inexpensive to mine.

Thousands of dollars were expended in drilling holes and sinking shafts to prove not only the existence in paying quantities of lead and zinc, but also the unusual richness of the ore. The drilling and shaft sinking have demonstrated a uniform bed of ore over the entire acreage of 15 to 70 feet in thickness, and found only 57 feet under the surface. The water is only sufficient to wash the ore while milling. This is an important point, as in many lead and zinc mines the superabundance of water is a very dangerous factor. The ore is found between well-defined flat beds of limestone, which allows of the ore being taken out without the use of any timbers whatever, pillars of ore being allowed to support the roof, which is thus permanently safe.

The Same Ore Body That Makes Others Rich

No other district can produce so many rich mines in so small an area as this portion of the Baxter Springs Camp. Look at the map and you will see how the Sunburst holdings are the very heart of this section. To the north are the Dark Horse, Isley, Tipton, Magnolia, all well-known properties. To the west are the Sunnyside (the oldest mill in camp), White Eagle, Indiana, Ayers and Sloan. To the south, the famous Hobo (the richest mine ever opened in the district, which has drifted to the south line of the Sunburst in extremely high-grade ore). The ore milled last week by the Hobo ran 10 per cent. In three months 586,000 pounds of rich ore was taken out by the Hobo. This mine is 195 feet from our property and is in the same ore bed. Shaft No. 3 is only 70 feet from the Hobo north drift, with the same bed of ore. The drilling shows this bed to run across the entire Sunburst property. Shaft No. 2 is 400 feet from the northeast drift of the Hobo and is into the same ore bed.

To the south are also the Omaha Mines and Mill and the Good Luck Mine, where the lead has proven to be so heavy. On these properties mills are erected and extremely rich ore extracted, making great returns for the owners.

SHAFT NO. THREE.

ADVANCE IN PRICE

On account of the additional holdings, which are of great intrinsic value, as well as the remarkable proof of richness afforded by the development work already begun, the price of Sunburst stock will not remain long at the present figure.

Every step forward in the workings of the company is attracting wide attention and is justifying the most liberal expectations.

As this work goes on Sunburst stock is bound to increase in value, as it is bound to be a mighty source of profit. The public demand because of the public confidence in this great property has already absorbed thousands of shares and has steadily advanced the price, but this advance will be small in comparison to what is coming.

The shrewd investor will realize this opportunity now, and will buy before the next big advance.

Buy now and share pro rata in the demonstrated profits of this entire property. Make your reservation for as many shares as you may desire at the present price, remit 10 per cent. of the full price for the block and send us the balance in nine monthly payments. Upon the completion of your payments your certificate will be sent you for the desired number of shares, fully paid and non-assessable, no matter how much the price of stock may have advanced during that time.

You will thus become a stockholder in this company on equal terms with all the other stockholders, and by payments so small as to be hardly noticed.

The tremendous advantage to the small investor through this plan of payment must be apparent at a glance. By subscribing, for instance, $50.00 now and remitting only $5.00, you will obtain the whole block subscribed for at the present low price, and receive the full advantage of every advance on the whole $50.00 worth, although your first payment is but $5.00.

You really invest $5.00 and get all the benefit of an investment of $50.00. Could anything be fairer?

In order to secure the benefit of this offer it will be necessary for you to make your reservation at once, with the understanding that you will be entirely free to withdraw it if further investigation fails to convince you of the merits of the stock.

The officers of this company, who have the handling of your money, the conduct of the mine, and paying of dividends, are stockholders—like any other.

What is more, they are well-known and successful business men. Look them up. Investigate their standing, their acumen, their integrity.

This is a business proposition. Here are business men conducting it. They invite your investigation.

MAP OF DISTRICT SHOWING SUNBURST MINE.

Why Stock is Now Offered at 8c a Share

This issue of fully paid and non-assessable stock is for the purpose of procuring immediate funds to build a concentrating mill, equip the plant with hoisting machinery, and continue development work and put day and night shifts to work—in a word, to apply to this immensely rich property the same development that is resulting everywhere around us in paying great dividends and enormously enhancing the value of the property. Have you ever heard of a failure in a true lead and zinc mine? Have you not heard on the contrary of the fortunes taken out right in this district, not by one, but practically by all mining plants in the last few years? Have you ever had the opportunity to get in on the ground floor on a proposition that can pay the immediate profits simply depend on this: Are the facts such as we have stated? Now, this we prove in detail—we will even arrange to take you to the mine—we refer you to any of the reports on this property—to banks—to engineers—to the evidence of surrounding properties; we lay the proposition before your business judgment, with the full appreciation that you owe it to yourself to investigate this simply as an investment in a commercial enterprise.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

In compliance with the request of the officers and stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., a detailed examination of the property was made October 1, 1906, by M. S Parker, the well-known mining engineer and member American Society C. E. Excerpts from Mr. Parker's report follow:

The Sunburst Mine is located in the southeast corner of Section 29, Township 29, Range 24, east of the Indian Meridian, in the Quapaw Reserve, Indian Territory. It is joined on the south by half its width by the famous Hobo Mine, which produces the richest lead and zinc ore of any mine in the district thus far developed, and prospect drill holes and shafts north of the Hobo, on the Sunburst, show the same grade of ore, and at the same depth and of the same thickness.

The Omaha Mine, which is now successfully operating a new 150-ton mill, also adjoins the Sunburst on the south, and have drilled along their north boundary, striking the same body of ore as developed by prospecting over the line on the Sunburst.

The Hobo and Omaha Mines on the south have been prospected along the line of the Sunburst by drill holes and the present working shafts and drifts, which verifies the results of the prospecting done on the Sunburst Mine, north of the south boundary of the Sunburst.

FORMATION.

This mine comes under the blanket formation class. Out of the last eleven holes drilled, only two holes were barren of lead or zinc ore, most of them showing lead and zinc ore in paying quantities, while some of the holes drilled showed very rich deposits of lead and zinc.

One of the drill holes on the Hobo Mine showed very rich cuttings; within a foot of this hole was a blank spot 50 feet in diameter. The shaft of the Hobo Mine was sunk within 5 feet of a drill hole showing a very rich zinc ore, and went down through such a spot—no zinc ore being encountered—within a foot of the shaft walls very rich zinc and lead ore was found.

The thickness of the ore body, as shown by the drill holes, is from 15 to 70 feet. Ore is struck in shaft No. 3 at 57 feet depth, and the shaft is still in the ore at 76 feet. The drill cuttings at this shaft showed ore down to 91 feet depth. From all the drill holes this depth, viz., 91 feet appears to be the floor or bottom of the ore body, and is very uniform. The roof, however, varies in depth from the surface, 57 feet being the nearest it comes to the surface, while at places it is shown to drop down to 80 feet in depth, but the average depth to roof is very close to 64 feet. This would indicate an average thickness of the ore body of about 25 feet.

Three shafts have been sunk. No 1 shaft, 5 1-2 by 8 feet, is down 58 feet, well timbered, and has good shaft-house and derrick. From this shaft prospect drifts have been driven, in all about 200 linear feet, mostly in lead-bearing ground. A small office building is near this shaft.

Shaft No. 2, 5 1-2 by 5 1-2 by 90 feet, well timbered, with shafthouse, derrick and boilerhouse in good repair. From this shaft a drift is driven north 20 feet, then west 50 feet. Head of west drift is in good ore. The face of this drift is in zinc ore, while the bottom is in rich lead ore. This shaft should go down to 90 feet depth. This will give a 20-foot face of ore.

Shaft No. 3, 5 1-2 by 7 1-2 by 76 feet, well timbered—a first-class shaft. No buildings on it. A short drift is running south in good zinc ore. The bottom of this shaft is in good lead ore. These three shafts, with 15 drill holes, constitute the present development of the mine.

The Sunburst is located within four miles of the Frisco Railway, Baxter and Quapaw stations being about equally distant from the mine. A road is projected from Baxter to Miami that will run within a quarter of a mile of the mine. This road is to be a freight and passenger electric road for the accommodation of the mines.

Baxter Springs business men have subscribed $25,000 toward the building of this line, and every assurance is given that the road will soon be constructed. This will make transportation of fuel and mine products materially cheaper than at present, although the cost under present conditions is not heavy.

It is needless to say that work at the Sunburst can be carried on the year round, the climate in this section being so mild in winter that very little trouble is experienced in mining operations in the Quapaw Reserve.

Summing up the points in this report, I will say that you have a first-class lead and zinc property. Rarely will one find a tract of ground so universally mineralized as the Sunburst Mine. If you follow the recommendations I have made regarding development, I feel assured you will reap your reward in good dividends. Trusting that this report will meet with the approval of the President and Stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., I subscribe myself,

Very respectfully yours,
M. S PARKER.

As an investment proposition we believe that the Sunburst Mine will certainly pay no less than 25 per cent. We quote from other reliable sources the following figures showing the enormous annual dividends earned by lead and zinc mines in the Southwest field:

Osceola Mining Co.	24 per cent.	Katydid Mining Co.	50 per cent.
Cottonwood Mining Co.	25 per cent.	Mocking Bird Mining Co.	64 per cent.
Waddell Zinc Co.	47 per cent.	John Jackson Mining Co.	60 per cent.
Conqueror Lead and Zinc Co.	30 per cent.	Omega Mining Co.	117 per cent.
Hudson Mining Co.	35 per cent.	Linger Mining Co.	140 per cent.
R. & H. Mining Co.	40 per cent.	Chapman Mining Co.	140 per cent.
		Underwriters Land Co.	60 per cent.

Property of Fabulous Wealth

HEMMED IN BY PRODUCING MINES

Thousands of dollars expended on shafts and development work show ore runs from 8 to 12 per cent—while a yield of 4 per cent. in Center Creek Mine has produced nearly $7,000,000

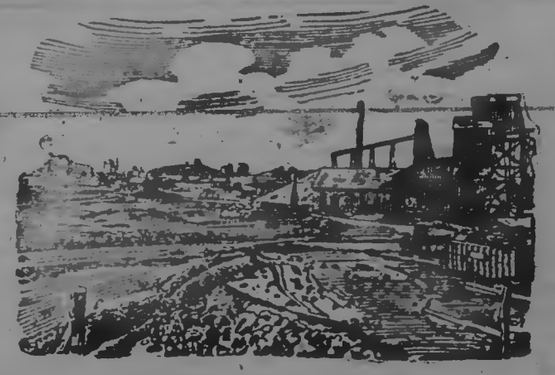
The increasing demand for lead and zinc is too obvious to need detailed statement. Both metals are in steady demand and at steadily advancing prices. The prices have gone up since 1899 from $51.42 per ton for lead and $16.81 for zinc to $42.00 for lead and $45.00 for zinc. The lead and zinc industry is now right at the front in the great commercial enterprises of the country. This southwestern district produces 38 per cent. of the zinc produced in the United States.

The earning capacity of the Sunburst's property, handling ore that averages from 8 to 15 per cent. can be estimated from the production of other companies. The Center Creek Mining Company, of Webb City, Mo., from an 80-acre tract, has taken out nearly $7,000,000 and is still producing.

The report for the year 1901 shows the following production during that year from the several properties mentioned:

	Acres.	Value.
American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co.	6000	$ 967,100.00
A. W. Taylor	180	180,750.00
J. W Aylor	40	870,571.00
The Burgner Mining Co.	80	196,570.00
Center Creek Mining Co. (production to date)	200	6,952,191.00
Mrs. E. J. Chinn	120	721,700.00
Majestic Consolidated Zinc & Lead Co	52	534,490.00
Continental Zinc Co. (production to date)	200	1,575,369.00
Consolidated Troup Mining Co.	40	193,617.00
Daughtery-Davy-McMillan Estate	60	456,000.00
The Empire Zinc Co.	671	120,315.00
Fox Heirs	20	120,124.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1905		1,261,541.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1904		1,075,650.00
John G. Quinn	640	87,847.00
Pittsburg-Joplin Lead & Zinc Co.	10	98,000.00
Pittsburg-Missouri Zinc & Lead Co.	170	413,200.00
United Zinc Co.	135	290,574.00

From these figures it can be seen readily how such large dividends are paid. The Dinger Co pays 120 per cent., the Chapman 120 per cent., the Omega 117 per cent., and many others yield enormous returns.



BIRDS-EYE VIEW OF PROPERTY.

These profits are possible because of the concentrated richness of the ore, the fact that it is near the surface, that it requires no expensive machinery, that the buyers come to the mine and take the product right from the bins, that the climate is favorable, that the market is advancing, and the owners of the mine get steadily improving values for their ore produced. This is why lead and zinc mining is the safest and most profitable investment in the world today. Do you want 100 per cent. or more on your money?

Press Reports Rich Strike by Sunburst Mining Comp

From the Baxter Springs News, of November 8, 1906.

One of the richest strikes made in the Baxter Springs mining camp south of this city, for some time past, was that made by the Sunburst Mining Co., operating on one of their properties just east of the Sunnyside and north of the Hobo. The Sunburst Co. have three shafts in on which a large amount of drifting done, and this strike was made in No. 3 shaft, and apparently in the Hobo run of ore, which has always been considered one of the very best in the Quapaw reservation. The farther this run of ore is developed the richer it is showing.

The Sunburst Mining Co. also has made a very important deal the past week by purchasing from the Great Northern Mining Company 280 acres of leases one mile east of the Johanna, lease than one mile southeast of the new rich strike made by the Irish Maid, and about two miles west of Monkey Hill, where the most famous lead strike was made ever encountered anywhere in the southwest. The Monkey Hill strike showed as much as 72 inches of solid lead of the very highest grade. The Great Northern, which is one of the largest holders of the best leases in this camp, made this sale the past week.

The purchase of this large tract of land by the Sunburst crowd means important developments in that section. In addition to those already made, and, following on the heels of the rich lead strike made on the Charley Bluejacket land to the north of the tract and his purchase by a syndicate of Minnesota iron men, will cause an unusual amount of activity in that part of the camp.

The Sunburst Mining Co. will also start drifting their No. 1 shaft on the tract east of the Sunnyside to encounter the rich strike made to the north of it in the Isley mine. The Isley has encountered ore which will undoubtedly yield all the way from 25 per cent. to 70 per cent. The strike was made near the north line of the Sunburst tract.

HUMOR

AUNTIE'S MEMORY.

What She Knew About the Fall of the Roman Empire.

An old colored woman down in Alabama was reported to be of great age and was extremely proud of the distinction. The proprietor of a museum, on hearing of her, sent one of his agents to make an investigation, as she would be a valuable acquisition to his museum. The agent plied her with questions regarding her age. He asked her:

"Auntie, do you remember George Washington?"

"Does I remember George Washington? Laws a-massy, mister, I reckon I does, for I done nussed him when he was a chile."

"Well, I suppose you remember the Revolutionary war?"

"Yes, indeed, I does, honey. I stood dar lots of times an' seen de bullets flyin' round thick as hailstones."

"Well, auntie, how about the fall of the Roman empire? Do you recollect anything about that?"

"De fact is, honey, I was pretty young about dat time, but I does 'member, now you speak ob it, dat I did hear de white folks tell 'bout hearing somt'pin' drop 'bout dat time."—Harper's Weekly.

Dog Did the Wrong Trick.

The Irishman wanted to sell the dog, but the prospective buyer was suspicious and finally decided not to buy. The man then told him why he was so anxious to sell. "You see," he said, "I bought the dog and trained him myself. I got him so he'd bark all the time if a person stepped inside the gate, and I thought I was safe from burglars. Then my wife wanted me to train him to carry bundles, and I did. If I put a packet in his mouth the dog would keep it there till some one took it away. Well, one night I woke up and heard some one in the next room. I got up and grabbed my gun. They were there—three of the scoundrels and the dog."

"Didn't he bark?" interrupted the man.

"Sorry a bark; he was too busy."

"Busy? What doing?"

"Carrying a lantern for the burglars."—Dublin Freeman.

EXPERT'S REPORT.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 28, '00.

ROSAMOND CHIEF GOLD MINING CO.,

Gentlemen: I have made a special examination of the property of your company, and I find this property a valuable one, consisting of four claims, namely, the Mary Anna, Maggie, Alice, and Little Gem. All four have valuable ledges with average assay value of $20.35 per ton. This average is taken from the surface to a depth of 10 feet. I am satisfied it will do a great deal better with depth and as developing continues.

Yours truly,

S. M. BARMAN.

SO COLD!

"So cold! So cold!" the maiden said
And turned not from her lover,
Nor yet from wintry winds that sped
With mocking chill above her.

"So cold!" she said, and her dismay
Could hardly have been greater,
And then it was she turned away

Personal Equation.

"Speaking of extravagance," said the fluffy young thing comfortably ensconced in the steamer chair, "there must be an awful lot of food that goes to waste on a big ship like this."

Complimentary.

"Ah, yes," replied the unbarbered bard, "I referred to her as a girl of the alley."

"A girl of the alley? Why, she will be horrified!"

"Not at all. You see, she is the president of a female bowling team."—Chicago News.

Two Sides to It.

"Well," said the tiresome fellow, "there's no doubt about the truth of that old saying, 'The more we get, the more we want.'"

"Yes," replied Sharp, "but it also works the other way. The more we want, the less we get."—Philadelphia Press.

MAKING WAMPUM.

A Process That Requires Both Patience and Skill.

With certain tribes wampum is still highly prized and necklaces are worn by men, women and children when they are the fortunate possessors of them. To make wampum various kinds of shells are used, white and those having a lavender hue being most liked.

The thin shells are broken into little pieces and by aid of nippers are made as nearly round as possible. When each piece is drilled in the center, the old time fire kindling style of drill being used, the shells are then strung and rolled with the hand on a flat stone, which grinds them until they are smooth and even.

Comparatively few Indians among those who prize wampum beads most highly have the skill or patience to make them, even though they had the materials. The fact is there are but few wampum bead makers in the country, and it often happens that long pilgrimages must be made to secure the requisites for really fine beads, and, as with the white man's trinkets, that which is "far fetched and dear bought" is most sought after for ornamentation.

Around some of the ancient ruins in the southwest the little disks of wampum are often found in the sand, and it is probable that they were deposited in the graves in very early times and washed out or exposed by the wind's action. These ruins are in the best state of preservation of any in the country. Absolutely nothing is known of their builders, and the origin of these ruins was as much a mystery when Coronado first saw them in 1540, when he made his famous invasion, as it is to the people of the present day.—Indian's Friend.

Oxygen and Mushrooms.

A singular way of removing oxygen from the air by the aid of a plant is as follows: Inside a glass bell jar, suspended over water, is placed a mushroom, and sunlight is allowed to fall upon the plant. The mushroom absorbs the oxygen from the air in the jar, and the carbonic acid formed during the process is absorbed by the water, which gradually rises in the jar to one-fifth of its height. The mushroom now dries up, but its animation is only suspended, as may be proved by introducing beside it a green plant, when it will recommence to vegetate, being nourished by the oxygen exhaled from the fresh plant.

Hope.

"Mr. Merchant," said the new clerk, preparing to ask for more money, "I think I understand the business pretty well now, and"—

"Yes?" interrupted his employer. "Well, keep at it four or five years. Perhaps you'll understand it then as well as you think you do now."

Taking Papa Down.

First Daughter—Oh, papa, dear, two young men we've met down here have asked us to marry them. Father—They'd better see me first. Second Daughter—Oh, they've seen you, papa, and they love us notwithstanding.

A Fashion Note.

Doctor (to female patient)—You've got a slight touch of fever. Your tongue has a thick coat— Patient (excitedly)—Oh, doctor, do tell me how it fits!

Reading is thinking with some one else's head instead of one's own.—Schopenhauer.

Low Down.

"You are anaemic," says the physician after thumping and prodding. "You should practice deep breathing."

"Deep breathing!" retorts the patient. "Why, doctor, that is just what I do all the time. I work in a subway cellar sixty feet below the street level."—Judge.

Confidence.

Father (to aspirant to the hand of his daughter)—Suppose I should fail and lose my last cent, would you still ask me for my daughter? Lover—Naturally. I know you to be a man capable of getting to work again and making another fortune.—Il Mondo Umoristico.

No matter how witty the sarcastic man is, he never seems to have a lot of friends.—Somerville Journal.

BEER AND WOMEN.

Men Require Nerve and Blood Tonic.

How Are Your Nerves?

The daily grind of life burns up a man's vitality faster than he renews it.

He gets shaky, starts at trifles, tosses in his sleep, is ready to fly off the handle any minute.

The nervous man is nerfous because his blood is so thin his nerves are starved to death.

He needs Ferrozone!

Its first action is upon digestion.

It stimulates secretion of gastric juice, ensures perfect digestion, prepares the food so it can be at once assimilated.

Hence the blood is nourished, is fortified, made redder, richer, stronger.

To the whole organism is imparted a vim, endurance and reserve of vigor that the nervous man never knew before.

The restorative power of Ferrozone is marvelous. In a month it will make you feel like new, just as it did Mr. Karl E. Newsome of Rothesay, who writes: "I owe a debt of gratitude to Ferrozone which saved my life after a severe siege of nervous prostration. About a year ago my health gave out. I was in such a weak, irritable condition I couldnot work, and found that three doctors did nothing for me. My druggist recommended Ferrozone as the best preparation for nervous troubles, so I commenced with one tablet at meals. Every box of Ferrozone I took did me more good than the previous one, and it wasn't very long before I was completely cured. Ferrozone braced up my nerves, gave me a strong, healthy constitution, and is certainly a marvelous restorer and tonic."

Try Ferrozone—sold everywhere by druggists in 50c. boxes.

Lakefield Council Deadlock Broken

It now looks as though the municipal affairs of our northern suburb Lakefield, would get due attention. As noted in a former issue, several of those elected resigned their positions. The result of the subsequent elections were as follows:

Mr. Campbell, 194.
Mr. J. M. Bygott, 173.
Mr. G. Fitzgerald, 156.

The following also ran; Messrs. Blomfield, Carter, Clifford and Paul.

A Kindly Charitable Act

Yesterday Mrs. W. Bowman, proprietress of the Oxford House, Simcoe street, started a kindly crusade that not only reflects credit upon the larger hearted inaugurator of the deed but will give friends of a friend departed to assist helping the latter's family. As noted in these columns, a day or two ago Mr. Dan Foley, of the Oxford Hotel staff died suddenly leaving a widow and three children, with neither life insurance nor other tangible means of support. Yesterday Mrs. Bowman, former employer of the deceased, sent out two subscription lists to gain funds for the deceased's family. It might be noted that, at a late hour last night, Mrs. Bowman's kindly call on the friends of the deceased, was being well signed.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, "all gone" or "rising" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present as one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

—Mr. Bert Carmichael, formerly of the staff of the local branch of the former Ontario Bank, leaves on Friday for Kenora, Man., to accept a position with the Imperial Bank there.

—Mr. W. James has accepted a position as wine clerk at the Oxford Hotel. Mr. James, a son of the well-known ginger beer manufacturer, will doubtless have many of his friends call on him.

Local Men for Cobalt Silver Mine

Mr. T. H. Crowley, the well-known mining expert and prospector was seen by a Times representative and at once seized on as a medium for obtaining news of Cobalt, whence Mr. Crowley has just come.

Mr. Crowley has just returned from the silver embodied (not plated) part of Ontario, and will return again in about two weeks, taking with him a large gang of men to work in the development of the several claims Mr. Crowley has there. These men get transportation both way and $2 a day and their keep.

Mr. Crowley noted that leading New York capitalists are ready and anxious to take his claims over at a large sum in the immediate future.

He assured our representation that in the spring 50 car loads of silver will be shipped from Cobalt over the Lehigh Valley R.R.

An Octogenarian Celebrates

One of the young old men of this city, is Mr. Edward Green, of 326 Water street, who yesterday celebrated his first mile post beyond the octogenarian period. This gentleman is perhaps the oldest man doing business in Peterborough, and he has done business in this city for the past 67 years. After living in Montreal and Ogdensburg, N.Y., Mr. Green, in 1840, came to Port Hope, and thence to the then village of Peterborough. After being in the grocery business here for some time Mr. Green entered his present occupation, that of manufacturing blinds.

The North American Life Assurance Company

Held its Annual Meeting at its Home Office, in Toronto, on Tuesday, the 29th Day of January, 1907. The President, Mr. John L. Blaikie, was appointed Chairman, and the Managing Director, Mr. L. Goldman, Secretary, when the following report was submitted:

NEW BUSINESS

The policies issued for the year, together with those revived, amounted to the sum of $4,164,694, being less than the new business transacted for the previous year. Owing to the conditions prevailing in the life insurance business on this Continent, the Directors considered that in the interests of the policyholders the reduction in expenses was of greater importance than expansion in new business, and in this respect the Statement presented shows they have been eminently successful, by making the very large reduction of about five per cent. in one year in the ratio of expenses to premium income.

SAVING IN EXPENSE

This percentage of reduction has resulted in the material saving in expenses of $48,996.49, as compared with the previous year.

CASH INCOME

The cash income for the year from Premiums, Interest, etc. was $1,736,644, showing the satisfactory increase for the year of $86,489.94.

PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS

The amount paid on policyholders' account was $569,196.66, and of this amount the sum of $306,179.51 represents payments for dividends, matured endowments, etc.

ASSETS

The assets increased during the year by the sum of $491,958.79, and now amount to $7,799,061.45.

ADDITION TO RESERVE—NET SURPLUS INCREASED

After making ample provision for all liabilities, including special addition to the reserve fund, and paying a relatively large amount for dividends to policyholders during the year, there was a handsome addition made to the net surplus which now amounts to $650,399.46, the year's work from the financial standpoint being the best in the Company's history.

ASSETS SAFELY INVESTED

The assets of the Company have been, as heretofore, invested in the best class of securities; a detailed list of these will be published with the Annual Report for distribution.

FULL REPORT SENT TO GOVERNMENT

As heretofore, the Company's books were closed on the last business day of the year, and in due course full reports with detailed list of the securities held by the Company were sent to the Government.

MONTHLY AUDIT

A monthly examination of the books of the Company was made by the auditors, and at the close of the year they made a thorough scrutiny of all the securities held by the Company. In addition to the examination of the securities by the Auditors, a Committee of the Board consisting of two Directors, audited these securities each quarter.

Owing to Dominion Legislation providing that Judges should not be Directors of Corporations, the Hon. Sir William R. Meredith, K.C., who had been associated with the Company for many years, much to its advantage, felt compelled to resign the position on the Board of the Company, and the Directors accepted the same with great reluctance.

It will be the duty of this Meeting to elect a Director to fill the vacancy thus created.

The Insurance Legislation enacted in New York State which went into effect January 1st, 1907, had the effect of our Manager and Agents there declining to accept the statutory terms of remuneration, and it was therefore found necessary to cease writing new business in that State. Provision has been made at the Syracuse office to look after the interests of Policyholders in the State, while the large deposit will remain there for the security of Policyholders in the United States.

The care and attention manifested in their duties by the Company's Officers, Provincial Managers, Inspectors, District Agents, and all other Agents, are deserving of the highest commendation.

L. GOLDMAN, Managing Director. J. L. BLAIKIE, President.

The Annual Report, showing marked proofs of the solid position of the Company, and containing a list of the securities held, and also those upon which the Company has made collateral loans, will be sent in due course to each policyholder.

A Smith Bride Highly Honored

On January 16th, a very pretty wedding was celebrated at "Poplar Grove," when Miss Bertha L., third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Newton Bell, of the 5th con. of Smith, was joined in the golden bonds of wedlock to Mr. Whitfield Northey, Bridgenorth. The ceremony, took place at five o'clock, and was performed by Rev. Dr Metzler, of Bridgenorth.

The bride was becomingly attired in cream chiffon taffetta, trimmed with silk insertion, and wore the usual veil and orange blossoms. She entered the drawing room leaning on the arm of her father. The bridesmaid was Miss Ida Bell, whilst Mr. Harold Lawrence, of Lakefield, acted as best man.

After the ceremony was over, the happy couple and guests to the number of about forty, sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold brooch.

The following appreciative address was recently presented to the bride; To Miss Bertha Bell;

We, the members of the congregation of Fairview Methodist church, desire to express our appreciation of your faithful services as organist. We assure you that we are truly thankful and know full well that such service is never fully paid by man, but He who bade us deny ourselves for His sake will most abundantly reward all who serve Him in love. We hope you will remember us kindly and we have great pleasure in presenting to you this Morris chair as a small token of our appreciation of you as an organist, a friend and a Christian. We wish you a happy New Year and a long and joyous life wherever in the Providence of God you may chance to live.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.

New School for Asphodel

Owing, somewhat, perhaps to a recent visit of Mr. Inspector Lees, the ratepayers of school section, No. 6, Asphodel township, will erect a handsome new school, with Mr. Fred Doherty as teacher. The old building is unsafe, and is fast going to pieces. The new school will be of brick on a stone foundation, and will cost about $1,600. It will be large and modern in every respect.

China on Verge of a Great Rebellion

Famine Conditions Are One of the Causes for the Coming Upheaval---Government Helping the Famine Sufferers.

Washington, February 1. — Reports from American consular officers in China which reached the State Department, regarding the famine and the resulting conditions, still further confirm the stories of suffering and hardship among the people in the districts affected. Consul Haynes, at Nanking, says that the famine is ten times worse than anything known in that part of the empire for the past forty years.

The Government is trying to help the starving people to keep their cattle, and to this end is taking oxen and buffalo in pawn for two taels (about $1.80) each, keeping them thus until next spring, when it will return them. Consul-General Haynes declares that whatever aid may be extended by this Government in the present crisis will certainly do much to dispel the ill feeling recently aroused by the boycott, the exclusion act, etc.

REPORTS ARE CORRECT.

Consul-General Rodgers, at Shanghai, advises the department that the reports as to the conditions appearing in the newspaper, both foreign and Chinese, are for the most part sustained by the investigations made by the American naval officers. Furthermore, he says, an inquiry which he has made through entirely private sources affords the general conclusions that the famine will, by March 1st, be regarded as severe, and perhaps more so than that of 1878, by which it is thought 10,000,000 lives were lost.

The report of Mr. Rodgers is accompanied by a statement by Dr. Henry M. Woods, of the Southern Presbyterian mission at Hwai-An-Fu, who estimates that 10,000,000 people are affected by the famine, 4,000,000 of whom are starving. He says that at present more than 500,000 refugees are at Tsin-Kiang-Pu, huddled in mat sheds, and that the pitiful sight is daily witnessed of parents offering their children for sale at $2 to $4 each. Brigandage and robbery, he adds, are everywhere rife.

CAUSE OF ALARM.

Mr. Rodgers declares that the influence of the famine conditions upon current affairs can now be plainly seen in the unrest and the discontent of the people. From many places, he says, comes news of riots of greater or less degree, while in Kaangsi, a state bordering on actual rebellion is on. So serious has the situation become that a goodly portion of the available military force of Liang-Kang-Yamen is now in the field. Mr. Rodgers concludes:

"My deliberate opinion is that the next few months will see the development of dangerous things in this part of China, and that such conditions and circumstances will have a great effect upon foreign interests, political, as well as commercial. China's New year, which luckily falls late this year, beginning in the second week of February, is watched with no small degree of uneasiness."

"Con" Game Failed At Lindsay

Lindsay seems to be a haven or oasis for "con" men or women. The Lindsay Post notes that a few days ago, Messrs. Dundas & Flavelle of that burg received a letter bearing the signature of "Mrs. John Hay, Pleasant Point." The letter named a list of dry goods to be sent to the Simpson House sitting room. Mrs. [illegible] sent over, but Manager Wm. Dundas became suspicious, and sent for the goods. The parcel had been left at the hotel office, and although a couple of strange women and a man had been seen in the sitting room upstairs, they did not have the courage to enquire if the parcel they were waiting for had been left downstairs. The value of the parcel was about $22.50.

It transpired that Messrs. O'Loughlin & McIntyre had received a similar letter, asking for the dissimilar letter, asking for the delivery of a big order of goods at the hotel sitting room at five o'clock—also for Mrs. Hay. Mr. McIntyre becoming suspicious, went over in person with the parcel, which was left in the place indicated, but the thieves had become alarmed, and no one appeared to claim the bundle. If anyone had done so an arrest would have followed.

SPORTING TOPICS.

HOCKEY.

Last night two very interesting games were played in the City League series on the Brock street rink, when the Charlotte street team defeated the Orphans by a score of 7—4 in the first game, and in the second game the Strathconas just nosed out the Victorias by a narrow margin of 2—1 over the Lakefield aggregation. Mr. Stroud made a capable referee.

THE TURF.

The Buffalo Horse World, America's leading turf journal, has the following concerning the recent races at the driving park here:

"Col. Jackson, treasurer of the Peterborough Turf Club; Jas. O'Shea, secretary, and Martin Connors, manager, have reason to feel proud of the splendid meeting held in that progressive Canadian city the past week. The racing was high-class from start to finish, and everything conducted strictly to rule.

"The pacer, Frank McKinley, 2.16 1-4, formerly owned by Frank B. Dean the Beau Brummel of the Buffalo Road Drivers' Association, won the 2.17 class in straight heats, the first defeating that good mare Orillia Belle, Harry Direct and Happy Mack. Frank McKinley has been a mile in 2.08 1-4 in a race, and took his record as a four-year-old. Mr. Dean sold the brown gelding to Mr. Rountree of Toronto, last fall. Another exhibition piece performed creditably at Peterborough. It was the handsome mare, Lady Gothard, owned by Martin Connors, a prominent business man of that city. Lady Gothard was also formerly owned by Frank B. Dean, of Greater Buffalo, and, once upon a time stepped a mile at Cleveland in 2.14 1-4."

Sootohman Dies From Exposure

St. Catharines, Feb. 1. — Coroner Merritt yesterday investigated the death of John Wilson, who was found dead in his room at a house in Grantham township. Deceased had been living in a house occupied by Mrs. McKenna, whose husband is ill in the Hamilton hospital and unable to contribute to the support of his family. The family had practically nothing to eat, no fire, and their clothing was of the scantiest. When the coroner entered Mrs. McKenna was preparing a meal for herself and family. The meal consisted of a tin of canned fruit, and the children clustered about the mother clamoring for food. In an upper room lay the body of Wilson, very thinly clad, and with every indication that the man had died from want and exposure. Wilson was a Scotchman who came to this country in November last. The authorities wished to place the children in the orphans' home, but Mrs. McKenna decided to return to her home near Toronto, and take the children with her.

GREAT GAIN FOR PEACE SEEN

Lord Lieutenant of Ireland Tells Good of Anglo-French Entente.

London, February 1—The Earl of Aberdeen, lord lieutenant of Ireland, who has just returned from a visit to Italy, speaking at Dublin on the excellent reflex action the Anglo-French entente had on the relations between Italy and France and the great value of mutual intercourse between the different peoples in the promotion of peace, said there had been a striking illustration during the last week of how the flowing stream of mutual confidence and friendliness could quench any stray spark that might otherwise be fanned into a blaze.

Lord Aberdeen paid a high tribute to James Bryce as most admirably and exceptionally fitted to be ambassador at Washington, a position, he declared, of far-reaching importance.

Attacked by Wolves

Badger, Feb. 1.—Arthur Dore and Louis Moore, two Metcan woodsmen, were caught several miles from town by a pack of timber wolves. They managed to climb a tree, where they remained all night with the mercury 30 below. Only their heavy clothing saved their lives, both of them being badly frozen, when rescued by wood cutters the next day.

This is the first case of wolves attacking human beings in this district this winter.

TERRIFIC IMPLEMENT OF WAR

New Cannon, Which it is Asserted, Can Demolish an Army.

Paris, February 1.—M. Edmond Potter, a peaceably inclined Frenchman, wishes the Minister of War to equip the army with a deadly cannon which he has invented, and which is guaranteed to revolutionize modern warfare.

Armed with this cannon, he says, 2,000 men could hold at bay an army of half a million men equipped with ordinary arms. The cannon only weighs 170 pounds, so that two or three strong men can carry it about with them and demolish an army on their own account.

Briand Would Continue to Dicker

Paris, Feb. 1.—The existence of the Cabinet is believed to be in danger as a result of the clash in the Chamber of Deputies last night between Premier Clemenceau and Education Minister Briand, resulting from a radical divergence of views regarding the modus vivendi proposition of the French bishops.

M. Briand regards the proposition as being unacceptable in its present form, but believes that the war with the Church has gone far enough, and that the door of conciliation should not be closed.

M. Clemenceau flatly rejects even the discussion of the Bishop's proposition, and favors the immediate issuance of a circular to the prefects notifying them that the conditions which the parish priests are authorized to propose are unacceptable. He will brook no opposition and at the Cabinet meeting apparently carried his point. M. Briand and Minister Minister Caillaux being authorized to determine to whom the gifts and legacies in possession of the Church shall ultimately go, in default of the formation of cultural associations.

Have Found Thirty Bodies of Victims

Not a Man of the 90 Miners Escaped the West Virginia Disaster.

Charlestown, W. Va., Feb. 1.—The mangled and dismembered bodies of at least 30 of the 80 or more victims of Tuesday's disaster in the Stuart Mine, near Thurmond, were piled about the foot of the shaft when the rescuing party reached the 2,000 level last evening. Because of a broken cage it was impossible then to begin their removal, and only one body was in condition for removal with the bucket that was first used. Instant death appears to have overcome all the miners, and a thorough investigation will be necessary to determine the exact cause of the disaster. That none of the 80 men who were in the mine when the disaster occurred escaped with how is certain, and the rescuing parties are looking for more bodies as they advance.

Sixty coffins have arrived, and an order for 25 more has been given by the mining company. The rescuing parties contrived to work through the night, but the taking of bodies from the mine was delayed until the wrecked mine cage can be repaired.

The body of John Quick (white) was taken from the shaft in the bucket. An investigation is being made.

Army of Men Needed.

Winnipeg, February 1.—Department of Immigration officials here have been making a careful estimate of the number of laborers required for railroad work in the west during the coming season, their figures being for the guidance of the department in its propaganda in Europe and elsewhere. The result is a surprise, indicating that there will be 50,000 laborers required at least by contractors, an army of men which is quite indicative of the amount of extensions involved.

Canada Looking for Reciprocity

London, Feb 1.—The Glasgow Herald, referring to the fiscal relations of Canada, the United States, and Germany, remarks that apparently once more reciprocity will be the basis of settlement. This is a significant fact, considering that the three contracting parties are all wedded to high protection.

Regarding Canada's anti-dumping policy, the Herald adds that she is left to marvel why Canada should impose obstacles to the supply of any commodity at the lowest possible prices. If the policy is adopted in antagonism to the Vanny system, it may be recalled that Canada herself has many bounties. The Herald anticipates a new reciprocity treaty between Canada and the States in the not distant future.

Winnipeg, Jan. 31.—To solve the distress incident to the fuel famine, the C.P.R. officials are today sending out representatives through the Province to discover wood supply, and have it rushed to points which require it most. They will cover Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The plan was devised as a result of a conference with the Provincial authorities. Many branch lines continue to be blocked.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE IN THE CITY

Peterborough Hardware Company, the Leading House of its Kind Here is Now Under a New Management.

One of the most important business transactions that has been effected on George street for some years is the change taking place today in the personnel of the Peterborough Hardware Company's management.

This firm, which has been established for many years, was successor to the former well known hardware firm of McKee & Davidson, together with the amalgamated firm of Rorke & Phelan. The firm, which occupies the entire building, three stories in height, at 338 George street, is one of the largest retail stores of its kind in Canada, and draws trade from a large section of the surrounding country. Many of Peterborough's leading contractors contribute materially to the trade and prosperity of the Peterborough Hardware Co., their orders being almost of a wholesale character.

This important change in the company is largely due to Mr. V. Eastwood, the managing-director, accepting his present position as local manager of the Royal Bank of Canada. On taking hold of the bank managership Mr. Eastwood disposed of his large interests in the company to Messrs. Manson Comstock, Harry Morgan and C. M. Blewett, all of whom were formerly stockholders. Their absorption of Mr. Eastwood's shares gives these three gentlemen a controlling interest.

Mr. Eastwood, who will represent the McKee estate, has been elected president; Mr. Manson Comstock, managing-director; Mr. Harry Morgan, vice-president, and Mr. C. M. Blewitt, secretary-treasurer.

These new officers are all practical hardware men, having learned the rudiments of the business from boyhood, and are fully acquainted with every detail of every branch. All being comparatively young men the ambition and energy of youth, coupled with their knowledge of the trade and general popularity, will necessarily result in the business of the company expanding.

It might be noted that as the success of the Peterborough Hardware Company was largely due to the management of Mr. Vincent Eastwood, the Royal Bank has reason for congratulation in securing this practical and thorough business man as their local manager.

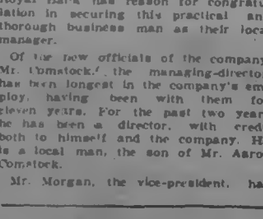
Of the new officials of the company, Mr. Comstock, the managing-director, has been longest in the company's employ, having been with them for eleven years. For the past two years he has been a director, with credit both to himself and the company. He is a local man, the son of Mr. Aaron Comstock.

Mr. Morgan, the vice-president, has been with the company for some seven years, and has, like Mr. Comstock, been a very efficient director for the past two years. He is a son of the late Mr. A. P. Morgan, for many years proprietor of the former Morgan House, but which now is known as the Munro House.

Mr. Blewitt has been with the company for the past six years, and was accountant for the firm for four years. In 1905 he resigned this position and went out west, but last August returned and accepted the office of secretary-treasurer, when Mr. R. H. Portys resigned to take a position with the Tool and Stovel Company of this city. Mr. Blewitt, who was born in Huron County, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Blewitt, of Smith Township.

V. EASTWOOD
President of the Peterborough Hardware Company.

HARRY MORGAN
Vice-President of the Peterborough Hardware Company.



C. M. BLEWITT

Juror Thaw Wanted is Excused From Service

Judge and Lawyers on Both Sides Conferred and Two More Men Were Released--- Jerome Insisted.

New York, Feb. 1.—When the seventh day's proceedings in the trial of Harry K. Thaw opened yesterday it was expected that the one juror special resemblance to Richard Harding Davis. The son of a millionaire himself, Mr Walker is well known among men about town in New York. Something of an athlete, he has a record of having 'cleaned up' a party of three roughs who attacked him on a dark highway one night. He still bears the scars of knife wounds inflicted in this encounter.

"He is known at all of the prominent cafes along Broadway, and has figured in several interesting escapades with other little children of the rich, particularly at college. He knew Stanford White and many of the dead man's friends, is a friend of Truxton Beale, who dined with the Thaws at the Cafe Martin the night of the shootings, and has even formed an opinion on the case, which he acknowledged having expressed within the past few days."

Oscar A Peck, a grain sales man, 46 years of age, was chosen as a juror in the Thaw case yesterday. He is the tenth man now in the box.

Another new juror has been ordered, making a total of 900 talesmen brought in.

THE TWO NEW ONES.

Oscar Peck, 46 years old, married, salesman for a hay and grain concern, was the first juror accepted yesterday.

The second new juror, making the eleventh in the trial panel, was secured in Wilbur S Steele, a manufacturer of gas plants. Mr Steele is married, and about 40 years old.

HAD A POLICE RECORD.

With three jurors still to be chosen the prosecution had seven peremptories [illegible] Deputy M. Delmas remained on the sick list yesterday, but his partner Mr McPike, was present.

A detective from Mr. Jerome's office yesterday brought here a new witness in the Thaw case from Glen's Falls, N.Y. His name is Warren, and he is said to have witnessed the shooting of White.

Assistant District Attorney Marshall left for Pittsburg yesterday to investigate the record of Harry Thaw in that city. His name is said to have appeared on the police blotter there several times.

Will Ask Lavergne to Resign His Seat

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—An interesting sequel of the story of the other day as to the trouble between Armand Lavergne, M.P., for Montmagny, and the Liberal party leaders, is the statement that a petition will be circulated in Montmagny asking him to resign his seat on the ground that he was elected as a Ministerial member and has become an Independent.

If Mr. Lavergne is induced to resign he will be opposed by P. E. Savard, ex-member for Chicoutimi and Saguenay, who is now one of the legal advisers of the Trans-continental Railway Commission, but whom, current report says, is not overburdened with duties, at any rate. Mr. Savard declares it to be his intention to contest the constituency at the next general election if there is not a contest before that date.

Legalize Marriages

London, Feb. 1.—Luke White, M.P., addressing the Agricultural Club, at Scarborough, said he had consulted agricultural clubs in his district of Yorkshire, and had come to the conclusion that it was his duty to oppose the removal of one restriction on Canadian store cattle.

The Baptist Union Council, in view of social difficulties and serious civil disabilities, asks the Government to promote a measure legalising marriages with deceased wife's sister.

W. H Stanford, of the Canadian Immigration Department, delivered an interesting lecture before a large audience at Cambridge University on the subject, "Where is Esperanto Land?" Mr. Stanford suggested Canada.

Preacher Has Thirteen Wives

Chicago, Feb. 1.—A despatch from Toledo, Ohio, says;

Charged with bigamy, and credited with having thirteen wives, Rev. Albert Holden, reported to have two sons also under indictment for bigamy, pleaded guilty yesterday, and was sentenced to serve six years in the penitentiary. Holden says he married "every time the spirit moved him." His courtships always took place during one of his revivals and his victims were always one of those whom he had taken into the church.

Just before sentence was passed, Holden said to the judge that he had been the victim of brain trouble and blamed his many marriages on this affliction. He said he had struggled against the sin of bigamy but that all his prayers had availed him nothing.

DOCTOR EXPLAINS

His Article in the Medical Magazine About Coffee.

One of the most famous medical publications published in the United States is the "Alkaloidal Clinic," in a recent number of which an entertaining article on coffee by a progressive physician and surgeon was published. In explaining his position in the matter this physician recently said:

"In the article in question I really touched but lightly upon the merits of Postum Food Coffee. I have had several cases of heart trouble, indigestion and nervousness where a permanent cure was effected by merely using Postum in place of coffee without any other treatment.

"In my own family I have used Postum for three years and my children actually cry for it and will not be satisfied with any other beverage. Indeed they refuse to eat until they have had the customary cup of Postum and as it is a rebuilder and does nothing but good I am only too glad to let them have it.

"To get the best results we boil the Postum at least 15 minutes and it is then settled by adding a little cold water, then the addition of fresh cream makes a beverage I now prefer to the the very best coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Authorities are agreed that Postum is a wonderfully quick and pure rebuilder. Ten days' trial in place of coffee proves it.

NATURE'S CATARRH CURE

Sensible and Scientific Way to Cure this Disagreeable Disease.

Nearly everyone suffers at one time or another with catarrh.

The natural way to cure this disagreeable disease is by applying healing medications direct to the diseased spot.

In no other way can the same be done as naturally as by the use of Hyomei breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit.

Put several drops of Hyomei in the inhaler and then for a few minutes, four or five times a day, let the air you breathe come through it. In that way all the air that enters the nasal passages, the throat or the lungs, is filled with Hyomei's healing medication, reaching the most remote air cells of the respiratory organs, destroying all catarrhal germs and healing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

A few days' use of Hyomei will show how quickly it relieves all catarrhal conditions, and you will not have to use it long before you find it has effected a complete and lasting cure.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei, or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physician will give your case the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. Beware of Mercury

You May be Using this Harmful Drug and Not Know it.

A favorite method of administering this deleterious drug is in cathartic pills. Beware of "quick-result" articles, they may do more harm than good.

Drastic cathartics will weaken the strongest. With old people they are a positive menace to life.

Merely to restore normal bowel action and gently stimulate the liver is all that the wise physician recommends.

To keep the system pure and clean, nothing is so efficacious, as the vegetable pills of Dr. Hamilton, which are composed of such herbs as mandrake, buttercup and dandelion; they contain not an atom of any substance that could injure even an infant.

By their certain action on the Liver Dr Hamilton's Pills cause bile to be secreted which forms the stimulus that moves the bowels; this is nature's own method and the best one.

Mr R. Hamsby, of French River, Ont., writes as follows; "I was inclined to bilious attacks and frequently was too ill to work. Most remedies purged and weakened my bowels, but Dr. Hamilton's Pills gently stimulated my liver, and by strengthening the stomach made a perfect cure. My health has been just splendid since I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills from your druggist or storekeeper. 15c per box or five boxes for $1. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co. Hartford, Conn. U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

ANOTHER LABOR QUESTION FOR FARMERS

A bill is at present before the Dominion Parliament, the object of which is to limit the period of labor on all Government contracts to eight hours per day. If this bill becomes law, the restriction as to the time which laborers may work on public contracts will apply to that section of the Transcontinental Railway which is being built by the Canadian Government at a cost that may reach one hundred million dollars. It will apply as well to the next great public work in contemplation, the French River and Ottawa Canal, the estimated cost of which is placed at about one hundred and fifty millions. It will become applicable even to such minor public works as the armories to be built at Belleville, Guelph, and to post-office buildings which are being erected in small towns.

The effect of this legislation, says The Farmers' Sun, if adopted, will be to increase the labor cost on all public works by fully 25 per cent. But that is not all. If the eight-hour system is applied on public works carried on by the Dominion Government, it will certainly be applied in the near future to contracts carried on by the Provincial Governments, and by city and town municipalities. From these works the system will extend to factories conducted by private companies in industrial centers.

It is hardly necessary to point out what the effect of all this must be on the farm labor problem. It is difficult enough to obtain an adequate supply of farm hands at the present time in competition with the wage scale ruling in cities and towns; it will be infinitely more difficult if to the high scale of wages is added a legislative restriction limiting the period of labor in towns to eight hours a day. The limitation is unreasonable, too. In some trades and callings the restriction imposed is reasonable enough, but to apply it to ordinary pick and shovel work in the open is simply absurd. Still, the legislation proposed is not unlikely to be enacted, unless farmers, who will be the chief sufferers from it in the end, raise their voices in protest. That protest should be both prompt and vigorous.

Right Arm Terribly Mangled

North Bay, Jan. 30.—J. McKee, about 25 years of age, was arrested as a lunatic yesterday afternoon. While being marched at police headquarters by P. C. Lefebvre, a revolver was found concealed in his boot top. One of Lefebvre's fingers was shattered by a bullet while wrestling with the prisoner. The latter's hand was also damaged. McKee was taken to Brockville Asylum by Constable Lefebvre last night.

MISS NORA S. BLATCH.

A Civil Engineer in the Employ of New York City.

Miss Nora Stanton Blatch of New York city, granddaughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, is a member of that city's staff of civil engineers in charge of the $161,000,000 Catskill water system.

Miss Blatch's appointment was not due to any pull, but was made on merit.

Miss Blatch is an unusually pretty young woman, athletic, active and fond of outdoor life. She distinguished herself years ago while a senior at

MISS NORA STANTON BLATCH.

Cornell by swimming Cayuga lake, a distance of two and a half miles. The feat was an easy one for her, and her friends declared at the time that she could have swum the entire distance back.

She decided to follow engineering on entering college and applied for membership in the American Society of Civil Engineers. She was admitted recently, being the first woman ever received into that organization.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, a noted New York clubwoman and lecturer and a daughter of Elisabeth Cady Stanton.

Sunlight and the House.

Sunlight is nature's most health giving scavenger. A house without sunlight is unhealthy and unsafe for human occupancy, and it is necessary not only to have some sunlight, but to have as much of it as possible. It is, of course, not possible to admit the direct rays of the sun to every room of a house. The typical plan of all houses is square or rectangular, and at least one side of the house is entirely beyond the reach of the sun. The other three sides, however, can receive more or less direct sunlight, and the problem of the plan is thus reduced to arranging the various rooms so that the amount of sunlight is adjusted to their uses, and it must be sunlight, for mere light itself is not sufficient. The rays of the sun have curative and cleansing properties that nothing else has.

It is generally admitted that a southern exposure is the best for all houses and should be obtained whenever possible. It is immaterial whether the entrance be placed on this side or not, so long as the rooms most in use open on to it. In dwellings of average size the entrance front will also be the front on which any important room opens, but in large country houses the old distinction of a front and back to a house has disappeared, and instead we have the entrance front and the garden front. The service and servants' quarters, so long regarded as characteristic of the "back" of a house, may be relegated to a side end or placed in a wing that abuts directly on the entrance front. In such cases it must be well screened and its purpose thoroughly subordinated.—American Homes and Gardens.

Mint Jelly.

Mint jelly, which gives the cachet of smartness to simple luncheons, may be made from the mint tea and sugar alone or, as I prefer it, with gelatin to stiffen. When used on a hot plate it melts almost immediately, but its flavor even so is a delight, and it looks charmingly green and appetizing when brought on the table. Pour two cups of boiling water over a bunch of fresh bruised mint leaves, then steep on the back of the range for ten or fifteen minutes. Strain and to a pint of the liquid allow a half package of gelatin soaked in cold water reserved from the two cups measured out in the first place. Add sugar to sweeten and lemon juice to make as acid as desired. Stir until dissolved, then set away to cool. As it begins to thicken stir in two tablespoonfuls of capers or picked nasturtium buds, then pour into little individual molds about the size of a small egg cup or in a good sized mold and set away to harden. It should be made the day before it is to be used. When ready to serve turn out on a low glass dish of pretty individual plates and garnish with tiny sprigs of fresh mint. Instead of using the plain gelatin you can take a package of any of the prepared patent jellies, currant or lemon being the preferred flavors.—Washington Star.

Mac Proposals.

"I wish some one would publish a book from me entitled 'Proposals I Have Had,'" sighed a woman who has had a great many. "I think it would supply a want in modern literature to publish them arranged and classified. There was the man who asked me to marry him because he was a widower with two children to be taken care of; there was the old bachelor who gently sighed that he had tried everything else in life but getting married, and would I kindly help him with that experiment; there was the one—I hated him more than the others—who talked religion to me all the time because he thought I was very religious; there was the man who expressed that we might make a good business combination—my brains and his experience—and the man who wanted me to 'keep him straight.' I suppose it is useless to sigh for the impossible in this world of coarse materialism, but I confess I'm still looking for the man who 'loves me' before I put the final chapter to my book."—Philadelphia Record.

The Wash Boiler.

Many watchful housekeepers complain that the wash boiler has an unfortunate way of rusting and iron molding the clothes. This may be avoided very simply by smearing the bottom of the boiler with a thick coating of good soap before putting it aside after the weekly washing is over. This little device will not only prevent rust, but the soap will serve as an excellent foundation for the suds of the coming wash day. Incidentally there comes to mind at this moment another excellent bit of advice—never use cold water to dampen clothes. Hot water does this work in a much more satisfactory and even manner.

Using Face Lotions.

In using buttermilk or any lotion for the face the manner of applying it is important. It is best to pour as much as you will need at one time of whatever you are using into a saucer. An excellent way of applying it is to use sterilized, absorbent cotton or gauze, which can be bought reasonably by the pound or package at the chemist's. You can make some little balls of the cotton or pads of the gauze and put them into a clean wide mouthed jar with a screw top and use them as needed. Dip them into the lotion and gently wash it over the face, using fresh ones from time to time during the process.

Useful Seats.

In every house there are boxes, traveling trunks, etc., which some of us are obliged to have in our bedrooms, for the average house or flat does not rise to the dignity of a storeroom. Wherever they may be, they are an eyesore. But a tight fitting cover of sateen or cretonne will transform them, if not into things of beauty, at least into something more pleasing to the eye than originally, especially if the colors be chosen with due regard to the other surroundings.

Pushing of the Old Maid.

Old maids are dying out. In a few years' time the typical old maid of our youth will rarely be seen, and a hundred years hence she will probably be dead altogether. The term "old maid" is now seldom or never heard; the expression "bachelor girl" has taken its place, and many and happy are the bachelor girls in Britain today, with their independence, their little homes and their own well arranged lives.—London Queen.

Grace in Sitting.

When a woman seats herself she should always take note of the lines of her gown. This should be gracefully hung across her knees, so as to bring out the line of the figure. A woman should seat herself in such a manner that she looks long, so to speak. The skirt can be so arranged over the feet that one takes on a nice height, even though one be built short.

DOMINION LINE, 17 St. Sacrament St., Montreal

Developments in the last few days are reported by the press and verified by the company's officers, again attract public attention to the famous Sunburst Mines—having added 200 acres of rich lead and zinc land in the heart of the world's richest producing district to original holdings, the Sunburst Company has ordered the permanent equipment of shaft No. 3.

WORK BEGINS ON THE SUNBURST MINES

Machinery being installed and work on No. 3 shaft immediately resumed. Drifting being pushed to connect the No. 2 and No. 3 shafts, which, according to the drilling, will open up immense bodies of ore for the full distance, which is about 600 feet. The Eastman Development Co.'s White Eagle Mill, which was started within the last 60 days, is now producing some eight to ten tons of zinc ore per shift—being the record breaker of the district so far. This property is immediately to the northwest of the Sunburst property. The Clarissa, to the southwest, has made a phenomenal strike in the last week. The opportunity to share in this wonderful fortune making is now presented by the development of the Sunburst property. Millions will be taken out of this district in 1907, and shrewd investors are now seizing their opportunity to reap a golden harvest from the vast mineral wealth the Baxter Springs Camp. Many properties are now returning from 25 to 150 per cent. dividends on the investment.

IMMENSE ORE BODIES PROVEN UP

The Sunburst Mining Company now owns a vast property in Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory, generally known as the Baxter Springs District. The history of the company is well known to the public. The great richness has long been admitted. Now development work proves the most sanguine expectations. The Baxter Springs News of December 6, 1906, says:

"The Sunburst is showing up some mighty big ore the past week. J. C. Bryner, who is doing the development work, brought in samples of his latest ore taken out of shaft No. 3, and it certainly shows up fine. This shaft now has 30 feet of drifting to the south, showing rich ore all the way, and the deposit encountered the past week is the same as the Hobo mine is cutting in its north drifts, which are only eighty feet to the south, and which are being driven north to connect with this south drift of the Sunburst. The Indiana, just to the west, is showing up remarkably rich lead and jack in its east drift. Gatlin is encountering the same to the east and north, thus demonstrating that immense ore deposit covers the Ayers-Sloan, White Eagle, Western Mining Co.'s Omaha, Winner, Good Luck, Hobo, Gatlin, Indiana and Sunburst leases, all of which are within a radius of a few hundred feet of each other. This is the richest deposit yet opened up, and while this is a fact it is owing to the intense development in this particular section of the camp, which is proving up the drillings which have been made since the camp started."

This immense rich property lies four miles from Baxter Springs, Kansas, and is just across the state line in the Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory. All around and immediately adjoining this property are good producing mines with fine mills, which are making their owners rich. Just southwest is the mill owned by the Whitneys of New York. On every side we are surrounded by producing mines, operating in ore bodies that run into and through our section, and from the reports of experts and engineers are actually richer and nearer the surface here than in any other place in the district. The formation consists of a blanket deposit of mineral of the richest quality, from 15 to 30 feet in thickness, lying at a depth of from 67 feet to 74 feet, thus making it very easy and inexpensive to mine.

Thousands of dollars were expended in drilling holes and sinking shafts to prove not only the existence in paying quantities of lead and zinc, but also the unusual richness of the ore. The drilling and shaft sinking have demonstrated a uniform bed of ore over the entire acreage of 15 to 30 feet in thickness, and found only 67 feet under the surface. The water is only sufficient to wash the ore while milling. This is an important point, as in many lead and zinc mines the superabundance of water is a very dangerous factor. The ore is found between well-defined flat beds of limestone, which allows of the ore being taken out without the use of any timbers whatever, pillars of ore being allowed to support the roof, which is thus permanently safe.

The Same Ore Body That Makes Others Rich

No other district can produce so many rich mines in so small an area as this portion of the Baxter Springs Camp. Look at the map and you will see how the Sunburst holdings are the very heart of this section. To the north are the Dark Horse, Isley, Tipton, Magasha, all well-known properties. To the west are the Sunnyside (the oldest mill in camp), White Eagle, Indiana, Ayers and Sloan. To the south, the famous Hobo (the richest mine ever opened in the district, which has drifted to the south line of the Sunburst in extremely high-grade ore). The ore milled last week by the Hobo ran 10 per cent. In three months 600,000 pounds of rich ore was taken out by the Hobo. This mine is 1½ feet from our property and is in the same ore bed. Shaft No. 2 is only 70 feet from the Hobo north drift, with the same bed of ore. The drilling shows this bed to run across the entire Sunburst property. Shaft No. 2 is 400 feet from the northeast drift of the Hobo and is into the same ore bed.

To the south are also the Omaha Mines and Mill and the Good Luck Mine, where the lead has proven to be so heavy. On these properties mills are erected and extremely rich ore extracted, making great returns for the owners.

SHAFT NO. THREE.

ADVANCE IN PRICE

On account of the additional holdings, which are of great intrinsic value, as well as the remarkable proof of richness afforded by the development work already begun, the price of Sunburst stock will not remain long at the present figure.

Every step forward in the workings of the company is attracting wide attention, and is justifying the most liberal expectations.

As this work goes on Sunburst stock is bound to increase in value, as it is bound to be a mighty source of profit. The public demand because of the public confidence in this great property has already absorbed thousands of shares and has steadily advanced the price, but this advance will be small in comparison to what is coming.

The shrewd investor will realize his opportunity now, and will buy before the next big advance.

Buy now and share pro rata in the demonstrated profits of this enterprise. Make your reservation for as many shares as you may desire at the present price, remit 10 per cent. of the full price for the block and send us the balance in nine monthly payments. Upon the completion of your payments your certificate will be sent you for the desired number of shares, fully paid and non-assessable, no matter how much the price of stock may have advanced during that time.

You will thus become a stockholder in this company on equal terms with all the other stockholders, and by payments so small as to be hardly noticed.

The tremendous advantage to the small investor through this plan of payment must be apparent at a glance. By subscribing, for instance, $80.00 now and remitting only $8.00, you will obtain the whole block subscribed for at the present low price, and receive the full advantage of every advance on the whole $80.00 worth, although your first payment is but $8.00.

You really invest $8.00 and get all the benefit of an investment of $80.00! Could anything be fairer?

In order to secure the benefit of this offer it will be necessary for you to make your reservation at once, with the understanding that you will be entirely free to withdraw it if further investigation fails to convince you of the merits of the stock.

The officers of this company, who have the handling of your money, the conduct of the mine, and paying of dividends, are stockholders like any other.

What is more, they are well-known and successful business men. Look them up. Investigate their standing, their acumen, their integrity.

This is a business proposition. Here are business men conducting it. They invite your investigation.

MAP OF DISTRICT SHOWING SUNBURST MINE.

Why Stock is Now Offered at 80 a Share

This issue of fully paid and non-assessable stock is for the purpose of procuring immediate funds to build a concentrating mill, equip the plant with hoisting machinery, and continue development work and put day and night shifts to work—in a word, to apply to this immensely rich property the same development that is resulting everywhere around us in paying great dividends and enormously enhancing the value of the property. Have you ever considered investing in a true lead and zinc mine? Have you not heard on the contrary of the fortunes taken out right in this district, not by one, but practically by all mining plants in the last few years? Have you ever had the opportunity to get in on the ground floor of such an investment? At this price the immense profits simply depend on this. Are the facts such as we have stated? Now, this we prove in detail—we will even arrange to take you to the mine—we refer you to any of the reports on this property—to banks—to engineers—to the evidence of surrounding properties; we lay the proposition before your business judgment, with the full appreciation that you owe it to yourself to investigate this simply as an investment in a commercial enterprise.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

In compliance with the request of the officers and stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., a detailed examination of the property was made October 1, 1906, by M. S. Parker, the well-known mining engineer and member American Society C. E. Excerpts from Mr. Parker's report follow:

The Sunburst Mine is located in the southeast corner of Section 29, Township 29, Range 24, east of the Indian Meridian, in the Quapaw Reserve, Indian Territory. It is joined on the south by half its width by the famous Hobo Mine, which produces the richest lead and zinc ore of any mine in the district thus far developed, and prospect drill holes and shafts north of the Hobo, on the Sunburst, show the same grade of ore, and at the same depth and of the same thickness.

The Omaha Mine, which is now successfully operating a new 150-ton mill, also adjoins the Sunburst on the south, and have drilled along their north boundary, striking the same body of ore as developed by prospecting over the line on the Sunburst.

The Hobo and Omaha Mines on the south have been prospected along the line of the Sunburst by drill holes and the present working shafts and drifts, which verifies the results of the prospecting done on the Sunburst Mine, north of the south boundary of the Sunburst.

FORMATION.

This mine comes under the blanket formation class. Out of the last eleven holes drilled, only two holes were barren of lead or zinc ore, most of them showing lead and zinc ore in paying quantities, while some of the holes drilled showed very rich deposits of lead and zinc.

One of the drill holes on the Hobo Mine showed very rich cuttings; within a foot of this hole was a blank spot 50 feet in diameter. The shaft of the Hobo Mine was sunk within 8 feet of a drill hole showing a very rich zinc ore, and went down through such a spot—no zinc ore being encountered—within a foot of the shaft walls very rich zinc and lead ore was found.

The thickness of the ore body, as shown by the drill holes, is from 15 to 30 feet. Ore is struck in shaft No. 3 at 67 feet depth, and the shaft is still in the ore at 75 feet. The drill cuttings at this shaft showed ore down to 91 feet depth. From all the drill holes this depth, viz., 91 feet appears to be the floor or bottom of the ore body, and is very uniform. The roof, however, varies in depth from the surface, 67 feet being the nearest it comes to the surface, while at places it is shown to drop down to 80 feet in depth, but the average depth to roof is very close to 65 feet. This would indicate an average thickness of the ore body of about 25 feet.

Three shafts have been sunk. No. 1 shaft, 5 1-2 by 8 feet, is down 88 feet, well timbered, and has good shafthouse and derrick. From this shaft prospect drifts have been driven, in all about 200 linear feet, mostly in lead-bearing ground. A small office building is near this shaft.

Shaft No. 2, 5 1-2 by 8 1-2 by 90 feet, well timbered, with shafthouse, derrick and boilerhouse in good repair. From this shaft a drift is driven north 20 feet, then west 50 feet. Head of west drift is in good ore. The face of this drift is in zinc ore, while the bottom is in rich lead ore. This shaft should go down to 90 feet depth. This will give a 70-foot face of ore.

Shaft No. 3, 5 1-2 by 7 1-2 by 75 feet, well timbered—a first-class shaft. No buildings on it. A short drift is running south in good zinc ore. The bottom of this shaft is in good lead ore. These three shafts, with 15 drill holes, constitute the present development of the mine.

The Sunburst is located within four miles of the Frisco Railway, Baxter and Quapaw stations being about equally distant from the mine. A road is projected from Baxter to Miami that will run within a quarter of a mile of the mine. This road is to be a freight and passenger electric road for the accommodation of the mines.

Baxter Springs business men have subscribed $25,000 toward the building of this line, and every assurance is given that the road will soon be constructed. This will make transportation of fuel and mine products materially cheaper than at present, although the cost under present conditions is not heavy.

It is needless to say that work at the Sunburst can be carried on the year round, the climate in this section being so mild in winter that very little trouble is experienced in mining operations in the Quapaw Reserve.

Summing up the points in this report, I will say that you have a first-class lead and zinc property. Rarely will one find a tract of ground so universally mineralized as the Sunburst Mine. If you follow the recommendations I have made regarding development, I feel assured you will reap your reward in good dividends. Trusting that this report will meet with the approval of the President and Stockholders of the Sunburst Mining Co., I subscribe myself,

Very respectfully yours,
M. S. PARKER.

As an investment proposition we believe that the Sunburst Mine will certainly pay no less than 25 per cent. We quote from other reliable sources the following figures showing the enormous annual dividends earned by lead and zinc mines in the Southwest field:

Osceola Mining Co.	24 per cent.	Katydid Mining Co.	50 per cent.
Cottonwood Mining Co.	45 per cent.	Mocking Bird Mining Co.	64 per cent.
Waddell Zinc Co.	47 per cent.	John Jackson Mining Co.	60 per cent.
Conqueror Lead and Zinc Co.	80 per cent.	Omega Mining Co.	117 per cent.
Hudson Mining Co.	36 per cent.	Linger Mining Co.	100 per cent.
B. & H. Mining Co.	40 per cent.	Chapman Mining Co.	120 per cent.
		Underwriters' Land Co.	60 per cent.

Buy Stock on Easy Payment Plan

A rise in the price of these shares to par means over 1200 per cent. for every $1 invested—besides the dividends.

Subscriptions will be accepted for 200 shares and upward, either by cash in full, with reservation, or by 10 per cent. down and 10 per cent. monthly for 9 months.

The cost is the same either way, but by the installment plan you can reserve a much larger block of stock, and when the price advances, as it will immediately on disposal of this block of stock, you can reap the immediate profit.

Your whole reservation will receive the benefit of every advance in price, even while you are paying for it. Upon completion of your payments, certificate will be issued for stock purchased. If unable to finish payments, you will receive, upon request, certificate for the amount paid for. Stock now 8 cents per share, par value, $1.00.

A few dollars will start you. Read the following table, then act promptly:

$16.00 buys 200 shares of stock; $1.60 down, $1.60 a month for 9 months.
$72.00 buys 900 shares of stock; $7.20 down, $7.20 a month for 9 months.

Stock fully paid and non-assessable. All stock shares alike. No preferred stock, no bonds.

Property of Fabulous Wealth

HEMMED IN BY PRODUCING MINES

Thousands of dollars expended on shafts and development work show ore runs from 8 to 12 per cent—while a yield of 4 per cent. in Center Creek Mine has produced nearly $7,000,000

The increasing demand for lead and zinc is too obvious to need detailed statement. Both metals are in steady demand and at steadily advancing prices. The prices have gone up since 1899 from $21.12 per ton for lead and $16.61 for zinc to $82.00 for lead and $45.00 for zinc. The lead and zinc industry is now right at the front in the great commercial enterprises of the country. This southwestern district produces 30 per cent. of the zinc produced in the United States.

The earning capacity of the Sunburst's property, handling ore that averages from 8 to 15 per cent. can be estimated from the production of other companies. The Center Creek Mining Company, of Webb City, Mo., from an 80-acre tract, has taken out nearly $7,000,000 and is still producing.

The report for the year 1901 shows the following production during that year from the several properties mentioned:

	Acres.	Value.
American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co.	4000	$ 987,100.00
A. W. Taylor	180	180,758.00
J. W. Aylor	40	576,571.00
The Burgher Mining Co.	80	196,500.00
Center Creek Mining Co. (production to date)	300	6,962,484.00
Mrs. E. J. Chinn	170	231,750.00
Majestic Consolidated Zinc & Lead Co.	52	214,400.00
Continental Zinc Co. (production to date)	700	1,577,500.00
Consolidated Troup Mining Co.	40	195,613.00
Daughtery-Davy-McMillan Estate	60	454,000.00
The Empire Zinc Co.	471	120,319.00
Fox Heirs	20	170,124.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1905		1,261,501.00
Granby Mining & Smelting Co., 1904		1,076,650.00
John G. Quinn	640	82,467.00
Pittsburg-Joplin Lead & Zinc Co.	10	90,000.00
Pittsburg-Missouri Zinc & Lead Co.	170	418,204.00
United Zinc Co.	136	200,376.00

From these figures it can be seen readily how such large dividends are paid. The Dinger Co. pays 120 per cent., the Chapman 170 per cent., the Omega 117 per cent., and many others yield enormous returns.

BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF PROPERTY.

These profits are possible because of the concentrated richness of the ore, the fact that it is near the surface, that it requires no expensive machinery, that the buyers come to the mine and take the product right from the mine, that the climate is favorable, that the market is advancing, and the owners of the mine get steadily improving values for their ore produced. This is why lead and zinc mining is the safest and most profitable investment in the world today. Do you want 100 per cent. or more on your money?

Press Reports Rich Strike by Sunburst Mining Comp

From the Baxter Springs News, of November 8, 1906.

One of the richest strikes made in the Baxter Springs mining camp, south of this city, for some time past, was that made by the Sunburst Mining Co., operating on one of their properties just east of the Sunnyside and north of the Hobo. The Sunburst Co. have three shafts in ore, with a large amount of drifting done, and this strike was made in No. 3 shaft, and apparently in the Hobo run of ore, which has always been considered one of the very best in the Quapaw reservation. The farther this run of ore is developed the richer it is showing.

The Sunburst Mining Co. also has made a very important deal the past week by purchasing from the Great Northern Mining Company 250 acres of leases one mile east of the Johanna, less than one mile southeast of the new rich strike made by the Irish Maid, and about two miles west of Monkey Hill, where the most famous lead strike was made ever encountered anywhere in the southwest. The Monkey Hill strike showed as much as 28 inches of solid lead of the very highest grade. The Great Northern, which is one of the largest holders of the best leases in this camp, made this sale the past week.

The purchase of this large tract of land by the Sunburst crowd means important developments in that section in addition to those already made, and, following on the heels of the rich lead strike made on the Charley Hluckacket land to the north of the tract and its purchase by a syndicate of Minnesota iron men, will cause an unusual amount of activity in that part of the camp.

The Sunburst Mining Co. will also start drifting their No. 1 shaft on the tract east of the Sunnyside to encounter the rich strike made to the north of it in the Isley mine. The Isley has encountered ore which will undoubtedly yield all the way from 25 per cent. to 30 per cent. The strike was made near the north line of the Sunburst tract.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,

Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1893, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Great heaven!" shrieked Louis, throwing the sword down upon the ground. "I believe that this is a conspiracy to drive me mad. Was ever a man so tormented in this life? This will be a private marriage, man, and it will not affect the state in the least degree."

Louvois gathered himself up and shot his rapier back into its sheath.

"Your majesty is determined?" he asked.

"Absolutely."

"Then I say no more. I have done my duty." He bowed his head as one in deep dejection when he departed, but in truth his heart was lightened within him, for he had the king's assurance that the woman whom he hated would, even though his wife, not sit on the throne of the queens of France.

These repeated attacks, if they had not shaken the king's resolution, had at least irritated and exasperated him to the utmost. He wore accordingly no very cordial face when the usher in attendance admitted the venerable figure of Father la Chaise, his confessor.

"I wish you all happiness, sire," said the Jesuit, "and I congratulate you from my heart that you have taken the great step which must lead to content both in this world and the next."

"I have had neither happiness nor contentment yet, father," answered the king peevishly. "I have never been so pestered in my life. The whole court has been on its knees to me to change my intention."

The Jesuit looked at him anxiously out of his keen gray eyes.

"Fortunately your majesty is a man of strong will," said he, "and not to be so easily swayed as they think."

"No, no, I did not give an inch. But still it must be confessed that it is very unpleasant to have so many against one."

"Then there is the more credit to your majesty for having resisted them. You have done nobly, sire. You have earned the praise and blessing of holy church."

"I trust that what I have done is right, father," said the king gravely. "I should be glad to see you again later in the evening, but at present I desire a little leisure for solitary thought."

Father la Chaise left the cabinet with a deep distrust of the king's intentions. It was obvious that the powerful appeals which had been made to him had shaken if they had failed to alter his resolution. What would be the result if more were made? And more would be made. That was as certain as that darkness follows light. Some master card must be played now which would bring the matter to a crisis at once.

The bishop of Meaux was waiting in the anteroom, and Father la Chaise in a few brief words let him see the danger of the situation and the means by which they should meet it. Together they sought Mme. de Maintenon in her room. As the two plotters looked upon her perfect complexion, her regular features, so calm and yet so full of refinement, and the exquisite grace of her figure and bearing they could not but feel that if they failed in their ends it was not for want of having a perfect tool.

She had risen at their entrance, and her expression showed that she had read upon their faces something of the anxiety which filled their minds.

"You have evil news!" she cried.

"No, no, my daughter." It was the bishop who spoke. "But we must be on our guard against our enemies, who would turn the king away from you if they could."

Her face shone at the mention of her lover. "Ah, you do not know!" she cried. "He has made a vow. I would trust him as I would trust myself."

But the Jesuit's intellect was arrayed against the intuition of the woman.

"Our opponents are many and strong," said he, shaking his head. "We must bring the matter to an end."

"And how, father?"

"The marriage must be at once, this very night if possible."

"Oh, father, you ask too much. The king would never consent to such a proposal."

"It is he that will propose it."

"And why?"

"Because we shall force him to. It is only thus that all opposition can be stopped. When it is done the court will accept it. Until it is done they will resist it."

"What would you have me do, then, father?"

"Resign the king."

"Resign him!" She turned as pale as a lily.

"It is the best course, madame."

"Ah, father, I might have done it last month, last week, even yesterday morning."

"Fear not, madame. We advise you for the best. Go to the king now, at once. Say to him that you have heard that he has been subjected to much annoyance upon your account, that you cannot bear to think that you should be a cause of dissension in his own family and that therefore you will release him from his promise and will withdraw yourself from the court forever."

She cast a light mantle about her shoulders.

"I follow your advice," she said. "I believe that you are wiser than I. But, oh, if he should take me at my word!"

"He will not take you at your word."

The king had remained alone in his cabinet, wrapped in somewhat gloomy thoughts. Suddenly there came a gentle tap at the door, and there was the woman who was in his thoughts standing in the twilight before him. He sprang to his feet and held out his hands with a smile.

"Francoise! You here? Then I have at last a welcome visitor, and it is the first one today."

"Sire, I fear that you have been troubled."

"I have indeed, Francoise."

"But I have a remedy for it."

"And what is that?"

"I shall leave the court, sire, and you shall think no more of what has passed between us. I have brought discord where I meant to bring peace. Let me retire to St. Cyr or to the Abbey of Fontevrault, and you will no longer be called upon to make such sacrifices for my sake."

The king turned deathly pale and clutched at her shawl with a trembling hand, as though he feared that she was about to put her resolution into effect that very instant.

"No, no, Francoise; you must not leave me! You must stay with me and be my wife." He could hardly speak for agitation, and he still grasped at her dress to detain her.

"Some time must elapse before our wedding, sire. Yet during all that interval you will be exposed to these annoyances. How can I be happy when I feel that I have brought upon you so long a period of discomfort? A day would be too long, sire, for you to be unhappy through my fault. It is a misery to me to think of it. Believe me, it would be better that I should leave you."

"Never! You shall not! Why should we even wait a day, Francoise? I am ready. You are ready. Why should we not be married now?"

"At once? Oh, sire!"

"We shall. It is my wish. It is my order. That is my answer to those who would drive me. Let it be done secretly, Francoise. I will send in a trusty messenger this very night for the archbishop of Paris, and I swear that if all France stand in the way he shall make us man and wife before he departs."

The Bathroom.

There is often danger of slipping in a bathtub, especially by old people. This can be prevented, however, if one will buy a corrugated rubber mat which may be put in the bottom of the bathtub. This is really quite necessary. Then there are pieces of rubber fastened by clips to the side of the tub to prevent slipping. The shelves and towel racks of some of the finest bathrooms are now made of glass. They are much easier to keep clean than the nickel and brass fittings. The finest and most serviceable bathtubs are of porcelain, but great care should be taken in the cleaning. Sand soaps are apt to take off the polish. A really complete bathroom is fitted up with foot tub (as well as the regular tub), wash basin, medicine closet, electrical curler and other necessary toilet articles.

Golden Mousse.

For golden mousse beat well the yolks of three eggs, add a tablespoonful of pure maple sirup and cook, stirring constantly until the mixture makes a thick coating on the spoon. Remove from the fire, add three tablespoonfuls of sweet orange juice and half a tablespoonful of lemon juice, beating until the mixture becomes light and cold. Beat the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth, with a pinch of salt, and pour slowly into them two tablespoonfuls of boiling sirup cooked to the stringy stage. Add this to the yolks, put the two mixtures into a mold and pack in ice and salt for four hours. A few white grapes or candied cherries may be placed in the bottom of the mold before the mousse is poured in. This may be served with whipped cream.

The Department Store.

The organization of a great department store is almost military in its discipline and is one of the best examples of what organization can accomplish. The proprietor is commander in chief, and under him are a number of assistants who are what might be considered district supervisors. Below them are the heads of departments, who are responsible to their district chief or to some other head. The floorwalker, the man who is so much in evidence because he spends his time in the aisles, is, in fact, a superintendent or foreman in charge of a department or series of departments. Each counter is under the general supervision of what is known as a head salesman, but this head salesman is subject to the direction of the floorwalker.—"Starting in Life," by N. C. Fowler, Jr.

A Changed Man.

A man who, after being addicted to drink, had taken the pledge, was persuaded to attend ambulance classes. The Bishop of London, who told the story at a meeting recently, soon afterwards called on the man's wife and asked her how her husband was. "He's a changed man, sir," said the wife. 1. The east half of the north-east quarter of the south half of lot 8 in the 6th concession of Coleman Township.
2. The south-west quarter of the south half of lot 7, in the first concession of Burke.
3. One 40-acre claim in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, adjoining claim No. 1404 1-2.
4. Twenty acres in the Township of Coleman, Anima-Nipissing District, being the north half of the south-east quarter of the north half of lot 19, concession 3.
5. One 40-acre claim in the Anima-Nipissing District, being mining claim No. 1404 1-2, known as the "South Claim," situated about ¼ of a mile west of Isay Lake and about one mile north of Anima-Nipissing. Total 160 acres.
6. 4,000 lots in the townsite of North Cobalt, beautifully situated on the west shore of Lake Temiskaming, containing 640 acres, close to the Green-Meehan and Red Rock properties, and only 366 miles from Toronto, on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, and is sure to be the coming summer resort, as there is good fishing, boating, and bathing. The finest scenery, most interesting surroundings, and a very bracing climate.

These lots alone in a year or so will be worth the full capitalization of the company. The mining properties of this company are far better value than a great number of properties now on the market at double the price, without the townsite, which practically acts as a security, which is sure to increase in value every year, and protect every shareholder in full for his investment, with the chance of making very large money out of the development of the mining property.

Our shares will be increasing in value from year to year, and in three years, from now should sell on the open market for $10.00 a share from the dividend it will then pay.

Parties wishing to secure an allotment can do so by wire or letter, as there is no doubt every share will be subscribed for before February 1st.

Call or write for prospectus, reports, maps, etc., that will give fullest information.

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

This Company has been organized by influential men for the purpose of engaging very extensively in the exploration and development of the mineral lands in Northern Ontario and with powers to buy and sell and develop promising mining claims.

The Company has already acquired the following valuable property known as the Currie property, being a location in the Temagami Forest Reserve, known as J. B. 22 on a plan filed by W. J. Blair, P. L. S., in the Bureau of Mines, on the 13th of September, 1906, said parcel consisting of thirty acres.

The location known as J. B. 22 in the Temagami Reserve is a very valuable one and adjoins the well-known Nadeau, Edison and Legree locations, from which ore has been shipped. The formation and ore in this section of the Temagami Reserve is similar to the best producing mines around Cobalt.

Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Surveyor, who has just returned from Cobalt, says in an interview published in the "Evening Telegram" of December 3rd last: "Excellent reports have been received at Cobalt on the ore in the Temagami Reserve, and it is said that the findings there compare favorably with those around Cobalt."

The Company will prepare to sink a shaft on J. B. 22 and have no hesitation in saying that we will have ore ready for shipment May 1st, 1907.

Mr. Eggert, M.E., in his report on this property, says:

J. B. 22. This claim is situated on Trout Creek, not 15 chains from water's edge, in Temagami Forest Reserve, on the first bend of the Montreal River, directly at the head of Bay Lake and opposite the V. and VI. Concession of Coleman. Lease has been granted.

The claim is a 20 acre one and about 600 feet high with the exception of the most westerly part through which the creek runs and a small swamp to the south. Through it from one boundary line to the other runs the celebrated Nadeau vein, following the contract between the middle Huronic quartzites and the diabase.

This vein, which comes up from the water on the Kay Foster claims, is stripped all the way across the 20 acres of J. B. 22 at which southern end it dips down in a swamp to come up at the Nadeau.

It has a width of 6 feet, carrying a large amount of cobalt bloom, and in it runs a calcite vein 12 inches wide. Parallel with it runs an 18-inch vein of quartz, richly mineralized with copper and iron sulphides.

This last vein has been traced for 4 chains, while the first one, as already said, is discovered for all of 20 chains, making it plainly seen that the vein crosses the whole lot.

At the Nadeau, for which $150,000.00 was refused, has been sunk a shaft to a depth of 80 feet, and it shows 6 inch nicolite, 1d inch smaltite, together with cobaltite. Assays gave 672-1279-972-1141 oz. silver, or an average of over 900 oz. silver, which at the present price of 70c. is equal to $630.00 per ton, exclusive of cobalt values. The Edison Mine is right above on higher land.

The property is well situated right at water, has enough timber for all purposes, and is one which needs only a shaft of 50 feet depth to be ready as a producer.

JACOB M. EGGERT, M. E.
New Liskeard, 17th November, 1906.

Do You Wish to Have a Share in the Wealth of Cobalt? The Opportunity Now Presents Itself to You.

This is an exceptional opportunity to secure stock in a first-class company at half value. So far as we aware no company has been organized in Cobalt district having better prospects.

The shaft on the Nadeau property, within 25 feet of our southern boundary, demonstrates the value of the ore in our jumbo vein. The Edison mine in close proximity is shipping ore, also the Legree and Kay Foster.

SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer one hundred thousand shares at 50c. per share (par value $1.00) and believe the stock will sell above par within a few weeks. Subscriptions will be filed in order received and we reserve the right to reduce or return same. All subscriptions should be accompanied with cheque, draft or money order payable to order of the company at Toronto. Send to-day, or it may be too late, as price will soon advance to par.

SELECTIONS

NEAR A GAS FAMINE.

New York Had a Narrow Escape in the 1902 Strike.

Few householders in New York city who were buying coal during the great strike of 1902 will ever forget that emergency. It was indeed a time to try men's souls—when no one knew whether the price of coal would become prohibitive the next week or the next month.

People were making all sorts of experiments with fuel—bricks soaked in oil, compressed peat and other things which had never been used for fuel before. The coal men did their best to husband the resources of the city, but as time went on they began to talk of refusing to sell to theaters and other places of amusement and of doling out the remaining supply in such proportions as to meet the need of all who would actually suffer without coal and let the loss fall on people who could stand it. It seemed as if the population were about to be ranged in two camps, the strikers and the struck, the struck being, as usual, the consumer.

In the memories of New York gas men there is an interesting little chapter of unwritten history which has to do with that strike. It never even happened to get into the newspapers, and no one suspected at the time how near the great city was to one of the most terrible crises it has ever known.

At the time of the settlement of the strike there was less than two weeks' supply of coal in the possession of the gas company and no more coal in sight.

Two weeks more and it would have been exhausted.

Four million people would have found themselves facing an unusually severe winter without an adequate supply of coal, without gas and with the price of oil and the price of oil stoves both higher than in ordinary times.

What is more, the order went out to close all sales departments where ranges and gas appliances were sold as soon as the strike assumed a threatening aspect. The men in control of the gas plant realized that if the people who had money to spare rushed to purchase ranges and heaters of all kinds and used gas altogether in their houses there might not be a sufficient supply to see the city through the strike and that every resource of the company must be carefully guarded against a possible period of actual famine. That this care was justified is shown by the fact above stated—that even with every possible precaution the available supply of coal would have been made to last only two weeks.—Gas Logic.

California Gallantry.

They tell me the story of a well known gentleman of San Francisco who, charging through all the smoke and flames and litter on the first day of the terror, came upon a fashionable lady of his acquaintance trudging along the middle of the street in her bedroom slippers, with a window curtain thrown over her shoulders. He stopped his automobile to offer her his assistance, explaining at the same time that the auto was all he had saved out of the wreck, and even that had been commandeered by the soldiery.

"I, too, have lost all," she sighed.

"All but your beauty," said he, with a courtly bow.

"And you all but your gallantry," she retorted, smiling.—Sunset Magazine.

The Metric System.

The greatest victory won for the metric system of an English speaking country within a generation was recorded of the metric standard in the great manufacturing works of Kynoch, limited, at Birmingham, England. This step will revive the hopes of the friends of reform in weights and measures and intensify the struggle between the meter and the inch. The significance of the event lies in the fact that this firm is one of the first, outside of a strictly limited field, to abandon the old standards and to attempt to overcome the apparently insurmountable obstacles to the change.

The Gleleu Collection.

It is reported from Brussels that Joseph Gleleu's collection of manuscripts and miniatures, often admired in art exhibitions, has been presented by the owner to the Royal library of Brussels. Among the previous "livres d'heures," illuminated by Flemish artists of the fifteenth century, is the prayer book of Marie Leszczynska, the wife of Louis XV. of France, for which 25,000 francs was once offered. The illustrations in the book were made by the painter Rousselet.

The Kaiser's Dish.

Escoffier, a famous French chef, who was the German emperor's favorite cook on his cruise last summer, tells a Paris reporter that the emperor eats more at breakfast than at dinner and that his favorite dish is chicken stuffed with tomato and paprika dressing. Every chicken served at the imperial table bears on its breast the imperial crown and eagle made of stiff white sauce.

Isolation of Nicholas II.

The czar lives alone, with the czarina and their children, in a little maisonnette at Peterhof, apart from the immense palace. It is the house of a bourgeois on holiday, quite isolated under great trees by the seashore. No guard is visible. Thus the master of Russia lives retired from his empire and even from his court.—Revue de Paris.

Classic Scraps.

"The ancient Greek and Roman deities were said to wage terrific battle among themselves."

EXPERT'S REPORT.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 28, '06.

ROSAMOND CHIEF GOLD MINING CO.,

Gentlemen: I have made a special examination of the property of your company, and I find this property a valuable one, consisting of four claims, namely, the Mary Anna, Maggie, Alice, and Little Gem. All four have valuable ledges with average assay value of $20.25 per ton. This average is taken from the surface to a depth of 10 feet. I am satisfied it will do a great deal better with depth and as developing continues.

Yours truly,
S. M. SARMAN.

DARKEST TORONTO.

The Making of a Pauper Told By Sympathetic Writer.

The dictionary defines a pauper as "an indigent person supported by alms." Here in Toronto the meaning might be enlarged. A pauper may be a person who works hard for his living, says a writer in The Toronto News. He may earn nine dollars a week, and neither drink, gamble or otherwise waste his substance, and yet be a pauper. If he has seven children and a wife, and pays ten dollars a month for the four rooms they live in, he can scarcely help being a person who require alms. It is not that the rooms are a steam-heated flat, or on a scale out of ratio with his wage? They are—four certain rooms at such a rental—up a rickety old stairway, and cover, all told, about the space of an ordinary drawing-room. There is a departure from the perpendicular in the flooring, that, by the law of gravitation, encourages a congestion of occupants, furniture, and, most especially, any unwary visitors, towards the lower end of the incline. The walls carry out the same trend of architecture, and the ceilings harmonize. City water is obtained from a tap somewhere below. It is shared with ten other tenants of the premises, about twenty-five in number.

The certain man who lives in this particular abode earns nine dollars a week and has eight children. He is an honest, sturdy-looking chap, and his wife a bright, thrifty little creature, and it seems as though something is wrong somewhere that they have not enough to eat.

When you drop in to see them you fancy they are giving a children's party, and that all the neighborhood is present. The eldest child is only eleven, so that it is quite a task to arrange the others consequetively, for the one seven years old is taller than the one that is nine, and the one that is six is just the height exactly of the one that is eight. The two babies might be taken for twins. If it were not for a look in the woman's eyes, and a glimpse of some carefully hoarded bones and crusts, you would not come away with a choke in your throat. The youngsters have rounder cheeks and hardier, straighter little bodies than many a carefully-tended, scientifically-fed "only child" that we know. They have thatches of golden hair befitting cherubs. It seems all the greater pity they should be starved—bodily and morally.

Big families and big rents are not the only means of making a worker a pauper. There is another person who is one because she hasn't a kitchen stove. She is a poor, lonely old colored lady that reminds you of hoe cakes and stories of the Civil War, and laundries as well as you could wish. Unfortunately she is deaf as the proverbial post, and, more unfortunately, possessed of an uncertain temper addicted to sudden and violent squalls. They are harmless, but apt to prove somewhat terrifying to a timid employer, and her engagements consequently are few. Formerly she "took in" sufficient work to keep the bailiff and hunger from the door, but the infirmities of old age have gradually overtaken her stove, and nothing but a smoking, smouldering fire can be coaxed to boil the soap suds and heat the irons. A look at her arms convinces one that she is not lazy, and her muttered invocations to all that is evil to descend upon the delapidated range were an ample testimony to the fact that she would rather have washing than charity. One could only bellow at her, by way of comfort, that perhaps Santa Claus would put a new one in her stocking at Christmas. If any tender-hearted friend of the working woman has a suggestion as to how this particular one might be aided, would they be kind enough to let us—or Miss McIntosh at the Mission Union on Harter street—know it.

There is a woman who works in a down town restaurant from eight in the morning until eight at night, yet the only roof she could find to cover her head was the roof of a stable. You wade through mud and refuse to the ladder that leads to these filthy hayloft apartments, and wonder if Whitechapel could be very much worse. The rents would probably be lower. For these two bits of dark, damp cells she paid two dollars a week. Her wages at the restaurant were three. There was some small ground for clemency when one of her three children was arrested the other day for taking a drink from a neighbor's milk bottle. Through the efforts of the mission workers better quarters have been found, and the child brought back from the Shelter. But there is still only three dollars a week and left over scraps from the restaurant to shelter, clothe and feed four people. The husband eats opium and deserted some time ago. It is a fight against pretty stiff odds; and a woman's equipment for fighting at its best is frail. The weapons of a mother's love will not be laid down, but the arms that hold them are easily broken. A mother's arms were not meant to hold weapons.

Some people, even, possessed of the means to accede to the iniquitous rents, are wandering about homeless. No kind of decent quarters will be let to a family of children. A certain poor widow wandered not long ago up one street of the Ward and down another, across to the east end, and over again to the west, interviewing one obdurate landlord after another, in the vain endeavor to find an abiding place for herself and her six lusty offspring. Finally she was reduced to a gruesome strategem. She took the lusty six, led them to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, cast them within the gate, and repaired to the owner of a vacant cottage. And when he made question concerning her progeny, her eyes dropped, her countenance shrouded itself in gloom, and her voice quivered out the reply: "I have six in the graveyard, sir." She and the six are living in the house today.

Lives on Sweet Milk.

The case of Mrs. Joseph Mailloux of Stoney Point, Essex County, puzzles physicians. She is 64 years of age and has for the past 40 years lived wholly upon a diet of sweet milk, with a little sugar. She is unable to digest a particle of solid food, nevertheless, she is able to perform all the duties of a farmer's wife, is robust and is the mother of 11 children.

What Breathing Amounts To.

In each respiration an average adult inhales one pint of air. A man respires sixteen to twenty times a minute, and a young child about twenty-five to thirty-five times. While in a standing posture the number of respirations is greater than when lying down. A man takes only thirteen breaths of air to the minute while reclining. The superficial surface of the lungs is 200 square yards. The amount of air inspired by an adult in twenty-four hours is about 10,000 quarts. The least amount of air needed by an adult in one hour is 380 quarts. The heart sends through the lungs 5,000 gallons of blood daily.

Most Birds Love Toys.

Most birds love toys. The playthings help to while away the time and prevent them from tearing their plumage. Parrots are especially devoted to playthings and can be trained to do simple tricks with the objects specially fancied. A soft billed bird will amuse itself for an hour with a peanut which it cannot break, a tiny ball or a mirror just big enough to reflect its own head. —Mary Dawson in St. Nicholas.

Fixing the Value.

Jones—So the price of that "old master" is $5,000. It doesn't look to be worth $10.

Art Dealer—Yes, but remember it was painted in 1249. Just think what $10 at compound interest would amount to for that length of time!

Impertinent.

Old Doctor—What are those white objects I see in the distance, my dear? Miss Pert—Those are signs advertising your profession, sir. Old Doctor—Ah, I thought they might be tombstones. Miss Pert—So they are.

Suppose She Had Been Out!

"What day was I born on, mother?"

"Thursday, child."

"Wasn't that fortunate? It's your day 'at home.'"

False Economy.

There is a vast difference between the economy which administers wisely and that niggardly economy which saves for the sake of saving and spends a dime's worth of time to save a penny. I have never known a man who overestimated the importance of saving pennies to do things which belong to large minds.—Success Magazine.

Working Hard.

The little boy's father had come home from his office early and was lying down for a nap before dinner. The little lad's mother sent him upstairs to see if his father was asleep. He returned with this answer: "Yes, mamma, papa is all asleep but his nose."

Tyrotoxicon.

Cheese causes much illness in England. Cheese poison is called tyrotoxicon, and investigations have shown that the toxic agent is in the milk owing to improper management, the milk not being cooled until some hours after milking.

SINKING SENSATIONS IN THE STOMACH.

Do They Affect You?

These unpleasant feelings of weakness and collapse indicate that the sympathetic nervous System is out of order.

The cause is impairment of nerve tone, arising from failure of the stomach to perform its work.

Acute indigestion follows and the natural result is mental depression, and a feeling of collapse and extreme weakness.

The best, because the quickest and surest cure, is Ferrozone.

It acts at once upon the digestive and assimilative organs— it fortifies the stomach—makes the blood nourishing, gives it a rich, red color, the best evidence of health.

"For ten years I suffered acutely from stomach trouble," writes Mr. Maxwell Thompson, of Toledo, "I always had a headache and full feeling after meals. My appetite was poor, and I didn't relish food. It was all due to a weak, defective stomach. I read about Ferrozone and ordered six boxes from my druggist. It was no time at all before I felt much better, and when all the Ferrozone was used I really took a new lease of life. I am stronger, brighter, and feel more like work than before trying Ferrozone. It is a splendid tonic, the best I ever used."

Ferrozone is unrivalled in curing stomach ailments, try it and be convinced. Sold by all druggists in 50c. boxes.

Armouries Tenders Open Today

Today the tenders for the new armories will be opened. As far as known the only local tenders for this building which involves over one hundred thousand dollars, have come from Messrs. Sheehy, Bogue and Rutherford. The plans which have been in the Trent Valley canal office show that the armories will be an ornament to the city.

Mr. G. Cochrane is Truant Officer

The local police commissioners, at a meeting held specially for that purpose, with Judge Weller, chairman, Mayor McWilliams and Police Magistrate Dumble present, have appointed High County Constable Geo. Cochrane as truant officer, at a salary of $100 per annum. As Mr. Cochrane has had a wide experience with unruly children, owing to his connection with the Children's Aid Society, this appointment will doubtless meet with general approval, and result in great good towards the growing up community. The new truant officer will act under the instructions of the police commissioners and Mr. Walker the inspector of public schools.

—We regret to say that Mr. E. Cochrane, member for Northumberland, is dangerously ill. Mr. Cochrane is one of the oldest among Canadian parliamentarians, and a strong opponent of the Laurier Government.

—Mr. Charles Fairbairn, ex-M.P., of Bobcaygeon, has secured a position, protem. in Toronto, from the Ontario Government in the Parliamentary library in Toronto. Later on he will assume more important duties.

—Mr. J. F. Eehlin of Toronto, gave an address at the Salvation Army Barracks yesterday evening on the San Francisco earthquake disaster. Mr. Eehlin was present in the Golden Gate city at the time of the earthquake.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bickell, of Lakefield, will sympathize with them in the serious illness of their eldest son, John, who is suffering from tuberculosis of the brain. Very little hope is held out for the recovery of the boy, who is in his 18th year.

—Two travelling representatives for Toronto piano manufacturing firms had a sensational game of billiards yesterday in Pappas' billiard parlors, 387 George street. All thoughts of the rivalry that exists between travellers for opposition piano firms, was sunk in the "game of kings and king of games."

—Mr. Morgan Johns has been appointed employed agent for this district by the Dominion Government to secure positions for immigrants who have come out from time to time. He will also receive applications from those who may require help. The appointment is a good one, and no doubt Mr. Johns will make a very useful officer.—Lindsay Post.

Street Car Causes a Spill

Yesterday morning as a load of wood was being driven along Smith street, at the corner of Smith and Water streets, a street car frightened the horses, and they suddenly turned. This caused the load of wood to fall off on the sidewalk. The driver got clear of the wood and hung on to the animals and prevented a runaway, but for some time excitement ran high and all the spectators enjoyed the fun.

It Was Not a New Factory

Yesterday several local wise-acres, seeing some tables being taken up the stairs of the old Bradburn Opera House block, concluded and agreed that the cigar factory that was to have opened there some months ago, had now got ready for business. A Times representative happening along, and hearing this report, investigated. The tables as aforesaid, he found were simply those formerly used in the China Hall, and were being taken upstairs for storage.

Eastmore Defeats Local T.A.S.

The Eastmore game of forty-fives was a great success. Some forty members of the local T.A.S., including Revs. Fathers O'Brien, Galvin, and Kelly, of the city, and Father Brethertou, of Hastings, drove out to play a return game with the Eastmore T.A.S. The Ritualists were too strong for the city men beating them by a score of 161 to 137. A most enjoyable evening including refreshments, songs, speeches, etc., was spent. Speeches were made by Father Fitzpatrick and the visiting clergy and by Mr. Dan Cushing, president of the local society. Mr. P. Kane gave several selections on the violin.

Local Lawyer Loses a Bet

Yesterday a legal gentleman of many years' experience, both in city and county was, on a bet, stuck for some forty cents worth of cigars or something else, possibly better. It seems that a few friends including the legal luminary were chatting in the Oriental Hotel rotunda, when, in course of conversation, a layman speaking of a case tried many years ago, when a man had bitten another man's ear off, was tried for "mayhem." The legal gentleman at once hearing the pronouncication of the word "may-hem," said, "Why ——, you mean malm." "Oh no," replied the speaker, I mean m-a-y-h-e-m, a legal technical expression. To make a long story short, Mr. Dennistoun was called up by 'phone, and read the interpretation of the word "mayhem," which used in a charge when a man deprives, particularly by biting, another man of an ear, eye, nose, finger, etc. The lawyer gracefully "liquidated" his obligation.

A New Sporting Goods Establishment

Mr. C. R. Banks, of Galt, to Open a New Store Here.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Mr. Banks of Galt, will today obtain possession of the Barber shop occupied by Mr. Williamson in the market building.

The Galt Reformer concerning this has the following:

Mr. Charles R. Bank has decided to open a branch of his bicycle and sporting goods business in Peterborough, and has already secured quarters in the market building in the city. Mr. Banks is a successful business man and his new venture should prove a success. He will be in charge of the branch business himself while the present business in Galt will be conducted by Mr. George McFarlane, who has been with Mr. Banks for a number of years.

During his residence in Galt Mr. Banks has made many warm friends who will regret to learn of his intended departure. It is expected that he will leave on Monday next for new home.

Applicants for Sanitary Inspectorship

For the new office of sanitary inspector, the diversity and extent of whose specified duties, might easily entitle the office holder to don the title Poobah, there are several applicants. The office is worth $700 a year with blue garments and brass buttons thrown in. It seems that the applicants to date are P. C. Adams, Ald. Geo. Ball, ex-Ald. Jos. Crowe, Wm. Gray, Chas. A. Stenton and Stanley Rightmeyer.

Without desiring to make any invidious comparisons, the general trend of public opinion points toward the comical being between the doughty alderman of the second ward and the well tried and capable police officer. Whoever gets it may be best man win, and refuse to listen to majority or money in the exercise of an office that will so materially affect the public health of this city.

Annual Meeting of the 57th Regiment

The annual meeting of the 57th Regiment will be held on Wednesday evening, February 6th. Many important matters will come up for discussion. Plans for the coming year will be talked over. The meeting will be of special interest in view of the fact that the new armories are likely to be erected in the near future.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

The Pittsburg Orchestra, the greatest musical treat of the season, is the attraction at the Grand tonight. There has been a very large advance sale and Mr. Stocker wishes to thank the subscribers for their liberal support.

Keep Old Coins

When you get a played out old quarter, half or dime, don't save it for the church plate. Look at the date and then consult a coin-collectors' catalogue as such coins are sometimes worth as many hundred dollars as their original face value in cents. At the same time give the church a share of the current coins and a piece of what you get for the old ones. It seems that some of the local church collector plates fring in many coins that look so though they had been through an earthquake or stricken by lightning. Several old American quarters are worth from $150 to $00) each, but the church wardens and deacons would just as cheerfully and good bright new new Canadian 25 cent piece and save the research.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in restored comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Wm. Dickson, a Westwood farmer, will come up before County Magistrate Edmison next Tuesday, charged with having assaulted his son, a young man about seventeen years of age. It is said that the boy was seriously hurt and was laid up for several days.

Only one case occupied the attention of his Worship at the police court yesterday morning, viz., Jane Naugren, an elderly Indian woman from the Chemong Lake Reserve, who the preceeding day had wandered from her native tepee, came to town and dallied with the pale face man's fire-water.

Jane, who is married, with no children when asked by the magistrate whether she pleaded guilty or not to the charge of being drunk replied "I no understand wat you say." The next question, was right to the point, viz., "Were you drunk yesterday." To this came the answer. "No sir, not quite!" In reply to further queries she said she had come in by stage, and having no money was going to walk home. After giving her a warning, and incidentally a quarter to get breakfast. The magistrate allowed her to go.

Before leaving Jane expressed regret at her lapse from temperance, and said, to the amusement of all present "Thank you sir, I send you some presents when I get home."

FEAR TROUBLE IN MADRID

People Will Insist on Suppression of the Octroit Duties.

Madrid, February 1.—Prime Minister Maura, the Conservative leader, who took office only a few days ago, proposes to dissolve the Cortes and hold a general election forthwith. The outlook for the Ministry is very difficult.

The populace had imbibed the belief that the Liberal Cabinet, which was forced out of office by dissensions in the party, intended to suppress the Octroit duties, which form a perennial source of discontent and upheaval and that they would pass the Association Law and substitute obligatory military service for the present low drawing, with the hated permission to those having means to buy exemption. If the Conservatives do not adopt these reforms, there will be bitter conflicts.

Another cause of trouble is that the bakers have given notice that they intend to raise the price of bread on February 2. This is likely to lead to serious rioting. The poor are already exasperated by the increase in the price of olive oil, in which practically all foods are cooked. The Liberals, although themselves unable to govern, owing to their dissensions, will not help their opponents, and general unrest is feared.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain in congestion, pain in blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—means blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though subtly, it evenly equalizes the blood circulation.

If your have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Double your fists, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell 25 cents, and absolutely recommend

VOL XXXV. NO. 29 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 4 1907 PRICE TWO CENTS

FACES OF THE DEAD IMPRESSED ON CHALK

Remarkable Tests of Spiritualism Conducted for Noted Scientist---Knot Came Into String at Will of Medium.

London, Feb. 3.—Is it possible that we can see reproduction of the faces of the dead? That the features of those mysterious habitants of the spirit world can be impressed upon a solid material substance—such, for instance, as a block of ordinary chalk? There are few people of course, who scoff at spirit manifestations and boldly deny the possibility of holding any communication with another world. All seances they ridicule, and all spiritualistic mediums they describe as frauds. Perhaps they would not be so hasty in their judgment were they aware of the weird and wonderful experiments made recently by some of the most famous European men of science.

ONCE A SCEPTIC

Prof Cæsare Lombroso, the founder of the science of criminology, whose chief works have been translated into every European language, and whose pupils are lecturing in the halls of the capitals of almost every land, was up to a few years ago one of the most bitter opponents of Spiritualism But one day he came across a young girl whose nervous system had undergone an extraordinary disturbance. At times her eyes were said to have lost their sense of vision, while nerves in other parts of her body acquired the power of sight. Sometimes it was the tip of her ear which could see, enabling her to distinguish her brother at a considerable distance off in the same room. Again, she could feel the approach of some persons while they were invisible and at a distance Sometimes she had the power of reading with her eyes closed, and covered with bandages. These strange phenomena were not evoked for pay or love of publicity; they occurred in the privacy of home life. Prof. Lombroso, strongly opposed as he was to any idea of spiritualism, was convinced that this girl did really possess these strange powers, he thought him that these weird occurrences, which no ordinary science threw any light upon, might be cleared up by spiritualism, and he set to work to master it. His experiences while pursuing his investigations have convinced him that there are more things in heaven and earth than his scientific mind before ever dreamt of.

DAYLIGHT EXPERIMENTS.

A celebrated medium named Eusapia Palladino consented to give an illustration of her powers for the professor's benefit. The experiments, it should be noted, were conducted in broad daylight in the presence of Lombroso and some of the most prominent men of science in Europe. Eusapia sat at a table on which she placed her hands. Each hand was held by one of the scientists present; in like manner her feet rested upon the feet of two other members of her audience, while another scientist watched carefully from underneath the table. The brilliant light of an Italian sun enabled her every movement to be observed with the closest scrutiny. Eusapia passed into a trance, and immediately what must appear to be miracles began to take place in the room.

FLOUR TRANSFORMED.

Ordinary flour in a vessel entirely lost its powdery character, and became a gelatinous substance. Out of space a strange, vague Something approached the sceptical professor, and enveloped him as in the thousand folds of a voluminous curtain, from which he with difficulty extricated himself. More marvellous still, on the surface of a chalk block lying in a box, which was covered by a cloth, appeared, carved as it were in relief, weird, ghastly faces, which were so corpse-like that no one who has ever seen the spiritless body can avoid the feeling of awe which the sight of the dead naturally inspires. Photographs of these strange mouldings were taken. In the same way mysterious mouldings of hands and feet appeared. Finally a camera was called into requisition, and on the plate of the photograph, the medium, the mortal Eusapia Palladino, who was seated, was seen to have at her side a spirit, a phantasm, a Something in the form of a woman who appeared out of nowhere, so far as the watchers could make out, and who again receded into the Unknown.

MYSTERIOUS VISITANT.

From where did this mysterious visitant come and whither did she go? Was she, as Sir Oliver Lodge suggests, in the language of science, one of those mysterious beings who are separated from us at ordinary times only by the partition which limits our senses, and at times allows a slight thinness to appear through which the higher cerebral centers aroused to an acute pitch of stimulation are able to penetrate, and see "as through a glass darkly!"

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

A THOROUGHBRED TRAMP

The Grand Opera House was crowded by a demonstrative audience on Saturday night, when Elmer Walters presented his success, "A Thoroughbred Tramp," a tale of the west in four acts. The play is a comedy-drama, in the plot of which are woodwicked several catchy musical numbers. It is replete with mirth and gaiety throughout with occasional glimpses of sentiment, and acceptable climaxes. J. J. Swartwood's presentation of F. Rush Thompson, P.B., the Thoroughbred Tramp, is pleasingly realistic and versatile. He was a favorite with the audience, as was also Jas. Milliken, the Dutch section agent, in merry comedy. Edna Daly as Nellie Hathaway, the vivacious cousin, sustained her somewhat difficult roll with much credit.

BILL BAILEY'S JUBILEE.

Will be presented at the Grand tomorrow night. This is a big colored aggregation of thirty-five members. It's a clever and bright musical offering, replete with singing and dancing, and should attract a big audience. This strong company includes some of the best colored vocalists on the stage today.

Stop Reward, Stop

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Robbers to Keep Away From Canada

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—It has for years been an open secret in the West that the train-robbing fraternity in the United States had seriously considered trying conclusions with the North-West Mounted Police, but had decided that the risks were too great, and the game not worth the candle. According to the report, however, of the District Superintendent of Police at Calgarry, th object lesson this element received last May in the punishment meted out to the desperadoes who worked a hold-up on the Canadian Pacific main line two years before this had a most salutary effect, and it may be reasonably hoped that railway passengers will be spared further anxiety during the life, at least, of the present generation.

Lake Navigation May be Affected

Washington, Feb. 2—If the Calumet River is to be turned backward in its course from Lake Michigan to form a drainage canal into the Mississippi, as planned by the Sanitary Board of Chicago, the International Waterways Commission insists that the cost of the project shall be increased to $17,000,000. The Illinois engineers estimated the cost at $12,000,000.

The International Board take the grounds that there are better ways of successfully disposing of the sewage of the tract sought to be drained than by the adoption of a plan which is certain to considerably reduce the level of Lake Michigan and so injuriously affect the immense navigation in this or the whole chain of lakes.

OUR PRODUCT IN DEMAND

Canadian Lumber Now Being Used For Panama Canal.

Ottawa, February 4.—Startling news has reached government circles of a scheme which is resulting in diverting lumber produced in British Columbia from its natural markets in Canadian centers, where it is badly needed, to the United States, and also incidentally in cheating the government of the neighboring Republic out of thousands of dollars in timber duties. Up to the present time it has been believed that the great shortage of lumber in British Columbia has been caused by the huge demand in the city of San Francisco for lumber for rebuilding after the earthquake. It is not denied that lumber has gone to San Francisco in tremendous quantities, but the real destination of the material has been the Isthmus of Panama, and it has only gone to San Francisco as a blind to obtain advantage of the preferential rates of duty that have been in force in that port since the disaster of last April. Once at San Francisco, the lumber has been immediately reloaded on other vessels and taken to the south, to be used in the temporary work on the Panama Canal. The unrighteous gold swindled out of the customs' officers of the neighboring nation, has been divided between the managers of the scheme and the lumbermen with whom they deal in British Columbia. While the greatest onus of this double-dealing will fall upon the United States, the matter is one of paramount interest to Canadians, for lumber is one of the chief necessities of the rapidly-spreading population of Western Canada.

Will Drive Belgium to Annex the Congo

Resolution Before the United States Senate Seems Likely to Have This Result.

Washington, February 4.—Many senators believe that the adoption of Senator Lodge's Congo resolution will precipitate annexation of the Congo Free State by Belgium. The majority of members of the committee on foreign relations expect this. Preliminary steps to such an annexation have already been taken by the Belgium Parliament, which has authorized an inquiry with a view to determining the advisability of the step.

Information recently received through diplomatic channels, presumably from the British Foreign Office, tends to confirm the belief that Belgium will soon determine to annex the Congo. Such a result would be most welcome to the United States, and it is declared, to most of the powers signatory to the treaty of Berlin.

Such annexation would not only obviate the necessity of an investigation of the alleged abuses, but would terminate the autocracy of the King of Belgium, and would confer on the Congo the benefits of the Belgian constitution in so far as they can be conferred on a colony composed of semi-civilized negroes. Incidentally such annexation would also terminate the rubber monopoly, which is now maintained under the direction of King Leopold.

Senator Lodge's resolution does not provide for an immediate investigation, leaving that to the discretion of the president, although it does enunciate the conviction of the senate that an inquiry should be held. It further assures the president that in any steps he may deem it wise to take with a view to bringing about an international inquiry, he will receive the cordial support of the senate.

THE NEW STEAMBOAT COMPANY

Will be In Close Touch With Public Demands.

Bobcaygeon Independent: The Otonabee Navigation Company, of Peterborough, has been organized with Mr. W. H. Robertson, president; Capt. W. H. White manager; Mr. E. J. Henderson, passenger and traffic manager, and Miss Campbell, secretary-treasurer. The capital stock is $40,000, and besides having the steamer Water Lily, the company is now constructing a large twin screw steamer, that will carry 700 passengers. They have also acquired the Idyl Wyld Hotel and purpose operating an auto-bus line between Cobourg and Harwood, which will attract a large trade from the American visitors to Cobourg. The new steamer will be complete in the tail, first-class toilet and lavatory appointments, carefully supplied, and the boats being under the personal supervision of those interested in the company they will be kept clean and the comfort of the passengers be assured. The company is thoroughly in touch with the public demands, and there is every prospect of their making a success of an enterprise that has been needed, and one that will assist in the popular development of summer traffic throughout the Trent waterway.

For Antiquarian Research

Montreal, February 4.—Sir William Ramsay announces the gift from Lord Strathcona of $1,000 a year for five years to enable Aberdeen University to continue its antiquarian researches in Asia Minor. It was explained today that the Turkestan Government had given permission to make excavations on an important Hittite site. By means of the discoveries thus made possible, it is hoped to answer two questions of world-wide interest. "Who were the children of Heth, from whom Abraham bought the cave of Macphelah and one of which was Uriah, whom David beheaded with such treacherous cruelty? Who were the sons of Javan (Gen. 8, 4)? Who founded Tarshish and other cities of the north coast of the Levant, and who learned from and gave lessons to the races of Syria, as early as the second millenium B.C.? These two peoples, the Hittites and the Tarsians, stand on the borderland between east and west in that period and now we are on the point of learning who and what they were.

SNOWSLIDE HIT THE DEVLIN MINE

Demolished Buildings Instantly, Killed Two Men and Injured Others.

SLIDE CAME 300 FEET

One Man is Missing—Roar of Huge Snowball Heard for Miles.

Nelson B.C. Feb 4.—The first snowslide of the season resulted in the death of Harry Ward, brother of William Ward of the Nelson House, and the remarkable escape of two miners—Soper and Kennedy.

The slide occurred about eight a.m. at the Devlin group on sheep Creek, 11 miles out of Salmo. The slide, caused by the prevailing soft weather, followed the recent heavy snowfall, came down 300 feet, along a new track, and right through a wall timbered stretch.

The Devlin mine buildings are situated 800 feet above and 2,000 feet from the bed of Sheep Creek, and consisted of a bunk and cook-house about 30 feet apart. The other morning at eight o'clock some of the miners were at work on the property, but two, Soper and Kennedy, were in the bunk house, while Ward was in the cook house preparing a meal.

Without warning, the avalanche, which started 300 feet higher up the hill, and which gathered size and strength as the huge snowball tore down the mountain side, crashed over the camp site, completely demolishing the cook house and burying the bunk house under many feet of snow, and falling into the bed of the creek with a roar that could be heard miles away. The site of the buildings had been carefully chosen with the special view of avoiding slides. None had been known to come there in the past, and the fact that the mountain side above the camps is well timbered appeared to make the safety of the buildings beyond question.

Within a few moments after the accident the miners from the Queen, Kootenay Belle, and other adjoining properties reached the spot, and proceeded at once with the work of rescuing the men buried in the bunkhouse. After some hard work, Soper and Kennedy were dug out, pretty well used up for the time being.

No trace of Ward could be discovered. The cook-house was smashed into small pieces and scattered down the hillside, and it is a difficult matter to say where the unfortunate man's body now lies, but a careful search is being made, and possibly the remains may be found.

The deceased was about 40 years of age, and leaves a widow and family in England. He came to British Columbia from the Old Country some three years ago, and has been working on the G.T.P. A couple of months ago he came here, and had been at the Devlin group for some weeks past.

The Devlin group is owned by Bella Devlin and Messrs. Amas and Poole, and is now under bond to Chas. Olmsted, who has just left for New York in connection with the property. Three months' supplies had been ordered, and most of them had been taken up to the mine.

WILL BE FOOD FOR WOLVES

PROBABLE FATE OF MAJORITY OF ALBERTA CATTLE.

Fierce Storm Raging on the Prairies —Stock Dying on Medicine Hat Streets.

Medicine Hat, Alta., February 4.—The cattle situation is desperate. Many have died in the streets of the city after drifting in along the trails from the prairie.

McLeod, February 4.—The outlook on the ranges is becoming daily more desperate and the cattle are dying fast. It was eighteen below zero last night, but a chinook came up and the thaw began. Unfortunately the warm wave was displaced by a raging blizzard. Cattle are skin poor, and if the cold weather continues the majority of them will be food for the wolves and coyotes.

Winnipeg, Man., February 4.—Reports received last evening indicate the worst storm in years is raging between Swift Current and Medicine Hat. Moose Jaw reports a heavy storm, but no worse than others earlier in the season.

At Regina the wind has reached a velocity of 50 miles, accompanied by heavy fall of fine snow. This lasted only a few hours and the mercury rose to several degrees above zero.

McLeod reports that the thermometer rose from 15 below on Wednesday night to 32 above on Thursday morning, when it started to storm and the mercury fell to 8 below within a few hours.

Mr. Timothy Eaton Is Laid to Rest

In the Presence of Thousands Final Homage Was Paid to Canada's Foremost Merchant.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—One of the largest funerals ever seen in Toronto, was that of the late Mr. Timothy Eaton, which was held this afternoon to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Two services were held—a private one at two o'clock, and one for the public an hour later. The former was conducted by Rev. Joseph Odery, of Orillia, and Rev. Canon O'Gdy, of this city, while the latter was in charge of Rev. Dr. W. S. Griffin and Revs. Chancellor Burwash, J. W. Holmes, Joseph Odery, R. Whiting, of Hamilton, and W. L. Armstrong, St. Paul's Methodist church, pastor of the deceased.

The pall-bearers were the following directors and managers of the Eaton store; Messrs. Harry McGee, George W. Dean, Charles Lewis, A. A. Gilroy, Charles Booth, Allan McPherson. Interment took place in the family plot in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

A special train from Winnipeg with Mr. R. G. Eaton and heads of departments in the Winnipeg store of the company arrived this forenoon.

The remains were encased in a handsome wooden casket, copper lined, upon which was the simple inscription; "Died, Timothy Eaton, January 31st, 1907, in his 71st year."

The floral tributes were especially numerous, embracing token from every member of the family, from many distinguished persons and from trade, from the heads of departments in both the Toronto and Winnipeg stores, and a wreath from each of the 125 departments in the establishment here.

An evidence of the widespread esteem in which the deceased was held by every class in the community was given yesterday, when, throughout the entire day, a constant procession walked past the casket. The afternoon was reserved for the employes, and thousands of these took advantage of the opportunity to gain a last glimpse of their chief.

Thousands of messages of sympathy and condolence were received by the family from all over the Dominion, among them being telegrams from the Governor-General, and Mr. John Wannamaker, the great Philadelphia merchant.

They Have Fifty Witnesses Ready

Counsel Desy Thaw Will Go on the Stand—More Changes in Jury May Be Made.

New York, Feb. 3.—Reports that some of the jurors selected for the trial of Harry K. Thaw will be excused when the court resumes its session in the case Monday morning are again in circulation.

It was rumored that the health of one of the men chosen is so precarious that District Attorney Jerome hesitates to proceed with the case, through apprehension that the close confinement of the jury will result in his illness and cause a mistrial. It was reported, also, that the district attorney is anxious to dispense with the services of another juror, for reasons only known to himself and the employes of his office.

The activity of detectives in the employ of the defence and prosecution in seeking evidence and maintaining a watch upon the movements of the other side is on a par with the care exercised in the selection of the jury. This excites belief that both the prosecution and defence are preparing to delve deeply into Thaw's record, as well as into the circumstances leading up to the shooting of Stanford White.

Counsel for Thaw yesterday denied the truth of a published report that it had been arranged for the defendant to go on the witness stand.

Thaw's counsel had a long consultation with him yesterday in the cell in the Tombs. After the conference A. Russell Peabody said that Thaw and his relatives are delighted with the jury, and that his counsel will oppose any further effort to make changes in it, he added;

"The prosecution of the case of the case will probably consume three weeks. We have a roll of witnesses—about 50 in all. How many we shall call depends upon the development of the trial."

Another Siberian Railroad

St. Petersburg, February 2.—The Minister of Railroads today commenced the construction of another railroad designed to give Russia a line to Vladivostock entirely through Russian territory. This line will run from Sretinsk, where construction of the road was abandoned when Russia occupied Manchuria, to Pokhrovskaha, head of navigation on the Amiver, a distance of 340 miles. The purpose of the line at present is purely strategical and was evoked by the spectre of renewal of the Russo-Japanese war. It is admitted that the road can be profitable commercially after many years.

CALIFORNIA MAY INCITE JAPS TO WAR

President Points Possible Danger---Touches the Eastern Nation on a Point of Pride to Suggest They Are Inferior People.

New York, Feb. 3.—A Washington despatch to the Times says; California can bring on war with Japan if she wants to—that is the gist of what the president has been telling the Californians ever since the public school incident in San Francisco first attracted international attention. All they have to do to get into the fight is to keep on insisting on their present course. The result will be certain.

Not now, or in the immediate future, because Japan is not now in condition to fight, and knows it. But a continuation of California's course will bring about such a careful preparation for war on the part of Japan as took place before the struggle with Russia. It will lead the Japanese to think that war with the United States is inevitable, and once they get that notion rankled in their heads they will not deviate from preparation for war. Then, when they are ready, they will go at it, and if we are not ready, too, so much the worse for us.

The position taken by the Japanese is simple and clear. They believe all their social equality with all other race on earth. They are ready to make it good by force of arms. They feel that they have already proved it by defeating Russia and have no desire to make further demonstrations of that kind. But if a situation should arise where it would seem necessary to them to make such a further demonstration they would lose no time in getting at it. There is no point which could be raised with them about which they would fight so quickly or so bitterly. Yet that is the point which has been raised in San Francisco.

WAR INEVITABLE, UNLESS—

Capt. Richmond P. Hobson of Alabama said in an interview here;

"The ultimatum which Japan has given this country says, 'Take back our people to your public schools in California, or take the consequences.' That is only a pretext. The trouble is Japan wants to control the commercial markets of the far east. She is determined to drive America out of the Philippine Islands.

"If the Panama Canal was completed we might be able to protect the Pacific Coast, but we are helpless now, and should Japan strike, the Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands would be lost to us. That is the real situation and it is a pity that we have not strong fleets both on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans to protect our interests and keep Japan from attacking us. War with Japan is inevitable unless we can convince the financiers of Europe and the people there that there is really no cause for Japan to go to war with us.

NOT APPREHENSIVE.

Washington, Feb 4.—United States Secretary of State Root positively refuses to make any statement touching the Japanese situation in relation to the conferences which took place at the White House Wednesday evening between the president and some members of the cabinet and the California congressional delegation.

He does, however, enter a sweeping denial of the authenticity of any of the published interviews attributed to him as to the imminence of war or the state of the treaty negotiations, or indeed any phase of this subject, which he regards as one eminently unsuited for public discussion at this time.

It was said at the naval department yesterday that the slight importance attached by naval officers to the present discussion of American-Japanese relations is evidenced by there being not the slightest intention on the part of the department of strengthening the American naval force on either side of the Pacific.

WON'T ENDANGER FRIENDSHIP.

Tokio, Feb. 4.—Baron Kantaro Kaneko, a distinguished member of the Japanese house of peers, and a special ambassador recently detailed by the imperial government to visit America and study political and economic conditions there, in an interview with the Associated Press says regarding the San Francisco school question;

"From the outset I knew it to be a local question, unendorsed by American public opinion, and I have been speaking of it to my friends in that light.

"As a sincere friend of America I could not help but regret that San Francisco officials should have chosen innocent children for effecting their political ends.

"Before this injustice Japan rests peaceful and quiet. Not a single soul has ever thought that the San Francisco affair would endanger the friendship of both nations."

NOT PREPARING FOR WAR.

Berlin, Feb. 3.—The foreign office does not regard the differences between the United States and Japan as having reached a serious point.

Disquieting telegrams sent out early in the forenoon by the Ticker News Company, had a depressing influence on the bourse.

The Japanese government apparently did not buy any guns or military supplies in Germany during recent months. Japan did purchase some Krupp guns a year ago to replace guns which were worn out in the war with Russia. It is also learned here that Japan bought a considerable quantity of naval munitions in England, but this intelligence is not new.

Colonies Are Out For Themselves

London, Feb. 4.—During a tour of the Empire, from which he has just returned, Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, M.P., was greatly impressed by the sympathetic and sentimental feeling for the Motherland which he discovered in every portion of the King's dominions that he visited. Mr. Ramsay Macdonald says;

"The first thing one has got to remember is that a well-marked national sentiment is being developed—Canada for the Canadians, Australia for the Australians and so on.

"At the same time, there is a sympathetic and sentimental feeling for the Mother country. Great Britain is the place where their fathers are buried, or where either they themselves or their fathers came from, and even the young generation—the second generation born in the colonies—refers to this country as home.

"In so far as our Empire includes black and yellow races, the colonies are positively opposed to it.

"I do not think it is outside the bounds of possibility that British Columbia may give Ottawa exactly the same trouble in connection with the Japanese, Chinese, and other colored people as San Francisco is giving Washington."

Russell Play Caused Riot

New York, February 3.—Twenty-one arrests were made last night at the Orpheum Theatre, in Brooklyn, owing to a riot during the performance by the Russell brothers of a play called "The Irish Servant Girl." A number of Irishmen, who resented the alleged anti-Irish tone of the play, began to pelt the performers with eggs. They were with some difficulty hustled out of the theatre by the police. No one was seriously hurt.

Fever Raging in Chicago

Chicago, February 3.—Three hundred and fourteen new cases of scarlet fever were reported here yesterday, a total of 4,000. Diphtheria cases are increasing.

A proclamation by Health Commissioner Whelan calls on people generally to cancel their social engagements for the time being.

Drank Methylated Spirits

Port Arthur, Feb. 2.—A tragedy occurred in the lighthouse at Point Parphey on Sunday night, when Robert Dick and wife, son and daughter-in-law respectively of Captain Dick, who is in charge of the light, drank methylated spirits during the captain's absence. The woman died on Monday, and the man on Tuesday afternoon. They leave a family of three little children.

HE IS CORRECT

Hamilton Proves That Piles Are Caused by Constipation and Strong Cathartics.

Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment, Dr. Hamilton made an extensive study into the cause of same.

He found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of blood-vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure, a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as piles.

The only effective mode of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.
